My Roman. I'm asur's wife

1. Introduction

Unfortunately, it's a machine translation of the chapter. More precise literal translation from Russian into English will be done later.

In the spring of 2017, I made a series of videos for an online seminar, after which I decided to record one small video about the events that began in my life in January 2016, when a man with completely unusual abilities in my understanding connected to me completely invisibly, at a distance, on some mental, energy level. In one video, I wanted to tell you quite briefly, but succinctly, about the year of our strange interaction with him, when he is not here, but there is interaction. This might be called telepathy, but it is not telepathy. This is one living person living among us connected to another living person at a distance, and he sees everything through the eyes of the person to whom he is connected, hears with his ears, sees all his thoughts and can influence him.

I wanted to tell you about it in a single video, but it wasn't limited to one video, because I wanted to tell you more about it. I thought that I would quickly describe everything that happened during that year of interaction with that man at a distance, but the situation took a completely unexpected turn when suddenly, during the narration of the events of my personal life, I found myself in the unexpected role of the arbiter of the fate of some Asuras that I had never seen. Although, to be completely honest, I did see one of them. This was the first of the Asuras I crossed out. This was the leader of the Moscow Asuric organization. I never saw the others, but I was the arbiter of their destinies. It happened completely unexpectedly, of course, I did not expect such a turn of events. I told about this in the 18th series of my novel and in Chapter 50 "crossing out Borka".

I found myself in an unexpected role as the arbiter of the fate of some Asuras, whom I had never seen, but who, as I discovered, live among us, on our planet Earth. I became a participant in a number of changes and transformations in the life of the Asuric community on Earth and in the lives of many of the Asuras. Then it stunned me, especially when I destroyed the first, the leader of the Moscow Asuras. All of a sudden, I somehow turned it on, and I burned it through the distance, at the energy level. And then I destroyed the Asuras' elder and drained him of all the information about all the Asuras he had a file on (series 19 and 20, Chapter 51, "deleting Bhishma, the Asuras'elder"). This very much stunned me and still leads me to amazement and confusion: is this really possible at all, and even more so with me?

Events unfolded by themselves, as if according to a pre-written scenario. And from the height of what has already been passed, you can see the expediency of the actions that were performed, everything is logical, understandable and understandable. I was just a performer who couldn't help but perform what I was involved in and drawn into by these videos. This resulted in 334 videos. They revealed to me the secrets of my past, my old past lives, who I was there, what happened to me there, why, who I became in the end, and where I'm going now. And they also revealed to me who this man was for me, who invisibly connected to me in January 2016, and why he did to me what he did when he was sure that I would never know about his actions, since everything was done on the energy plane. And it also revealed to me what all this was for, from a global perspective, from the perspective of reincarnation.

He drained me of all my pious merits, threw into me other people's sinful karma and other people's deaths, refused me three times, although before that he found out and received confirmation that I was his eternal mate, with whom he was a couple in the spiritual world. It was revealed to me that although when he did all this, he thought he was doing it at will, in fact, he was forced to do it. It was going according to a plan that had been drawn up by me with some team of light forces before I was born in this body of mine.

And though he thought his action is the result of its expression, but it had me, for he withdrew the punishment Yamaguti in the hell realms, so that he ceased to be an Asura, so that he got the chance to reunite with me and return with me to the spiritual world, and to me appeared a necessity, so to speak, to pay taxes, while receiving no income. This is like an individual entrepreneur and self-employed. I have been working as an individual entrepreneur for many years and every quarter I had to pay mandatory fixed payments to the pension Fund and medical insurance. During the coronavirus, some of my customers were affected, and money from them stopped coming, but I still had to pay fixed payments, and because of this, I was registered as self-employed, continuing to be an individual entrepreneur. Now I don't have to pay fixed payments, just pay a percentage of my income. If you have income, you pay tax on it, and if you don't have income, you don't pay anything.

And I needed him to turn me down three times, just so that I would stop paying him the mandatory fixed payments of my pious services, even without having any income from it. He and I, being an eternal couple, became separated many lifetimes ago, but I, not being near him, not receiving income, not receiving his protection, not receiving his care for myself, not receiving the arrangement of my life by him, was obliged to pay fixed payments, since we are eternally connected as an eternal couple. My pious services, which he spent on his pleasures, flowed naturally from me to him through the distance. And accordingly, I did not receive what I was entitled to, since the pious services were earned by me and I should have received the fruits of it, but the fruits passed by, because my pious services went to him, although I received nothing from him, there was no income, because we were separated from him.

This is a very sad situation when there is no income, but you have to pay fixed payments. And the situation with his rejection of me, and three times I needed evidence base to a Higher power approved of my request to them, so I became, so to speak, and entrepreneurs and self-employed, so I continued to be his eternal couple, but without the obligation of paying mandatory fixed payments in the form of my pious merit, that is, so I paid only tax on income. There is income, there is he in my life is his concern for me, device my life to them — is a tax on income he receives from me my pious merits, as it should be, and no income — and no tax, and my pious merit does not flow away from me into the unknown.

All this and much more was revealed to me during more than three years of recording a video of my novel. This resulted in a great work called "My Roman. I'm asur's wife". In this story, there is an eternal couple, Asuras, mind manipulation, interaction at a distance, exposing the hidden deepening of Asuric influence and the spread of Asuras in our human world.

About determining which Asuras are mentioned here. This is not some ordinary people with the consciousness of enjoying, but a kind of landing of some Asuras who live in their Asuric worlds and have great mystical abilities, but who have long lived among us, being born here as ordinary people. But their abilities are not ordinary. This is much cooler than esotericism and esotericism. These Asuras who are born and live among us are very nice, educated, cultured people, very charming and inspire unlimited confidence in themselves. But this is only an external impression. In fact, they are good on the outside and terrible on the inside, as they drain us of our pious merits and throw their sinful karma into us. That is why they are born among us, and that is why this Asura landing party exists — just to use us as a source of pious merit and a place to throw off their sinful karma.

They are born among us, among us, live like all of us and actually rule us, although no one sees it. They're like underground kings. They do not rush to power personally. They affect those who are in power, imperceptibly, from a distance. No one feels or sees this, because they don't need any extra hype around them.

The Asuras are the real rulers of our land, and we are just a herd of sheep for them, a breeding ground from which they pump out pious merits in order to live very well at the expense of them. We are to them like cattle that they graze, because they milk us like cows, milking our pious merits out of us. And of course, we are garbage cans for them, into which they throw sinful karma that POPs up during their life, some of their troubles, troubles. This is the result of some sinful actions, and the Asuras are able to throw all this into this cattle, that is, into us, so that they do not work it out in their lives, but we do, so that we get something bad, and they are spared from it. We are very useful cattle for them, very necessary and profitable.

A big role in the development of this story was played by screenshots from the TV series "Mahabharata", as well as "Mahakali", which are installed as Wallpaper on the desktop of my computer and which randomly change each other every 30 seconds. At the same time, there are interesting combinations that open something that can't be opened in any other way. These screenshots brought an element of surprise, spontaneity, originality and originality, and even dictated the development of the plot. These screenshots served as signs of The universe and revealed many secrets about my long-ago past, what really happened in the present, and why all this was started.

2. A brief overview. Prehistory

Unfortunately, it's a machine translation of the chapter. More precise literal translation from Russian into English will be done later.

And everything was started for the reunion of the once separated eternal couple. It turned out that I am an eternal wife, I have an eternal husband and this is the same man who connected to me at a distance, on the energy plane in January 2016. We were together, the eternal couple in the spirit world before he fell down here in the material world of the Vaikuṅṭhalokas. Many people believe that souls who are in the material world have never been in the spiritual world, but in the video of my novel, it was shown that my eternal husband and I were together, a couple still in the spiritual world. I spoke about this in the 311th series of the novel (from 27:11), in the 320th series (from 26:34) and in the 334th series (from 27:59), and also described in chapters 334 "Universal guides of souls to a new exit to the spiritual world" and 407 "Gratitude for receiving confirmation that we have already been in the spiritual world".

When my eternal husband and I fell from the spiritual world to the material world, we were together for many lifetimes, an inseparable couple, but in one of our lives, our actions served to cause the wife of a wise man to leave him, as a result of which he was left all alone to live out his life, without a wife and children, since he could not have children without a wife.

He was very upset about it and at one point cursed us in anger. He cursed me that I would be alone, without a husband, because as a result of our actions, his wife was alone, without a husband, and he cursed my eternal husband that he would not have children, because without his wife, children could not be born to him. He also cursed him that he would live out every life alone, because our actions led to the fact that this sage was left alone and lived out his life alone. And he gave us back what we did to him.

And when my eternal husband and I were born again, this curse began to work. We were together, a couple, married again, living together again, happily ever after, but the curse was already beginning to affect us.

I caught the eye of some Asura who lived somewhere in our area. He was so attracted to me that he decided to get me at any cost. First, he decided to use mind manipulation. He began to affect my consciousness completely invisibly, without personal communication, at a distance, throwing thoughts of children into my mind. As a result of the curse, my husband and I did not have children, since he was not supposed to have children by the curse. And that Asur began to throw into my mind a strong desire to have children. I looked at couples with children and envied them. I really wanted us to have children.

My husband saw my strong desire to become a mother, and he was also very upset by the lack of children. That Asur did mind manipulation with my husband as well. He put it into his mind that if we can't have children, then I'm infertile and with some other woman he will have children. That Asur thought that with this mind manipulation, he would achieve his goal, but my husband and I still continued to stick together. And then this Asur turned on the heavy artillery. He had engaged an asuri woman who was very good at seducing men.

The Asur promised her mountains of gold if she would seduce my husband and lead him away from me. She was a very pretty, feminine woman, a real woman in the understanding of men. She exalted my husband to the skies and demanded nothing from him, and she managed to take my husband's mind away from me. It also worked on the manipulation of his consciousness that with me, his children do not turn out because of my fault, and with her, children may turn out, and he left me. He left me, even though we were married then, and even though we were inseparable for many lifetimes in the material world, and even though we were an eternal couple in the spiritual world and fell together from the spiritual world to the material world. He left me, saying it was all my fault because I was infertile.

Then in my life, the Asur who pulled it all off was drawn. He offered me all the riches of the world and asked me to marry him. As a bait for me, he made the assumption that I would have children with him, and if I didn't, then it was fine. He offered me the whole world just to be with him. But I was very sad to be separated from my husband and could not imagine another man next to me, and I refused that Asura. This made him very angry, and he decided to cut off the way for my husband and me to be reunited. He decided that it was necessary to deprive me of any hope of my husband's return, and at his direction that asuri woman expressed a desire that my husband should accept the Asuric nature. She said that she wants him to become irresistible in sex and that to do this, he needs to become an Asura. To satisfy her desire, he assumed an Asuric nature. He passed the Asura conversion, and it became impossible for him to return to me.

In addition, the Asura decided to make me the persecution. He somehow began to influence dogs, horses, and other animals so that they would rage in my presence and attack everyone around them, so that people would think that I was possessed by an evil spirit and I was dangerous to them, since animals react to me so strangely and sharply. Rumors began to spread about me that I was possessed by demons, that I carried evil in me. The people around me began to think that I was dangerous to them, became afraid of me, and turned away from me in fear. I began to avoid people and became a recluse in my house, where I had previously lived with my husband.

Then people began to think that I was a witch, responsible for all their failures, and after a while they turned against me, thinking that I was possessed by an evil demon, that I was dangerous to them, and that for their own safety I should be brutally killed, as a result of which I had to leave my home. I was forced to hide from the anger of those people who fear for their loved ones and for their good and think that I carry evil and misery for them. I hid from people in some dark places, being rejected and abandoned by everyone, alone, without help or participation, and I was raided with dogs and stakes in my hands.

I was left all alone, vulnerable and defenseless and had to hide from the wrath of people, despised and rejected by everyone, and I was afraid and had nowhere to go. As a young woman, accustomed to a good life and comfort, I suddenly found myself alone in some thicket where wild animals roam. That Asur was sure that this persecution would calm my pride, as he believed. He reappeared on my horizon and asked me to marry him again. He said that with him I would be protected and that he would be able to protect me from these dense ignoramuses, but I again refused him and went to wander through the dense thickets, without any hope of anyone's help and participation, a persecuted, lonely, unhappy woman.

This has greatly hurt the ego of that demon, and he hired some thugs to back me into a corner. He told them that they were free to do whatever they wanted with me, just so that I would crawl to him for help and beg for mercy, agreeing to any of his terms, even to become his disenfranchised, wordless slave, always ready to please her master and in a hurry to do whatever he wanted, just to be away from those thugs.

I was hunted by those ruffians, but Providence sent me help in the person of a noble man of high birth, who rode by when those terrible men surrounded me on all sides and cornered me, and who saved me from those people. He took me away from there and brought me to my father's house, where my parents lived, somewhere far away, in a completely different place. My parents took me in and hid me from everyone, and there I lived quietly in seclusion, never showing my face, and no one could harm me.

This greatly enraged that Asura, and he put all his strength, all his skills and connections to break the fate of my Savior, who also turned out to be an Asura, and a high-ranking one. And because he helped me then, he was hit and kicked out of his high position.

I was left alone, without a husband. So the curse of the sage that my eternal husband and I received before the life in which that Asur did all this was fulfilled. The curse was realized. My husband and I became separated, I was left alone, without a husband, he became childless, he never had children, despite the fact that the asuri woman assured him that children would definitely turn out, and despite the fact that he passed the Asuric initiation and became an Asura. None of this helped him. He never had any children, and in the end she left him, and by the curse of that wise man, he lived out his life completely alone, abandoned by everyone.

After that, that life of ours ended somehow, and between lives I looked for him everywhere. I threw my call to him in all directions across the universe, but there was no response. He began to be born in the Asuric worlds. He already had an Asuric nature, and we were in different planes that did not touch each other. And when I was completely inconsolable between lives that my eternal beloved did not respond and I was alone, some powerful personalities came to me. There, between lives, they explained to me that we would never be together. They showed me through space what he had become. I had a strong rejection of what I saw, it was completely unacceptable for me, and they offered me to break our eternal relationship with him and gave me a new eternal husband, and to choose from.

I was about to agree to their offer, but the curse of the wise man did not allow me to do it, because I had to be alone, without a husband. I told them that I would not leave my husband, even though he had become an Asur, and that we would never be together, and I would always be alone, without my husband. And it was in this case that the curse could be best realized: I would have a husband, since we continued to be an eternal couple, our relationship was not interrupted, and at the same time he was not with me and could not be, because he became an Asur.

I refused those powerful individuals between lives, even though it was explained to me that I am an eternal wife and for me to be alone is an unnatural, very uncomfortable position. In doing so, I showed loyalty. This turned out to be a very pious act, and as a result, I ended up on the higher heavenly planets.

There I turned to everyone, begging them to help, to somehow rescue my eternal husband from the Asuras, to somehow lift the curse, but no one could help me. And then I went to pray to the highest. I began to dance devotional dances to the deity Nrsimhadeva on the higher heavenly planets. There is an unusual deity named Nrsimhadeva-a white, shining Nrsimhadev with pearls in his hair (or mane, because he is half-human, half-lion). I began to dance devotional dances to this deity, begging Him to help me rescue my eternal husband from the Asuras and reunite us with him. At some stage, I developed feelings for Nrsimhadev, and in one of the dances, the call "Become my husband!" came out of me.

He accepted this call, and I somehow became the wife of Nrsimhadev. During these dances, I mentally began to fly to the deity, he comforted me, hugged me, I dissolved in Him, right in the deity, mentally, and then returned to my body. But in one of these dances, I did not return to my body and remained inside the deity. And for a long time I was dissolved in the deity Nrsimhadeva on the higher heavenly planets. In doing so, I accepted the nature of Nrsimhadev, and after a while he told me that he would now fulfill my desire to be reunited with my eternal husband. I also had a desire to take revenge on the Asuras for separating us, and Nrsimhadev told me to go incarnate again and wait for my wish to be fulfilled.

I began to incarnate. I went to destroy various Asuras, including in the Asuric worlds, becoming a very powerful weapon that has the nature of Nrsimhadeva himself and His highest protection. I destroyed the Asuras and waited for my desire to be reunited with my eternal husband to be fulfilled. And all this time he was incarnating in the Asuric worlds. He didn't get along with women. To be happy with at least one woman, becoming the reason that his eternal wife became one, unhappy, he basically could not, and with all women, everything ended in some kind of tragedy. He could not give heirs to any family and was on a low account with the Asuras, each time ending his life in complete solitude.

But he felt that somewhere he had his Shakti, his real woman, his real wife, and he was calling her to him. He mentally called me to him so that I would become incarnated in the Asuric worlds and come to him, but I did not come to him, although I periodically incarnated there to destroy some Asuras. And then he decided that if I didn't go to him, he would go to me. He decided to leave the Asuric worlds and go as part of the Asuric landing force to incarnate on different planets of the material world and look for me there.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

When he made this decision, I somehow gave him the idea through space that he would receive Shiva's blessing for our reunion before he joined the Asura landing force. He performed some severe austerities and received the blessing of Shiva. After that, he left the Asuric worlds where he grew up, made his Asuric career, and was somehow settled. And he went into the unknown, into the unknown, to find his Shakti, that is, me. He enlisted, so to speak, in the intelligence service. He enlisted in the Asuras landing on different planets. This is when the Asuras are born to the inhabitants of different planets as their children and then influence them, actually rule them, completely invisible to everyone, using the inhabitants of these planets in fact as very useful, necessary and profitable livestock, used as a kind of nutrient medium, to feed their stock of piety, to pump out their pious merits and to throw their sinful karma into them.

My eternal husband enlisted in this Asura landing, began to be born on different planets, in different worlds, where the Asuras come with their landing, and began to look for me everywhere.

3. A brief overview. Our time

Unfortunately, it's a machine translation of the chapter. More precise literal translation from Russian into English will be done later.

After some time, he incarnated here on Earth, and we came into contact with him. I came here, to this city, where he had by then become the chief Asura, rising up their Asuric hierarchy and becoming the great Asura of RA, who can lead a large Asuric organization. He took the place of the chief Asura in this area, while being part of the General landing of the Asuras and being subordinate to the main one in this landing for pumping pious merits out of the population and pumping them into the Asuric worlds, as well as for throwing sinful karma into the population.

I came to his attention, and he decided that I should be taken into circulation in order to milk my pious merits out of me and use me as a garbage can for their sinful karma. But I did not succumb to his influence and attracted his personal attention to my person by my obstinacy and knocking out women from the General mass. I whipped up his curiosity to the limit by not writing into their well-established scheme, and he personally connected to me, at a distance, on the energy plane, to carefully study such an interesting, non-standard specimen of a human female.

During this study, he gained access to some of my life files from my past lives where we were still together. This so stunned and shocked him that on some mental plane he suggested that I should become his wife, and as a result we had a kind of heavenly wedding in some illusion. But less than four months after that heavenly wedding, he fell for some very good woman who turned out to be much better than me in every way and with whom he could interact in real life. He immediately gave up on me for her and started giving me to everyone from his Asuric organization on the energy connection. Then he decided to get rid of me altogether as an unnecessary ballast and offered me to the leader of the Moscow Asuric organization, who wanted to give me to one of his subordinates, but I did not give in to this.

Because he wanted to get rid of me, gave me to everyone and decided to throw me off as unnecessary ballast, although before that he told me "be my wife, become my wife", a karmic reaction came to him. He had a sudden financial meltdown. He was attacked by fatal bad luck. Any of his actions only led to the fact that he was rapidly losing everything. It wasn't long before he was completely bankrupt and homeless, and then he was shown that only I could help him.

But I made it a condition that it was either me or other women. In order to improve his financial situation, he had to choose me, as a result of which I wished him good luck. He received some of my pious services, which allowed him to get out of the peak, and his business went up. But it didn't seem enough. He decided to extort all my pious services from me, thus further improving his financial situation and at the same time getting rid of me. But in order for me to quickly merge from him, and in order to somehow spare me from what would have happened to me as a result of emptying my piety account, he also injected someone else's sinful karma and three other people's deaths into me, so that I would quickly be knocked out of life and not go through all this.

He was already anticipating that very soon I would be gone and he would again indulge in the pleasure of feelings with numerous women on the energy plane, but suddenly my Gurudev, through one of the lectures that I accidentally found on the Internet, offered me as his wife. He was not going to accept this offer, because before that he had drained me of all my pious merits and thrown into me someone else's sinful karma and even three other people's deaths, hoping that he would get rid of this thorn that prevents him from enjoying himself so easily and profitably. And then in episodes 53-58 of Devon ke Dev Mahadev, he was shown that he was not exempt from the financial crash, that I wished him good luck and the effect of the financial crisis undoubtedly decreased, but did not disappear. He was told that he had committed a crime, that this crime was unforgivable, that he had married me of his own free will and should give me the status of his wife, but he did not fulfill his duty, and this is a crime, and for this he should be punished.

Then he decided that in order to save his life from this financial collapse that could destroy him at any moment, he should take me as his wife. And he told me that I wasn't his choice, that I was his destiny, that he obeyed fate just to stay afloat.

But by that time the leader of the Moscow Asuric organization, enraged by my obstinacy and stubbornness, put me on their Asuric sweepstakes. The Asuras had an Asuric sweepstakes where they broke the unruly. And then there were already many Asura breakers of female nature, and many have already placed bets, hoping to get pleasure from breaking another obstinate human female and hit a big jackpot on this. The Asuras were eager to start my breaking on that Asuric sweepstakes, but he did not give me to them, because he was afraid that if I did not become with him, he would be covered with financial ruin. The Asuras told him that then they would kill him in the battle on the energy plane, and then they would still break me, and he chose the battle for the sake of an easy and quick death, but fate was kind to him, he remained alive and even won that battle on the subtle plane, and my breaking on the Asuric sweepstakes was canceled.

After some time, I began to record my videos about our strange interaction with him at a distance, and one of the first videos suddenly began to spin the story with the leader of the Moscow Asuric organization. I was shown his very bad activities, his attitude towards women, what he did to me, and somehow my vendetta began by itself, which I wanted to carry out many lifetimes ago. At first, I began to destroy on the energy plane, just incinerating everyone in turn, everyone who was going to participate in that Asuric sweepstakes on my breaking.

I destroyed the leader of the Moscow Asuric organization, who initiated all this, destroyed their elder, who gave the go-ahead for this, destroyed all the specialists, masters of breaking women's nature, who were going to break me. I destroyed many of those who were already going to use me when I was completely broken, and those who put big bets on my breaking.

Then I dealt with the Asur who in a distant past life, many lifetimes ago, made my eternal husband leave me. Then I dealt with the asuri woman who seduced him and took him away from me, and because of whose desire he became an Asura. I killed her. I have dealt with the craftsman who conducted his conversion to Asura. I killed his teacher, who taught him how to break women in the Asuras' landing.

And then I canceled his contract with the Asuras. Because he went to the Asuras' landing party to find me, his eternal Shakti. He had already found me, and now the Asuras had completed their mission for him and were no longer needed. It was necessary to cancel his contract in the Asuras landing, which I did, threatening the Asuras that either they would cancel it, or I would cancel them, cutting them out of life. They canceled his contract, his service in the Asuras.

After that, I killed so many Asuras, and during this passing was done my main task, what is actually needed — so we were able to reunite and return together in the spiritual world that he was released from deserved punishment in hell Yamaguti worlds and, of course, that he ceased to be an Asur.

In fact, the situation in which he was forced to empty my store of piety and throw other people's deaths into me was created by me. By exposing myself to his blow and forcing him to throw other people's deaths into me, I thus saved him from the punishment of the yamadutas in the hellish worlds, which he deserved, in many lives in the Asura landing, breaking and lowering women to lower existences. I needed him to throw other people's deaths at me, so that I would demand the execution of revenge — death for death, his death for my death, which would inevitably follow after he threw other people's deaths at me. This was in order that his punishment was transferred from, so to speak, of the Department of yamadutas, Department of capital punishment in the hell realms, in the conduct of my team that the punishment he received after his life, once in the infernal worlds in the hands of yamadutas, and in this life, through his death, which will also be burned eurychasma his nature, whereby he ceases to be an Asura. I put myself under his attack to save him from the yamadutas and so that he would no longer be an Asur.

Also, in all these events, the task was fulfilled so that there was no longer a possibility for a repeat of this or any other such situation, any kind of puncture, because while you are in the material world, there is always a risk of some kind of puncture. And this risk was not that he couldn't make a step left or step right and so we returned to the spiritual world, I carried out a large-scale operation, during which he three times I've been dumped by three different women, knowing that I am his eternal pair, and having confirmation of that.

This was necessary for me, so that I could get a solid evidence base and could demand that the Higher powers recognize his incapacity, if he ever in any way will be with some other woman. Since we are an eternal couple, we are connected to him, and he receives all his power, the main flow of pious merit from me, from his Shakti, even when we are not together, not near. My pious services go from me to him.

It's like paying taxes. I, having no income from him in the form of his presence in my life, in the form of his protection, in the form of the arrangement of my life by him, was obliged to pay taxes. I had no income, no benefit from it, but I was obliged to pay, so to speak, fixed payments. From me to him my pious services flowed by themselves through our eternal connection. And in order to stop it, I needed these three different women, because of whom he refused me, because thanks to this, I demanded that my pious services do not flow to him just like that, by themselves, even if he is not with me, even if I do not have any income from him.

I demanded that my pious services flow to him only when I have an income from him, which is like paying a tax only on income, with no mandatory payments beyond that. If he is with me and only with me, if he cares for me, if he arranges everything for me, if I receive, so to speak, income, benefits, what I should receive from him, then my pious merits go to him. Then I pay this tax. If there is an income, there is a tax. But if this income is not there, if it is not with me and it is directed to another woman, then my pious merits do not go to it. That's what I needed those three women for — to shut off the tap that allowed him to play freely in the material world at my expense, without doing anything for me.

But even this was not enough for me, because I needed him to be only with me and to return to the spiritual world together, so that he would either return to the spiritual world with me, or by himself, but that this would happen without delay. To do this, it was necessary that he could no longer be with any other woman at all, and that from nowhere outside he should no longer have an influx of pious merit. And so I also demanded from the Higher powers compensation for my moral damage, if it is not with me, but with some other woman, in the form of withdrawing from her account of piety all her pious merits. Because he is mine, and because during our long-distance interaction with him, he made many vows that he would do everything to bring us back together to the spiritual world, and that he would be with me and no one else. I told the Higher powers that he promised me all this and I demand to fulfill it.

And in order to ensure this, it was necessary that no other woman could be with him anymore, that he became a danger to them. So that if any woman dared to be with him, I would have the right to withdraw from her account of piety all her pious services, because she has no right to be with him, since he is mine, and since he himself made such a choice and gave me his word for it. I demanded it. And to do this, I needed the three women for whom he had abandoned me, even knowing that I was his eternal mate, and having confirmation of this.

Those sad events with three other women cleared the way for our reunion with him, since this reunion is possible only with the purity of the relationship, because this is an eternal couple. Those women were needed in order to take advantage of him for other women, so that for them he was a danger of losing all his pious merits. These women were needed so that my pious services would not pay for his dissolute, sinful lifestyle. They were necessary so that no one else would ever be with him, except for me. They were necessary in order for the reunion of our eternal couple with him to really become possible, for the blessing of Shiva to be realized and for us to return to the spiritual world, either together or separately, but everything was done so that he would have the only way — to return to the spiritual world. Either with me or alone.

After all, even if he is not with me, then he will not be able to be with any other woman, respectively, there will be no influx of pious merits from outside in this case, because men mostly receive pious merits, Shakti, the power to live from the woman who is with him. He will be like a diver in the water column with the oxygen hose blocked, without any way to fix it, and the only possible way for him to survive will be to float out as quickly as possible, to swim out of the water, out of the material world, to breathe air himself. And if he's not with me then with anyone he will not, and in this case he will be absolutely hopeless, absolutely inconsolable existence, and that life can't be called, and will only pop out of this material world, like a cork from a bottle, not to be in eternal agony, what is happening to him because of the inability to breathe for lack of oxygen and because of this, figuratively speaking, everlasting asthma attack with tightly closed bronchus, when everything breathe freely and not even think about it, and you have a tight throat and you can't let in even a tiny portion of the saving air.

I did everything possible to make his stay in the material world without me as sad and inconsolable as possible, so that there was no illusion of a desire for happiness in the material world and there was a fervent desire to return to the spiritual world. And at the same time, I gave him the opportunity to do it with me, because eternal spiritual couples usually return to the spiritual world together.

And in order to clear this path, and so that we would not waste time on his being in the hellish worlds in the hands of the yamadutas, I freed him from the punishment of the yamadutas and did everything necessary to stop him from being an Asur.

And all that I did for this, as well as how it all opened up to me, is consistently described in my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife".

4. Preface

Unfortunately, it's a machine translation of the chapter. More precise literal translation from Russian into English will be done later.

If you want to know all this, there are many pages ahead where the whole story is told. But before you start reading them, I must apologize for the mistakes made in this narrative, for the incoherent presentation, clumsy language, grammatical errors. I'm not a writer, and I'm not likely to be one. I'm just a chronicler. I just told you in my own words what happened in my life. I didn't have a task to embellish anything.

I must say that there are many episodes in this novel related to Krsna consciousness, so if someone is not close to this topic, then just do not read it, skip it. And of course, Krishna consciousness and the devotees of Krishna do not accept any responsibility for anything described in my novel. They have nothing to do with it. So the plot developed, by itself. No devotees of Krishna or Krishna consciousness didn't have anything to do with it. This is my personal life and my vendetta, which I wanted to carry out very, very many lifetimes ago. And no one is responsible for what happened in my life, in my fate.

If I hurt someone's feelings or offended someone in my novel, I humbly apologize. Most likely, she offended many people. Maybe she offended some representatives of sexual minorities with her categorical statements. Please excuse me. I have nothing against you personally. You may even be very nice people, but I just don't welcome this phenomenon. This is my personal position. I am entitled to this position, just as you think you are entitled to your position. Let's respect each other's decisions. And if I expressed my opinion that I do not like this phenomenon, then I have the right to do so.

I am a person like everyone else, and I have the right to my vision of life and my worldview, which may not meet someone's expectations. Therefore, all those who were among the offended and offended by this novel and my words and actions in it, I ask you to treat me with understanding, because I am the same person as everyone else, with my shortcomings and my advantages. Please forgive me and don't hold any grudges or bad feelings towards me.

I apologize to all those whom I offended in my novel — representatives of sexual minorities, some, perhaps, spiritual personalities, about whom I suddenly did not respond with such respect and respect, maybe some men who did not like my words very much. I ask all of them to treat me with leniency and forgive me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

In many of the videos of the novel, I jokingly said that Hollywood would make a chic blockbuster based on this novel. Who knows what might happen? So just in case, I will ask those film companies (or something like that) who decide to make something based on my story "My novel. I am the wife of Asura" so that they can find a way to contact me or my descendants (who knows when, if at all) and give them a generous gift for getting such a great idea for their film. It will certainly be more profitable for them to pay for the idea of the film with money than with pious merit.

Everything in this material world has its price. If the price is not paid in money or material goods, it will be withdrawn in the form of pious merits. Of course, it is much more profitable to pay with money, no matter how large it may be, since money is just money, and pious merits mean good health, good luck in life, success, opportunities, open doors everywhere, good living conditions, a high standard of living, and much more.

Therefore, taking care of those who will make a film based on my novel (what if?), I suggest that they give us a generous gift for this novel, as it will be more environmentally friendly, cheaper and safer for them. No one can circumvent the laws of material nature. Material nature is stronger than we who live here, and operates on completely different planes of existence. That's why I said it just in case, for everyone's sake and safety.

This is what I wanted to say in the run-up to my novel. The events described in it are mostly very sad. Here you will not see pink snot and veal tenderness. Here is the cruel, naked truth of life, and from a side that you didn't even know existed.

So, who else is interested, let's go...

Season 1. «Who do you think you are?»

5. The invisible connectivity to a person

I lived like everyone else. I dreamed about something, made plans, looked forward to the future with hope, thought that our thoughts determine our future and that the main thing is to see your goal in front of you. I was sure that positive thinking creates our positive future, that we are blacksmith of our own happiness. How far I was from reality! But my whole beautiful, wonderful picture of the world crashed to small pieces, and now this world will never be the same for me.

It all started with an ordinary-looking conversation. Everything was humdrum, and nothing presaged the subsequent discoveries about my present, about my far past, about my far past lives, about how things really were.

The moment of truth that started it all happened on January 25, 2016. That day, my lady friend took me to talk to coach karate, who was engaged to her son. She highly recommended this sports section, and I was comfortable with this karate section: and next to the house, and the children would go there three times a week in the evenings for 1.5 hours each class, and physical training, and yet it can help in life. We went with my lady friend, I began to ask my questions to the coach, there were a lot of questions. My lady friend left, and we talked to the trainer something about an hour. It is rare to find such people with whom there is something to talk about. I had enjoyed an interesting conversation. I decided to sign children up for this sports section karate, I was satisfied with all his answers.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

After this conversation, I began to notice for myself some strange things. I work at home on the computer. Children spend half a day at school, in the evening on karate or play their games. No one else at home usually happens, but I began to catch myself on the fact that I began to behave as if someone was looking at me. And as if this someone is a man. But we had no men at home. My behavior was amazing me. Why would I suddenly behave as if there is a man in the house and I'm trying to like him?

I wanted to wear more beautiful clothes, I began to look at myself in the mirror in a special way, catch myself thinking that I'm trying to like someone and this is a man. I began to catch myself thinking about myself. Suddenly I became interested in my rings, began to constantly look at my jewelry. And I began to do it with some new feeling for me, as if I were asked to show them more often.

I did not understand my behavior, but I saw that I, being at home all alone, do everything to attract to some man whom is here in the room, no. I behaved as if a man was looking at me who I wanted to like, although no one except me was home. I tried to impress him. No one was with me, but my behavior was showing that he is here with me. Looking at my obvious attempts to attract someone's attention to me as a woman, I began to think that there was someone with me. Someone who looks at me from inside and out. At the same time, I began to see in my correspondence with other people that I communicate with the one who had come to me.

Through my own words, sent to other people, I began to find the embedded completely different meaning, and I saw that I through these meanings communicate with him. As if through those embedded in my own words very different meanings I'm tell him about myself. I was so surprised! In one such letter, completely innocent and purely on business, after sending it to the addressee I found out that there I told in an encrypted form literally everything about myself in sex. I was shocked.

I had the impression that I write to someone, send, and then he, who is not next to me, but somewhere is, pushes me to read my own letter and opens to me the meaning of my own words written by me. And I see such meanings in those words there that I just feel ashamed, and I was begging: «Lord, make sure that this person does not see these hidden meanings that I now see». That is, it was turning out as if I through the words in correspondence with other people tell him, the one who suddenly appeared so invisibly with me, about myself. And he also opens my eyes to it.

And here is one of those letters ended with the words «the other day I will finish». I wrote to someone that I will finish this amount of work the other day. But my mind reeled with these thoughts: «I will finish, finish, finish, finish» («на днях закончу, закончу, закончу, закончу...»). In Russian, the word «кончить» («to finish») has several meanings. One of them is «complete some work», and the other meaning is «I will get an orgasm». And my mind was reeling with thoughts about an orgasm. And indeed, the other day I «finished», that is, experienced an orgasm. To this all and was conducted. With knowledge, I was led to this final, to «finish», to orgasm. And this man brought me to this final, to whom I came to give him a chance.

During a conversation with a karate coach, I, without knowing it, gave at allegorical language the information about myself that I fit their criteria as their victim. My real husband, who lived for many years as an asur, interacted with me through coach in order to get information about me and to get my consent, about which I knew nothing here, but which was embedded in the words I was uttering. He was able to get my consent that he has the right to begin to carry out activities to suppress me and subjugate me and my will, so that I began to fulfill all that he and his fellows-asuras from his organization would want. He plugged onto me, and I had known that from my behavior. In my head began to rush all sorts of thoughts about sex, with different pictures on this topic, but I was brushing aside this, because it has long been free from this and felt easy and comfortable without every presence of sex in my life.

But at the first conversation with the trainer I, looking to him in eyes, allegorically told my husband who looked at me from eyes of the trainer that I fit their criteria, that he has the right to get me trapped and pursue his policy of throw-in in my thoughts sexual desires. But he did not succeed. And when, after the first karate lesson, the coach told me that it's difficult with my son, and asked how I cope with him, I said him that I cope with him by force methods, that is, I discipline him. He, my husband, who through the coach interacted with me, from these words he realized that I would give in only after the impact of force methods on me. Ordinary measures (thoughts and pictures in my mind on a sexual topic) did not have the desired effect on me, and I, not knowing what kind of question and to whom I answer, told him through the coach that with me it is necessary by force, and he activated force methods. In spite of everything, I had wanted to have sex with him, and I lay down on the sofa before going to bed for masturbation.

I have not had sex for a long time. And even masturbation I have long ceased to engage. I have long decided to quit sex forever. But he very actively carried out a massive attack on me with thrown into my mind the thoughts about sex and the pictures to warm up sexual desire. He also pressed hard on the buttons in my women's centers at the energy plane of existence, which activate sexual desire. By that time I had already turned my attention to my unusual behavior and, after brainstorming in my mind, I came to the conclusion that the only logical conclusion from all that I observed was that somewhere there is a real man who knows how to plug onto people and interact through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence.

I saw that I was looking at myself in the mirror with a completely different look, as if I was trying to like, and then I saw this massive attack on me with the heating of my sexual desire, and I thought that here he is, some man who I want to like, wants sex with me, even without physical contact. I thought that if I was trying to get him to like me, then that's my man. Why should I try to like someone else??? It's illogical and completely meaningless. And I, looking at my own behavior, made such a conclusion that the one who had plugged onto me is my man who was supposed to come to me. I clearly realized that all these thoughts and pictures about sex for a reason and that this is his thing. I thought that if he wants sex with me, why not try? And I decided to agree.

I took out the lubricant and began to masturbate trying to please myself. Different women do it in different ways. Someone enough just mechanical some action, someone needs to imagine something. This is not enough for me, since my sexual sensations turn on when meditating on a particular man. I need to tune in to the specific man I want to be with. I wanted to be with him, with this man who showed me that he wants to be with me. But I didn't know if I had the right to tune in to him. I mechanically did everything that is usually done during masturbation, but I could not afford to tune in to him, though aware that he came to me somehow in such a strange way and wants to be with me and I do not mind with him to do it. But no sexual sensations were turned on, since I did not give myself permission to tune in to him. He stood before my inner sight, but my own nature screamed that I did not know anything about him. And if he has a woman, then I have no right to even look at him. And then no sex with him can not be. Yes, this is masturbation, I just masturbate, but it is not. I am doing it only because of him. He wanted sex with me. But we are separated by distance. For some reason, he did not come to me in physical reality. And in this case, sex between people separated by distance, can only be in the form of masturbation. And for me it was not masturbation, but sex. But who is this sex with? If he has a woman, then I have no right to that. And I did not allow myself to tune in to him.

And then on my internal screen began to sweep the pictures with those men who I knew in the past, with whom I was or who I just liked. But I brushed aside all of them. I did not want to be with them. I wanted to imagine him, that my man, that come to me in such a strange way, but I could not afford it. And then his voice sounded very clearly in my head. It was not my voice, not the voice of my mind, I had heard the male voice in my head quite clearly, which I clearly identified as his voice.

It was my man's voice. It was his, not the voice of some fictional man. And he actually said in his voice that I could tune in to him. I immediately believed him and gave that voice my trust. I tuned in to him. I tuned in to the image that stood in front of my inner gaze, everything turned on as if it was real sex with a real man. And I had an orgasm. I got a gratifying sexual release, after which I buried myself in a pillow and began to cry, that I'm so unhappy that I have to do this.

And suddenly on my internal screen right in front of my nose I saw someone's dick who wanted me to give him a blowjob. And behind him on my internal screen was a bunch of men with protruding dicks who wanted to enjoy sex with me, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. They all were pushing at me, as if to say, «Don't stop! Come on, suck it! Hurry up, let's go! We all want to fuck you, slut!» They were all standing in front of my inner gaze and kind of pushing me to have sex with all of them. It really enraged me, and I threw them all away from me with an effort of will. I even had seen me throw them away from me and they flew off somewhere.

6. The force methods

But it was not enough for him, and he tightened force methods. He pressed some point in my energy body that turns on the mode of incessant estrus, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization. Like at animals. And this was getting stronger and stronger every day. I no longer masturbated, but something incredible began to happen to my body. This sexual desire began to grow stronger with terrible force, I looked at myself from the side and did not understand what it is at all why. But this is not enough. There were signs on the physical level, really like at a dog during heat, during the period of fertilization. I was looking at myself from the side and was horrified: I have signs of heat, the juices flowing, like a dog!!! EW!!! What an abomination!!!

I've never had anything like this in my life, it's unnatural for me. Because it was real on a purely animal level. They tried to influence my body on the animal level, trying to lower me to the level of an animal. But I'm not like that. I've never been like this in my life. Yes, what is sexual desire, I know, this is normal, but here it was completely different. It was like they turned on some kind of button to affect the body like to an animal. But I'm not this body. I am a spiritual soul, I sing mantras, I listen to bhajans, I love Krishna, Shiva, Ganesha, and I pray to all the saints, and suddenly in me, in a human being, is estrus like at a dog or a cat. With all that it implies. And literally. Something smelly flows from my genitals, and because of this, I have to constantly change my panties, as they are really wet and disgusting smelly. And it does not look like human bodily manifestations. This is identical to what flows from the female dog or cat during the fertilization period. I have not had sex for a long time, for many years. I lead a clean lifestyle. Yes, with vaginal dysbacteriosis and yeast infection are similar symptoms. But I, like many women, have an idea about these symptoms. In this case, it does not look like anything. There are also persistent obsessive thoughts about sex. It seems that these thoughts were thrown into my mind. These thoughts are not mine, someone from outside has thrown these thoughts into my mind. I got that impression. And the feeling of sexual tension. As if there is a button in my body that is responsible for sexual languor and now it is under pressure and not released. That's what I felt and saw in myself.

It really pissed me off. I was just furious. I realized that it is the influence from outside on me. It was an attack, astral, energy, still what attack.... But attack. Of me wanted to make bitch during period of estrus, like a female animal during the period of fertilization. Of me wanted to make female individual who doesn't care with whom to fuck, for whom the main thing is that this terrible sexual tension is as soon as possible passed, at least on a little. What an abomination! I told my lady friend who was doing Agni yoga at the time, and she told me to appeal to the overlords of Moriya and to complain about those who did this to me.

She gave me a prayer to appeal to them, and I sincerely complained in this prayer to the overlords of Moriya. I said, «In the name of I AM THAT I AM I invoke the action of the thread connecting me with Master El Morya. Master El Morya, please, help me in my situation (I imagined my situation in detail). Help me to find a Divine solution for my situation and give me the help which the Supreme Law permits you to give». I asked them to free me from this pressure on me, completely remove it and punish those who did this to me. But I asked not to touch him, the man who came to me and whom I began to feel and who told me that I could tune in to him.

Less than half an hour after addressing the overlords of Moriya with that prayer and request, the demand to remove all this and to punish those who attacked me, it was gone. All those signs of heat, of an rush of lust disappeared, as if they had never been. I relieved to be and began to finally back on the road to recovering my old life. And then I clearly realized that it was the influence from the outside, causing me those low-lying heated sexual desires that are not really mine, and them. I had seen the picture: he is in my mind, he is in the eyes of other people, and he did with me. It was him.

When I had took the children to the first karate class, after the class the coach said that with my son is difficult. And he asked me how I am handling him. I said that I am handling him with the use of force methods. I meant the rigor, discipline. The coach said, «Maybe there is some choice?» I didn't answer anything and looked down. After this conversation, I began to feel some pressure on myself. Thoughts began to appear in my mind with images that heated sexual desire, from my past, from everywhere.

There was the impression that an attack had been launched against me with the aim of leading me out of my quiet comfort and seclusion, in which there was no place for such desires for a long time. But these low-lying desires for sex were clearly visible through everything. I didn't know what it was. But they diligently pushed me in order to make me masturbate, and after that to have sex with some man or some men in real life. Thus began our with my eternal husband interaction in this life. He plugged onto me through that coach and started use force to bend me to his wishes, to his team.

For several days they put pressure on me by the intensification of sexual desire, palming off thoughts and pictures on this subject, and then activate at me a mode of incessant oestrus, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization. And when I realized that this is completely out of the ordinary phenomenon and clearly the influence from outside, I at the urgent advice of my lady friend sent an angry demanding, so to speak, a letter to the overlords of Moriya. I read the entire text of the prayer she sent me, and then imagined the whole situation and really saw how from my forehead at the mental, fine-material level came some bloc of information and swept to the distance, where I felt these lords by my inner compass.

Almost immediately everything stopped. Really as with a wave of a magic wand. Like someone was holding the button recessed and it all was intensifying and then the hand was removed from the button and instantly all gone. Everything disappeared really in a flash, after about 20–30 minutes after that block of condensed information came out of me. It was such a vivid contrast, between what I felt and saw in my body, between these terrible signs of dog heat, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization, and the complete calm and blissful calm afterward.

It couldn't have been an illusion. Signs of heat, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization, and were manifested in my body on a physical level. These symptoms was intensifying for several days in a row, as if really someone from the outside pressed a button in my body, the existence of which I did not even know, and was twisting spring stronger and stronger, in order to I broke and started masturbating. And during my masturbation, all his associates were going to fuck me, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, and pump my feminine energy and pious merits out of me.

But my such strong appeal to the overlords of Moriya destroyed all their plans and all their idea of their power and, so to speak, well-established technology. But this was not all from those awareness and shocks that came to them from me. I was seeing it with my own eyes. From my genitals flowed and smelled continuously. This heat and a sharp nasty smell suggested a thought about some venereal disease or vagina dysbacteriosis, but I didn't have anything of that. I have not had any sex with anyone for many years. At the gynecologist, I regularly checked. And immediately after that, I checked with the gynecologist. All tests were clean. But my panties had to be changed every half hour, because panties just became wet and disgusting smelly. And at the same time I was felling constantly increasing sexual languor in my body. And pictures about sex constantly appeared in my mind. Although I did not need it. It looked as if it was not me, but someone from the outside causing this state to me. At one time we lived a dog, the dog periodically had estrus. And I was seeing that what happens to me is identical to the heat of the dog. And this state intensified in me, as if someone invisible tightens the spring, the bolt on the nut. It looked like I was an animal, not a human, although I lived, thought and realized everything as a human. I was seeing that in me they intentionally do this so that I become like those dogs female individuals, which stand on the street and wait for them to be fucked by male dogs crowding around her and waiting for their turn. But when I realized that it was under pressure from me, that it was such an attack on me, I turned for help to overlords of Moriya. And when I did this, immediately all the signs of estrus disappeared, although before that it only increased. And I really felt that the desire, which is not clear where it came from and began to put pressure on me, was gone, as at the click of fingers. It was a strong contrast. Prior to this appeal to the overlords of Moriya, I had wet and smelly panties and constantly increasing pressure on me to start masturbating or go looking for some man to have sex with him. But as soon as I turned to overlords of Moriya, half an hour had not passed, as it all passed without a trace. My panties became dry and clean, all the obscene pictures in my mind were gone, and there was no sexual desire at all. Complete calm. And between these events was no more than half an hour. Very sharp contrast. I told about it to my lady friends.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Certainly. I, as an ordinary woman, with any problem running to complain to my lady friends. And here I did the same. I have two very close lady friends whom I can trust with my most intimate, most paradoxical and out of the ordinary experiences and realizations, and I turned to both of them.

Both my lady friends told me that it was a clear attack on me and that whoever did this to me would be severely punished. And they both told me to start praying for him, to chant the Hare Krishna mantra for him, so that Krishna would help him, protect him, and lead him to the right path. For me, this idea seemed irrational, but then I remembered one event that happened to me when I was still in Moscow.

7. Tiramisu

After the divorce, I lived with the children in a rented apartment. And one woman psychologist offered me help, absolutely for free, wanting to help me since the divorce was very difficult for me. In conversations with her once we had a training called «Sandbox». She said me to put some toys out of the box with «Kinder Surprise» toys into a box with sand called «My world». I got those kinder toys that I wanted, and put them in the sandbox. After that I looked at the toys that I put into my world, and determined which of the toys characterizes someone in my life. Thus I identified all the toys. In my world were all who were in my life then. Looking at these toys, I began to describe them, and this description of toys revealed a lot to me about the people whom these toys characterized. Looking at them, I told a lot of interesting things about those personalities that were in my life.

That game had reconciled me with many things in my life, but the most important thing was that thanks to her insistent proposal I took out of that box my future man from those toys «Kinder Surprise». I did not want him at that time, as the very thought of the relationship was disgusting to me, but she found the words and convinced me that it would be good to put my future man in my world. And thereat I took him out as lion from toy box. And after a while after that, my children in the kindergarten were given the task to bring some crafts to the competition, and I went for ideas into the «Auchan». There I found in the department of children's creativity clay toys piggy banks, which need to painted. I saw a lion piggy bank, and I bought this lion for myself, thinking about my lion in that sandbox. At home, my children and I painted with paints piggy banks, and I painted that my lion. And when lion dried, I wanted to varnish it.

And that's when I went to buy art varnish in the art store, I was driving the tram passing the Danilovsky cemetery, where I would often come to worship to Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow. And I had wanted to go to Matrona and bow to her again. And because at home was waiting for me that lion, which I had painted colors and to which was carrying varnish, I decided to ask Matrona for a blessing on this man, whom I associated with the lion.

And here I stood in the queue at chapel of Matrona and standing waiting, when my turn comes to go in there, to put the candle and to kneel down to her mercy. And then, when my turn came, a nun came out of the chapel. She approached us and said that people often bring different gifts for Matrona, nuns sanctify gifts at Matrona and then give to those who wish. And she stretched out the rosary in her hands. Some woman took the rosary right there.

And then this conventual stood right in front of me and, looking me in the eye, began to hold in her arms a photo of Emperor Nicholas II, the last tsar of the Russian Empire.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

She was standing, looking me in the eyes, and was saying, «Who needs a tsar? Take the tsar!» But no one wanted to take the tsar, including me. I turned away from her so she wouldn't give me the eye, and I saw that everyone else also turned away from her. But she kept saying, «Who needs a tsar? Take the tsar!» And here I remembered that I after all came to Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow for blessing about my future man whom I had placed into my world in the form of a lion from «Kinder Surprise», and now I already bought this figure of a lion and even painted colors it and here I carry a varnish to cover it with a varnish.

And I thought, lion is the king of beasts. And they offer me to take the tsar. Lion is a king, a tsar. On photography, too, tsar, a man, in epaulets, handsome, noble, Emperor of Russia. And I immediately reached out and took this picture to myself. The weather was nice and quiet. But when I took the photo of Nicholas II in my hands, right at this moment it began to rain. And this conventual, looking into my eyes, with some heartfelt feeling told me: «Keep him safe», and I put his photo to me in the bag.

For a long time after this event I could not understand what those words could mean — «Keep him safe», but now, when that energy attack was committed against me and when both my lady friends had said me that I need to pray for him to protect him from the reactions of his act and in order to Krishna would lead him to the true path, I suddenly remembered the words «Keep him safe», and I had got a very clear understanding about whom and from what exactly I should keep in security.

I turned on the Mrityunjaya Mantra and began to sing it, presenting his image on my inner screen and asking to protect him, because he, as I understood from all that was in those days, acts there, at the fine-material level, and he does bad things, and at the same time he is there the tsar, he is the chief in their team. He commands them, he is tsar. And I realized that he does not only that, that there are some skirmishes at those levels, some even wars with others of the same or quite different, and that he is very vulnerable. And I took my own rosary, which I hadn't picked up in years.

I have not chant the mantra for a long time and thought that I would never chant it again. But now I decided that I should give him protection and chant the mantra for him. I have to protect him, as I was told then, «Who needs a tsar? Take the tsar! Keep him safe». First I had chanted one circle of Hare Krishna mantra for myself, and then I started chanting the circle for him. And then, at that moment, when I began to chant Hare Krishna for him, I saw again on my internal screen a whole crowd of them with him, It's like they have a big meeting there about it. They were all clearly angry, and they was saying me with obvious threat in their voice: «Do not you dare do it». But I told them they were nobody to me and that I was doing what I thought was right. And someone of them, the strongest after him (whom I started to feel like mine and that told me that I could tune in to him) said in my head with a threat: «I'll kill you!»

It was so unexpected. I quite simply started protecting him. When I sang the Mrityunjaya Mantra, none of them showed themselves, but it was noticeable that there, somewhere at them, all alarmed. But when I started chanting Hare Krishna on the japa mala rosary, it was like a bolt from the blue. I led a usual life, like everyone else. I didn't think about any mantra for a long time. I had japa mala rosary from those times. Yeah, I was periodically listening to bhajans and watch the Vedic TV series, but I didn't chant the mantra. And they obviously did not expect such a turn of events. And suddenly I had heard a man's voice in my mind. It was some other man. And he told me, «I'll kill you». There was so much power and so much confidence in that voice....

But I told him, «I am not afraid you. I will give you to Krishna and Krishna will show you. You're in big trouble!» I had chanted the circle of Hare Krishna mantra for him, for my man, as I began to call him, and whom I identified in my mind as my man, and went to bed. In the morning when I woke up, I saw them all on my internal screen. They stood in front of me with their hands folded in Namaste and asked me for forgiveness. The guy who dared to threaten me with death was not among them. What happened, I did not know, but from that time I began to sing in his protection Mrityunjaya Mantra and chant Hare Krishna mantra — circle for himself and a circle for him.

When he came to me, I began to notice my strange behavior that I began to dress more beautiful and watch at myself in the mirror, as if I show myself to a man and want him to like. And then began the pressure at me to activate the rush of lust in me. And then force methods were turned on to cause in my body such panic womb as in dogs or cats during heat, with the same as them, bodily signs. He tried to activate at me a mode of incessant oestrus, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization. I looked at it all as if from the side and thought, how is that even possible??? But I saw and felt this increasing pressure.

At that time I watched the Vedic series «Ramayana» 2008, with subtitles, and I was opening such episodes with such words there, as if they explain what happens with us. And then I somehow plunged my thoughts into my past and quite clearly defined that we are with him, with this man, who is not here with me physically, but who connected to me and affects me in this way, were a couple in the past, in the distant past. I saw us there with him, in our distant past, God knows how many lives back, in the depths of that karmic well, and we were happy there. I thought, what was his name there? And the name Ram came to me. I felt this name and began to call him Ram.

I remembered that I came to Krishna Consciousness at Rama Navami, the appearance day of Lord Rama. I had a lot of events associated with this name, Rama. I have long retired from active presence in Krishna Consciousness. And more than that, I moved away from this. But when there was that attack on me, I was very scared. Yes, my appeal to the overlords of Moriya helped me. Immediately after my appeal to the overlords of Moriya all the signs of that pressure on me disappeared. That rush of lust that was fueled from somewhere, besides my will and besides my real desire and self-perception, disappeared as if nothing had happened.

And my lady friends told me to start chanting the Hare Krishna mantra for him. I began to chant mantra. I began in my thoughts to come my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami and my tutor in Krishna Consciousness, Prabhu Sasha, an older devotee, who in Soviet times lived in Tallinn, and who even then was a devotee of Krishna. My husband and I were friends with Prabhu Sasha until we moved to Moscow, and for me Prabhu Sasha was an indisputable authority. Everyone called him a mystic yogi, and he told us a lot of interesting things.

And when that attack came at me, my Gurudev and Prabhu Sasha began to appear to me. And they were saying one thing: «Chant Hare Krishna mantra, chant as much as you can, but chant. Only Hare Krishna mantra will help you and save you». And I grabbed the mantra Hare Krishna as my lifeline. Every day I began to chant one circle Hare Krishna for myself and for him. Yes, that attack was over, but I had no guarantee that this would not happen again from somewhere and that they would not break me.

And I began to chant the mantra as my salvation from this influence from outside. I hid behind mantra Hare Krishna as behind my shield. And I felt like mantra Hare Krishna was really protecting me. Around me as if formed such a protective ring, such armor. And then I said to him, whom I had identified as my man, with whom we had many lives together, I said him, to my couple on which I had been blessed by Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow, when woman gave me a photograph of Tsar

Nicholas II with the words «Who needs a tsar? Take the tsar! Keep him safe», that he is my Tiramisu.

Tiramisu means «lift me to heaven». I told him, knowing that he could see my thoughts, that he was with me and that I could communicate with him, I told him, «You are my Tiramisu, you are my „lift me to heaven“». I told him that I no longer wanted to be in the material world. I told him, «You are my man, who is mine, and you did this to me. If my man did this to me, then what others will do to me, who are nobody to me?» I told him he didn't recognize me and he did this to me. He was pushing me, his, his, his woman, to other men. He was forcing me to be with others, with a lot of men, actively, with all his strength. He tried to break my will. What will others do to me??? I told him, «There are others, who are stronger than you and who can do it. I don't want to be in the material world anymore. There's nothing for me here. I want to get out of here and go into the spiritual world».

I told him, «You are my Tiramisu, lift me up to heaven». I told him, «You had did something that nobody could: I gained a strong desire to return into the spiritual world». I have been in Krishna Consciousness for many years, I have chanted the mantra for many years, I fasted all Ekadashi, I have done so many, but I have never had a desire to really return into the spiritual world. I just liked Krishna Consciousness, it is mine. But there was no desire to go into the spiritual world. And here this desire appeared, such a strong and powerful. And I said to him, «Thank you so much for coming to me and doing all this with me, because you lit this desire in me — to return into the spiritual world».

I told him, «But while I'm here I'll protect you. You need protection». At first I sang Mrityunjaya Mantra and I chanted one circle of the Hare Krishna mantra for him, and also I began to sing the Narasimha Maha Mantra «Ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham». And I had set myself a daily sadhana: one circle of mantra for him, Mrityunjaya Mantra and Narasimha Maha Mantra. And I honestly was doing it.

I found these mantras and began to sing these mantras every day once, of one such musical composition. I was sitting down, turning on these mantras and singing it, representing him, this man whom I began to call Ram, after I had felt this name somewhere in the depths of many our lives with him. He had stood on my inner screen and was standing there in front of me while I was singing these mantras with my eyes closed. And during that singing, I would focus my attention on his figure there and direct the words of the mantra to him, thinking that these mantras would protect him. Thanks to this singing, I have opened a new level of communication with my Gurudev, with many other personalities and even with Deities.

8. The contact with my team of forces of light

When he first joined me and I started acting like there was someone with me, and it's a man, and I want him to like me, in my life songs about love started to come across all the time, went like a stream. Before that, of course, I periodically listened to music, but here love songs were especially intensely turned on everywhere. There were many different songs; one of these songs is the song of Enya «Only time». I listened to it day and night with auto-repeat. Also a song from the album «Sri Hari» of Shri Vishnupad «Radhe Shyam» with words about real love. «This is real love. Do you know what is real love? I love Radhe-Shyam». By this song I was talking him in a metaphorical way, «Do you know what real love is? I had come to you. This is real love».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Also then I a lot and often listened to the band's song «Dedication to the spiritual master» of duet «Sankirtana-Lila», words of which also metaphorically were saying to him: «I am happy to meet with you, but I die when parting with you. Saying goodbye to you, I stay with you and I hand over my life to you», and «Where you are, there is eternal bliss, there kirtan lasts forever. I serve you so imperfectly, but I want to serve you forever».

I through these songs, which literally flurry of flowed from everywhere, allegorically was talking him, that I with him are eternal couple, that this is eternal love, that only with him me well and that, even sitting far from him, I would still with him. He didn't know what I was talking about, what eternal love. Yes, he knows how to read between the lines, allegorical language, this is the surest way for asuras to get information. Someone reads the faces, the hand, the gestures, and the asuras read between our words.

And so between the words and in the very words of these songs I was talking him about us, but he certainly did not believe it. Yes, he saw that I identified him as my man from past lives, as my real couple, but he thought it was another whim of another sentimental chick. And he was puzzled by it, and there at himself somewhere at home, but being always with me connected to me, he kind of asked me about it, and I answered him. But I answered in a rather unusual way. It was February 8, 2016, the beginning of the year of Red Fire Monkey. I wanted to meet the beginning of the New Year well, and I bought a lot of Goodies.

Just before going to sleep, I turned on my favorite songs, and when I was listening to one of them, suddenly quite unexpectedly for me I started a completely unreal orgasm, and non-contact, that is, spontaneously, without any body movements and external actions, just came over me such bliss that happens during orgasm, and it was doing not end.

No, it was not an orgasm at all, it was as if a mad flow of energy is rushing through you and could not stop, as from the mouth of the volcano, when it is erupted, a fire is violently breaks out and fills the entire sky, and nothing can be done about it. At sex pleasure passes quickly enough, but here was differently. It just felt like in me and through me rushing flow of energy, comparable in perception and associations with the bliss of orgasm, but much more powerful and fiercer. And I couldn't get out of there.

The children were sleeping, I was in a completely normal, adequate condition, but I felt the flow of energy of incredible power, which seemed to buzz in me, as in a high-voltage power line are buzzing wires and feel the power of this element. It lasted and lasted and did not fade for a second and as if raging energy at breakneck speed was rushing through me, inside me. I sat down to work, thinking that it was somehow to calm me, but alas... Then I wrote in Skype my lady friend, it was after midnight, I did not dare to call, she was asleep, I was sitting, drifting in this frantically rushing flow inside me and repeated: «I can't get out of this. I can't get out of this».

I answered him in this way to his question I could not hear here, what kind of true love is there. He, too, even being able to do a lot at those energy levels, could not do anything and just watched as I was rushing in this stream and could not get out of there. This was the most convincing answer for his question. And to get me out of this state, my team came to me.

All this was prepared in advance by me and my team, who agreed to help me give a chance to my eternal husband, who many lives lived as asur. I sat there and I kept saying the same thing, «I can't get out of this», and suddenly I started saying different. I started uttering different words and phrases with different intonations, these were clearly not my words and not my intonations, as if it was not I, but other personalities, and different and there were a lot of them. That is, the voice was mine, but the intonation, tone, the phrases themselves were clearly not mine. And they spoke to me, they told me, they comforted me, assured me that everything would be all right, and helped me. There were mostly female voices. They were talking me through my mouth, through my words. They were talking me how much they love me. It was very amazing... as if contact with angels. One female voice was saying how much they love me, the other female voice was saying about love to me, with different intonations. I was uttering it by my mouth, but the words were not mine, and the intonations were not mine, and I so about love, with such tenderness not able to speak. In those words and intonations there was such immense love and tenderness on which I simply not able. And it is even surprising that I could even utter these words with such intonation.

I was very surprised by some words, and it was a man's voice, that is, the voice is mine, but the intonation was clearly male. I was pronouncing the words, but the words were clearly not mine. This time a man spoke through me. He said that it was always difficult with me. I, already I, asked his: «Always?» And thus I was pronouncing the words of someone. Different personalities took turns speaking through me. And when I was pronouncing this way with several voices not my words, but their words, I decided that I should ask to them my questions. My first question was whether there will be a third world war. The answer was, they say, what is to happen, that'll happen and why to think about that now. Whatever will be, will be. This answer reassured me. Also I told them that I didn't want to give birth anymore. They said, «You don't have to». There were many different my questions and their answers, but through me.

This conversation somehow pacified my mind, but that a stream of rushing energy through me as through the mouth of a volcano did not cease. And I expressed them claim that, they say, what about this crazy flow of energy that rushes that I'm afraid that it will not end, but I need to live normally here. And then the man's voice said a completely unexpected phrase, so strikingly contrasting with the whole conversation, that this phrase stopped me and knocked me out of that state. He said, «Do you think we just stare at each other and wank ourselves off here?» It was so unexpected, especially after the angelic female voices with words of tenderness and love for me, that I became a stupor and this flow of energy began to subside and everything passed.

The whole conversation was sublime, I felt great love in pronounces by me words... I can't speak with great tenderness and love, and this rudeness was simply unimaginable. This dirty word didn't fit the tender words of these angelic creatures, who love me so much. And this phrase with a swear word was as a sobering, icy shower. Thus they reassured me, put in order and showed him that I am not alone, that with me a powerful team of some powerful forces who managed to help me when he, Ram, was completely powerless and could not do anything, although he is able to manipulate the energy channels, to press there on the button, to cause sexual desire and to activate at women a mode of incessant oestrus, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization.

At the same time, on February 8, 2016, in the evening my daughter came up to me and began to ask me to take her by the legs and hold her upside down. She a long was asking me: «Mom, carry me... Mom, carry me»... And I took her under the knees and she hung upside down, I looked at her in the mirror. This picture with her when she was hanging upside down and her words reminded me of the pregnancy, because the child is sitting in the belly of the mother is usually upside down, especially when the time to be born is approaching. I looked at her and thought that the child was sitting in my belly and wants to be born, and the daughter was continuing: «Well, mom, well, carry me», and then I remembered how in Moscow I had an invisible but tangible interaction with someone. And then three children were conceived in me. There was no sex, there was no man. I was married then, and my husband and I were not going to conceive children. But at that time someone impacted on me, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, as a result of which three of their children settled in me. These are very strange children, because they can sit in a woman for many years, waiting for her to normal fertilization. Really like a fairy tale. But from those children conceived then I already gave birth to two children, and the third child, a girl, was sitting inside me.

And I thought that it was she, the girl who was conceived in Moscow and who has not yet get her usual physical body, asks through my daughter who was born, that I should carry her, that is, that there was a usual fertilization and that I gave birth to her. And then about this I told to my Ram, whom had been plugged onto me and with whom I have already started to communicate. I told him that inside me I had a girl who to give birth to. And I told him that she would be born at us. Because if he's mine, and I clearly was feeling he is mine, then he will come to me in real life and we will be together and we will being have sex, and as a result of sex children can be conceived. And as that girl, the last of conceived in Moscow with someone invisible, was not yet born, now it will be her turn. But I did not want to get pregnant and give birth anymore...

Yes, the idea that we will have a child with him, was pleasing, but the child will, in fact, not his. Yes, this child would have received a physical shell after ordinary sex with an ordinary man here. By body, DNA and body characteristics child would have been his child, since the biological father who gave ordinary semen would have been him, but in fact this child was conceived long ago, back in 2003–2004, when I was still living in Moscow, when I was still married to my second husband. 14 years have passed since that time. I remembered how I had an invisible interaction with someone and even communication through other people. And then began those unreal orgasms with a full immersion into the abyss of dragging you somewhere deep pleasure that could last an hour or two... Like on a plateau of bliss.

And as my husband said then, their children were conceived in me. After all, all this happened then right in front of him, in his eyes, and he could not do anything about it, but just was a bystander. And that time he told me that I was being used in order to conceive their children inside me. And that time three children were conceived into me. Who conceived children in me, I did not know, because there was no sex and there was no man either, and there were no pregnancies either. These conceived children were simply inside my female organs and waited for ordinary conception during ordinary sex to hatch and begin to grow inside me like an ordinary fetus. But since I was not going to have children with that husband, mainly for economic reasons, they, those with whom I interacted allegorically through other people and with whom I had those unreal hour orgasms without the presence of anyone, began to press at our consciousness with my husband so that we would split up with him and that I found another man with whom those children could get body. And then they did it.

My second husband and I separated, I very soon married my third husband, and we had two children. But three children were conceived in me (who exactly conceived children inside me then, I didn't know, because conception occurred without sex at all, and even without the presence of a man with me, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence), and the last baby, the third girl, she continued to be in me and waited for me happens following fertilization, so that she could be born.

And when this my Ram came to me, too invisibly, I, looking at hanging upside down my daughter, who was saying, «Mom, carry me», told him that in me sits a girl and she is waiting for her birth and because he came to me, she should be born at us. In Russian, when a woman is pregnant, they say that she is carrying a child. And since my daughter, when I took her legs and began to hold her upside down, was saying «Mom, carry me», it was very much like a pregnant woman, in whom her child is sitting head down, preparing to be born. And the words «Mom, carry me» sounded like a child's call: «Mom, please, I'm waiting for you to become pregnant and I can come out of you and live like all children». But I did not want to go more pregnant and give birth, and then breast-feed and so on, so that's why at my contact with my team I told them that I do not want to give birth more, and they said: «You don't have to». And that was an indication to Ram for further action. He took her out of me. And it happened the morning after that contact with my team.

9. The exception to the rule

It was so. In the morning when I woke up, I was lying on my belly, and suddenly I saw my Ram on my inner screen. Before that I already started to chant the Hare Krishna mantra on the japa mala rosary for his good and sing protective mantras. And when I was singing mantras, I was focusing on his image, which was standing in front of my eyes closed somewhere in front of me. But this time this image became tiny and was in my belly, where the female organs are. I was lying on my belly and saw with some inner vision how my Ram, quite tiny in size, moves inside my female organs and carves something scalpel.

He was moving around in a circle around something in the right ovary area and kind of carefully cut something out. Thus he cut something off from all sides and extracted it completely. Then he said, «Now take feminine napkin, now you will begin your period». I said, «Why on earth??? No, now is not the time for my period, the blood will not flow now». But he insisted, it was evident that he was sure that now the blood will pour. He was 100 percent sure of that. And he told me (I heard him well... It was not a voice, like voices in the head, no. Just somehow I heard him tell me) that I need to go to the toilet and make sure that right now, at this moment, my period began and blood is flowing from there. He said that now I need a feminine napkin. I obediently went to the toilet, sat down and showed him (that is, looked at my pants with my own eyes, knowing that he sees through my eyes, too), that no blood, nothing flows.

He was stunned. All that day, he made me check again to see if the blood was coming, but panties were clean, not a drop of blood from there. He was stunned to the limit, and I was feeling his amazement and upheaval. I was very sad because he was sure that will bleeds. I understood that he must have done it already many times and had a large absolute statistics. But I'm the only one who broke all his statistics. There was no blood. But he took this asuric baby from my female organs and moved her somewhere. Where??? I don't know, but I had the idea that he would put her in some other woman. She will then have ordinary sex with an ordinary man and ordinary fertilization, and that woman would give birth to this baby who was conceived in me in Moscow about 12 years ago.

On the one hand, for me it was so surprising that they are able to conceive their children, and without the visible physical presence of anyone, and those children can sit quietly inside a woman and wait for their hatching into the usual physical shell for many, many years. And also conceived in such a strange way, a child can be taken out of that woman like that, in whom child was conceived, and sewed into another woman.

And we, women, will not even know what children do we carry during pregnancy in ourselves, give birth and raise, whose children are these. I did not know who they were, but I was told about it after about a month after this contact with my team. By that time Ram had extracted from me Moscow asuric baby, the girl (I knew exactly that it was a girl, because in Moscow I knew that three children were conceived: a girl, a boy and a girl), and he saw that after this procedure I haven't started my period, there was not a drop of blood from the female organs after he had extracted this child out of me, although asuric statistics is extensive and one hundred percent: blood begins to flow in all women.

All this time before this event, when I had answered my eternal husband, who was living many lives as asur and to whom I came in this life to give him a chance, we have developed a fairly rapidly relationship. Yes, he was never with me physically, but he was always with me somehow. Asuras are able to interact with other people through objects and through other people. And he with me, too, became as something communicate. And I began to have sex with him, but without any physical manifestations and body movements, just on a mental level, but I saw that it's all somehow not serious, and I at some point decided that just sex with him will not do, even mentally, that he should take responsibility for me. And I told him he had to take responsibility for me, necessarily.

I remember him standing in front of me on my inner screen and refusing, «It's impossible». But I was insisting, but they all, who are with him, also was saying that it's impossible, but their answer is not satisfied me. And after my team has brought me out of that ongoing as if orgasm and he was the witness of our talk with them through me, I again had enquired about he taking responsibility for me. I called to them all out there with him and told them, «Listen to me! I tell you! He must take responsibility for me, or we have done away with him!»

I took a book with nursery rhymes of Korney Chukovsky and began to read aloud a poem about a Cockroach. Also I sent from my forehead some bloc of information about my Ram. I this threw away bloc of information into them, saying: «Look what he did! He is in my hands! He must take responsibility for me, otherwise he will not live!» It seems that in that bloc of information about my Ram, there was some dirty and my words had an effect, because since that time I became his woman, and not just one of many to whom anyone from his asuric organization had the right. So to say, I acquired some status, untouchability for others, he had to do it. But that wasn't enough for me.

After a while, I began to show him the situations of my life, when I had similar interaction in Moscow with someone who, as I understood, from their environment. I deliberately began to recall the events of how it was. Even when I lived in Moscow and was married to my second husband, I sold incense in the electric trains of Savelovsky direction. And somehow I started to have some kind of invisible communication. I didn't know what it was or who it was, but they showed themselves.

It was so strange for me when I was entering one railway carriage and there I was being stopped by some passenger and we began a conversation, then I went to the next railway carriage and there I was stopped by a completely different passenger, completely unrelated to the previous one. But this, the second passenger, looking me in eyes, spoke, «I just saw you and spoke with you», — and he repeated words from our conversation with man from previous railway carriage. After I went to the next railway carriage, and so the same thing was being repeated.

And so it lasted long until I realized that someone through these people spoke to me. He somehow was connecting onto me and to those who were near me, and spoke through them. People was saying with me in ordinary language on worldly topics, but their speech was involved some as the key, which saying me, «I am here, it's me again talking to you, look, this person says something different, but through him, through his speech allegorically you communicate with me». I did not immediately accept this course of things, but they convinced me, because it was one conversation with someone who was not present there personally. This conversation was shifting from the railway carriage to the railway carriage through different people, completely unrelated people, but as if with the same man I do not know with whom who was not present there personally. And this conversation was a reality, although beyond imagination and habitual way of life. This conversation was real. I had to admit that it was not arranged by anyone, that really someone through different people began to communicate with me so allegorically.

And then began the very unclear what orgasms without the presence of someone else, it could be anywhere, even in the train, even on the platform, even my house, when I sat next to my then husband. I was alone, there was no sex at all, but I felt as if I was having an orgasm, although there was no sex, there was no man. And this orgasm did not end. I could go by train, and suddenly I was beginning to feel an orgasm. Although I was just sitting on a bench in the train, and I tried my best not to show people what I was feeling at that time. It was torture. This feeling of bliss, which only happens during orgasm, was appearing by itself, as if someone from a distance, through a distance, presses some button in my body that is responsible for the onset of an orgasm. And this someone at their own discretion was choosing the time and places where to press this button. And although I was just sitting on a bench in an electric train, I felt that as if I was having sex now. I had an orgasm and I was more and more immersed in this whirlpool of bliss. I felt that I was being dragged in and dragged into this funnel of bliss, and I did not have the strength to resist it. Once I plunged so deeply into this bliss that I couldn't even move. It was the final stop, all passengers got out of the electric train, and I sat on the bench, curled up and could not even lift a finger, feeling that bliss. And some man took me in his arms and carried me from the electric train to the platform. He put me on his feet and left. I think he was forced to do it. He had been forced by those men who caused these orgasms in me. Still, they had at least some pity for me, once pressed on the consciousness of the man and forced him to take me out of the electric train on the platform. They did not hesitate to turn on these orgasms at me, even when I was at home and my husband was next to me. They did not spare him a bit. He could not help me. He just watched me sit on the couch and feel this bliss. And it lasted for hours. My husband then was praying for me. He was asking God to help me. He was afraid that I would not get out of this state of orgasm, when it will begin among people, not in my house. He was afraid that if I didn't get out of this state, people might think it was crazy. My husband was very worried about me. He was saying that someone was affecting me. And he was saying that in this way someone conceives their children in me. We did not know who they were, but now, when began the same communication with this Ram, I realized that then it was no demigods, no brahma-rakshasas, no spirits, but the same-looking people who live here as we all, but who have these unusual abilities. They can to interact and even communicate through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. And they can conceive children in a woman, without any sexual interaction, whatsoever. I remembered those orgasms and thought it was wonderful then. It was an incomparable bliss.

And I thought he should be able to do that, too. I specifically was remembering that time and how it was then and I was showing him this in my mental video, saying him that I want this again, but now with you. I was remembering those feelings of complete dissolution in bliss, when it seems that the body is not designed for such a heat of pleasure that passes through you, and it is terrible that the fuses of the body which protect it, just will fly off from this intensity of the flow and you will not return from there. And I was asking Ram for that bliss. I even was remembering that feeling and was plunging into it and showed my Ram, what I felt there, and begged him about it. I was talking him that he is the same as those who were then with me in Moscow, because these situations are very similar, then in Moscow and now with him. And I was talking him that if he did not know how to do it, then he must learn this and must give it to me. And after a while it began at us.

10. It's not immaculate conception. The conception of the child by technology of the asuras

Yes, when he first plugged onto me and went into my thoughts, I began to behave differently. I began to behave like someone's looking at me and I want to like him. I just tracked these indicators, and, as always, this was formed into one picture. I began to think that there was someone with me, someone who looked at me as if from inside and outside, first from inside, and then outside, too. I remembered how in Moscow I had this. I remembered how they spoke to me through people in the trains. I remembered how I had revelations, a sense of constant presence, these dreadful and at the same time great long deep orgasms without the explicit presence of someone else, but with a full immersion into the bliss and the fear that the body will not sustain this flow of bliss and the fuses, safeties of body will blew. I remembered how they talked to me through people.

I remembered all this and began to ask my Ram, whom I felt my man, from many past lives, and about whom Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow said: «Who needs a tsar? Take the tsar! Keep him safe». I began to beg him about those orgasms, which were then in Moscow. He long remained silent. But after somehow (it was Sunday, February 19, 2016) I went to our city program Hare Krishna. I didn't go there for years. I didn't chant a mantra in years. I've been avoiding all this. Yes, from the height of that time, after I had been given a true picture of what was happening, I learned that my alleged falling and leaving the practice Krishna Consciousness was intentional.

This was planned by me before I was born in this body, when I made a plan between my lives with my team, how to give a chance to my eternal husband. He had been an asur for many lives after he was deceived there, and I was separated with him all this time. To give him a chance, I had to go on many maneuvers, in the number of which was my supposedly falling from the spiritual path. And this falling was necessary that those asuras whom I included in my plan, were taking this bait and went according to my plan. And my Ram also had went according to my plan, which I, being born here in the physical body did not remember, and whose existence was not even suspected, but which was being successfully implemented. And this plan was to move away from the visible practice of Krishna Consciousness and even seriously reduce my standards. And therefore I did not go there for many years, did not communicate with anyone there and expressed a negative attitude to all this.

When my Ram, who is my eternal husband, plugged onto me, he began to bend me under his associates, he began to make from me sexual litter, to turn me a female individual. He began to activate a mode of incessant oestrus, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization, at me. He wanted to pump my feminine energy and pious merits out of me on a regular basis. He wanted to turn me into their limp puppet, who is always ready to fulfill any of their wishes with anyone from his asuric organization.

In every big city there is such an organization of asuras, and they are constantly in conflict with each other, attack each other, try to tear off a piece of more or even throw others off their pedestal. And this requires the energy that they draw from women. And here is my husband, my true eternal couple, my Ram had plugged onto me. He didn't manage to bend me and he was forced to take responsibility for me, because I was blackmailing them with some kind of compromising information on him and by the fact that I have my team and I'm not afraid to ask anyone for help, even to Krishna himself. I asked Ram about these orgasms, and he decided to begin these very deep orgasms without his physical presence, but real, tangible. But to get it started, I went to the Hare Krishna program.

Yes, here I am an ordinary woman, I just live, but somewhere there I see it all from above. And I just went to the Hare Krishna program and just did what I wanted to do, but in fact I did it not just so, but for a specific purpose, even if here I did not even know about it. So, apparently, it was written in my plan made by me between lives. I ignored Krishna Consciousness for a long time, but when I began that interaction with Ram, I remembered it all and took the japa mala rosary, start listening to the lectures of spiritual masters of ISKCON, Srila Prabhupada, my Gurudev, the bhajans... and I started going to the Hare Krishna programs to protect me from the influence of Ram and others like him.

I had no guarantee that the attacks on me will not happen again, and I was really scared. And at the same time, realizing that he actively was pushing me under the other men, although he the one whom I had felt in my past lives as my man, I told myself that I don't want to be in the material world anymore. There's nothing for me here. He did not recognize me and began to do it with me. He is my real husband and his Dharma is to protect me, but he did not protect me, he began to destroy me, humiliate me as a woman, and abuse my trust. And if my man, my eternal couple, did this to me, then what will others do to me, for whom I am nobody???

And I again plunged into Krishna Consciousness as the only salvation and the only true way for me. And here I came to the program, was lecture, kirtan, then darshan of Deities. I went to the Deities, folded my hands in Namaste, and the words went out of me by themselves. I began to ask Krishna, «Krishna, give us what we need most with him now». And the next day, it was February 22, 2016, began those same orgasms, already with my Ram.

That was something! It was sex, really tangible sex, but without his physical presence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. It was such a long sex, with multiple long, uninterrupted and, as it seemed to me, completely unreal orgasms. Like back in Moscow, but much cooler, because in Moscow everything was happening blindly, as if by itself, but now I talk to him, I hear his voice inside, we have a live dialogue, that is, it was the real feeling of a living person. And I during this action was looking at myself in the laptop screen and saw there myself, my eyes, and the state. It was like he was looking at me from there, through my eyes. That's really something!!! The feeling is indescribable... And it's been rolling for a long time, more than a week.

No sex in real life can not be compared even with the spark of that sex. But he told me right away that it would end. I did not know at all what kind of sex it was and why it was needed. And then it struck me... It was sex to conceive our asuric children. We have with him during these all-consuming orgasms occurred conception of children with asuric nature. We conceived two children: a boy and a girl. The boy inherited Ram's abilities and qualities, he will a big asur, a very high level manipulator and a lion among the asuras. And the girl of the divine nature, she will a peacemaker. The peacemaker is the one who reconciles all, resolves conflicts, establishes peace between different parties, as well as the one who creates worlds. Very interesting personality.

Those stunning, all-consuming orgasms through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence with my eternal husband, who once upon a time became asur, ended smoothly after some time, and at his request we began a new stage in this sphere, too, without his personal physical presence here with me, but with some contact, that is, through the body. When there were those orgasms, no physical contact was not at all, this state was turned on by itself, at any time convenient for us. And in order to turn it on, you didn't need any cream, or any manipulation of hands or dildo or anything, nothing at all for this was not necessary.

Everything happened by itself, absolutely without any body movements and physical actions and even thoughts about it. It is not clear where bliss was rolling over me, with such an all-consuming incredible power and depth, as if by itself, and from me by themselves was pouring words of love, I was feeling such immense, such incredible power love for him that could not hold back these words, and they themselves came out of me: «I love you. I love you so much... my beloved»... Such love was flowing from me... But when the children were conceived, the end of that time came, and he asked me to start, so to speak, more usual and standard sex, with his presence in my hands.

Since that memorable first ever of the unity, when I was feeling that bliss and I felt him as a real living man and when we had conceived our asuric children, it took about ten days. And the time has come to extract them from me, because I have clearly expressed my desire that I do not want to give birth anymore. And then, when, apparently, he made sure that the conception was successful and the kids can get out of me, he again became tiny and again ended up inside me. Again he was doing something there in the area of female organs and after, when he took out of me children, boy and girl, he did not said me with full confidence about the feminine napkins and that necessarily will blood. But he wary and even with caution was waiting for this.

I spent the whole day showing him that everything is clean, no sign of blood was not. And it stunned him even more. He went off in thought and was completely absorbed in thoughts, how is that possible? It's like a abdominal surgery. It's like an egg donation, when after this procedure, a woman has a strong pain, and in addition blood, as in strong menstruation. And if a woman's period is usually painful, then with such a cutting out of her asuric children, she will not understand that this is not just a menstruation, but the consequences of such an intervention in her inner sanctum.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And thanks to his discouraged look, which I saw on my internal screen, I realized that he had never expected this, because this had never happened and could not be. When it happened the first time, he might think that there was contingency, some kind of program crash, although there can not be accidents, since this is as a female organ surgery, after which woman feels about the same as a woman after the real operation. My belly really hurt, that is, tangible signs of interference in my female organs were, but only in the form of pain there, but the blood was not, quite. Ram was waiting for my supposedly monthly periods, but in fact just the consequences of that operation, but the blood did not go from there that time. And this happened again, for the second time. This could not be a coincidence. He looked very thoughtful. But the answer could not find anywhere. This again made me very sad, because I saw that he had done this very, very many times, because he was so sure of the results and consequences of this.

11. The wonderful meditations

All this time I observed the sadhana every day. Every day I honestly was chanting the Hare Krishna mantra on the japa mala rosary, after so many years of the rejecting it and even of the ridiculing it. I was chanting the circle of the Hare Krishna mantra for Ram and the circle for myself. And also I sang protective mantras to protect him. At first I sang only Mrityunjaya Mantra, and then I have also added Narasimha Maha Mantra: ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mriyur mriyum namamy aham. It was so....

I was sitting on the couch, was putting the laptop on my lap, was putting the headphones in my ears and I was turning on first Mrityunjaya Mantra, and then the Narasimha Maha Mantra. Closing my eyes and imagining my Ram, standing somewhere in front of me, I listened to and simultaneously sang these mantras and directed their words at him, thinking that the very words of these mantras would protect him. At the same time I had interesting meditations...

When I sang the Mrityunjaya Mantra, snakes almost always crawled to me. Where did they come from, I was doing not understand, but as soon as I was starting singing this mantra, suddenly a snake was appearing next to me on that internal screen. She was rubbing against me, wrapping herself around me, and whispering in my ear, «Sister, you are my sister»... It was so amazing. And even I was kissing that snake-sister, we had such a tender relationship. And when the snake was being filled with tenderness from me, she was crawling to Ram standing in front, and each time was different snakes. One snake grew up and became over him a huge Cobra and by something surrounded him, the other is also a great Cobra watered him with something Golden, another made circles around him. Each time was different.

And when I sang Narasimha Maha Mantra, I had many different meditations. At first I was finding myself in the room where my Gurudev was. It was such a small cozy room, quite small, and on the right side of this room was a table with the Deities of my Gurudev. And there stood the Deity of Lakshmi-Nrisimhadev and The Narasimha-shalagrama, the stone Nrisimhadev. And my Gurudev allowed me to worship his Deities. I was sitting at home on my couch with my eyes closed, listen and sing a mantra, and somewhere in the distance I at the same time stood beside my spiritual master and worship his Deities. At first Gurudev was looking at I was making arati to his Deities, and some time when I appeared there like that and wanted to do it, he said that he was very busy and that I would do everything myself.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I noticed that every time it happens in a different way, but every time at the end of the offering I asked Nrisimhadev to protect my Ram, and He did it. After a while, Nrisimhadev became indignant that I kept asking the same thing, but I was continuing to ask for it, and He was agreeing. Somehow He even gave Ram a sort of divine weapon. And another time I was next to my Gurudev in some great cave with a lake and a large rock, in the wall of which Deity of Nrisimhadev appeared in relief, and in the center of the cave was the lake, in which Nrisimhadev washed His hands after killing Harinyakashipu.

I stood there in front of that self-manifested great Deity, as tall as this cave, singing and dancing at the same time. And when I sang and danced for Nrisimhadev, a huge flow of energy suddenly poured out of Him, and I, mentally dancing in front of the Deity, imagined Ram and directed this flow of energy to him. This powerful flow from Nrisimhadev to Ram was going for a few minutes, and then abruptly stopped. And after I dipped Ram into the red water of the lake in the middle of the cave.

When the Deity of my Gurudev again showed His dissatisfaction with the fact that I'm asking the same thing, I wanted to appeal to some other form of Deity Nrisimhadev. I somehow tuned in to Him, and before my inner eye had stood some great stone Deity of Nrisimhadev, and I decided to appeal to Him. I noticed that Nrisimhadev needed very little from me. He didn't want any incense from me, or flowers, or anything else. I just had to sing and dance in front of Him. And I mentally had stood in front of the Deity Nrisimhadev and began to sing and dance for Him.

And here I was terrified. I became so scared, like I was about to be torn apart, but I kept singing and dancing, being shackled inside with a creepy feeling of real fear. But then this Deity had shown His favor and somehow gave the protection of my Ram. Immediately after that, when I performed my daily sadhana and went about my business, immediately after this meditation, I accidentally touched something with the nail of the middle finger on my left hand, and blood has gone and it was very painful. And that's how I realized that I had paid for the appeal to this deity Nrisimhadev. I thought, «Thank You, Nrisimhadev, for taking so little in payment». There were many different meditations, very, very interesting.

Somehow in this in meditation, when I sang protective mantras to protect my Ram, I came back to my Gurudev's room. He was sitting on the left, he was very busy. I bowed to him, and he only waved his hand towards the Deities, they say, he is very busy, and you go and do what you need. I approached to Lakshmi-Nrisimhadev. I was singing Narasimha Maha Mantra, and then tuned in to Ram, and then Nrisimhadev flew off His throne and started flying around Ram, creating around him a kind of metallic gold sphere and making some interesting movements, and then was back on His throne. I stood in perplexity: it's all?? So little? I turned to Nrisimhadev with reproach, and He was indignant: «What did you want? I did everything. What else do you want? Or don't you believe in Me?» I was standing in complete perplexity, not knowing what to think, and then I decided that Yes, Nrisimhadev is above the time frames. He was very busy, sat on His throne, and He didn't want to be distracted from His work, but still He got off of throne and had did His work. And after, when I decided, that Yes, Him know better, He quietly went deep into the Deity in His affairs. It is very funny.

I also was going into his karma several times. I was in a sort of well, and I barreled down the well somewhere down lower and lower. At first, at the top, everything was dark, and then, when I somehow broke through to the bottom of this well (although the bottom of it was not visible, just I had flew to some plateau in the depth of the well), everything was filled with gold. And I lay on this gold and rested there, and then

I thought, why is everything dark above? I decided that it was probably because the well above is narrow and heavy gold can not go up there, through the narrow channel, and then I began to fly up, cleaning off the walls of this well all the blackness. I did a lot of cleaning there, but the gold was still lying down.

There were many different meditations from the time our interaction began and when he began to press me to break my will and make me a weak-willed slave for their sexual orgies at a subtle energy level and for pumping out of me collectively my feminine pure energy and my piety. And when he did not succeed it and I realized about whom Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow said me then «Who needs a tsar? Take the tsar! Keep him safe» I took these words as an order and an indication of my way. And from that time on, I began to protect him, keep his safer. And all that time every time I did that, I had these interesting meditations.

Somewhere in a month, even more, I began to catch sight of the signs of the Universe everywhere that I need to write down everything that happens to me in connection with Ram`s arrival in my life. I got a notebook, sat down and began to write down everything from the moment he plugged onto me. And when I was recording the meditations which I saw while singing the protective mantras, I suddenly saw that Ram was very, very surprised. For me it was even more surprising, because I saw that he sees my thoughts, events in my past and he can do many things, and I thought that he with me sees what is happening in my meditations. I asked him why he was looking with such amazement (Yes, he was not physically with me, but on some internal screen I saw his image, and gestures, and intonations, and facial expressions), and he said that it was not open to him, that he did not see any of the meditation, he thought I just sing mantras, and that's all.

Just that day, while singing the Mrityunjaya Mantra, suddenly a huge height Shivalingam appeared in front of me, and I was singing to him, and then asked him to direct his mercy and protection to Ram, but Shiva asked me, «Who is he to you? Is he your husband? It's true?» I was confused. I say to Shiva, «You know it better». But that didn't satisfy him. I was trying to find the confidence and resilience, but I was bad at it, and then I kind of threw a call into space for help. And here came my Ram. He had stood behind me and had hugged me. We stood together in front of Shiva. It was so good....

I even got distracted from Shiva, and was luxuriating in Ram`s embrace, and then Shiva sent a big beam at us. I show Shiva, they say, I asked you for protection and help for Ram, and Shiva answers me: «You also need protection». I relaxed and stood in that beam. And after that, when the meditation that I saw him in, and he didn't see anything, was over, he asked me how he could see it. I replied that he could not see it. And he decided to trick me into getting access to those layers of my life. He became tiny again and ended up in my belly. Something he did, did there, and then said: «I have not done everything, not everything is visible. Can I see here too?» What he is cunning...

In fact, he was following a plan I had drawn up before I was born, and I needed him to ask me for access to my life files, and he did it. He said that something was not visible to him, inside my belly, but he meant something quite different. He was asking about my belly, but he was thinking about those of my meditations that he could not see. He was asking me mentally about those meditations, being inside my belly in some completely incomprehensible form, how in General a person can become so small to get inside another human body and be there, without oxygen, and even something inside to do, and cut out something, after which the belly hurts so much, as if something was actually cut out from there...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And he asked me if he could look there. I said Yes. I told him, «Look what you want». And so I gave him access to my life files. Since «look what you want» includes «everything you want». It was not enough for him to see only those meditations; he wanted to see much more. He wanted to rummage into my life files, to see how I lived in this life and in my past lives. I gave him access to my life files not only with this life, but also with my other lives, because «anything you want» included also my past lives. And it opened up the next stage of our relationship with him here.

12. The heavenly wedding

At that time when my Ram managed to get my permission to watch everything he wanted, the blocs with events from my past lives in my meditation rose outside, into the area of consciousness. I could see how some blocs of information were rising from below, and I felt and knew quite clearly that in those blocs were my life files, with our happy years and lives with him in the distant past. But I was scared, and I refused to watch there. I categorically refused to look back, but he went there. He been immersed in my life files with those lives with him all day and seen us there together. He saw us in our distant lives, when we were together and happy. Just before that, he took out of me our conceived by such a strange way children, and now he was flipping the pages of our joint past. All this day, I felt a rise, as if there is some Grand celebration.

Here I did not even know that I gave him access to my own life files and life files can even see, but I felt some kind of joy fill me, from where was pouring into me. It was March 3, 2016. There was no special day in the calendar, was an ordinary, simple day, but a sense of celebration at me all grew and grew, and even in the evening I went to the store and bought so many sweets and gifts to all of us, as not was buying even on birthdays and New Year. At the same time, I kind of heard some echoes of our communication with him. He was convincing me of something somewhere. But I was refusing.

That day in the oracles I had a card about the house (and I look everywhere for signs of the Universe, and in all kinds of oracles in particular). The oracle said that I'll soon be moving into a new house, that need to bring beauty into home. I thought about the house on this physical level, but it turned out that it was about a completely different level of the house. At the same time, I felt within myself a dialogue with him inaudible by ordinary hearing and thoughts, as if he was actively talking to me, and I was responding, not on a conscious level. And then it broke to a conscious level, and I realized that he was calling me to live with him.

My first reaction was denial, as I have long decided not to burden myself by the living together (and I thought that a question was about this, because there were thoughts about to living together). So many couples that break up over the home life-work life thing. I have long chosen not to spoil the relationship by a household, which usually breaks love boat, and at the same time I was quite satisfied with my way of life, I was quite comfortable in my small cozy world and didn't want a change. And at first I refused, but he kept saying and saying something that externally I did not hear, but felt. And at some point within myself, I began to agree with those inaudible words of his. His arguments were correct, and I began to feel inside myself that he speaks correctly.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

The whole conversation was not at this, the mundane level, but, as they say, where there are some of our «higher I». I started to lean towards the fact to agree with him, and I had a strong weakness and even began to woozy. I was scared. But somehow there in our inaudible conversation he calmed me and said that everything will be fine, and I told that I agree. I remember there's nothing else I could do and just went to bed. I woke up because I felt such tenderness and gratitude from him...

And at that moment, I heard something with a strong knock fall to the floor. I had wanted to see what it was, and when I leaned to look, I accidentally touched the icon of Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow and she fell in front of me. I raised Matrona, touched her forehead, thanks to her for such a good sign and blessing. I took it as that Matrona drew thus my attention to give me on it good, to bless. On what she blessed, I do not know. The feeling of the holiday grew and grew. The kids threw a great feast unclear for what reason, but I had such ease and such joy...

And then the fun began. Suddenly I had heard his voice inside me, and it was words «be my wife». Honestly, I was very discouraged... It was so strange... Before that we had a communication, but mostly not by voice, but by some awareness of the meanings, but this time there was a voice in my mind. The whole day was with some sense of celebration, the whole day was symbolic, and everywhere there were some very favorable signs. In the morning Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow blessed, in the evening my lady friend reminded me about Lakshmi, was a sense of celebration, somehow very favorably resolved the issue of money, and I bought a lot of things and offered all for my Deities-stones Radha-Krishna.

I performed a full arati for the Deities, offering Them and incense sticks, and fire, and Goodies, and sandalwood, and flowers. And I saw then that Radharani is very pleased with the flower I gave Her, and She even said that She had not been given such flowers for a long time and that with us She'll always share. And even once I saw that Radha had directed Her blessing to me with Ram. And so much was interesting... And everyone liked what I offered them.

And then I heard his voice in my head with very clearly audible words «Be my wife». He kept saying and saying it, but I hesitated. I did not understand why these words are needed, because I already considered myself his wife. I've always been his wife, I've seen it in my past lives. I once saw that we were together for many, many lives, and even I knew that we are an eternal couple, and I did not understand why these formalities are needed. All and so well.

Yes, I did not allow those blocs of life files with our happy time in our past lives to come out and manifest itself, but I clearly was understanding that I used to be his wife, I still continue to be his wife and will always be his wife, even if we with him are not together here. And why then do we need these words «be my wife»??? I'm already his wife, without these formalities. But he kept saying, «be my wife, be my wife». I was very confused!!! I even had a nervous shiver. God, what for he got to hassle me? What does he want??? Why is this so important to him? Especially since «be my wife» is the imperative form of the verb. It is not a request, but an order. «Be my wife, quickly execute my order!!!»

I understand that this is a telepathic communication and there it is necessary to say briefly and succinctly in order to this phrase became clear to consciousness. He is a leader in local asuric organization and used to giving orders, the more that on the subtle levels often go all sorts of skirmishes and battles and there need to speak capacious orders because no time to explain what's what. This habit of giving orders did could actually work. Or maybe he said specifically, as a manipulation of consciousness, as the order to my consciousness to obey: «Well, come on, just do it!» But these words were heard and perceived by me not as an order, but as a prompting... I thought that he was not asking me to marry him, but as if from above provides guidance: «to be». It was stopping me, and I didn't answer him.

Then he began to say another phrase: «Become my wife». Yes, «to become» is the movement to the completed action. There is some uncertainty in the word «to be». When it is necessary to be a wife? But «to become» is an active action here and now. «Become a wife now, make it real». But I still hesitated and decided to see what the messages of the forces of light will say me. I turned to the Chronicles Akashi, secret storehouse of a history of the Universe. Chronicles Akashi had said me that Ram had hidden important information from me, he did not tell me something, he did not open the whole picture and that I should not hurry, because this is not the only opportunity for me, that there is something better. Chronicles Akashi had said me that I deserve love and that I should not settle for less. Chronicles Akashi had said me that I should to look deeper and interrogate all participants of the situation. I didn't understand what was going on, and I offered my Ram to go with me into my meditation. I told him, «I want you to go with me». I turned on my mantras, Mrityunjaya Mantra and Narasimha Maha Mantra, sat on the couch and invited him there with me. He already had access.

When I was singing the Mrityunjaya Mantra, I and Ram were standing together, and I suddenly turned into a huge snake, stood over him and covered him with some kind of Golden shell by my tongue. After that I was talking with Parvati, she was convincing me that everything is good, that no one deceives me, that I should not doubt, but I was not convinced by her words. When I start singing the Narasimha Maha Mantra, I and Ram ended up in a huge hall. It was a large free space. There were many devotees of the Lord around, a great gathering, like a festival. There were even Radha and Krishna and my Gurudev. There was also Prabhu Sasha, my spiritual mentor, an older devotee, since the Soviet times from Tallinn, a mystic yogi. There were so many personalities, they all stood around me with Ram and persuaded me to agree. Ram and I stood there in front of all of them, and above us stood a huge Nrisimhadev, to the heavens. And Nrisimhadev began to hold our wedding ceremony. Nrisimhadev himself appeared before all to officiate the weddings of our couple, me and Ram.

Nrisimhadev asked Ram, «Do you take her to be your lawfully wedded wife, to have and to hold, to love, honor, and cherish, to be always together, to protect her from this day forward? Do you promise to be a companion to her in all of her successes and failures, her happiness and sadness, to always give to her your unwavering support? Do you take her to be your lawfully wedded wife, promising to love her, comfort, honor, respect, and care for her from this day forward, in times of celebration, in times of sadness, in times of pleasure and in times of pain, in times of sickness and times of health?» Ram replied, «Yes, I will». Nrisimhadev looked at me: «She is such an obstinate... But they must marry! But she won't let». Krishna, Radharani, devotees of Krishna, Nrisimhadev himself wants. It is clear that Nrisimhadev thinks what would make in order to I could rather become wife of Ram... I do not say anything, but mentally do think about the message of the forces of light, where it is said that I deserve love and that I should not agree to a lesser, they say, I am dissatisfied, I do not have complete information, why should I answer, if I do not know anything?

Nrisimhadev had looked at me, had read my thoughts that Ram did not say me anything about his feelings to me, not a word about love, but only these orders «Be my wife. Become my wife», and why on earth should I somehow respond to this? Nrisimhadev looks down on Ram so respectfully, and says, «She doubts that there is love. Is there love?» Ram answers that Yes, love is. Nrisimhadev looked at me and said: «Yes, love is, look». I looked at the great high meeting and found myself at the center of the meeting.

And here I in the eyes of the whole assembly began to grow. I grew to an enormous size and became a huge star, shining into all directions Golden-white light. I was rumbling all over them in the congregation, flashing lightning. Everyone was either in great confusion, or in great delight. In any case, there was definitely no bored. And I began to sing there, as on stage. I became a huge shining Golden-white star, and I danced there, illuminate everyone and sang that I love everyone. «I love everyone». A dazzling bright golden light was pouring out me onto everyone, and words of love came from me, «I love everyone». I loved them all very much... I felt universal love for all, and I could not be silent. I made such a splash! It was a chic concert.

Everyone looked at each other, talked about something, and I sang, sang, sang, spun, danced and shone, being a huge Golden star in the center of them all. And when I had sung and danced sufficiently, I again became a normal size and found myself near Ram, to his left. I stood next to him calm and quiet, and Nrisimhadev quickly, taking advantage of the moment, said: «Congratulations to you, you are now husband and wife». He didn't even ask me. When He said that Ram and I became husband and wife, at that very moment I felt that in my body, where the female organs are, at the bottom, like something had clicked, like the clip is snapped in. It was felt on a physical level.

Thus our heavenly wedding happened. They say, marriages are made in heaven. And usually it's just a figure of speech. But in our case it was actually. When it happened, my Gurudev touched his danda our heads with Ram, my mother suddenly appeared from somewhere (she already two years left her body) and said: «Daughter, I never knew that you are so beautiful, forgive me, please». Prabhu Sasha stood with discouraged, puzzled, looked at me with his cunning glance, they say, from you I wasn't expecting such prank, but I did it.

Yes, I understand that all this could be an illusion and most likely it was an illusion. But we do not question the will of God. What could oppose God's will? And if such pictures have appeared, then Krishna so wanted. And so we take it as if it were really all there. Krishna is God. He can manifest himself in anything. He can manifest himself even in the illusion. And we take that for a fact that actually happened. And even if it was all an illusion, we accept this to be true, because there is nothing that is not connected with Krishna and nothing happens without the will of God, so if Krishna had wanted this illusion to be cast on me, I accept it as His will.

I accept. Krishna, You wanted me to think of Ram as my husband. We actually had our wedding ceremony, and Nrisimhadev was our spiritual officiant. Those whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder. Krishna, You even somehow combined me with Ram, and what if it really was? I had a heavenly wedding with Ram, who is my eternal husband, who was living an asur many lives and who continues to live an asur, and it was presided over by Nrisimhadev himself. Also there were Radha and Krishna, and Krishna blessed our marriage with Ram by saying to us, «Let's all get along. Let's live as good friends!» What an interesting life I have!!!

13. I am charioteer

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

The day after this heavenly wedding, as I call it, Prabhu Sasha appeared in front of my inner sight. I with my husband once quite a long time lived in the house of Prabhu Sasha near Mamonovo. Prabhu Sasha was a devotee of Krishna already in the Soviet years, he lived in Tallinn, everyone called him a mystic yogi, and he was revered by many older devotees in the Baltic States. And we were lucky then to live in his house and have communication with him. And when my Ram had plugging onto me, Prabhu Sasha mentally began to come to me. Every time he was saying me that I should chant the Hare Krishna mantra. He was saying me that it would protect me from their influence. I did not know who this Ram is, but I was afraid of a repetition of their attacks on me. I wasn't even sure if they were living people, not some spirits. But I had a strong feeling that this is kind of interaction between real people, but at a distance.

And when that heavenly wedding happened, Prabhu Sasha appeared before my inner sight and said, «Now you are the wife of asur». So I learned with whom, in General, are dealing with. I learned who was it when I was still in Moscow, when I had communication through different people. I learned with whom I had those completely unreal orgasms, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. I learned with whom I spoke through other people. Then I was looking into the eyes of the person speaking to me and very attentively was listening to the words spoken by him, right there trying to see in those words absolutely other words, absolutely other person, someone, who was delivering to me allegorically his message through usual words of the ordinary person on usual subjects.

I was realizing when talking with them, and I consciously talked to them, weaving in into words at the mundane level very different, hidden meanings. I deliberately participated in the dialogue, allegorical. But I didn't know who I was dealing with. And when my Ram connected to me, I also did not know the designation of this phenomenon. But now it became clear to me: I am asur's wife. Much became clear. From here I took the name of my novel, which I began to record in video format about a year after that event. «My Roman. I'm asur's wife».

At the same time, when Prabhu Sasha told me that I am asur's wife, he also said that I had come to Ram in vain, that I should not have done it, and that I should have gone directly to Krishna. But what can you do? Well, what's done is done. Ram was hearing our conversations with Prabhu Sasha, because he already had access to all this, and he began to urge me to connect him with Prabhu Sasha. I hesitated for a long time, not understanding why he needed it at all, but Ram insisted, and then I agreed.

I imagined Prabhu Sasha in front of my inner sight and mentally stretched a beam between me and him and then I moved this beam to Ram, and Ram went along this beam as over a bridge to Prabhu Sasha. I remember the first question that Ram asked Prabhu Sasha was about blood. He asked why, after he had pulled those asuric babies out of me, there was no blood coming from me. And twice there was no blood when he cut out of me those conceived asuric children. When the first time there was no blood after that, he was very stunned, but when the story repeated and again there was no blood, although all women have menstruation after such a manipulation with the physical body, he did not know what to think about it. And he in big tension asked Prabhu Sasha a question about the absence of blood after that, which was evident that it is really out of the ordinary. Alas. For me it meant that Ram has done a lot of these non-contact conceiving and then extracted asuric babies from women, if they have a hundred-percent stats, in which did no have exceptions to the rule.

Prabhu Sasha with some fatigue in his voice said that there is nothing strange about it, that if I wanted, I would just ask Krishna and Krishna himself would remove those children from me, but I needed it. Then Ram asked why I had children. He has long groped me in that ethereal space, as if in a thin energy Internet. He was looking for me and was sure that I somehow correspond to him by the age of his physical body. He thought that at that age children should have grown up long ago, but I have two small children, schoolchildren. And Ram, it turns out, was very discouraged by this fact and did not understand why I needed to attract them in my life at this age, just when I came to him.

Prabhu Sasha did not respond, but said that he was very wrong, not seeing me then (and this is not surprising, I'm a master of disguise), when I had contact with him. Prabhu Sasha said that I had a long time made plan and now it is executed. What a plan, it was not said, but his words that I could get rid of those children, just asking Krishna, were a revelation to me. So these children for something I needed. And I knew what kind of children they were. And why should Krishna do what I ask? Who am I? I had a lot of questions after that memorable conversation between Ram and Prabhu Sasha. And the answers started coming, too.

I realized that my coming to Ram was conceived by me, long before my incarnation in this body. I realized that during conversation with Ram through karate coach I tried to convince Ram to connect to me and begin his massive attack on me. In that conversation, I purposely was inserting the words-hooks, with the embedded meaning that I fit their criteria, that he can take in me and start to bend me down under them.

Yes, here, on the physical level, I just was talking about worldly, but when after a while I was starting to decipher this conversation and was starting to extract from there as if encrypted in them meanings, I had saw that in the very first conversation allegorically I told my Ram, looking from the eyes of the coach that he can bend me and my energy is delicious for them and very useful. I said to him about the force methods too. This was done on purpose.

I'm like Scheherazade, who is takes a hit for the team. I'm kind of a provocateur, who is framing herself, pretending to be such a helpless sheep, who is lying on her back, putting her stomach up, who is saying with all her appearance that she is the sheep, tasty and stupid. And those, to whom I come, always take the bait and fall for it and go according to my plan. And then, when it is revealed what they did to me or tried to do, is turn on the performance of the task with which I generally came to them. And in the same way I came to Ram, as a sheep for the slaughter. But he just got caught in my network. And he goes according to my plan.

I analyzed my interaction then in Moscow with someone I did not know, at a distance, and my interaction here with Ram and I clearly saw that through me is constantly the flow of information. I had seen that everything that happens in my life, meets, is heard, seen, is the information, signs for those who is be connected to me. I had seen that I am a charioteer, a driver, a navigator. I point the way through everything that happens in my life. I saw quite clearly that Moscow asur (now I called them so and I felt that it is the right designation), when we had invisible interaction, got a lot of benefit from reading those signs going through me. And now it's come to my Ram. Ram had seen that, too.

I saw that those children, three who were conceived then with that Moscow asur, were necessary to me for the different purposes. I needed two children to be charioteer, who is pointing the signs, because children are two, they are of different sexes, and they always share something, I always tell them, so that my son does not touch my daughter, so that they do not touch my cat. And I clearly realized that Yes, I came to Ram to run his organization, which is under him. And the third baby in Moscow, girl, I needed in order to Ram pulled her out of me and saw that after that I don't bleed. And then he and I conceived our babies, and again, there was no blood when he had pulled them out of me.

Yes, that third Moscow baby was necessary for me, so that Ram saw me, noticed me in a series of women passing through him and his asuric organization. I did what no one expected. I just allowed myself to show myself among the rest. I got out of the crowd so he could see me, so that this puzzle with a lot of unknowns would interested him, so he would get carried away with it. Yes, on this side it is logical. I needed children from asuras so I could run his asuric organization, for my words to children are a projection on his interaction with people and even asuras.

I'm his wife, I'm his helper, and since he's got a big asuric organization, such a neural network under him, I had come to him to run this organization, not consciously, but through the information that goes through me. I needed to break out of his stereotypes. I needed to show myself, stood out from the rest of the amorphous completely predictable mass. I needed to he had wanted to deal me personally. I needed him to notice me and wanted personally to break me, and for this he had to extract from me their babies as much as twice and that each time there was no blood. Even once was enough, it was a violation of their statistics, but I made the kill shot in order to accurately hit the target. And my efforts were successful. Ram really fell for it and even became my husband; we had some kind of heavenly wedding.

I did not understand why it was needed, but after a while I got an answer to this. Then Ram, seeing all my thoughts and conclusions, began to look more closely at what goes through me, and really saw that I have specialization of the charioteer. And then he came to me and made me an offer to lead his asuric organization. And he did it not through opening to me the meaning of it, but by a real voice in my mind.

He appeared in front of my inner gaze, some confused, and said those words, which I somehow was not surprised. But I told him that I wasn't going to run his organization, that I wasn't interested at all, but I would help him because he is my husband. I simultaneously agreed and refused his offer. Through me were going very valuable to him, for his life and his asuric organization tips, and he had to agree with me. And so I began to lead his organization, but not directly, but as a help to him as my husband.

After that memorable conversation of Ram and Prabhu Sasha, in which Ram asked Prabhu Sasha why I didn't have blood, why I gave him access to my life files at all, and why I have children, Ram understood something. I think, most likely, I myself showed him that everything that happens in my life, what I see, hear, is clues to man whom with I am, to choose the most successful options in his life. My work, conversations I have with other people in real life, my correspondence by email, in Skype, everything in my life is a projection on what is happening in his life and in his asuric organization, which is under him and which he directs in such an invisible way, like a spider, which feeling any breath of wind on his web. And Ram realized that this is my specialization of the charioteer. He drew parallels between what he sees in my life and what he has there, and realized that I am a very valuable specialist.

And he came to me and made me an offer to coordinate his asuric organization. I said that I didn't sign up for any of this, that I am not going to lead his organization, but to help him as my husband, of course, I will. And then he reappeared in my belly, he became tiny, and he started to make some kind of a bunch between me and him. As in the film «Avatar» a dragon and his master had connected, through the coupling of some nerve endings.

And thus my Ram, taking again a tiny form, was tying up and connecting some kind of nerve endings in my belly and in his. Apparently, because I said that I refuse to conduct his organization, but I agree to help him, he connected my energy channels and his. And we got connected to him like this. Through me to him directly had gone the flow of information on the conduct of his organization and coordination of his life, even in his business.

14. Sleep «definitely»

Our relationship continued to develop, and one day, on my internal screen, we stood hugging, and I kissed him in the right hand. He abruptly threw me away and with some anguish in his voice harshly told me not to dare to do it anymore. Never. It was obvious that I as if dared to break any of his borders, invaded some sacred, cherished and protected by his space. I was very discouraged, but I immediately remembered my dream, which I dreamed two years before the event, March 1, 2014.

In that dream, I also, in the same place, kissed a man, whom I now identified as my Ram. I immediately took out my diary of thanks, found a description of the dream and began to read. At one time I kept a diary of gratitude and wrote down everything there for which I was grateful. And when I moved here from Moscow, I had a dream. There in that dream I saw two men, I clearly realized that they I had seen many times in my dreams, but did not let them to myself, but then a situation arose that the people around us began to gather, and one of those men were next to me. He started to talk about something, then in that dream he moved closer to me and hugged me from behind.

And he began to ask me questions about me, about my life, while there was a thought in my mind that I should speak only the truth. And in that dream I had, he asked me, «Do you sleep with your children?» I said «Yes». He asked again, as if embarrassed: «Exactly?» I said: «Definitely!» And something else. And he kept holding me back. I told him, «How nice it is with you», and then I kissed him in the hand, in the place where I kissed him now. And then in that dream I abruptly turned around to face him. I wanted to kiss him on the lips, but I didn't want to be misunderstood, and I touched him a little bit in the front, in the center of my chest. And then I was knocked out of that dream.

I woke up crying and couldn't calm myself. And I even wrote that dream down in gratitude journal. And then I read the description of the dream where I kissed him in the same place, and see that he sat down and crying. And so he found out that the woman whom he came to two years ago at the sleep territory and whom he was looking for everywhere is me.

Back in Moscow, when my psychologist and I played in the training «The sandbox», when I in sandbox at her request placed my future man, I tuned in on him and decided to send him my call signs, so he heard me in space, so that it attracted him to me in my life and that he came to me. I decided that the most powerful magnet would be the energy released during orgasm, and I consciously began to masturbate, while holding in front of his image, the image that I had when I accepted his existence in my future in my life.

I was masturbating while thinking about him, and when the orgasm was occurring, I willpower was directing the energy of orgasm somewhere in space to him, to his image, which was standing in front of my inner eyes, along with my words, that he came to me. I as if was endowing this energy with magnetism so that this energy would attract Ram to me. And my Ram began to get these bundles of energy here, where he lives in real. At first he didn't understand what it was, where it was coming from, with such a powerful pull somewhere. But since he is an asur and in these energy affairs he understands everything, he certainly was feeling me, as I was investing all of myself in that energy, making it an irresistible magnet. Thus I did for a long time, and he was waiting for me to throw my call signs into the space again.

He was felling my call signs as his own, long forgotten, but native... And when I stopped doing it, he could not come to terms with it and began looking for me everywhere. And after some time he found a craftsman from asuras, who is able to find someone in the sleep territory on the beam of sensation of the image of this person. This seeker found in Ram`s memory my call signs and my image. And thus our meeting happened on the territory of sleep and he found out that I live here, that I somewhere live. But when I personally came to him, he had no shadow of thought that woman who was sending him call signs and with whom he had met on the territory of sleep is me.

I turned out to be quite different, not the way he imagined me. But something happened to him, and he even offered me to become his wife, and we became a couple. How did it happen that he was cherishing that image of me in his heart, but offered me to become his wife, thinking that I am not the woman he was looking for everywhere? He went for it, he long persuaded me to agree to become his wife, at the same time thinking that I am not his real woman, not the one he was looking for... Thus he is not the first time betrayed me.

And when I kissed him in the hand, into the same place where I had kissed him in that dream, and then read the description of that dream, he saw that I described the very dream in which he heard that «definitely» and in which he was kissed first in the hand, and then in the front of the body. Everything came together in a single picture. I'm the woman he was looking for. I'm the woman from whom he was receiving the Call signs, whom he felt as his own, native, and for the opportunity to meet with whom he found a craftsman and paid him a lot of asuric money, that is, energy, piety, which asuras know how to pump out from other women. He paid a lot of this asuric money to that craftsman just to meet me in a dream, and here I am, with him, and we even became husband and wife. He was sitting there, crying. It came together.

In those life files that he reviewed, getting access from me, we a lot of lives were together and happy, a feeling that began to grow in him when he began to interact with me... And that dream that I had. God works in mysterious ways. He looked everywhere for me, but when I came to him, he didn't recognize me and began to do everything to break me and that other men were with me, against my will, to make me a weak-willed rag in their hands. He was spent force methods with me, the native woman, with the woman only for him.

Sobs shook him, and he understood what a terrible mistake he had almost made. And he would have done it if I hadn't been saved by some miracle. If I did not have my team, which has always been on guard, and if I did not turn to Krishna and the overlords of Moriya, and if I was an ordinary woman, if I did not become what I became, and did not make between lives plan for our reunion with him... then he would have bent me under other men, and then would go to the hellish worlds for such an unacceptable violation of the Dharma, because his duty is to protect me because he is my eternal husband.

When my Ram had asked me to run his organization and I agreed to help him because he is my husband, he somehow connected me to himself and he began to receive valuable guidance on everything that he was going there. I began to reveal to him who had some hidden abilities that he had not seen. And he could activate these abilities and use them to his advantage. I began to tell him whom not to touch and whom not to feel sorry for. I began to tell him who had what energy, whether he should download it from the woman to whom they cast their gaze, or it is not suitable for this. I began to give him signs of what to do in his life, what is favorably for him, what is profitable, and what is better to avoid. I began to show him a good bets, where to send finances, I began to show him a lot of things.

I've become a very valuable assistant, like no other. As signs and explanations was used everything: and my words that I was saying to other people, and their words to me, and phrases that appear through movies and advertising on TV. Yes, all this information was usual words, letters in texts, symbols, objects that I either accidentally dropped, or touched, or something. I began to monitor very closely everything that was happening in my life. And from that, thinking that this is a projection of what's going on with Ram, I've learned a lot about asuras. But the most important thing is that thanks to my guiding he began to receive warning signals, whom he can not touch in any case and where he has no right to go.

If I, as his charioteer, as his navigator, was with him at the very beginning of our interaction with him, when I came to him and pretended to be his victim, so that he would begin to carry out his manipulations for my suppression, then he would not even risk looking in my direction. Because he would be warned that I can not be pressed, since in this case his road is only into the hellish worlds and nowhere else. Then I as his navigator would tell him, «You will not get any benefits, well, if only in the beginning, but after that you will throw up from such a supposedly reliable your existence and throw off on many times into the hellish planets for the fact that you threw your nets into the divine nature».

Yes, I began to show Ram who has divine nature and where the asuras has no right even look. I began to show Ram who fell and whom must be washed and raised, and who is so dirty that he is only in the trash. And all this I was showing Ram by everything that happened in my life. I began to protect him in this way too.

Yes, I observed my sadhana. I sang protective mantras in his defense every day. In addition, I began to observe Ekadashi and transfer Ram the benefit of it. This was also necessary to give him protection from reactions to his actions there. And so that Krishna take Ram into spiritual world. Even in spite of all evil deeds, committed by him, when he was an asur. I firmly believed in Ekadashi and steadfastly keep them all, passing on the next morning all pious merits from Ekadashi to my Ram.

And he was so addicted on receiving these pious merits that he even began to remind me in the morning after Ekadashi, if I was forgetting this. And I realized exactly what money is in circulation with the asuras. It's the pious merits. It's money of asuras. And energy too. And it's coins in asuric circles. And Ram began to remind me and sometimes even to rush me that he is waiting for, when I will give him my pious merits for Ekadashi. It's very valuable coin, with very high price, high purity and very large forces. He could buy a lot, so to speak, with this money.

And in one day came the light spirit to me. I was minding my own business, and suddenly I felt a very clear presence around me. This presence was such a good, bright, powerful. It's like some demigod came to me. And he (it was definitely male; God, what a great respect and reverence for himself he caused just by being near me!) told me that thanks to my protection they can do nothing with Ram. He said I am on the wrong track, that I am helping the not right person, that this is the unfavorable for me, and even risky. And he asked me to give up this practice. But I just silenced.

Just before that, I was listening to a lecture by Srila Prabhupada, in which he said that one should strictly follow one's duty, even if it may seem wrong and even reprehensible to others. And I, remembering that lecture, said that Ram is my husband and my Dharma as of his wife is to protect him, and that I do and will do it. I refused him, saying that I would still do it. After a while I realized who it was. It was someone on my team.

And then I pointed them a means by which they could remove my protection from Ram and do with him what they needed. Just have to be with me, in order to I think that this is my Ram, and then my defense will go bypassing Ram and they will be able to influence him. But how powerful is the protection of woman and the benefit of observing of Ekadashi, that some powerful light spirit came to me here and humbly asked me to stop doing this, since they are powerless before this!!! The asuras know this, and they use women and female energy to their advantage. And they know that every woman has her own bag, a store of godliness that'll go to her man and work for him, what he needs. And they know it and use it.

15. Real woman

Also, due to the fact that I became a charioteer, navigator of Ram and began to lead his asuric organization, I learned about myself is that still leads me to utter amazement. I found out I am a real woman. Let me explain. We have a cat Thai breed. Sonechka. And my children periodically squeeze a cat. And I started to notice what words I am using to protect our cat. Sometimes I say, «Don't touch my favorite kitty, I love her so much», and other times I say, «Leave cat, it is the same living being, like you, but born in the body of the cat». Yes, it is a trifle, meaningless. But I knew that everything I say is for a reason.

And I was puzzled why sometimes I say that Sonechka is my favorite cat, that she have beautiful eyes or wonderful ears or a pleasant tail or even what (this way I tell Ram about the hidden abilities of those women whom they are looking at somewhere in real life or on dating sites, wondering if it is worth spending their time and energy on her, will she give what they need from her), and sometimes I say, that Sonechka is such same living creature, as you, simply was born in the body of cats, and now touch its not need to. For a long time I did not understand what it meant, and then quite by chance I received an answer to this question.

One night before going to bed I took the book of Gadadhara Pandit «The secrets of „Mahabharata“», the first volume, and began to read. And I found an explanation of this phenomenon in this book, why about some women I say that I love them and what they are beautiful, and about other women say that they are the same as you, and they should not be touched.

I was reading the book of Gadadhara Pandit «The secrets of „Mahabharata“» and was amazed: Shikhandini in a previous life when she was Amba have received from Shiva blessing to personally destroy Bhishma, but, even with such a blessing personally to kill Bhishma, being was be born as a man, she couldn't have been born a man, since she was the eternal woman. And she had to switch bodies with a man-Yaksha for this blessing to be fulfilled, but she, even being in his male body, did not come into contact with the male nature of this body and the male nature of this body was supported at a distance by the owner of this body, Yaksha, that is, by a man. How amazing it is!!!

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I remembered how I always resented when Ukrainians call a man as a human being and a woman as a wife. Why is a woman not a human being, but a human being only a man??? But after reading of this book I agreed with the wisdom of this distinction in designations. A man is a human being, because he can be born both as a man and as a woman, that is, he is a human being, but a real woman can be born only as a woman, a wife. Although from this point of view, not all women are real wives, but only real women, who in the spiritual world are women, with female nature.

And from «The secrets of „Mahabharata“» I learned that we have eternal sexual identity. When we are in the spiritual world, we are there either always female or always male, and that's our eternal sexual identity. In the spiritual world, we cannot change our gender, we are initially either men or women. And this position, our status is eternal and unchanged. This eternal sexual identity is always inherent in us, even when we fall into the material world. But when we fall into the material world, someone can be incarnationd in different lives both as a man and as a woman, depending on karma and on thoughts at the time of death, that is, the exit from the body. But someone always can be born only as a woman. And I was sure that all of us here in the material world can be embodied as a man and as a woman. But this book answered me to my observations of my own words, which are a projection of everything that happens in Ram`s life, there somewhere in real life.

All the details of the puzzle came together in a clear and logically explaining the picture, which is so shocked me that I am still under her impression. Am I a real woman??? How that's possible? I always thought that I have more masculine qualities, and now it turned out that I am an eternal woman and I always embodies only as a woman and can not be embodied as a man in principle, never. «The secrets of „Mahabharata“» shed light on my question about Sonya, then beauty, then the same as you.

It turns out that those who in the spiritual world are women, with the female nature, in the material world can be embodied only as women, and those who in the spiritual world are men, with the male nature, here, in the material world, can be born both men and women. And the eternal men can be born as women or due to bad karma, or at their option, will, at their preference. And because I and Ram are the eternal couple and he's a man, then I'm the eternal woman, pretty and smarty...

And it turns out, I was showing, who is a real woman and who is a woman only in this birth, but actually has a male nature, the same as they have. Because the energy of woman, whom is the original man and initially has a male nature, but simply had embodied here by a woman, is not the energy that asuras need, for the implementation of their goals, as a force or a coin for their mutual settlements in their environment. Yes, all this logically explained my observations of my own words. But that I am a real woman, who can be born only a woman???? I couldn't accept that.

And then I remembered the first conversation with Ram through that karate coach. I remembered that he shook his head dejectedly and said that life is hard, I earn, probably not enough, not as I want, and I said that I earn normally. I remembered it and understood what was said then. My Ram asked me then through those words, what I have energy. He wondered if my energy would suit them. Maybe I'm the same as they are, men, have male nature, just in this embodiment, was born as a woman, and for them such an energy of a supposedly woman is not very interesting. But I told him that no, I'm a real woman, I earn normally. I have a normal female energy, which they really, really need. I seduced him in such a way in order to he would got me trapped.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Allegorically, he was asking me by their asuric criteria, whether I am suitable for them, and I in every way, also allegorically, answered that I am all yours, take and do what you think is necessary, it will be very, very profitable. And remembering my words about that I earn normally, I began to somehow agree with the conclusion that I am a real woman, that in the spiritual world I am of female nature and that here, in the material world, I am born only a woman and I can not be born a man in any way, ever.

It turned a lot in my self-awareness. Is it true that real women are not necessarily soft, gentle, docile, home females? What, real women can be like me? Because I'm a real woman. Oh my God, I still try to accept this information and realize it in my mind and in my life. And it came to me because I came to my Ram. I started listening to what I am saying. And I started to think what this might mean in reality.

I thought about those numerous webinars and seminars about the development of femininity in yourself, about finding the perfect partner, about why someone is looking for someone, and someone needs a relationship and she looks at whether this next candidate is suitable for the desired format of relations. Yes, if it is an eternal woman, then she can be born only as a woman. And if she in the spiritual world has no pair, for example she's the girl, Manjari or someone else who is of woman's nature, but without a husband, without a pair, then here she is embodied as a woman always. And for her the relationship is more important than personality. She does not need her eternal husband, her eternal half. Just because she doesn't have him at all.

And so are the eternal men who are of male nature in the spiritual world, here in the material world, can be both men and women. And if such an eternal man has been incarnationd as a woman, then to such a woman is more important the relationship, and not the person in this relationship, because such a woman does not have his eternal husband, because she is an eternal man with eternal masculine nature, according original status. From here on, the concept of eternal couples was established in my mind. I never believed that. But now believe. Yes, there are eternal couples. But this is actually an extremely rare phenomenon. And here for them not the relations, but the personality are important. Such an eternal woman, who also has her eternal husband in the spiritual world, needs only him, the same eternal husband. Everything else for her is wrong. And the concept of the second half is true only for her and for him, her eternal husband.

But for everyone else, this concept is an empty phrase, since they have no second half initially. They're on their own. Why does the eternal, primordial man need to develop femininity, feminine qualities in himself, if for some reason he was born in a woman's body and lives as a woman? The primordial man, who was born a woman, needs the development of female qualities, femininity in herself in order to just to have a relationship. What about the eternal woman? Is the woman's ideal really a woman who is feminine, soft, pliable, always happy and joyful, in the euphoria??? What about me? I am real woman. But I do not correspond to the image of a real woman; I do not meet the criteria that coaches on women's self-development usually tell about. Many questions and even more answers.

16. Signs of the Universe about the first take

That heavenly wedding that connected me with him, with my eternal husband Ram, on my internal screen, occurred from 3 to 4 March 2016, and in April I began to lead as navigator his asuric organization, helping him as my husband. I wondered why that wedding was necessary, when you can come to me in real life, meet me and do it all here, in our physical reality.

But this wedding was an important point in the plan that I had drawn up between my lives, before my birth in this present body of mine. In this plan, my Mahabharata occupied a significant place. In my Mahabharata was scheduled destruction the most powerful modern asuras, and on the basis that this heavenly wedding had taken place, Ram later, when my Mahabharata began to unfold right before his eyes, could give a firm rebuff those forces that opposed him and me, arguing the fact that the wedding was and we became husband and wife. Our relationship was developing successfully, and Ram has already begun to prepare the ground for our reunion with him in real life.

At asuras it is accepted, before do something on the physical level, to get some confirmation at this level of interaction, of the highest plan, of some level of higher self, which manifests itself in the hidden meanings of the words you say, and not only. And so he came to me to get approval for our reunion in the real world. For this mission, he chose one grandmother, who met me when I went to the store. I remember I was standing at the vegetable stall, and then some grandmother came up to me and asked me to help her. At first I was afraid. I thought she would ask for money, but then I calmed down, hearing that she only had to step onto the road.

I took her under her elbow and began to help her get off the sidewalk onto the road. But at the first step she stopped me, saying that she did not have to go across the road, that it is necessary to step onto the road. I was confused, but if asked, must be done. And here she cautiously intercepts my hand and takes me by my elbow, and so, with her support, we together made a step onto the road. Then she stopped and began to shower me with wishes of happiness... And I said to her, «Health to you», and went to my business. But, after a few meters, I felt the back of her gaze. I turned around, saw she's standing on the road watching me.

I, being perplexed, told her: «I wish you live long», but then I thought that at her age she may at any time or be paralyzed or be hited a stroke, or something, and then she will live long, but what quality of life will be??? And I raised my index finger up and said, «And most importantly it is ha-ra-sho!» («А главное — ха-ра-шо!» = «And most importantly it is good!»)

I thought that wishing her happiness somehow does not apply to her ancient appearance and years and that in her position the main thing is to live well and for a long time. But after a while I realized that it my Ram talking through that old lady with me. This thought came to me because of the originality of her behavior and her requests. Why did she need to step on the road instead of crossing the road? Why she took me under the arm, although for safety it would be logical for me to hold her, not me. And why after that did she stand and look at me?

I, as always, began to think what this could mean, and in front of me had stood this picture. My Ram through that granny asked me whether I agree that we became together in real life, and I told him veiled, allegorically, through usual words that «Yes, I agree». After all, at the asuras «дорога» (road) means a wife, their own, expensive, than cherish. In Russian, the word «дорога» («road») is almost identical to the word «дорогая» («dear»), and for a husband only a wife can be dear. And through the words of the granny that she had to step on the road, he told me that he already wanted to be with me and in real life. And I said «Yes», because I answered granny «здоровья вам» («Health to you»). In Russian, «здоровья» («health») sounds like «з + да + ровья» («s + yes + rove»), that is, «с» + «да» («with» + «yes»). I told him yes. And he already thought, that soon we guided together and in the real life, as husband and wife.

But then everywhere I went the signs about the take were. I did not understand what this meant, but I was told that if now it would not be possible to do what I wanted, then this is only for the better. Past me passed cars with double numbers, and in a row three cars, and all with double numbers, 11–22, 55–88, something like that was present in those numbers. In the store, in the bank, on the streets, on billboards, everywhere were these same doubles, something double, and all three times in a row. I was perplexed, lost in conjecture. But I soon discovered that it was coming to me like a take.

And I learned about it at the Hare Krishna program. After the lecture and kirtan there was a darshan of the Deities. I came up and asked the Deities for something. Toward the end of the darshan, I inadvertently swung back, and my hand itself lay on the head of the young woman who was standing behind me on the knees, who also ardently asked something from the Deities. And when I saw my hand lying on the head of this woman with folded hands in Namaste, I immediately realized what this take, because my second and third husband also found a double, another woman and went to her, and I was left alone. Twice I already had this. I already had the first and second double. And what is the third double, I also became clear.

And I realized that the take means that I blessed some other woman who asks God for a good man, and I gave my man to her. This realization stunned me, I fell into a great panic, afraid that the story will repeat again, and then immediately, without departing from the Deities, I prayed to Krishna that if somewhere at us with him will be another woman, so that Krishna did not let Ram to me and that nothing at all did not start.

That night I had an interesting dream. It's like I'm standing with a juice cup, and some old lady comes up to me and sticks in her dirty finger right into my cup into my juice. I look at this and think that I will not drink such juice and I can not give it to anyone, and in my dream I immediately poured out juice from a cup. I stands there with an empty cup, sits on a bench, right next to me sits a man, hugs me by the waist, draws me closer and closer to him, and in my head rushes many thoughts, one of which itself crystallizes: «How many of them have already been»....

This man got up and went somewhere, but I stop him and ask who he is, and he says that he will take a loan and try to help me, and I will decide what will happen next. I remember I was very impressed with the picture on his back, such a beautiful, colored picture. A couple, a man and a woman, were drawn all over his back. And from the head of this woman there was a big red pillar of light, straight into the sky, expanding upwards, with stars and sparks. Such a fascinating picture, under her impression I was for a very long time.

I woke up and think that my Ram came to me in a dream and said that he will take a loan, that is, pious merits from someone, to cancel my karmic cliché with women-doubles. I had thought that if he did that, and because of this cliché will be canceled and wouldn't have other women, then I agree to be with him. But I needed confirmation that he actually took out that loan and that it worked.

And after some time I get on the bus and notices advertisement in front of eyes. On the advertisement was drawn squirrel cleaning carpets, with the words «Everything will be clean». I thought, «Great! Krishna told me that Ram was able to take out a loan and remove that karmic reaction with the double from me», and I decided that in this case I would agree to be with him. But the double was already launched and was already flying to us in the form of another woman...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

But before in his life, in his physical reality, there was that take, that woman intended for this, I gave him an injection «to kill love». I have many specializations as a destroyer of asuras and all evil creatures. I have such a specialization, like the genie, who makes wishes come true, is when at people who somehow come into contact with me, their desires come true. At the same time, not always externally manifested desires are fulfilled, which are in their minds, but also those desires that are hidden in the subconscious, which have been desired for a long time, from past lives.

I also have such a specialization as a Universe level corrector, who can quite miraculously, without doing anything on the external level, to correct the lines of fate of people. Another specialization is a proofreader-eraser, who crosses out those who need to be erased of the list of those categories where they develop their vile inclinations and desires.

I also worked as a guide to help living beings leave their depressing temporal existence and attain exaltation, helping them to enter other, higher worlds than those where they had been before. And I took everyone, and usually my clients were stowaways, that is, those living beings who did not have any pious merits to get into the best space, but I somehow forwarded them there. And I also have the ability to kill or turn on love. Yes, love can be given and love can be killed.

And here on some level of higher self I have made Ram an injection «to kill the love». Our love is unkillable, because he and I are the eternal couple, but for some time this injection could work. And Ram began to move away from me soul. He began to feel some cold towards me and even began to look at me with such attitude: «What do I do next to someone else's person?» But we still continued to be husband and wife. But I needed events to unfold in such a way that Ram would dump me. And I gave him this injection «to kill the love for me» and in the physical reality good woman appeared in his field of vision and he was attracted to her. At that time we had an interesting detailed conversation through karate coach, of course, allegorically, through the usual words about the usual worldly.

That conversation began with the following phrase of the coach: «Do you like to work at home?» I answered «Yes», although it was not clear to me how did he know that I am working at home. After all, this conversation we had not with him. But he said with such confidence that this phrase immediately attracted my attention: «Pip-pip, look, through him you are talking to someone else», of course, to Ram. After that, I put this conversation into components to understand what we said to each other in it.

In that phrase about «working at home» I saw his question, whether I like to work as a charioteer, as a navigator of his asuric organization through him as my husband. At asuras, the house means the husband for a woman or the wife for a man. Because «my home is where you are». After he asked how I got here, I began to tell how we moved here from Moscow. And I remembered my lady friend that Krishna gave me here. She is a very good friend, sincere, we have a heart contact, but she is much older than me, and I am very worried about her life, because she is very dear to me. And I told the coach about it. He looked at me with such an unusual feeling... and asked me about my lady friend, «Are you worried about her?» And I answered him, «Yes, I am very worried about her».

After this phrase has dispelled my fears that Ram is not a living person, and some or an energy-sucker, or ghost, incorporeal or a disembodied. But since I said that I am very worried about my lady friend, about her life, I realized that Ram is a living person. He lives like all of us. He is walking his own feet on the ground, eating food, drinking water, tea, making money, can have ordinary sex, and not only at some subtle energy level.

Why I had thought that Ram is normal living person and that he now lives here somewhere??? Because I said the words about my lady friend and that I am worried about her. I remembered that I began to chant the protective mantras to Ram's defense. And the first of these mantras was the Mrityunjaya Mantra. And the Mrityunjaya Mantra is sung to protect against premature death. The Mrityunjaya Mantra protects the living, it is necessary for the living to protect the life.

And remembering this, I realized that my fears are groundless about that my interaction with Ram is interaction with some not in the body, disembodied spirits. I remembered that Mrityunjaya Mantra protects the life, living beings. I realized that because I started to sing Mrityunjaya Mantra to Ram's defense, it means Ram is a human like all of us. It's amazing!!! The interaction between ordinary people living here, but at a distance, in the mind, through other people, through everything that can give a hint about what he wants to tell you, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. This is really fantastic! But this fantastic is a part of my life, and very significant. And this part of the conversation gave to me the certainty that Ram is a living person, that he is a man who lives somewhere here, eats, sleeps, makes money, wants ordinary, normal sex, and not just on the energy plane, wants to be loved, and wants to love.

In that conversation I told the coach that I didn't know how long will my children attend his karate classes. I was curious about his opinion of it, but he started mumbling something about the organization, that he didn't decide anything, that everything was decided by the organization... I did not get a clear answer. And I said again, that I didn't know how long will my children attend his karate classes, but he just looked me in the eye. And then I said, «Unfathomable are the ways of God». Then I deciphered this part of that conversation like this.

I asked Ram when he would come to me, because I don't know how long I would be with him in this kind of hanging, in this kind of interaction at a distance, in that ethereal mental Internet. But he did not answer. He was looking at me from coach's eyes and thinking, «What are you going to do if I don't come?» That injection «to kill the love» was working and he already felt detachment from me, although recently it woke a warm feeling for his native home. But the injection worked. And I told him that unfathomable are the ways of God, that is, then I will have one way — to the Lord, that is, I will go into the spiritual world, leave here without him.

I came to him, even though he was asur during many, many lives, to give him a chance to be reunited with me, because I wanted to take the chance to return into the spiritual world that Srila Prabhupada brought to the Earth. And I didn't want to leave him, my soul mate, here alone, rotting in the material world, in the Kali Yuga. These words, when I realized their meaning, so inspired me!!! I have some sort of button in the canvas of destiny, which, if Ram did not accept my extended hand to him, will direct me on the rails leading straight to the spiritual world. I have a button which will turn on the direct path to the Lord, the path of return into the spiritual world. At me everything is provided.

And I took enormous comfort in that... This was inspiring hope and giving a deep peace. I'm not a feeble pawn here, I have a plan. This was said by Prabhu Sasha. I've made some kind of plan. And in this plan there is a button that in this situation will put me on God's path, on which I will receive the highest good that can only be obtained here. Return into the spiritual world. The way to the Lord, to Krishna.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Also, the coach said a phrase that we're from different planets, and I said, «Definitely!» Yes, in the case of a coach it's true, but my Ram told me through those words that we are completely different people and he doesn't understand how we can somehow more or less acceptable to communicate and interact. He told me that he is an asur, and I am not. He told me that I'm not what he wanted, and it is not clear what I want from him. He told me that he doesn't need me anymore. And this is not surprising, since the injection «to kill love» has already acted.

And I reminded him about the dream when he was looking for me, when he had paid a lot of their asuric money, that is, pious merits deflated from someone, to some craftsman-seeker who knows how to find people in the territory of sleep according to their perceived image and the internal compass is aimed at them. And in that dream he found me, and there I told him the key word «definitely». And I reminded him of that dream. I told him in a conversation with the coach that you, Ram, were looking for me, you found me, so why did you forget about this???

He also then said that I have optimism, and I said that optimism is not mine. I said that there is someone above me, and I will be taken care of. Alas, his words about optimism did not give me optimism, when I realized that they mean. In Russian the word «оптимизм» («optimism») is heard as «аптимизм» = «ап» + «ти» + «ми» + «зм» = «ап» + «ты» + «мы» + «зм» («up» + «you» + «we» + «zm»). It's pronounced like that. «Up» («ап») is an movement upward in English. It turns out this way: «forward» + «you» + «we», that is, the movement from «you» to «we». In the phrase about the fact that what I have optimism, he asked me, what am I going to do to make «we» out of «you», because optimism is mine. And I said that this «ап+ти+ми+зм» («up from you to we») is not mine, that I'm not going to do anything, that should he do, because I am woman and he is a man.

And the coach asked me about making money, and I said, «Not millionaires, not billionaires, but prosperity». And in these words, I told Ram that I didn't need any millionaires or billionaires, that is, men with a lot of pious merits, but what I need is to become with him, because Ram on the asuric hierarchy is on the step, which is called Ra at the asuras. RA is a big asur, which has some great special abilities and influence on others and which can control the organization under him, such a neural network, at an energy level. And I told him that prosperity, that is, me and him together. I pronounced «процветание» («prosperity») in Russian. This word is heard as «працветание», and in this case, I decomposed this word into such component parts: «працветание» = «п-ра-цвета-ние» = «...ра-цвета...» = «Ра + Света». It turned out «Ra + Sveta», that is, Ra + Sveta = Ram and I together.

And then that woman appeared in his life, that take.

17. The first take. The so-called duchess

This first take, the woman Ram switched to, was sent to him by me. Yes, herein I am such a small mouse, who knows nothing and lives an ordinary life, but on level of higher self I am not limited by the filter of my physical body, and there I can do a lot of things. And from there I found for Ram a good woman, fully consistent with his preferences and image of a real woman. She was moderately nice woman, modest, well-groomed, cultural, erudite, intelligent, smart, clean, faithful, tasty cooking and loving to cooking (these same words describe her in sex, about that she tasty cooking and loves to do it, because at asuras the words about the food characterize everything related to sex).

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

She has always been interesting to him. Next to her, he felt like a real man. She was wonderful woman, open, sincere, outwardly attractive, charming, with a very developed sense of harmony in everything, calm, surprisingly restrained, balanced, kind, lively and dreamy. She was sincerely admiring them, was considering him a perfect and refusing to notice his shortcomings. She was soft and surprisingly feminine. She was always giving him to understand how much she needs him. Perfection itself! God, a breath of fresh air for Ram! She was loving beautiful things, flowers, refined cuisine, he with such great pleasure and satisfaction spoiled her, told her «my loved» and performed her such lovely whims...

Ram many times was going for significant expenses for the sake of her affectionate gaze and such an expensive smile for him, but he never regretted it. She had good living conditions and a lot of free time for Ram. She had a high level of income, she was not burdened with small children, and she completely was living in real life and was unaware of his activities at the energy plane of existence, in thin, energy layers. She did not even suspect that such a wonderful man could do terrible things with women at the energy plane of existence. She was sure that such a man is not capable of such. She would never have even thought of what he was doing. She thought he is just a wonderful man, courteous, decent, pleasant and inspiring confidence man, who subtly feels her mood and anticipates her wishes. She thought he is a sweet, smart, wonderful, sensitive man (of course, because he's sitting in her thoughts and sees everything, what she thinks and what she wants). She thought that in our time such men are rare (of course, because he's an asur, and they are all very charming, many asuras are simply beautiful, attractive, and well-mannered, and likable from the first minute of communication). She could not have known that he conducts various terrible manipulations at subtle energy level with other women. If she found out about his activities, she would immediately curse him. But she was an ordinary woman, who was seeing in front of her just an ordinary man, who very much fit her desirable criteria of a man who can make a woman happy. She saw that such a man could make a woman like her happy, and believed that she is worth it. She thought that every woman is born to be happy, and she is worth it.

That woman turned out to be the ideal of woman for him. We found a very good woman. And he couldn't help but fall for her. The more that I before had gave him an injection «to kill the love for me», and he already was no longer drawn to me. And then that woman appeared. In real. She was a pleasant woman, fascinating, appealing, alluring to herself, but chaste. He was fascinated by her charm and more and more was falling in love with her. And so that he could completely switch to her, take me out of his, so to speak, circle of trust, I somewhere out there, on level of higher self, had gave him a injection «to turn on the love» for that woman. And here this love at him was lit. A long time he didn't feel anything like that again.

It seemed to him that all the stars in the sky were lit at once and shine a wonderful light. Well, like at Pushkin's «Eugene Onegin»:

What is the matter? A dreadful nightmare?
What stirs and shuffles in the depths
Of his chilly, idle, frozen soul?
Vexation? Vanity? Or once again
Love, which is youth's perpetual pain?
Once more Onegin counts the clock,

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And scarcely waits for the day to end.
But ten strikes. He goes out on the dot,
Flies to the house, the steps ascends,
And, trembling, enters the drawing room.
He finds Tatyana there alone,
And there for several minutes space
They sit...

And he sees only her, he cherishes his unknown feeling as a treasure, thinking that she, this woman, is the one he wanted. Of course, because my team and I always find what we need, what works for our goals. Including in this case. He was completely immersed in his new perception and sense of the world and in his happiness, and I began to get in his way, exclaiming in my mind: «My husband, my husband». He was thinking, «What kind of husband am I to you if you are not my wife? Yes, you have become one for some ridiculous reason, but you are so far from the image of a wife and the image of a woman I would like to be with. Only this beautiful woman could be my wife. But not you».

My attitude towards him as a husband became very pester him, and he decided to get rid of me, that we with my team and it was necessary. He was going according to our plan, like a puppet. How much the reflexes of living beings are predictable! Give him a suitable female, and he will forget about everything, about his duties, about that he was feeling love there and had saw his soul mate.

What are we talking about? What kind of soul mate??? My soul mate should be what I want to see her, he was thinking, but I did not meet his expectations and even in many ways was the complete opposite of these expectations. And here such a woman!!! A woman with a capital. He thought he was very lucky. Well, basically, Yes. It is unlikely that he would have been lucky such if it were not for our efforts with my team. But he went according to our plan and abandoned me.

How did that happen? As usual we have with him. Through other people, in an allegorical form. I came with my lady friend to the karate coach, something was necessary. We discussed my question with him, and he began to talk with her. Wherein he turned to me and said: «You are free, go away». I turned to my lady friend and said, «Olga, you and I will go together».

In this short conversation, he told me that our heavenly wedding had been annulled by him, that I was no longer his wife, and he was no longer my husband, that he no longer intends to think how that misunderstanding happened when some delusion struck him, that he offered me to become his wife and it happened. He dumped me. But I told him I wasn't going anywhere and we were going to be together.

Well, he looked at me... He thought, «How can she be useful to me? Well, as a charioteer, navigator she's very good. She guides the organization at the highest level. From time to time can have sex with her on a subtle energy level». «Yes, he thought, I can keep her with us as non-contact bitch in the crowd non-contact whores. And she will continue to think that I am her husband and she will guide my organization». So thought Ram and decided to, that okay, she still use to anyone. As charioteer, navigator and as such a contactless whore, whom he has a lot. It is enough for him to put pressure on some buttons in their energy women centers, and they are completely in his power and are ready to serve sexually all his organization and to him, being geographically far from him and not even knowing him personally as a person. But since he is an asur, for him this distance means nothing, his sensations are completely real, as if everything is really happening. «Her energy is good. She does not eat meat, does not smoke, does not drink alcohol, she does not have sex with another men. Why don't I keep her here? I can to keep such a valuable specimen», — thought Ram and had kept me in the throng of women with whom he amused himself, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence.

What did I need all this for? This was necessary so that he had another woman and so that he threw me away and include me to his harem, to the number of his contactless sluts, but in fact to the number of unfortunate women who can not oppose anything to his abilities and his influence. This was necessary so that he look with loving eyes on the other, a foreign woman for him, putting her on the pedestal of his life. All this had a very big goal. In my plan, an important point was the Mahabharata, the destruction of all the most powerful asuras born at this time on Earth, not only them, but also other asuras, and the teaching a lesson them, because they had to pay for what they shared eternal couple.

This woman was we really need to us. This was necessary so that Ram fell in love with that woman and abandoned me. Further events developed in such a way that I caused the anger of other big asuras and they decided to break me completely. And for them to start doing this, it was necessary for Ram to give me to them. And for this it was necessary that he was in love with another woman and was not interested in me. All this was necessary for us in order for me in some time to have the full right to destroy these large asuras and begin my Mahabharata.

Only some four months, we stayed together after our heavenly wedding and in July they were already together, and he got tired of my presence in his life. But despite the fact that this woman was so good and so suited him and embodied all his expectations about his woman, he still continued to have sex with other women at that subtle energy level.

Why? After all she was completely suitable for him. In sex, too, she was interesting and pleasing to him, and he was happy that he was finally lucky to find such a woman, what he wanted. Why didn't he stop those subtle energy sexual interactions with other women who didn't even know him personally, in real life, but who did for him everything he wanted when he threw his inner gaze at them and held out his that energy hand to their female centers? Why did he, loving that woman in real life, not stop having sex with other women, even if this sex was contactless sex, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence? But Ram is an asur and therefore there is no difference for him, he has sex with a woman in bed, hugging her and touching her with his physical body, or is it contactless sex at a distance, without his personal presence, when they are geographically located in different places, far from each other, and the woman does not even know him personally, she is unfamiliar with him and he personally is not with her and never will be with her. For him, it makes no difference whether he is present with his physical body or he simply acts on a woman from a distance and simply connects to her energetically. He feels everything as if this is the real sex. And loving that woman, he did not give up sex with other women. He has a very strange love. However, so with all asuras.

And after all them, such women, he had many. And he also wrote me down to his harem, to the number of his contactless sluts, but in fact to the number of unfortunate women who can not oppose anything to his abilities and his influence. But when he annulled our heavenly wedding, cardinal changes occurred in my meditations when I sang protective mantras.

Before that always, when I was singing (or aloud, when I was at home, or mentally, listening to mantras in headphones, if I went somewhere on business), I was seeing before my eyes on my inner screen his image and I was sending to him the words of this protective mantras, but when he had removed me from his heart and from his space, I could not imagine him there. I tried to imagine him and send him this protection, but I had a strong desire to turn to Nrisimhadev for my protection.

And in those meditations I began to fly every time to Nrisimhadev. At first, I was entering into the deity itself, was going inside of Him, I was spreading over His body as molecules. I was feeling so dissolved and united with Him that it was difficult for me to come out of there. And so it went on for a long time, something about a month and a half, and then I came to the conclusion that this impersonal dissolution is not what it is necessary, and Srila Prabhupada said that it is necessary to develop personal relationships with Krishna. I very much wanted to dissolve into Nrisimhadev, but I was stopping myself by an effort of will. I began to try to express me in front of Him myself, as I am.

I was cuddling up to Him and was crying my sadness out to Him. He was hugging me and stroking me, and I was squeezing into His chest, then was sitting down on His knees and was sitting with Him in an embrace. I felt good! He was very reassuring to me, and thanks to this I could remain viable for a long time. From time to time, Ram was entering into my hands, and I began to feel him, first plunged into some unearthly bliss and a sense of native, my, and after that I was suddenly thrown off out the touching with him, as because from the electric wire under high voltage, and I began to shake sobs. Only Nrisimhadev was saving me from this hopeless state. I was flying to Him more and more often, was cuddling up there and expressing my love and gratitude to Him. That was the whole summer of 2016, when Ram was with that woman.

18. Proposal the asuric initiation

In July, Ram, through a karate coach, told me that I was free, that he doesn't need me anymore and I can go look for other men, but I said that I would stay with him. And he decided to install their asuric programs on me, something terrible. At the very beginning of our interaction with him, I was doing not succumb to his usual manipulations of consciousness, that he always carried out successfully and to which everybody succumbed. And even I had did not succumb to his force methods, which breaking the woman and make her a toy in hands of asuras. And then, when he had lost all good feelings for me and he completely left in love for that woman, he decided to take revenge, playing on my attitude towards him as my husband. He decided that many times I had not yielded to his influence, many times gave him a rebuff and strongly stung his pride, and now need to smash me to scrap. He told me that we can become together, but for this I need to accept some kind of initiation from them. Somehow, I heard it in my mind, about the initiation.

I was confused by his offer. Why do I need some kind of their asuric initiation, when I already have the initiation of my Gurudev, but he insisted and assured that everything is safe, that nothing terrible there, that one thing not prevents the other, but will open the door to our reunion with him. I did not know what to think, so I decided to surrender to Krishna. Krishna helped me. Somewhere at the same time we had a city day, festivals, fairs, concerts.

And I went there to rest, to unwind. Everything was fine. Then I heard about the demonstrations of the karate section, I had wanted to see what it would be. I came and began to look. I was very outraged by one episode in the performance of the boys, when one boy threw another on the floor and from all strength swung with his elbow in the face as if he beat the defeated enemy right in the face. I thought they were being taught the wrong thing, and I went straight to the coach.

Looking into his eyes, I began to say that what he teaches them? After all, it is necessary to take into account the realities of life. I told him that the techniques of karate that he teaches his disciples are, according to our laws, are an exceeding the limits of self-defence, since with such a force and direction of the blow, the obvious and logical result will be that the opponent will have severe injuries and even could be killed. And I told him that this is punishable under a penal provision in the Criminal Code. I told him that he has no right to teach children these kinds of the techniques of karate. If a disciple masters these combat techniques to automatism, then, on occasion, he may inadvertently kill someone, and he will be punished for exceeding the limits of self-defence. Of course, when you are attacked, any means are good. But if you kill the offender, they will not punish him, but you, even if you are right, because this is the law on exceeding the limits of self-defence.

And I say all this looking into his eyes and see how there, somewhere inside his eyes splashing bone-chilling terror, just spilled some acute fear of death. I had did not attach any importance to this, but there was no more talk about their asuric initiation, and he dropped the issue. And only then, when I watched this series of TV-series «Ramayana» 2008, I realized that it was. He didn't break me by force, so he decided to trick me and do the same or even worse, probably much worse than it would have been with those force methods. And he wanted me to do it on my own. But Krishna saved me.

It is said that should not look at how a man behaves with you. Should look at how he behaves with those who are no one for him. With waiters, janitors, shop assistants, wait staff. With that woman he very well treated, pampered her, surrounded concern and love, and me, who had become nobody for him in his perception of the world, he decided lower, by deceiving me, naive, soul with an open heart. He decided just break me with that asuric initiation. Thus he betrayed me again, knowing who I really am for him.

He was seeing our past lives; he was remembering our dream «definitely», in which he found the woman he was looking. Then he paid for it a lot of asuric money, that is, pious merits, to some asur, who can find people in the territory of sleep. He knew who I am to him. But it is not enough to know, it is also necessary to feel it. But he had no warm feelings for me because I gave him an injection «to kill love». He was feeling the endless tenderness and love for that woman, and he was going to calmly and dispassionately just kill me. What he was going to do to me was be unacceptable to me in any form. And he knew it. He was rejoicing in his heart without a shred of pity, without a shred of regret, that another one human female will become a bitch, a whore and will serve the asuras in their sexual orgies at the energy plane of existence, and only fear could stop him. Fear of punishment. Through me, he was told that, according to the laws the Universal, this is a penal provision in the Criminal Code of the Universal and for this he will get the punishment. And only this saved me from that their asuric «initiation».

19. «Who do you think you are?»

Somewhere in the middle of July, I received the signs of the Universe in which was said that I am trying to perceive some situation as normal, although in fact it is not. That I'm willing to get much less of what I wanted and hoped for and even deserve. I was very upset about that. I was also told in those signs that all I need is to ask for help from the light forces, and then follow the instructions. And somehow, when we were going to the beach, and it was already the end of July, I accidentally groped at a painful area in the area of the gallbladder. I just panicked and didn't know what to do. When we had come to the beach, I gathered pebbles on the shore and performed a ritual with stone spiral to get the result, ideal for everyone. And when we got home, I was touching and touching that painful area and was very worried.

And then I remembered this interaction in Moscow, the same as we have with Ram here, on the mental level, through other people. I remembered how some very handsome man sat down in the train to me, genuine admiration was pouring from his eyes. He sat to my left and started asking me questions. We talked a lot, and when he had to go out, he asked me if I would go with him. I said no, and I said to him, «Keep your wife safe», and he said, «Keep yourself safe». There were a lot of things said. And then, in Moscow, I realized that it was not just a conversation with a random companion. For many years I tried to decipher this conversation, and right now, when Ram and I have the same contactless interaction, I suddenly realized what kind of man came to me then.

To me then came the one with whom we had the contactless interaction, at a distance. All my thoughts and unfolding of the conversation converged in the only logical explanation that then came to me personally the one with whom everything then I had in Moscow. I remembered my words to him «Keep your wife safe» and his words «Keep yourself safe» and I thought that they guard me badly.

After all, we had three children conceived there, which were after to be born, and now two were already born, and Ram took out of me the third child, a girl, whom he most likely in someone already sewn, so she was born there and grew. But I have to live, raise my kids. And I mentally had transported into that situation. I mentally had stood there in the train in front of that handsome man, mentally had plunged into his eyes, entered his gaze and began to make claims to him that they guard me badly.

An energy contact has arisen between us. From his eyes and from mine went simultaneously the streams of information and merged together. And I heard his voice in my mind, «I'll try to help you». And he came to Ram. Yes, he didn't come to him by plane, by train or by car; he somehow appeared among them on those subtle levels. All day I felt as some background in my thoughts and feelings that this man had already come to Ram and they are having some big meeting about me. And then he came in front of me, and I heard his voice quite clearly in my mind that I should have married him at that time. And I realized that here, with Ram, everything is hopeless. But it didn't end there. That was just the beginning. Like the Pepsi-Cola commercial, «It's only beginning».

When the Moscow asur came to Ram for my call, he told me that it was necessary then for me to marry him. For me, these words of his were to some extent a surprise, but only confirmed my conclusions about that Moscow period. I thought that Ram had some insurmountable obstacles that made him unable to bring to life what I had come to him for. But in reality it was much worse. Of course, obstacles Ram had. It was his love for the woman in real life. I with my team did setting him up with her. But even this was not the worst.

I remembered the words of the big Moscow asur, I named him Borka. At one time a huge spider lived in our house. He wove himself a big web over our TV. We did not touch this spider or its web. I liked this spider, even though he was a spider and was being very fat and his web was just awesome. His web hung over our TV like a wide canopy. I called that spider Borka. This spider Borka then sat in his web over our TV, then crawled off somewhere. And when I was seeing him, I was asking him, «Borka, hello! How are you?» But we also had a crowd of cockroaches. Cockroaches was getting on my nerves, and I decided to poison them. I called the company, which is engaged in the destruction of harmful insects in the houses, they came to us, spattered all our apartment with poison from cockroaches, and cockroaches disappeared. But along with the cockroaches was gone and the spider Borka. I missed him. A cobweb hung over the TV, but Borka himself was not there. The web looked so empty without its owner, and I had to remove that web. I still remember this spider Borka. After him, we had other spiders, but they were not the same as Borka. Borka was the biggest, fattest spider, and I liked him. It is a pity that Borka died with cockroaches. And when I remembered the Moscow asur which in fact was the leader of the Moscow asuric organization, I immediately remembered our spider Borka. For some reason, this Moscow asur reminded me of our spider Borka. And I began to call that big Moscow asur also Borka, like my favorite spider Borka. Peace be upon him. Those words of Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuras, meant his joy that I finally fell into his hands and now he can take revenge. When I had interaction with him the community in Moscow, he a lot of bad was done to me. He plugged several men onto me, and they were pumping out me my feminine energy and my piety. He also wanted to downgrade my nature, installing at me the asuric program to make me a kind of helpless human female to their sexual orgies at subtle energy level. But I didn't download his software, and this made him very angry.

But due my durability and fidelity, which he tried to destroy, I drew his attention to myself and he decided to make me his wife. He was just looking for the next victim for the role of his wife. The wife is the one that the husband protects. But Borka was not going to protect his wife, he was going to empty her and then throw her away as waste material. Yes, of course, the wedding would have been, registration in the registry Office would have been, would have lived together happily ever after, but he needed a wife not for happiness, but as an oil well, full of pious merits. He chose me to be such a wife, and in fact an oil well. And he intended to plug others men onto me and during our married sex to pump out me all my pious merits like he did with his previous so-called wife, but really, she was his oil well.

He was going to pump out all my feminine energy and all my pious merits from me. He would not need me when I became empty, without my pious merit, through which comes good luck, wealth, good health, prospects. And according to the asuric scheme, it is necessary to get rid of such a woman who was a wife and who was devastated. In such cases, the asuras crush the consciousness of such a devastated wife and force her to cheat on him. The asur-husband manipulates the consciousness of his devastated wife, and she leaves him for another man. In this case, the husband pretends that he suffers greatly from such betrayal of his wife. Borka was going to do it with me. He wanted to marry me, have more sex with me, so that I would have many orgasms, during which he would begin to devastate me, taking my pious merits. He was going to empty me and throw me to another man, but so that I myself would leave him.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He did it with his previous wife and was going to do it with me. Because when he came to me on that train with that conversation, he said that his car broke down on the road and that's why he's here. What is a broken down on the road car??? The road means wife, within the meaning of the asuras. The car is the body, it's what the wife has. And his wife's car broke down. He devastated his wife, took for himself all her pious merits. Due to her pious merits everything in his life developed successfully and successfully. But now he needed new pious merits, of the next woman. He devastated her, the car broke down, and he no longer needed her. Now he needed a new machine to pump from her on several channels at the same time.

Why did I think so? I thought so due the fact that Borka in that conversation with me in the train told that his wife has a high pressure and four children. If I had married him, he would have very strongly suppressed my consciousness, so that I thought that I was so lucky to be the wife of such a man. But in fact he was going to plug four men onto me and with high pressure to pump my feminine energy and pious merits out of me on a regular basis. He was going to let four of his subordinates into our marital sex, invisibly. I would not know about that, since they were going to have me in sex through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. Borka was going to do it because he said that he has four children. He was going to marry me, to have sex with me more often, so that I had many regular orgasms, and during my orgasms he was going to siphon my feminine energy and my pious merits from me. And at the same time those men would be in this sex with me, invisibly. What an abomination! I refused him when he asked me to go with him to the station where he went with everyone. I told him, «Keep your wife safe», and he said, «Keep yourself safe!».

I was refusing him many times in Moscow, I was hurting his pride, I did not yield to his force, and now I'm in his hands! Ram had another woman. He didn't care about me. And Borka got the chance to take revenge and take down this pathetic human female for such disobedience and obstinacy. Even at that time he was determined to break me. And for this reason he told me that I should have married him then, because now everything will be much worse for me.

And here Borka decided to slip to me one of his subordinates, so this subordinate came to me at the physical reality, so I with him became together, started having sex with him in order to Borka through him was pumping feminine energy and my pious merits out of me on a regular basis. And here I sit working and suddenly see on my internal screen a great line of knights, so to speak. It was the row of Borka's soldiers willing to become with me and carry out all the orders of his chief, whom was the very Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuras.

I was so sad to see this row of Borka's soldiers in front of my inner gaze, because my inner compass was always looking at my Ram. And here for some reason they give me other men who I absolutely do not need. And I shrugged them off. Then Ram betrayed me again, he decided to get rid of me, so I did not whine in his ear, «my husband, my husband».

But that wasn't all. After Borka said Ram to let him enter my hand. Ram, apparently, loves feel women's breasts, and occasionally I felt him in my hands, he loved to be in my hands on my chest. And here again I wanted to put my hand on my chest. I put my hand on my chest and feel: there is he, Ram is in my hand. And here the hand went down, and I felt terrible fear. I don't know why I felt some panic and put my hand away, telling Ram not to be offended by me, but I'm afraid someone else is there.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

This Borka even more got angry, he again felt humiliated, and after all he was sure that all will do his will. And I, such stupid sheep, for some reason did not give in. In Moscow I did not allow Borka to install in me asuric program to lowering the female nature and turn me into a toy for all of them. I refused his offer to become such an oil rig with many remote oil pumping devices under the guise of his wife. Here I had not succumbed to the influence of Ram and his force methods. And now I refused the row of Borka`s soldiers, that is, of asuras, and I refused his presence in my hand on my breast.

Borka reached the limit in his indignation at such inexcusable behavior of an insignificant human female, and he decided to put me as his lot on their asuric totalizator. He appeared again before my inner gaze and said: «Who do you think you are?» I thought that Ram had hopeless situation that I'm came to him and something want he should do and he can't do it. But in fact, the words he said about «who do you think you are?» meant something else.

Borka thought: «You let it go to your head? Who do you think you are? You think you're so cool and no one's gonna crash your? Fool, we have the coolest specialists in the female part, they will be happy now brutally finished with you. And if I can't get you on your knees, then they'll do it. We've got special ways to make tough bitches like you crack. We had put Shri Vishnupad, your Harikesha Swami, on our asuric totalizator. There were high stakes on your Shri Vishnupad, he, too, was doing not succumb to our efforts to suppress him, but he was also broken off. On our asuric totalizator we had broken up also others obstinate like Shri Vishnupad. Shri Vishnupad was a staunch unyielding, too long we broke him, but we had broke him. But he was a disciple of your Prabhupada. Who might you be? You're nothing and nobody. We will have done away with you, you will be all ours».

«I see, that you think you're clever. Who the hell do you think you are? You were not succumbing to me and to Ram. Now others will take care of you. I had put you as my lot on our asuric sweepstake. The stakes will be high. On your Harikesha we on our asuric totalizator had earned a lot of money. On you, too, are expected high rates on the sweepstakes. Although you think that no one will break you, but we have such the destroyers of such bitches like you, that it would be better for you never to meet them. But now you will meet with them. I'm going to gather the coolest specialists of destroying of female nature now, and you will become a pathetic rag in our hands. You are fool, you should have agreed to my proposals. In vain you refused me; I will take revenge on you. You're asking' for trouble. I'll give you what you deserve. So you should be. You need to learn your place, bitch!»

So began very important point of my plan, which I amounted to between lives, even before birth in this my body. And Borka went on the asuric totalizator, put me as his lot and began to gather the strongest of the asuras, who specialized in destroying of female nature, and who were happy to test their skills on such an interesting, obstinate specimen like me.

20. The getting admission to bed

By the time Ram with the woman, whom that we set him up with, already had close relations, sex. But to come to this stage, he held her according to their asuric scheme. The asuras have their own algorithm, rules, scheme to check the female individual for whether it is possible to let her to bed. And Ram, even feeling ever-increasing love to her, no matter toughly and methodically had led her through all these points. Well, first of all, of course, he deceived her, silent about my existence in his life.

But we already had that heavenly wedding with him and he already led me in the same way that he led her. He was getting ready to connect with me in the physical reality, but then I set this good woman up him and gave him an injection «to love her», and then I gave him an injection «to kill love», kill the love to me. And he was showing her with all his appearance and his life that he is a completely free man, that she could be with him. He deceived her, did not embarrassed.

Second, when she appeared in his field of view, and this, of course, was in real life... Yes, we could have let down her to him on a Dating site, especially since asuras graze women coming and hanging out on Dating sites to subjugate them, use them and to pump feminine energy and piety out of them on a regular basis. But to bring her to Ram on a Dating site we did not, because then he would have prejudice. We had to make everything happen as if by accident, of course, and certainly in real life.

And so, seeing her in real life and began to interact with her, he was attracted to her and began to find out information about her. He, of course, had plugged onto her to see all her thoughts, feelings, desires, to stimulate her to memories of her life and with whom she was, to pull out of the bins of her memory all her complexes and desires. When he began to drive her to restaurants and all sorts of nice places, softening her and arranging her just mind-blowing «roof-raising», he asked her mentally questions about herself, about her attitude to him, about how she sees him, what she wants from him, where to drive her next time.

They simply communicated, but he mentally was asking her some kind of question which she had not heard, but he loudly was asking her about something ordinary, for example, «Do you like that car? You like this picture, and these flowers, and how do you like this place?» And answering the questions he uttered, she answered his conceived questions. He looked at her reactions and answers and learned everything about her that she was him hardly would open. But already at this stage of their acquaintance he had pulled all information about her and knew everything about her. And even about her sexual preferences and what she is in sex.

Yes, she did not yet know him enough to let him into the circle of her trust, and he already knew what is she in sex. Looking, that she orders in restaurants and cafes, as she eats, that under this says, he was learning, that she likes in sex, and what adamantly not adopts, what she expects from him in sex, if until this at all converge. And she had put it all out to him, without even knowing what she was doing. He was already sitting in her thoughts and was already steering her to their sex, soft pressing on her consciousness, routing her to what he needed.

And so he had led her to the next point of their asuric scheme. It's her masturbation. He began to press the buttons in her energy body, responsible for sexual longing. He was gradually pushing this button, being in her thoughts and was seeing how her sexual desire grows, directing it in the direction he needs. He was pulling out in her mind those pictures that could affect the strengthening of her sexual arousal.

He coolly watched her begin to feel the sexual arousal and desire to fall into satisfying herself sexually. And he got more and more pushed this button and put pressure on her women's energy centers. He didn't wait for her to want him. No. What for? He knows how to cause it. So why wait for the grass to grow, when can accelerate this growth.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And so he brought her to such a degree of sexual arousal that she at some point decided to surrender to this desire. And she started masturbating. Asuras know how to enter into objects, into the body. If a woman satisfies herself with a finger, then he can somehow enter into it, into the finger, as if his penis is present in her finger, as the third energy hand, and in this case as such an energy dick in her finger. If a woman masturbates with the help of a dildo, then for the asuras it is, of course, more pleasant, because the sensations are much more real and complete, because then they get a complete entry into the woman, by entry his penis through the dildo, although he himself geographically is present in completely different place. Well, if she is satisfying herself with the water jet in the shower, then here he can somehow stimulate her, so that she still stuck something in herself, in order to enter with this thing into her and be there. And he had stimulated her and got inside her while her masturbating.

She thought that she just wanted sex and no one sees her masturbating, but he was there with her, in her, and they had sex. It was be a sex, though without his personal presence at that time, but it was be a really tangible sex for him, although she thought it was her innocent masturbation. She did not know about this, and this thought never crossed her mind. And if she is told that now she had sex with that nice man whom she still knows very little, she would say that you have too wild imagination. But it was.

He already had sex with her, Yes, through her masturbation, but for him, there are no such boundaries as separation by distance. By the time he already fit fully in her life. And she didn't even know it. He saw her naked in the bathroom and shower, he stimulated her to show off in front of the mirror in the Nude. He did not hesitate through her eyes to look when she was sitting on the toilet and when she was picking her nose, when she was giving her gas, when she had a belch and when she was changing clothes. All this he has already seen. He had studied her inside and out.

He invaded her ultimately, private space without her personal deliberately permission. Yes, the veiled permission he from her, of course, long ago had pulled out. Well, for example, when he was asking her the same question mentally, whether she agrees to it, and, waiting for her in real life to tell someone or him on something «Yes», for example, in the store or on the street to someone. But this consent was drawn out of her not fair, since she herself personally, consciously, would not give him permission to be present with how she sits on the toilet and poop, or washes in the bathroom, or wielding a Dildo.

She has not even really decided on her feelings for him, but he has invaded her personal sovereign space and sat there as a king. And even already he had sex with her through her masturbation, which he has caused, in every way igniting in her sexual languor and desire, which up to this time, to his manipulation of her women's energy centers and her mind did not bother her.

But he needed it, and she walked like a weak-willed sheep on a string according to his scheme, the next point of which was she went to see a gynecologist. He had to check her at the gynecologist, to feel to all at her, to find out the test results, well, everything as it should. And so he turned on the next stage and pressed somewhere in her body the button that causes her symptoms of thrush, vulvovaginitis, colpitis, cystitis, in order to she suffered cruelly from feeling of abdominal cramps and severity of the abdomen. And with all the symptoms at once. By that time, he already loved her. The injection to him «to love her» was functioning, but Ram coolly introduced her to this hopeless state for her, when she was in a panic did not know what to do, and he tossed her the idea that without a trip to the gynecologist here can not do.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He manipulated her consciousness and put a lot of pressure on her mind, mentally whispering to her: «Go to the gynecologist, go to the gynecologist». Oh, how she didn't want to go there, but she still had to do it. She had to go to the gynecologist, because he had pressed her consciousness well and she could not resist it. So she went to the gynecologist. She enters the doctor's office, doctor speaking to her, «Get undressed behind the screen, remove the entire bottom, and lie down on the gynecological chair». The gynecologist comes up to her and looks at her in a spread-eagle position. And Ram already had plugged onto a gynecologist and is looking out of eyes of the gynecologist on his woman lying in front of the doctor, on her vagina, into her Holy of holies.

They still are in the honeymoon phase of their relationship, but he already found out everything about her, already many times had sex with her through her masturbation, saw her naked in the bathroom, and now looks to her vagina, out of the eyes of the gynecologist. If this woman knew that such decent man, such pretty to her man, such pleasant and such sublime man does such things with her, that he leads her as a sheep to slaughter, according to the rigid scheme, treating her not as a woman, to the person, and impersonally, as the object, she would burn with the bloody shame of one thought about it, but thoughts about it she did not have, as this was beyond her.

This is from the realm of fantastic tales, but this fantastic tales are available for asuras and part of their everyday life. He carefully examines her when she lies on the gynecological chair without panties. Ram looks at her out of the eyes of the gynecologist and directs the actions of the gynecologist. In fact, Ram conducts the entire gynecological procedure, invisibly plugged onto the gynecologist, entering the thoughts of the gynecologist and commanding, impacting on the mind and will of the gynecologist. The gynecologist puts his hand inside her vagina and feels her there, and in the meantime Ram`s hand is in hand of gynecologist. And Ram inside her is feeling everything and is seeing everything that gynecologist thinks about her.

This woman will never know what gynecologist thinks about her. Gynecologist won't tell her it and will not show what is written in her medical record, but Ram sits in the thoughts of gynecologist and reads them like an open book and knows everything about this woman, which now lies on the gynecological chair with open for his eyes vagina. He tests her to aptitude for his sexual pleasure in real life, to which he calmly and methodically leads her according their asuric scheme.

The tests are done. The gynecological examination, simple laboratory tests as well as cervical smear tests for cervical cancer, testing for transmitted diseases are clean as a whistle. All was tested, and all is well. The gynecologist sympathetically tells her, «You just have minor disruption of hormone system, the immune system has fallen. Healthy immunoresistance means living a long and active life. Probably you have not had sex for a long time. Maybe you should add yourself endorphins, and the immunity will increase? Do you have a man?» But she does not have a failure of the hormonal system. It's just that Ram pressed some buttons in her women's centers and caused these symptoms in order to force her ran to the gynecologist. He had pressed on some buttons in her energy field which causes and vulvovaginitis, when she has everything swollen and it hurts to touch, and the yeast infection, when from her flows out there and burns, and cystitis, when she can not run far from the toilet and there is painful pain in the lower abdomen. And he, feeling love for her, led her through it, knowing how she would feel. He has not regretted one bit her. He made her an extremely painful condition and feeling, and pressed on her mind, so she went to the gynecologist, like a sheep to slaughter.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Yes, the tests are clean, but he wanted to look at her on that gynecological chair behind the curtain. He wanted to look at her external genitals when she lay on the gynecological chair. He wanted to feel her female organs by the hand of a gynecologist. He wanted to listen to the gynecologist's thoughts about this woman he loved and also her answers to the gynecologist. All, this stage has passed safely, and now can put her to bed, which he does, knowing all her preferences, wishes, all her complexes and her sexual temperament. He conducts first sex with her at the highest level, given all that he knows about her. She thinks he's an unusual man, what a sensitive, delicate, understanding her like no other.

Yes, he understands her, he had studied her backwards and forwards, and he climbed where she would not let anyone. He uses knowledge about all her complexes and desires. He understands her much better than she understands herself. And she thinks how lucky she is!!! And she thinks how lucky to meet such a man, a man with a capital letter. But she does not know that she was in fact incredibly lucky. He took her for himself, and did not had given her to the fun of his entire asuric organization, as he always did with all women. He had kept her for himself, and not gave her to «the eating» of his «wolfhounds»-asuras, who are blocking the will of women and making them weak-willed sex toys.

She is actually lucky that he met her not on a Dating site, looking through the eyes and thoughts of men that are out there, otherwise she would not come to him in bed, going on all those points asuric schemes. And she was lucky that he did not apply force methods to her, when the asuras just break a woman, making her a female individual, female animal during heat, who wants to be fertilized. Such a woman will do anything when asuras all together pounce on her on her inner screen or something, and she will do anything, only that this pressure on her has gone a little. But woman, who is with him in real life, was lucky that he took her for himself and didn't passed her around like a bottle of cheap booze.

And here is have them love. He cuts me loose, gave me to Borka, the then leader of the Moscow organization of the asuras. Borka wanted to pump my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis. Borka put in front of me the row of Borka`s soldiers, that is, of asuras, in order to I choose through whom he will be doing it. Ram at this time was enjoying happiness with that woman. They're in love. They have great love. He was in awe, he lived for her. But he did not refuse contactless sex at a distance. He had this sex with women from his harem. He sent me to his harem with women whom he used as the contactless whores. And at the same time, he loved that woman, in real, very much and idolized her, although he did not disdain to have sex with a lot of women whom he considered to be whores, although they are ordinary women, he just was plugging onto them and forcing them to satisfy themselves sexually, with his invisible presence in this sexual satisfaction. He loved that woman, but at the same time he did not refuse entertainment in his harem. Some strange love... Big, pure love, as they say, if you want big and pure love then come to the hayloft, will be sex.

21. Meeting with Bhishma, elder of asuras

And this Ram with that woman already had a close relationship, sex, all have been good. Then came Borka, the leader of the Moscow asuric organization, with his «help» me. Borka with the permission of Ram put in front of me on my internal screen the row of soldiers, that is, of his comrades-asuras, so that I would choose one of them. Borka thought that I would choose one of them, this man would plug onto me and will influence me so that we would have sex with him. Maybe he would come to me in physical reality. Is it possible. After all, asuras live among us as ordinary people. Through him Borka could have sex with me, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. That man could come to me in real life and become my man. Or he could make me want to masturbate, so that Borka could connect to me and through my hands or the dildo fuck me without even being personally present. But his dick would really be present at the energy plane of existence in the dildo or in my hands during my masturbation. This man could become my man in real life, and we would have sex with him like all people, in bed. And Borka would invisibly enter into that man's cock and through his cock would fuck me. Asuras can do that. And you do not know it. Borka was going to exert his influence on me, to plug his subordinates onto me in my sex with that man whom I would choose from that row of his soldiers. Borka was going to pump everything out of me as if from an oil well, and at once along several channels simultaneously, under great pressure, in order to quickly empty me and then throw me out as expendable. Borka was going to deflate from me all my feminine energy and all my pious merits, so that at the expense of my pious merits have everything in this life and enjoy good health, wealth, success in life. But I turned away from the row of his soldiers.

Then he entered into my hand which was on my chest, when I was feeling my Ram in my hand, and again I rejected his encroachments towards me. Borka told me, «Who the hell do you think you are? Who do you think you are?» Borka was thinking about me, «You made me very angry and now you will get for it. I'm going to gather against you the most evil and cruel specialists in the female part, who know how to break and put on her knees any woman, such steep specialists in the destruction of all high and clean in a woman! They have such abilities that you never suspected, and in vain you had called me to yourself, because it's better you don't meet them»... Borka went to gather them and put me as the lot on their asuric totalizator, where asuras as the lots were putting such personalities not amenable to their influence. And the higher the person according to the level of development of consciousness and is not amenable to their influence, then the higher profits and higher cash prizes.

The asuric totalizator was a big project of asuras, something that was worth a lot of money. There's a lot of money was riding at this asuric sweepstakes. Basically, pious merits, which the asuras are pumping out of women, were used as money on their tote. Also, of course, ordinary money, euros, dollars, our earthly currency were spinning there. After all, the asuras live here as ordinary-looking people, and they are focused on getting pleasure, and money in this case plays a major role. Why should asuras pump out feminine energy and pious merits from women? Thanks to piety, luck comes to everyone in everything. Thanks to godly merit, a person can enjoy life with good health, a lot of money, favorable opportunities and prospects. Therefore, the asuras are well-settled people in life. Asuras are beautiful, cute, have a pleasant appearance, inspire confidence. All the big asuras are usually very rich, because thanks to the feminine energy and pious merits that has been pumped out of women, the asuras receive great opportunities in life and fulfill all their desires. How do those women live, from whom the asuras have pumped out pious merits, they are not particularly worried, because the asuras do not consider women worthy of respect. They are very wrong. They practically live at the expense of women, since all of their wealth, good health, and success they receive thanks to pious merits of others. Asuric tote was a big fun for the asuras, since the main currency there were pious merits deflated from women. However, our usual earthly money was also there, and very large.

And this asuric sweepstakes was the favorite fun of the asuras and a means of pleasant and with great satisfaction to earn capital. On this asuric tote the asuras broke Shri Vishnupad. The stakes had become very high indeed, it was fun for asuras, the dividend paid were permanent and beautiful. And many of the asuras had well enriched when they had bent Shri Vishnupad and lowered him to the lower levels of consciousness.

And here I am, so obstinate, who so angry Borka, then leader of the Moscow organization of the asuras. But that wasn't enough for me. Here I live as an ordinary person, and I did not know anything about it. This was not enough for me who made this plan between lives to give a chance to my eternal husband. I had to draw their fire on myself. I had to make them angry in order to they would not withstand such insubordination and stubbornness of some insignificant little bitch. I had to provoke them, so that they would burn with an irresistible desire to break down me, to lay me to waste and lower, and for this I had to attract the attention of their great elder, Bishma. It was be a big influential asur, the brain center of all the asuras at that time, their patriarch, holding in his hands all the levers and all the threads of influence on all the asuras.

He knew everything about them. He knew who among asuras have the unusual abilities, blessings, curses, wishes, sins, whom how is it possible to destroy. He knew everything about each of the asuras. He had gotten dirt on all of everyone. And according to my plan made me between lives, I had to carry out in the beginning planned by me of the Mahabharata, to which all smoothly went. So I came to that Bishma, their elder, their patriarch. This is how things went.

After those memorable words of Borka «Who do you think you are?» I began to feel great sadness. I thought that Ram is in big trouble, because of which he could not come to me. And even Borka, who said that he would help me, could not do anything. I thought that Ram has some insurmountable obstacles that prevent him from coming to me in the physical reality, although in the spring he did everything for this, but now is a dead calm and complete hopelessness.

And very soon after those memorable words of Borka I asked for advice to the Oracle «Hot Delphine Dumpling», there is a comic Oracle on the Internet. The Oracle said that some powerful man would help me, who could be asked for help. These words of the Oracle «Hot Delphine Dumpling» confused me, as no influential men I did not saw.

But I started to think of many times in my life when I was reaching out to powerful people, and usually it was men, when I needed some kind of big, global help, and they always helped me, totally disinterested, without demanding anything in return. They were helping me just because of my humble request. These cases from my own life began to twist in my mind with a kaleidoscope, and I came to the absurd idea that I have some blessing that if I appeal to some influential man who has the power and resources to solve the problem, he must do it. Just because I asked.

Yes, I came up with this completely irrational thought, but it came to me. And I thought, Yes, I've always been lucky in my life at such help and then I need to help, and once the Oracle «Hot Delphine Dumpling» said about him, then somewhere this man is. And I'm tune in to this man. And then my internal radar, thrown by me somewhere into the distance in the energy space, revealed the man. I suddenly saw quite clearly on my inner screen a large man, from whom it emanated strength, power, influence, confidence.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

All that summer I was observing my sadhana by singing protective mantras. During this singing of mantras I was flying in my mind to Nrisimhadev, cuddled up to him, He hugged me with His hand, was stroking me and comforting me. And this man was the same as my Nrisimhadev, large, to whom like to cuddle and be comforted. This Bhishma was the lord of the asuras, their patriarch, and the brain center of the asuras. In his hands were all asuras. And I walked up to this Bhishma and snuggled against his chest. I began to shed tears on his chest, asking him for protection and help. I did not say a word to him, but my sadness and my hopelessness flowed to him, because Ram came to me himself, he said, «Be my wife, become my wife», but this in fact has not been realized until now.

The Bhishma hugged me with his arm as Nrisimhadev did, stroked my head and said me, «Daughter». This word «daughter» instilled in me such confidence... I felt that I was accepted and he will help me. But then on my inner screen in front of my inner gaze had stood a man's sticking dick. And he kind of said: «Go ahead, baby, I need blowjob and sex, and a lot».

I looked at this disgrace, felt as if he was pushing me to this dick on that subtle level. I felt as if he was telling me: «If you want help, show me how you really want it. If you want, you have to try hard, nothing happens for free now». I resented this indecent proposal from Bhishma and disappeared from there.

I thought about how many times have people helped me at my request, and often quite influential in their circles people, and he also have to help me. I don't know why they have to, but they should help me. I felt sorry for him if he didn't help me, by will, voluntarily, completely. I felt sorry for this big high-powered man. But that was my plan that I made between lives.

Thus I drew fire of their Bhishma. He's not used to rejection. He's used to seeing obedience, especially of small potatoes like me. But I refused to fulfill his condition and showed my obstinacy. And then Bhishma decided that it was right that they put me, as the lot on tote, on their asuric totalizator. It is necessary to teach such bitches, thought Bhishma. And he also issued a call to the most powerful destroyers of female nature. And thus he had signed a death warrant on himself, which I executed when I started my Mahabharata in their asuric community, ten months after that.

After my meeting with Bhishma very favorable signs have gone to me. I turned on one of the series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» by method of random choice, without looking. In this series I was told that whatever happens, it will be will of Narayana and also it will be in the best interests of the world. And everywhere I was shown that I am completely protected and that I should not be afraid of anything. All these signs gave me hope and confidence that Krishna is with me, that He sees everything that is happening at me, have His finger on the pulse and that everything will be fine.

The time spent of that woman with Ram came to an end, and my team and I began to implement the next stage of our plan. That woman was needed for several purposes, including for Borka and Bhishma to see that I am defenseless, that Ram has a woman, and I'm just his next contactless bitch; he has many such bitches and he does not consider them as people. But she is some obstinate, recalcitrant bitch, thought Borka and Bhishma. We need to put bitch in her proper place, and her place is the place of the non-contact whore, thought Borka and Bhishma. We will break her and smear her completely, decided Borka and Bhishma.

And thus the task for which that woman was needed was accomplished. He cancelled our heavenly wedding with him because of her. And he actually sold me to Borka when he let him put that line of his guys in front of me. And he strongly demonstrated Borka and Bhishma, that I was nothing to him, one of the many non-contact whores who are pleasuring him in contactless sex and who are not entitled to anything.

And for this reason Borka and Bhishma began to organize my suppression by the most formidable and cruel asuras, breaking women and have extraordinary in this area of ability. I provoked them to do that. The role of that woman was done successfully, and my team and I started the next step of our plan — to ensure that this woman with Ram was no more and that he became with me again.

22. The broken cupboard — the collapse of life

When I had the audacity to call to myself Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, and even went to Bhishma and teased him, Ram decided that he had no need for any problems and worries. As they say, stay away from big wigs, but closer to the kitchen. And then, because of me, the attention of such a high authority was drawn to Ram. And he decided to get rid of me.

Yes, of course, he was liking me as a non-contact whore: the buzz is, I does not drink alcohol, does not smoke, I do not run the men, the energy is pure. Moreover, I am the original woman, who is originally female in nature and therefore incarnations in the material world only as a woman, and not as the original men, who can be embodied by both as men and as women. And because of my original feminine nature energy is even more valuable. And I am a good charioteer, navigator. Thanks to the signs coming through me, he well had enriched, and also his asuric organization, which is under him as neural network, had strengthened and expanded. But my claims that he is my husband, and I am his wife, and my, as it turned out, the scandalous nature outweighed all the advantages.

Ram was more and more convinced that the woman who was with him is the real woman, and I am just a misunderstanding. With her he rested body and soul. With her everything was beautiful, aesthetically, pleasing, refined, easy, joyful, pleasant, no problem. With her he was doing not have to strain, and he enjoyed the peace and quiet. She was all so feminine, like a soft duvet, which you want to lie down and not get out of there, so soft, warm and pleasant. But who am I? No, I need to remove me far away, decided Ram and began to pursue a manipulation of my consciousness, forcing me out of his space that I left him.

He actively began to push at my consciousness, pulling out of my memory the Simoron refrain «disappear with benefit to yourselves». He tried very hard to inculcate in my consciousness that it was my desire that he disappear from my life for the benefit of himself. And I even believed it and began to constantly repeat «disappear with benefit to yourselves». But I was constantly twisted this phrase. Instead of «with benefit to yourselves» I was saying «with benefit to everybody» and then was adding something else that allowed my mind to keep him.

And then he launched a massive attack on my consciousness and broke it. I asked the Oracle, which was told me that it is necessary to get out of this unhealthy situation, and I being in that mood wrote to one my acquaintance a harsh letter with the words that I delete all the folders with his texts from my computer. Well, there was a trite story. I did proofreading of texts for one site. I checked the texts, sent the finished texts without errors to the site, and then I wanted to see how the site changed, the texts on it are now without errors. But all texts on the site were with errors, no one posted verified texts into the site, although I read all the texts of the site and corrected in the texts of the site that were on my computer, all the errors.

I began to write to bring the site to a normal form, but I was ignored, arguing that the system administrator is constantly busy. I wrote also to the system administrator, having offered option that I'll post texts on the site myself. I much wanted that everything there was good, but he refused supposedly I can spoil something there. The site owner was an acquaintance, and so I wrote him this letter that I remove all responsibility for this site, they say, my work I did, what you will do next, it is your decision and your responsibility. But this all coincided with the peak of pressure on me Ram with kicking me out of his space. And I was a little pissed off and spoke bluntly.

In that letter were these words: «Picture in contacts is your case. If you like her, who am I to give you directives? Who do you think you are, as they say? On your site I am already nobody. I'm going to delete the entire folder with your texts from my computer. I won't have them at all. I wish you the same». Through this letter, written simply to a familiar, to whom I decided to help with the texts of his site, I was talking to Ram.

In these words of this letter I told him: «You have some photograph there, a woman I asked to remove, but you did not remove. And since you like her so much, who am I to lead your organization, give you signs? I did not give consent to run your organization. I told you when you offered me this, that I was willing to help you because you are my husband, that's all. But if you like that woman so much that because of her you decided to remove me from your life, then I will not help you anymore. I won't conduct your organization, and the responsibility for the consequences will be on you. I delete you along with your asuric network from all my files, I will not have them at all. That I wish also you personally. I wish you that you will not be at all, in general, that you will very soon end your useless existence on this earth, that you stop breathing the air that you do not have the right to breathe because you do not fulfill your dharma, your purpose. Your mission is to protect me, because I am your real woman, I am your Shakti, I am your eternal wife, but you refused to protect me and ran for another woman, another photo. You left me, your eternal wife, and ran after a woman who is nobody to you. And so you're absolutely useless and you don't need to live. Shut up and scram, carrion».

And as soon as I sent this letter, my closet had broke. Nice big wardrobe. Out of closet flew at once all the shelves. The top shelf flew off and buried under itself all bottom regiments, things began to press on a door, and door too fell out, having nearly nailed us. I tried to fix the cabinet, but I did not succeed. Everything there was tight, and it was even scary to touch the door, because the door stood awry in the closet and it was impossible to move it.

And immediately in Ram`s life and in his asuric organization under him everything began to crumble, as all the shelves and the door flew out with a loud bang from my closet. All the signs that came through me, suddenly in an instant became wrong. He looked at these signs, signs showed him that now it is necessary to bet on one thing, he bet on it and suffered great losses. If he did not bet on something, because the sign showed that there would be a loss, he also lost, since there was a win, and he missed it.

Everything in his life began to fly away like those shelves in my closet. And there was nothing he could do about it. It was beyond his powers, just as I have with my closet. My father was sick and could not come to help me, the neighbors all had went on vacation to rest, and who had did not leave, were very busy, and no I could not help, and I couldn't do anything with my closet. The same thing happened to him in his life. Money from his accounts began to slip through his fingers like sand. And has already appeared threat of bankruptcy, loss of home, car, business, everything. Only time separated him from this outcome.

Then I was shown a series from «Mahabharata», in which Kunti said: «If we are denied love here, then why do we need the throne?», her sons, the boys, answered her, «Mother, what is this place? Seems nobody's glad we're here. It seems that we are strangers here and have no rights». It was in chronology of my novel on August 20, 2016.

The next day, both me and Ram were shown the 649–650th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev». There was a story about Banasura and his wife Vani, when Banasura was angry at Vani and began to strangle her, but then Shiva came and saved Vani. And in these series which were opened, as always, by method of random choice, without looking, Shiva said Vani that she should always be with Banasura and that she should never leave him alone. Also Shiva explained Banasura that taking any kind of decision, Banasura didn't want to think about Shiva and did not attach importance to his leadership. Shiva said that when Banasura needed protection, Shiva always came to him. Shiva said that he was doing not allow Banasura to do something destructive.

In those words, Ram was explained what was what. He was told that, having decided to squeeze me out of his space, he did not think about me. Also, he didn't think about my leadership, my running of his organization as a charioteer, navigator. That I've always protected him and kept him from doing something destructive that would bring on negative reactions to Ram. And in the same series, Parvati told Bhairava that he thought wrong about her. He considered her less important, treated her like an ordinary person, treated her with disrespect and insulted her and that now he should live forever as an ordinary person.

Through these words of Parvati Ram was told that he was wrong to send me to his harem with women whom he used as the contactless whores and treat me as something insignificant, and that now he will lose his, so to speak, greatness and become an ordinary little man. After that Parvati in these series said Banasura, that she will make him realize his insignificance, punished for his audacity and insolence, will break the arrogance in his thousands of hands and destroy him. And this was said to Ram through the words of Parvati. And so in his life began to happen.

Everything was going to his destruction. He began to lose all his assets, he stopped looking at the signs coming through me, as all signs began to lead him to collapse, and he began to decide what to do, but all his decisions and efforts were leading to even worse results. Whatever he did, it only made things worse. It seemed that luck had completely turned away from him and he was rushing rapidly to the begging and even to homelessness.

Also in the series through the words of Shiva to Banasura Ram was told that his main duty is to protect me and that he needs to sacrifice and make changes in his life if wants to be alive. I was told not to leave Ram alone ever. And then I decided that since Shiva himself asked me not to leave Ram, I should be with him. Well, in principle, it was the right decision, because according to my plan, drawn up by me before my birth in this my body, there ahead, literally ten months later, my Mahabharata began. In my Mahabharata I began to strike out the most important asuras from the list of asuras.

And I had to be with Ram to at least get this Mahabharata done. But in fact, Mahabharata was not the main goal of my plan. The main thing was to give my eternal husband a chance and also to show him who we are to each other, why we have become so, that we had in our past lives, and to show it not through me, but through asuras, because it is not a fact that he would believe me, but he would surely believe the asuras. I stayed with him.

23. The fortune favours the man who takes responsibility for his loved ones

When I was shown the series from «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» that I should not leave him alone and that I should be with him, I had thought that I overreacted in my letter, in which I said that I delete all folders with all his texts from my computer. I had thought that I should be with this Ram. Because Shiva told me so. It's been a few days since I sent that letter of mine. The cabinet was broken, and I was afraid to go near it. Shiva told me not to leave Ram. I opened the reply letter of that man to me and reread it.

In his letter he wrote: «Svetlana, you are a free person and you have the right to act according to your own understanding. Everything here on a voluntary basis, and maybe there is no gloss, but from the heart... Thank you for one your emotion». I reread the letter and saw that it says that I am a free woman and he thanks me for one emotion. Yes, it was an ordinary letter from ordinary person about quite banal situation in real life, but through these words to my awareness came the words of Ram, that he set me free, that this is my personal decision, that he had nothing to do with this my decision and that he tells me thank you for my one emotion, my love, which he no longer needs.

I sat down and began to write a response to Ram, putting into ordinary words my outrage of these his camouflaged words. I wrote, in particular, this: «I do not agree with you. You are trying to remove the responsibility of the person who has the resource to do something really real, but who does not do anything, and shift this responsibility to the person who is dissatisfied with this inaction. This is blame shifting, nothing more. Alas, it's a skillful manipulation of consciousness». I wrote it, and then began to re-read the words I wrote and saw many interesting things in them. I had saw that Ram had conducted a skillful manipulation of my consciousness and that he wants to make me guilty, responsible for the result of his manipulation although all of this did he. I had saw that I'm not going to leave him, because I was said about it by Shiva himself in the series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», and Shiva knows better.

I said in those words that his manipulation was acting only for a while and I'm with him again and I'm not going anywhere. Then in this letter I wrote: «You know, do not thank me for my one emotion. She is not the only one that I have. I have a lot of different emotions. If you say thank you for everything, then there will not be enough rescuers». In these lines I told him that he thought in vain that I am alone, without protection, without support, and he could do anything with me and behave completely with impunity. In these lines I told him that he thought in vain that he can spend with my mind their nefarious manipulation. I have my team of forces of light, I have a lot of different «emotions», that is, a lot of my assistants, somewhere, and even if I, being embodied in the body, do not see anything, they see everything from there and will protect me. I said that my team of forces of light is much bigger and stronger than his asuric organization, and that he does not have any rescuers to protect themselves from them. If you say thank you for everything, then there will not be enough rescuers.

Then I wrote this: «I want to smitherens you and your letter. But I'll spare you. I'm kind. Now». Then I told him that I very want to answer him to his action against me, that I can and want to defeat both him and his asuric organization, which is under him, but I will spare them. Now. Of course, he thought I was intimidating him, but all of his business in real life is really begun to crumble. And none of his attempts to stop this collapse was not successful. It was already going to his complete ruin and homelessness.

And he decided to carry out another manipulation. Words of Shiva and Parvati in the series about Banasura had no effect. My words in the reply letter about the fact that I want to smitherens him and his organization, but will spare them now, were not taken into consideration. And he did another manipulation of my consciousness to squeeze me out of his space. I went to the Hare Krishna program. There, during kirtan a request, an appeal to Krishna poured out of me to release me from this, somehow ending this situation, since I can no longer bear it. And at some point I folded my hands in Namaste, and from me by itself appeared a prayer for forgiveness of me.

In front of my inner eye was a picture in which I am dancing for him in front of a mirror with a handkerchief on my head. And I began to feel guilty before the Deities that I was doing it for someone else's man. I at a loss was looking at myself, at my Namaste and at my prayer. From within of me, a prayer to Krishna emanated by itself with a request to forgive me for what I was doing it for a man who is not my. All this time he was always my husband to me, but suddenly I am doing not feel him at all.

I saw me dancing for someone else's man. I was trying to get my mind back to being the one that I was dancing for him, and he's not someone else's man, but there's nothing I could do about it. I felt that I was guilty, because I danced in front of a man, who is not mine. Krishna disconnected me from Ram. I began to feel such a feeling of freedom, as if the spring was strongly tightened inside me, and then suddenly straightened and freely dangle, and it's so easy for me inside...

But this wonderful state did not last long. The next day the feeling of the presence of Ram inside of me and everywhere had returned to me. In fact my Ram had manipulated my consciousness. He had pressed my mind in order to forcing me appeal to the Deities and ask Krishna to free me from Ram. And he succeeded in this manipulation. I really did everything he wanted. And he was already rejoiced in anticipation that now all the failures will go away, because I will stop thinking about him. But Krishna removed this manipulation and its results.

The next day, when I went to the store, I saw a strange picture. The woman stood in the doorway of the shopping stall and did not enter it and did not go away. People came in, went out, and she stood and expected something. I asked her what was the matter, and she said she was waiting for a man to come into the shopping stall. She said that a man is a good sign and all men are lucky. And then I remembered how my psychologist and I did the training with the name «sandbox» and how I put in the center of the sandbox figure of a lion, and on his back put a hedgehog and said, «I sat on him and rode on him». In that training, the psychologist told me to pull out of the box with toys from «Kinder Surprise» those toys that I want to pull out, and put them in a box with sand, into a small sandbox. She told me that this sandbox is my world and I am free to put everything I want there. She told me to trust my feelings and put everything I wanted out of the box into the sandbox. When I placed the toys into this sandbox, into my world, she told me to carefully consider them and determine which toy reminds me of which character in my life. Then I looked at the little flirty cute hedgehog and said that I associate this hedgehog with me. I identified all the toys in this sandbox, but among them was not my future man. At that time I was alone, after the divorce. And the psychologist said that it is necessary to put into my world my future man. I again took the box of toys from «Kinder Surprise», carefully looked at them and saw a figure of a lion, who was lying, substituting his back. I immediately took this lion and put it in the center of my sandbox, my world. Hedgehog was standing next to lion. And then I looked at the hedgehog standing next to the lion, and at the back of the lion, whom as if was inviting a hedgehog to sit down. I planted a hedgehog on the back of a lion and said: «I sat on him and rode him». I saw that the lion came here so that the hedgehog would sit on his back and ride on this back. It was obvious that in such a situation they were all well. I remembered this picture and thought that the lion is always lucky when he carries this hedgehog on himself, and Ram is always lucky when he carries me on himself.

And I told that woman that not all men are lucky, that there are unlucky men who does not want to carry (не все мужчины удачливые и везучие; есть и невезучие мужчины, которые не хотят везти). In Russian, the words «везучий», «везет» have several meanings. One of the meanings of the words «везет», «везучий» is «the lucky man is the man who is lucky in life», for example, “he is lucky, luck is always with him”. And another meaning of the same words «везунчик», «везет» is “the man who carries at himself”, for example, “horse carries a rider”, “snail carries his house on himself”. That woman said that men are lucky (мужчины везучие), in the sense that men are always lucky. And I said that such a man is lucky, who carries at himself, who takes responsibility for his loved ones, for his wife, for his family and carries them on himself. I said that such man is lucky, who carries his woman on himself. And if a man refuses to carry his woman on himself, then he is not a lucky man. Thus through that conversation with the woman, I told Ram that he refused me and now receives reactions.

After that, at home, I remembered the story of the marriage of Kardama Muni to Devahuti, found this story in the «Shrimad Bhagavatam» and began to read it. There were words, which greatly impressed me, that she never saw Kardama Muni personally, but, once having heard from Narada Muni about him, she gave him her heart and decided that would marry only him. It was also written there that to deny an offering that has come of itself is not commendable even for one absolutely free from all attachment, much less one addicted to sensual pleasure. One who rejects an offering that comes of its own accord but later begs a boon from a miser thus loses his widespread reputation, and his pride is humbled by the neglectful behavior of others.

I remembered these words in connection with the fact that if Krishna is giving me to Ram, then I need to take him, but Ram saw in these words that I decided that I would marry only for him, and he decided to throw me into another man, destroying my self-confidence and laughing at me and my stupidity. I didn't know anything about it, but he's already started to make it happen. It was Janmashtami, the day of Lord Krishna's appearance; it was the city program, a lot of people. And Ram at that program hard was pressing my mind, in order to I thought about another man as about Ram. I've been fighting these thoughts during whole program, but they were stronger than me.

Asuras can manipulate people's minds. Ram is a great master in this art. Ram knows his business, and he thought he would kill several birds with one stone. His plan was like that. He decided that in order for these troubles to have bypassed and gone away, need to take my inner gaze from him. Just have to turn the arrow of my internal compass to some other man. For this, it is necessary to introduce into my consciousness the idea that this other man is the same Ram. My attention will be switched to another man, and Ram's streak of bad luck will end. He would manage to throw me in another man. Everything went on thumb. The technology is well developed.

You just manipulate the minds of these pitiful little people, press her consciousness to think of him as her husband, and you also press consciousness of another man, so that he thinks that this woman is interesting, it would be necessary to somehow approach her and shift into drive. Well, after that so it's everything as usual: candy-bouquets, love-sex. He would have done anything to get I married with that man.

And even the first time he was supporting the pressure on me and on the man, but for some reason he regretted me and refused this idea, although very actively spent it in life. So he conducted three successful manipulations of my mind in one week. First, when I wrote a letter about the removal of folders with texts for the site, then with a prayer to the Deities during kirtan at the program Hare Krishna and then on Janmashtami. And the third time was the pressure to throw me into that man, and him into me.

24. The fruitless attempts of Ram to pull out of a nosedive

The really just a great plan, but completely wrong, as these his attempts in this direction only were worsening his situation in his life. He was rapidly losing money, business, his house, car, everything were slipping through his fingers. And he thought how to live when you are left with nothing. He was looking at that woman, so refined, so sublime, so cultured, with whom he had no problems and worries, and thought, how would she treat him when he couldn't live like he used to?

He began to ask her mentally questions about it, but her answers — of course, to the usual questions, but with his hidden questions embedded in them — were showing that this version of events she did not like that she did not want any problems, that she likes a carefree existence, expensive courtship, smiles and pleasant communication. Also everywhere to them were the movies and the stories of the men who have become losers. He saw her reaction to such men, and this reaction did not please him at all.

He understood that, of course, she would have accepted him to her, because all summer he took her to restaurants, gave expensive gifts, beautifully looked after. The refined animal level of consciousness and life was at the highest level and some feelings still were. She will take him to her, but he is without money, and she will expect when he as a man will start to do something, because a man has to do something, somehow has to decide. And if a man does not, then he does not want this.

And she will wait, wait, and when he will again correspond to the image of this courageous, determined man. She will wait, when he will be driving her to restaurants, when he will be bringing her to his posh house, giving expensive flowers and gifts, but failures will haunt him at every turn, it will continue and continue, and there will be no end of his endless failures, because he made vaishnava-aparadha. The vaishnava-aparadha is an insult to a devotee of the Lord. As it is known, the one who committed the vaishnava-aparadha invokes to him countless misfortunes and his life can completely burn to ashes.

And here's a situation Ram came: he committed vaishnava aparadha. And even more. I am his eternal wife, and he exchanged me for refined animal consciousness of life and even threw me into another man. He seemed to say to me, «You said that you will be only my wife, well, now let's see how you run to another man». He himself was talking me «be my wife, become my wife», and then began to do manipulations that I left him, and in addition threw me to someone else's man.

This woman would have tolerated this situation for some time, would wait when the man will show the man qualities, but at him nothing would turning out, fatal bad luck would pursue him at every step. And at first she would get upset, and then feel sorry for him, and then she would stop respecting him and start to despise him. Ram had saw this whole scenario, he had saw that at some point she would not be able to cope with her disrespect for him, with contempt for him, for this slug, who seemed a good man, but turned out to be nobody.

Ram realized that after some time, she would become burdened by his presence in her home and he would have to somehow survive, if at all it would be possible. And he had thought he'd been married three times already, and his wives had left him three times. He thought that he had long since decided not to enter into such a relationship, close, so that his heart was not torn again. And his feelings for her, all that pleasant excitement began to pass, because he had saw himself in role of insignificance, whom others look upon as a nonentity and about whom they think that he is a nonentity. He saw in his mind this woman looking at him, poor and fatefully unsuccessful man, with regret and thinking of him: «Lord, he was such a good man, but turned out to be a nullity. What a pity! I was mistaken». On this his presence in her life rolled to its decline.

On August 19, 2016, he performed the first manipulation of throwing me out of his space, and then along with the shelves and the door from my closet, his business and all his affairs in his real life began to fell down. He was rapidly losing his assets. The impression was that someone simply stretched out his powerful hand to his wealth and methodically and coolly scoops it out to himself, leaving him nothing.

The second manipulation of squeezing me out of his life was also successful; it was August 21, 2016, at the Sunday city program Hare Krishna. The third time he decided to throw me into another man, having manipulated our minds, but at some successful moment for this business he felt sorry for me and stopped those actions. It saved him from total collapse.

Everything was collapsing. The woman he worshipped and exalted was demonstrating to him that without his money and good luck she doesn't need him, that she did not want other people's worries and, in General, she has the right to be happy, and that annoying interference with her cloudless happiness is not in her plans. He without his money was cannot add to her the happiness, and he saw that in this situation the prospects for their relationship are not present. Yes, his three wives had once ruthlessly abandoned him, and for him that time was like a nightmare. He did not want to repeat it, but this woman continued to excite him and get his flowing, even though he could see her attitude toward him when he would have become a beggar and homeless.

Hope continued to fester in his heart. He was eager to rectify the situation, but no his actions did not help, and the business with the house, with the car, with all his money, with everything irrepressibly was flowing into the wrong hands. And then through me he was shown the way to correct this situation. On August 29, I had wanted to remember what series I was watching when he, my Ram, plugged onto me.

I found a record from that day, January 25, 2016, in the group in VKontakte and began to watch a series of «Ramayana» for 2008. It was a series «Before choice. The power of Lord Rama's Holy name». In the series the king of Kashi has committed vaishnava-aparadha, ignoring the sage Vishvamitra in the Royal Assembly, right in front of Rama. And Rama immediately decided to punish the king of Kashi. The king realized the seriousness of his situation and ran to seek protection. He came running to mother of Hanuman and humbly asked her protection from the most Rama. She has had him this protection, and he was saved miraculously.

And in this series, Ram was shown the way out of his bleak situation. He decided to ask for help to the woman with whom he was all summer and with whom wanted to already tie his life. He tried in every possible way to pull out of her wish him good luck, in a normal household environment and in ordinary everyday situations, asking to her for help and wishes of leveling the situation, mentally asking to help him in the situation with the destruction of his business and his whole life.

He was saying nothing to her about his situation, but asuras know how, putting hidden meanings in the usual seemingly phrases, pull out of us the answers to the questions they need and our consent to the cases they need. When he mentally asked her to help him and asked her the usual everyday questions, she always gladly agreed to help. She did not know what kind of help he really needed. She simply was talking him «good luck to you» to his usual questions, in which the main thing was not the question itself, but what Ram was thinking about when asking this question. But no positive phrases with wishes of good luck did not bring any positive changes in his affairs, not a jot. He despaired and thought that this series of «Ramayana» was also another misinformation in a series of distorted signs that pass through me.

At the same time I threw a calling to everyone in the Universe with the appeal to help me. I called all who can help me in this situation, when I feel this Ram as my man, my husband, but for so long he is not with me and I already think that I probably really came up with all this. I thought that, if I'm so long in such a strange situation, and Krishna does not remove me from it, it means that it need for Krishna for something.

If I'm put here, then it's for some purpose. For some reason it happens and it happens to me. I thought Krishna is the cause of all causes. And if He put me there and keeps me there, then He needs it for something. And I have thrown a call with the invocation to the space. I said, «I call on everyone who can help me, who can protect me and my loved ones, who can be useful in my situation! Come to me and do your job!»

And then I had a desire to remember the time when Ram had just plugged onto me. I opened the letters which at that time I wrote one person about his site, and sat down to reread them. In the very first letter I saw that in those usual words I told Ram (Yes, I wrote the letter to one person, but as soon as at us with Ram that interaction began, everything in my life began to act as the tool for manifestation of our communication) that I show him his good luck, Yes, here so loudly. It was written in that letter. I in those words told Ram that I'm his good luck, his wife (the wife according to the Vedas brings to her husband's fortune), that I am his eternal wife, because there were words that I am under the impression that I read these lines a long time ago, such a strong feeling.

And I said Ram through those words in that letter, «What do you expect from that woman? She's nobody to you. For you, she's someone else's wife, because your wife is me. I'm your luck. And you should ask me, not her. Why should she bring her luck into your life, solve your problems with your business, when you are nobody to her, she is someone else's wife, and to be with her is a sin for you». He read this and thought that he had tried everything, but nothing works and maybe need to try to ask me.

He began to put pressure on my mind and carry out his manipulations of my consciousness to get my wishing him good luck. But none of his attempts in this direction did not work. He wondered: how can this be? Always before that all manipulations of my consciousness he was successful, and now I seem not to hear him. Three days in a row he asked that woman to give him her luck, but it only got worse. And on August 31, after I read that letter, he began to manipulate my consciousness forcing me give him my luck. But I did not seem to notice his action, as if all of his impacts were flowing past me and my mind.

25. Ram's exit from crisis

Three more days passed. His business smoothly and irrepressibly was swimming into the wrong hands, bankruptcy was coming with terrible force. I didn't react to his actions. And here September 2 in front of my inner eye appeared the female energy. This female energy was standing and standing and never left. Then few more female energies were added. I was surrounded by a crowd of women. And from them the word «whore» was heard in my direction, they seemed to call me prostitute. They seemed were saying me they are whores, and I'm whore also. They seemed were saying me «You're one of us, and there's a lot of us».

At first it really upset me. Ram came in and said I got it all wrong, but what's there to understand? I'm surrounded by a lot of feminine energy, by women, and they're clearly yours, and there are really a lot of them, and they really do smell that word «whore». And they claim that I am one of them, and there are many of them. In fact, all of his business was taking a turn for the worse. That woman could not help Ram, and these women too. I was doing not succumb to his manipulation, so I made my efforts to correct his situation, and they came to me to show me my place.

They seemed to say that he has a lot of them, such women, for sexual pleasures, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. They seemed to say that I am one of them and must obey the commands of the owner. If the owner wants me to wish him good luck and corrected his situation, that, they say, I, as one of his contactless whores, must fulfill his desire. But I didn't know about it. They stood in front of me all September 2 and then and the morning of September 3.

On the morning of September 3, I was greatly enraged by them and by their words. I decided that I do not tolerate such an attitude to myself, that I am not like them, and I do not want to be in their ranks. I had stood in front of the mirror, looking into my eyes, knowing that Ram is connected to me and sees everything I see and I had told him: «Choose: either they or I». After that I sat down to write them an ultimatum. I ordered everyone in his asuric organization to look through my eyes and read what I write. I started writing.

I wrote this: «You are sleazebag! And this is you my husband? How many wives do you have? Million? I don't want to be in that million! Go away, I don't want to be in your harem. Get lost! Everybody, look here! Do you see what I write to you? Look, I'm ordering everyone. Look here! Listen to my command! Me or them! Either they go, or I do! Decide! He's mine or nobody's! He's my man or he is no one's man! Choose, scum! And don't expect me to respect you! It will never happen! Hear that? He is mine, everywhere and always, completely and wholly, or go on the dick, but not on his dick! Do you understand everything?»

«Everyone look here, don't dare look away! Watch everyone! I say to all of you! He is mine, everywhere and always, completely and wholly, or go on the dick, but not on his dick! I accepted him as my husband, and he's my husband. He is my always and everywhere. And I'm his wife, and there can be no others. Ram, how dare you behave like this? Why did you ever tell me, «Be my wife, become my wife»? I became your wife. Do your duties as my husband! You are my husband. You have a duty to me, and I have a right to demand it. Fulfill your duties and obligations to me!»

I had turned my anger at the paper. I was very relieved. I remembered that today is September 3, and our with him that same heavenly wedding was from 3 to 4 March, that is, today six months from the event, and I decided to celebrate this holiday. With a light heart, feeling that I did my job, I went to the store. And at this time in his asuric organization there was an active discussion of my ultimatum. And since he had already pressed all the levers, tried everything, but nothing happened, the business was going downhill, he decided to accept my terms. And as soon as they accepted my terms, his manipulation of my consciousness had worked.

I suddenly wanted to call that karate coach. I thought that in this telephone conversation with the coach I would congratulate Ram with six months of our heavenly wedding. I called, said the usual catchphrase «How you doing?», and he started complaining about big problems in his life that everything was piled on him and you can not see any tiniest window, that does not know what to do, all bad and hopeless. Every day it gets darker. Today is better than tomorrow. I was surprised: why would it? I knew how he lived. He has his hands into everything. He has a good three bedroom apartment, one wife all life, the children have grown up, the work is beloved, he has everything, life is adjusted, but he don't slow down in the phone and complains that everything collapses and everything that is going wrong.

I asked him if there was any hope. He answered that there was hope, but affairs for two months. My first reaction was to wish him good luck and correct the situation. I said that I wish him very soon and quickly to get rid of everything that fell on him, that all this fell from him, that everything was decided for the benefit. Also I commissioned Universe a providing him the result, ideal for everybody. And I went to the store to shop. I bought a cake, sweets, and many goodies, to celebrate six months of our heavenly wedding. About half an hour I wandered around the store and then went home.

And in this time his affairs began to improve. The crisis was over. It happened by itself. He could not influence anything. He could not do anything, and he was already pulled to the bottom of life, but here, when I in a telephone conversation wished good luck to that coach, and through those words and to Ram, suddenly the situation has suddenly changed, and in his favor and went up incrementally.

I was walking home and saw an ad on the pole, something about the Olympics and karate. I immediately call that coach again and say: «Well, well, well, the Olympics will be, and you will participate there?» I am funny, isn't it? But I with full confidence in a voice speak to him: «You there will go to the Olympic Games and you will be there the champion». He laughs into the phone: «What a cool woman you are. It feels like you have a lot of feminine energy. Your feminine energy just gushes out of you. You have a lot of it». And he said something about the moment, they say, I somehow got at some point. And I answer him: «I always get at the right time».

It he, Ram told me through the words of the coach that he was shocked by such a completely incredible course of events that at the moment when he thought that now there will be terminal shot and he will be left with nothing, suddenly at that very moment I appeared and wished him good luck and he pulled out of the dive. Everyone was impressed with that. I didn't know anything. I was just walking home from the store. But then I remembered that I was going to cook soup, bought everything in the store, but forgot about the carrot.

And I went into the vegetable stall. There was the owner of that stall. I took one carrot, and he said, «You're a big person with a capital letter». And I, looking at this one carrot and on a bag on my shoulder, stuffed with all sorts of sweets and Goodies, was confused and said: «I came for one carrot». And he says: «Next time come, take a carrot and tell me to give you everything. And with a big discount». I bought a carrot, came home and began to sort out the details.

Because then in front of the mirror I said to him, let him decide who I am to him, and asked him what kind of person he think I am. And then through the owner of the vegetable stall he said me to come next time, take a carrot and tell him to give me everything, and with a big discount. Then I thought that in this way he told me that he loves me and that others he does not need, that he throws them all off, removes them from him. Then he decided that his presence in the life of that woman is ended and that also he will throw off women whom he used as the contactless whores. The realization of this brought peace to my soul, and I happily celebrated six months of our heavenly wedding. His affairs began to level, and everything went uphill.

Ram`s business took off, he pulled out of the dive, and perspectives were clearly visible ahead. If you think that immediately Ram magically fell in love with me and again made me an offer to become his wife, I hasten to disappoint you: this has not happened again. But although his affairs began to improve, he was given some words from my letter and from a series of Banasura. In my reply letter, I wrote Ram (Yes, the letter was addressed to an ordinary person, but the meaning of those words was meant for Ram): «I want to smash you and your letter to smithereens. But I'll spare you. I'm kind. Now».

How did I write that I wanted to destroy him, Ram, and his organization, which is underneath him as a neural network? Who am I? But Ram knew that I did not say anything without a reason. If I said so, then it means something. And he remembered the words of Parvati in those series about Banasura. This is when Bhairava, the manifestation of Shiva, was put by Shiva to protect Kailas and his inhabitants during the departure of Shiva. When Bhairava exceeded his authority, Parvati became angry with him. After all Parvati shouted to Bhairava: «You are a part of my lord, so I will not fight with you». She wished him to live on Earth for ages ordinary man, and this immediately same happened.

Ram wondering what those words might mean because they were said to him on my behalf. But nothing came to his mind, and then I showed him clearly what was actually said. September 3, I wished Ram to quickly get free of what has fallen on him. And immediately after my words he came out of a critical situation. And the next night I found a lecture on the Internet. In this lecture, a devotee of Krishna, Radha Damodara das, was speaking about what was with him at the dawn of his Krishna consciousness, during the Soviet years, when Hare Krishna was forbidden in Russia. Radha Damodara das talked about the persecution of Krishna's devotees in the Soviet years.

I listened, listened, and then I remembered the stories which my second husband said me. He some time was in mental hospital in his young years, not to go to war in Afghanistan. And he told me a lot about what they were doing to him. When we got married, he was periodically called there to check whether everything was all right with him. And I was going there with him to support him and telling the doctors that he was fine. And every time we had to go to the doctor's office and answer their provocative questions, how he sleeps, whether he works, how is he, and so on. And we always had gotten off. But one day we were invited to the office of the chief physician.

It so happened that I was sitting just in front of the doctor, he kept asking his nasty questions, I answered, and then he started to say me that if the husband behaves appropriately and he seems like a perfectly normal person, it means nothing, because if he was in a mental hospital, then at any moment he could buck. I lived with him for 14 years together. He has always been an adequate, normal person. Everything was like everyone else. And in the future, when I divorced him and he married again, he was fine, normal person. Yes, he is not like everyone else. He is not interested in the race for money and he wants to return to God, but this is not a mental diagnosis. This means that he has gone through it all over the course of many lives and does not want to return there anymore. And I understand him well. But from the point of view of people trying to squeeze the drops of happiness from everything around, he, of course, gets out of the general ranks.

But the chief physician was continuing this conversation and looking me in the eye. And suddenly, at some point in this conversation, I really felt inside me as if some tentacles. I had felt, I myself do not know how, that inside of me as if something disgusting is trying to grope something. It's like there's something inside me and it's digging around looking for something. And there was such a nasty feeling, that it's something so nasty and it brazenly invaded my personal space by their sticky vile growths and eyes. I really had felt the tentacles inside me, it made me angry, and I told him very sharply that he had no right to do it. Right there everything passed, and he quickly finished that conversation.

I listen to a lecture about what they did in the mental hospitals with the devotees of Krishna. I remembered that disgusting feeling, I had felt disgusted, I remembered how I was sitting in front of the chief doctor, and I mentally ended up there, mentally sat on the same place, in the same situation and began to look him in the eye. I mentally sat opposite that doctor and looked into his eyes, and from my eyes into his eyes went fire. Fire was hard and was going into his eyes. This fire was burning those tentacle-eyes. This lasted a few minutes. Then I felt that job done. He is no more. He's just the mulch. Kaput, blammo, busted! We had sell him as junk. Thank God. We got that scum off. This scum was prescribing sulfazine, insulin shock to my husband, had unlimited power and was making him incapable man.

And I sat down to do my business with great satisfaction. So to him! Eye for an eye, just like it says in the Bible. All asuras in asuric organization of Ram had alarmed. That chief doctor was a great specialist with those tentacles-eyes and great powers in that hospital. And here he was sent to the scrap. His usual eyes, of course, remained. But he no longer had those eyes with which the asuras climb into the minds, the life files and the subtle, energetic body of other people. He became an ordinary mediocre little man.

All asuras in his asuric organization just freeze up. How did this happen? Ram saw it all, because he was connected to me and he had access to those layers of my life. He saw how I sat down opposite the doctor and burned his internal eyes. I struck out such a big special from their ranks, and I did it in a couple of minutes. They did not expect this from me. No one even knew that I was capable of such a thing, but I did it. So Ram saw what I could do with him and what those words in that letter of mine and those series about Parvati and Bhairava could bring him.

But I told them that he's my man or he is no one's man. What does he is no one's man means? It means that I would burn all asuric in him and make him an ordinary person, who is not able to intermeddle in people's minds and see their thoughts and wishes. He had imagined himself without those abilities. He can't sit in other people's thoughts, rule everything. He can't manipulate their minds. He can't have sex with women whom he used as the contactless whores. He can't conceive asuric babies in such sex without personal presence, can't not be able to extract the conceived asuric babies from the bodies of ordinary women. He can't be able to influence people, forcing them to do what is right for him and not for those people. And in addition he would go bankrupt and become a bum, not being able to suppress the consciousness of other people, so they performed his commands.

I said that he is mine, everywhere and always, completely and wholly, or let them go on the dick, but not on his dick. These words became clear to me too. After all, without those abilities, he can not even see this neural network, which is under him. And would come another great asur, RA, as they call them, and would take his asuric organization, and those non-contact whores would go on the dick, but not on his dick, but on the dick of the one who would come instead of him, not capable of anything.

He imagined in his mind the pictures of the life that he would have received if on September 3 I had not saved him. He had already seen it in the mind. He has lost his organization, lose everything, including his asuric abilities. He live with this woman in her house, not as the full owner of this house and this life, but as a gigolo, at her expense and according to her rules, with the constant risk of being homeless on the street. Without asuric abilities and the ability to see other people's thoughts, he can not see what she is thinking. He can not direct her thoughts in the direction he need and do not know what she is thinking about him or if she has other men. This helplessness and uncertainty, the feeling of the lack of a solid bottom underfoot and lack of clear life guidance and at least some hope of improving the situation gradually destroy his self-esteem. He can not cause her sexual languor and desire when he needs it, and do not see her thoughts during sex, what his actions in sex she wants. It's a total collapse. Now Ram knew what my words meant. I also knew it.

26. Gurudev's reply to my first letter

On September 3, 2016, Ram miraculously pulled out of the dive when I wished him good luck in that phone conversation with the karate coach, and his affairs began to gradually improve. And when the critical moment passed, and his business began to grow, through the words of owner of the vegetable stall he said me that I am a big person with a capital letter. He said me to come next time, take a carrot and tell him to give me everything, and with a big discount. Then he decided to throw out his life and space this woman he had the whole summer, and those women, whom he used to pump feminine energy out of them on a regular basis, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. The next day, September 4, I remembered the doctor, who was climbing into other people's thoughts and files and rummaged there conducting his vile encroachments. I burned his eye at the energy plane of existence and made him completely useless for the asuric organization of Ram. And then I wanted to listen to a lecture of my Gurudev, Indradyumna Swami.

As usual, I went online and by method of random choice, without looking choose one from the set of lectures of my Gurudev. I sat down and began to listen. And somewhere in the middle of the lecture, I understood with great surprise that in this lecture my Gurudev speaks to me personally and answers all my questions, which I stated in my email to him, which I sent to him on August 15, right before the series of events, when Ram began to squeeze me out of his space and when a fatal bad luck struck him, which almost ruined his life completely.

On August 15, I sent Gurudev an email. on August 19, Ram managed the first manipulation of my consciousness. For more than two weeks he feverishly tried to bring his business to some balance, but all his assets, his real estate, his movability, all his money and opportunities were floating away into the wrong hands. Ram was thinking, «I will go out», but he was doing not succeed, as if the world had gone mad and everything was turned upside down. On 3 September he miraculously pulled out of the dive and decided to end the relationship with that woman and the contactless whores. September 4, I had burned the eye of doctor, who was a great special in asuric organization of Ram. And now the answer of my Gurudev came. When I was watching this lecture, I was seeing my Gurudev telling me to be with Ram and that I would be completely protected.

In my letter to Gurudev, in particular, I said: «I love Krishna, however I want to get happiness here in this material world. But it doesn't happen and I feel depression yet more because of this. I feel myself in a bind without any exit. I'd like to find some supporter for I could have power and desire to go to Krishna. I realize more and more there is nothing to be caught here. Though I want. And this material desire doesn't disappear. I am afraid that this material desire can draggle me from life into life in this world and at last could draggle forever. And I am so weak. You blessed me (when I asked You) when You visited us last time. And I remind it and think that maybe Krishna will pull out me anyhow from this hopeless state? Thank You that You inspire us for so long time, in particular me, for the service to Krishna. Your disciple, Vinodavani dasi».

Yes, the usual words, the usual letter, as if about anything. But I for the past six months interaction with Ram already adept at deciphering ordinary speech with the purpose to isolate from it a hidden meaning in it, and to some extent I began consciously to weave in allegorically my thoughts into my speech. Usually we communicate with him mentally, but when we need to say something out loud to each other, we usually communicate through the speech of other people, allegorically. I am speaking to Ram through other people and telling him about my desires and thoughts to him in a veiled form, between ordinary words. And he also speaks to me through the words of other people. True, it is not always possible to understand exactly which meaning is embedded in ordinary words, since the same phrase can be understood in different ways.

In this letter for my Gurudev I did not write that I have a relationship with some man, without his personal presence in my life, at a distance. I did not write that I think that he really lives here somewhere and I am sure that I with him are an eternal couple. I did not write that we had some kind of heavenly wedding and you were there, my Gurudev, and even you blessed us with your danda, and there was Krishna, Radharani. I did not write that Nrisimhadev had connected me with Ram marital ties. I did not write all this to him, but I wrote to him in a veiled form that «I love Krishna, however I want to get happiness here in this material world». I want to be with this Ram, although he is an asur.

«But it doesn't happen and I feel depression yet more because of this». Here I told Gurudev that I with Ram have a relationship, I feel him as mine. This feeling is very real, but he is sorely missed here in my real life. There is no him, but I feel him constantly, he is always with me, I constantly see him in front of me on my inner screen, he is standing there, but there is no him in my real life, and from this I fall into a great despondency. That's what I said in the words of my letter. «I feel myself in a bind without any exit». Because no clearance in this situation is not visible at all, it lasts a long time, I constantly feel this person, but he in real life with me is not present.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

«I'd like to find some supporter for I could have power and desire to go to Krishna». Here I told Gurudev that I really want this man, whom I constantly look at, this Ram, to come to me and that we become together. Because the support for a woman is her husband. And in these words about the support I told Gurudev that I want to get this Ram as my husband, because he is my husband, and he came to me and we became together. In these seemingly ordinary and innocent words, I said exactly that to my Gurudev.

And then I wrote that «I realize more and more there is nothing to be caught here. Though I want. And this material desire doesn't disappear». That is, I said that Yes, I understand everything, Krishna consciousness, I have to go into the spiritual world, and I really have a desire to break out of the material world and return into the spiritual world, especially after this Ram spent with me force methods. He was pressing all my women's energy centers and causing at me a mode of constant oestrus, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization, on that animal level, intending to make me a weak-willed toy in their hands. And then I came to realization that if he to me it has done that what then others will make with me for whom I am nobody? I told him then: «You are my Tiramisu, lift me to heaven».

And really I then had a desire to leave this material world, where he did this to me, and he is mine, I so it feels, and what for to sit here? This world holds nothing for us. It's Kali Yuga. He is my man, my husband. All other men are not mine. If the other men are not mine, then why do I need them? But if my man behaves with me like this, what should I expect from others? There's nothing really here for me anymore. And in those words to Gurudev I said that Yes, I want to the spiritual world, but I still so drawn to this Ram, just impossible, just here pulls and I can't do anything about it. My internal compass constantly is set on him. No matter how much I tried to break away from him, still the arrow of my internal compass firmly looks at him.

And I told Gurudev that the desire does not passing. I still want to be with him, despite the fact that he is an asur and despite the fact that he behaved with me very bad, still nothing with this desire can not do. This desire is stronger me. «I am afraid that this material desire can draggle me from life into life in this world and at last could draggle forever. And I am so weak». In these words I said to Gurudev: what if he will come to me? If he will do not come to me, then the situation will be easier, because Krishna will somehow lead me, unfathomable are the ways of God. But if he will come, and he is a man, and I am a woman, he is a husband, I am a wife, and the wife goes where the husband goes, and he is an asur and wants to enjoy this material world. But my path is the path to Krishna.

And I was thinking: if he actually comes to me? I will go with him, but I don't know what kind of life it will be. I was thinking, what if, living with him, I forget about who I am, where I'm going, I will forget my true desires? I can wallow in this material world, in this Kali Yuga, which after some time will spin its flywheel, but I don't want to go there. That's what I told Gurudev. And I said, «You blessed me (when I asked You) when You visited us last time. And I reminds it and think that maybe Krishna will pull out me anyhow from this hopeless state? Thank You that You inspire us for so long time, in particular me, for the service to Krishna. Your disciple, Vinodavani dasi».

I sent this letter to Gurudev on August 15, and on September 4, after that series of events, he replied in the form of his lecture, given to him long before all this happened. In this letter I wrote about one thing, but actually I mentally asked something completely different. And in this lecture I saw the answers of my Gurudev, how he would say to me: «Vinodavani, you write to me that you want this man as your husband, well, I agree with this, I bless you for this. Fear nothing, you will always be protected, Krishna will protect you, and you will always be safe». I saw this answer of my Gurudev in his lecture. I well calmed down... And really, Gurudev through the words of the lectures had answered to me.

27. My Gurudev's offer to Ram

But the truth is that in the same lecture my Gurudev offered Ram to marry me. He had made Ram a wedding proposal. By that time Ram had already made a big discount, closed all those pages of his life, where there was that woman and those contactless whores, freed from them and became a free man. And as soon as Ram firmly decided and did it, he became free, and then my Gurudev through the lecture did Ram wedding proposal, as the father of Devahuti suggested for Kardama Muni the hand and heart of Devahuti, because she once heard about Kardama Muni and gave him her heart and decided that she would marry only him. Devahuti told about this decision and wish her father, and the father came to Kardama Muni and suggested her hand and heart.

And my Gurudev acted in the same role, in the role of my spiritual father, offering Ram to marriage me. He described me, my dignities, in veiled form, metaphorically. Asuras perfectly masters the art of cloaking hidden meanings in ordinary words, allegorically, and my Gurudev talked to Ram their allegorical language. He told Ram that I am highborn, belong to a noble family, I'm under the auspices of powerful bloodlines, I have some wonderful blessings, abilities. He told Ram that with me Ram will always be successful and lucky, will always be a winner, will always be protected and in complete safety. And such a marriage, when a father offers his daughter to the groom, is considered prestigious.

My Gurudev (as in the story of the marriage of Kardama Muni to Devahuti described in the Srimad Bhagavatam in the Third song in Chapter 22) in this lecture said to Ram: «Ram, graciously be pleased to listen to the prayer of my humble self, for my mind is troubled by affection for my daughter. She is seeking a suitable husband in terms of age, character and good qualities. She fixed her mind only upon you. Therefore please accept her, for I offer her with faith and she is in every respect fit to be your wife. To deny an offering that has come of itself is not commendable even for one absolutely free from all attachment, much less one addicted to sensual pleasure. One who rejects an offering that comes of its own accord but later begs a boon from a miser thus loses his widespread reputation, and his pride is humbled by the neglectful behavior of others».

«Ram, I heard that you were prepared to marry. Please accept her hand, which is being offered to you by me, since you have not taken a vow of perpetual celibacy. You dreamed of a worthy wife, such as my daughter, and now she is in front of you. You must accept her and not give up what your prayers have brought you. I'm offering you the wife you've been dreaming of. Do not reject my offer, otherwise you, in need of a wife, will be forced to look for her in another place, at someone else who can do with you not so courteous, and then you will have to know the shame of humiliation». Thus my Gurudev showed Ram such respect and such trust, coming to us with him in such situation. Thus my Gurudev had cared about my welfare and my protecting.

September 3 Ram had a critical day when he almost went bankrupt and homeless. But by some miracle I appeared at the right time. Through a conversation with a karate coach I wished Ram good luck, so that his affairs would get better and he would pulled out of the dive. He decided to break up with the woman he was with all summer. He clearly saw all their further interaction. After his bankruptcy and the loss of money and at home, she would have taken him to her, but after a while she would began to tire of his presence in her house, and very delicately, with a very weighty and plausible excuse, for example due to the arrival of guests to her, she would freed her house from him.

And he made a firm decision to end it all, after which my Gurudev by accidentally found on the Internet lectures made a wedding proposal to Ram, describing my dignities and assuring Ram that Ram will always be all right, he will always be successful with me, lucky, in complete safety and that all his affairs will be successful. Gurudev told through the words of that lecture, allegorically, that I have many brilliant blessings.

For example, he said that the burns never bother me. He said that I as a Hanuman can safely set fire to my tail and burn Lanka. And this is really my tactic in the destruction of the asuras and all evil spirits. Many lives I was crossing out sinners and criminals of universal scale and sent them into the best existence, in a new capacity. I was letting them set fire to my tail. And then I was burning all Lanka, like Hanuman. That is I was causing their fire to myself. I was risking myself to provoke those whom I had to destroy. I was pulling them into my space and I made them have a strong desire to kill me, to destroy me completely, but due I was getting the right and opportunity to wipe them off the face of the world and to delete them from the ranks of evil forever.

And no «burns», that is, their influence in my direction, did not harm me in any way. I only allowed «to burn my tail», but it only gave me the right to deal with them and did not affect me. And Gurudev in their allegorical language said this to Ram.

He also said that I have such a blessing as the ability to create. That is, I'm not just killing all that evil cruel creatures, but I'm also determining their future existence, I'm telling them who they're going to be in their future lives and what they will do. And since I always tell the truth, the opposite is true: everything I say becomes true. And just by voicing their future, I create it.

Also my Gurudev said that I have the ability to heal. I not only kill their negative, asuric nature in them, but also turn them into devotees of the Lord. As the Bible says, «So the last will be first». That's what I was doing. I didn't just removing those who were the last. I was making them first, who will stand with the flag raised up and went to spread the consciousness of God all over the worlds. And this said my Gurudev — that I can heal.

He also told Ram that I always use the right words at the right time, that I never used the wrong words. Thus my Gurudev told Ram that I am the woman he was looking for, because I am faithful. I never used the wrong words. What is right for a woman? It's her husband. All the other men are wrong for her. And my Gurudev told Ram that by taking me as his wife, he would get what he wanted — a faithful wife who would never «use the wrong words», that is, would not even look at other men as men.

Gurudev also told Ram that «when Hanuman spoke, he had no problems with his body, he always remained much focused». Ram learned from these words of my Gurudev that everyone who is with me is successful and that I am always focused on my husband. I'm not focused on my feelings, on getting happiness and my pleasant sense of self in a relationship. For me, the main thing is not a relationship, but my husband, the man with whom I am.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

In these words my Gurudev said to Ram that I do not care if a man fits into desired by me relationship format, and I don't change him to other man if something goes wrong in that relationship. My Gurudev said that I am always clearly focused on my husband, and my Gurudev voiced this as a great female dignity. From these words of my Gurudev I learned that all these seminars about how to find the right man who will fit your measurements, it is fundamentally the wrong decision. From these words of my Gurudev I learned that woman should not to change men like socks off, focusing only on her desires.

And in these words my Gurudev said to Ram: «Look, the woman you were with is aimed at getting happiness. She says „Every woman is born to be happy, and I am Worth It“. And she with a light heart would part with you when she would have realized that you have nothing to help, that you will be a fatal loser. And all because she is looking for happiness for herself, and she does not need you as you are. She needs her own happiness».

«She is not focused on her man, but on herself, on her pleasure, and she is not at all what you were looking for, though in your eyes and appears the top of perfection and femininity. But it's just a deception, a fraud, a disguise to eat the next victim like you. But I'm offering you a pure diamond. I'm offering you my spiritual daughter. She's not as feminine in appearance as that woman, but she's a true woman. Accept what your prayers have brought you. You will always be successful with her».

Gurudev also told Ram that «there is power in his words», there is power in the words of Hanuman. In fact, it was said here that those men who are with me, that is, my words, have strength, in all spheres. They have strength and in achieving their goals, and in self-appraisal, in self-respect, and in sexual sphere. In fact, it was said here that I do not lower men, introducing them the idea that they are no one, that others are in some way better, do not compare them with others and do not force men for the sake of gain to break themselves, their nature, that I support my husband in the activity, in which his heart. And that I don't make impotent out of them. That there is power in my words. Ram received so many assurances that he was lucky to be with me and always will be lucky, that he will always be safe as my husband, and Ram took all this into consideration.

When he made a strong-willed decision to close those pages with that woman, the action of that injection to love that woman was canceled. And his presence in her life was over. But that woman continued to be with him, she did not understand what happened, why such a nice, so cultured, such a decent and courteous man, burning with feelings for her, suddenly disappeared and does not show himself and he seemed to have left her. And she held onto him with her thoughts.

To get her out of space of Ram, I was sent to a neurologist, about the lack of air I have since Ram had plugged onto me. Neurologist prescribed me vitamins and some light medicine for nerves. She told me that before start to take vitamins and light medicine for nerves I must to read about it on the Internet, I'm a proofreader. She told me that I have a philological education and I must to read on the Internet.

When I came home, I spread that conversation into components and came to the conclusion that through the words of a neurologist I was told to «read him on the Internet», because I have a philological education, because I'm a proofreader. I thought that in Russian, the word «филологический» («philological») is consonant with the English word «feel». I thought that I as a Universe level corrector have well developed feeling, that is, sensation, scanning of people and events, I am good sensor. I thought that I can watch on the Internet of thoughts, in that space and that I am strongly recommended to look at him there. I focused my attention on Ram and focused my inner eye on him.

At first everything was calm, quiet, and then suddenly I felt a sharp approach of the woman. She was as if the blonde. Against the background of her, I felt like nobody. I felt so bitter, I immediately came out from my internal screen, from that Internet of thought and was very angry, and then turned on the Mrityunjaya Mantra and all day and all evening singing it, I do not know why. In the evening I realized why I suddenly wanted to sing this mantra: I thus was protecting that woman from reactions, as my resentment and anger at her could cause her damage. But, as the neurologist said, I can correct, since I am a corrector, I see myself objectively and assess the situation. Apparently, I was correcting this situation with the singing of Mrityunjaya Mantra so that this woman would not be killed because of my anger.

In the evening she suddenly came to me on my internal screen and said: «Sorry». She understood something and left Ram. Thus ended her presence in his life. The effect of this injection «to love her» was implemented, and Ram wondered what it was, what kind of obsession that he had been focused on that woman for so long. And it was really an obsession, it was the effect of that injection «to love her» on him that he loved her.

This woman was needed that, like Hanuman, I was able to «burn my tail». Hanuman with his burning tail set fire to the whole island of Lanka and burned it to the ground. I also «set fire to my tail», set myself up under the blow of the asuras, in order to burn them later. This woman was needed in order to Borka, the then leader of the Moscow organization of the asuras, and Bhishma, the elder among the asuras, decided to put me at their asuric totalizer. To break me down on their tote, they called for the strongest destroyers of female nature. I needed them all to prove themselves so that I following summer deleted them from the lists of the asuras and sent in their future incarnation as Krishna's devotees. This woman was needed in order to my Ram, being fascinated by this woman, to abandon me and give me to Borka and Bhishma, so that they would put me on a tote and all strongest destroyers of female nature would gather there. That's what that woman was for. It was necessary that these destroyers go to break me and show themselves. This woman was needed in order to Borka and Bhishma saw: I am nobody, I'm just a small fry, a small bitch in harem of Ram, that he has a woman, and everything is serious there, and so I can easily be put at their asuric totalizer, which they did by signing this sentence for themselves.

28. Ram accepted my Gurudev's offer

When Ram finished relationship with that woman and she also left his space, we cancelled the action of that injection «to love her», which worked all that summer 2016 and because of which Ram felt love for her. But when the effect of this injection was over, he was remembering this time in bewilderment and thought what happened to him? Yes, the woman is good, but not so much that he, being of sound mind and under no duress, so would have dived into her and even thought about marrying her. He with great relief was thanking heaven that he got this situation, which is like a cold shower to cool his feelings and helped to look at the situation objectively and see that in case of his failure this woman quietly would disown him in favor of her peace, calm, measured life and desire to be happy.

Also at the same time I burned that eye of that chief physician who was a big special in Ram's asuric organization. And after that my Gurudev, through the words of a lecture which came to me quite by accident, as is usually the case with me, made a wedding proposal for Ram, describing my merits and blessings that I have. My Gurudev told Ram, that I am the woman of whom he prayed to the heavens and whom was got by his prayers. My Gurudev told Ram that he should accept this mercy, that if he refuses, he will seek and ask in other places in the future, but will only receive humiliation and scorn.

Ram took note of everything my Gurudev said, but he was not in a hurry to make a decision, because he had no feelings for me. And how is it to marry a woman to whom you have no warm feelings at all? Yes, he remembered that in the spring some feelings for me he was, and remembered about the dream with the words «definitely» when he was looking for his woman and found her in me, but since we gave him an injection «to kill love», he could not feel the love for me that he actually had. Love actually was, because we are with him an eternal couple, and we always have love for each other, but that injection acted as a plug that did not allow this love to go out into the sphere of feeling, injection «to kill love» firmly detained this love somewhere deep inside, without its manifestation on the external level.

Ram was very hesitant about what to do in this situation. And then he was shown something through the TV series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev». On September 7 I had wanted to watch «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», and from 820 series of this TV series by method of random choice, without looking, 53–58th series opened. These series tell the story of Chandra when he married Revati, the daughter of Prajapati Daksha. And although he married Revati, he did not love her and treated her very badly, as if she was not his wife at all, but furniture. Revati suffered greatly from this attitude of Chandra.

Revati was suffering from such an attitude of the man she married and whom she regarded as her husband, but who was not looking at her as his wife. And when they came to Prajapati Daksha for some big event and it was time to come back, Revati refused to do it, because in her father's house she felt like a personality, and in the house of Chandra she felt like only empty furniture, and glass, which does not even stop look of Chandra. Prajapati Daksha, having learned the reason for this behavior of Revati, cursed Chandra, and Chandra fell and his vitality began to leave him. Chandra's death became very close.

But then came Shiva and saved Chandra, but said that it is impossible to annul the curse of Daksha, that Chandra has committed a crime, as he married Revati at will and therefore had to give her the status of wife, but did not. Shiva said that Chandra's crime is unforgivable, and that thanks to the help of Shiva the effect of the curse of Daksha, of course, declined, but not disappeared. Shiva said that Chandra did not fulfill his duty and therefore should be punished for this crime. Chandra immediately fell at Shiva's feet, begged for mercy, and said he gives his word that in the future he would respect Revati and give her the status she deserved.

Also in those series it was said that Prajapati Daksha was going to create a new planet instead of Chandra, Moon, and if that new planet would take the place of Chandra, there would be a disaster and Chandra's death would be inevitable. From these words RAM learned that what he pulled out of the dive and his business went to growth, it is only a mercy to him and that the danger again to suffer a complete collapse has not disappeared completely, that at any moment again this disaster can come and that even he because of this can meet his death. In those series, Mahadev said that Chandradev's crime is unforgivable, but for the sake of the welfare of the Creation Shiva gives Chandra life. Shiva told Chandra that although he could not free him from the curse of Prajapati, he could place him on his head and thus protect Chandra from this curse. And so the month began to show off on Shiva's head, Chandra.

From this story, Ram realized that the risk of the disaster continues to threaten him and that the proposal of my Gurudev should be accepted. He weighed all the pros and cons for a long time. The biggest disadvantage in this situation, because of which he did not want to be with me, was the lack of at least some kind of warm feelings at Ram to me. Alas. But in that story at «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», Chandra said he would respect Revati in the future and give her the status she deserves. Those words spoke about respect, not love. Ram thought that he will try to find something in me for which he can respect me. Ram thought that he does not want back in the same or similar situation with the complete collapse of his life and must do everything to prevent such an outcome, especially as it was not even just about the crash of life but of his death.

And Ram decided to accept offer of my Gurudev. He did this and accepted me again as his wife, determined that he would look for what he could respect me for. Ram decided that he will show me the attitude that corresponds to this status. After that my team and I somewhere up there canceled the injection on Ram, which was killing his love for me. And to him gradually began to return warm feelings for me, but it began to happen not immediately, but very, very gradually.

In the meantime, Ram told himself and the world that he would accept me as his wife, respect me and be with me as with his wife. At the same time, my dad came to me and fixed my wardrobe, strengthening the shelves in it and putting the door in place, which was a sign, such a milestone that Ram came back to me and we are again together. So opened a new page of our history.

On September 7, Ram, having weighed all the pros and cons and having considered the proposal of my Gurudev, which came to us in the lecture of my Gurudev on September 4, decided to agree and immediately began to perform his conjugal duties. First of all, he decided to fix my closet and press the consciousness of my dad, in order to he stopped to reject, gave up all his business and immediately came to me. Dad put all the shelves in place, fixed them, put the door in the closet and did everything I asked him to do.

After that Ram became every night to come to me in dreams, began to be felt when touching my body with any items. When I was touching something, I was feeling his presence there immediately. At the same time, I was immersing in a feeling of this blissful unity, dissolved in it, and then I was abruptly thrown out and shaken, as if a high voltage current was passing through me. And it was making me sad and hopeless. And then Ram decided to connect to me a helper, thanks to the presence of whom our touch at the energy plane of existence could to continue and be steady and stable, without the negative side effects.

Yes, through different people he was talking me to take him so that he could come to me in real life and to realize his decision to marry me in real life. But I was protesting, saying that the one who needs it will take me himself. And he, seeing that nobody knows how long our collaboration will last at this stage, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, adopted a non-standard solution for plugging some great special-asur onto me to balance my condition and provide me stable interaction at a distance with Ram.

29. Fedka: a rag or a God's gift

On Sunday, September 18, the children and I went to the Hare Krishna program, and before that we went to the store. There I saw inexpensive sports uniforms for karate and karate belts. The coach gave my daughter sports uniform for karate, someone gave it to her. And karate belt she has already was. She took part in competitions and got sports category with a white karate belt, and she had a white karate belt. But the son had neither sports uniform for karate nor a karate belt. And I, tempted by low prices, called the coach and asked if we should buy us sports uniform for karate and karate belt. I thought that maybe once a son would get this sports category and a karate belt and then we would have to pay money. When my daughter was receiving a white karate belt, I paid for participating in these competitions, and I wanted to save money, thinking that I paid for competitions much more than the cost of this karate belt in the store. But the coach said that we paid only for the participation in competitions, but not for the belt, not for a rag.

He said that he presented us a rag, a belt although others paid for participation in competition and for a rag, belt. I didn't know about that. I began to thank the coach for such a gift. And he said that this is not surprising, he just presented us a rag. During the Hare Krishna program I was remembering his words that his gift is a rag, that he gave us a rag. I had bad associations with the word «rag». I thought that rags in my life were enough, and I did not like that gift was called such a word.

And I called the coach and expressed my discontent to him. I said that I did not need a gift as a rag. I said that I agree to accept this gift, but with a different name. He told me, what is the difference, what is the name of this gift, it's just a rag, a belt, and in this case the main thing is to be able to irrigate this belt with perspiration. I told him that I am a master of sports in gymnastics and know how to irrigate the belts with perspiration. I told him that I know how to water with perspiration any belts, and black, and white, and red in speck. I said that I am such that it is important for me what the name of the gift is. He told me to immediately choose name of this gift: a rag or a Divine gift.

I said I accept the gift, but as a Divine gift. There during the program my lady friend called me and asked him to find out if there's a sale pendent Narasimha Kavacham, she wanted to make a gift to her friend on his birthday. Pendent Narasimha Kavacham was on sale. In single copy. And was worth the symbolic 1111 rubles. My lady friend asked me to buy it, I immediately bought and gave the pujari, and he put it on the altar in front of the Deities. After pujari gave me the pendent Narasimha Kavacham which was offered to the Deities, and I gave it to my lady friend.

And another Mataji came up to us and began to admire jewelry of my lady friend, and my lady friend said that it is a gift from Krishna on Janmashtami. She went to the jewelry store on the day of Janmashtami and saw a set of jewelry made of gold in the form of a peacock feather, very elegant and very beautiful jewelry. And this Mataji looked me in the eyes and said, «The main thing is that a woman should be happy». And after that one Prabhu read his verses about Krishna in front of everyone. And in his verses the theme of Krishna's gift was running through. I didn't understand what these signs are about the gift.

The next morning, September 19, when I was working, a line of men had stood in front of my inner gaze. And it seemed to me that I was offered to choose one man of them. I on my inner screen very carefully looked at them all and pointed at one.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Immediately I wanted to sleep, I lay on my belly and felt that Ram in my belly does something. He like was connecting, convolving something with something, it was like he was connecting us, linking some of our energy channels. It was identical to the way he was connecting me with himself when I agreed to give him signs on guiding his asuric organization that is under him, like some kind of neural network under the spider, through all that is happening in my life. At that time he, too, in my belly was connecting something with something. And here too. And when he was tying up some kind of cord, I was feeling very relieved, and it was accompanied by my relaxed sighs.

I didn't know what it was. But I began to notice my strange behavior. I suddenly began to behave deliberately shamelessly. I had stood in front of the mirror, exposed my female charms and looked at my lady parts, as if forcing someone through my eyes to look there. When Ram came to me, I realized that from my weird behavior, too. But in those days I began to behave as if there is a man with me and I really want him to like. But I did not show him my feminine charms, I was embarrassed. I tried to dress prettier. But here it was the opposite.

During the day, I constantly was approaching the mirror, raising my blouse, pushing back the cups of my bra and underpants, so that the female parts of the body could be seen from above and below, and I deliberately was looking at my lady parts. Before that, I did not behave this way. I used to be ashamed of my body and tried not to even look at my body when I went to the toilet or washed in the shower, because I knew that Ram also looks at my naked body through my eyes. But in those days, for some strange reason, I was exposing my intimate places all the time, standing in front of a mirror, looking at myself and kind of challenging someone, forcing him to look at my lady parts. Ram had seen enough of my lady parts in those days. I didn't understand why I was doing this, but then it hit me. I was provoking the one who became plugged onto me. My goal was that he could not tolerate my clowning and manifested himself. And he did it. I suddenly quite clearly heard in my head a man's voice: «Calm down». It was a man, but not Ram. It both angered and upset me.

I thought that Ram had given up on me and put some other man in Ram's place. But signs began to come to me from everywhere, and they talked about homosexuals. For some reason, in all the songs that I was opening on the Internet, there were words about homosexuals, on the websites I visited, were writing about homosexuals, even in cartoons and in the texts that I was sent to the proofreading. And from all of that, I concluded that from the men whom stood before me on my inner screen, I pointed to the man who is homosexual. And then I understood why constantly I was pretending in front of the mirror these days, exposing my feminine charms, as if deliberately trying to tick off someone and provoke him so that he could not stand it and somehow manifested himself. My antics in front of the mirror with became clear. He's gay. He hates feminine charms. Ram plugged him onto me and now he, too, sees through my eyes. And I began to bare in front of a mirror for him. He could not help but look out at me through my eyes by which I looked at myself in the mirror. And when I was denuding myself in front of the mirror and was seeing at myself he also looked at my feminine private places, but since he is a fag, this did not give him pleasure. And what pleasure can there be? I am 50 years. I have three kids, three pregnancies, three breastfeeding. One look at my body was causing him gag reflex. That's what I wanted to get from him. It drove him mad, irritated. He could not stand such bullying and manifested himself.

It calmed me. I realized that Ram didn't put another man in his place. And then I began to remember those signs about the gift. And before that there was a series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» with the words that whatever happens, it will be the will of Narayana, and it will be in the best interests of the world. And I thought that this gay man is the very gift that my Ram had given me, and that it is the will of Narayana, Krishna. I thought that Krishna blessed him, because the Sunday program was full of signs about the gift.

I didn't need extra eyes, ears and extra nose in my life, especially when it's the eyes, ears and nose of some man who has a dick between his legs and who is also a homosexual. I somehow got used to the fact that Ram is always with me, although it was difficult for me to get used to the fact that through my eyes some other person sees, especially since he is a man, he has a man's body, and I have a female body. It is especially unpleasant to think that you are sitting on the toilet and this man is invisibly present with you and sees everything. And I often think: can he smell through my nose? How do asuras plugging onto humans? They see our thoughts, can manipulate consciousness, and see through people's eyes. But can they sniff with our nose? And then you sit on the toilet, you pushing, and you think: either to pretend that you have nothing to do with it, that you are not this body, or deliberately let it sniff through my nose how do poop smell, to spite him. And when you wash in the shower or in the bathroom and you know that this man who has plugged onto you sees everything. And he is a person of the opposite sex. You are a woman, and he is a man. I would kill all the asuras just for that! I would kill all the asuras simply because they invade our personal space without our conscious consent, and basically no one notices this invasion and continues to behave as always. It's hard for me to think that Ram is always with me, because he is a man, but another male was added. Oh my God, what have I done?!!! It's annoying but I can't do anything about it, such is a gift. I decided that if Krishna wants me to do this, I would accept the presence of this gift in my life, even if I had to get used to the fact that he would see everything through my eyes in the bathroom and in the toilet. I called him Fedka, because he is a Divine gift, and the name Fyodor means «Divine gift». I took this Fedka as a gift from Ram and Krishna and began to talk to him.

I said Fedka: «Rag, know that you are waiting for hard times. I guarantee it you. I will provide you a big loading. You'll develop your muscles well. You'll remember this time with me as the most terrible and the most beautiful dream. Yes, this is the honorable truth. You thought you were just doing the job? Ha, you're in a real mess, kid! I am the coolest sensor. I will test you to the fullest. Don't worry, you'll never get burnt. And remember. I told you. The party will over. Appreciate every moment with me. You will never have such drive again. Fall in love with me, rag, even though you're not supposed to. But you, even as a rag, will fall in love with me. You already love me. Even if you think otherwise. Know that. Cool you got on TV! You're a star! Know this. You really stepped in it this time! Ha-ha. The fun is just beginning. You all got caught! A rag, hi. You're lucky. Now I'm going to start your retraining on a full-time intensive program. Hang on, will be hurt. I'm joking. There's no joking about this sort of thing. Every my word is true. Look, a rag, I command you! Watch and read, it's my orders to you! You are obliged to carry out my orders, because now I am the most governing here. I'm always the most governing, know it. I am grey cardinal, who manipulating kings. Your boss put you here. Read now you. I have a flight of imagination. Okay, rag, not afraid. Karate trainer somehow passed his period, not fell apart. Dude, don't worry. I know you're not worry. I hear you. But I don't want to listen to you at all. You should get out of here, a floor cloth. Krishna said that whatever happens will be Narayana`s will and it will be in the best interests of the world. This situation applies to the same. So I accept it as Narayana's will. Krishna has His own plan for this. I can't see it from here. So, rag, welcome! Be glad: you were chosen. You are a divine gift. Like I said. Appreciate the moments you can have with me. It won't be forever, know that. You'll be remembering this later. Well, I already told you how. Okay, Krishna said that it is His will and it is in the best interest of the world. Hello, Hello! Yeah, if Ram and I will having sex then you will go out of here, rag... I did not ask you to come and be here, especially when I have sex with Ram. Get this through your head. But I don't like the idea of someone else, some rag that even by Narayana's will is with me, can hang here and stink. A rag, even if you are will of Narayana, I don't want you to be here. I feel sad».

So I told this Fedka (rag, the divine gift). Since then, our interaction with Ram has become more stable and lasting. I was stopped throwing out of our contact and shake, as when a high voltage current passes through me. And Ram and I were able to stay on this plateau and go deep into our unity with him. And then we started sessions with pillow, as I called them. But about it hardly later. For what purpose was I given this Fedka? I still don't understand.

But when nine months later I started Mahabharata to eliminate the asuras, Fedka was attacked by some pack of asuras, and they gave him an ultimatum that if he continues to be with me and do his job, they will kill him. And I saw then this company and even I some of them brutally killed and said others that if at least someone even if just look at my Fedka wrong, not to mention to make him something, I will have done away with them ruthlessly and brutally.

And then I said to all the asuras that Fedka is my friend. They understood the seriousness of the situation and moved off my Fedka. It means that he's doing something very, very important, since there was such a serious crowd against him with such a formidable ultimatum. But after I got this Fedka (rag, Divine gift), I continued to live my usual life and to get used to the idea that now with me and some Fedka, rag, God's gift.

On August 19, Ram carried out the first manipulation of my consciousness to squeeze out me out of his space, and on the same day I stopped giving him signs, guidance on the guide of his asuric organization and his life. 3 September, he was supposed to go bankrupt and homeless, but I pitied him and wished him luck, and he pulled out of the dive and things went back to normal. September 4, I burned out the eye of one asur from his asuric organization, and after that I got the lecture of my Gurudev, in which he asking Ram to marry me.

On September 7, Ram was shown a series that those consequences of the insult had not disappeared, but had only been suspended and that he need to give me his wife's status and his respect. He was told that in the future he would be given nothing but humiliation and shame if he did not agree to accept me as his wife, and he weighed the pros and cons and accepted the offer. It was September 7. And on the morning of 8 September, he has already started his duties as my husband and began to help me first deciding to help me fix the cabinet, which in that ill-fated day on August 19 all the shelves and the door flew out. Ram pressed my dad's consciousness, and my dad gave up all his urgent business and came to me to fix my closet. The wardrobe was fixed.

On September 11, I had on my inner screen a fellowship with Prabhu Sasha, an older devotee who in the Soviet years was a devotee of Krishna in Tallinn, whom everyone called a mystic yogi and with whom I began a close fellowship as soon as the invisible interaction with Ram began. And here Prabhu Sasha September 11 was saying me something, I didn't hear him, but his last words that Ram is my friend, could pass through the filters of the mind and reach the level of my awareness. In this conversation, Prabhu Sasha told me that I could start again to give leadership for Ram and for his organization. And I turned on this function of charioteer who giving signs. There is such a specialization, when all events in the life of one person are projections and signs for another person. One person is a transmitting device, at whom everything in his life is a hint for someone who is a receiver, who can read these signs, decipher and apply them in his life. And I began to help Ram in this way, showing him through the events of my life that would be favorable for him and his organization and which should be avoided.

For three weeks, from August 19 to September 11, Ram did not have these signs and my help to guide him, and he was greatly relieved to receive it again. After that Ram gave me a gift — Fedka (a rag, the gift of God), thanks to the appearance of whom it became possible long-term interaction at me with Ram. Before that, when I was coming into contact with Ram, touching myself or some objects, when he was entering them, I initially was dissolving in our unity with him and plunging into bliss, but after that I was thrown from him and I was feeling emotional discomfort. I was shaking like from an electric current, as from the bare wire under high voltage, not really, physically, but emotionally.

And I was afraid of these contacts, fearing that at one point I would not stand this execution and create a situation that I would leave completely, from the body, from life. But with the arrival of that very Fedka (rag, of God's gift) contact with Ram ceased to throw me away from him and shake like from an electric current, and Ram and I were able not only to be on this plateau of unity, but also to delve into it, into its deep layers. And our so-called sessions with pillow started. I was hugging the pillow, feeling the presence of Ram in the pillow and somehow was plunging into the deeper layers of my many lives in the material world. And I, being here, hugging a pillow and feeling Ram there, was at the same time in those past lives where I was plunging. And I was saying out loud what I felt there and what was there. I was immersing in some of our past lives and speaking the words that described us there. Mostly there were words about love.

The first such session with pillow was on September 25. And on September 26 I felt next to him some woman and very upset. I actually was seeing on my inner screen that there was another woman where he was, and I told Krishna that I didn't want to be in that interaction where there are some other women, but then I accidentally fell over backwards and hit the sink and then dropped to the floor. Due it I realized that he was pure, because Krishna had clearly and obviously shown me that my interpretation of this event was wrong. It calmed me down a lot.

Indeed, communication and interaction with another person without his real presence in your life, without his physical presence in physical reality, is very difficult, because you do not see the whole picture, but you feel the person, though you do not know whether he is at all and whether it is not glitches. But everything indicated that it is not glitches, not fantasies, that it is not some spirit, disembodied, energy parasite or vampire. Everything indicated that it is the man living in our reality, but who has such abilities that you can have such an interaction with him at a distance which is very, very surprising.

30. The truth about his wives

Fedka (a rag, God's gift) came to me on September 19, and on September 30 I had wanted to tell him about myself, about my life. I went to «Mail.Ru» and opened my photo album with photos of past years. I liked this Fedka (a rag). I was feeling his support and kindness. He seemed to understand me, and I opened the «Mail.Ru» folder with the name «Romka Petrutze». So jokingly one of my ex-husbands was calling himself, and I placed many important photographs for me into the folder «Romka Petrutze».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I began to open in rotation the photographs from the folder «Romka Petrutze», and I began to speak by voice what was captured there. I wanted to show my life by describing these photos to him. I knew that I did not have to say it all out loud, because he sees all my thoughts and I can mentally tell him. But I wanted to talk to him as a person sitting next to me. Therefore, I was telling not mentally, but out loud... I described the events of my life, what there was of the relationship, the mood, everything. Moving from one photo to another, I caught myself thinking that, describing myself, my life, I allegorically give out all the information about my Ram. I looked at myself in amazement, at my story about me and saw quite clearly that everything in my life speaks about him.

I told him allegorically about his three wives in this life. He thought that all three wives abandoned him. He believed that they did not spare him. He felt that they had humiliated and insulted his dignity. But when I was talking about myself in those pics, I was revealing to him the true picture of what happened to him, the events regarding his relationship with his wives.

I told him that his first wife didn't leave him, that he left her. How did it happen that it was not she who threw him, but he threw her although she herself went to another man? But in fact, based on my words about my photos, he did not feel self-confidence in the marriage, they did not get children, and he began to think that, perhaps, it is her fault in this, and he began to think that and suddenly with another woman children he will turn out.

And because of this thought, without realizing it, he put his first wife on the tender, being auctioned off her, as if throwing a call into space: «This woman was my wife, but I'm looking for another woman, with whom we will have children, and so who needs such a defective wife, take her». And there, in those layers in that space, a good man looked at her, saw that she had a big bag of godly merits, a lot of godliness, and decided that due her godliness he would live very happily ever after, and took her as his wife. After some time he appeared in her physical reality, and it all happened as if by itself, she did not understand how she could leave her beloved husband.

But in fact by that time he was no longer her husband, even though they lived together and were a legal couple and he was jealous of her and thought she was cruel and ungrateful. But in fact he was greedy and wanted more. He thought that he is very good with her, but what if he will better with another woman? He himself being auctioned off her, this was his desires. He didn't know that. He could see only the outside of that breakup, that so-called operation on his heart, but I told him on the basis of my photographs, showed him that she was just like a sheep on the slaughter. He at the level of desires refused her and called another man. Just thinking that with another woman he would be better off, he threw the call into space, into the thought Internet, into the ether space. He did not know this, but in fact he, at the level of thoughts and desires, summoned other men to look at her on the universal Internet in order to one of those men decided to take her by his wife.

I also told about his second wife, who fell in love with another man and left him. He almost went crazy with grief, he loved her so much. And he was sure again that it was she who dumped him. But, describing one photo from the folder «Romka Petrutze» with a cat, I said that the cat was fed the wrong food. The cat was given not cat food, but expensive sausage, baked ham, pork chop. And I had a vision that as a result of this unhealthy diet in the future, a cat would be waiting for a disease and a long agonizing death. Thus I revealed to Ram in an allegorical language that his second wife had not left him. He was just feeding her «the wrong food».

He being an asur has a various types of energy. Apparently, he was giving her the wrong energy. He was giving her energy that not went in her favor and which are generally not meant to her. But he loved her very much and too spoiled her, including by his some energy in their marital sex. And after a while, she would have «got sick and died in terrible agony». Thus I opened to him that after some time because of the «wrong food» all her feelings for him, Ram, would have died, and she would treat him like furniture.

All her feelings for him would die. He for her would cease to exist as a man and as a person. She would look at him as pestered furniture, as a thing that can not be thrown out, because this house belongs to this thing. She would begin to tire of his presence and began to avoid him in every possible way. Especially disgusting and unbearable would be his touch to her. It would be the most unbearable torture for her. She would perceive him as a secretary perceives her boss, who is just a boss, but not a loved one, but who requires sex, because she is his secretary. Sex would be disgusting to her; she would even begin to vomit out of sex with him. She would simply live out her life being in the same space with a person already alien to her. He really was nobody to her, because he is my eternal husband, all the other women are for him no one, but in reality foreign wives. And I, somewhere at level of my higher self, gave his second wife an injection to turn on love for another man. She fell in love with that other man with all her heart, and he was doing not give her «the wrong food», since he simply did not have this «food». And she went to him, ostensibly throwing Ram. But she didn't leave him. I gave her the injection to turn on love for another man, taking care of her, as with him she would have had a completely bleak future.

About his third wife I also told when was describing the photographs with the dog. There was a dog sitting at home, barking at everyone who walked up the stairs of the house. Even if someone was walking on the 10th floor, this dog was still barking. She was barking at everyone whom was out there somewhere outside the apartment she was in. And so I told Ram, that his third wife had panic womb, uterine rabies. Well, he knew that himself. And she «barked», that is, sexually reacted to all men appearing into her view. Living with him, she constantly was cheating on him, even in their house. And he even witnessed it.

He thought that it was she such and that she also was gone from his life, but I showed him that I had to remove her from his life, because I could not stand her being in his life, she was getting on my nerves, as the creaking of nails on the glass, like chattering the claws of the dog on the floor, and I removed her from his life. But if I hadn't taken her away, she would never have left such «sugar daddy»; she would have lived in his house and fucked there with other men, on their matrimonial bed. But he thought that all women are so treacherous and traitors.

And on the basis of those photographs of my life I told him that all his lives when he was an asur I was «reading» all that it happened there. I told him that I acquired some very expensive connection, thanks to which, even being far away from him, even in other worlds, I was seeing how he lives, and even could make adjustments to his interaction. For example, when I was describing the photo with Mataji Ambika, with whom we had a friendship once, I said that we somehow stayed with my daughter at Mataji Ambika and my daughter peed in her bed. Ambika Mataji ruled out our overnight stays with my daughter at her.

Then I told Ram that in this life, when he was still married to his first wife, «Ambika», we constantly met on the sleep territory and even had sex there, though not remember it the next morning. But somehow he had ejaculation as a result of such of our sex with him in the sleep territory, and their bed in real life was covered with his sperm in a supposedly emission of water. It's called a nocturnal emission or, colloquially, a wet dream. His first wife forbade us to have sex in a dream (she forbade to us do it at the level of higher self, but here, in real life, nobody did not know about it). He checked that information somehow.

He can do a lot while being an asur. And he came in one day and said that my words had been completely vindicated what is very, very strange. He had a wife, I had a husband. We are with him, not knowing anything about each other, were meeting in dreams and even having there sex with him, but were remembering nothing after returning to normal life in the physical reality. How amazing the world is! Then I decided that I would call him Romka. I thought it was for a reason that one of my husbands in my life called himself so, although his name is different. And I thought that Rom and Ram sound almost the same. And I began to call him Romka. Romka Petrutze.

31. The ultimatum to Ram due to the fact that Borka put me as his lot on their asuric tote

Around the same time, specifically on September 28, Wednesday, was Shiva Pradosh, Shiva worship day. And I wanted to do on this day Abhishek of the Deities and to fast in honor of the day of Shiva. All day I fasted and in the evening had spent ablution of Shiva lingam, Deities Nataraja and Ganesh. All day long a continuous series there were favorable signs, and in the evening Ram offered to celebrate the occasion. In the afternoon, in a series of signs, I saw the blessing of Shiva and the blessing of Krishna. I did not know what kind of blessing Krishna and Shiva told me, but the mood was kind of upbeat, just triumphant.

And here his offers to celebrate the occasion. I didn't know what event he was proposing to me to celebrate (Shiva Pradosh or Abhishek of the Deities?), but I agreed. And he and I had marital sex, which in our case looked like a regular masturbation. But the asuras are able to enter into any objects, in the hands, in the body, and when the asur decides to be present in this case, this masturbation is as an ordinary sex, with a full sense of him and with the full his presence.

And when it all came to a natural finale, that is, to orgasm, I did not go to bed, as usual, and sat down to read «Bhagavad Gita». It found insomnia, all night I did not get a wink of sleep and reading «Bhagavad Gita». And all this night, I was feeling like some kind of pulsation rhythmically erupted from below, from the female genital organs. I was feeling pulsation even on the physical level, in the body. All night there was that pulsation inside me, like a hot geyser coming out of the ground and rushing into the sky. Ram came and anxiously inquired how I feel, and I said that everything is fine. He came not with his feet, but in my mind and was very worried.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

At the same time I had a conversation with the karate coach about the children, my son was sick and did not go to classes, and I came to talk about it. The coach asked if he would come to class, and I jokingly said that I have an iron stick at home and I will tell him to go and he will go. The coach said that in this case he would be completely his. I said Yes. So through that conversation, Ram found out that his actions should bring his expected result, that is, that the necessary energy channels in the female sphere are being activated in me and I will have the kind of orgasm Ram needs, in the right place, so that Ram can receive the right energy.

And on the same evening, October 13, he again offered me to «celebrate» (to have sex). «The celebration» (sex, that is, my masturbation with his invisible participation at a distance) was very successful. This time it was all right. It turns out, what kind of orgasm a woman has, in which part of the female organs she has an orgasm, depends not on her sexual constitution, but on what energy channels in the female sphere are activated and how there do the energies go. Probably, I had other energy channels activated, but when everything was adjusted as it should, and the orgasm itself began to occur where necessary. The first time it happened on October 13 and since then it has always been like this. I think asuras can also switch energy channels and streams in men in men's sphere. I dare to suggest that this is why men become homosexuals. For the asuras, there is a big benefit that women are left alone, without protection. And for this it is necessary that women were without men. And for this, asuras somehow switch invisibly energy flows in men, so that they are drawn to men, and not to women. In this case, those women who would be with these men are left without men intended for them. And then they are easier to manipulate, causing an inferiority complex at women and artificially created competition. And when a woman is unprotected, without her man, the asuras easily and simply crush her under themselves and extort from her feminine energy, her good luck, and her pious merits. It is profitable for them, because asuras can very well get settled in life, succeed due to this pious merits pumped from women and enjoy luxury, wealth, good health, luck, and opportunities. After all, this all comes to people thanks to pious merits, which the asuras can pump from people, I mean from women, because a woman is a power, Shakti. And leaving a woman without a man intended for her, the asuras easily get to her. I think that's why so many homosexuals and divorced. Because asuras switch in normal men energy channels and streams and make them homosexual.

And after about a week after gaining by us family welfare, after the onset of acts of family well-being happened the first sex of Aisha. Aisha is one of my so-called subpersonalities. She is a naive pure sincere girl, born in the tradition of Islam. Her into his harem bought a large sultan. The sultan had three concubine palaces, but when Aisha appeared, he lost all his interest in those concubines and constantly dreamed of Aisha. Aisha came to me when Ram plugged onto me. And she often went out from my subconscious to the outer living space and danced her Oriental dances. At the same time, she was guessing to her sultan, telling in her allegorical language about everything that was happening there.

And the sultan all this time many times tried to persuade Aisha to start fulfilling her mission to give him pleasure. But she always refused, saying that she is a virgin and loves Allah very much and is faithful to Him. For many months, from the very from the start of plugging Ram onto me, this sultan made his attempts with Aisha, but nothing happened, she stood her ground. And it took about a week from that sex (in the form of my masturbation with the presence of Ram at the energy plane of existence) when my energy flows began to work as it should and we began acts of family well-being. And suddenly, completely unexpectedly, Aisha and her sultan had their first sex, their first act of family well-being.

It was October 19. Even in the morning Aisha was saying to the sultan, that she is faithful to God and she is the virgin, but in the evening, when Ram and I had sex again (in my masturbation, of course), I suddenly saw Aisha on my internal screen. She was with the sultan. He hung over her, and they had their first sex when she from a virgin became a woman, a woman of her sultan. I was looking from Aisha's eyes in amazement into the sultan's eyes and feeling everything that she was feeling then. She in the very first sex felt the excitement and had an orgasm. And we got it at the same time. Everything happened for me and Aisha at the same time, synchronously, and I merged with her feelings and sensations and was her. It was amazing! After that Ram said that he was also amazed and was feeling everything too.

A week later, Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, came to him. Of course, he came not with his feet, but at subtle level, on mental chat. And he told Ram that he already put me on their asuric totalizator. He said that all the most powerful destroyers of female nature waiting to pounce on me, and Borka said Ram to give me them. But Ram refused. He said I am his wife. He said that from 3 to 4 March we had a wedding and now he is my husband and is obliged to protect me.

Borka said that Ram dumped me the summer, that Ram had a woman and he wanted to marry her, but Ram said that then he made a mistake, that he went on the spree, but then realized his mistake and came back to me, because we had the heavenly wedding and he must fulfill his marital duty. And then Borka said Ram that they'll kill him and then break me, because they put me on their asuric totalizator and bets have already been made. Borka said that many asuras have already invested their money on this tote, waiting for me to be broken, and expecting profits to make even more money from it. He said that very big asuras had made big bets and it is dangerous to disappoint them. He said that it remains only to remove such a small barrier as Ram, who although is an asur, but not the most powerful of all of them.

And then Aisha began to tell in her dances that Ram was to go to some big meeting and that there would be something terrible, but that he should not be afraid of anything, because Allah would protect him. Aisha every day appeared and told about all this, in her dances, allegorical. I didn't know what it was about, but I had known when that meeting started. I turned on Mrityunjaya Mantra and three days continuously listened to it, hoping it will protect Ram in that unclear, terrible assembly. And at that meeting, they said him they'd kill him, and then they'd break me. But Ram did not give me to them, although against him put such forces that would kill him.

Our relationship developed well. He adjusted my streams in the sexual sphere that at me energy went which is necessary, and everything went there well. Aisha gave herself to her sultan, and everything went well there. Ram took the wedding proposal, in which my Gurudev offered him me as his wife. He plugged onto me Fedka (the rag, the gift of God), thanks to whose presence our contact with Ram began to stabilize. And from somewhere in the depths of our interaction with him in the past lives began to rise out the feelings that were originally we have, but which were hidden deep in the subconscious as a result of a long stay in the material world. And Ram began to feel this love.

Everything in his life went smoothly. But then Borka appeared, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, with whom I had an invisible interaction, when I lived in Moscow and was married to my second husband. At that time Borka somehow noticed me and tried to install on me their asuric program, by which asuras can to break women, making them their weak-willed puppets, kind of sexual slaves. Such woman seemingly lives like an ordinary woman, but she at any look at her at the energy plane of existence is ready to fulfill any whim of her master and everyone whom he will slip to her, and when and as they please.

But I didn't begin to upload then in Moscow their asuric program, and Borka failed to install this program into me and was puzzled. Just at the time he was looking for a new wife, a milch cow, from whom he would be pumped under great pressure her feminine energy and all her piety, plugging his fellows from his asuric organization onto his wife in his married sex at the energetic level. And Borka saw in my person the suitable candidate for a vacant place of his wife. He began to manipulate my consciousness and consciousness of my then husband. Borka tried very hard to break our family, and he did it. He had forced in me, my consciousness, and I was left alone, although I resisted strongly against that Borka's pressure.

And even Borka came to me in real life and in an allegorical form offered me to be his wife, but I refused him. And then, already being with Ram, I again called Borka to myself, again teasing him and showing that Ram could not do anything with me. And then Borka went out to gather the most powerful of the asuras, the destroyers of female nature. And they put me on their asuric totalizator. Bets had already been made, and large. And one thing remained. Borka needed to get me, and for this he needed to have Ram give me to them, especially since he made me their contactless whore.

And Borka came to notify Ram. And he came just when our relationship with Ram began to improve. Borka came to Ram and told him to give me to them. But Ram refused to do it. Borka was perplexed why Ram refuses, although in the summer he gave me to him and he had a good woman Ram was going to live with. But Ram said that then in the summer he just gulled, but then he came to his senses. He said that we have with him from 3 to 4 March 2016 was the heavenly wedding and I'm his wife and that he is obliged to protect me as his wife and can not give anywhere, especially to asuric totalizator, where they just will break me and turn me into their weak-willed puppet.

But Borka did not let up, because betting on the tote had already been made, a lot of money has been put on their asuric totalizator. And then they called Ram to big meeting and said they would still break me, that it would be better for Ram to play on their asuric totalizator too and make a lot of money on me, or they would have to kill Ram. Ram was faced with a serious choice: either he gives me them in order to they can to abuse me and destroy of my female nature, or they will kill him. And he decided he wouldn't give me up.

A great force came against Ram, he would surely have been killed. Yes, the battle would be on a subtle plane, but when there is killed, then the ordinary physical body also dies. And there against Ram came out very formidable enemy, who certainly would have killed Ram. And Ram knew about it, but he still went for it. But before that, he wanted to somehow protect me.

32. The blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

27 Oct 2016 he began to beg me in order to I will ask Lakshmi for the blessing to conjugal fidelity to him as to my husband. Next Sunday there was Diwali, Lakshmi Puja, when Indian women are asking the blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity to their husbands. They ask Lakshmi to give them such fidelity to their husbands as Lakshmi has to her Narayana. And Ram started to actively promote this idea into my mind. I very hesitated. But he was keeping putting forward ideas why this blessing could be useful to me, and was sweeping away my doubts.

First, he sent me to my mind the idea that with this blessing no stranger will leak into our invisible interaction with him when I do not see him, and he just stands somewhere as a silhouette on my inner screen. And anyone can pretend to be him. I thought Yes, it's a good, sensible idea. Afterwards, he whispered to me that this blessing might not allow other men to come to me in real life, because I have a desire to find him and my eyes are constantly looking for him and scans everyone, is he or not.

And Ram brought to my mind the idea that with this blessing, no one from the outside will have access to me in the real world, no one else will come to me and not disturb. I liked that thought, too. But I thought what if Ram is not in really and it's all just a figment of my mind. What if he is disembodied spirit, energy vampire, just my imagination fly? In this case, asking Lakshmi's blessing to be faithful to someone who is just a figment of mind is an incredible stupidity. But Ram gave me a way out, he said me: «You can make a reservation, that if it's true, if I really exist, if I lives here and really your husband». I thought it is a good idea. With this caveat, I can ask for this blessing.

But then I got the idea that such interaction, without his personal presence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, has lasted nine months (at the time). And he can see me from my eyes, he talks to me in an allegorical language through other people, he knows my phone number. Why, during these long nine months, he did not bother to come to me in real life? And why on earth should I ask Lakshmi for a blessing of faithfulness to someone who does not come to me in real life, although he knows everything and can? It's so sad...

I've also had some doubts about who he is. I thought, what if he really a complete degenerate, if he is not in my range of selectivity, if stand next to him will be disgusting? And who can guarantee that I will be with him, even if he will come to me? Is it right to ask a blessing of fidelity to him?

I remembered how at the very beginning of our interaction with him he asked me about guarantees, what guarantees can I give that everything will be fine on my part and I will not dump him mercilessly? But I couldn't give him any guarantees. Life is unpredictable, how can I give some guarantees? How can I ask Lakshmi's blessing to be faithful to him? I don't know who he is, what he looks like, what kind of person he is and if he is in general!

And now we have with him this interaction during nine months, but in real life he does not come to me, and I'm here alone. To ask for blessings of faithfulness to someone who does not come to me? And even I do not know whether he will come, and if he does, what is he? It's very difficult question. I take the blessings very seriously, though I break my initiation vows. But I'm still very serious about all this.

After that Ram lifted from my mind those episodes of my life when I was in Moscow and had invisible interaction with Borka, the then leader of the Moscow organization of the asuras. I began to remember how Borka tried to install their asuric program at me, how I did not load it, how I had long orgasms, without anyone's presence, without sex and without masturbation. How I was sitting at home next to my then husband and moaning in the incredible power of bliss, when Borka at a distance was pressing my women's centers, plugging onto me the fan of his associates and they were pumping out my female energy and my piety. When a woman has an orgasm, shakti, her feminine energy is pulled out of her and goes to her husband, so that he gets in his life opportunities, strength, energy, luck. And the output of her feminine energy and her piety, her pious merits accumulated by her, is accompanied by a sense of bliss. Asuras need this power and this piety. They use it instead of money, currency. And the asuras are able to remove out this feminine energy, Shakti, pious merits from women at a distance, plugging onto them, pressing on some points in their women's centers, so that the woman would experience an orgasm and let out her shakti. And in order to more and quickly pump out her female energy from her, they connect to her their whole crowd, several asuras at once. And when I was sitting and experiencing an orgasm, without sex and without masturbation, just sitting on the couch or even somewhere among other people, this Borka was draining my energy out of me. It is not surprising that asuras are very well-settled men. They simply use shakti deflated out from women. How after that those women live, they, of course, don't care. But these women are unlikely to be successful in life, and they are unlikely to have anything good after such forcible removal of their shakti and pious merits.

And my husband couldn't do anything about it. He just was sitting there, chanting the mantra, praying for me, and suffering. Many, many times. And I thought I didn't want Ram to have to experience anything like that. I felt sorry for him, and my confidence began to grow, albeit fragile, that it must be done, that with the reservation to ask for this blessing is necessary.

And then I turned to Krishna and began to look for signs in everything, as always I had it. I turned on a lecture by Srila Prabhupada, of course, by method of random choice, without looking, from many other randomly opened lectures. In it, Srila Prabhupada said that the main thing is to satisfy Krishna. If Krishna wants it, it is good.

I remembered our heavenly wedding with Ram and thought that even if it was an illusion, I accept it as a reality. Nothing could oppose God's will. Everything is according to God's law. If Krishna allowed that illusion to manifest, and even in this form, when there was Nrisimhadev, Krishna, Radha, my Gurudev, other devotees, then it is Krishna's will. Krishna can manifest His will in this illusion too. And I thought that if this wedding was, then I take it for reality, because there was the will of Krishna, and therefore asking for the blessing of faithfulness to my husband is the right decision.

After that I remembered the lecture in which my Gurudev was holding out a ring to me on his hand. And I thought that Gurudev also supports this, if he gives Ram to me. And it's right to be faithful to your husband. Then I thought, what would Shiva say? I opened all 820 series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» and pointed at one of the series without looking. It was the 420th series. There Shiva gave Ravana the sword Chandrahas. And I thought that I am this sword. I thought that Shiva gives me to Ram, like that sword. And I thought that Shiva too supports this. My decision was particularly influenced by the words of Srila Prabhupada in his lecture that if Krishna wants it is the highest morality. And all these signs said that Krishna wants it.

And then I went to my lady friend, it was October 29, 2016. To her came her friend and we were talking. He said that it was necessary to do it now, that later it might not happen again, that it was very important to do it now. It was about the contribution to the development of children. He said that while the children are small, it is necessary to deal with their development, because when they grow up, time will already go away. He said that now, while the children are small, something can be done to help them, and then there may not be such an opportunity. I was looking into the eyes of that man and was seeing Prabhu Sasha there. I even somehow got confused, so through that man Prabhu Sasha was manifested, as if he personally persuades me to agree and do it, since it is very, very important and more of this can not happen again.

And I began to talk about the importance of accepting initiation from the spiritual master. I said that even if I knew I would fall, I would still ask Gurudev for an initiation and accept it. In any case. I said that it's very, very important. In this way, Ram and I were negotiating. He was talking me to ask blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity to him as to my husband, and I was talking him to become a disciple of my spiritual master.

When we were driving home, that man called me and said I had to make an advance payment. That is, while the children are still small, it is necessary to invest in them, make an advance payment. Thus Ram told me that he agreed to my terms, that he would become a disciple of my spiritual master, but I must first fulfill my part of our agreement with him — I need to ask blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity to Ram as to my husband.

The night before going to sleep, from Saturday to Sunday, I, still tormented by a host of doubts, opened the «Bhagavad Gita» and read a single text, expecting hint and answer. The answer was completely clear. I opened the book without looking and read only one text where my eyes fell. This single text said that the order of Krishna must be obeyed by the devotee, that if something interferes with this, then it is necessary to suppress it and need to fulfill an order of Krishna. This text stated that all interfering doubts must be resolutely suppressed and need simply carry out the order of Krishna. One should not think about anything and simply fulfill the order of Krishna.

And in the afternoon, October 30, 2016, Sunday, on Diwali, I began to carry out this order of Krishna. I turned on the Lakshmi mantras, began to sing it, tune in, but I did not succeed. I felt like I was grimacing before the mirror, showing some kind of spectacle. I was not able to tune in to a serious way. And then Ram appeared in my hands and, being in my hands, lay down on my chest and on my shoulders, hugging me with my hands.

He stroked me through my hand and held me like this. Asuras can enter objects and plug onto us humans. And this time, Ram quite clearly and tangibly showed his presence in my hands. I was feeling him in my hands, as if it was not my hands that were touching me, but he himself. I was feeling him in my arms, and he was hugging me by my arms. I was immersed in this bliss of unity with him, and out of me went the words to Lakshmi, asking her to give me this blessing. Words were pouring out of me when Ram was in my hands and I was all dissolved in him. I was feeling an immense love for him and with all my heart I wanted to always be with him and always feel him. And I quite spontaneously began to make a request to the goddess Lakshmi. I was talking her that I love him very much, that I really need him and that I ask Lakshmi's blessing for fidelity to him as my husband.

And then I asked Lakshmi to give me some kind of sign that it happen. And as soon as I uttered my request, immediately all the clouds in the sky parted and the sun shone brightly and right into my eyes. The whole day was overcast. And the sun came out and lit up so bright, and just for a few minutes, and just when I asked Lakshmi to give me a sign. And so I realized that Lakshmi accepted my request and gave me this blessing.

33. The battle and victory of Ram on Govardhana Puja

When I 30 October 2016, on Diwali, on the day of Lakshmi Puja, had asked blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity to Ram as to my husband and had received confirmation that this happened, I went with the children to the Sunday program Hare Krishna, and then I went to the jewelry, I bought a ring in honor of receiving me this blessing, and we stayed overnight at my lady friend. All night I was feeling my Ram with me, although I usually felt him only sometimes, but here he was clearly with me all night.

Then we went home, it was October 31, the day of Govardhana Puja. School holidays started and my children went to the school camp. I went to bed after that night when I was kind of asleep, but actually was feeling Ram all night with me. When I woke up, I felt a desire to be with him, and we had sex, after which I wanted to watch something of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» and «Mahabharata».

In the series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» a series opened, at the beginning of which Shiva spoke to everyone on Kailash to go into a great battle. Someone is attacked Kailash, and everyone who was in Kailash, spoke in defense of Kailash. And there is Shiva spoke the following words: «It is time, forward, all into battle, all go forward» And in «Mahabharata» was a series where Karna lamented that he would have to fight with Arjuna, although he was his younger brother. And Kunti came there and said that she is really the mother of Karna. Also in the morning in my news feed in VKontakte went a continuous series of posts that children without a mother are without protection, afraid everything.

I did not understand what all this could mean, but then I remembered the song «Sankirtana-Lila» «Dedication to the spiritual master», in which there were such words:

I am happy to meet with you, but I die when parting with you.

Saying goodbye to you, I stay with you and I hand over my life to you.

Where you are, there is eternal bliss, there kirtan lasts forever.

I serve you so imperfectly, but I want to serve you forever.

And on those words, I thought that Ram was going to have some kind of deadly battle.

I remembered the words of Aisha, who before that almost every day was appearing and talking about some terrible meeting, about some big asur with a red eye, that he is very terrible, that something will be terrible there. All these details of the puzzle have developed into a slim picture, and I realized: someone was attacking Ram; it was not without reason that the terrible meeting he went to and because of which I sang the Mrityunjaya Mantra for three days in a row. Some asur with red eye is going to kill my Ram, and now Shiva himself has given them a sign to go into battle.

Ram also asked me to order the Most Favorable Result, as I usually did in the Simoron. He conceived that situation there, and I stood in front of the mirror and said: «I order the Most Favorable Result for that situation. And let the result exceed all my expectations and be much better than I can imagine. Thank you, my Guardian Angels. Thank you, Universe». And Fedka (the rag, the gift of God) on my internal screen stuck his nose out from around the corner and asked for the same. And at his request, I again ordered the Most Favorable Result.

And so I look at all these details of the puzzle and see that right now, at this time, Ram and everyone with him is going to deadly battle with that horrible and terrible asur with red eye, and Ram is sure that he will be killed, because he was with me all night, he was saying goodbye to me. And the sex was also farewell. And the song «Sankirtana-Lila» with the words «I am happy to meet with you, but I die when parting with you. Saying goodbye to you, I stay with you and I hand over my life to you» too about it. I look at these revelations and I understand that they must kill him there, in this battle that is going on right now. When a subtle, fine-material body is killed, the ordinary physical body also dies. And I understand that when he will leave his body, then after some time will be created situation and I will leave my life. But even when I say goodbye, leaving the body, I still remain with him, I am always with him, even if we are in different worlds and on different planets. And my life depends on him, and I give my life to him.

And then it became clear why in VKontakte there were posts that children without a mother are afraid of everything and without protection. I realized that he is fighting a battle right now, he is fighting someone very powerful and he will be killed. I realized that after some time something will happen, because of what I will leave my body and my children will remain without me. I was very scared because my children aren't guilty that their mother is born life after life and follows some man who is her eternal couple, but who is not with her anyway, as he is an asur, but she is a destroyer of asuras.

I turned on the protective mantras and began to listen and sing it. The children came from the school camp. We went by bus to the city program Hare Krishna. The bhaktas rented a large cafe on the occasion of the celebration of Govardhana Puja. The cafe was far away from us. The trip was far away, with transfers, and the whole time I was listening to these protective mantras in the headphones, Mrityunjaya Mantra, Narasimha Kavacham, Narasimha Maha Mantra, and was singing in my mind, actively asking the Lord to protect Ram and keep him alive, because my life and the well-being of my children depend on his life.

Also, all this time I was standing in front of my Gurudev on my inner screen. I was standing with my hands folded in Namaste. I didn't ask him for anything, because I was ashamed of the sex we had with Ram before that. It is clear that this was not full-fledged sex, in physical reality, but in masturbation, but for the asuras there is no difference, since they know how to enter objects and feel everything through space. Therefore, in our case it was sex, with the presence of me and him, albeit at a distance. I was very ashamed that I just had sex with Ram, and here I appeal to my Gurudev, so I just stood in silence before him and did not ask for anything. I was standing and was standing in front of Gurudev with my hands in Namaste. But I very was asking Krishna to protect Ram. First I was asking Krishna to protect Ram, then I was asking Him to protect all those who were there with Ram, and then I was asking Krishna for our victory.

When we arrived at the cafe, which was already the celebration of Govardhana Puja, I felt that I did my job and now I can relax. I sat down in a secluded corner of the café and began to chant the Hare Krishna mantra. I was approached from everywhere by children who were running around the cafe, and ask me the same question: what does «jaya» mean?

The devotees led a kirtan and sang «Jaya Jaya Prabhupada». I told the children that «jaya» means «victory». In Sanskrit «jaya» means «victory». «Jaya Prabhupada» means «Glory to Prabhupada», and in General, the word «jaya» is translated as «victory». And thus I realized that victory is ours, that Ram not just survived, but had defeated an asur with the red eye, whom was undefeated and definitely would have killed Ram. But Ram had won him.

I went at the kirtan, after the program I was approached by one boy, Hanuman, and brought me the garland from the Deities. I did not ask him about it. Thus I realized that Yes, Krishna confirms that Ram won. And Borka, the then leader of the Moscow organization of asuras, with those mastodons, specialists in breaking the female nature, had to cancel bets on me at their asuric totalizator and retire with nothing.

34. The story of how Ram became a disciple of my Gurudev and received the spiritual name Shri Ram

On October 30, I asked goddess Lakshmi for a blessing to conjugal fidelity to Ram as to my husband, and October 31, he had a battle at the subtle, fine-material level with some kind of red eye, as Aisha told about him in her dances. Ram remained alive and even won. Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, had to cancel totalizator betting and remove me from their asuric totalizator, and now it was Ram's turn to keep his word.

On Saturday, October 29, we agreed with him through a friend of my lady friend. He was speaking about the importance of the case, that it is very important and can not be repeated, and I was saying that definitely need to take initiation. Thus through the usual conversation with an ordinary man, Ram and I put forward our wishes: he wanted me to ask the goddess Lakshmi blessing of conjugal fidelity to him as to my husband, and I wanted him to become a disciple of my spiritual master, Indradyumna Swami. Ram accepted my condition, saying that I should make an advance payment, that is, the first to fulfill my part of our treaty. And I did it on October 30, Sunday, on Diwali, on Lakshmi Puja.

He agreed to my condition, because was fully confident that he would be killed in that battle, because asuras had exposed against him a very powerful asur, who did not know defeat in the battle. And Ram was sure that the matter would simply not come to fulfill his part of our treaty, but providence intervened. Krishna has shown me that my life depends on Ram`s life and that well-being of my children depends on my life, and I began with great determination to sing protective mantras and ask Krishna to protect Ram, despite the fact that he is asur. And Krishna did. Everyone was stunned. That big invincible asur with red eye was defeated, and Borka with the destroyers of female nature had canceled totalizator betting and had took me off their asuric totalizator.

And here we are with my girlfriend and my kids sit in the car to her friend after the celebration of Govardhana Puja, when was the battle of Ram with the red eye, in which won not the red eye, and my Ram, and go to her house for a sleepover. In our car sits some bhakta, who has asked to give him a ride home. We are driving in the car, bhakta is chanting mantra, and I am remembering that somewhere I have already heard such mantra chanting, very peculiar.

I wracked my brains and had remembered this bhakta. I knew him in 1990^s, he was treasurer of our yatra, when the president was still Paritoshika prabhu, the current Rami Bleckt. Paritoshika, who now is Rami Bleckt, entrusted this bhakta the key to the safe with the money of the yatra. Paritoshika trusted him so much that he entrusted all the money to him. And I began to ask him his name, whose disciple is he, how is he lives. It turned out that his name is Garuda prabhu, that he is a disciple of my Gurudev, Indradyumna Swami.

I began to praise him, saying that I am proud that my spiritual teacher has such a disciple and I have such a brother in God, such a crystal clear person. I was talking that himself Paritoshika in those years entrusted him the key to the safe with the money of the whole yatra. I was thanking him that he is trusty, that he is many years in ISKCON and just as inspired by Krishna consciousness, as in those years. Thus in talking to that bhakta, I was talking Ram that he must fulfill his part of our treaty, that he must become a disciple of my spiritual master and that he must become my brother in God.

After, when we arrived to my lady friend this her acquaintance asked me to correct the text of his letter to one his acquaintance that there were no mistakes in the text. I sat down to read this letter and look for mistakes there. The speech in that letter was that one his acquaintance always behaved consistently, always stood firm, fulfilled the promises, and this time somehow behaved differently: he had said but had did not. And there it was said: «Everyone knows you as an honest, truthful person. You have a reputation as a person who keeps his word. Please be so decent person always and in this case too».

The ways of the Lord are paradoxical, because our interaction with Ram is so interesting that even through the correspondence of strangers we have a conversation with him. When I was reading that letter, I actually was reproaching my Ram through the words of that letter, although I did not know about it. As if I at the level of my higher self through the words of someone else's letter was uttering my discontent to him and calling for his conscience and honor. My reproaches were like that: «Ram, everyone in your asuric community knows that you are the asur, who always keeps his word, but I see that you are not going to fulfill what you promised me. I see that you do not want to keep the word given to me, but I did keep my word. I had asked Lakshmi for blessings to conjugal fidelity to you as to my husband. So be consistent and become a disciple of my spiritual master, as we agreed with you». I totally had cornered him with this letter. After all, he actually had a reputation for being so consistent and firm in the performance of his word.

And the next day, and it was November 1, 2016, on Tuesday morning, I'm sitting, doing my business and suddenly see on my inner screen myself, my Ram standing to my right, and my Gurudev, Indradyumna Swami, who was standing in front of us, at a short distance. And between me and my Gurudev there was some kind of interaction, as if there was an invisible conversation between us.

Not a word was spoken, I just was seeing us all on my inner screen and quite clearly feeling that now between me and my Gurudev is some kind of exchange, some inaudible conversation, not even at the mental level, because in the thoughts was complete silence and grace, no breath of wind there was no, complete calm. But somehow it seemed that there is a conversation between us.

And suddenly this inaudible conversation stopped, and my Gurudev turned to Ram, who was standing to my right. I was standing there and was completely amazed to see that between my Gurudev and my Ram began to rush a rapid flow of energy. It was a powerful flow of energy, and of mutual energy. At the same time there were two streams. One flow went from my Ram to my Gurudev, and another flow went from my Gurudev to my Ram. Both of these energy flows that miraculously flowed simultaneously in the same space, one towards each other and not interfering with each other, as if autonomously, although along the same channel between them. I was astonished to see that these energy flows rushing with some kind of humming and whistle, as in a high voltage power line. And even there were sparks. There were very powerful energies there, and even the flow from my Ram to my Gurudev was greater.

This, most likely, my Gurudev was taking the heavy asuric karma of my Ram, which he had received for millions of lives being as an asur. He is a real asur, not just man living with the consciousness of the enjoying. No, my Ram is actually asur, the one with their asuric nature and their mystical powers that he used for evil. And he has a lot of ugra-karma, that is, heavy karma. There was a very strong flow between them, and everything was buzzing there. And these two streams of energy were going at the same time, and after that I saw that my Ram began to grow up. He began to grow, grow, grow and to rise above the heavens. I lifted my head and tried to look him up, but he got up so high that I couldn't see it. I and my Gurudev were as the ordinary personalities, but my Ram has grew up above the heavens, that wasn't even seen where he is up there.

After this picture ended, and I began to think, what was it. I didn't understand all that at the time. I didn't know that asuras put me, as the lot on totalizator, on their asuric totalizator. I didn't know that Ram was fighting to protect me. I did not know that I set a condition for him to become a disciple of my spiritual master. I just was watching what was happening on my internal screen, as a bystander. But still, I realized something then. And then I, of course, understood that my Gurudev has accepted my Ram his disciple.

And I thought: what's his name now? After all, when you initiate is given a new name, a spiritual name. And after a while that name came to me. I was driving in the bus on business, I had wanted to listen to the lecture of my Gurudev, I poked without looking at the first lecture on the Internet and began to listen to it. At the end of the lecture I suddenly understood what it says about the initiation of Ram. It was a lecture about the initiation of Konstantin, in Evpatoria. Lecture from 19.09.2012. And there the initiations were assigned the next day for many bhaktas of different gurus, there was some big festival.

But my Gurudev decided to initiate one bhakta, without yajna, so that the next day this bhakta would take part in a common yajna for all. And Gurudev gave initiation to just one bhakta, and there was no sacred fire, no bananas in the fire, nothing. Gurudev said in that lecture that initiation actually takes place at the level of the heart, at the level of relations. And I was remembering how this stream of energies was going on between my Ram and Gurudev on my inner screen, and how the whole stream glowed with sparks and a great force was flowing there. And how Gurudev took huge flow of asuric karma from Ram.

I saw it all with my own eyes, Yes, on some internal screen, some internal vision, but I saw it. It was more real than real. And for me it is a fait accompli. And on my internal screen this initiation was also with the only candidate, with my Ram. And there were no attributes of Yajna; everything happened on some subtle, energetic level. Everything happened at the level of relations, at the level of the heart, as my Gurudev said in that lecture.

And then my Gurudev said the name of that bhakta — Shri Nam das. And all nine months of our interaction with Ram I called him Ram, this name came up from somewhere in the deep depths of past lives. And when my Gurudev said «Shri Nam», I, regardless of my will and my consciousness, uttered: «Shri Ram». And so I realized, what now have Ram name of, spiritual name of. Shri Ram. And since then he has become Shri Ram for me.

35. Sign of Krishna to be with Ram, no matter what happens

After all these events life has flowed on. November 5 Aisha danced his next dance, which told that the great will become small, and small will become great, that what was in the left hand, will be in the right hand and what was in the right hand, will be in the left hand. Thus she predicted the events that happened much later, six months after this dance, from June 2017, when I suddenly began to destroy the asuras, and the great, making them small, that is, sending them to their next incarnation, in the next birth, not as asuras, but as devotees of the Lord, devotees of Krishna. During this many great asuras were removed from the list of asuras, and many small, inconspicuous asuras got the opportunity to rise, and those words of Aisha came true.

Also at the beginning of November 2016, on the most absurd occasions, all my girlfriends were removed from me. The reasons were so illogical and ridiculous and all this happened quickly and almost at the same time, which did not cause any doubts: my girlfriends were simply taken away from me. What for? Well, maybe, because I was talking them about all these events, but they were sure that it the attack of disembodied spirits, energy vampires, succubus, and other thin disembodied energy entities. But I was saying, that they are wrong, that there's a man on the other end of this interaction, living in physical reality. I was saying them that I have interaction at a distance with a living person who live like us all. I was saying them that we are with him, even without being familiar in physical reality, at the same time communicate mentally, and we can even touch each other through the distance. Maybe my communication with my girlfriends was stopped for a while, so that I would stop telling them about him and so that they would stop convincing me that I cannot interact at a distance, mentally with an ordinary person who also lives and walks the earth, also eats and sleeps and earns money, rejoices because of something, but because of something he is sad and wants something.

And then began the sessions with a pillow. This is when I was going to bed, putting my head on the pillow or hugged it by my hand and immediately was feeling Shri Ram in a pillow. And we had some kind of unity, merging with each other, and then immersion into some deep layers of our existence with him, into our interaction in the material world. On one such grandiose session on the first layers I everywhere saw gold light and there were words about love: «I love you, you are my beloved, you are everywhere, only you, and I am yours»... Everything like that.

After, with the transition to the next levels, when I had a sigh of relief and the words coming out of me completely were changing, there were layers where we were in animal forms of life. I monotone was chewing too loudly and saying: «How tasty»... And it even seemed like I was pulling the half-eaten piece out of my jaws. I thought that this is similar to how a female mantids eats a male during intercourse, if he is not lucky to escape before that. Or when the coitus spiders occur. The spider brings the female a fly. When the male is fucking the female, she is eating a fly. But if the fly ended too quickly, the female would eat the male. I thought that my monotonous champing was similar to this case. Apparently, on that layer in a session with a pillow, I was plunged into a time when we were born as such spiders, or mantids. And when I was having sex with him, I ate him, my eternal husband. I ate him when we were spiders and mantids. He was very tasty. I chewed and pulled pieces of his body out of my spider jaws for a long time. Also during that session with a pillow on one of the layers, I felt like a snake, I was wearing a snake skin, I was curving like a snake and hissing: «You are all mine, wholly and completely». Apparently, when we were born as snakes, I ate him, being a snake. But snakes do not know how to bite off the pieces. Snakes swallow their prey whole. And apparently, this is how I swallowed my eternal husband when we were born snakes. Therefore, be careful saying: «You are all mine, wholly and completely», or else you will have to be born as a snake in one life and eat your beloved wholly and completely like this, just swallow its whole carcass. Dreams come true, but not always in the form you wanted. And sometimes dreams come true literally. You wanted your favorite to belong to you wholly and completely. And here you were born as a snake and eat your beloved, pushing the body of your beloved into your snake throat wholly and completely, because snakes eat this way.

And then there was layer, when I in complete confusion was standing alone among the empty lifeless space, was letting on all sides of my radar, crying and saying, «Where are you? I don't see you anywhere». And then there appeared some personalities and I said, «Who are you? I don't know you». And after that, «It's not true. What it is???? No». I didn't know what it was then, but then I thought it might have been. I thought that when he was made an asur, I could not find him with my radar and some powerful personalities came to me and revealed the true state of things.

I was shown what he became. They showed what a terrible and disgusting thingy (what is it???) was installed on him. And I was said that since I refuse to go there and to become such, then I with him can not be together, it is impossible. And they offered the help to me. They told me that they would remove our connection as an eternal couple and give me another man as my new eternal couple. But I refused, I told them a firm «No».

I do not know how I should have acted then. Did I make the right choice in that situation or not? But now I have come to him and I am giving him a chance. I have become a powerful weapon for the destruction of the asuras and many evil creatures, and I have lived many lives killing them, removing them from the list of evil creatures and making them devotees of the Lord, elevating them and directing them on the highest paths. And since Srila Prabhupada brought a window to the spiritual world to Earth, I decided to take this great real opportunity, leave the material world and to return into the spiritual world, but I was sorry to leave him, my Shri Ram, here in the material world without me, without my help and support, even at a distance. And I came to give him a chance.

At the same time was approaching November 21, my birthday. And at the same time from everywhere, signs to be with Shri Ram came to me in a continuous stream. And even were these words: «To be with him. Whatever happens». I wondered: what is it all about, why do I need it? I was much calmer when Shri Ram was not, but the signs came and came to me: to be with him, no matter what happened. I began to ask Krishna to confirm these signs. He sent me a whole line of very significant signs, which I would not even think of challenging in a normal situation, but I was still in doubt. And I told Krishna to give me such a greater sign, so that I could understand exactly what He wants from me, so that there would be no more doubts at all. And then those words repeated to stay with him, no matter what happened, and I wanted to look out the window.

It was November 20, 2016, there was snow everywhere, and all the plants have long are withered for the winter. A month before that, I bought a chrysanthemum sapling from a grandmother on the street and planted it in my front garden under my window. It was just a dry stick, which I stuck in the cold ground. There was snow everywhere. This chrysanthemum was supposed to start growing only next spring. And so I asked Krishna for the last sign, looked out the window, and on this dry stick among the snow blossomed a white luxurious chrysanthemum flower. How on a dry stick in the snow, a lush beautiful flower could bloom when there were no flowers around for a long time and it was just a chrysanthemum sapling? It did not even have leaves, only one flower. And this flower even was smelling pleasantly. I even went outside to make sure with my eyes and my nose that it is not a mirage. It was not a mirage, it was a sign of Krishna.

Then I said to Krishna, «You convinced me. Such a sign is accepted». And at the same time I asked Krishna to give me signs as to which sadhana I should keep up. Before that, I was singing protective mantras almost every day and chanting one circle of Hare Krishna mantra. And here I was puzzled that to include in this my daily obligatory sadhana and without what it is possible to do. And on November 20, and it was the Sunday before my birthday, I was shown the sign in the form of a flower in the snow and I went to the Sunday program Hare Krishna.

I was walking there under the impression of the flower, and I wondered if Krishna would give me more signs, now about my daily sadhana? As soon as I got there, one mataji ran up to me. On her chest hung a pendant in Indian style. She suggested that I lay my forehead to this pendant with respect. She said, «This pendant is Maha prasadam of Sri Ugra Nrisimhadeva from Mayapur! This pendant of Nrisimhadev, of the famous Deity in Mayapur!»

She told me that she was going to India and she was lucky there: pujari took off this pendant right in front of her from the deity Sri Ugra Nrisimhadeva and gave it to her! She was stunned by this and now came to share with all this mercy. I expressed my respect for this sacred pendant from Sri Ugra Nrisimhadeva and told Him mentally, «Krishna, thank You, I understood You. I include Narasimha Maha Mantra in my daily sadhana. Thank You for Your mercy». She never brought this pendant again. She brought it the only time, and it was the day before my birthday when I came to ask Krishna what to include in my sadhana.

Then I thought of Mrityunjaya Mantra: it is necessary to include Mrityunjaya mantra into my sadhana or no? Maybe Narasimha Maha Mantra will be enough? And then I go into the altar room and right in front of me I see a girl, and on her arm, above the elbow, a red cord is tied with rudraksha on it. I pretended not to know what a rudraksha was, and asked her what it was, and she replied that this is an attribute of Shiva. I thanked Krishna again for the sign: the Mrityunjaya Mantra should also be included in my daily sadhana. After all, Mrityunjaya Mantra is the mantra of Shiva. And with a clear conscience, with great relief, I surrendered to kirtan.

36. Pillow's session with the holy names of Krishna

After a while, Shri Ram threw in into my mind the memories of our memorable conversation with him through coach karate in the early summer, when I reminded the coach of our first conversation, when I came to learn about karate classes for children. In that conversation I told the coach that I have been living in this place for only half a year and have not found friends here yet, and the coach told me then that I will have many friends here and everything will be fine. And here is in June in conversation with him same, with a trainer, I reminded him about those his words, that he said that I have all will well. And he suddenly said he didn't remember him saying that. I was surprised: how can he not remember that??? But I remember that.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I even reminded him the date of that conversation: January 25, 2016. But he stood his ground that it wasn't, that he didn't say anything like that, and don't remember. And I said to him, «What a strange memory I have: what I need, I do not remember, and what I do not need, I remember». So through these words to the coach I told Shri Ram, who in an allegorical form communicated with me through the coach that I came to him, I give him a chance and wait for him to decide and make his choice: to take this chance or go other ways that he thinks are better than me and that will bring him more happiness and pleasure. I told Shri Ram that I had come to him, that I needed him, but somehow he still hadn't done anything to become with me.

I said that what I need, I do not remember. This means that I need Shri Ram, I came to get him, but he is not with me, he did not come to me, I do not remember him, he is not with me. But I remember what I do not need. I remember that he was activating his force methods at me to plug a bunch of «friends» onto me. As the coach said at the time, «you'll have a lot of friends here». Shri Ram told me through those words of coach that he would plug many his friends onto me and they would make me their doormat to have sex with me at the energy plane of existence and to pump out of me my female energy and my piety, to have fun in full, feeling his power over the next broken female. I was remembering it, what I don't need. I was remembering his «friends» whom I didn't want. But I did not was remembering him, Shri Ram, he did not make his steps, although I came to give him a chance.

And on December 10, 2016 in the evening I began to remember this conversation with the coach, his excuses. I began to remember that I told him that I do not know how long I will be leading my children to him, that is, I do not know how long I will be with my Shri Ram, since I came to give him a chance, and how much time he will have to decide whether to take this chance or not. He was silent and thoughtful looking me through the eyes of the coach: what am I going to do if he to me will not come? And I then answered him that the ways of the Lord are impenetrable. It means that I will go by the ways of the Lord, that is, our connection with Shri Ram as an eternal couple and in General any connection with him will be completely interrupted and I will go to Krishna, into the spiritual world. I will go by the ways of the Lord. I will go in ways that lead to the Lord. I will go to Krishna.

And after the session with pillow, which was November 17, when we were shown that somewhere between my lives I was offered to be free from him and given another man (even with choose) as my new eternal couple, and I refused this, Shri Ram was thinking and thinking, how could the ways of the Lord be inscrutable, if we have such an unbreakable connection? On December 10, an answer came to those reflections. And the answer came in the next session with pillow. It was December 10, Ekadashi, the day of Gita Jayanti, the day Krishna on the battlefield Kurukshetra before the great battle between the Kurus and the Pandavas instructed Arjuna in the Bhagavad Gita.

And also at that time I had 11 days of miracles, which I periodically ordered for myself in Simoron. And that evening I recalled that conversation with coach karate, when I had said that I have a strange memory: what I need, I do not remember, and what I do not need, I remember. I recalled that I had said that unfathomable are the ways of God. I was so angry to Shri Ram because he is such a gander and a hopeless dumbass that I didn't even want to put my head on the pillow before going to sleep, because he was always in it. I always felt him in the pillow.

I didn't even want to put my head on the couch, because I was disgusted by the idea of contact with Shri Ram, such a fool, and even I did not want to touch myself, as the asuras can enter into any objects and bodies, and into my hand he could easily enter and I would feel him. But this thought was disgusting to me that I would have any contact with him. But I wanted to sleep, and I still put my head on the pillow. And immediately felt Shri Ram in the pillow. And the session with pillow began.

First I was saying the words of love to him, to Shri Ram. I was saying how I love him, that he's my beloved. Then there was the transition to the next level, and there I began to complain to Krishna. I began to ask Krishna to help me. I was feeling completely alone in the bottomless abyss of the totally deserted silent cosmos, and standing there all alone, I was begging Krishna to help me. Thereafter I began to ask Krishna to take me to Himself. Thereafter I began to ask Krishna to release me. Thereafter I started to tell Krishna that I love Him.

And then something strange happened. I quite clearly had felt and even had heard somewhere below in me, at the entrance of the vagina, there was some click, as if there was a clamp bracket and it had been unfasted. And this clamp bracket had been disappeared. As if this brace had been unfastened from that place, from entrance of the vagina. As if there was some kind of brace there, but in one instant they detached it from me, and I had been felt freedom from this clamp, which was constantly there. And at the same moment, this Shri Ram had been gone. He wasn't just been gone. He never existed at all. Never ever. He did not exist. There was only me and only Krishna. And there was nobody else. The whole world has ceased to exist for me.

I began to chant the Hare Krishna mantra, slowly and stretched. I was saying every word of the mantra and savoring its taste in my tongue. At the same time, I was looking at this name of Krishna, as if it was standing in front of me, in front of my inner sight. And every name of Krishna in this mantra was an individual personality. I slowly, very slowly was uttering the words of mantra and was peering at this name, which I was uttering at that time. I was seeing this name standing there, I was feeling the taste of this name and seeing it in front of me as a personality, and as such a familiar personality and such a native. When I was beginning to pronounce the following name in this Hare Krishna mantra, I astonishment was meeting this new name and looking at it with a new feeling.

It was as if the name itself had stood in front of me and was standing and I am recognizing it as dear for me personality, and I am looking and feeling it. Each name in the mantra was a new personality, special and unique. And with every name who was the personality I had a special relationship. And at the same time I was feeling every name so native, so close and actually tasty. It was completely different taste, which I here, in material reality, could never even imagine.

Then I began to sing a song, which I composed myself. That is, I translated once the song of Bhaktivinoda Thakura «Manasa Deho Geho» in song format, in Russian, and turned out the song «Radha-Natha». As the duet «Radha-Natha» I with my second husband was singing this song a lot of everywhere. And this time I was pronouncing the mantra Hare Krishna and really communicated with the names of Krishna as with the personality, and each name was a special personality. I was looking into this personality with such greed and was feeling this personality as a dear and close to me being. And I began to sing that song «Radha-Natha»:

Chorus song:

Radha-Natha, You are Lord of Radha.
Radha-Natha, You are light of my life.
Radha-Natha, only You can be the way You are.
Radha-Natha, You are the dearest to me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Mind, body, talent and family, whatever may be mine, I have surrendered at Your lotus feet, O youthful son of Nanda!
In good fortune or in bad, in life or at death, all my difficulties have disappeared by choosing those feet of Yours as my only shelter.

Slay me or protect me as You wish, for You are the master of Your eternal servant.
May I be born again even as a worm, so long as I may remain Your devotee.
I have no desire to be born as a Brahma averse to You.

I yearn for the company of that devotee who is completely devoid of all desire for worldly enjoyment or liberation.

Father, mother, my beloved, son, my Lord, preceptor, and my husband; You are everything to me.

O Krishna, please hear me! O Lord of Radha, You are my life and soul!
You are light of my life. I'm with You is not alone.

I was singing this song, and every word in this song was my personal appeal to Krishna, my personal attitude to him. It was so amazing... Shri Ram received an answer to my question about the ways of the Lord; I had a completely unimaginable experience of communication with Krishna, with his Holy names, which I felt as him, as Krishna. I had a completely amazing experience of communication with Krishna's Holy names with whom I communicated and had my own, personal relationship, with each name separately as a with personality, individual, especial and singular personality for me. Krishna has shown him, Shri Ram, and me, that He can at any time remove this connection of us with him, with Shri Ram, and free me for myself, for the one who lives in these names of this mantra and whose names are He himself, Krishna. God, this is so amazing! The energies of the Lord are incomprehensible. And God works in mysterious ways.

37. New Year's spree

On December 30, 2016, Shri Ram had come to me in real life, we somehow had come into contact with each other when I went with the children for gifts for the New Year, but it did not go further. And on January 1, 2017, on the New Year, in the morning Fedka (rag, God's gift) had come to me on my internal screen. He stood in front of me for half a day, and I did not understand what he needed at all. Then it occurred to me that he wanted to wish me a happy New Year. I was very grateful to him, but I could not congratulate him in return, because I was in a bad mood, because Shri Ram has not congratulated me yet.

There were no signs that he was congratulating me on the New Year, and it was spoiling my mood. And then in front of me on my inner screen was a whole crowd of men and women. as I understood, they were in Shri Ram's organization that's under him. And they all were standing and kind of congratulating me on the New Year. But I called them poop. Also I called myself poop. I said tem that I was not interested in their congratulations, because I was alone and continue to be alone and Shri Ram did not congratulate me. They quietly left.

On the evening of 1 January, I spent the Abhishek of my Deities and gave myself a ring that really lifted my spirits, and on 2 January I began to congratulate happy New Year all from the list of my contacts. My list of contacts included a karate trainer, with whom began with our Shri Ram interaction and through whom a lot of what went on. I wrote him a great greeting, in which I gave him and his whole family a lot of blessings, at the same time congratulating Shri Ram between the lines.

But nor 2, nor 3, nor 4 January answer from him not was. On January 3, I with the children went to the Museum of the world ocean, and on the way some man said to me: «The main thing is that an sambo wrestler is with you», pointing to my son. Thus Shri Ram through the words of this man told me that this is bullshit, that he does not pay any attention to me and does not congratulate me and does not show himself, the main thing is that he is with me. Like, what else do I need?

In fact, Shri Ram let go of all his brakes and went to fuck with one of his bitches who are in all the asuric organizations. Asuras are installed at ordinary women these disgusting asuric programs, because of which women become weak-willed puppets in their hands and perform all their whims, sexually, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. And Shri Ram on New Year's Eve went on a spree with such a bitch.

And they were very funning, and he did not want to think about me and congratulate me on the New Year. He was fucking these bitches for many years, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, and he is very addicted to this pleasure, but with my arrival to him he had to stop this fun. But now he let go of his brakes and dove into sex with her. But he told me something like, «Do not worry, I'm still with you. This slut is very hot thing, fucks very cool, and you're some kind of misunderstanding. I do not know why I am with you for so long, you do not entertain me as I want and do not satisfy me. This bitch satisfies me, and you are an empty place. I don't even want to look at you, not to congratulate you and give you my own good words».

And on 4 January one of my girlfriends came to me. She has been renting an apartment for many years, and she has stamp in her passport confirming a place of her registration in the house, which has long been demolished. She does not have her own dwelling, she rents a dwelling, she is registered in a house that does not exist, but she bought her boyfriend a car and is bragging about it. I told her that her ex-husband could start suing her because of their children and reveal that her housing registration is fake, in a house that does not exist, and she would be left without children, and without a car, and without boyfriend, without anything.

I metaphorically spoke Shri Ram that he's taking a risk funning with that bitch, since he can stay with nothing. After all, he had already been told in September, when he almost became a beggar homeless, not to did not commit such insults. And tonight, reflecting on these words of the girlfriend about stamp in her passport confirming a place of her registration in the house, which has long been demolished, I went into a rage and began to vent my anger in letters to a coach who did not deign to write to me in answer a word.

I wrote him a bunch of angry letters, which were, in particular, such words: «Perhaps you are waiting for a sign from above. But you'll never see these signs, know it! I see above too. There are no signs for you». Here I told Shri Ram that if he was unhappy with me and waiting that he will find a better woman, then let him forget about it for good, because there are no other women for him in his fate. I told Shri Ram that he's my man or he is no one's man. I wrote to him that "there are no signs for him" ahead, that is, he has no options at all. I wrote then: «Oh, look, otherwise it will blow me away from you with a fair wind. The main thing is that in the right direction».

Here I told Shri Ram that Shiva himself told Shri Ram that Shiva gave Shri Ram a powerful weapon, Chandrahas, and that if he abused that weapon and misbehaved with it, this weapon would return to Shiva. And I said to Shri Ram, «Look, you're taking a big risk. I can be taken from you, and then your future will be very lamentable, you're facing a miserable fate». I wrote: «I want to smithereens someone.... This is me such an unbalanced person, I demand to myself respect and admiration».

I told Shri Ram here that I wanted to smithereens him, to punish him, and that I demanded respect and worship. I require. Also I wrote in those letters about the dog of karate coach: «Your dog is good. Greyhound such a... Probably she eats a lot. I don't like dogs, I like cats. We have cat Sonia, Thai breed. Our cat likes a lot to eat, finicky». Then I told Shri Ram that the slut with whom he fucked, too brazen, she stepped over me and had fun there with my husband. In Russian, the word «борзая» («greyhound») also means «наглая» («brazen»), and when I learned that the breed dog of karate coach is a greyhound, that is, in other words, brazen, I realized that with my Shri Ram some other woman who is too brazen. And when I described our cat, I talked about myself. I said that our cat is fastidious, that is, she eats only what she loves, she does not eat everything in a row. By this I told Shri Ram that I am faithful to him, I am focused on him, and I need him. I told him that I strongly opposed him being with other women.

I said, «Where's the money??? I mean, where's the congratulations?» Here I told, that his man energy is meant and intended only me as his wife, but where it now? Where did his man energy go, to what woman who is nobody to him? I wrote: «I would like to challenge you to a duel. However, I don't know karate. I have a stun gun. It hits the spot». I threatened him with violence, to my Shri Ram. I said I could handle it with some powerful Taser that hits the spot.

And on the morning of January 5 came the answer from the karate coach, and with it from my Shri Ram, which was written: «Happy New Year to you too.... And for all the ornateness of your situation, Sveta, you know better than I that God has His own plan for you and he is, of course, good. There are no others there.... It is known that a diamond that fell into the mud, will still remain a diamond». Here Shri Ram in the words of the coach told me that God has his own plan for me, that is, he is mine.

He said he is mine. And that «he's certainly good», which meant in that allegorical language, that with me he, Shri Ram. And that there are no others. He thus told me that there were no other women with him. By this he said that he had a lot of sex with other women these days and now he doesn't want more sex, and therefore there are no other women. He kind of told me, «Relax, Svetlana Vinodavani, I had enough of her and sent that bitch from myself, now the others women is not with me. You don't have to be afraid, and you don't have to worry so much. I am your husband and I will be your husband. I'm all yours and will be yours. What are you so worried about? I well fucked with the other woman, what's wrong with that? Everybody does it. Get used to it, little fool. All men are like that. You have lived to such years, but you do not know it. Well, you a sucker. Well, what to do. You are my wife, and I am your husband. And I will be your husband. So do not boil, relax, dear». He told me that he is my husband and that he doesn't look at this woman as at something worthwhile. He told me that a diamond fell in the mud. By this he said that he is a diamond, and this woman is dirt, nobody.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

What a repulsive attitude towards the woman you were with! Like towards dirt, like towards crap. Very unfortunate. He said he is a diamond and would still be a diamond, that is, my husband. He thought that this way would calm me and my anger, but I went ahead and wrote another letter, with these words: «Oh, I wrote about the dog, but did not congratulate her. Congratulations to her too. Let her be happy». After reading these my words, I thought about the dog, that is, about the woman with whom he was. I wrote, but not «congratulated», and I decided that «to congratulate» her is necessary.

I tuned into her and saw her on my internal screen. I surrounded her by a fire hoop and turned on my stun gun that is really effective. She screamed there and begged for my forgiveness, but I was indifferent, because she was indifferent to me, dared to step over me, over my self-respect, over my feelings. I wanted it to with his organization looked at it, and they all stood there and watched as she screamed and screamed, and I squeezed and squeezed this fiery hoop.

And after that Krishna showed me a screenshot of the TV series «Mahabharata» (by that time I began to revise the «Mahabharata» and save screenshots from it, which can give some signs, tips), that I do something wrong. And then I again opened my letter to a karate coach in which I wrote that I congratulate his dog on the New Year and saw the words «let her be happy». I thought this woman was not to blame. I thought that they installed their asuric programs on her and made her their weak-willed puppet, a kind of sexual slave.

And I remembered how Shri Ram used force methods on me at the beginning, activating at me a mode of constant oestrus, like at a female animal during the period of fertilization. He wanted to bend me under all his subordinates from his asuric organization, so that I fulfill any of their whims at any time with any number of them, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. And then in summer he wanted to «initiate» me, install on me asuric programs, but he was told that it is a crime according to the laws of the Universe, that he will receive for this cruel punishment and it is prohibited. What did he want to do to me??? And those asuras who put me, as the lot on tote, on their asuric totalizator were also going to break my feminine nature.

And I thought that this woman is not happy, because she is a toy, a sexual slave in their hands, and that with this program of bitch she could not be happy. I thought I should free her from this nature and these programs that force her to act like that. I took off that fiery hoop from her, turned on mantras, bhajan performed by my Gurudev, began to sing with him, took a piece of paper, tore it into small, small pieces and began to burn a piece of them on the candle fire, while asking Krishna to free this woman from this vile nature and these programs and make her an ordinary normal woman who will not respond to their encroachments to her.

And when I burned all the pieces of this leaf in the candle fire, I felt that woman was completely free and became a normal ordinary woman. I saw her on my inner screen with her hands folded in Namaste, thanking me for such a priceless gift. Everyone in his organization was shocked. They didn't think it was possible to do that, to take that program off a woman, and in such a simple way, and by me.

On January 8, I got very excited again. I looked again at my internal screen, saw his asuric organization, stood over all their women and began to go inside each of them and to scan them, whether they want Shri Ram. I stood in front of one of women, fixed my inner gaze into her and said with threat: «Do you want something?» I scanned her, whether she wants to be with my Shri Ram. She was lost and tried to hide from my sight. And then I stood over his entire asuric organization and began to do something there. I felt that my actions lead to some kind of a grand transformation in his organization, and they are all alarmed and gathered a large congregation.

And after that I saw on my internal screen how from them to me began to approach the four men, four wolfhounds, able to block the will, and stood around me. Shri Ram assigned them to me, and since that time, I have always felt their presence with me. But I'd still get up over them women from time to time and scan them.

Since that time, ceased from our sessions with pillow, and Fedka (the rag, the gift of God) became unhappy. Those wolfhounds were very formidable. I don't know what they did and are doing, but after I was making quite a splash in their asuric organization, Shri Ram assigned them to me.

Shri Ram did not last long after this spree with that woman with the program of nature of bitch which was installed on her, and very soon I received another sign that he has a spree again. This time it happened on January 18, when I went to shop, met the wife of the karate coach with their dog and talked to her. We talked about their dog. She said that dog breed is the English Greyhound, whippet and dog name is Saifa. I came home, went online, and I found out that Saifa is the name of technique in karate, and that word literally means «maximum destruction, big wave». Saifa is the third kata for Goju-Ryu Karate. The meaning of Saifa kata is «to smash and tear to pieces».

I thought that it was not by chance that they met me at the store. I thought that, most likely, Shri Ram hangs out with women. This time he is fucking with some kind of very greyhound, brazen woman, since the breed of dog was an English greyhound. Not just a Greyhound, and even English. I wrote a bunch of letters to coach karate about his dog, in which saw through my own words, that Shri Ram is with another woman, very brazen woman (Greyhound), and he is happy with her. In Russian, the name of the breed dog the greyhound is sounds as «борзая». This in Russian means «наглая» («brazen»), so I realized that some impudent, that is, brazen woman dared to step over me and become with Shri Ram, although I am his wife. There are women who are not stopped by the fact that a man is married. They do not care. And from the name of the dog breed «greyhound», which in Russian also means «наглая» («brazen»), I realized that such an brazen (in Russian greyhound = brazen) woman neglected my position as his wife and began to fuck with him. Bitch. I felt very sad because of the realization of this.

38. Receiving Gurudeva's blessing on my Mahabharata

Yes, you will say that this is far-fetched, but what to do if my life is always like this: everything that happens in my life, everything points to something. And if I saw something, then this is a projection of something that is happening not here, in field of my vision, but somewhere else, that it is directly related to Shri Ram. All this tells about him in this way.

I thought I didn't want to be where someone else was needed. I thought that I didn't want to control anyone, check, so to speak, cell phones, text messages, history of visits to sites and correspondence on the Internet... I don't want to be where someone else is needed. Or just someone. And I'm in such a mood sat down to write a letter to my Gurudev. I wrote a large letter, in which I clearly described that I have here for almost a year (by that time) last some strange relationship.

With me in touch some man who lives somewhere very close to me, and we love each other, we are somehow husband and wife. That, of course, it can all be a fiction of my mind, but already so much has happened during this time that I have to agree with the obvious facts and accept the idea that this is not from the realm of fantasy, but a real fact. Yes, of course, if at all this is possible, then it can be some supernatural spirit, disembodied spirit, even some creatures, but everything says that with me in touch a real person who lives like ordinary people, really a living person and we are not strangers to each other people. And we are interacting with him.

I see his active presence in my life, even without the physical aspect. He is somewhere, he lives somewhere. And he's in my life. He is present in my life, although he is not with me in physical reality. He is present in my life, invisibly but tangibly, although he himself does not come to me for some completely incomprehensible reason, but he sees through my eyes, where I live, what is happening in my life. It's very strange, but I have to agree with this, considering in mind all the obvious evidence for this. And I wrote about all this in a letter to my Gurudev quite openly and asked him what to think about all this and in what direction to look: to continue to be with him or to try to break away from him?

I asked my Gurudev what is more favorable for me in this situation. I described to him that because of the coming of this man in my life, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, I had returned to Krishna Consciousness. I started chanting the mantra Hare Krishna again. Because I saw that only the mantra Hare Krishna helps me and gives the real protection in all this. I began to listen to the lectures of Srila Prabhupada, spiritual masters of ISKCON, I began to listen to bhajans, kirtans. I again began to go to programs Hare Krishna in the temple, to communicate with the devotees of Krishna, after such a long period without all this. And all this, of course, is very favorable for me. But this relationship... in such a format when you feel that connection all the time, but this man's place in your real life is empty and you're here without help... This is a big dissonance not bringing any positive emotions, confidence and security.

I also wrote to Gurudev that for this man who is in touch with me, interaction with me is favorable, because he listens to about Krishna while he is with me. He wants it or not, but he is forced to do so, because he is constantly in touch with me and through me hears everything that I listen to. And I listen to Hare Krishna. And I asked Gurudev, what should I do: continue to be with him or leave? I sent an email, and almost immediately, the same evening I received a reply from Gurudev.

I received a reply from Gurudev in a randomly opened lecture on the Internet in which Gurudev said, «Srila Prabhupada, I am happy to serve you. I have no shadow of doubt, fear or illusion about my position as your servant. I'd do anything for you. If you had ordered me to go to hell to preach, I would have jumped on the first train rushing to hell, and on the way I would have happily sung the Holy names».

I clearly saw this situation: I am among the asuras, somehow I had to interact with them. And this is not whom people usually call asuras. These are not just ordinary everyman with the consciousness of thirsty pleasures. No, these are the real asuras, with a special asuric nature, whom have some the mystical ability and capabilities completely beyond our understanding and whom do not hesitate to impose their will among ordinary people.

I saw clear parallels between Gurudev's words and my situation, and I realized that Gurudev wanted me not to leave there and continue to preach the Holy name of the

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Lord there. I accepted his words for his clear answer to me and clear indication of the movement and mentally remained with Shri Ram. Although it was very hard for me, especially considering that I do not see him and what he does, and that he has tricks with women at the energy plane of existence, and still are possible and in the real life. And I'm sitting here alone, I don't see anything and I just get the information and decode it. But nothing can be done: I accepted my Gurudev's words as his response to my situation.

39. Ram's word as a gentleman

We went to the program Hare Krishna the same week. From the program we went home by bus. When we got on the bus, there were a lot of empty seats. My daughter went to sit on one seat by the window. But when she was almost seated at this place, a woman hurried to this seat and, roughly pushing my daughter away, sat down at that place with an arrogant, victorious look. My daughter was stunned by such arrogance. I told my daughter to sit in another place by the window, and I sat next to that woman. I took out of my bag the smelliest Arab perfume and was perfumed. I sat next to this woman, and from me because of this smelly Arab perfume spread such a terrible smell that it was impossible to tolerate. I love the Arab perfumes. The Arab perfumes are natural, without alcohol. I read somewhere that the lower spirits with the low-lying nature are drawn to the smell of alcohol, and since there is a certain percentage of alcohol in all modern perfumes, I do not use these perfumes. I don't want lower spirits who love alcohol to fly to me because of this trace of alcohol in these perfumes. I have a lot of Arab perfumes, there are very pleasant scents. But then in my purse there were not only pleasant Arabian perfumes, but also very harsh, really smelly. And I maliciously was looking at this brazen woman and was perfumed smelly perfume. Perfume was specific, very smelly, with a pungent smell. I specifically perfumed this perfume so that this woman suffocated from this smelly smell because she pushed my daughter away and took her place, although there were a lot of empty seats and my daughter almost sat down at this place.

Then my father called me and began to ask where we were, where we went, and I, holding the phone in my hand and turning to the woman, said loudly almost in her ear: «На программу» («To the program»). I mean, I told my dad that we went to the program Hare Krishna. But when I came home, I saw that in this situation I was shown the woman, the brazen (Greyhound), with whom Shri Ram was. I was shown the woman who is blatantly sat on my place, pushed me, although the seats were full. And I saw what I did to that woman that Shri Ram was with. I perfumed myself on smelly perfume with a pungent smell and told her «на программу» («to the program»), that is, «бери программу» («to take program»). I installed on this woman very tricky program. When she interacted with Shri Ram and all his team, something unimaginable was starting to happen to them that was not part of their plans and spoiled everything for them. This was resulting in maximum damage and big wave they have there, that they had to get rid of her.

They were all at a loss. I was even more bewildered. How did I know, not knowing her or all of them, what was going on out there, and installed on some kind of elaborate program, that they were all shocked? Because I replied my dad that we went to the program. Apparently, I showed Shri Ram, that it was a program that I installed on her (he had a question about what was going on there because of all that, and I showed him so clearly, on that brazen woman on the bus). I replied my dad that we went to the program, but in Russian I uttered «на программу» (“to the program”). And this expression has another meaning. In Russian, “on” also means “take”: «на программу» = «бери программу» (“to a program” = “to take a program”). That is, I kind of told her: «Take the program». That is, in this way I showed Shri Ram that I installed a program on her, gave her a program. They had to refuse her services.

After that, Shri Ram said to me, «Believe me». But I told him that I had believed him many times, but nothing had changed. But he added, «Please». And then he in my mind brought back memories about my letter with the words «This will not happen again». I thought I had nowhere to go anyway. Gurudev said to be with him, no matter what. Gurudev said boldly preach Krishna consciousness. And it continued.

On February 14, Valentine's Day, I took Boris Akunin's book «The Falcon and the Swallow» from the library, and Shri Ram said to me through the words of that book that day: «I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman. On the contrary, I am so grateful to you for your coming from nowhere to brighten up my loneliness. Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust. We are alone in this gloomy world, so let's stick together». Yes, these are just words in a book, but we with Shri Ram interact through everything in life. And since these words appeared, and even on the Valentine's Day, then, of course, these words were told to me somewhere there by my Shri Ram. And I took those words as word as a gentleman of my Shri Ram.

On March 3 I went to make the order of the press from files on canvas. I bought a large sheet of chipboard in the hardware store. I cut it there for the size I need. I saved from the Internet those pictures with Krishna, what I wanted to see at home, and went to the firm to order paintings from these files on these boards chipboard. And when I stood there, a man came in. Very decent, intelligent man, good looking. When he crossed the threshold, our views crossed, and I saw splashing in his eyes delight.

That look was familiar to me. I remembered that I had already seen such a look in Moscow, when Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, came to me on the train. And he had the same look of admiration splashing around then. And in this man who came in, everything in appearance was taken into account, thought out, everything endeared to himself. I turned away indifferently and listened to what they were talking about. After that, I had thoughts in my head, and what is my Shri Ram, what does he look like, and what if this man is my Shri Ram?

But then I remembered a conversation with my friend, which we had with her on January 4, about stamp in her passport confirming a place of her registration in the house, which has long been demolished. And then I watched one series of TV series «Ramayana» 2008, where Lav and Kush wanted Ram to come to them, but Ram was sending others to them, but he himself did not come to them. And Lav and Kush was saying, «Why doesn't Ram himself come to us? Why does he send others instead of himself?» It all fitted together, and I realized that the man at the Janmashtami and this man in this company is not Shri Ram. I realized that Shri Ram instead of himself them to me sends.

I have come to understand that this man with such a familiar look with a splashing in it delight is an asur, who is in the asuric organization of Shri Ram. I understood that he came to me for some reason. I felt sad about these thoughts, and I mentally returned to the situation when this man went in there and looked into my eyes. I imagined that I was standing in that firm and choosing what I needed, and this man comes in and looks into my eyes with his enthusiastic gaze. I imagined his gaze and mentally entered through the beam of his gaze directly into his head and stood right inside his head. The inside of his head was empty and black. I was standing there, and suddenly from somewhere below some blocs began to fly out up, as if information. And before my inner gaze stood a picture: a dog lying belly up, quietly whining and wagging his tail and waiting for the owner to graciously stroke her on the withers.

I became so disgusted by this picture. I realized that this is how this man is treated by all women. He has everything thought out. He's worked this from every angle. And the women immediately are seduced his outer gloss and fall in front of him like some mongrel bitches in heat, belly up, whine, squeal and wait for him, the alpha male, will give them his mercy. I also saw that it was this man's attitude towards all women — as to such bitches who are just waiting for the owner to come and will hit her with his stick.

I got very disgusted, and I started using the Ho'oponopono system. I've been practicing the Ho'oponopono method for a long time, which states that all we see, hear, think are programs in our subconscious that just sit and wait for the moment to germinate in our real life and hurt us. And to remove these programs, I began to pronounce: «I'm sorry that I created all these situations. Please forgive me. Krishna, I thank You for removing all this from my subconscious. I thank You». I was looking at my mental screen at this man and at the picture that suddenly appeared when I tuned in to him. I was looking at this dog, which lay belly-up, howling softly, wagging its tail and waiting for the owner to bestow it with his mercy. I thought that this man refers to women in this way, and if I see such an attitude towards a woman, then this is a program and I also have this program. After all, I see it. If I see it, even on my internal screen, it means that this program is in my subconscious. I thought that this attitude towards a woman does not suit me, and decided that I should get rid of this program. And I sincerely was uttering these four phrases of Ho'oponopono. I wanted to free myself from this program, so that in my future this program would not manifest itself and cause such an attitude towards me and towards women. I thought that while this program is in a sleeping state in my subconscious, I can get rid of it completely, completely remove it, so I can secure my future and put good programs in the empty space. And when I was pronouncing «Krishna, I thank You for removing all this from my subconscious. I thank You», I thought that Krishna is rooting out this program from my subconscious and filling with beneficial energy the place in my subconscious that was occupied by this malicious program.

I sincerely was applying the Ho'oponopono system and repeating four phrases of Ho'oponopono to that mental picture of that squealing dog lying at his feet, intensely thinking that I have this program and that I needed to get rid of it. I strongly did Ho'oponopono and suddenly felt that this program is completely shot. And I saw that black snakes began to fly out of this man, inside him, from the bottom up. They were rushing in a big stream, and I kept repeating those four phrases of Ho'oponopono, now on these black snakes. I was saying, «I'm sorry that I created all these situations. Please forgive me. Krishna, I thank You for removing all this from my subconscious. I thank You». I thought that these black horrible snakes which were flying in a swift, wide stream are the programs which this man has. I thought these snakes were the asuric programs with which he was stuffed. I thought that if I see these programs now, then these programs are not only in him, but also in me. I thought that these programs are simply sleeping in my subconscious, waiting for the right moment to activate and start their harmful influence in my real life, sometime in my future. I was understanding that these programs can bring a lot of harm and pain both to me and to my loved ones when they are activated in my distant future. And with all my strength I tried to get rid of these programs. I was understanding that these black snakes, flying at high speed out of this man, are very dangerous, that I have these programs and that I now have the opportunity to completely get rid of them, simply because I see these programs in this man. I was thanking Krishna that He removed all these programs out of my subconscious. I was saying these four phrases of Ho'oponono, «I'm sorry that I created all these situations. Please forgive me. Krishna, I thank you for removing all this from my subconscious. I thank You». I was saying these phrases and thought that Krishna removes all of this from my subconscious and from this man. I was freeing myself from these programs, but together with me this man was also was freeing from these programs. After all, we are all interconnected in this world. And after a while, everything inside him became clean.

I saw him standing there confused, as lost little boy. And I saw that he is silently crying. I mentally hugged his shoulders, began to stroke his head like a little boy, and say that he is good. If he came to me, he is good. And everyone in the organization of Shri Ram was shocked: such a venerable their specialist, the expert of the seduction of women suddenly became quite different: he could no longer look at women as bitches, whining in anticipation of a handout from her owner. He could see in the women only their higher women's nature and wholeheartedly honor woman as the goddess, or sacred feminine.

How could this happen in just 10 minutes while I mentally was standing inside his head and while I was uttering the phrases of hooponono, imagining that I get rid of the entire negative that this man has? He came to me there on purpose. He told Shri Ram that I am just whore like everyone else. Like all those whining dogs lying around in the master's feet. And he claimed that he would show Shri Ram in deed that it is so. And for that purpose, he came to that firm, but I did not react to him. Although he applied the maximum of his asuric powers and abilities to seize my attention. And in return, he was cleared of that vision, of treating women as whores, and became completely different. Yes, it's worth thinking about...

Season 2. My Mahabharata in the asuric society

40. My letter to Borka that his life ends

In the meantime, I was invited to take part as a presenter in one online workshop on woman's development. I have long resisted, objectively seeing that I am not a coach and no one at all. But I was very asked. I was told that I have a unique life experience and an interesting vision of the world and that my experience can help someone from women. I was told that I don't need to be a coach, that I just need to share stories from my life with others women, in a friendly way.

I hesitated for a long time, but from everywhere signs went to me to agree, and I gave my consent. I had a lot of work to do, and I just had no time to deal with the programs for live broadcasts. My cousin installed a program Bandicam to my comp. The host of the seminar asked me to conduct my webinar as soon as possible, and I just recorded my video, without a live broadcast, uploaded to the Internet and gave a link to it. So began a new page in our with Shri Ram love story.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

In fact, those women who so impudently imposed themselves on Shri Ram, were needed to me. I needed these women so that I could start that brilliant plan which I had drawn up before my incarnation in this my present body, somewhere between lives. Those women were needed to bring me to the condition necessary for me to write a letter to my Gurudev describing this entire situation and asking what is more favorable for me: to continue to be with Shri Ram or to make active attempts to break away from him.

In fact, the letter was not about this, because even the question in front of me was not, to be with him or not, because I'm there, still between lives, made this plan and was fulfilling it very successful. And the next point of this plan was my Mahabharata, that is, the deletion the asuras who came here to Earth as part of their asuric landing, from the list of asuras. My Mahabharata was providing for sending them to their future lives already as devotees of Krishna, as inspired servants of Krishna, ISKCON, and the mission of Srila Prabhupada. My Mahabharata was providing for their return into the spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga will enter into its full rights and will become with full force spin its flywheel.

Despite the fact that my letter to my Gurudev outwardly contained a description of that situation, but in fact it was an appeal to my Gurudev for a blessing on the beginning and the implementation of this my Mahabharata. And when I sent my email to my Gurudev on January 18, 2017, his answer came to me immediately, that evening, in a lecture that I opened somewhere on the Internet by method of random choice, without looking.

Gurudev said in that lecture after my appeal to him in my e-mail: «Srila Prabhupada, I am happy serving you. I have no shadow of doubt, fear or illusion about my position as your servant. I'd do anything for you. If you had ordered me to go to hell to preach, I would have jumped on the first train rushing to hell, and on the way I would have happily sung the Holy names».

I was actually asking him about my Mahabharata of the elimination of the asuras, though I did not know it, living a normal life and being on a ordinary materially-minded level. But on that higher plane, I created this situation with those impudent «greyhound» women to address my Gurudev for his blessing on my Mahabharata, and Gurudev gave it to me. In a randomly found me lecture, immediately after sending by me the email to him he answered me. He told me to carry out my Mahabharata without a shadow of doubt, fear and illusion. Thus began my Mahabharata of the elimination of the asuras from the list of asuras.

The next step after I received permission to begin my Mahabharata and I received the blessings of my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami for this was to receive assurances from Shri Ram that I can comfortably begin to carry out my Mahabharata. And I received his assurances, through his words to me on February 14, 2016, conveyed to my consciousness when I read book «The Falcon and the Swallow» of Boris Akunin.

At that time, on Valentine's Day, Shri Ram said to me: «I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman. On the contrary, I am so grateful to you for your coming from nowhere to brighten up my loneliness. Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust. We are alone in this gloomy world, so let's stick together». Yes, he said this also on a purely domestic, ordinary level, but I wanted to get permission from him as my husband to start and implement this my mission, my Mahabharata in the asuric community. He didn't know about it, as I didn't know about it.

He told me, «I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman». He gave me his word of honor as a gentleman. And among the asuras he is known for the fact that he always keeps his word, everyone knows him as a man of his word (read: everyone all knows him as an asur of his word). And if he gave his word, he'll keep his word. Shri Ram told me I could trust him. He told me: «Trust me! Here is my hand». He told me that he would not abuse my trust and that he is very grateful to me that I came out of nowhere to brighten up his loneliness. He told me this as a man to a woman, as a husband to his wife. I needed his word so that I, having secured them, could safely begin to implement my plan, drawn up before my present birth. After all, Shri Ram and I are together, he sees all my thoughts, knows what I feel and do. And it is impossible to hide from him anything that happens on the external plane.

And my Mahabharata was waiting for its implementation. And finally on 18 January, I received the approval and blessings of my Gurudev on my Mahabharata, and February 14, received the word of Shri Ram, what I can to trust him, that he will not do anything bad and he will not abuse my confidence. And I immediately started to implement my plan and started my Mahabharata. Just one day after receiving Shri Ram's assurance, on February 16, I wrote and sent an email to someone I knew when I lived in Moscow and when I had an interaction with Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization.

It was 2003–2004. At that time, I bought a cool smartphone and began to master it. Then I sold incense on trains Savelovsky direction, and no one from my environment had any smartphones. No one could help me with mastering this new case for me, and I found a way to accomplish this. I began to look for information about smartphones on the forums on the Internet. And then I began to communicate with one of the henchmen of the very Borka. Well, let it be Vityok.

He actively helped me to master the smartphone, of course, without personal meetings, he helped me to register and start writing at Krishna.ru and Hari.katha. He helped me a lot with that. But he was Borka's dog. He served the asuras, though he was not asur. He was an ordinary man, but somehow Borka noticed him and subjugated him, and Vityok began to serve Borka, to asuras. And helping someone like me he sought out new victims for Borka. After that Borka was pressing them under himself and actively using. And Borka saw in me such a potential victim and began his interaction with me through other people and through Vityok.

Then he did a lot of bad things to me, and now when I have received the approval and blessing of my Gurudev and the word of Shri Ram with his assurances that he will not harm me and that I can trust him, I wrote through that Vityok to Borka himself. I was remembering the E-mail address of Vityok, and a day after I received the word of Shri Ram, I wrote to Borka through Vityok.

I knew that Vityok was serving Borka, and Borka was a great asur, RA, which means that he had reached very high heights on their asuric hierarchical ladder and could rule over others, the asuras and humans, exercising his will through some kind of neural network connecting him, like a spider to the strands of the web, with everyone in his organization under him. And I knew that when Vityok would open my email and read it, and Borka would see through eyes of Vityok my appeal to him, to Borka.

I had a letter from Borka, which came to me on July 16, 2014, in which Borka wrote to me (of course, in veiled form, allegedly from Vityok): «It was a funny time, and we were funny, sometimes I want to turn back, but probably because we remember only the best». And to his words of July 16, 2014, I replied on February 16, 2016 the following: «Good afternoon, Echo! How your life?...is developing... I hope you have an improvement».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Ordinary words, ostensibly about nothing, but in fact in these words that are written kind of like to Vityok, I said Borka, that his life was ending. After all there were such words: «How your life?...is developing»... But these words read like this: «his life ends». I wrote in Russian: «Как твоя жизнь? складывается...» but in Russian the word «складывается» (“is developing”) has different meanings. One of meanings is «to developing», and at the first reading it is precisely this meaning that comes to mind, that is, «How is your life? Does it develop well?» But the word «складывается» has other meanings, for example, «складывается как карточный домик» («to stack up like a house of cards»), that is, «заканчивается», «рушится» («come to an end», «falls apart like a house of cards»). And here it was meant precisely this meaning of the word. Thus I notified Borka he will soon cease to be an asur, since he has very little time left, because his life falls apart like a house of cards. And, notifying Borka, I began to carry out my first steps in my Mahabharata.

41. Borka` debt

It was the participation in an online seminar of one of my friends, who invited me there as a presenter. She asked me to master of live broadcasts, as in the usual webinars, but at that time I was drowning in work and I did not have a minute of free time on this matter, but my friend was hurrying me, and then generally said that already made an announcement and that I should have to hold my first webinar.

But since I could not allocate a minute to mastering this case from the technical side, I just recorded my speech, posted it on YouTube and gave her a link. I did the same with my second and my third performance. I could master live broadcasts, but there was such a situation that I did not have time for it, and I went the easiest way and mastered just the recording of performances.

This was necessary that I could continue to make my records in the same format, in order to I began to record my novel. Because this my novel, which I was recording and posting on the Internet, was part of my plan and part of my Mahabharata. If I had managed to master the live broadcasts, it is unlikely that I would have thought to continue recording and move on to, so to speak, writing my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife».

The first steps were made: I received the approval and blessing of my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami, I received the word of my husband Shri Ram, I notified Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuras, that his life is ending, mastered the recording of video and posting it on the Internet and even recorded three videos for an online seminar. And it's time to start record my novel.

When I had already recorded three videos for the seminar, I thought that I was married three times in this life, and now Shri Ram is my husband and he is my fourth husband in this life. I have three videos. And I thought it would be logical to dedicate my fourth video to my fourth husband. I thought I might be asked to record some more video for some other seminar, and I decided to fixate fourth video to my fourth husband, Shri Ram. So I made the fourth video just to fixate number 4. And then I wanted to continue to talk about us with him, and so began to form this my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife”, through which I began to speak openly to the asuric community and to carry out my plan, my Mahabharata in front of everyone, in the sense in front of asuras.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

So, 18 January 2017 I have received permission and blessings of my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami on holding my Mahabharata, on the destruction of the asuras, on the sending them into their future lives as devotees of Krishna in ISKCON, in mission of Srila Prabhupada, and February 14 Shri Ram gave me his word that I can trust him, that he won't hurt me, he won't abuse my trust and the next day, 16 February 2017, I sent an email to Borka, to the then leader of the Moscow asuric organizations, through his «dog», through Vityok, in which I was informing Borka that his life is ending.

I recorded three videos for an online seminar. On March 14, I recorded the first video — «The power of blessing» («Сила благословения»), on March 20 I recorded the second video — «We are engaged in Simoron to get an apartment» («Симороним на квартиру»), and on April 5 the third video — «From sandbox to hooponopo» («От „песочницы“ к хоопонопо»). As the cover of the third video I chose the moment of this video, where the background was a screenshot from TV series «Mahabharata» 2013 with the words «Now you have to fulfill your promise».

It was an appeal to Borka that he owed, that when we had an interaction with him in Moscow, he was getting signs for the conduct of his business and in his Moscow asuric organization, and in his business, through me, and he strengthened his position thanks to these signs and even very got rich, but I in return this took his word that when I need it, he will give something for my future husband about whom Borka knew that he is RA. RA on asuric hierarchical is a great asur, under whom there is an asuric organization.

I did not know how I achieved that Borka gave me this promise, but in my life from everywhere signs began to appear that he had made a promise to me and now it is time to fulfillment of that promise. I realized that I am obliged to demand in my video from Borka the fulfillment of his promise. And I consciously put as the cover of the third video the screenshot from TV series «Mahabharata» with a call to fulfill the promise. And then I wrote a letter to Vityok, to Borka`s «dog», through whom Borka in Moscow had an interaction with me. Dogs in the understanding of the asuras are the people who serve them.

Again I sent email Vityok. In this letter I ratted Vityok out to Borka, writing this: «So much time has passed, but I all remember how I once wrote to you that you are a dog. Please forgive me. But who said that a dog is a bad thing? The dog has such a good quality like loyalty to the owner, integrity. So maybe I just complimented you? Ahem... I don't know. It`s a truth. But anyway, I'm showing you my videos. I am sure that they will help you and those with whom you are there». Yes, once in Moscow I wrote this Vityok that he is their dog and he did not deny it. And in this letter I reminded about it and asked him for forgiveness, saying that maybe I gave him a compliment in Moscow, and actually he is not so faithful to his owner.

In these words I was telling Borka, knowing that Borka sees through the eyes of his subordinates. I knew that when Vityok will read these my words Borka will see it through the eyes of Vityok. And I told in these words Borka: «Look, Borka, but this your dog isn't true to you, he work for the other team, he leaking information on you to your competitors, playing into hands of your opponents». Thus I tossed a bone to Borka that I, even after so much time (and passed more than 14 years as we had then in Moscow had that interaction) I can be useful to him and that he should keep one's ears open to what I speak to him.

I ratted Vityok out to Borka. I also drew Borka`s attention to my videos, writing to him: «If you want, then watch. Those who are there with you, too, can watch it. Maybe they will find something interesting and useful in there». Borka, of course, checked my words about the treacherous behavior of the dog-Vityok and almost smack down him, but

I saved Vityok, remembering that at that memorable meeting in Moscow, to which I was sent by my husband at that time, when Borka pressed his consciousness, this Vityok gave me a rose. And in gratitude for the rose given to me, I gave Vityok protection, and Borka left Vityok the unharmed, though he very firmly pressed Vityok.

Borka's attention was drawn to my videos. I told him that he will see there and about himself many interesting and useful. Borka looked and, of course, saw a lot of interesting and useful things in those my videos. Of course, in encrypted form, but the asuras are able to read between the lines and see what is said in the signs of the Universe about. And of course, Borka saw my demand that he must keep his word and fulfill his promise, which he gave me once long ago and about which he forgot, thinking that I will never remind him about it, but there it was. I reminded. But Borka was in no hurry to keep a promise.

42. Connecting to me another man

And my Shri Ram, who is my husband, suddenly for no reason decided to plug the other man onto our matrimonial sex, as they, asuras, know how and love to do. Similarly Borka wanted to take me as his wife. He was going to add other men into our matrimonial sex, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence in order to they all together pumped from me under pressure my feminine energy and my piety. It would have lasted for a long time. And when all my feminine energy and my piety would have been deflated, he was going to begin to press my mind. Under the influence of this pressure on my mind, I would leave him, changing with another man. I would leave him, because Borka no longer needed me, without my feminine energy and my piety, which would pass to him during my regular orgasms. When a woman has an orgasm, her female energy, shakti, strength, which her husband needs, emanates from her. And this pouring out of her feminine energy is accompanied by her enjoyment. That is why she experiences this pleasure during her orgasm, since at the same time her shakti, her feminine energy and her piety go to her husband, and her energy helps her husband to be successful in life. But since Borka was going to plug other men onto me and siphon my feminine energy under high pressure at once through several men, I would quickly become empty. And then he had to quickly get rid of me, and so he remained in no way guilty. He was going to make me a scapegoat, so that he looked like a faithful husband, to whom his wife had cheated. I would have left him without suspecting that it was not I myself who did this, but that it was initiated and carefully developed and executed by my husband. He was going to put pressure on my consciousness and on the consciousness of some other man, so that I would leave him and free space for the next the victim who will be his next wife. And it would have been done by Borka, if I became his wife, what he wanted. I would leave Borka, changing him, though in my nature to be faithful. But at them, the asuras, there is such a practice.

Asur marries the faithful woman. He pumps all feminine energy out of her, adds other men into their matrimonial sex, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, thereby violating her marital fidelity, and then he presses her consciousness. He impacts on her mind so that she is carried away by another man and she cheated on her husband although it is not peculiar to her, because they take for this purpose faithful women who are focused on their husband and to whom disgusts even the thought of cheating husband, and who by their nature are not capable of committing adultery.

And here is my Shri Ram also plugged the other man onto me in our matrimonial sex. What did he do that for? I don't quite understand, to be honest. One of the reasons, I can see, is that when we came in contact, I felt our unity with him, often at me streams of tears were flowing and sobs were shaking me, because we are eternal couple and many lives were divided. And Shri Ram was very nervous about these sobs and tears, and he wanted to do something to stop this phenomenon. And I somehow gave him signs that this is possible only if he puts between us the other man, and then there will not be such a concussion in our contact with him by subtle bodies. And he did it.

But he did not succeed immediately. After all, he himself asked me at the end of October 2016 to ask the goddess Lakshmi blessing to conjugal fidelity to Shri Ram as to my husband. This is when Borka put me, as the lot on tote, on their asuric totalizator, and Shri Ram did not give me to them, and they set out to kill him. They had challenged him to meet him on the battle and exposed the invincible powerful asur with some red eye against Shri Ram. And then Shri Ram, being absolutely sure that he would be killed in that battle, and then I would be broken, asked me for this blessing, and I fulfilled his desire.

And this blessing was protecting me and did not allow Shri Ram to plug the others onto our matrimonial sex, but Shri Ram held manipulation of my consciousness, in order to I refused this blessing. This manipulation he held on April 25, and quite successfully, because as a result of his efforts I asked the goddess Lakshmi to cancel that blessing, and the next day, April 26, Shri Ram connected to our matrimonial sex another man. I noticed him....

I and Shri Ram had an ordinary act of family well-being. For ordinary people it's just sex. But since Shri Ram and I are interacting at a distance, at the energy plane of existence and even in real life we are not familiar, but at the same time we managed to get married somehow, in our case sex is just my masturbation. Asuras are able to plug onto people and objects and enter into any objects. Of course, someone will say that this is not sex, and he will be right. But what to do if my Shri Ram came to me, but we interact at a distance? And we are both ordinary people who live here like everyone else. And Shri Ram, though he is an asur, but lives like an ordinary man, and he also needs sex. And we are husband and wife. And we can have our marital sex only when I masturbate. Shri Ram is somehow also present in that. He, even being geographically not with me, feels everything as in reality, as if we were actually having sex. And for asuras it is important not only sexual satisfaction, but also the energy emanating from a woman during a female orgasm. Therefore, I call these my masturbations an act of family well-being. Because, after all, this is our conjugal sex, albeit in the form of my masturbation, and because at the end of this, there is an ejection of female energy that goes to Shri Ram, that is, he receives this benefit, this life-giving life force. The word «благополучие» («well-being») in the Russian language consists of two parts: «благополучие» = «благо-получие» = «благо» + «получать» («good» + «receive»). This sex is needed by Shri Ram mainly in order for him to receive this life force. I am his Shakti, his strength. Therefore, I call these masturbations, in which my Shri Ram is actually present, even though he is far from me and I do not even know him, acts of family well-being. And here we were engaged in this sex, which I call acts of family well-being, and suddenly I noticed on my inner screen how another man was approaching me. It disturbed me very much, I didn't understand what it was, but I saw another man very clearly. But those four wolfhound-asuras, whom Shri Ram was allocated to me back in January, pressed my consciousness, blocked my will. It was like if I were held by hands so that I would not resist. They made it so that I did not think about it and did not look at another man. They pressed through my will so that I would not stop and continue to masturbate...

After that, I asked Shri Ram about the other man, but he lied to me, pulling from my memory into the scope of my thoughts one email, with the words «there are no others». He kind of told me: «There are no others men; not afraid. Let's have sex again, as and before. I honest with you. I not cheat you». In fact, he was lying to me brazenly, pulling from my memory those words from the letter that «there are no others». But I had no confidence either in neither my conjectures nor his assurances that the other man is not there.

And here on Akshaya Tritiya, April 28, 2016, I began to record the fourth video dedicated to my fourth husband, Shri Ram. I thought I would just record this one video about him, just to fixate that number 4 in connection with my fourth husband, Shri Ram, and I did not even suspect that from this video will begin recording of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» and my Mahabharata in the earthly asuric community. But everything was predetermined. I was following the plan drawn up by me between my lives and was approaching to the elimination of the asuras from the list of asuras by me.

On March 14, I recorded the first video for the online seminar — «The power of blessing» («Сила благословения»), on March 20 I recorded the second video — «We are engaged in Simoron to get an apartment» («Симороним на квартиру»), and on April 5 the third video — «From sandbox to хооропоно» («От „песочницы“ к хооропоно»). For this video I chose a screenshot with a picture from the TV series «Mahabharata» with the words «Now you must fulfill your promise». And then, on April 13, I sent an email letter for Borka. By that name, I began to denote the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization. I did not know who this Borka was, I didn't know where he lived, what his real name was, but I had some kind of interaction with him, at a distance, in Moscow. Our interaction was going through one my acquaintance in the Internet. Borka and I corresponded in an allegorical language, that is, between ordinary words, through this man. Somehow in that correspondence I called that person a dog, having understood that someone else communicates with me through him, implying that this person serves them as their dog. He did not deny it. And already now I wrote a letter to Borka through Vityok, his «dog», in which I just ratted Vityok out. I told in an allegorical form that Vityok works for Borka's competitors. I learned about it from this letter when I sent it. Also I made it clear to Borka that my videos will give Borka a lot of interesting and useful information, of course, in an allegorical form, very clear and understandable for asuras.

Then I recorded the fourth video, wanting to just fixate that number 4 in connection with my fourth husband, Shri Ram, with whom we were interacting without his personal presence, at a distance. I did not know that this fourth video will begin recording my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» and I did not even know that ahead my Mahabharata, that I will delete many asuras from the list of asuras, but I was going strictly according to plan drawn up by me long before my birth in this my physical body.

So, I recorded the 1st series of this my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» on April 28, 2016, on the day of Akshaya Tritiya, and I posted the 1st series on the Internet on April 29. Before that, Shri Ram connected one of his subordinates from his asuric organization into our intimate interaction with him. In order to succeed in it, he manipulated my consciousness to force me to refuse my blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity to Shri Ram as to my husband.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

This manipulation he successfully held on April 25, and the next day, April 26, he connected to us another man, who was not left unnoticed by me, and it was the first day of menstruation. A few days later, we had sex again with him. I asked Shri Ram if he had removed the other man out me, and Shri Ram lied to me that he had removed him. He reminded me of one letter that contained the words «there are no others». By this he seemed to say that only he is with me, that no other men are plugged onto me. I didn't know whether to believe him or not, but his words about «there are no others» reassured me, and I agreed with these words.

This time I didn't see any other man on my internal screen. But I was very confused by the lack of Shri Ram's glance during this action. Usually, when we had acts of family well-being, I always was seeing his eyes somewhere above on my inner screen. And I was looking him right in the eye. But this time his gaze was not. It was just empty and black.

Then my washing machine broke, and I called the master to fix it. This master, when he repaired my machine, told a lot of interesting things about himself, in particular, that he had three heart surgery that he lives in a two-room apartment, in one room he and in other room his dog. Well, many more things. And I, listening to him, saw that I was talking with Shri Ram through him and Shri Ram tells me about himself that he had «three heart operations», that is, three wives who left him, although in fact it was not so, but externally they abandoned him, and it was for him as a heart operation. And many more.

And in that conversation this master mentioned about the house of sandwich panels. He said that this house can build fast and cheap. I remembered this conversation and these words about the sandwich panels (there were also many other signs about it) and realized that through this master my Shri Ram spoke to me in this conversation and in this conversation he spoke to me about another man whom he connected to me. I realized that Shri Ram did not remove him from me, that another man is still connected to me. I realized that the words «there are no others» mean not that with me only Shri Ram and no one else. These words mean that others, beyond those that already plugged, are not there. But in the number of connected there is that other man.

This revelation about the true meaning of the words «there are no others» upset me very much, and I decided that I did not want to be where I was not respected and where there was someone else, and turned on total abstention from sex from May 3. And on April 29, I posted the 1st series of my novel, in which I deliberately included screenshots from my correspondence with one of my friends, in which I said that I know a lot of things, but I do not say anything to anyone and I do not advertise my disagreement with this.

43. Borka was forced to keep his promise

I also included into the 1st series picture from letter, in which were the words «I deletes all your files from my computer», «She's not alone at me», «If for every emotion to say thank you, the rescuers will not be enough» and «I want to smash you and your letter to the nines». I was given signs that I should say Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, that he owes me something and threaten him with violence and complete destruction, removal of all his files, if he does not keep his word and fulfill the promise that he once gave me and that must fulfill now.

Also I inserted between these pictures with threats to Borka my photo with a fist, with a ring in the form of the cap of the Monomakh. I was wearing this ring in Moscow, when I had that invisible, but tangible interaction with Borka, when I was attacked by some completely unreal orgasms without the personal presence of anyone with me, when Borka was connecting several his asuras with me, at the energy plane of existence, and they under great pressure were pumping out my feminine energy, all my good, my piety from me.

Then I was wearing ring on the index finger of my right hand in the form of the cap of the Monomakh and was calling it «the cap of the Monomah». But Borka then through different people of my surroundings said that this ring is not the cap of the Monomah, but the cap of the Stereomah. The word «Мономах» («Monomah») can be decomposed into two words: «моно» («mono») and «маха» («maha»). In Russian, the word «моно» («mono») means «one», but Borka replaced the word «моно» («mono») with the word «стерео» («stereo»), that is, «many». And the word «маха» («maha») in Russian is very similar to the name Masha. «Маха» = «Маша» = Маша («Maha» = «Masha» = Masha). Masha is a female name. Thus, calling my ring not the cap of the Monomah, but of Stereomah, Borka was giving a lot of information. With this Stereo-Mah, Borka said that with Maha, that is, with a woman are not one man, but many men, «stereo». That is, by this he said in an allegorical language that he will plug several men unto his wife at once, in order to pump out of her more feminine energy. That is, he was ruining in advance the marital fidelity of the woman he will married, because other men will be invisibly in their marital sex. What kind of marital fidelity can there even be said? Yes, his wife will thought that she is faithful to him, that she have no other men. But in fact, together with her husband in their sex through his body, she will be fucked by completely different men, whom she could know in real life or who were completely unfamiliar to her. How much information is just a couple of syllables in the name of the ring... Borka said that he want to connect to me immediately many asuras, «stereo». And in the 1st series I put the photo with the ring the cap of the Monomakh, as if to say: «Borka, I'll tell everyone about you, what you was doing with me. You used my husband's body. You was forcing us to have sex, pressing onto my female centers of my body invisibly, at a distance, and at the same time entered through the body of my husband into me. And at the same time you through yourself connected to me many other men. You had no right to even approach me. You had no right to even look in my direction, because I was a married woman and a devotee of the Lord, with a divine nature. You, asuras, is prohibited to such as I, with divine nature, approach, but you ignored this ban and violated all your rules and laws, and I will grind you to dust for it if you don't keep your promise».

This I told Borka, inserting into the 1st series of my novel that correspondence, and those words about «I delete all your files from my computer», and that photo with that ring the cap of the Monomah. I was actively blackmailing Borka. Also on April 29, right after I posted out the 1st series of my novel, I sent Borka an email through his «dog» Vityok, having written in it: «Promises, like pie-crust, are made to be broken. What was promised, you have to wait three years. In our case, this proverb does not have such power, since it is clearly not three years. I remember everything. I have a perfect memory. I remember everything and never forget. All that I remember in reality, I can instantly remember. It's a poem from my husband». I told through these lines that

I remember everything that Borka is obliged to fulfill some promise given in those years to me.

Also in this email I wrote and personally Vityok, that is, Borka's «dog»: «Forgive me, please, for previous letter. You didn't expect it, of course. So sorry... Whether well, I you remember well and your rose too». In these words I told Vityok that I, of course, a pity that I had to ratted on him to Borka, but so it was necessary. And I said in these words Vityok that he remained intact only because in Moscow, at the only our meeting Vityok gave me a rose. I told Vityok that he was alive and well only because of that rose. Apparently, after I disclosed to Borka the truth about Vityok in the previous email, that he was not faithful «dog», that is, he was working for Borka's competitors, Borka did pressing Vityok. Apparently, Borka could have done away with Vityok because of his work for the benefit of others, but the rose that Vityok gave me saved his life.

And then I wrote to Borka: «Look, enjoy... I wish you luck, and big. Yeah, show this video to those you're with or to those who are with you. Maybe it will be useful for them to see my video, evaluate it, and taste the nectar». In these words, I told Borka that he would need a lot of luck, because now, if he refused to fulfill his promise, he would begin to have the really hard stuff and the complete removal of all files of his life. I told Borka that I wish him good luck, because he will have a very tight. And I said him, «I wish you luck», because he's going to be in such a tight spot that no any luck is enough for him to cope with the collapse that at him begins, and even greatest good luck won't help him, because if he doesn't keep his word, he'll be removed.

Borka did not understand the warning and did not fulfill his promise. And he was attacked by fatal bad luck. The same collapse began in Borka's life, like that of Shri Ram, when he actively was driving me out of his space. Borka began to lose his accumulated assets at a catastrophic rate and all the money, on him strong pressure from everywhere went; his business suddenly for the unknown reason began to fall and someone from outside already extended to everything in his life the strong hand.

Borka rapidly was losing everything and becoming bankrupt and homeless without a home, without business, without money, without friends, without anything. Nothing and no one could help him. It seemed that the world just turned away from him. Such confusion lasted for more than a week, and Borka realized that my words are not mere verbiage uselessly rending the air but a reality. And he had to make a very difficult decision for himself and to keep that promise.

On April 28, 2017, I recorded the 1st series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» and sent an email to Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, actively blackmailing Borka and forcing him to fulfill his promise given to me in the early 2000s, when I was still living in Moscow and when I had an invisible interaction with Borka, and when I took that promise from him. I did not know what promise I took from him, who he was, how could I even take this promise from him, and why someone whom I didn't even know gave me this promise. I didn't even know about his existence and thought that I had interaction with some spirits or demigods or brahma-rakshasas.

But this was the interaction with the asuras, who live among us as ordinary people, but who can affect us at a distance, non-contact, pressing women and breaking their feminine nature. And to some extent then I succumbed to influence of Borka with his companions, but in exchange I took from him the word that he will give something to my future husband to whom my life was aimed, though I was still married. But when I was thinking about the upcoming recording of the 4th video about my fourth husband, from everywhere signs about this promise were going to me and that I should rigidly demand its implementation, and I deliberately inserted the screenshots of my correspondence with one of my friends and an email to one friend with the words «I delete all your files from my computer».

It was a notice for Borka what would happen to him if he refused to keep his word. He did not find it necessary to fulfill that promise, and his life began to crumble. For more than a week, all his affairs failed. He was overtaken by fatal bad luck in everything. The business was flowing into the wrong hands, the property was flowing away like sand through his fingers. All the friends began to turn away from him, all transactions were not in his favor. On whatever he put, everything was turning out to be a failure. And he reluctantly made a decision to fulfill that promise. Back in the early 2000s in Moscow, I turn him down and did not let him install on me their asuric programs by which asuras force ordinary normal women performing all their whims and participate in their sexual orgies at the energy plane of existence.

He really liked me. And he even wanted to marry me. He wanted me to become his wife, that is, a kind of oil well, unto which he would plug his fellows-asuras to pump my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis under high pressure. And he even personally came to me to begin the embodiment of his conceived in physical reality, and not through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, but I refused him. To whom? I refused Borka, when he was such a big asur and enjoyed great respect and had authority into asuric community! Who am I to say no to him when he came to me personally?! Who do I think I am?!

After that, I did not succumb to the manipulations and force methods of Shri Ram, to whom I came here. And after that I had the audacity to call Borka to help me. But Shri Ram gave me to him, and Borka put a line of his fellows-asuras in front of me on my internal screen, so that I chose one of them, so that he then came to me in real life and that they through him impacted on me and pumped my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis. But here I again fell off the hook. I removed my hand from my chest, when I suddenly felt someone else's presence in my hand. It was Borka. Shri Ram gave me to him, allowing Borka to plugged unto me and enter my hand. And they were sure that I would not notice the substitution, but when I put my hand on my chest, feeling first Shri Ram in my hand, suddenly after a few minutes I felt in my hand not Shri Ram, but someone else. Their trick failed. Borka was furious and dreamed of breaking such a recalcitrant bitch.

And then Borka put me, as the lot on tote, on their asuric totalizator. He called there all the venerable, most powerful destroyers of female nature, but I'm suddenly in some incomprehensible way turned out to be the wife of Shri Ram. Shri Ram did not give me to them and went to the battle. He won in this battle that opponent, who always won and whom they deliberately put up against Shri Ram to kill him. But they themselves suffered damage, and they had to take me off the sweepstake, although everything was already decided and bets were already made.

I so many times had bumming them, and personally Borka. And it was Borka who put me on their asuric totalizator. He was the initiator of this. He wanted to break me, thus taking revenge for my refusal to him and for my obstinacy. I already then pissed him off. And he had to fulfill a promise to me!!! But he had no choice. His life was falling apart like a house of cards, and he couldn't fix it. And he made the decision to keep that word.

And now from 7 to 8 May 2017, after so many years, he had to do it. I was asleep. And I had a dream that I was standing between my Shri Ram and Borka. They stood facing each other and decide something between themselves. I didn't hear any words, but clearly understood that they have some serious conversation. And I stood silently right in the center, between them, and they both looked at me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

When I woke up, I kept thinking, what it was. My customers sent me the text for proofreading, for correct errors in it. All this text was with their thanks to customers in business. I was reading this text, correcting mistakes in it, and thought that it was not a dream at all, that my Shri Ram had received something and is now very grateful for it, because right after dream I reading a text in which customers thank many of their customers for successful collaboration. And I thought that probably I did a favor for this Moscow asur in exchange for some his promise to me and now this promise is fulfilled. I calmed down and realized that my Shri Ram had received something very, very important for him, which would greatly elevate and strengthen his position and make him more powerful.

On May 10, I recorded the 2nd series of my novel, at the beginning of which I thanked Borka, in a veiled manner, at the request of Shri Ram. Right before the recording of this series, appeared a screenshot in which Arjuna stands in front of Draupadi with his hands folded and asks her for something. I realized that this is my Shri Ram asking me for something, and when I began to record this series, I realized what he asked. I thanked Borka. Apparently he gave Shri Ram something very powerful. What exactly he gave him, I do not know. Including how I took this promise from Borka and how I forced him to fulfill it. But I saw very clearly that the promise was fulfilled and that Shri Ram is very grateful for this gift to him.

At the beginning of the 2nd series, I thanked Borka and in an email to him through his «dog» Vityok wished Borka good luck and improve the situation. And then Borka came out of the knockout and his life began to improve. The business was recovering, assets began to grow, and real estate remained in his hands. He could finally relax. But now he began to take a closer look at what I was recording. And I began to record my next series.

44. Gorgeous man — a little dog

I have already recorded and posted in the open access 3rd, 4th series and 5th... I was talking about the asuras, that they live among us like ordinary people. In appearance, asuras are very nice-looking, attractive, intelligent, handsome, inspires trust. Many of them are aristocratic, sophisticated natures. They can appear friendly and likeable. They are nice to talk to. But they're actually at the energy plane of existence presses people, especially women, setting at them their vile asuric program, breaking their feminine nature and making them their weak-willed puppets, for their sexual orgies through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence and draw from them the strength, power, godliness.

I told about the power methods by which Shri Ram wanted to turn on estrus mode in my body, which happens at animals during mating. He wanted to break me and bend me under all his comrades from his asuric organization. He wanted to make from me their toy without will for my trouble-free participation in their sexual orgies at the energy plane of existence. He wanted to pump my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis. I told how asuras conceives their asuric babies in our normal women, in sex through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, even without the personal presence of someone else nearby. I told how these babies can located in a woman a lot of time and wait when she will have ordinary sex with an ordinary man, as a result of which this asuric baby will get his physical shell and will begin to grow as an ordinary child, and their biological parents will think that it is their child, and even a DNA test will confirm this, but in fact it will be the asuric baby.

I told how the asuras can extract these conceived zygotes of their asuric babies from our women. I told how the asuras can to transplant embryos into other women, transfer the embryos conceived by asuras with women. It looks like IVF, on the creation of asuric embryos by somatic cell nuclear transfer from one woman into other woman. For example, for the asur it is beneficial to conceive a child with one woman, she is more suitable for this, she has more characteristics that they need. But if it is more advantageous for an asur that this child was given birth and then raise at completely different woman, then he transfers, transplants this asuric embryo to her. It looks like surrogate motherhood. Moreover, conception itself can occur through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. This germ conceived by an asur can be in a woman for a very long, many years, waiting when she will have ordinary sex with some ordinary man. When this woman with a sleeping in her asuric fetus in her will have ordinary sex with an ordinary man and the usual fertilization takes place, this asuric fetus will can develop and grow in her like ordinary human children. Thus cuckoos breed their chicks. Cuckoos plant their little chicks into the nests of other birds, and those birds breeds these chicks and have no idea that they are raising other people's children. The asuras do the same. Only no one will know this, because the biological membrane, the body of the child, his chromosomes will be like at biological parents. The fact that these children are actually asuric children, that they were conceived by asuras, but were transplanted into a woman and were raised in an ordinary human family, is impossible to know. The asuric nature of this child will wake up in its time when the program installed in him will be activated. When an asuric fetus is extracted from a woman in order to transplant it into another woman, she begins her period. In fact, it looks like abortion or egg donation. At the same time, her stomach starts to hurt very badly and blood is flowing. She thinks that she has such an unusually painful menstruation. And she doesn't even realize that her child conceived by some asur had just been cut out of her. She does not even know this asur. He lives here among people as an ordinary person. And in order to conceive this child with her, he does not have to get acquainted with her, care for her, engage in regular sex with her. He fertilizes her non-contact, at the energy plane of existence. But in order for this child to be born, it is necessary that after this woman be fertilized by an ordinary man, in ordinary sex.

I told about invading, intervention of asuras in our terrestrial society. I told about their invisible, but real introduction in our society and influence on people, that on them it is necessary to complain and demand their punishment that it is necessary to pure the existence, to lead a pure way of life, to raise the life standards. I told that the main thing for people is a way choice. We must choose the higher way, and it itself will bring us to light, up. After recording another series I sent Borka an email through his «dog» Vityok, and after the 4th series I've written Borka in that email that on the agenda to record a lot of another series that I have a lot of material, that I plan to tell everything about them, asuras.

And then Borka decided that I should be stopped somehow. He and Shri Ram discussed this matter and decided that the best solution would be to find some good man for me, to press his and my consciousness, to connect me with him, so that we could become together and that I would stop broadcasting about them, the asuras, in my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». Shri Ram started looking for this man and found, and after recording the 5th series, he decided to get this man to me, taking into account everything what I had at that time knew about Shri Ram, in order to I thought that this man is my Shri Ram. Thus Borka with Shri Ram wanted to close my mouth, shut me up and switch me from broadcasting about them, asuras, to the usual life of an ordinary housewife who thinks only about her family and herself.

When I recorded five series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, and Shri Ram, the then leader of the asuras, discussed the output of information about them, the asuras, in the share access and decided to stop it by giving me a posh man. They wanted I moved on to him, thinking that this is my Shri Ram. And Shri Ram found such a posh man. How did I know about that? As always, by accident.

I had to call coach karate about class, but his phone wouldn't answer. I tried to call him from different phone numbers, and from those he didn't know. After a while he called me back to the phone number he knew, we talked it over, and a minute later he called my other phone number to find out who called him. I thus somehow was confused and spoke very silently and shyly. It was a shame to me that I gave him links to these my videos. I thought, and suddenly he looked and thought bad about me... And I confusedly began to answer him. He didn't recognize me, he didn't know this phone number, and I spoke in a very different tone, not as always. Usually I have a sonorous, cheerful voice, but this time I spoke in a low, muffled voice, almost whispering, embarrassed that he could see my novel.

I was so amused that he did not recognize me, and I immediately changed my tone and began to speak as always. I remembered one Russian omen. The Russian people have such an omen. If you are not recognized, then you will be rich. I remembered this omen and joyfully and loudly told him in the phone: «I will be rich and happy!» And he said, «Well, at least you'll be rich», and I added, «I want to be and happy». And then he said, «Well, we will act according to the same scheme, but from other phone. At least you'll be rich, and I will make everything to make you happy».

Yes, it was all just a joke, but everything that happens in my life is in some incomprehensible way communication with my Shri Ram. And I began to think: how strange, «We will act according to the same scheme, but from other phone. At least you'll be rich, and I will make everything to make you happy». Who is he, this karate coach, to tell me that he will make me happy? And at least rich. And what is this scheme? «According to the same scheme, but from other phone» («давайте попробуем еще раз эту же схему, но с другого телефона»). This means through another body, through another person. The word «телефон» in Russian («telephone») is consonant with the word «тело» («body»). And I understood that in this allegorical language the word «телефон» («telephone») means «тело» («body»). It turns out that in these words about «We will act according to the same scheme, but from other phone», it was said about another body, that is, about some other person, about another man.

On the same day I went to the store, was choosing panties, bras, blouses, skirts. I consider things, I choose. At that time a man enters a store with his wife, goes to the Department with women's underwear and begins to look bras, panties, lingerie. His wife stands still next to him, just watching what he's doing there. And he says to her, like, these panties will suit you very much, you'll be the fairest in this bra, we'll take this. I stopped choosing things and froze in amazement. I never before have seen that the husband chose for his wife underwear, did not hesitate and be so caring for her. I turn to him and say, «I didn't know there were still men like that. I thought there were no more».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And he says: «The main thing that the wife was happy, then not to grumble and not nervous».

When I got home, I kept thinking about that man. They are such a decent, intelligent couple, husband and wife, about my age, under fifty. He looks adequate, but does not hesitate to choose underwear for his wife. And I even expressed my admiration for him. He gave me his hand, and I shook it. And he said that it is better to say directly in the eye and get hit at once, than then behind your backs. Like, it is better to speak openly in the eye, immediately. Like, wife first will grumble, and then will quickly calm down.

I began to analyze this handshake, these his words, my admiration for him, that I did not know that there are still such amazing men. I remembered the words of the coach on the phone about the same scheme, but from another phone that I will at least be rich and he will do everything to make me happy. And I was thinking that my Shri Ram decided to connect me with a nice man, in order to I would at least become rich and in order to he, Shri Ram, would make me happy through that man, through his body. I was thinking that Shri Ram decided to interact with me as a man with a woman, but from another phone, through the body of this gorgeous man. I mentally saw how this would happen. Shri Ram will put pressure on the mind of that man. This man will somehow come to me in real life. We will meet. This man will fall in love with me. Shri Ram will try very hard for this man to want to marry me. I will marry this beautiful man. I will move with my children to his house. We will be rich. I will not have to work and think about how to dress and feed the children. Everything will be decided by this gorgeous man. I will think that this is my Shri Ram. I will look into the eyes of this man and think that this is my Shri Ram. I will kiss and hug this man and think that this is my Shri Ram. We will have sex with this man. I will have sex with this man, but I will think that my Shri Ram is with me. And Shri Ram will be in this sex with me, because asuras can enter any subjects. My Shri Ram will always be plugged unto this man. And through that man's penis, the penis of my Shri Ram will come into me. But it will not be the body of Shri Ram, but the body of this gorgeous man. This man would never guess anything like that, because the presence of the asuras cannot be traced and felt. It will be such an insidious and treacherous deception! What a pity...

I felt bad from such thoughts. But Shri Ram began to reassure me, bringing into my mind pacification and thoughts that this would be him. He conveyed to my mind that I already know a lot about him and, of course, I can recognize him from those scraps of information. He conveyed to my mind that I could recognize, he is with me or anyone else is with me. He instilled in my mind a desire to listen to a song with words «You're only for me, you're my sun, you're only for me, and we are together, the two of us». What an impudent deception!!! What a cynical, treacherous deception. This song was meant to convince me that there would not be others, that only he will be with me, himself personally and it would be just me and he. Alas, there was no mention in the song that we would be together and the two of us through the body of another man.

But he tried very hard to convince me that we will be together and the two of us. Of course together and the two of us. But the same pattern from another phone, using the body of another man, who is nobody to me. He put the idea in my mind that I would recognize him, because I had already learned so much about him, communicating with other people and receiving information about Shri Ram through them. And he even convinced me that I already know so much about him and, of course, there is no other such man who had three wives, three divorces, and much more, about what I already knew. And Shri Ram convinced me that it would be he, that we would be together and the two of us, that there will no other.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

But then I went to the store, on the way I caught sight of the quad bike with a paired numbers 46–46. These numbers stood in front of my inner eye, I mentally looked at them and thought about them. In the store I was attracted by the cover of a magazine, and there it was written in large letters: «Little dog». There were other similar signs, just went a continuous series. Under my feet constantly were falling paired objects, one small and the other large.

And then I thought that Shri Ram found his double, his clone, so to speak, as those numbers on the quad bike 46–46. Shri Ram found a man like himself, with the same characteristics and with the same history, biography as at him, and everything coincided, which is very surprising. But he was lucky, and now he decided to connect me with this his double, with this gorgeous man. And it was a really very good man, such that I thought that there were no such wonderful men now. Shri Ram was lucky to find such a man for me. And he wanted to connect me with him. Shri Ram wanted to use this wonderful man as a little dog. Shri Ram was going to press consciousness of this gorgeous man, so he would become with me and, like little dog, would fulfill the will of his master, that is, of Shri Ram. Shri Ram was going to be with me through body of this gorgeous man: according to the same scheme, but from another phone. He would have been with me as a man, but not himself, but using the body of the man with whom he was going to connect me. He would have been with me as a man with a woman and would have made me happy. Together, the two of us. But from another phone. Through the body of another man.

And I immediately refused this option. Borka and Shri Ram have failed to stop recording my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». I kept recording it. I didn't know Shri Ram was just trying to shut me up. I thought he was trying to take care of me, because for some reason he can't come to me. And I forgave him and continued to be with him, especially since I had so many signs that I must to be with him, no matter what. And I continued to be with him.

45. Parvati's warning and life files with Mata Hari

On May 20, I recognized about his attempt to connect me with gorgeous man, so to speak, with his clone-double. On May 22, I recorded the 6th series of my novel, in which I told how I gave Shri Ram access to my life files on March 3, 2016 and how he then came to me on my internal screen and kept saying «be my wife, become my wife» and we had some kind of the heavenly wedding. In 6th series, I told him I gave him access not to all files of my lives, that that much is hidden from him. And at this moment, when I was talking about it, a screenshot appeared where Arjuna stands in front of Draupadi and asks for something. This Shri Ram wanted to see these files of my lives, and therefore came out such a screenshot.

That same day, Shri Ram put pressure on my consciousness and made me want to write to the karate coach. I wrote him. There was some reason. And the coach answered to me that he had a busy season, pre-diploma practice, diploma, and I immediately answered him that I wish him to successfully get what he needs, and most importantly, for the good. Thus Shri Ram got access to those files of my lives and immediately got in there and started watching.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

What he saw stunned him, because it were files in which many, many lives in a row I was born in the asuric worlds as that Mata Hari and was destroying the strongest asuras, to whom no one had access. I was becoming the wife of that asur, in each embodiment it was the new asur. I was a faithful, loving, sincere, but he at some point was affecting my consciousness, and together with his friends, they were having sex with me, when I was not realizing reality because of their impact on me.

And after many such orgies I many times was coming across evidence of the reality of these orgies and in my mind the visions of these orgies were surfacing. When we had ordinary marital sex, all these details of the puzzle were beginning to stand up clearly in its place, and I was realizing that those visions were not visions at all, but pictures of what was in real life. And as a result of this awareness, the function of the destruction of asuras was activated in me. Out of me at the energy plane of existence was coming from below a bright golden sword-phallus and punched all the chakras of the husband-asur, burned in him all asuric and killed him. And then I was beginning to pray to God. I was talking that I cannot live without my husband and that God should punish me same as I punished my beloved husband. And I was leaving my body at the feet of my husband killed by me, long before his guards were beginning to suspect that for a long time their leader does not leave his chambers... In this way, I was avoiding cruel violence for the fact that their leader had ended his existence and I was to blame for that. All this Shri Ram saw when in the 6th series I jokingly said that not all the files were open to him and when he got my permission to view these files. And obviously that completely changes things.

On May 20, 2017, I was shown that Shri Ram was going to connect me with gorgeous man, so to speak, with his clone-double, who actually is as «a little dog». On May 22, I recorded the 6th series of my novel, in which I said that I gave for Shri Ram access not to all files of my lives. He immediately got access out of me to these files, causing me the desire to write an email to coach karate. In correspondence with the coach, I wished him a successful receipt of what he needed. And thus I gave my consent to Shri Ram. Shri Ram began to watch these files and was amazed: I turned out to be the very Mata Hari who was destroying the strongest asuras during many lives in their asuric worlds.

In the evening, as always, using by method of random choice, without looking, I was shown a 776th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» in which Parvati warned Lohitang and Shankhachur not to exceed their authority. For some reason I wanted to save screenshots from this series and insert them into the next series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", which I did. At the same time I sent another email to Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, through his «dog» Vityok, in which I wrote that I send him my hot hello and that I, as always, am irresistible.

In these words, I told Borka that he was wrong in deciding to get me a gorgeous man in order to switch me from broadcasting about the asuras to that man. I said to Borka in my words about the hot greetings that he does not know who I really am, but Shri Ram is already aware, and that at any time I will send such a hot hello to him that he will not stand. This my hot hello will burn him completely, because I am a powerful weapon, Chandrahas, whose blow can not withstand no one, I'm irresistible, my blow can not be reflected. But Borka, of course, did not understand my completely open statement. He continued to think about what to do to stop my broadcasting about the asuras.

In 7th series of my novel I put those screenshots from 776th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev». There Parvati told Lohitang and Shankhachura the following: «Thus, your abilities and your skills do not play a big role! None of us deliberately prevented you just because Narayana wished it so! Narayana himself wanted the curse to be fulfilled! And you... you were only a performer! But being blinded by your arrogance, you are incapable of seeing anything! I warn you! If you will neglect your position or use your strength in pursuit of your personal interests, the consequences will be dire! If I want, I can kill you now! If you ever cross your boundaries again, I won't warn you again!»

By showing these screenshots, I told Shri Ram that he now knows who I really am, that he saw for himself what I am capable of, and that I will not tolerate such an attitude. He was proud of his asuric abilities and skills, plugging another man unto me in our sex at the energy plane of existence. Shri Ram intended to connect me in real life with a gorgeous man, so that I would be at least rich and that Shri Ram through the body of that man would make me happy. He thought he is the trickiest and can easily fool me. He was sure that their scam would succeed and I would not guess that with me is not Shri Ram, but some completely different man, albeit a rich and chic one. He thought what the pathetic creatures we are, but we saw what he was doing.

And we deliberately let him do it because it was necessary. For what? In the screenshots it was said that in order for the curse to be fulfilled. Also, so that I may begin my Mahabharata of the removing of the asuras from the list of asuras together with their sending into their future lives as devotees of Krishna and then with their returning into the spiritual world. I said that it was necessary first of all to us, but he was so proud that he is so powerful that he did it and I couldn't do anything to counter it and I couldn't prevent it.

In these screenshots, through the words of Parvati I told Shri Ram that I at any time can kill him. I told him that if he continued to neglect his position and, instead of protecting me, his wife, would do his vile asuric things and overstep his bounds, then the consequences for him would be dire because I would no longer warn.

Also, I through these Parvati's words warned Borka that he, of course, fulfilled his promise and gave something to Shri Ram, but it does not give him the right to exceed his powers and interfering in my activity. I told Borka that we knew his thoughts and that we saw how he wanted to shut me up by finding for me this gorgeous man, so that I would stop telling in my videos about asuras and their secrets. I told him that if he does something in this direction or somehow crosses his boundaries again, I will not warn him and his life will shorten very quickly, especially since I wrote to him on February 16 that his life is finishing.

Also, immediately after records that series I sent Borka email through his «dog», with words «enjoy now those that are now». «Dogs» for the asuras are people who serve the asuras. In this email I teased Borka, saying that vacations begin and the summer I'm hardly going to record my novel, so now enjoy the series that are already recorded. But in fact, in those words about «enjoy now those that are now» I told Borka that his life is shortening very quickly and he has very few days left. I told him to enjoy the time of life that he still had, since that time had already come to an end. But Borka did not understand what I said to him in this form. But the news that I'm not recording my video yet calmed him down, and he thought that over the summer, they'd come up with something else to shut me up.

46. Disconnecting from me another man

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

On May 22, I gave Shri Ram access to my lives files in which I was born many times as Mata Hari in asuric worlds. May 23 through the words of Parvati in the 776th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» I warned Shri Ram. I told him that he would never cross his borders again, otherwise he would be destroyed. And he himself saw in those new life files opened to him that I can do it and my threats are not unfounded. And on the first day of the next menstruation Shri Ram disconnected this other man from me, because of whom I turned on total abstention from sex and whom Shri Ram connected to me on the first day of the previous menstruation, before recording the first series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife».

Shri Ram connected another man into our sex on April 26, 2016, after he successfully manipulated my consciousness, in order to I refused the blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity to Shri Ram as to my husband. When I realized that Shri Ram was deceiving me, saying that there are no others there, but implying that there are no others but Shri Ram and another man, I decided to quit sex and moved to complete abstinence from sex, I mean in our case from masturbation. He found for me a gorgeous man, before May 20. He said that I would be at least rich and he would make me happy. However, he meant that he would make me happy through the body of this other man. But I was shown that there was a substitution, and I refused this option. And after that I gave Shri Ram access to those my life files when I came many births in the asuric worlds and destroyed the strongest asuras, to whom no one had access.

Then I threatened Shri Ram so that he would not overstep his borders anymore, otherwise I will not warn him again and will destroy him too. This I told him through screenshots with Parvati from the 776th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» in the 7th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» on May 23, and on May 28, the first day of my period, Shri Ram removed this other man from our intimacy. Before that, Aisha danced her dance to her sultan, in which she told him that she would kill herself and that she had a dagger in her chamber. And then the sultan sent his soldiers to the Aisha's chambers, and they took her dagger and brought it to the sultan. I was saying through Aisha's dance that this other man, that is, dagger, was to be taken from my chambers, or I'd kill myself by him.

I had a strong desire for Krishna to kill this «dagger» that somehow ended up in my chambers; I had such strong resentment at Shri Ram and especially at this other man that I asked Krishna to punish them all for me. I was asking the Lord to remove this other man from me and kill him, brutally and mercilessly. I think that this other man would have been killed, but Shri Ram decided to save him and disconnect him from me.

On the evening of May 28, I was watching TV series «Mahabharata» and saving screenshots from those moments that, as I saw, could give some signs of the Universe, some clues to me and Shri Ram. I have carefully reviewed the entire TV series «Mahabharata» on the subject of search pictures suitable for signs of the Universe. I created a separate folder on my computer for these pictures-screenshots, and these pictures began to change randomly every 30 seconds on my desktop. It turned out very interesting and informative. And right during the recording of my novel, these wallpapers that change every 30 seconds on my desktop, randomly, were adding an unusual colour to my video and even directing my broadcasting during the recording of these series.

Especially for this I already three times revised the entire TV series «Mahabharata», and here on May 28 I began to sort again these screenshots from «Mahabharata». I wanted to rename screenshots; I opened the folder with all these screenshots and began to try. I pressed the wrong key, and all screenshots were duplicated. I tried different ways to remove the created clones of screenshots, but did not know how to do it quickly and correctly and I made even more copies of the screenshots.

I very upset, half the night sat and manually was removing duplicated screenshots one by one, thinking that I'm disconnecting another man from myself and completely remove him from my space. When I was removing duplicates of screenshots, I was seeing parallels between these copies and this other man, who was plugged unto me on the first day of the previous monthly, when we had an act of family well-being and I saw approaching another man on my internal screen. But my mind was turned away from his silhouette, and my will was blocked so that I would not stop. I continued the act of family well-being with Shri Ram, and he managed to plug him unto me. After that Shri Ram brazenly was cheating to me that there were no others there, and I once succumbed to his entreaties, but I was greatly embarrassed by the absence his gaze, which I always saw and in which I always looked during that action. The first time, when Shri Ram connected another man to me in our sex, I caught a glimpse of his approach to me on my internal screen. But the second time I did not see him. He was automatically turned on and was invisible, but I realized that he is present, as the gaze of Shri Ram was not.

I didn't sleep half the night and was deleting these screenshots from the pile of screenshots that somehow accidentally I did it. I am very tired, removed all duplicated screenshots. In the morning started my period. It hurt so much that I even had to ask my daughter to go for pills to the pharmacy. Usually my periods are completely painless and pass quickly. I think I have specifically such menstruations, during my whole life, practically without pain and easily tolerated, not without reason. I think this is necessary in order to see the contrast between the usual menstruation and those monthly, which occur as a result of the influence of the asuras on the female body. Because as a result of the asuric effect on the female body, a woman begins to have a menstrual period, but much more painful. This is not menstruation at all, but as a postoperative period, as if something was cut out of the female organs with a scalpel and was not given anesthetic after this. And hurts as if something was really cut out in the female organs. And this time, after a night of removal of duplicated screenshots, I started such a very painful menstruation. I was very hurt, that though on a wall climb. I was drinking a handful of pills, but the pain did not subside. It hurt three days, which is not typical for me. I usually hurt a little. And only on the first day. But this time all three days there was a very strong pain, and I constantly drank a painkiller, such a severe pain and so long. And it feels like something was cut out of you, on the physical level.

It was the consequences of the fact that Shri Ram disconnected another man from me. I understood it, when the morning I have those sobs began again that were often before he plugged another man unto me. All this month, when another man was connected to me, there was no sobbing. And before that it often happened. These sobs were happening because Shri Ram was somehow felt by me, somehow we were becoming closer together on a subtle, energetic level. At these moments, some special sobs were found at me and I complained to Krishna that I feel bad and asked Him to help me.

I saw that all this coincided: I accidentally made copies of screenshots and half the night deleted these copies manually. Then I started getting a very painful menstruation, not as always, and much more painful, and again began those sobs, which was not the whole month from the previous menstruation, when Shri Ram plugged another man unto me. I realized that Shri Ram removed another man from me and I again feel him, Shri Ram. We are again in direct contact energetically, without any presence between us or with us. My body started to shake again, these sobs are back. Then I saw this that another man on my internal screen. This man seemed to me, assuring me that he was no longer with me and that I could be with my Shri Ram again.

It was wrong, and hurtful. I thought that he's done this with women, and they are not even aware of it. After all, I would not have guessed if I had not paid attention to the approaching other man at my inner screen in that act of family well-being and if then I would not begin to look for gaze of Shri Ram somewhere at the top of myself at my inner screen. But his gaze was not, there was only emptiness and blackness. And thus, I realized something was wrong. I gathered the details of the puzzle into a single mosaic and got an unsightly picture with the invisible presence of another, man who was sewn into my energy structure, into my sex with Shri Ram through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence.

I felt so sorry for coming to him at all! But what to do, for some reason this is necessary, but otherwise why am I so long with him? But asuric techniques are perfected up to perfection and completely exclude an opportunity of a mistake. Everything is done delicately. The appearances of the asuras in your space, their plugging unto you and their influence on you are completely unnoticeable and not felt at all. It is impossible to notice and understand this. And the fact that Shri Ram disconnected him out of me, I realized from the puzzle pieces too, the main thing of which was the appearance of that sob that was not there for that month. There's a lot to think through...

And on June 3, we again started with Shri Ram acts of family well-being, that is, the usual-looking masturbation. But asuras can connect to objects and people, including in sex and in masturbation, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. And although it looked like ordinary masturbation, but Shri Ram was present there, that is, it was our sex with him, albeit without his physical presence. I began to do it again not because I wanted it so much, but because I was asked to do so. I've had signs everywhere that I need to start it again. At the screenshots of the «Mahabharata» on my desktop which are randomly changing every 30 seconds Krishna began to show that he vouches for Shri Ram and asks me again to resume these acts of family well-being. But I refused Him, that is, Krishna, saying that I no longer believe Shri Ram and I do not intend to participate in this disgrace. And then Radharani came and asked me. How did I find out about this? She fell from Her throne.

I have the Deities Giriraj. Back in the early 2000s, they were Deities of Sanatana Rupa, the famous painter of ISKCON. We lived with him on the same floor on Sukharevo one summer and were friends, and he gave us his Deities Giriraj. Little stones painted colors, Radha and Krishna. And Radharani fell from Her throne, She rarely falls at all, usually sits on Her throne next to Krishna. And here all day She fell and fell from the throne, and after there was a screenshot on my desktop of a computer where Radharani speaks: «You can refuse Him, that is, Krishna, but not Me». And thus I realized that Radharani herself asked me, and I started those acts of family well-being again, that is, masturbation, but with presence of Shri Ram at the energy plane of existence.

47. Borka's manipulation «Shut up and fly straight!»

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Then I continued to record the next series of my novel. On June 5, I recorded the 10th series, in which I told how I began to lead the organization of Shri Ram, how I began to give him signs, that is, everything that happens in my life is a projection of what is happening in his life and in his asuric organization, which under him, as under a spider, such a neural network. And in this 10th series, I showed on the example of the story from the movie «Avatar» how Shri Ram connected our energy channels to each other, in order to my signs went directly to his organization through him.

And in that my explanation Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, decided to hold the manipulation of my consciousness and shut me up. He wanted me to stop talking about them, about the asuras, so that I “shut up” and “fly straight”. He and Shri Ram wanted to shut my mouth, finding a gorgeous man for me in real life and intending to connect me with this gorgeous man in real life, but they did not work, and then Borka decided to do the manipulation of my consciousness, and even using my series of my novel! What impudence! But this was also opened.

I recorded the first five series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife”, and Shri Ram and Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization, made an attempt to distract me from this case by finding for me a gorgeous man in real life and intending to connect us with him in real life, pressing and manipulating our consciousness. But they did not succeed, because I was shown this situation in advance and I refused it. After that in the 6th series I told Shri Ram that I opened him not all files of my lives, and then I gave him access to some files. So he found out that I am the same Mata Hari, who many times was born in their asuric worlds and was killing strongest asuras, to whom no one had access.

And in the 7th series through screenshots from the 776th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» I threatened both Shri Ram and Borka that I will destroy them if they still at least once cross borders. Shri Ram disconnected from me another man, untied him from our sexual interaction and abandoned the idea as something to hurt me. But Borka did not understand the seriousness of my warning, which I gave him through the words of Parvati in those screenshots. He kept thinking how to influence me in order to I stopped telling publicly about them, about the asuras. But then I gave him a gift. I sent him an email through his «dog», that is, through one of the people who serve the asuras. I wrote: «Today this is the last series of my novel. Summer starts, holidays, and I don't know when I can record the rest series. So enjoy what you have right now. So stay healthy. And good luck».

By this email I reassured Borka, lulled his vigilance, he happily relaxed, somewhere there in Moscow, thinking that in the summer I will not say anything about asuras and they will come up with something else that will remove the threat of disclosure of their secrets. But in this email I veiled told Borka that he did not have much left to live, so that he enjoyed those days that he has, and it are not many, because I warned him on February 16 that his life is finishing. But Borka, of course, did not understand anything. I just teased him in order to a week later, when I suddenly continued to record my series of my novel, Borka will get mad, have come to the verge, across his boundaries and doing something because of what I would have the right to destroy him.

On June 1, a week after I said Borka that he can relax, since we are on vacation, including from the recording of this my novel, I recorded another, the 8th series, in which I told a lot of interesting things. I talked about the power methods by which Shri Ram wanted to turn on estrus mode in my body, which happens at animals during mating. He wanted to break me and bend me under all his comrades from his asuric organization. He wanted to make from me a will-less toy for my trouble-free participation in their sexual orgies at the energy plane of existence. He wanted to pump my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis. I told him that he is my Tiramisu, «Lift me up to heaven», because if my man whom I feel is mine, with whom, as I see, I was together many, many lives, if he doing this to me, then what others will do with me? What others will do with me to whom I am no one? What to look for here, in this material world, where your man, for whom you are his Shakti, his second half, can give you to other men and force you to be with them, to have sex with them, against your will? This is the material world. Here such situations happen. And for this reason this world is not worth being in it, in order to remain here. This world holds nothing for us. And it will be right to break out of such a world where your second half can make you have sex with other men. And there is one way. It's a return into the spiritual world.

In the 10th series I told how I became a charioteer of Shri Ram, showing him signs with which he can more efficiently and safely conduct his asuric organization and build his life. In the 10th series at the screenshots from the movie «Avatar» I showed how Shri Ram linked some our energy channels, so that my leadership went directly to his organization through him. I saved a bunch of screenshots from «Avatar» and in 10th series commenting it, was explaining how Shri Ram did all this.

And during this my commenting Borka did his manipulation of my consciousness, using my broadcasting in my series of my novel. One of the screenshots was with the words «Shut up! And fly straight!» Thus hero of the film «Avatar» was screaming the alien flying horse-dragon, riding it and taming to himself. And in this screenshot I stopped for a long time while recording this series. At the same time there were such moments when I stretched forward my finger and the background was the screenshot with the words «Shut up and fly straight!» like I'm hypnotizing myself and ordering myself to shut up and fly straight.

I then understood nothing, but right after record of that series in the email to Borka I wrote: «Probably, already I've bother you by the movie. Today I recorded another series of my masterpiece novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife". Series 10. And I very unhappy with this series. Very. Dissatisfied. But I'll show you anyway. Look here». The next day I woke up with a heavy head. My mood and well-being were bad. There was a kind of depression. And in addition, Fedka, who is a rag, a God's gift, in the morning loomed background somewhere in the corner of my inner contemplation. He seemed to be waving his hand out to me and warning about something, but I did not understand what he wants to convey to my awareness, but then it dawned on me: someone brazenly manipulated my mind, and using me, my videos.

I reviewed the 10th series, found that moment when my finger and those words about «shut up and fly straight» appeared at the same time, and saw that Yes, I was given the order to shut up and fly straight. And I realized why my heart is heavy and I'm not comfortable: someone tried to influence me from outside. I thought about Shri Ram that it was his tricks, but I was shown that it was not Shri Ram. And then I remembered about Borka.

Thus Borka signed his own death warrant. Because I'm in the 7th series through screenshots with Parvati told him that if ever he neglects his position, or will use his power in pursuit of his personal interests, the consequences would be dire, that if he ever overstepping his bounds, I will no longer warn, but destroy him. But Borka did not understand. Immediately in the 10th series after the screenshots from the movie «Avatar» through a series of screenshots from «Mahabharata» on my desktop, which randomly every 30 seconds, replaces each other, Borka was said that he must to urgently asked for forgiveness for his manipulation of my consciousness, but Borka did not understand.

In these pictures from the «Mahabharata» in the 10th series quite clearly Borka was told that he was in great danger and that he must to immediately correct the situation, asking for forgiveness and not exceeding his powers and not crossing his boundaries, but he didn't understand. And then through those screenshots from «Mahabharata» Borka was told that for such impudence I will kill him.

And in the next, 11th series, I exposed the Borka`s manipulation of my consciousness, showing that moment with my finger and with the words from the movie «Avatar» about «shut up and fly straight». Borka wanted to finish my broadcasting about asuras with the help of this manipulation of my consciousness, but he was shown in advance in the 7th series that if he even once crossed his borders, I will no longer warn. And after in 11th series I revealed Borka`s manipulation of my consciousness, he was shown what to expect. This was done using screenshots, which is installed on my desktop of my computer with a random bust every 30 seconds, especially for such signs of the Universe, from the TV series «Mahabharata». He was shown what to expect, at the next screenshot. It was a screenshot from the 11th series, again with my finger and with the Sudarshana Chakra which was flying towards him.

And after recording this series, I sent an email to Borka: «Today I recorded another series of my novel „My Roman. I'm asur's wife“. Series 11. I feel very bad today. I woke up hardly. So I decided to cheer myself up with record another, an extraordinary series of my novel. I was planning to record it on Thursday, but I had a depressed mood that I decided not to wait for Thursday and record it today. So look, enjoy. If you can, of course. Which I personally highly doubt. New series at the top. № 11. Drumstick. II».

48. Tomorrow we'll robbing the king

And I started the final stage of finishing of Borka`s life. To do this, I began to blackmail Shri Ram, so he opened to me what he saw in files of my lives, to which I gave him access to after recording the 6th series of my novel.

After recording the 6th series, on May 22, I gave Shri Ram access to my life files, where he saw how I was born many times in asuric worlds and killing the strongest asuras, to which no one had access. The next day, on 23 May, I warned him that if he neglected his position or used his powers in pursuit of his personal interests, the consequences would be disastrous, that if he ever crossed his borders again, I would not warn him again.

Shri Ram understood the seriousness of my warning and began to behave correctly. He disconnected, untied other man from me, from our unity and abandoned the idea of somehow influencing me to stop recording my novel about them, the asuras. And from that time on, I started somehow to show Shri Ram, so that he would reveal to me what he saw in those files of my lives. And on June 7, right before I recorded my 13th series, he revealed to me some of what he saw there. Namely, that I was born many times in their asuric worlds in the role of Mata Hari in order to kill those who needed to be killed.

He revealed it to me the evening of 7 June. I immediately sat down to collect the screenshots for the colourful description that what opened to me. I saved up the screenshots from the film «The Fifth Element», from opened by random poke one of the 820 series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», it was the 247th series, in it Parvati kills Mahishasura, I made screenshots and from there. Also I remembered about the song of the burglar, which is sung by Spartak Mishulin. I picked up all the materials and June 8 sat down for the recording of the 13th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». In it, I told how I many times was born in the role of such a Mata Hari in the asuric worlds, and also commented on this story with all these screenshots.

In fact, in this series, with the help of those screenshots, I informed Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization: «All, hold on, Borka, you thought I was the same as everyone, and so it is, except for a small nuance: I came to you, Borka, with a special task. I was born many lives in your asuric worlds. I was killing the strongest asuras there, and now I come for you. I will strike you off the list of asuras». I sang a humorous song of a thief, in which I clear told Borka what awaits him. It was song «Song of a Thief» Spartak Mishulin (from the play «Little Comedies of the Big House», 1973).

That's what I sang:

My work is important, I like it very much.
I help citizens to get rid of values.
And Luck always accompany of me,
Because I am in good mood.

I love the evening and the beginning of the day, January snow and May acacia.
All the doors are open for me, for masters of such qualifications.
And if your walls I'll leave naked tomorrow,
Cheer up, citizens, don't get discouraged.
Consider that you have given me your belongings, for storage,
And stay, lovely, in good mood.

With this song I told Borka that everything he had taken from others, from women their female energy and their piety, that he had taken away from other living beings and what is proud, will be taken away from him, and he will remain with nothing. I told him that in vain he thought that everything is allowed to him. He was crushing women under himself, was installing vile asuric programs on them. But now we got him, since my appearance to him and my putting under his impact were a provocation, a challenge to him. I set myself up under his blow. He totally fell for it. He himself put a target on his back. And I am a powerful weapon, the blow of which no one can bear. And the task for which this weapon is used undoubtedly always is fully executed. And now the time has come for this task to be fulfilled completely.

I also showed the screenshots from the TV series «Clone» with Jade, where Jade talks to Zaire and he tells her that he really likes how Jade dances, and that he for a long time has not seen a dance with a snake, and Jade answers him: «They say, I dance this dance incomparably, amazingly. You do not believe me?» In fact I was telling Borka, what am I such a snake that will stand over him in the vastness of space and from there I will throw furious burning all fire upon him and Borka will finish his mortal existence and even his existence as an asur, which he was very proud.

In the screenshots from «The Fifth Element» I said Borka: «Alas, Borka, now you are mine. Now I will have done away with you. I was coming to you for a reason. Did you think that you caught me into your net in Moscow? You are dummy. I specifically caught your eyes when I bought a cool smartphone and became a member of the forum about smartphones. Your „dog“, that is, a cog from your Moscow asuric organization, began to help me master the smartphone on that forum and you, Borka, looking at me through his eyes, are seduced by such a good specimen as I and began to impact me your nasty asuric techniques. Borka, you are brainless fool, you take the bait. This is a classic, when the wildfowl thinks that it is a hunter, and gets into the snare».

And after that in the screenshots from the 247th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» I told Borka that I came specifically to put an end to his life. Mahishasura was very voluptuous asur and liked to humiliate women. And Borka, however, like all other asuras, also liked to humiliate women and feel over them his power, installing their vile asuric programs into them and lowering their female nature, when women become as weak-willed puppets in their hands and perform any of their whims, participate in their orgies at the energy plane of existence, with a sense of the full reality of what is happening.

I said in those screenshots from «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» that I am well aware of his thoughts about women, that he is a fool, if he thought that he is allowed everything. I said him that he thought in vain that no one will stop him and kill, and that he in vain was considering all women weak and weak-willed toys in his hands. I told him that even if I live here like an ordinary woman, then up there, I knew all about them, about asuras, and that I came here on purpose to expose him and get the okay for his complete elimination. I said him that now this striking out will happen very soon, in the coming days, that his death is determined.

Borka, of course, did not understand that I thus speak with him and inform him about his fate. He accepted the news that I, such a little inconspicuous woman, am the same Mata Hari, who many times was born in their asuric worlds and was destroying the strongest asuras. Borka accepted the fact that I can and am that Mata Hari, but he thought that he is in no danger, because I'm far away and he is out of reach. But these screenshots told Borka that his forces will disappear at one day and that if asur naively believes that women are helpless and if he makes women as the means of satisfying his own desires and treats them as weak, if he abuse his power over them, then I will kill him whenever I will appear as Jagadamba, as the slayer of the asuras.

So began my Mahabharata to the elimination of the asuras from the list of asuras, and Borka was the first of them. In accidentally appearing screenshots from «Mahabharata» on my desktop Borka once again was told that he urgently must to ask for forgiveness, otherwise he would be killed, but he again decided that it was empty threats, and did not understand anything. But these were not idle threats because I wrote immediately after the recording of the 13th series in an email to Borka through his «dog»: «It is unlikely you will want to watch this my novel and this my series. But I'll still show you. Honestly, do not expect pleasure there. None of it».

In the 14th series, I told how Shri Ram connected to me Fedka, a rag, God's gift, thanks to the presence of whom began to stabilize our contact with Shri Ram and unity and began the so-called sessions with pillow. I told how Krishna showed me that He could completely remove our eternal connection with Shri Ram at any moment. I told that I had a communication with the Holy name of Krishna as with a personality, with each name of Krishna in the Hare Krishna mantra as with a separate, individual personality, it was a real communication.

In 15th series I told about Borka, about installing on women vile asuric programs in order to women became as a will-less sexual toy who is carrying out any their order, which asuras give at the energy plane of existence. Women can do nothing to oppose them, the asuras, and performs all their whims at the energy plane of existence. I told that asuras lower female nature and use women in contactless sex pumping women's energy from women on a regular basis. After recording the 15th series, I sent an email to Borka: «Please forgive me. I a little lied about you. Do not blame me. I just suddenly remembered something... Well, since I just compose all this, I decided to throw you in this common basket. Sorry, I didn't mean to. Sorry, no offense. It's not your fault. This is such a story. I do not give you links». In these words I seemed to justify myself before Vitka, Borka's "dog", saying, sorry, I told in my novel about you, but this is just an essay, I make it all up, it isn't true, you'll forgive me for the embellishment of the story?

But actually here I was informing Borka that I openly told that he was doing with me when I still was in Moscow. I openly told that Borka was pressing consciousness of my then husband and was forcing him to send me to a meeting with «dog» of Borka. At that meeting they made an attempt to install on me their vile asuric program to pull off me down, onto an animal level and to make me a will-less sexual toy who is carrying out any their order, which they give at the energy plane of existence. And they were going to use the body of my then husband. That is, installing on me that their asuric program, they would ensure that I constantly fell into lust, and at such a low animal level. They were going to force me to constantly require my husband to perform marital duties. They were going to have sex with me through the body of my husband. What an abomination!

And I told Borka in that email after the recording of the 15th series that I will not be silent, that I had already remembered the bad thing he did to me and that I decided to throw him into the General basket, that is, I decided to remove him completely, as people deletes unnecessary files from the computer. First, they throw unnecessary files into the recycle bin on the desktop of the computer, and then they clear the recycle bin. I asked Borka for forgiveness in advance, because it was already inevitable.

In 16th series I in a fun joking manner told about the children that we have with Borka was conceived in such a strange way, through some completely unrealistic orgasms without anyone's presence. I said that supposedly my children are the same, from those three children, just to have something to broadcast about. And since my novel is based on real events and I take some situations from my life and interpret them so as to get some kind of a harmonious and logical line, this time I took the example with my children, to base on the basis of their description, think up what kind of children we could get with Borka.

At the end of 16th series, I sang a couple of fun songs, which foretold a very sad event for Borka — the imminent end of his life. I sang a song of robbers from «The Bremen Town Musicians»:

Fortune cards say that tomorrow the king is waiting for a long journey.

He has a lot of money, and I love money.

Tomorrow we will capture both the king and his entire squad. So cards say.

We'll do it quickly and without any noise, the cards tell the truth.

Oh-La-La, Oh-La-La, tomorrow we'll robbing the king!

By words of this song I told Borka when it will happen: tomorrow, that is already next day after record of the 16th series. And indeed, the next day I did it.

49. The sentencing to Borka

And my analysis of the actions of Shri Ram over me in the spring preceded this event. After all, on April 26, Shri Ram connected to our sex with him another, making a kind of sandwich, at the energy plane of existence, but that other really was present in our with Shri Ram sex. He violated my faithfulness, dropped my honor and was pumping my female energy out of me, although it was not intended for him at all. Anyway, it's totally wrong and very embarrassing... but Shri Ram did it to me, and I noticed it.

And in order for this thing to work out, he did the manipulation of my mind the day before the «fit» of the other man, so that I would refuse Lakshmi's blessing to be faithful to him, Shri Ram, as my husband. And I made him a warning through screenshots from «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» with the words of Parvati when I gave him access to those my life files, in which he saw me in the role of Mata Hari in their asuric worlds, when I was destroying the strongest asuras. I warned him through the words of Parvati that I could kill him at any moment, that he did not have the right to exceed his authority and cross his boundaries. And after that, Shri Ram disconnected another man from me, somehow untied him from me, and I had a stomach ache for three days, and there was a very painful menstruation, that I wasn't peculiar to it. That it was one of the pieces of the puzzle that showed that the other man is no longer present in my sex with Shri Ram.

I remembered that back in Moscow I had such a thing. And I remembered how in Moscow I was carried out under the same scheme of causing symptoms of allegedly dysbacteriosis-thrush-cystitis, vaginal candidiasis to force me to visit a gynecologist to check my female organs as check a horse before deciding whether to buy it or not. Shri Ram is the same done with me, in the spring. And such interaction was with Borka, but I didn't know what it is and who did this to me. I did not know that someone, some unfamiliar man, could affect your body at a distance and cause real physical manifestations in your physical body, similar to the symptoms of a female disease. I did not know that it was even possible. And such thoughts never occurred to me. But then I saw that this is possible. And I realized that such an effect was already with me, that that dysbacteriosis was not in itself, but artificially caused in my body, to make me go to a gynecologist and look at my intimate organs through the eyes of a gynecologist.

And then all day after the recording of the 16th series with the song «tomorrow we will rob the king» in my mind spun pieces of the puzzle with the events in Moscow and then with Shri Ram, and I clearly saw the parallels, the full identity of events and symptoms and realized what at that time Borka did with me. I was overwhelmed by what I understood. I clearly saw that Borka coolly, methodically, according to their asuric scheme carried out those vile manipulations, plugged several men unto me at once in sex, using the body of my then husband and my body, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence.

I was thinking that some unfamiliar men were in our matrimonial sex invisibly, but no less really. They blatantly were pressing our consciousness and cynically broke into our sex, where we did not call them. This picture led me in the strongest rage, and I decided that Borka is finished. Everything in those letters I said to Borka without my conscious participation. I was telling him this through ordinary words and did not understand the true meaning of those words. But then, when I realized that other men I didn't even know had sex with me through body of my husband, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, I was horrified. I became very ashamed and very sorry for my husband, and I immediately remembered how at the beginning of our invisible interaction with Shri Ram I sent a complaint to the overlords of Moriya. It was a complain with the asking for help to stop force methods by which Shri Ram was impacting to me, trying to turn me into their weak-willed bitch. And then I demanded to punish those who did this to me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I made the same complaint in my mind the same way. I made a similar report, but this time a complaint against Borka and by means of the imagination sent it to them, somewhere up, to any heavenly spheres. I imagined that somewhere in the Universe there are such forces, a kind of Universe Patrol, which is free to punish such criminals, and I mentally sent them my dispatch with all the facts of Borka's violations of my personal space and with the facts of Borka's impact on my then husband and Borka's invasion and encroachment to my family life in those my Moscow years.

I also put there the facts that Borka made a lot of effort to separate me and my husband, to break up our family. I added my memories, that Borka was influencing the consciousness of my then-husband, so that I would turn away from him and decide that I no longer want and cannot be with him.

I also included episodes in which I told about how Borka checked if his asuric children were in me. He was doing this by provoking bouts of rage in my then-husband, so that my husband was applying physical strength to me. Of course, Borka was doing it without his physical presence and incitement of my husband to beat me. Borka pressed on the consciousness of my husband and influenced his complexes, carried out manipulations of his consciousness. And my husband was succumbing to his invisible and impalpable impact and was beating me. Borka was doing this so that the asuric children whom he conceived in me were afraid for my life, because they were inside of me, in my ovaries. When my husband, being under the influence of Borka, was beating me, asuric children conceived by Borka in me were scared for me and were showing themselves. Their lives depended on my life, and they were showing themselves in a voice. I remember when Borka had to make sure that these asuric children were inside me, I cried out loudly in pain, because my then-husband was under the influence of Borka and beat me. Three times I shouted the words «mom», with different intonations. And it was audible and understandable that «mom» some kind of child was screaming. And every time it was clear that this is a completely different child screamed «mom». They were different personalities, which were clearly identified by me as children sitting in me, with the definition of their gender and even character! So I realized that I had three of their children, and even found out that they were two girls and one boy. Because I shouted the word «mom» three times. The first time, as if the girl screamed, the second time there was a male intonation, a low, as if a male register. And for the third time, «mom» sounded quiet and gentle girl's voice. And when these three words «mom» I cried out, my husband magically calmed down, as if nothing had happened. So I realized that it was necessary for someone who wanted to make sure that his children are in me, and find out what kind of children they are. This was done by Borka. To find out if his asuric children are in me, he made my husband beat me. What cruelty! Borka by force forced my husband to beat me, and coolly watched this action, waiting for those asuric children will be scared for my life so much that they will manifest themselves through my cries with the words «mom».

And I threw in the external space the bloc of information with all these my memories and its analysis and with the requirement to punish Borka, ending his useless life and sending him in another incarnation in a new position. And having sent this report and this requirement into the Universe Patrol, I began to record the next, the 17th series of my novel that right there all this in it to tell.

There I said jokingly that I am now an inspector of this very Universe Patrol, and I had a clear feeling that it is and that I have the right not only to pass a sentence, but also to determine the future of the punishable. And I immediately determined the future of Borka. I said that Borka would go into the spiritual world through the incarnation of a human being, a devotee of Krishna, a devotee of Radharani in Vrindavan.

How lucky he was that I did not know that he had arranged the battle in which asuras intended to kill Shri Ram. I did not know that the asuras needed this battle so that they could reach me. I did not know that asuras wanted to remove Shri Rama because he was preventing them from engaging in the breaking of my female nature when Borka had put me on their asuric totalizer. At that time all their most powerful asuric powers, the aces in the breaking of female nature were drawn to their asuric totalizer. After the elimination of Shri Ram as a result of that battle they intended to deal with me. Many asuras have already made bets on this asuric tote, anticipating that they will make a lot of money and will enjoy being watched as the most powerful destroyers of female nature break me. I did not know that on this asuric tote asuras broke Shri Vishnupad, Harikesha Swami burning through all his energy centers and chakras and bringing him down to the lower levels of consciousness. I did not know then, otherwise Borka so cool would not be lucky. But he was very lucky.

The first of the asuras in my Mahabharata was Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization. In the 17th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", on June 12, 2016, I issued a sentence to him and assigned him his future. And the same evening the sentence was executed by me, I have done away with Borka, that is, the day after I sang a song about «Tomorrow we'll robbing the king». I did everything in time. We robbed the king tomorrow.

50. Elimination of Borka

After in the 17th series of my novel I filed charges against Borka, told about his atrocities and sent report to Universe Patrol about all this, I sent Borka my email with such words: «Adieu. Well, it seems that today I show you the last time». And I calmed down, naively thinking that I did my job: I disclosed the crimes of Borka and complained about him.

I was sure that my business is just disclose a violation of the law, but I was mistaken as in the evening when I sat and chanted a mantra, I suddenly felt that Borka is mine, that he was given to me and that I have to execute a sentence. I was confused at first, but this feeling was so persistent and unshakable, like a rock, that I aimed at Borka on my inner screen and immediately saw him. It's was male silhouette, which I utterly clearly identified as Borka. I immediately decided: I will carry out the order.

The first thing I burned at him a large red center in the area Svadhithana chakra. A powerful ray of napalm came out of me and completely burned this red ball. From the ball left a big black gaping hole. Then I let a ray of dazzling sky-blue energy from below up inside him, went through his entire body inside and drove the beam to his throat.

After that, I ended up in his head. There he had everything closed, but when I found myself there, there in top of his head began to open, and his whole head began to open like a large glowing flower. They say, Sahasrara chakra is a lotus with a thousand petals, and such a lotus was blossomed in Borka's head, a gorgeous white Lotus, emitting from itself in all directions a dazzling light.

I looked at this Lotus and thought that it is not enough: it is necessary to launch weapons of mass destruction, that is Hare Krishna mantra. I remembered Prabhu

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Sasha, a senior devotee of Krishna, who was a devotee of Krishna back in the Soviet years, in Tallinn. He told us that one of his friends was offered boards for construction at a bargain price, but she refused, because boards were radioactive, were emitting strongly radiation. And he said that we would take all those boards, would sit down, would chant the Hare Krishna mantra, and all the radiation would disappear. He had so much faith in the Holy name of Krishna. I remembered his belief that Krishna's name and Krishna himself are one and that Krishna's name can purify anything, and decided to put a Hare Krishna mantra inside the Borka's head.

I turned on the sounding of a mantra in Borka's head, like inside an empty bell, with an echo, on the auto-repeat, and the sounding of a mantra filled his whole head. I went to do my business and from time to time I looked at my internal screen to see what was happening there. There was constantly sounded and sounded the mantra. Then I went down to the area of his throat and cleared his throat chakra through with the sound of a mantra, and then and there turned on auto-repeat the sounding of the mantra Hare Krishna.

And after that we had synchronize. There was a golden connection between us and I began to raise the golden energy from the top down. Between us, some kind of connection went, and in parallel from top to bottom synchronously at me and at him golden energy was going. And this golden energy synchronously reached Manipura, at both of us at the same time. There we had a very good synchronization with him, a contact, and a lot of was pumped out of him into me. I thought that I as a Universe level corrector should have everything provided, and I continued to look at this action.

I went down to his very bottom and let in the dazzling sky-blue glow up again from below, which was both inside him and outside, which completely filled him and surrounded him. And there, too, I turned on the sounding of the Hare Krishna mantra, to the full, to his whole body, and the mantra began to resonate with his whole body and his entire being. I felt that everything, Borka is made, we have done away with him. He is no longer Borka, but Krishna das, and he will be born in Vrindavan as a human being, as a devotee of Krishna, of Radharani and after that he will return into the spiritual world.

I sincerely asked Krishna to make the former Borka His pure devotee and take him into the spiritual world. I even envied him, because I saw that I am in such a responsible service and have no right to desert from my service, if I have any ability to, to here such villains cross out of the list of villains and make them devotee of the Lord. And if I am a unique specialist in this and indispensable and very necessary, then it is unknown when I will return to Krishna into the spiritual world, and Borka has already gone there, that way and will soon return there.

I'm done with Borka. Asuric community literally shook: suddenly was suddenly struck out such a large asur, very powerful, who enjoyed great authority there, but he is not present, they do not grope him with their radar and do not see on their inner screens. He is not audible and not seen in their asuric mental chat. No sign of him. He simply does not exist, anywhere, in general. And some woman, a small one, declares that he will be born a man in Vrindavan in India after a short time and will return to the spiritual world after this incarnation. Well insolence! Who does she think she is?

51. Elimination of Bhishma, elder of asuras

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

After Borka came the turn of their so-called Bhishma, the great influential asur, their elder, patriarch who had information about all the asuras. He had levers of influence on each of asuras and connections with all of them. He knew everything about them. He knew who had any blessings, ability, curses, wishes, sins, whom how can you kill. I came to Bhishma in the summer of 2016, when the Oracle «Hot Delphine Dumpling» told me that I would be helped by some influential man, who could be asked for assistance in my question.

Then I thought about the words of the Oracle «Hot Delphine Dumpling» and concluded that the times I had said it, it means that somewhere there is such a person. And then I tuned in to him and saw him in front of me on my internal screen. I clung to his chest, remembering the words of Hot Delphine Dumpling that this person will help me, and began to cry on to him and to shed tears on his chest, complaining about my inconsolable share that I am alone and my Shri Ram is not with me. I cried and begged him to help me. He first called me a daughter and then put in front of me a dick. This dick stood in front of me, and Bhishma mentally expressed his desire. He kind of told me that nothing in this world happens on a freebie because you have to pay for everything. And he offered me this kind of payment. He wanted me to satisfy this dick, giving him a blowjob and having sex with him.

I then immediately retreated and left from there, and their Bhishma then decided that they must break this little bitch. He decided that they must put me on their asuric totalizator, to my arrogance was broken, and he authorized that action. And then, thanks to this, a lot of strength was drawn to breaking me on that asuric tote. The biggest aces of the asuras, the destroyers of female nature expressed their desire to participate and pulled up to this action, and many asuras decided to make as much money as possible on breaking such an obstinate bitch. And now, after I destroyed Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, it was Bhishma's turn to pay the bills.

Then I did not know anything about it. I did not know anything about the fact that asuras put me on their asuric totalizator. I did not know anything about the fact that Shri Ram stood up for me and even went to a deadly battle, not to give me to them. I did not know anything in General about the existence of the ill-fated asuric totalizator, the rat races, where the asuras were breaking many stronger people who did not succumb to their influence, in particular Shri Vishnupad, Harikesha Swami and many others, after the fall of whom there were significant consequences and the asuras were rejoicing, knowing that it was done by them, but these stupid people have no idea about anything.

I didn't know that Borka put me, as the lot on tote, on their asuric totalizator. I didn't know that the great powerful asur, who, calling me daughter and after putting a dick in front of me at my inner screen, sanctioned breaking of my female nature on asuric totalizator, but after I had done away with Borka, almost immediately the thought came to me that now it is necessary to destroy another criminal, otherwise the balance in the world will be broken. This discouraged me because I did not know about whom it was said, but then I remembered the Bhishma and I understood who should be destroyed next.

I remembered my appeal to him and his reaction and realized that Bhishma made an irreparable mistake, calling me a daughter, and then putting in front of me a dick for working off, because according to all the laws, and Universal, and on Earth, it is considered unacceptable. By calling me a daughter, he established a certain relationship. It's a relationship with me as with a daughter, in accordance with which he assumed the obligation to protect me as father protects his daughter. But, putting in front of me a dick, he made a fatal mistake.

And on the basis of this I brought charges against Bhishma and sent another dispatch to Universe Patrol, now about Bhishma. I relaxed again and thought that my job is to solve the crime and expose the criminal, but I was wrong again, because in my function was to and enforcement of the sentence. I'm an ordinary person, I live an ordinary life, and suddenly I find myself in a situation where I act as accuser of large Asuras, whom I do not know, but with whom I had some invisible interaction, and I brings charges against them the charge and even have to carry out the sentence.

Who am I? Well, it's definitely an illusion, maya, fantasies of a mind prone to self-aggrandizement. But I remembered how I came to that patriarch Bhishma for help, but he refused to help me and made an obscene offer to me. It occurred to me that, for some reason, if I asked someone to help me, he must help me. Why? I don't know. But I had a strong belief that this is so.

When Bhishma refused me, and in this form, I felt very sorry for him, but now I have sent a report in on him in Universe Patrol. After that, I had the persistent feeling that he is mine and I can do anything with him. I have become completely cold-blooded and aimed my attention to him, somewhere far away. He appeared before my inner sight.

At first, he seemed to me like some big inflated figure, and in all his chakras there were some Golden rivets, like plugs in a balloon. I looked at all those rivets, and rivets leaped out of all his chakras take turns, and he began to deflate-deflate-deflate... He was large and became deflated. I looked at him and said to him mentally: «You're mine». I mentally stood and thought: «He is mine, he is mine...»

Then I ended up inside him, at the bottom and let from the bottom up across his pipe a raging frantic fire, which burned everything inside him, and then I rose into his head, into the Sahasrara chakra. I tried to open his lotus in Sahasrara; there is something opened, but so small and puny that I decided to go below. I went down on his pipe down and reached Manipura, strong-willed chakra.

We have with him on Manipur there was a merger, and from his Manipura something went into me. All his life strength, energy, all his merits, all the information, dossiers on all asuras, all their files, all his wealth was pumped out of his Manipura and sucked into me like by a vacuum pump under great pressure, with pulsation and honking. I pulled everything from his Manipura and after connected on his Manipur his entire pipe with Universe Patrol.

I imagined that somewhere out there in space there was that same Universe Patrol, and I connected him to them. And from him, from his Manipura, a lot of something was pumped out and flowed for a very long time, from everywhere, from below, and from above. It was a big powerful stream. This substance was flowing under high pressure from all corners of his pipe and through his Manipura was going out and directing through this umbilical cord from his Manipura to that Universe Patrol. There, a lot of things were pumped out and pulsed for a very long time.

When his whole pipe became completely hollow, I went up into his head, into his Ajna chakra, into the third eye. We had joined up with each other through our Ajna chakras, through the third eye, and I from my Ajna chakra let beam in his Ajna chakra. It was a powerful golden beam of fire and this beam burned all his Ajna chakra, and then from his Ajna chakra into my Ajna chakra I pumped everything out of him by my big vacuum pump. There was a lot there; probably it was secret information about all the asuras. Such a powerful stream. When the flow from his Ajna chakra dried up, I thought that there was nothing more to do, a continuous boring, look absolutely nothing. Everything from him was pumped out completely.

It was all empty and burnt. His pipe looked like empty, black channel, completely uninteresting, and I decided to fill it with mantras. I went to the bottom of his pipe and the bottom began to pump into him the mantras, cleaning everything off him and ripping out all his desire. I have turned on Narayana Kavacham on my computer, was listening and imaging that the mantra fills his pipe as though it were a substance, like water, but thick enough. I listened to Narayana Kavacham in my headphones and was seeing how this mantra fills and fills whole pipe, gradually rising higher and higher. Narayana Kavacham filled Bhishma's tube completely. And because Narayana Kavacham eliminates the entire negative, Bhishma was completely purified of all negative and asuric.

Then I turned on in my headphones the Narasimha Maha Mantra: «ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham» — «I bow down to Lord Narasimha who is ferocious and heroic like Lord Vishnu. He is burning from every side. He is terrific, auspicious and the death of death personified». I began to listen to this mantra and fill the whole trumpet of that Bhishma with it. I listened to this mantra, sang it and imagined that it completely cleanses his entire pipe as such good sandpaper, from the bottom to the top.

And then I turned on the Narasimha Kavacham and again passed the whole Bhishma from the bottom to the top. He was a great asur, their elder, their patriarch, a think tank and coordinator, and we cleaned him by Narasimha Kavacham inside and out. I thought Narasimha Kavacham eradicates all the low-lying desires and I was pouring Narasimha Kavacham on the whole Bhishma, thinking that Nrisimhadev destroys all Bhishma's desires, entirely, because why would he need these desires? Who is he? He's mine. And I decided that I must to kill all his desires. And when I turned on the mantra Narasimha Kavacham inside of Bhishma, I was thinking that Nrisimhadev and Narasimha Kavacham were eradicating all his materialistic desires with the roots.

After that, I thought that after we cleaned up the whole Bhishma, I had to fill him with Hare Krishna mantra, and I turned on Srila Prabhupada's kirtan. I imagined Srila Prabhupada singing mantra inside and out of Bhishma. I thought that Srila Prabhupada himself is in the sound, in this kirtan. And I was filling that Bhishma with the kirtan of Srila Prabhupada. Periodically, I felt insecure, I thought who I am to do this. Can I really do this? But Prabhu Sasha, an older devotee who had been a devotee of Krishna and lived in Tallinn, was appearing in my mind, standing behind me and supporting me so that I could continue to do so. He reminded me that vaishnav lives in his sound, and this sound is the Holy name of Krishna, Krishna is in His Holy name, His Holy name is Krishna himself, Krishna is God, and He can do everything, and my work is simply to turned on the Srila Prabhupada's kirtan inside Bhishma, this is the most important thing.

I just turned on Srila Prabhupada's kirtan into there and imagined that kirtan sounds inside that Bhishma. And kirtan filled everything inside Bhishma. And then words came up in my mind: «Trust». I thought: who to trust? And I thought: it's Bhakti Tirtha Swami, I must to trust him, he is somewhere out there in those realms, he is a very powerful, and he said to me, «Trust». I somehow realized that Bhakti Tirtha Swami and a large team of some powerful devotees of Krishna are standing somewhere and waiting for me to trust them. They are somewhere in the at the subtle, fine-material sphere of being and help us, those who live here in the body. We are doing a common cause. I am doing a part of this cause here, living in a body, and they are doing their part of this cause somewhere, not in a physical body, but their work is very important. I have to do my part, and for that I have to trust them. They all there somewhere above stood, and in my mind heard the message from them: «Trust».

I went up to the top of Bhishma's pipe, to his poxy Sahasrara chakra, to the top of It, and stood there. That Bhishma had such a big gaping hole, a wide channel through down below. I looked there and turned on into there farewell kirtan of Bhakti Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham». I saw that Bhakti Tirtha Swami himself came with his team, I really felt, I saw him at the energy plane of existence and I connected him with that Bhishma, I acted as a kind of transparent environment between them.

Bhakti Tirtha Swami, through me, laid his hands on the pipe of that patriarch Bhishma at the very top and began to pour into his pipe mantras and all these spiritual energies. Then I was told: «You did your job, go rest», and I went to do my business. We have done away with great elder of asuras. All the information about all the asuras we pulled out from him into Universe Patrol, and began my Mahabharata, which was the main part of my gorgeous plan, which was made before my birth in this my body.

52. Eustace, Old Riga, farewell!

I destroyed the leader of the Moscow organization of asuras and their elder, patriarch, pulled out of him all the information about all asuras, and my next step was to punish and eliminate those who somehow were involved in their planned operation to break my female nature at their asuric totalizator, in the autumn of 2016. But Shri Ram did not give me to them, and they summoned him to battle, putting up against him a powerful adversary. They were sure that he would kill Shri Ram. And after eliminating Shri Ram they would have taken on me. Betting had already been made on their asuric sweepstakes. Their strongest destroyers of female nature were already eagerly waiting to begin to break me. But their effort was a fiasco. Shri Ram defeated the enemy, and they had to cancel the operation of breaking my female nature at their asuric totalizator.

And now a new stage has begun in our interaction with Shri Ram. I destroyed Borka, who was a leader of the Moscow asuric organization, who put me on the asuric totalizator. I destroyed Bhishma, asuras`s patriarch, who okayed it. And when we seized the dossier on all the asuras, I began methodically to destroy them, in turn. First I began to deal with those strongest destroyers of female nature (and to break me gathered the strongest destroyers of female nature) and those who did bet on me. And all of them began to appear before me on my internal screen.

First appeared in front of me some big asur, he wanted to overturn me. He thought he could handle me single-handedly, but I knocked him down to the floor, piled on top of him and swung at him with a big Vajra, some heavenly weapons. I jerked with all my might from below, where the male genitals were and tore his testicles out. Apparently, using his testicles, he wanted to influence me somehow at that asuric tote, and he paid for it. He lost that with the help of which he was going to attack me.

I thought we had all the files on all of them and they're all mine, and I looked at my internal screen again. There appeared another great asur. He was looks like the Balts, Estonian or a Finn, or Latvian. He was all such a downtown man, polished, aristocratic, fair-haired, blond. I looked at him, scanned him from the bottom to the top and saw that he had some powerful blessings at the level of Manipura. I thought he wouldn't need these blessings anymore because he was abusing them.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He looks so handsome, so well-mannered, so likeable and trustworthy, cultured, but actually he used those blessings to break women and put them on their knees in front of the asuras, so that they become their weak-willed toys and do everything they wanted from them. In fact, he was hoping to break me on that asuric totalizer using his blessings, and now I had every right to take his blessings out. All this I did not know then. I was furious that they do not allow me to reunite with my Shri Ram, and I destroyed them in that mood.

I turned on a powerful pump and pulled in all his blessings into myself. After some time, this fair-haired blonde man Eustace, as I called him, came to me, on my internal screen. He was very dissatisfied with the fact that I took away all his blessings from him, and he frightened me with reactions. He somehow mentally told me that I made an unforgivable mistake, that I had no right to do it, that I will greatly regret my deed. He was intimidating me but appeared a screenshot, which was said that he received his punishment on merit. Of course, because he wanted using these blessings to cause irreparable harm to my feminine nature. Somehow he forgot about it... but in vain... There does have to come a moment of truth, a moment of reckoning. It's payback time, Eustace!

I liked him so much, that Eustace. Such a cultural, well-mannered, so aristocratic, so courteous man, enveloping with his charm. I said about that in 25th series, and I even said I loved him. On the same day, this Eustace (I thought that after all, he looks more like the Old Riga: cool own house, he is aristocratic, all this exquisite) came to me on my internal screen and said in a rude tone: «And I do not love you». He came just to tell me that, in such a categorical form.

I first ignored his statement, tried to turn on the humility and smooth things out here instead of making it worse. I sat engaged in my business, but this phrase spun and spun in my mind. The image of Eustace, of such a sleek man, such posh, aristocratic and oftentimes witty, an well-educated man, such a well-groomed man, did not fit in with these rude words, spoken in a rude, contemptuous tone, as the bullies and the dregs of society say: «And I do not love you». I really liked him, and I didn't want to hurt him. I just yanked out the blessings off him, that's all. He was so nice and likable that I did not want to do anything with him, but anyway, every Goliath has his own David. There is a sock for every old slipper. And in the case of Eustace there was an effective solution that he came to me to say that he does not love me.

Krishna wanted to remove this Eustace, this Old Riga, destroy him, and He caused me to this Eustace such liking and favor that I even expressed it aloud, and then Krishna forced this Eustace to tell me these words and in such a dismissive, deliberately rude tone, not in line with his image. These words sounded all day in my head and never let me go. And in the end, I had a big annoyance at Eustace; this annoyance was growing by leaps and bounds and turned into an offense.

And I thought, «You're wrong, Old Riga. Everyone loves me. I am the impersonated love for God, Vinodavani. If you don't like me, then keep silent like a gentleman. I'm a woman, and you're such a well-mannered, cultured man. You could be with a lady more courteous, but why you are so rude? How could you, such a courteous gentleman, say to a lady "And I don't love you"?» And when my indignation at his behavior peaked, when rage began to rise to him, on my desktop there was a screenshot where Krishna as though said: «Pay attention to this! He framed himself. He slipped up. On this we catch him. Here for what it is necessary to be hooked».

I immediately understood what Krishna wanted to say, and I deliberately began to upsetting myself. I remembered a lot of bad things to get upset to the maximum. I did it well, I brought my outrage at his behavior to heaven. I did my best to piss myself off, to told, «Now we go rob the king!» and I went to loot him. I looked at my internal screen. He stood in front of me, I looked at him and saw in his eyes some black little eyes, terrible, nasty-nasty, and there are some terrible black insects were swarming. And suddenly I had tongue, long and flexible as at an anteater. I imagined that I am such an anteater, who loves to eat these black ants, and they are so delicious, and I began to thrust my long tongue into his empty eye sockets and eat these insects. I ate them all, it was so delicious...

I had thoughts that Eustace is big asur and his energy is black negative energy and as I can absorb everything this into myself, but the answer came to me that everything at me must be provided for, and I was licking off him those quickly running nimble ants and ate them all. In the place of his eyes were large holes, gaped empty clean eye-sockets, and I began to suck through those empty sockets all that he had. I remembered how Krishna with the milk of witch Putana had sucked her life air, and I began to suck from his empty eye sockets his whole vital air, the whole of his vitality.

I did a few approaches, sucking out all life air from him, and then I look: he became like a rag. I took him as a rag and began to squeeze out as squeeze water from the washed linen. And I squeezed him dry like linen in the washer. Then I remembered how Bhimasena tore Jarasandha in two halves and scattered these pieces in different parties, opposite to their original position. And I took this Eustace little rag by the feet similarly, tore him in half, and threw his halves in different directions. Old Riga we closed completely.

53. Red eye, black tentacles and the rest

After that, I remembered about the asur with the red eye, about whom Aisha talked a lot before the battle on Govardhana Puja. And I thought, «He's the next one I'll deal with». I tuned in to this asur with that red eye, immediately saw him there: big red eye, in the center of the forehead. I turned on a powerful gas burner, like in a welding machine, and directed the jet into his red eye and burned a large cavity in this red eye. It didn't burn out completely, I leaving quite a lot on the edges. I wanted to extend this pleasure. It was red outside, and inside there was a black scorched hole into which I throw in something like arsenic, corrosive these red eyes.

Then I opened his skull, over that red eye, threw in there handful of metal shavings in there, and mixed it with his brains. Then I began to mix by a big spoon in there, inside his head, like soup, and everything mixed up. And the effect of that is, his brains will constantly rust because there is wet, and metal shavings rust at high humidity. And it is impossible to dry; his brains will rust all the time. His brains will always work with malfunctions, and he will think with distortions and make wrong decisions, and if he thinks that this is the wrong decision and will do the opposite, it will be even worse.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Thus I took revenge on him for going up against my Shri Ram, intending to kill him and clear the way for those destroyers of female nature who were already looking forward to moment when they will put me on my knees in front of them on their asuric totalizator.

Then another great asur stood in front of me. He also had a direct bearing to the breaking of my female nature on their asuric totalizator. He was such a big, tall, powerful asur, and he was surrounded by powerful asuras-wolfhounds, his bodyguards. He was completely sure that one doesn't get to him, including me, as he hired most powerful wolfhounds, through whom no one could pass. He was standing somewhere in front of me, and his bodyguards were standing between me and him. He was hiding behind them and looking out of there. I looked at him, casually waved my hand, and immediately I found myself in front of him, and all his bodyguards were behind my back. He was tall, all black.

I turned into a huge snake and wrapped by my rings around him. I suddenly have a large prehensile claw, and I hooked up his cranium by this claw and made a big hole there and began to pressure to his whole body by my snake rings, squeezing from the bottom up from him everything that was inside him. And from that hole in the top of his head began to creep out nasty green viscous mass and I squeezed out of him everything.

And then I stood over them as a huge cobra. I was rocking from side to side over them and sang Hare Krishna mantra, sang, and then went to do my business. A few days later, I came to him again when I was singing bhajan and feeling a great all-embracing love. I was embracing him, this asur, from whom I squeezed everything, being a huge snake, and he turned into a chrysalis, from which will hatch after a beautiful butterfly.

And there among them all I saw a great team of asuras, who were pressing on my Fedka, who is a rag, a God's gift. And they gave him an ultimatum to stop doing his case and to stop to ensure our unity with Shri Ram and stabilization of my more or less stable state. They threatened him with death. I attacked them all and threatened them that Fedka is my and I will kill anyone for him, that no one piece will remain, in order to they feared even look in his direction. Someone under my hot hand there got, and my threats had an effect.

And then I saw another one asur who wanted to put me on my knees and destroy my female nature on that asuric totalizator. He stood in front of me, and I saw the big black terrible tentacles, moving like at Gorgon Medusa, at the level of his Svadhisthana chakra. I thought: what to do with these tentacles? I tried several tentacles to pull out, but they immediately were growing back again. Then I pulled out of his Muladhara, at the very bottom, where is the tailbone, some cork, like from the bathroom, and there came a stream of some kind of Stardust, blue-silver, and I took all this flow into myself.

And then I remembered book of Snegov «People as gods», in which Mary was raising microorganisms that feed on different materials, such as nickel, iron, gold, mercury. These microorganisms processes all this into an organic substance, into the earth, into the air, into viable organisms. Mary was scattering these microorganisms over the planets, unfit for life, and the planets were becoming habitable. And I thought that it is necessary to throw such microorganisms into his terrible black self-healing tentacles. It is necessary to instill in him such microorganisms that feed on just such terrible tentacles. And I did. I poured many such microorganisms into his tentacles like I put pepper powder in soup. I looked: this pepper works, transforms everything, and I went on.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

But after a while I thought that these tentacles in his Svadhithana do something terrible with women, because Svadhithana is chakra of inter-sexual relations. Yes, tentacles act at the energy plane of existence, but what do they do with our ordinary women? I was scared, and I decided that I had to do something with him cardinally right now and not wait for his tentacles to transform into normal body tissue, because while this is happening, how many more abominations he can do by these tentacles. Pulling out these tentacles is impossible, as new tentacles immediately grow.

I thought it would be good to burn those scary tentacles. I took a large iron, heavy, massive, with coals inside, hot and pressed it to these tentacles. These tentacles and everything there burned down and even baked. Microorganisms there continued to sit and to convert everything to normal body tissue. A few days later I looked there again, some tentacles tried to break through, germinate.

Then I took my big gas burner and let into his Svadhithana chakra not fire, but cold minus 1000 degree Celsius, and there everything froze, turned into ice, and then crumbled into small icy pieces and fell down, and I was singing there Hare Krishna mantra, normal pink body tissue began to grow there. Thus, I had done away with another one asur who came to that asuric totalizer to break my feminine nature.

There was another one asur, he was all glowing crimson-ruby glow. It was evident that he was dangerous for people. But I turned into a big snake, kissed him in the face, then in the head, and after all kissed him, just licked him whole with my snake tongue. I look: there is no glow, it has disappeared somewhere, I licked all this glow from him. Without a glow he became so pretty, so sweet. I really liked him right away. I imagined him a pretty little boy and began to stroke his head like a little boy, and say: «What you're pretty, small, small». I look: and he began to decrease in growth, began to become less and less. I see: he's already decreased very much and became so small that he is almost invisible, he became very tiny boy on the floor, and there you can see his tiny head. I took the gold nail-head and began to drive this tiny boy into the very floor by nail-head like by a hammer, into the very floor and even below the floor.

When I had done away with them, my Shri Ram suddenly stood in front of me on my inner screen in the same way. I was quite clearly aware that it was him and that he was just like all of them. And my scanner almost turned on, so that I could find out what he has there is such a malicious. But I was very afraid that then I will not be able to stop and will bring the case to the bitter end and him simply will not.

And I recoiled from him. But he didn't go away; he was before my inner gaze a few days. I realized that I am dangerous for him and I have no guarantee that this function of the destruction of the asuras will not turn on by itself. Krishna, seeing these my sad thoughts, showed a screenshot of the «Mahabharata» on the desktop of my computer with the words «Trust me, sakhi, friend». Only this remained for me. When I was seeing Shri Ram standing in front of me on my internal screen waiting to be scanned by my scanner, I immediately switched my attention to this screenshot of Krishna and it was helping me to restrain myself.

Some time has passed since my Mahabharata started and I destroyed many of the asuras, those who were going to break my feminine nature and raise a more money when I was put on their asuric totalizer. I suddenly learned about myself that I am an inspector of the Universe Patrol that might just by using imagination to destroy the asuras, and very, very powerful asuras. And I learned that I am dangerous to my eternal husband, Shri Ram, who had lived many lives as an asura. He has an asuric nature, and my radar and scanner and the function of their destruction are automatically turned on asuric nature. And even Shri Ram was standing in front of me on my inner screen for many days, waiting for me to turn on, but every time I remembered the words of Krishna from the screenshot of Mahabharata «Trust me, sakhi, friend» and did not approach him there. After a while, it was over.

54. My complaint about the asur who recruited Ram

And then one day, one really beautiful and wonderful day I went to dig in my front garden. At the same time, as usual, I listened to the songs on my phone with headphones. I was loosening the ground, weeding the flowers and listening to songs, and when it came to one song from my playlist, I began to come to different thoughts about me and my life. It was a composition of Yaroslav Klimanov from the cycle about Shtirlitz «The answer of center to Shtirlitz».

Don't look down on people.

Their appearance is only a disguise.

After all, everyone who went into Special Forces,

All have special mission and special training.

If someone offers you a cup of tea,

Cleverly scattering courtesy to you,

Be careful, be alert:

Every moment there is recruitment.

Someone is feeding us the crumbs from the hands,

But don't act like a stupid bird.

We will remain servants of servants.

The whole question is at whom we feed from.

Accepting, always give back

And don't think you're insured,

Otherwise, you will understand

That you're in debt, you're already hooked.

Being pure is tedious work.

To the heart stick the money, the fame.

We are always carefully grazed

Give your soul only to God.

Do not be seduced by good deeds,

Otherwise, you will understand

That you're already recruited, by others.

Need to get in touch regularly,

Remembering Krishna is for the good of all people,

And need to serve without fear.

Let you not leave courage.

This burden is not easy:

Every day you are on the sights of fate.

You yourself chose Special Forces,

By agreeing to serve in this your body.

I listened to these words, and so many thoughts were swapping through my mind...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Don't look down on people.
Their appearance is only a disguise.
After all, everyone who went into Special Forces,
All have special mission and special training.

And I was thinking I have a special mission and special training. I was thinking that my appearance, my behavior is just pieces of the overall mosaic. Why do we need such an appearance, such a life, nobody knows. Maybe this is to mislead the one who should get into this snare? Maybe everything in our life is necessary for us to fulfill some goal, which we do not even guess. And I was thinking: because many live in such a disguise, not even knowing that their path is a part of some general special task and that they have special training.

If someone offers you a cup of tea,
Cleverly scattering courtesy to you,
Be careful, be alert:
Every moment there is recruitment.

And I was remembering how Shri Ram in summer 2016 deceit was luring me to their initiation, saying that he wanted to be with me, but needed this initiation, without which I would not be able to endure his energy. But in fact, he wanted to install on to me their asuric programs, so I became some kind of monster in the human body. As in the TV series «Sita and Rama» asuras wanted to give Sita an asuric potion. They expected that when Sita drank this potion, she would become the same as them, the asuras.

But instead of Sita that potion drank crocodile and turned into horrible insane Godzilla, who was spewing fire and killing everyone left and right. And Shri Ram was so deftly singing to me about his love and his dream to reunite with me, although then he had another woman in real life, much better than me. He refused me and already wanted to marry that good woman. He gave me for fun to asuras from his asuric organization, deceiving me that we are husband and wife and that he really misses me...

Someone is feeding us the crumbs from the hands,
But don't act like a stupid bird.
We will remain servants of servants.
The whole question is at whom we feed from.

And I was thinking that, as we all are mistaken, thinking that what we think about is our thoughts. But asuras can manipulate of consciousness, completely imperceptibly to us, when you think that what you think it is your thoughts, that you are such. But in fact, they just drove these thoughts into your mind, threw it into your thinking system, in order to you accept these thoughts, in order to you thought it is you think. But alas. These thoughts that revolve in your mind may not be yours. You're just a small screw who imagines it is unclear what.

Accepting, always give back
And don't think you're insured,
Otherwise, you will understand
That you're in debt, you're already hooked.

And I was thinking that through our usual speech, we gives someone the necessary them information in an allegorical language. Of us it is possible to extract our consent to anything what we will not hear, but what we will be asked about at the mental level. And we, answering someone to trivial questions, will lay out allegorically everything about ourselves, the whole story. We can give our consent to anything, just by picking up a business card, a piece of paper with a phone, a piece with necessary or unnecessary information, or approving someone's request to add them to you as a friend in social networks. We do not even know about this plan of existence, but it's all there.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Being pure is tedious work.
To the heart stick the money, the fame.

And I thought that we see only the outside of what's going on, but what's really going on, we can't see. We can poke at someone with a finger, thinking that he is fallen, but he, maybe, carries out a special task because he has special training and because of his disguise depends, how you, who are about nothing guesses, who are sleeping, will live and go the way chosen by you.

Give your soul only to God.
Do not be seduced by good deeds,
Otherwise, you will understand
That you're already recruited, by others.

And I thought we couldn't see anything from our little angle here. And we don't really know who works for whom. Who are we really? And in order not to be on anyone's side, it is necessary to surrender to God every moment, because otherwise there is no hope, because there are such layers of interaction on which everything happens, but which are inaccessible to us. And you don't have to choose sides. We must get out of the material world into the spiritual world, permanently, to escape from here. Do not be seduced by good deeds.

Need to get in touch regularly,
Remembering Krishna is for the good of all people,
And need to serve without fear.
Let you not leave courage.

And I was thinking about the time when Shri Ram activated the force methods at me, how he wanted to throw me to a lower level of consciousness so that I become not a woman, not a person, but just a female, who wants only sex. It's possible. This happens all the time. We just don't know that. And if this happened to someone, then this person doesn't care about anything at all, since he cannot do anything about his condition and he is like a straw in a mad whirlpool. And I was remembering about how I boiled with rage and I thought I am a woman and I have the right to defend my feminine dignity. And I am a mother, and I have the right to protect my motherhood and the safety and well-being of my children, their right to live with their mother, who is protected and can give them her time and give them her love.

And I remembered how I threw my complaint to the overlords of Moriya somewhere in the Universe. Where did I send the complaint, to which authority? But then I thought there was someone in the Universe who was supposed to protect people like me. And me helped then. And then the signs of the Universe came to me that I had to chant the mantra Hare Krishna. I began to chant Hare Krishna, and it was really helping me, when I was under such strong pressure of asuras. And even when I began to chant Hare Krishna for Shri Ram, someone from his companions-asuras threatened me for it death. Well this mantra is powerful! Because only because of one circle of Hare Krishna mantra for Shri Ram his asuras have gathered a large the meeting at which they were deciding how to neutralize me, to force me to refuse to chant the mantra for him. And I thought: you need to get in touch regularly. Need to chant Hare Krishna mantra. This mantra is strong, it's efficient. Even if we do not understand it, and do not feel it, and do not see those spheres with our material eyes.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

This burden is not easy:
Every day you are on the sights of fate.
You yourself chose Special Forces,
By agreeing to serve in this your body.

And I thought: I was living so many years an ordinary life, I wanted some happiness and even now I want happiness, but it turned out that I was born many times just to kill. I was born many times just to frame myself, cause fire on myself, and then coolly and ruthlessly destroy the one who fell for my provocation in the form of my whole life. Although I thought I was just living. But I've had so many lives in which I was born, just to kill. I was killing the strongest asuras, then some creepy creatures in some worlds. Who am I? Who are we? And how many test drives were conducted, when I was provoking someone who, seeing how I live and who I am, succumbed to temptation and abused my trust? I thought that I was an ordinary woman, and I turned out to be a professional provocateur, a ruthless killer of criminals who violated the universal laws. How many of them have I exposed? How many of them, succumbing to my provocation, went according to the worst scenario, chose the wrong path and was destroyed by me? Don't trust your eyes. Appearance is just a disguise.

And when I listened to these words and these thoughts raced through my mind, I thought about these words that every moment there is recruitment. And I thought that there was a beginning of this chain somewhere, when my Shri Ram became asur, that there was someone who was the cause of Shri Ram's conversion to asuras. I thought: my Ram was converted to asuras, he was recruited. And there was someone who recruited him. And because of these words of Yaroslav Klimanov in the song «The answer of center to Shtirlitz» I formed a clear feeling and confidence that many, many lives ago someone had tricked my Ram, deftly scattering in front of him courtesy.

This thought turned out to be so heavy that it spoiled my mood a lot. I thought that I had already destroyed so many asuras, but this asur went unpunished, that he somewhere thrives and lives, but I'm alone. When he made my husband asura, he did not think then how I would live without him, without my eternal husband. And I thought it was unfair that I've been alone for so many lives, I've been a woman without protection. I thought that this asur had no right to do it without weighing the pros and cons and not taking my interests into account.

Yes, I should be humble and understand that all these troubles and misfortunes are karma, the consequences of our own actions, but when I was finishing with Balt Eustace Old Riga, Krishna showed me in the screenshot that I should show my humility in a very different way. I must humbly to intensifying, deepening, expanding my sense of offense, deprivation, sense of injustice. I must humbly to spinning my grievances, bringing it to the peak and then destroying the one who needs to be destroyed. And I began to spread my resentment at that asur, who was at the very beginning of that chain of events with the conversion of my eternal husband, Shri Ram, to the asur. I began to spread my resentment to the one who, so to speak, recruited him.

I thought that he was left not covered, that we don't have a file on him, but he was in the very beginning and it is unlikely that he acted honestly. Most likely, he used trick and deception. Maybe he was keeping silent about something, was distorting the facts to seduce my Ram to such a step, because of which I was alone, and then even began to be born in the asuric worlds and kill the strongest asuras, and after that began to kill the rest of the creatures in the different worlds, became such a weapons, blow that no one can stand.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I thought I needed to get my act together right now. I need intentionally to remember and represent the bad that could be then and what could happen to me as a result of this. I need intentionally to raise from my memory the bad thing that happened to me because of the recruiter recruited my eternal husband in some distant past life. I need to plunge myself into a state of complete inconsolability and hopelessness, so that the complaint against the recruiter for all the bad things that happened to me came out of me. I thought that I have to do all this so that this complaint against the recruiter with the demand of punishes him got out of me. I began to imagine that in those special operations as a powerful and irresistible weapon of Chandrahas I was with many men during many lives and had sex with them. I began to imagine that I was putting myself on the line, that they basely were abusing my trust, that they were breaking my heart. And in these thoughts I reached the condition, when out me broke out that complaint and set off somewhere in the vast space, to the Universe Patrol.

I just squeezed all my thoughts into one bloc and threw it into that space. And after a very short time to me came from there the answer as an easy thought, as a breath of wind: «What do you want?» I thought: really, what do I want? I want to punish him because he did not take into account my interests, he did not think that we with Shri Ram are an eternal couple and we can not be separated, and what will happen to me after all this...

And I told them, the Universe Patrol, «I have a complaint against the recruiter. I am alone. No one took my interests into account. I demand his punishment». There some time there was a discussion on my complaint, and I get an answer again: «But consent was voluntary, he told „Yes“. He said so himself». And I say: «But my interests no one took into account, why no one thought, that with me will? And what if that recruiter then allowed deception? Maybe he distorted the facts, made some kind of half-truth? Maybe did he hold back? But what if he brought an illusion on Shri Ram, a little or even a lot suppressed his mind? But if he pulled out of him the consent, as the asuras like to do it, asking him the usual everyday questions, but in his mind holding his main question about recruiting and continuing and continuing to ask different everyday questions with the main question in his mind, in any case, pulling him out „yes“... If anything was dishonest, I demand that the recruiter be punished, because no one thought, what will happen to me».

55. Exposing recruiter

I said that to them and went about my business. It took some time, suddenly I see: on my inner screen he appeared, the very asur, who recruited my husband many, many, many lives ago. I felt very clearly that it was him. And he stood there in front of me, like all of them that they were giving me to carry out the sentence. He was so lanky, reminded me of my classmate Valery. He was as tall and as self-confident.

But this time he was not like that, and I got myself wound up not enough. Of course, I tried very hard to think how badly they did to me and how I felt bad as a result of this, but this was not enough to get me to start doing something with this recruiter. I sat down to chant a mantra, four circles, and I hear my Shri Ram speaking to me mentally, that is not in a voice, but as if by the think: «He will not go anywhere from you. If not today, then tomorrow or the day after you will have done away with him. He's yours». I relaxed, it was gone. And suddenly the asuric extermination program became active at me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I looked at him, at this lanky recruiter, calmly and coolly like at a piece of wood, and performed him a craniotomy. I took there on my inner screen some saw and sawed off the top of his skull. Out other asuras I was pulling something for a long time, but from his open skull everything came instantly, everything of him instantly turned out to be at me. I went inside him and there I began to chant the Hare Krishna mantra. There was such good acoustics, as if you stand in a big metal pipe and on it the loud echo, such classy reverse is carried. And the whole his pipe was purple.

And I was standing in his purple trumpet, chanting the Hare Krishna mantra and listening to the sounds of the mantra which were spreading throughout his trumpet. I was chanting the mantra inside him for a while, and then suddenly put him all wholly inside of me, I kind of sucked him all in, and he was standing right inside of me, I was seeing him standing in the center of me. I was chanting the mantra aloud, sitting at home on my couch, and he was standing still inside me on the mental plane and imbued with these sounds of the mantra.

And so it was for a long time, and then suddenly at some stage in front of my inner gaze some woman appeared and very asked not to kill him, they say, she is his woman and will been so miserable without him... Her appeal to me impressed me greatly, and I braked hard, let him out of myself and stopped doing something with him, just watching him standing in front of me on my inner screen.

And then suddenly my Shri Ram appeared. I saw him clearly on my inner screen. My Shri Ram was at the bottom, right under that fellow that just stood still and stood in front of me and I didn't do anything with him, just was chanting my four circles of mantra. And suddenly Shri Ram let a beam out himself into that fellow, a crimson-coral-cherry beam, a very beautiful beam, it's my favorite color. And this beam went into the recruiter from bottom. The beam passed through him to the Svadhithana chakra, refracted in it and went into me, into center of me. This ray, which came out of Shri Ram, which passed through the recruiter and entered into me, went that way for a long time.

Then I thought enough is enough, Shri Ram himself has to done away with this recruiter, and I went to do my business. Of course, I myself could have done away with that recruiter, but suddenly there was a woman who slowed me down, because of what my Shri Ram appeared there and took part in all this. And it happened for a reason. That woman appeared and I felt sorry for her in order to I myself did not done recruiter and in order to Shri Ram participated in all this, since that recruiter cheated Shri Ram once very, very many lives ago and separated us, although we are an eternal couple.

Shri Ram, of course, immediately figured out that this woman had come to manipulate me to spare that fellow and let him live, and Shri Ram came and let his crimson-coral-cherry beautiful beam into him. But I showed this recruiter to the asuras, pulled out everything he had from him, and imbued him with the Hare Krishna mantra, and Shri Ram did something with him with his beam. And the next step in my plan was to discover how my Shri Ram was recruited by him and was turned into asuras, and so that this step is successful this woman came for and I stopped.

After I was given this asur, who many lives ago recruited my eternal husband Shri Ram in asuras and whom I did not bring to his final destruction, I was remembering for a long time the image of this recruiter standing then on my inner screen. He reminded me so much of one of my classmates, Valery, the same lanky, even stood in the same pose. And after that, my Shri Ram looked the life files of my life, looked at all the events in which Valery was, and threw me the idea to tell on the basis of all those stories about this recruiter.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I thought that, most likely, in this life I had such a classmate just to act as a projection of the recruiter, so that I could show the asuras on the example of history of my classmate the recruiter's atrocities and at the same time rehabilitate another asur. And I began to remember everything about him. I thought that the situations with this classmate were a projection of the time when Shri Ram and I were still together, when he was still an ordinary person, and not an asur. I thought that all of this should definitely be reported to the current asuras, since those events, as I understood, were aimed at harming not only us, little people, but also them, the asuras.

In particular, I remembered that my classmate Valery had a crush on me and didn't let anybody near me. I remembered how one day after school disco another classmate of mine, modest good boy Sasha, accompanied me to my house, and the next day Valery right in front of everyone, before my eyes threw Sasha on the floor and was beating him his feet in the face. He beat him brutally. It is clear that Sasha didn't hit on me once. Like the others. I didn't let Valera near me. He was known bully and was fucking in school years a lot of Chicks in the city. I was not on his list of girls he fucked. And I decided that this fact and Valery's existence in my life was not without reason.

And I told about it in the next, 40th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». In it, I deliberately stated those memories long and amply, knowing that the asuras can read between the lines, so to speak, that my words contain encrypted information that they easily and simply extract from the General flow of words. In the following, the 41st series I made my own assumptions about what I voiced in the 40th series.

In particular, I said that since my classmate Valery is a projection of the asur-recruiter, the asur-recruiter in that far past life, when he recruited my Shri Ram and made him asur, was be in love with me and wanted to have sex with me. But I had my husband, my Ram, and this was a serious obstacle for the recruiter. And then this asur-recruiter decided to have me by breaking our pair, tearing my Ram away from me. I learned about this by projecting my classmate's attitude towards me to the events of that distant past life. Because my classmate liked me a lot and wanted me and he was making many attempts to master me.

In the 41st series I talked about my assumptions, knowing that the asuras at their internal screens are watching my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" because I have destroyed many of them and now they are watching my novel, waiting about which of them I will say interesting or whom of them I will destroy. And I continued to broadcast in the 40th series, about Valery was beating Sasha at the face on the break. And then I assumed that the asur-recruiter was beating at the face, that is, he beat his dominus, his master. He beat him on recess with his feet.

Face after all this means the first face, the first person. The first person is the foremost, whom you must obey, whose orders you must obey and to whom you must serve. But Sasha was beaten on the face. That is, the asur-recruiter beat his master. According to the code of honor, he had no right to even think in the direction of harming his master, but he beat him, because Valery beat in the face, but face means the first face, the first person. And this alone is an inexcusable crime among the asuras: disobeying his master and even actions directed against him, causing him harm.

And moreover, Valery threw that Sasha on the floor. It means that the recruiter in that life threw his master on the floor, that is, because of recruiter's actions his master was discredited and deprived of his greatness, his position and fell from first-person position. And he fell into the lowest position, because the ceiling is located upstairs in the house, and the floor is located below. And because Valery beat that Sasha on the break, I realized that the recruiter in that far past life took advantage of the situation when his master, whom he was to serve, rested, reloaded and was on a «recess». This recruiter in that far past life took advantage of the situation when his master was vulnerable and when his subordinates were supposed to provide and protect peace and safety of their master.

But because the asur had access to that first person during such a reboot-recess, I suggested that the first person was very trusted in that asur, allowing him to be near himself during that reboot-recess. Because whom do you let in so close when you're in a vulnerable position, resting, when you have some kind of change? Usually, people allow to be close to themselves at such moments to someone to whom they unconditionally trust. But that asur, to whom that first person in that far past life trusted so much that he literally gave his life into his hands, took advantage of that situation to bring that first person to the floor, to the very bottom of their asuric hierarchy.

And the fact that Valery beat Sasha in the face with his feet, means that recruiter took advantage of other subordinates of that great asur, who was then the first person. Legs serve the person, legs are below the person and carry the person on themselves. And Valery beat the face by feet. From this I concluded that one asur in that far past life advantaged of the trust of his dominus, his master and framed him, using other servants subordinate. Apparently, the situation was arranged in such a way that everything looked as if others, legs, subordinates of that first person discovered the fall of that first person to the floor.

In short, the description of this case, I revealed the vile unforgivable behavior of the servants for the asuras and rehabilitated someone of them. I told that someone of them was the first person but lost his position because of the malicious actions of the asur, who was close to the first person, as he enjoyed great confidence. But that wasn't enough for me. I also told that after school my classmate Valery fought under the contract as the mercenary in battle zones and after that went to work in police. And I saw as once for New year he directly under a Christmas tree on the main square of our city operated by the police bludgeon, beating people walking there, although violation of public order there was not observed, but Valery was waving there the bludgeon, simply because it was pleasant to him.

In these episodes I said to asuras about that recruiter that he is dishonest and now. My classmate was a contract soldier, that is, a mercenary, and this can be projected applied to a recruiter as the fact that recruiter handed over his own, for money, acted like a pest, causing damage to his current masters, because a mercenary is the one who does something for the money. To whom could a recruiter do services for money? He could sell secrets to enemy's hand. He could betray his comrades for money. And in the episode with Christmas tree I told to the asuras that this asur-recruiter uses in his the work unscrupulous methods, using his official position to satisfy his sadistic tendencies.

I also explained why this asur did this to his dominus, to his master. He did this because his dominus, his master helped me get to my home, provided me safety. Apparently when Shri Ram gave consent to his conversion to the asuras, recruiter did a lot of bad things to me when he was trying to corner me and trample me, but his master somehow gave me protection and provided me with security as a knight. This noble deed pissed recruiter off, it just put him over the edge, and he decided to take revenge on him. And therefore recruiter abused trust of his master, when he was in a vulnerable position and when he entrusted his life to his close servant, who was this recruiter.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

All this I told to asuras, telling about my classmate Valery, because when this asur was standing on my internal screen, he was just exactly the same as Valery. But nothing in our life is just like that. And still in Moscow Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, when we had invisible interaction, showed in conversations through ordinary people, how you can project the events of your life to very different events, learning thus different secrets about this and benefiting from it.

I ratted the recruiter to the asuras and sentenced him. He is traitor. He had betrayed their own. He was working for the enemy. He beat his master when his master was in a vulnerable position. His master entrusted his life to him, giving him such high trust, but he used that trust to overthrow his master, and even arranged for this «fall» to be revealed by other subordinates of this master, so no one would think that he could be involved there, that he was the culprit.

56. Sentencing to recruiter

The sentence that I gave him, I submitted to the asuras, showing in the 41st series a screenshot from the book «The Genome» by Sergei Lukyanenko, where there was the sentencing to energetic-spec Paul Lurie, who was pretending to be their own, but actually was carrying out terrorist operations and was framing other, their own. On the basis of the judgment in the «The Genome» I issued a verdict to the recruiter.

I said that he had committed an irreparable for asuras crime, under particularly aggravating circumstances, that he allowed the sadism unsanctioned by victim, that he was a traitor to the state. I said that he violated all their statutes, he went against his dominus, against his master, and he went against his crew. I said that he committed the most terrible for them crime. He caused evil to his «passenger», to whom he had to serve. He did not respect their own «countrymen and comrades» and use them as cannon fodder. He made them make the cause of the fall of their master.

And in the 41st series I voiced my decision regarding punishment of that recruiter. I did this, using the book of Sergei Lukyanenko «The Genome». I told to asuras that punishment of recruiter would be follows: his atrocities had exceeded all limits; his consciousness would be reversed and reduced to zero. He will die as a person and his body will be handed over to the asuras to collective shame and contempt. I told asuras that they had to carry out the sentence themselves, but if they did not do it, I would do it, but I hope that they would do it.

When I almost have done away with this recruiter and suddenly on my inner screen there was a woman who stopped me, my Shri Ram appeared with his beautiful beam and pierced by it to the recruiter. I came out of there, and I had no mood to go back there and to see it through to the very end, because before my inner gaze was standing that woman and I was feeling sorry for her.

But after that I remembered my classmate Valery, he did not have his woman, he always led a hectic life, was a very promiscuous man. He was trampling all who was yielding to him, and all his life he was like that. He always had many different women, but never had one, his own woman. And from that I concluded that this woman was not his wife and not his woman, because he just does not have his woman. And I realized that it was manipulating me to cheat me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And then I recorded the 41st series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» and demanded that the asuras enforce the sentence imposed on recruiter. I told them it was their case, because recruiter did a lot of things, which under laws of asuras was unforgivable and required cruel punishment. And I didn't want to have recruiter's blood on my hands. I was disgusted by him. Even looking in his direction was disgusting to me.

And I told asuras in the 41st series that if they did not destroy that recruiter, then I would do it, but not myself, but with the help of our with Shri Ram son. When we with Shri Ram had just started such an interaction, so to speak, at a distance, non-contact, we had a period when, through the chic long-term completely unreal orgasms without the personal physical presence of anyone nearby, two of our children were conceived: a boy and a girl. And then I told Shri Ram that the boy would inherit all his qualities and abilities and would be a great manipulator of consciousness and a real lion, a very big asur, even, we can say, a great one.

And according to my calculations, this boy was already supposed to be born somewhere, because Shri Ram cut these kids out of me two weeks after the conception. And then it would be logical to sew them into some woman, who then would have normal sex with an ordinary normal man. They would have made the usual normal fertilization, and not the energy fertilization, as a result of which these asuric children were conceived. And after the normal fertilization, these asuric children would receive his physical shell and start to grow as we all. And I was sure that the boy was definitely sewn into someone, because the boy had an asuric nature and was very powerful asur. And by all accounts, he was born somewhere.

And I said to the asuras in the 41st series that if they do not to carry out the sentence, I will say our son, and he will have done away with the recruiter. I told asuras that I and Shri Ram conceived two children. I didn't give birth to them, because Shri Ram got these children out of me when they hadn't yet hatched, but were already conceived and was in an unmanifested energy state in my ovaries. Some other woman gave birth to our children. Shri Ram sewed them into some other woman, and she carried them in her uterus for nine months of pregnancy, and then gave birth in the usual way. We with Shri Ram conceived a boy and a girl. I told asuras that even if our son are still very young, still lying in diapers and sucking breast milk, he is still very powerful asur and can do a lot. And I'll just think about him, mentally attuned to him, tell him, and he will have done away with the recruiter right away. How? I don't know. Maybe he will take in his mouth toy and will began to slobber it and tear apart, and during these his actions with the toy will occur similar with recruiter, or somehow simpler, as the asuras can do that.

I told the asuras that the recruiter is still going to die, but who will have done away with him, it's a matter of honor, since all asuric laws they were to punish him, and cruel. The asuras should have cruelly punished the recruiter, as edification and warning to others so it never occurred to look in the direction of committing the atrocities that have been made by the recruiter. And I told them exactly how they should carry out the sentence. I told them the stories about magic flowers-mirrors from the cartoon «The Mystery of the Third Planet».

On this planet grew unusual flowers. These flowers on their surface on a certain mirror layer were imprinting everything that was in a field of their vision. These layers grew one on another, recording the events that took place then. And when the flower was plucked, those layers would evaporate in turn, and everything that was captured on them would be played back, like in a video, in reverse chronological order: first what is newer, and then deeper and deeper into the past.

And I said to the asuras, so they should learn from the recruiter all his vital files files of all his lives and see what there actually was. I wanted the asuras to see what kind of injustice had happened to the first person whom the recruiter had discredited and dropped on the floor, into the lowest position. I also wanted the asuras to see what happened when the recruiter broke down my Shri Ram.

In fact, that woman appeared for a reason. This situation was created by me, on those higher levels. I needed it to stop me, so the asuras themselves would do it, by shaking the recruiter's brains out, pulling out of his memory all his life files from all his lives, and the asuras know how to do it. I needed this that the asuras saw how that recruiter recruited my Shri Ram. I needed this that Shri Ram himself could see all this with his own eyes, looking through those files of the recruiter with recruiter's eyes and thoughts and seeing all the motives, reasons and all the tricks that were then committed.

I was hoping that the asuras would have done away with that recruiter. I was hoping that then Shri Ram himself would see with his own eyes, what we were like when we were still together, as a couple, and when our couple was broken by some insignificant, despicable recruiter. I was hoping that Shri Ram himself would see how recruiter did that, why my Shri Ram took the bait of that recruiter then, why he succumbed him, what happened to me there and why Shri Ram gave his approval to accept the asuric nature.

57. Empty rag instead recruiter

After recording my 40th series, when I told how my classmate was kicking on the face with his feet at recess, opening that the recruiter once did alike to some big asur, who was the first person, in front of me appeared some big asur. He stood in front of me all day on my inner screen. I didn't know who he was or what he wanted. I felt that he was living somewhere far away, maybe in America, and that he is a well-settled in life.

The whole day he was standing in front of my inner gaze. I thought: what he needs? And in the evening I thought that this man was the first person and he came to thank me for what I have all this cause opened and rehabilitated him. And he said to me, somehow these thoughts clearly appeared in my mind: «Do not worry. We'll take care of him. You won't be disappointed». These words reassured me. I thought maybe the asuras were deceiving me, but I decided to trust and see if the asuras would enforce the sentence. I thought that Krishna, as Paramatma in heart, sees everything and if need be, He will somehow convey the true state of things to my consciousness.

The next day, when I was doing my business, that great asur appeared before my inner sight again, that first person in those distant lives who told me not to worry, that they necessarily would have done away with the recruiter, that I would not be disappointed. And here he was standing before me again, and there was a rag hanging in his hand, even no rag, but an empty shell, and that rag was everything that was left of that former recruiter. They emptied him out. Fully. And there was a weak-willed hanging rag.

This big asur showed me this dangling limp rag, they say, we have done away with him, and then came to me the thought from this big asur: «What do you want for this? How can we ever thank you? If there's anything we can do to repay you». I thought: well, how can they thank me? Well, what can they give me that I cannot get in this material world? I thought that I was in the material world in different roles. I lived and in the palaces, and with great asuras in luxury and boundless wealth. If I wanted it, I would have it all. What can they please me with that I have not seen? I saw everything. I'm not interested in any of this. They can't give me what I really need.

I thought that I want Shri Ram, but then I thought it was unknown if he wanted to be with me, and I told this first person that I want to return to Krishna, I want to Krishna. I said to him, «I want to return to Krishna, but you can't repay me this way. You can't». He stood for a while and then left. And then I thought, «They shook the brains out of him, of that former recruiter, and looked at that recruitment of my Shri Ram, and I am so interested in how it all happened, why my Shri Ram took the bait of that recruiter then, why he succumbed him».

And I began to ask Shri Ram to this question. I thought, most likely, my Shri Ram is not a fool and they are not fools either, and they understand that with the person with whom I am friends, need be friends, and they showed Shri Ram all those files of his recruitment. I thought that Shri Ram had to see what was then, in that life, before that recruitment, how it was going and what was with me after all. I thought: maybe Shri Ram himself will tell me about all this? I tried all sorts of ways to affect Shri Ram, in order to he opened this secret to me, but he did not it, and then I thought (I think, not without the help of Shri Ram) that I did not want to know this and spoil my mood with the awareness of that situation. And so this page was brought to some logical result, but not to the victorious end. And this question hovered in the space above me and was far from being resolved.

Yes, recruiter was executed by his own, by asuras. Of course, I could do it. Could do it and our with Shri Ram son, born have any something other, biological parents. But in that brilliant plan which was made even before my birth in this my body, it was provided that it will made by asuras. I needed that the asuras to execute the recruiter. That is why there appeared then the woman who made an attempt to delude and stop me, and she succeeded. And thank God! Because if I killed the recruiter, it would not be justice in relation to the first person, who due to the machinations of the recruiter severely injured, catastrophically injured, falling to the bottom of their asuric hierarchy. And for what fault did he suffer so much? For what he helped me to walk to my home, that is, provided protection for me as a woman.

That first person protected my female honor, and now it was my honor to restore justice and to rehabilitate that first person, and it was done. Also I wanted that Shri Ram himself, by his eyes saw that preceded his conversion to the asuras, what we were then, what happened to me after that. Yes, from the sessions with pillow he learned that I was very bad without him and I was throwing my call signs into all corners of the Universe, but never got a response. And he saw that then some unknown personalities came to me and showed me what happened to him, to my Ram, and offered me their help, so that our eternal bond with him was completely interrupted.

And they offered me instead of Shri Ram another man as my eternal couple, but I refused it and went to dance the dances of devotion to the Deities on the higher heavenly planets. Then I fell in love there with the Deity of Nrisimhadev and out of me came out to Him a call that He became my husband. Nrisimhadev became my husband and He began to fulfill my desires, among which was personally to take revenge on the asuras, so that whole their asuric world shuddered. About this Shri Ram knew from sessions with pillow. But here he himself, with his own eyes, saw how he was recruited, because of what, with the help of some tricks that he had learned well and many, many times used for many lives since became asur. I did not kill the recruiter, but showed him to the asuras, told them everything about him. They executed him and shaked out his life files. And my Shri Ram saw with his own eyes how he was made an asur and what I was there. It's a reasonable, logical, beautiful move.

After some time the first person became a friend of Shri Ram. And before that I informed Shri Ram that I would give him a friend, a friend's hand. How did I do it? You're never gonna believe this, so I'm gonna tell you. I was walking in the evening near home, reading Hare Krishna mantra, and I liked one of the houses near us. It's a beautiful, compact, cozy, cute, two-storey cottage, no frills, functional and aesthetic. I was looking at him from all sides, and then home owner came up to cottage. We talked with him about his house, he told me a lot about it, even invited to enter to the yard, in the greenhouse, bragged about his success in the field of gardening and growing crops.

And when we talked to him, I understood quite clearly that through him I talk with Shri Ram, allegorical, of course, as is usually the case with the asuras, when they connect to those who are near you and when through them they talk with you about the alleged ordinary, about the everyday, but in fact in these ordinary words inherent another meaning. And I look into the eyes of that man, knowing that my Shri Ram is looking at me from his eyes now and talking to me, and at that time my phone rang. I pick up. This is my son called me. He shouts in phone, that they with the sister accidentally broke the hand friend. Hand of a friend is the name of the stick that scratches back. It's a long stick with a hand on one end.

And he complains to me by the phone that this stick, friend's hand is broken. And I, looking into that man's eyes, and through his eyes into Shri Ram's eyes out there somewhere, I say to my son on the phone, «Don't cry, I'll buy you a great hand of friend. You will have the new hand of friend. Just don't cry, please». It was not long before that epic with that recruiter. Thus I bought Shri Ram a friend's hand, as I told him in that conversation with my son. It was the first person who received rehabilitation and restoration of rights after many lives. And this happened because I did not kill the recruiter, and just highlighted him, opened his misdeeds and gave him to asuras.

Shri Ram has received a faithful and reliable friend and a powerful protection, because that first person is a noble person (although he is asur), he has a brahminical personality traits, has a high status and great blessings, for example, burns will never disturb him, that is, nobody can not cause any harm to him and alien influence cannot harm him. And he can kill some big guru Drona that no one can kill, but he can. How many goals were achieved simply because I did not kill that recruiter, but showed him to the asuras and told them about him.

58. The response will be brutal, with aggravating circumstances and with particular cynicism

All these events took place on the chronology of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" from 14 to 18 July 2017, and on 31 July I was given another asur. It was one of those who was going to mock me when I was put on their asuric totalizator. He was very fond of mocking the females. And he was going to take part in bullying of me at their asuric totalizator. He was going to take part in complete breaking of me and as of a woman and as of a person. And he already enrolled in the list of asuras, who then would use me as they wanted and when they wanted, of course, not personally, with their physical presence, but at the energy plane of existence, but my women's nature would be completely destroyed and they intended to make me a weak-willed puppet in their hands. And I have done away with him.

The next asur was given to me on July 30, 2017. It was a very great asur, who already subjugated a lot of women. He felt a particular pleasure in seeing how the women, whom he got down on their knees at the energy plane of existence, carry out all his perverse sexual whims. He especially liked to act through the bodies of other men, using them and through them humiliating women. The asuras are able to enter into any objects and act through it with their quite clearly presence, although they are physically very far away.

And this asur was looking forward to how he would get to me when I was put on their asuric totalizator. He already was figuring, what sophisticated ways he would break me and how he would humiliate me when all my feminine nature would be destroyed and I as a person would be suppressed. And he, however, like all of them, did not care, how my children will feel at the same time, how will they live with such a mother, who can not control the lower urges, the low-lying nature, which they would activate at me to the fullest and mercilessly exploited.

This is not surprising. When I lived in Moscow and Borka (a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization) tried to have me bend under him, he plugged into my former husband and had sex with me through the body of my former husband. He did not spare my then husband. He was pumping out of me under great pressure my female energy and my piety, he was connecting to me at the energy plane of existence several of his fellow asuras, and I at that time fell into an incomprehensible orgasm, lasting an hour or more. How did my former husband feel at this time, when I was could not control my body and just sat on the couch right next to him, without even touching him, swinging from side to side and voluptuously moaning, dissolving in the not letting go feeling of all-consuming orgasm, which did not subside and seemed eternal, which lasted by the hour and more? Probably, it was ridiculous to Borka to watch as my then husband is afraid that this state will cover me not at home, and among people as it happened many times. It must have been fun for Borka to see that my then husband was afraid that I wouldn't be able to get out of this state and I would be considered insane and taken to the rest of my life to treated for this madness.

Borka didn't care what my then husband felt. But now there were children next to me. And they put me, as the lot on tote, on their asuric totalizator without sparing my little children. And I was told through the signs of the Universe, through the screenshots on the desktop of my computer that they cannot be spared. I was given to understand that it is now necessary to punish the next, and very, very cruelly. And that was fair. They did not spare me or my small children.

And before me they did not regret many women and intentionally did their vile deeds in front of the relatives of these victims-women, when relatives could not even understand what was happening to these women (because all this was done by the asuras through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence) and how they can be helped and whether it is possible at all, and suddenly it is madness... I came to them and opened myself up to them, just acted the scapegoat, entering into contact with them, provoking them to carry out acts of violence and showing them that I am the same as everyone, but for some ridiculous reason I do not succumb to their usual manipulations. If I hadn't done all this, then it would all go on with more and more women.

I angered them all, and they put me, as the lot on tote, on their asuric totalizator, and a large crowd asuras hungry for spectacle gathered to see how they would break another insignificant human bitch.... How it is disgusting and ashamed... But they did not think that in the role of such a lamb to slaughter could come their death. And I, Vinodavani dasi, the personified love for God, came to them as their personification death. But they didn't know that. It is good that somewhere there are those who look at us from above and know what is happening to us.

And that's when they had a critical mass of such atrocities, became apparent my function of personification death. How was it with this new asur? July 30 in the morning appeared the screenshots from the «Mahabharata» with the words about the punishment that someone must be punished, that it must be done today, that he deserve punishment. I realized that now on turn there is some great king of the asuras, who've done so much, not to punish him is an unforgivable blunder.

Then I did not know anything about the asuric totalizator. I did not know that asuras almost a year ago were going to break me on it. I did not know that these asuras that appears in front of me from nowhere on my inner screen, a year ago wanted to break me, my feminine nature on their asuric totalizator. It was they who anticipated an interesting sight for them when Borka put me on their asuric tote almost a year ago. Someone of them was going to break me, to burn through all my energy centers and chakras, someone was registered in the list of those who will then use me, someone put bets and just wanted to make as much money as possible on someone else's misfortune, not only on my misfortune, but also on misfortune of my children.

I didn't know all this, but I clearly remembered what Borka was doing with me in Moscow and what my Shri Ram did to me, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. I remembered his force methods, when he invisibly and intangible was pressing some points in my body, lowering me to the animal level, causing at me estrus mode like animals. And this was enough for me to understand that if I was given someone of them, then there's a reason.

And here to me on July 30 everywhere there were signs that someone should be punished cruelly. That we should definitely do it. In the morning in the news, along with those signs about the mandatory punishment of a criminal, I saw an article about what Putin said that the response to the anti-Russian sanctions will be cruel, with aggravating circumstances and with special cynicism. I understood, that someone needs to be punished, but whom? And then appeared the screenshot: «There must be someone». I thought that if they told me to have done away with someone, then he lives somewhere and I just need to tune in to him.

I tried, I routed my inner gaze into the space, I directed my radar in all directions with the idea that there should be someone I should punish, and I saw him. I clearly felt that this is a man, of the male sex, and that this is the one whom I need to punish now. He didn't stand a chance. He stood in front of me, and I looked at him. And then I let a powerful stream into his heart and punched through his heart chakra. I did not scan anything at him, did not analyze. This function of destruction of asuric activated itself. I just kind of watched from the side as this process is underway itself, as a powerful red beam comes out of me and punches through his heart chakra. It punched a huge hole in his heart. And from above, from his head, everything went down and from below, too, up, to his heart, and I pulled it all into myself from the hole in his heart chakra, like a vacuum pump.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Then I went down to the bottom, where the crotch, the area between the anus and the testicles, and began to press there on the rootlet, on the lowest point. Down there, something began to bulge, as if from below, an abscess was growing under the skin. I held the edges of this abscess with my fingers, and something was bulging out from the inside, as if was about to break out, as if the boil has to burst. And when the skin on top of this boil was stretched by what was under it, I suddenly had a sharp claw, and I began to do on this abscess that was full of pus, incisions crisscross, and there like a flower opened, and from there pus was running, and I pulled it in like by a Hoover into inside me.

After that I unplugged from his bottom a cork, and this asur turned into a pigling. I remembered the play «Extraordinary concert», which I loved as a child. There they were unplugging the rope from the toilet tank, and in that moment was jumping out a squealing pigling out of the bag and loud squealing... And this asur was very similar to a squealing pigling. He dangled in my hands, I was shaking him, and he was twitching so much fun and squealing that I even became fun and I even laughed heartily.

Then suddenly this pigling turned into a piggy bank with big gold coins, ducats, and these coins began to falling down from the piggy bank... I raised the piggy bank above my opened mouth, and these golden ducats began to pour into my mouth. I emptied all his money out of him, and then I went down to his bottom and began to expand his inner tube from below and enter from below there.

And I began to sing Hare Krishna there; I turned on kirtan performed by my Gurudev, Indradyumna Swami, inside the asur. I gave him the command that his whole body must to sing Hare Krishna with me and my Gurudev. I gave this command to every his molecule, to every atom and neuron. His whole body was singing a mantra. We have such a good kirtan turned out, so harmonious, he vibrated with his whole body by the sounds of the mantra. His whole body came into resonance with the mantra and was completely penetrated by these sounds. And since Hare Krishna mantra is cleansing everything, everything at him was cleared. Then I lit a fire inside him, a powerful bright bonfire and burned everything inside him.

And then I went down again, this time to his man's root, to his dick, and began to pull out of his dick all that was there, all his male power, virility, with which he amused himself over his poor unfortunate victims. I sucked all his man power out of him. He liked being given blowjob, but this blowjob was the last in his life, since I sucked out of him all his potency and ability to have sex, I sucked out of him all his masculine. Now all his male power has been sucked out of him, completely. Dreams come true... Be careful what you wish for.

And then I remembered Putin's words that the response will be with aggravating circumstances and with special cynicism, and decided that it is necessary to make to him more sophisticated, to do him more badly. I decided to deploy in him a mode of celibacy. I decided that he would never have sex again. I put something like phosphorus in his male root, in his dick, and this phosphorus began to shine a dazzling white light and burn everything there. And this phosphorus ball, like quicklime, began to burn out all masculine there, than he was toying with the poor women, who could not oppose him, and this phosphorus ball settled there permanently: celibate, no sex forever and ever. And now he has there permanently a static napalm, burning out all masculine from him.

And then I decided to did him more badly and make him sterilization, cynically and harshly that he had nothing to have sex. I went into his male root, right to inside his dick, and gave the command: «Complete sterilization», and then placed inside his whole body a long dazzling white stiletto, which causes in his mind wild pain just at the thought of sex. Sex will not just disgust him. The very thought of sex will lead him into a wild panic, to bring him animal horror. After I felt that everything was done, and came out of there. I punished him cruelly and cynically, in front of all of the asuras.

After some time I in a fierce mood found myself inside of my Shri Ram. I don't know how it happened and why. I think Shri Ram came to my aid in such a way that I could calm down after this cruel cynical massacre of that asur. I think that in this way Shiva lay down in front of Mahakali when she was killing demons and couldn't get out of her furious state. And so she could the brakes and again to become usual, calm, Shiva lay down in front of her, and she stepped by her foot on him and immediately came to her senses and became herself again. I think that's what happened here.

But I suddenly saw myself standing inside my Shri Ram, and the rage was bubbling inside me. I was quite clearly recognizing that it is my Shri Ram. And I was standing inside him, like I was standing in all the others whom I was doing before. I was scared and went out of him. I thought it was dangerous for Shri Ram to be with me. I at any moment can appear in him and can automatically begin the destruction of all asuric in him, including himself. I was not going to enter him, but I suddenly found myself inside of him. It was a big problem that I didn't know how to solve at all.

59. The organizer of asuric totalizator

Just a few days later the toy king from «Kinder Surprise» was on my cream for hand, which stood on my table. It was almond cream for hand. From this, I concluded that our next a big chess match with our clear win in my Mahabharata is now with some big asur, as it is the king, and he is geographically far away from me, because Russian word «миндаль» can be decomposed thus:

«миндаль» = «ми» + «ин» + «даль».

The sound of Russian «ин» is equivalent to «in» in English, that is:

«ми» = «мы» = «we»,

«ин» = «in»,

«даль» = «далеко» = «distance», «far», «away», that is:

«миндаль» = «мы + ин + даль» = «we + in + far» = «we're far away».

I wondered how far away, in what country he lives, and then some of my children put my coulomb in the form of a deer next to that king from «Kinder Surprise». I looked at this coulomb and decided that this king, who is far away, lives somewhere in the Scandinavian countries, as on sweaters from there usually embroider deer. I had this association: deer = sweater with deer = Scandinavian countries. And when I spoke about it in the 53rd series, I listed these Scandinavian countries: Finland, Norway, Switzerland. Then I suddenly thought that Switzerland is not a Scandinavian country, and decided that I not without reason said about Switzerland, because there I had to say about Sweden.

And I thought that the blooper was correct. It was a Freudian slip: the king who is in the distance is in Sweden. And just to narrow it down and pinpoint its location, I misspoke. And the hand cream was Oriflame, also from Sweden, it's also hint. I thought that since he is a king, a great asur, then he lives in the center, in the capital,

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Stockholm. But then I thought that, most likely, his house is located in the suburbs of Stockholm, as having a resource to choose where to live, most likely, he will choose to live a quiet place with a large own home somewhere very close to the capital, but not in it itself. I was interested in this person, and I got a story about him, as always, randomly.

In the newsfeed in VKontakte I saw a picture of how Krishna conquered the serpent Kaliya, who lived in the waters of the river Yamuna. It was written there that this serpent lived in the waters of the river, right next to the place where Krishna lived. And so I realized that this great asur lives somewhere near the Hare Krishna temple in Korsnas Gard near Stockholm. Immediately resurfaced memories of Shri Vishnupad, Harikeshwa Swami. And in the story that came out in the news feed in VKontakte, it was said that the serpent Kaliya poisoned all the water in the river and even the air and friends of Krishna were afraid to go there, and even the birds flying over this river, from these poisonous fumes fell to the ground lifeless. So I was told that in Sweden, where lives the great asur, the king, he poisoned everything and many people were spoiled by his vile asuric influence.

At that time I wanted to see TV. Of the many films, I stopped at watching comedy. It was a film «Rat Race». There the owner of the largest casino in Las Vegas decides that his richest clients need something special, and organizes for them an illegal totalizator — rat race. Participants of the race are ordinary people, randomly selected from the crowd. They get a chance to get rich: who first gets from Las Vegas to the provincial town, he will receive $ 2 million. But none of the applicants and does not realize that each of their step follows the owner of the casino and its customers who have made their own bets on the winner.

I was just watching a movie, and I didn't know anything until that organizer of that illegal totalizator came on the scene in the movie, and then it dawned on me: I was specifically shown this movie so I would understand that this new king is the organizer of their asuric totalizator, where they bet on ordinary people. And I thought that it is not interesting for asuras to bet on ordinary people. They can suppress anyone. But to bet on those who go by spiritual path, who does not give in to their influence, who else somehow annoys them, them will be interested.

The breaking the stupid, unsuspecting people on the asuric tote was giving the jaded asuras new emotions in life, thrills, a little excitement, a sense of superiority: and their own superiority, and superiority of their race of asuras over these stupid little people who think that they can choose and go their own way, what a stupid, naive little people... The asuras had special delight when they breaks down someone who goes the spiritual path. Asuras were be enjoying when, as a result of a joint bullying over their victim by asuras on asuric tote, this victim was falling from his spiritual path and became the same, like everyone, greedy for the pleasures of the senses and does not disdain to get it. A special bonus for asuras on this asuric tote was money, and there the stakes were very high, a very big pay-off for very acceptable risks. And the more resistant a person was, the more he did not succumb to the influence of the asuras, the higher were the bets on him at their asuric totalizator.

I saw that they put someone on their asuric totalizator. They put someone who does not give in to their influence or goes spiritual way and they break him as in the gladiator fights, to the complete destruction, exposing against him alternately different the destroyers of female or male nature. I saw that these asuras were honing their different asuric tricks, abilities and skills on these victims. At the same time, these victims did not even realize that someone was doing something bad to them, since all the impact did not occur at the physical level, but through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. The fact that this person is now a victim and he is the lot on an asuric tote, was known only to the asuras, since the impact was invisible, and the communication between the asuras was also mental, in their mental chat. I thought that this asuric totalizator was giving the asuras the excitement, a special taste of life. And a lot of money there, somebody made a fortune. After all, the asuras live here among us as people, but have a different nature, as we say, superpowers, which inherent in them, and they love money, because money are always good for the enjoyment of feelings.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I clearly understood that this king, whom we will soon destroy and about whom I am now broadcasting in my novel, telling both myself and all the other asuras, is the organizer of such rat races. He was disgusting... And I said in the 55th series to the Swedish asuras that they will have a change of RA, that is, a change of their top, of the main asur. We'll remove him soon. And I warned him to start praying and writing a will, because I will not feel sorry for him.

And on the basis of the picture about Krishna's conquest of the serpent Kaliya, which I just saw in VKontakte, I told that this Swedish asur, king was arranging sexual orgies, because the serpent Kaliya had many heads. The head figuratively means a dick. The picture depicted a serpent with many heads and women around him. A lot of heads figuratively means a lot of men, since only a male individual has a dick, and head means a dick. And this is clearly a sexual orgy, which asuras like, because in a normal sexual interaction there are only a man and a woman and there is no one else, but since there are a lot of heads and a lot of women in the picture, this is a clear indication of sexual orgies. This great king of the asuras was a fan of such orgies.

And I also came to the conclusion based on the consideration of the picture that this asur do not respect women, and if he has the wife, he despises her, like all other women, because there are many heads in that picture. There are no accidents. If just at this time came this picture, so it tells about this character. And what can be respect for a woman, if there are many «heads», that is, male individuals? And Krishna in this picture has punished the Serpent Kaliya. Krishna was dancing on his snake hoods, but the wives of the serpent came and asked Krishna not to kill serpent, and Krishna spared Kaliya. Krishna not killed him, but purified from sins and determined the place of his residence away from their village.

Krishna in this picture said that this asur must be expelled from there because cows need to be protected. We must protect the cows, that is, the pious people, and Krishna's friends from danger and very severely punish this asur and send him away to another place. So I became aware of the existence of this asuric totalizator, that the next in line in my Mahabharata is the organizer of this asuric totalizator, who is he and what and how to do with him. I understood that he should be expel, very severely punished and sent to another place. And all this I said publicly to this asur and to all the other asuras, and they were waiting for what I would do with him.

So, about the new «king» I knew already quite a lot. I knew that he lives somewhere right next to Krishna's devotees in Sweden, and that he is the most main asur among all the asuras in Sweden, and that he is the organizer of asuric totalizator, that he is the organizer of a rat race. I knew that the asuras on their asuric totalizator amuse themselves by pleasure at the suffering of others, putting there, as the lot on tote, and breaking those who do not give in them, who goes spiritually way, who still somehow annoys them much, does not want to carry out their commands.

Also, I already knew that this «king» was RA, that is asur, who has a great rank, an entire asuric organization under himself, whose members are connected with him by some invisible neural network, and that he likes sexual orgies, in which many males and many female individuals took part. I already knew that he has absolutely no respect for women and treats them only as objects to suppress his will and to fulfill his perverse whims. I have also been told that he has poisoned all the water around with his poisonous asuric energy in Sweden, that is, all the minds of the people living there, and that Krishna's devotees and friends are afraid to be there because of it.

I did not know then that Harikesha Swami, as the lot on tote, was put on his asuric totalizator and asuras pounced on him entire crowd and honed their asuric tricks and impacted on Shri Vishnupad by their asuric energy. I did not know then that asuras burned through all energy centers, chakras of Harikesha Swami and dragged him to the lowest level of consciousness and someone got rich on it. I didn't know that they were going to break me on their tote and thrown up to the level of a female individuals, to animal level on this asuric sweepstake and because of that they were going to kill my Shri Ram.

The fact that I was put on their asuric totalizator, where was thrown off the heights of Shri Vishnupad, does not mean that I was at the same level as Shri Vishnupad was at that time. Just to throw Shri Vishnupad was really a lot of fun for the asuras. Especially when they succeeded and all the devotees of Krishna were shocked by it. Then a great commotion arose, the faith of many was undermined by one of their operation, especially since someone asuras there made large money. I was put on their asuric totalizator not for this reason and not for this purpose. Who am I? I'm little thing. But I pretty much brought down Borka, the then leader of the Moscow asuric organization that I did not succumb to his influence. I didn't break down, and it set him off. I was put on their asuric totalizator by him because it was his personal vendetta, his revenge on me.

60. Exile of the organizer of the asuric rat race to the higher worlds for re-education

Although I did not know then about all this, but I already knew what to do with him. In that picture of Krishna's conquest of the serpent Kaliya, it was said that he must be punished very severely and banished to other places, far away, in order to protect good people from the danger they are exposed to in his presence. And I began to engage in exile him away to protect everyone from danger. It was a good summer day, August 5. The kids and I went to the beach. And right when we went to there, I launched an operation to exile of the «king», of the organizer of the Asuric totalizator.

We walked to the beach, I looked at my inner screen, I look: he is. All the previous asuras stood right in front of me, and I saw them very well, and this asur stood somewhere far away and was in some haze, even his silhouette was not visible, only a cloud, but I clearly felt that there, behind this haze, is he, this new king. He probably used all his powers and abilities, summoned those who can induce illusion so that I would not see him and could not reach him.

I looked at the fog behind which he was hiding from me, and from there a white wall of water went, from all that cloud to me and was going long enough. I pulled this whole stream into myself, all this water from his fog, and then I suddenly found myself inside of him dancing. I turned on the farewell kirtan Bhakti Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham» in my headphones.

I stood inside him and danced some Indian dance, knocking foot to the rhythm of the kirtan. I danced beautifully there. And then I stopped doing dance moves, stood inside him in one place and began with all the force to beat with one foot the beat of the kirtan as builders drives piles making the foundation of new building. I was banging into the same place inside him. I looked at myself and at my foot knocking at the same place inside him, and suddenly I remembered how on the picture of Kaliya Snake was written that Krishna began to dance on the heads of the Kaliya Snake and brought him to complete exhaustion. And I realized I was doing the same.

We already came to the beach, the children went to swim, I stood on the bank, listened to kirtan with headphones and continued to bang by my foot into him, imagining that with every blow of my foot inside him everything at him is shaken and he's puking. I was listening to the kirtan of Bhakti Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham» and on every strong beat in this kirtan with all his might was driving my foot into him as was putting fundamental posts in the ground, sometimes even helping myself with foot on the physical plane.

At some point, I felt that I had pierced something below him, as if I had knocked out the stopper that was holding his lower chakras, and it even became easier for me to breathe. Any thoughts what it is still possible to do, was not, there was a monotonous banging this rigid pile into him inside, as when building a house, piles are driven into the ground to make a solid foundation. In the Middle Ages was torture — the monotonous dripping of water on sinciput, in results of the victim just went crazy, and I was doing the same with this Swedish king. I monotonically on the strong beat of the kirtan beat with my foot and beat.

And then I decided that should to play kirtan Hare Krishna, and turned on the evening kirtan of my Gurudev and continued the monotone, powerful tapping inside him by my foot, which was makind this asur crazy. The rhythm of the kirtan was accelerating, and I faster and faster with my foot beat him, continuously, monotone and nonstop. I was battering him like a woodpecker hammering a tree. I was battering him a very long time, first at a slow pace, then faster and faster, then very fast. We were on the beach, the kids were swimming, I was sunbathing, there was nothing else to do, and I listened to kirtan and was hitting and hitting him.

Then I look: he ended up in some kind of white cocoon, completely isolated from the world, from the external space, and I became his environment. Before that, I stood inside him, and here he all became like a larva in a white cocoon, and I'm like some energy around him, like the space in which he is. And on every strong beat of the kirtan I began to drive into him sharp needles. These spikes surrounded it like the needles of a porcupine, but I was stabbing him by these needles from outside to inside him.

And when I'm on every strong beat drives him these terribly prickly stinging needles, I told him: «I will see you pay for your sins! You're going to answer for what you've done! You will answer for everything, for your asuric totalizator, for Shri Vishnupad, for your attacks and suppression of Krishna devotees! You will answer for your efforts to discredit ISKCON and Srila Prabhupada! You, the asuras, attacked the devotees of Krishna, on the mental level, manipulated their consciousness, you applied your asuric techniques to them. You're going to pay for what you did!» He couldn't get away, because he was immured in this cocoon, and at every strong fraction these red, long, bringing pain and stinging needles at the same time entered his body, and he could not even move. But Shri Vishnupad was standing in my mind's eye, and I was paying him back.

Then I suddenly found myself inside his pipe, in the area of his Manipura and see: there hangs a white bright glowing ball. And this ball hung in one place and emitted a dazzling radiance. I did not immediately understand what it was, and then I realized that this ball is he, the former asur. He broke away from his body and hung in the area of Manipura and could not move.

I remembered that when I was studying at the Institute, in the summer we had a practice, and I was a conductor on the train, and all the stowaways were mine. Everyone in our crew of conductors knew that I always take all stowaways, and sent stowaways to me to my railway carriage. And now I thought that I am such a great guide. I was the conductor of many living beings. I was helping them get into the best worlds. I was taking all the stowaways, that is, those who have no pious merits, who are in full minus, and brought them to where they without my help could not be reached, because they had neither a ticket nor money, and I thought that I know how to see off the souls in the best worlds, I'm a great expert.

I thought that this former big asur, who has now come off from his body and hangs like this small brightly glowing ball in the center of his former body, is such a stowaway. He has no pious merit. He has only cons. He organized this asuric totalizer, subjugation of the many, have poisoned his asuric energy all around, spoiling the people, that they thought only of the vile and behaved on the animal level. He sought to awaken the wickedness, villainy and perversity that lie within each individual. And I thought that I have to help this stowaway and to transmit him into the best worlds.

I began by the power of thought to raise the white ball higher. I raised him to the level of his throat. There he stalled and not moved nor there nor here. I thought that he was getting ready to get out of the body, he had already come off the body and hanging in anticipation of where to go, and it is necessary to transfer him to others who will lead him on. And then I thought: maybe should call a yamadutas? Let them drag him where they want, but then I thought that I'm the conductor up, into the better existence; him needs to be determined somewhere into a good place, but where? I did not know. And I thought if I didn't know that, then Krishna is God and Krishna necessarily knows.

I surrendered to Krishna. I thought, «Krishna, yourself decide where he will go», and at the same moment we with this white ball, with this former asur, suddenly found ourselves in a completely different place. It was some shady forest, there were many deciduous, tall trees which crowns created a solid carpet at the top and covered the whole sky, and were a little dark, and there a wide straight road was in this forest. And I felt that on this road in this forest someone was already waiting for him. I didn't see those who were waiting for him on that road in that forest, but I knew that they are here and they are waiting for him. And I somehow gave him to them. He flew forward along that road and disappeared somewhere far ahead in this forest.

And I thought we have done away with him and now we have to clean up everyone who was under him. I again appeared where he was standing in the beginning, and imagined all who were in his organization, who was under him. I spread my influence on them and became pull in like by a magnet into inside me all that they had. Something went out of them into me, and they all became pure.

This Swedish king-asur was a real stowaway. He had no any pious merits at all, he did so much bad that yamadutas were supposed to come for him, but he was very lucky that he was given to me, and I am such a great guide and escorted him to some better world. This world was not meant for him, he could not reach it, but for some absolutely incomprehensible reason Krishna gave him to me and he got into that world. After all, usually the souls going down in their development leave the body through the lower channels in the body, and this asur was supposed to fly down, but due to the fact that he had fallen into my hands, he slowed down at the level of Manipura, and I began to raise him up.

I put a lot of effort to raise this glowing ball up, it was doing not rise, but I persisted, and I managed to bring it to the throat. He himself would never have gone up there, but I tried very hard to lift him up. But I did not succeed in raising him above the throat. And there, at that level, I thought that it is time for him to go out, to leave the body. I thought that he should be sent to hellish worlds, to the yamadutas, he deserved it, and even I invited them, but no one came, and then I thought that kirtan so purified him that his fate changed. Yamadutas can not come to him, because his sins were canceled, and since he listened to the Holy names of Krishna, he came out of jurisdiction from yamadutas.

Then I surrendered to Krishna, we with him, with the former Swedish king-asur, were in some shady calm forest, even, we can say, in some quiet an oak-grove, from which emanated some peace and power, on a straight clean dry wide road. And it felt like there some personalities were waiting for him. These personalities were godly, sublime, high order, even awe inspiring, and they took him there to themselves, to some other world which better than we have here, to higher planet.

And all this happened because when I was conducting this execution, I was doing it during kirtan. And because the Holy names of Krishna cleanses everything, he was so cleansed that he could get to where he, like that stowaway, would never have got. He had no money, that is pious merits, because he was a stowaway. He had no ticket, that is opportunities there for him was not provided. I sent him there on August 5. August 6 I told about it in the 56th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». On August 10, in the 59th series, I recalled this operation, and at some point there was a screenshot of «Mahabharata», in which Krishna looked somehow very much severe.

This picture was spinning in my mind, and I assumed that Krishna was displeased because the former asur went to another planet in another world, even if it is of a higher order and level of development than we have here on Earth. I thought that there, in those worlds, which much higher than we have here, there is no Lord Chaitanya's sankirtana, no window to the spiritual world that has opened for us here on Earth by the grace of Srila Prabhupada. And this is such a great priceless opportunity. And no better worlds can be compared to this opportunity to return into the spiritual world, even if here and Kali Yuga flourishes and everyone wants to enjoy and snatch up to themselves more.

I thought that this former asur is the fortunate. He as asur lived many, many lives with that vile asuric nature, had committed many sins and got a bunch of sinful reactions on his account. But despite all this, he got to a place to where he would never get with such a track record and with cons at spiritual account. He, of course, is lucky that he got to those, as I said, forefathers, in some better world. But in this pious world there is no window into the spiritual world, there is no mercy of Srila Prabhupada, there is no his blessing to return into the spiritual world through devotional service in the mission of Lord Chaitanya.

So I screwed him, sending him to better worlds and depriving him of the opportunity to return into the spiritual world. I exalted him, but I pushed him aside from returning into the spiritual world. He will not have this torch of Krishna consciousness there, illuminating the path to Krishna into the spiritual world. Of course, he will get better living conditions, there he will be helped to pull himself up to some good level, but there is no movement of Hare Krishna there.

If he were on Earth, he would somehow be in contact with the Hare Krishna movement, with the mercy of Lord Chaitanya and Srila Prabhupada. There are harinamas, the distribution of Srila Prabhupada's books, and a lot of spiritual programs in Srila Prabhupada's mission. Where I sent him, a planet of a higher rank and personality is also much better than here. He was lucky to get there, but he was not lucky to get there, because Lord Chaitanya's sankirtana is here, on Earth.

And I thought that's why Krishna was showing me in that screenshot that He was displeased. I thought that I had not done my work, that I should give him a blessing, that he will not stay on that planet too long, because there is a very high life expectancy and there he can very linger for a long time, but here is a very different time, and it is necessary that he quickly finished his existence there, until Kali Yuga here has not yet entered into its full rights and we have this window of return to the spiritual world, which Srila Prabhupada gave us all.

I thought that he needs to catch getting here, into this Hare Krishna movement. He must to exalt his nature there. He must to gain a foothold at that level and after that return to the planet Earth very soon, but certainly not as an asur, so that he would not fall under their influence and would not come in contact with them in any way. He must to join the movement of Hare Krishna, in the mission of Lord Chaitanya, of Srila Prabhupada. He must to very actively serve him and really receive the benefit from the fact that I came to him in such the form of, — he will return into spiritual world, and otherwise why at all it all need to? Well, I came up to him, well, he got to the highest planet, well, he sat there, enjoyed, raised his level, vibrations, so what? He still hangs out here in this material world, hanging out forever. Today he is on this pious planet, tomorrow still where will slide, it is unclear where.

No, if we take the stowaway then we will drive him to the terminal station — to Krishna into the spiritual world, into Goloka Vrindavana. Then my work will be done successfully. And I asked Krishna to bless him and fulfill my wish — to bring him back to the Earth as soon as possible, into the Hare Krishna movement, so that he could return into the spiritual world before the Kali Yuga was work in full force.

61. The woman-asuri who broke our couple to make Ram become an asur

I brought to light for asuras a recruiter, who many, many lives ago have enlisted my eternal husband Shri Ram to the asuras. About it I told in 41–42nd series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» on July 16–18. Recruiter was executed by his own, by asuras, for many of the crimes he committed against them. Then they pound his brains out and saw how he then recruited my Shri Ram, how he framed the first person, the leader who gave me protection after that recruitment so that I could get to the house, that is, to some safe place where that recruiter could not reach me.

The asuras shook out his life files from the recruiter, and Shri Ram looked through everything that was in those files. I many times was asking him what he saw there, but he did not tell me anything and even manipulated my consciousness expecting me to give up. But I still wanted to know why did he succumbed, and since then I constantly reminded Shri Ram about it and somehow even blackmailed on him so that he still opened it to me. And here, 12–13 August, he did taking that big leap. It was difficult for him, because I made different assumptions about his motives but all my guesses were wrong.

I thought that maybe he agreed to accept the asuric nature, because I was in danger and he thus wanted to protect me, but the reality was much more banal. He just took such bait as sex. That recruiter wanted to conquer me, because he liked me very much, but I was with my Ram, we were a good friendly couple. And to getting me, that recruiter had to get my Ram away from me. And that it took place, that recruiter chose from among their asuric women the skilled worker on stealing off of husbands, who very well knew the nature of individuals of a male and was able to impact all their complexes and desires that they left the family.

And such a brazen woman-asuri got the job to steal from me my husband, my Ram. She did succeed not at once, because we were very fond of each other and he was not interested in other women, but to turn his eyes away from me, the recruiter began to manipulate my mind. And under his influence, I began to broadcast to my Ram the behavior and attitude to him, which was not at all and which was unacceptable for him.

Manipulations of consciousness are strong suit of asuras, and that asur-recruiter all turned out: I began to somehow show my Ram that I am interested in other men. I suddenly began to compare him with them, and not in his favor, as there is always someone who is in something better than you. And although I actually did not look there, at other men, but because of the constant pressure on my mind I quite involuntarily was showing that attitude to him. I was saying that this man is handsome, and the other man is very intelligent, and the third man treats his wife very well. And all these comparisons began to do their job: Ram began to take offense at me and feel that he is not really needed, that I'm looking for another man. He got the impression that I need something that he does not have.

But it didn't work either, and then the heavy artillery was put into action. It was the manipulation of my consciousness so that I actually got carried away by some other man. And though it was not, but for some completely incomprehensible reason to me, I then began to speak, openly, looking into the eyes of my Ram that I like that man and I would like to be with him. It was for him like a bolt from the blue, and then the woman-asuri had stepped in. She was a skilled to sneaking around other people's husbands and break up families.

She made a move on him and seduced him. And he was coming with her, in the depths of his soul crying that his beloved had fallen out of love with him, and hoping that this wonderful, beautiful woman, a real woman, feminine, elegant, cultural, soft, respecting him, she would give him the happiness that I had deprived him. And he dove head-on in her. And then, to finally remove him from me, they decided to make him an asur.

My Ram did not immediately agree to accept the asuric nature, and then he was tempted by the fact that with the asuric nature he will be irresistible in sex and no woman who will be with him, will not think that there is somewhere a man better than him. That he will be so good at sex that his woman will never even think about another men, will never look on another men and will never leave him. And he agreed. Of course, they did a lot of manipulation with his mind to push him into it, but the asuras are masters in the manipulation of consciousness, and the recruiter everything turned out: my Ram gave consent.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Yes, the consent was voluntary, he himself answered «Yes» to the proposal to accept the asuric nature, but he was misled, deceived by the fact that I allegedly turned away from him and went to another. It was lying, it was just a manipulation of my consciousness so that I simply broadcast this behavior and attitude to him and I even voiced it out loud. Yes, even so. I aloud was voicing it. Asuras are able to influence human consciousness in such a way that under this influence person will say what is not there in reality. And although I did not think so and it was not, but I voiced it for him then. And he turned away from me and threw himself into arms of the woman sent to him. It was an asuri, for whom he was not needed. She just was performing the task and gaining her self-esteem, confirming her skills and feeling superior to these worthless, such predictable men who always fall on her, on such a feminine woman who knows them as inside and out and applies this knowledge to the full.

And Shri Ram revealed me it from 16 to 18 July 2017, nearly a month after the disclosure the recruiter. And when I found out, I thought that the woman who did this had to be punished, because the woman is the one who protects the family, human values, the integrity of the family, but the one who invades another's family and breaks it, is not a woman. And I decided to give her a good vaccination, so she never moved in the direction of other people's husbands, to she was afraid to even look in that direction.

I sent a request up somewhere, into space, so to speak, to Universe Patrol. I like to complain sometimes, to demand justice, I never hesitate of it. And I thought: she had separated me from my husband; he and I were separated from each other for millions of lives, because of this he became an asur. And even my Shri Ram in this life wanted to make me asuri, offered their «initiation». I was born many times in asuric worlds as Mata Hari, I was sacrificing myself, and I was risking my lives. They could turn me into asuri there many times. I suffered a lot of bad things there, but I gained a lot of blessings and protection, which protected me from their asuric effect. But if it weren't for that, then what they would do to me there, it's scary to even think...

Yes, outwardly I was showing them that their efforts are bearing fruit, but in fact their impact did not work on me. But if I was coming there as an ordinary woman, that it is scary to think that would they do with me, and many times... And I sent a request with all these points, demanding her punishment. A woman should not do that, to encroach, invade into someone else's family, but she invaded, she deliberately did everything to seduce him, because of what all this happened to me. And I sent this request somewhere in the Universe.

Shri Ram so long delayed disclosure of the circumstances of his conversion to the asuras because he knew what my reaction would be. He felt sorry for the woman who seduced him then, many, many lives ago, because he knew that I would willing to do anything to punish her and very cruelly. I sent complaint to somewhere in the vastness of the Universe, where they take such complaints. It was complaint-request, with the requirement to punish her and all those who somehow took part in that, who somehow was there involved, as a warning to other presumptuous, so that they all shuddered with disgust and horror, so it was cruel, because it has no right for a woman to behave so.

After a while I'm going somewhere by bus and suddenly I see: a red beam came out of me at my internal screen and went to someone's figure, who suddenly appeared and stood somewhere, in front of me. I did not immediately understand what it is that my request is satisfied and I was given her. And here I'm going somewhere by bus and from me suddenly powerful red-and-scarlet ray burst out itself and route somewhere ahead. This ray went ahead and only after that came someone's figure, and the beam goes straight to the stomach area of this figure and is so good there burns. I look at this case and I think: and who is it, who is it? The beam at me turned on by itself before this figure appeared, and it so powerfully burns there...

And I thought: this is she, because I felt a woman's energy there. Before that all asuras whom I did were men, they had their own, male energy, and here is another energy, female. And this ray burned a lot from her, a large space right in the center of her belly, and then I thought that she needs to be sterilized. It is necessary that she do not want sex, and I gave her the command: «The total sterilization», and then I threw my attention, as a black beam, down under her legs and there I jerked something. Then I stood below her, right under the hole formed there and began to pull everything out of her. I pumped a lot out of her.

Then I went in through that hole into her, into her inner tube, I expanded this tube top, stood there and I began to pronounce there «Krishna». I forgot headphones at home, I, of course, would have turned on the mantra, the mantra would burn everything at her but without headphones I just had to mentally pronounce the name of Krishna. I think: Krishna is God and Krishna's name is not different from Krishna; when you say «Krishna», this is Krishna Himself, God Himself, and He cleanses everything. And I was standing inside her, saying, «Krishna, Krishna», and I thought that she doing freed from everything bad, everything is cleared at her.

And then I thought that something should be done with her ovaries, because she's a woman and all her eggs are in her ovaries. As you know, when a girl is just born, her ovaries already have more than 300 thousand eggs from her infancy, and when she reaches puberty, every month in her follicles one of those eggs ripens and goes into the fallopian tube and fertilization can occur. And I thought that in her ovaries are sitting these eggs from her infancy, and since it have an asuric nature, then she has there asuric eggs, and I decided to remove everything from her ovaries.

I started burning everything out of her ovaries. I was riding the bus, and I saw her ovaries inside her, left and right, and I saw that a raging fire burned in her ovaries and all her ovule eggs burning and turning into little black little coals in the fire. And when her ovule eggs were all completely burned down, I pulled out of her everything that was there, and then I came home. I had a lot to do. Between things I needed to go to the store, and when I walked out of there, I had a strong dissatisfaction...

I thought: it isn't enough. Yes, I did her complete sterilization, I burned all her ovaries with all of her asuric eggs, but it not enough. And I felt that my husband, Shri Ram, agreed with me that it is not enough. I thought: strange, why? I came to idea that this woman lured him to her, and then after a while left him as a waste material, and he suffered a lot, and then he was always thrown by women, lots and lots and lots of lives. I thought there is no forgiveness for that, nor can there be, I will definitely take revenge for him.

And then Shri Ram brought to my mind that even not that was the main. He made me understand that he was most dissatisfied with what happened as a result of this to me and what I endured after all this. Shri Ram saw in the life files which asuras shook out of the recruiter, what tricks he proceed, what manipulations of my consciousness he practiced to subjugate me. Shri Ram did not reveal all this to me, but I felt from him that there was a lot of terrible and we can't let them get away with it. He brought to my mind that this is the main thing and that there is no forgiveness for that, nor can there be and punishment for it must be cruel.

62. Full portion of compassion

And I decided that she should be punished so that all asuras shuddered with horror, disgust and compassion. And that's how I said, describing this situation, in the 61st series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife», at the very last minutes of this series. At the same time there appeared a screenshot from «Mahabharata», where Krishna with a determined look stretches out His index finger. This screenshot which coincided with my words about the fact that they will shudder with horror, disgust and compassion, drew my attention, but I did not understand why I mentioned about compassion... I realized it when I continued her punishment the next day.

This Russian word «сострадание» («compassion»), which I uttered, saying that she should be punished so that all asuras will to wince in fear, horror, disgust and compassion, was paradoxical. And I didn't understand what to be done to her to make it all happen, but these words about I must punished her so cruelly to all asuras horrified from that, were rounding in my head all day after I said them at the end of 61st series, and I felt sorry for her. I thought: it was a long time ago, an innumerable number of lives... But at the same time if it all will stay unpunished and she continued to do it all in the same way, with other people, invading other people's families and ruining them, it is very, very bad. And it is necessary to punish for it. Especially if Krishna himself on that screenshot at the end of the 61st series showed that it should be done, that she is not right, it is unforgivable.

But I did not do anything with her, I began to work, I turned on my playlist with mantras and lectures about Krishna, and at some point turned on Srila Prabhupada's lecture «Krishna appeared as Mahamantra», in which Srila Prabhupada said: «In the Bhagavad-Gita it is stated that when the women become unchaste for want of proper protection, there are unwanted children called varna-sankara. There will be peace and prosperity in the world due to good and sane population only; there is hell and disturbance only because of the unwanted, insane populace addicted to sex indulgence.... In Bhagavad-Gita Arjuna informed Krishna that if there is unwanted population (varna-sankara), the entire world will appear to be hell. People are very anxious for peace in the world, but there are so many unwanted children born without the benefit of the garbhadhana ceremony.... In Bhagavad-Gita it is said that if human beings do not follow the spiritual way of life, there will be an increase of varna-sankara population, population begotten like cats and dogs, and the entire world will become like hell». I thought that Krishna tells me so, that the asuras took my eternal husband from me, making him an asur. Because of that I had to be alone and I was forced to be with others that creates the chaos and burden, unwanted offspring, it's very bad.

After this lecture in is my playlist by accidental selection was the song of Mataji Gauri Devi Dasi "Shyam":

Shyam
When will I see Your smiling face?
When will I feel Your warm embrace?
Cause I miss You and I always do
Though I choose to be away from You
I am lonely; You're the only one...
My tattered heart still beating
My wandering eyes are yet weeping,
And the universe has done it's worst.
I've been bitten, scratched and I am cursed.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I am lonely; You're the only one...
A distant memory of a dream still plays
It's wistful tune in the corner of my mind
Flute song breathed from the sweetest breath
Without hesitation they run to it,
They just run and run and I am Still sitting here,
Covered with sorry tears, yet
Unwilling to move...
I see You in the sunrise,
I dance for You in moonlight,
I raise my hands and I call to You
I'm so lonely,
You're the only one,
My Shyam...

I was listening to this song, and I was flooded with this piercing feeling of loneliness, longing for Krishna. I felt very sorry for that woman-asuri, because we got her and I will deal with her very cruel. All asuras will tremble in horror, fear, disgust and compassion, but this lecture and this song already well have dissolved this my pity for her. The lecture said that when a woman is left without a husband, the whole world falls into chaos and degrades, and thanks to this song I began to feel alone.

And after that was the song of «Sankirtana-Lila» «Tell me, Yamuna»:

Tell me, Yamuna, where you saw Krishna,
Where He played the flute,
Where He and gopies broke up?
Tell me, Yamuna, how the gopies were sad,
How they suffered in separation, and how they sought Krishna,
And how their tears dropped into your quiet waters,
When they again and again were repeating the memorable name,
How they with hope were crying out to the trees and to the birds,
Trying to find faithful messengers of Krishna in them.
Krishna, where are You hiding?
You know every second without You is equal to eternity.
Krishna, come! Where are You?
Respond, Krishna...
We suffer without You, where are You?
Krishna, come back...

And when I was listening to this song, I have gone analogies, associations with what I saw in those sessions with pillow, when I somewhere between lives included my radar, was looking for my Ram, was letting everywhere my call signs, but the answer not was, and as someone me there came and said «forget him», but I said «no». This song began to rise from somewhere in the depths of my own nature these memories and those emotions.

I began to remember what happened when he appeared to me already in this life, we began to interact with him at a distance, but so tangible... I began to remember how he was pushing me under his comrades, causing me mode of oestrus and pulling me off to the animal level. I began to remember how I felt him in my hands, in objects, but I was thrown away at once, as from a high-voltage electric power, and I was feeling devastation, because there he is, and here him is not.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And this feeling of Universal suffering began to rise up, outwards. This feeling of Universal suffering was kind of encased somewhere in the back of my memory, but it did not manifest in my life so I could exist normally here. And even Shri Ram even assigned to me four his asuras-wolfhounds that I have not looked there and could not feel it. This four very powerful wolfhounds block my immersion in those layers of our deep interaction with him, stop me, so I do not immerse my eyes there and did not feel this dissonance, contrast, would not fall into depression that there I feel him, but here him is not.

But when I went through listening to this lecture of Srila Prabhupada, the song of Mataji Gauri «Shyam», and then the song «Sankirtana-Lila» «Tell me, Yamuna», I still plunged into those layers of memory and sufferings, although these wolfhounds and sat on guard. But I ignored them and plunged there and began to raise all these layers up, already intentionally. I kind of saw how my long-term sufferings, which I experienced both in this life and in many past lives, rise upward, go outside. I saw that my loneliness and my thoughts about complete hopelessness coming out of my deepest layers of memory. It all went outside and went up.

And I began to understand what that word «сострадание» (I pronounced this word in Russian) meant. This word means «compassion». But then I realized that this word has not only the meaning of «compassion». When I was listening to the song about the sufferings of the gopis, I began to raise from the deep layers of my memory the sufferings. At the end of the 61st episode I said the Russian word «сострадание», «со» + «страдания», that is, in English «with» + «sufferings». Russian word «со» means «with», «together», and Russian word «страдания» means «sufferings». It turns out that I said «with suffering». And when I began to lift these deep layers of sufferings up, I suddenly saw her again. She was standing on my inner screen somewhere in front of me on the right, and I dealt a blow to her head. Of me into her head went to some white stream and I became to rummage by this beam-stream inside her head.

I see: I have changed some contacts in her head to connect her to all these sufferings that I have raised from the deep layers of our interaction with Shri Ram, because this word «со-страдание» = со + страдания = вместе + страдания («with-suffering») means «she together with suffering». And I put all these sufferings in her head. I said to her, «You took a big part then; you tried very hard to seduce my Ram that he has now become Shri Ram. Payback's at the door».

I turned off all the fuses she had in her head, so that she could not block the flow of these sufferings in any way, and these sufferings went completely unhindered a wide flow straight to her from my deep life files, and she began to receive «together sufferings», she began to feel all my sufferings as her own. But to make her feel these sufferings even more acutely, I cut her whole body in half lengthwise with some ray and divided these halves. I turned on the fire, and halves both were burning.

She separated us with Ram, and we with him are the eternal couple, we were inseparable, but she climbed into this whole and has separated us and I gave her the same. She began to feel herself torn in two halves that burned and that could not be extinguished. At the same time, I lifted the sufferings from the depths of my memory and life files and routed these sufferings directly into her head. I began to feel it again, my tears flowed, and all this she began to feel at real, as her own sufferings.

I sit and raise my sufferings, sit and redirect all my sufferings to her. Then I stopped crying, just I hooked up to her that layer of these sufferings and went out from there. But all the sufferings flowed and flowed to her directly, without my participation there. Sufferings continued and continued to go and be felt by her. And she felt so bad that she ran at the energy plane of existence, mentally, to all the asuras, asking for help. She tried to show the asuras what I did to her, but they would only come in contact with her there and immediately connect themselves to all these sufferings and receive their portion of this «together suffering».

Everyone to whom she's appealed for help, so they take it away from her, each of them touched these sufferings and involuntarily sank into it completely. She thought that they were all great asuras and will be able to relieve these sufferings, but I took at her fuses off and put such protection that no one could remove it. I felt sorry for her. All these sufferings come to her. My Shri Ram even assigned to me four his asuras-wolfhounds that I have not looked there and could not feel it, and I pulled these sufferings out and put at her like at outdoor naked nerve.

63. Loud caratals

I felt sorry for her, I thought: «Here the woman got in trouble... She was having fun; she liked to steal other husbands and boyfriends. Looks like, she is such a good specialist in stealing husbands from couples. And Krishna sent me to her, so I did her a good vaccination and that all there, too, felt it. These sufferings are simply unbearable, sufferings are closed like under a sarcophagus, and I do not feel them, I live a normal life here. Sufferings lie there under a sarcophagus and now go straight to her, and she feels them as real and can not do anything with it.

And she ran to asuras for help, but as soon as they touched her, they immediately connected to these sufferings. And them immediately started to violently shake, and they could not do anything about it, and they began to reject her as a leper, saying, «Go, go, go away, just do not come to us, we want to enjoy, we do not want this sufferings, what you have there». So another word became realized — «disgust». They are all focused on pleasure, but here is a complete immersion in sufferings, feeling by them of my sufferings, and they feel such aversion to sufferings that they immediately reject her, even afraid in her direction even to think. They are so disgusted by the feeling of sufferings that they do not even want to look in her direction. How can they help her if they can't even bear a fraction of the sufferings?

I was flooded with pity for her, but then came the next lecture by Srila Prabhupada — «Krishna's lotus feet are the best protection», with the story of how Arjuna killed Karna when Karna was pulling the wheel out of the mud. And there were words that if Krishna gave the order, it must be done. Many things may look unethical from the point of view of ordinary morality, but if it is said to be done by Krishna, God, then it is the highest morality.

And I thought she was totally over the line, she broke into the couple, and she likely used her asuric charms, skills, abilities. And my mental anguish and pity for her began to pass. She showed me no mercy; she did not spare me not a bit and must be vaccinated as a warning to other presumptuous. She must have broken more than one such couple, making many unhappy and lonely, and Krishna strongly insisted on her punishment, because such as behavior is unacceptable.

After that, the children and I went to the Hare Krishna program, and as we were driving, on my internal screen I was seeing her experience this feeling of my sufferings, that she was running to everyone there, and they were turning away from her so that she would not interfere with their enjoyment and would not plunge them into feeling of my sufferings too. And thoughts came to me from outside: maybe there is some relief for her? And I said that only chanting of Hare Krishna mantra could help her, and all those to whom she will ask for help must tell her to chant the Hare Krishna mantra. I told them: the Hare Krishna mantra helps me, and only the Hare Krishna mantra will help her. Then there was the program, and there I continued her punishment.

At the program, I saw again the man Shri Ram intended to throw me into, pressing both mine and his consciousness, at the Janmashtami of the previous year, when he was with that wonderful, sophisticated, feminine woman who would not have stayed with him after he had become a beggar homeless. He put me in his list of non-contact whores, at the energy plane of existence, and I summoned Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization. Shri Ram did not like unnecessary attention to himself and he decided to get rid of me, squeezing me out of his space. And then one of the attempts to get rid of me was the pressing to my consciousness and to consciousness of one man on Janmashtami.

And here on the Sunday Hare Krishna program I connected asuric woman with my suffering. She many, many lives ago seduced my Ram, separating us and contributing to the fact that he accepted the asuric nature, and I was left alone to so many lives. I gave her the feeling of my sufferings. She ran to all the asuras for help, of course, not with her feet, but mentally; asuras know how to do it.

They immediately automatically was plugging onto this stream of suffering as she approached them. And they were getting their portion of suffering, immersed themselves in my suffering and felt it as their own suffering. And they immediately were throwing her away, because were feeling this entire stream of suffering, my suffering, but as their own, and it was unbearable for them. She became rejected by them; they all ran her, shied away from her like the plague.

And so I came to the Hare Krishna program and I look: the same man to whom Shri Ram wanted to throw me. I began to feel so sad... and I started to bring those feelings up again. I stood on kirtan and deliberately raised these feelings that he's not with me, that I don't even know what he looks like, that I think about others that it is he, that I am looking for him everywhere, in everyone, and I was routing this flow of new suffering to her head.

After that I thought that Ram was very hurt by her actions. After all, she then left him and women always were leaving him, many, many lives. And in this life he had three wives and they abandoned him, ruthlessly. And then I connected him to her, and I routed his suffering into her head. From him it went to gray-brown stream with yellow flashes. I pulled his suffering out of him and sent it straight to her head, where I changed the contacts, took down all the fuses and put a protection that no one could remove. And she felt all his suffering as her own. She was feeling in the present moment, right now all his suffering that he had suffering during this life and even before.

When was a good, powerful kirtan, I took my karatalas, the metal plates for pounding beat, and began to knock by it and imagine that I'm standing with my karatalas inside her head and with all his might knock by it. I was knocking right inside her head and thinking, «You've spent so many lives stealing husbands from families... You thought no one would do anything to you. You considered yourself a great expert in stealing husbands from families... Here is your retribution for it, get!» I played my karatalas inside her head and saw her head began to fall apart in pieces, as if the parts of the puzzle were falling out of the general mosaic, of the strength of her mind.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And when I was playing the karatalas, the metal plates for pounding beat, inside her head my Shri Ram said, I realized that he was begging me: «Spare her, please, have pity». I stopped, I thought: why should I feel sorry for her? She showed me no mercy. She did not regret me, not a bit. And I think: Aha... why is he suddenly begging me to spare her? Maybe because he was with her? Maybe that's why he's begging me to spare her. I took my karatalas and began to knock with even more force inside her head, so she all fell apart. The kirtan lasted for a long time. Bhakti Bhringa Govinda Swami came to us, and he led kirtan for two hours exactly. And for the past two hours, I've been was playing the karatalas inside her head.

After, the next day, I added a few more servings of suffering for her so she felt them, and I began to spin her like a toy whirlabout, spinning her head as if her head was a fully opened water lily. Someone from the asuras tried to help her and close this water lily, but I rummaged in her head and swapped there the contacts. There formed my labyrinth, which nobody can pass.

And there she was connected to my suffering and the suffering of Shri Ram for many, many days, during which she gradually began to fall apart and completely collapsed, there were not even ruins left. She didn't go crazy; she just fell apart, piece by piece. If she went crazy, it would be too easy for her and it would be wrong. It was necessary that she felt it all at herself, and she felt it, until she've gone out into her next lives, into the best her lives. Thus retribution was committed. The woman who invaded our couple with Shri Ram many, many lives ago and because of which I was left alone for so many lives was punished. And leaving a woman without a husband leads the whole society into chaos and degradation.

But it was turn of punishment the others who were involved in the converting my Ram into the asur. After all, when Shri Ram revealed to me the facts about the participation of this asuri woman in his converting, I sent a request about her punishment somewhere into the Universe, so to speak, into Universe Patrol. I then sent a request only about this woman, but Shri Ram gave me the idea that it is necessary to punish all who somehow was involved in that event. I didn't know who it was about, but since the request was sent and granted, it was the turn of punishment for the other participants. And very soon.

This woman is very lucky that I only gave her only our suffering, mine and Shri Ram. She was a big expert of men, a lover to stole husbands from wives, and she was asuri, that is, she was using in her dirty work the most horrendous and vile methods, asuric. She did not disdain anything. And how many couples she broke and how many women she left alone in this world. If I had connected her to the suffering of these women, whom she had made deeply unhappy, her brain would have exploded immediately and she would have understood nothing and simply would not have had time to make any conclusion. But the main thing was not punishment, but vaccination — so that she gets a persistent aversion to such behavior and such activities, on a subconscious level, so that even a hint more at this she would never have.

And what about those men who, because of work of that woman with them, abandoned their wives and earned a heavy karma due to which women will always throw them? She did not respect them at all, they were just cannon fodder for her, pitiful little people, male individuals, greedy for her lady bits. I could to add to those suffering also the suffering of those men who, because of machinations of that woman, have brought upon themselves the seal of a pariah, who is always thrown. I could to add to those suffering also and those operations on the heart of the many men whom she has deceived, and who of them as a result of this have become asuras, like my Shri Ram, and then caused much grief to others...

She was such bait on a string, a shiny, attractive, delicious lure, on which is always stupid fish are biting, which is then fried in a frying pan and safely eaten. Because of her how many people, men, became asuras... No, this woman got off easy.... She's lucky that I gave her a suffering of only our couple with Shri Ram. Yes, of course, felt sorry for her, but what to do. Work is work. And there is such a thankless job as a job of demigod Shani, who few understood and who was silent when he was accused of cruelty, bias and pursuit of personal interests, while he was just doing his Dharma, his duty.

64. The artel of craftsmen

This woman reminded me of those sessions with pillow in which I was looking for Shri Ram and some personalities came to me and offered me their help so that I would forget Shri Ram altogether and accept another man as my eternal couple, a new eternal couple. Then I refused their offer. I didn't choose the path of vengeance, no. I decided to dance the dances of devotion to the Deities on the higher planets. And many lives I was dancing dances of devotion.

And after that at me appeared feelings for Deity of Lord Nrisimhadev, and during one of the dances of devotion from me by itself went to Him the call: «Become my husband!» And Nrisimhadev accepted it. And He, being my husband, began to fulfill my desires, including those wishes which I had when Ram was made as asur and I was alone...

When those personalities showed me what had become of my Ram, I swore that I would take revenge on the asuras, so cruelly that their whole world would shudder. And that's when I became the wife of Nrisimhadev, He began to fulfill and this my desire. And in this life I had to act in such a role, a very ungrateful mean, when you don't know whom there I actually destroys and punishes... These thoughts raged in my mind, and I remembered sessions with pillow. Shri Ram reminded me one moment of those sessions when I was shown what had become of him, and I had exclaimed with disgust and shudder in my voice, «What is it?»

Then I didn't know what was said there about, because I didn't see what it was, I was just uttering the words. I thought and what if it was my Ram after the hellish worlds, when he started his evolution again first as a mineral, and then higher and higher. Maybe then I kept him in the form of some nasty maggot when he grew up the evolutionary ladder from minerals to higher bodies? Maybe I was holding him like a slug, to whom I was disgusted to touch, but at the same time it was he, my eternal husband, but in such a body? Maybe then he came to me as a kind of disgusting nasty pet, so that at least in the body of a slug, but to be with me, because we are an eternal couple. I thought there might be something like that. From what else could I have experienced such a strong disgusting feeling that sounded in “what is it?”. Only such a picture came to my mind, as if they gave him to me when he was a slug or something disgusting, they say, your eternal husband has come to such a form of life, take him, he is yours, and I was with him as with a pet.... That's what I supposed then.

But now, when I was thinking of all this, Shri Ram revealed to me what it was all about. As always, he did this by putting thoughts and memories into my mind. This time about all those asuras I have already dealt with... And there was something nasty in each of them, some kind of their asuric thingy that was very dangerous for people and that had to be removed. Like those scary black tentacles in Svadhithana at one of them. Shri Ram revealed to me, that when I has exclaimed, «What is it?» I saw this disgusting thingy, which was attached to his asuric nature and which is dangerous and extremely disgusting.

Why he was not afraid to reveal that to me is unclear... But it was very risky. Because when I have a couple of times as something went inside him, I hardly stopped myself to not start to destroy all asuric in him, and I out of him. I deliberately was braking myself down so I wouldn't see what he had there, what I would kill with him. And now he conveyed to my mind, that he has it «what is it»... I would not have thought of this myself... And I thought: «He has some sort of thingy and he's using this thingy doing abominations. And even now».

I instantly went into such a rage that I was immediately inside him as in some corridor, and I wanted to burn this corridor, immediately, by my flamethrower. And I almost started to burn him with my fire, but suddenly remembered a screenshot with Krishna from «Mahabharata», where Krishna seemed to say: «Stop... hold your horses... chill out»... I don't know how I could stop, because I already felt this abomination in him. I realized that he has this thingy «what is it» that I now will burn out it completely, and together with this thingy will burn everything at him, nothing will remain. But Krishna in that screenshot slowed me down, and I thought that for some reason Krishna gave me this Shri Ram. But not so I'd get mad and kill him. Krishna gave him to me not to so.

And somehow I was able to cope with my rage. I tried to wrap all my rage in the ice so that my anger does not continue its destructive action, because the process had already begun. I was very scared. It turns out that my Ram wanted to have power over people and so he allowed himself to install this thingy, and I, it turns out, love to mock asuras, and cruelly strike out them... It turns out that I'm no better than them. Just another pole, but, in principle, the same. He has some kind of asuric disgusting thingy there, «what is it», and I brutally destroy them.

I managed to slow down; I got out of his corridor and tried to calm myself. I became very depressed. He is my second half, but he has some kind of an asuric abomination, that I was ready to completely destroy him, to burn everything completely. I thought that there is no perspective, since he has «what is it», but it doesn't suit me and to be with someone who has this «what is it», I do not want, I'm afraid of this and it disgusts me.

But then I calmed down, and Shri Ram gave me a new idea, that my anger and my rage should be directed to someone, because there is some craftsman of theirs, who installed it all on him, who carried out their asuric initiation and put into him «what is it». First he was recruited by a recruiter who applied for this many tricks and slipped Shri Ram contract. The second participant was a woman-asuri who seduced him, yanked him out of our couple and influenced him to agree to become as asur. They seduced him with the fact that in sex he would become irresistible and no woman would turn away from him and look at other men, because she would be completely satisfied with him in sex. And besides these two, there was a third one who was involved in the fact that my Ram became an asur. It was a craftsman who is conducting the replacement of human nature in asuric.

Shri Ram conveyed to my mind that there is someone who have installed to him this thingy «what is it» because of which I was in such a rage plunged that I was barely able to stop. I could to destroy him completely, my eternal couple. And Shri Ram conveyed to my mind that my rage should be directed to this craftsman. Shri Ram told me that this craftsman did it not only to him. They wanted to installed asuric programs and on me, but Krishna saved me... Shri Ram said that craftsman have installed a lot of these vile thingy «what is it» into people. Shri Ram took a big risk, revealing it to me, he risked his life.

And I understood who was next in line. Not the king, but some craftsman, a great expert in his craft. I remembered that I had filed a complaint against all of them, who was somehow involved in the fact that my Ram became asur. And it seems to me they are all given me, therefore and this craftsman suddenly surfaced with the thingy «what is it» in my Shri Ram. Apparently, among those who were involved in this, there was not enough of this craftsman, who carried out the procedure of replacing usual human nature with an asuric nature. Of those who were involved in this, I had already dealt with the recruiter and the woman who seduced him with her charms. And after them it is necessary to deal with the one who made him as asur, who is conducting the actual procedure conversion of people in the asuras, who is conducting the replacement of human nature in asuric and the addition of these nasty thingy, abominations of «what is it».

This «what is it», this kind of their asuric terrible thingy is installed into every newly converted asur when replacing at people normal human nature to asuric nature. I saw this thingy in my Ram, when I was shown it between my lives, a very, very long time ago, even before I went to dance the dances of devotion to the Deities on the higher planets and then as Mata Hari many lives to destroy the most powerful, inaccessible to anyone asuras in the asuric world.

And then, upon learning from Shri Ram, what do those my words «what is it» mean, which I said a long time ago, many lives back, I was suddenly inside of him and nearly killed him, blazing with fury to his asuric thingy. That is, this thingy has been in him for so many lives, since then and was unchanged. I thought about it a lot and became more and more convinced that there are no prospects for the development of our contact with him. Our relationship with him does not and will not have any prospects, because I can't be with him while he has this thingy in him. And then he conveyed to my mind that you're the wife Nrisimhadev, why not believe Him, because Nrisimhadev He Himself is God, He can do everything, why don't you believe Him, trust Him, and then He will arrange...

I thought: and really, why do I suddenly had given up on that? And what if I really in some form of wife Nrisimhadev? That thought, of course, is completely absurd and strange. But what if it is true? After all, I am not a body, but a soul. I have lived many lives in the material world. And maybe I really once became the wife of Nrisimhadev and I continue His wife? Just living in this body, in this life, I don't know, I don't see, I don't feel it and therefore this thought seems strange and ridiculous to me. But what if it's all true? Why on earth did I come up with such a story that I became the wife of the Deity of Nrisimhadev? But what if He is actually my husband? He fulfills my desires, He protects me, He gives me to frolic in full in this material world. I as Mata Hari, as the inspector of Universe Patrol was destroying many villains, punishing many terrible universal criminals, carried out secret combat operations. I was a conductor of souls into their best incarnations, and Nrisimhadev was always with me, and I was always with Him. And Shri Ram said to me, «Please don't reject, and don't close the path. And what if the lack of perspective is temporary? What if the prospect appears? Trust your Supreme husband, Nrisimhadev», and I had heeded to his words.

After some time I tuned in to the craftsman who carries out the very procedure of replacing nature and installs on people the asuric nature with asuric terrible thingies. I saw him on my internal screen and began to pull something out of him. There was something like molten rubber, gray-silver viscous mass. Here I remembered how at the end of the 65th series I told that it is necessary to rip out at him everything, all hands and feet, together with roots and with meat. I thought that I said it for a reason. I thought that the roots are the same craftsmen as he is, those who are connected with him there, who also does what he does, that they have a whole artel of such artisans, and hands and feet are their assistants, apprentices.

I thought about them and saw around him a large network, as the Internet. This network consisted of the same craftsmen as himself. There were many such craftsmen. These were those whom I designated the word «roots». These were his colleagues, his arms and legs in this dirty business, his assistants and apprentices. And I thought, we should have done away with all them. Well, I will neutralize one of them, and all the others, the roots, will remain and continue to do their dirty work. And I saw how he is connected with all of them, they have an artel, and each has its own specialization, its favorite techniques, its favorite chips, thingy, and they are all connected together.

And I connected all of them to him and I began to pull this mass out of them, simultaneously of all of them... I pulled from them a lot gray-silver viscous caoutchouc. I began to imagine that I pull out of them all their knowledge and experience, skills, everything that they have gathered for many, many, many lives in the role of such craftsmen who made from people the asuras, because at the end of the 65th series, I said that it is necessary to pull out of him everything together with the roots and meat. And their experience, skills and knowledge were as a meat. I pulled everything out of them like a soft stretching toffee with a metallic sheen. They forgot it forever and will never remember it again and will not be able to do anything like that.

After that I turned on the mantras. It's was the Narasimha Maha Mantra «Ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham». When I listened and sang this mantra, out me, along with this mantra, began to went into them red-hot red magma, as if from an erupting volcano, with a very high temperature that melted everything and burned everything away at them. I did all this while washing the dishes. When the dirty dishes ended, I left these craftsmen until the next stage...

65. The clue from Urfin Jus and the seven underground kings

It was August 17, 2017. The next day was Ekadashi, a very auspicious day and I decided it's a good idea to make them all on this auspicious day so they will get more good.

I thought what to do with them, and I remembered two books by Alexander Volkov — «Urfin Jus and his Wooden Soldiers» and «Seven underground kings». In the book «Urfin Jus and his Wooden Soldiers» were wooden soldiers. They were evil. Scarecrow painted them beautiful, funny kind faces instead of evil faces, and they completely forgot that they were evil and ruthless. They retrained and became kind and useful to all. And in the book «Seven underground kings» the kings oppressors of the people drank soporific water, they fell asleep, and when they woke up, they became like newborn children and then became very different.

They were told that they were good, useful to all people, and they absorbed these new definitions of their personalities and began to live in accordance with it, not even knowing that they were once kings, oppressing their people. They acquired useful professions, specializations and began to bring good to everyone. And the burden of the seven kings who had only exploited their people was lifted. Just because all these seven kings drank that soporific water at the same time.

I decided that it's a good idea to repaint their faces that they become completely different, useful and good, and to give them soporific water, so that they all at the same time forget who they were and what they were doing, and that irrevocably become useful and bringing the good, then there will be the maximum effect. I decided to do it with all these craftsmen, with the whole and the artel. I decided to hold this action the next day, August 18, Annada Ekadashi, which instantly overcomes all the misfortunes from which a person suffers because of past sinful activities.

I decided to use the power of this auspicious Ekadashi to make all of them devotees of Krishna, to give them soporific water, so that they would lose all their knowledge and skills. I decided to put the Hare Krishna mantra on all parts of their bodies, both outside and inside, carve them new, smiling faces. I decided to put tilaka on their forehead and give them all a leaf of tulasi, so that they become zealous pure devotees of Krishna, began to sing Hare Krishna on harinams and do a good deed — to return all into the spiritual world, to remind people of Krishna.

They will be fearless, and they will go to the most dangerous places, where it is scary to even pronounce the mantra Hare Krishna. But since they did it with my eternal husband and with many other people, I give them such a blessing that they fearlessly will go in the most terrible, most dangerous places where it's scary to talk about Krishna, because it is dangerous for life. And since I told this, they will go there in their next lives and many, many lives will be there, in those most terrible and dangerous places for Krishna devotees to preach Krishna consciousness.

I gave them all such blessing, parting wishes. I gave them the way in their next lives. Since they have done so many nasty things to people, let them be devotees of Krishna, ardent, fearless. As the Bible says, «So the last will be first». Of course, I feel sorry for them because they will preach where it is dangerous, but Krishna said not to spare them, because someone needs to spread Krishna consciousness there, and it will be right to send there those who did so much evil to people. To send there those who was making people as asuras. To send there those who was installing on them those asuric terrible disgusting thingies, because of which a lot of evil was done over who could not oppose the action of these vile asuric thingies.

They will be forgiven for their fearless preaching where it is dangerous, and then return into the spiritual world, because they really will deserve it and will want it passionately. If they will preach about Krishna in such places, then Krishna will certainly give them His mercy.

In the first phase of dispatch into the future, into best lives the artel of craftsmen, who did the very procedure of converting people into asuras, I through the network, by which the craftsman and all his companions were connected, pulled out of all of them all their skills, knowledge, developments. And then I let into them a red-hot magma, as from the center of the Earth, which burns everything. And the next day, Annada Ekadashi, I performed the second phase of this operation. All this Ekadashi I fasted on water only, and I decided to use the power of this Ekadashi to bring the matter before the end and destroy this guild of craftsmen.

I was going to get to drink these craftsmen soporific water, that they have forgotten everything: who were they, their inclinations, abilities, their desires. I was going to carve instead of the creepy, scary warlike faces new faces, fun, good, playful. I was going to color them differently and to put on all of them the Holy name of Krishna, so that they will always be at the forefront, at the spearhead of Krishna consciousness on this planet Earth.

I realized my mistake when I sent the Swedish great asur, the organizer of the asuric totalizator, to some better, healing world to a higher plan planet where there is no movement of Krishna consciousness and the blessings of Srila Prabhupada. As an inspector of the Universe Patrol, I have the authority to decide the future of the persons to be given me and to determine their future, so I decided, by sending them to their next lives, to leave everyone here on planet Earth, from where they could go into the spiritual world through such a splendid opportunity, the mission of Srila Prabhupada, Hare Krishna mantra, harinama and ISKCON's programmes.

66. The soporific water and new face for the artel of craftsmen

And so began Ekadashi, a very auspicious day, powerful, carrying the most beneficial energy. We with children went to the beach, swim, sunbathe, the benefit was August 18, summer, heat. It was like this. We were going to the beach, I was chanting the Hare Krishna mantra, and at some point, when I was chanting the mantra, I saw on my internal screen this artel again, they all sat and waited for me. And I put a sucker on each one of those craftsmen, like the suckers on the tree frog's feet. I look: at everyone on top of the suction cup, and suckers softly slightly are submerged in them. I trusted the process, then we sat down to sunbathe on the beach, and I suddenly see, and these suction cups in everyone have submerged more.

I looked at them and thought on what it might be like. And I got association with hirudotherapy, leech therapy. When a medicinal leech is sucked to the place where it is necessary to drink blood, and slowly sucks it out, at the same time it injects into the bite the enzymes contained in its saliva, which have a therapeutic effect. That is, the leech sucks blood, and at the same time from its saliva into the blood, as it comes into contact with the bloodstream, therapeutic enzymes are released, which purify the human body, and the diseases go away. And even if you tear off the leech, this wound does not heal the whole day and continues to bleed.

And I thought that's what I'm doing with them. I have attached a suction cup to each of them, thanks to which they receive some medical substances, some programs that soften everything inside them, and there some medical process realized. And at the same time I suck something out of them. I really saw how through these suckers into me from them something went, and at once from all, wholesale. When these suction cups were doing their job and something was drawn into me and at the same time everything slowly was softened inside them, I remembered how the spider deals with its victim.

The spider injects into its victim some kind of toxin that dissolves the victim's innards and turns them into liquid cocktail, and then spider, savoring, slowly, long pulls of this sacrifice this liquid cocktail. And I imagined that through these suckers, which lie on every one of the craftsman, from me into them injected some toxin that completely softens all of their insides and turns all into a liquid cocktail, so well works, all, everything inside corrodes, and there becomes quite liquid. I was lying on the beach, sunbathing, chanting a mantra and imagining it all.

After a while I suddenly look, there somehow it came about: at one of them all inside became a liquid, and from him through this suction cup this entire liquid cocktail into me instantly sucked. And then I look: and the rest are ready, and from the rest of them this liquid cocktail began to be sucked into me, instantly. Then they all turned into a dry empty shell, like at insects, when you walk, you see the alleged grasshopper sitting, and really just the bare shell of the grasshopper.

And they all become so empty shells, like empty shells from grasshoppers, and I got the impression that they're going to fly away in the wind. I thought that our scenario is not such. They should not fly away, we need to give them a drink of soporific water and make them pure zealous devotees of Krishna, who will preach Krishna consciousness in the most dangerous places of our planet.

And then I took a tremendous pin. I pierced each such empty shell with a pin and stuck pin-up each pin to myself so that it would not fly away. They are all on these pins became impaled, they didn't fly away, and then I began to fill them in that soporific water, which was externally similar to the white juice of milkweed or horse glue, the same viscous, opaque. I had associations with the juice of milkweed, celandine; it is also a little liquid, viscous, white and very therapeutic. And I them in all, every such empty shell, strung on a great big pin, filled this juice of milkweed, the soporific water that filled all these empty shells.

And afterwards, I saw how in a white marinade with which they were all soaked and by which were marinated them very well, the names of Krishna began to swim. I remembered the 239th series from the new «Ramayana», which I watched just before that, in which the son of Ravana Tarini came to Rama and his whole body was written out by the holy names of Vishnu-Narayana, to whom he worshipped. I remembered how Tarini had told Rama that he had always been a devotee of Narayana, that the name of Narayana was written on his body and reigns in his mind.

And in that white, viscous marinade inside those empty shells, that's the way Krishna's names started to float and imprint on them inside and out, reigning in their minds. I filled it all with names of Krishna. Names was swimming there and imprinting on them as the footprints of Krishna. And names even was appearing through the hollow shells to the outside, such good was a marinade and so much there floated the names of Krishna.

And at some point, each of those former craftsmen flashed like a star and began to emit a bright golden light. I continued to chant the mantra on the shore, sunbathing and watching on my inner screen as they beam like stars and shine with bright golden light.

And then I saw that they all turned into light fluffy umbrellas from dandelions and each flew like the umbrella to where they needs will to preach on the planet Earth the mercy of Srila Prabhupada, Krishna consciousness, into the most dangerous places of the world. But they will be absolutely fearless, they all sat on my sharp pin, each on own spearhead, and now without this feeling they can not live. They must go to the very spearhead, where everyone is afraid, and they will go there and preach about Krishna.

Of course, several times I was sorry that I send them to such places, but someone has to do it. And they deserved it. In principle, they would be given a very different punishment for this, a completely hopeless, much more severe punishment, they would not have any opportunity to see anything good, but here they have the opportunity to spread Krishna consciousness. They've already got that opportunity. And they will do it where it is most needed, because there it is not present and there it is dangerous.

I saw this artificer, who once made my Ram an asur and post-its on him some terrible nasty thingy. He was sitting in front of an unusual Golden Deities. Like as Radha-Krishna. I saw him sitting in front of them, dark-skinned, and crying in front of them. And since he made my Ram as asur, and I am his eternal couple, his eternal wife, then I have the right to give him a future, and I wrote him such a script. He will spread Krishna consciousness in the most dangerous places of our planet for many, many lives in a row. He will always strive to where it is dangerous.

He will even be very famous, he will always have dark skin, and he will always have some unusual Golden Deities, small, 15 centimeters tall, and he will always cry in front of them, shed tears and pray to the Lord: «Krishna, I love You so much. Krishna, please empower me to preach Krishna consciousness where it is not possible. Krishna, I want to bring Your light, the light of Your knowledge to those people who are forbidden to do so. Please direct me to where it is most dangerous. I'm ready. Let me it». And Krishna will allow him to do so.

He will be crucified many lives, many times, but for him it is better, because otherwise he would have fallen into hell and there he would be crucified much stronger, more painful and longer, absolutely without perspective, but he was lucky. He will escape hell and will serve Krishna and will preach Krishna consciousness. He will be very famous, everyone will say about him: «Lord, how he is fearless, no one goes there, and he goes there and does. He is being crucified, but he chants Hare Krishna, feels nothing, absolutely nothing». And because of that, many, many people will be attracted to Krishna consciousness, many. He will greatly help Krishna consciousness, its spread, and Krishna will take him into spiritual world together with the rest of Krishna's devotees, in this Kali Yuga, long before its entry into full rights.

67. The informative balcony

At that time, the next, the 9th series of the series «Mahakali» has been released. In it Parvati said Daruka-wife, that we should not run from the problem, you have to go and solve it. And Shri Ram gave me the idea that I should not run away from the problem, that he has some kind of an asuric thingy, which for me is completely unacceptable and in the presence of which I can not be with him. He gave me such thoughts that I, as a kind of inspector of Universe Patrol, who can do something with the asuras, can remove this thingy from him by some point impact, aim and in one place to do something with this thing and remove it, pull it out of him, without affecting anything else.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I was scared at first, will I be able to stop in time, what if I can not stop and I will destroy him completely? But he somehow assured me that don't worry, everything will be good, somehow we will cope with it that I not all of them completely destroyed. Those terrible black tentacles in Svadhithana I simply removed, and he lives. And at the one with the red eye who intended to kill my Shri Ram in battle, too, I only removed his red eye and poured small metal shavings into his brains so that all his decisions were wrong, but he himself remained intact. And I have some confidence began to appear.

And about the same time I opened the sofa. In it was a nice duvet that I had been given to me by a friend of mine. I have not used it for a long time, only when it is cold, and here summer, August, I have a lot of other blankets, too good, and I wanted to give this blanket to neighbors, to whom I occasionally give something. I hear they're walking down the hall to their apartment, I pop out with this blanket, I say, «This is for you». The neighbor took this blanket and holds it. I look at blanket... Blanket is so nice, big, warm, light, so soft, so nice, downy... A real downy duvet.

And I look at it, and I felt sorry to give this blanket, it's so good... I think, «What am I giving such a good blanket? For what purpose do they need it? I'll need it myself». And I say to them: «This blanket is cool, I even feel sorry to give it, it is so nice, so good, I like it, just wanted to give something. So sorry, as if I tear it from my heart». And my neighbor looks me in the eyes significantly and says: «Do not be sorry». And I answer: «I do not regret anything», remembering the song of Mark Savin «I do not regret anything with you together, with you together».

Days fly by like seagulls over the sea.

The memory is filled with excerpts of different stories.

Let I still failed to do what I wanted,

Let once fell, and once soared.

I'm not saying big words, don't believe in love,

But I believe in you and I want to be with you.

And no matter what's going on around,

My life is we; my life is made up of two.

I gave the blanket to my neighbors. I come home, and I have a thought: it is Shri Ram through the eyes of this neighbor looked at me and he spoke to me allegorically through the words of a neighbor that you should not regret, you have to remove this thing from him, completely, ruthlessly. I was scared: what if I touch somehow Shri Ram, and he is my husband. And will I be able to do it? And anyway, do I need to remove it? And actually, what it is, what this thingy is, I haven't seen it no one time and I'm afraid to look at this thingy. What if I look and I'm horrified? But he told me not to regret it, it is necessary to remove it. And I decided I would do it.

I didn't know if I could do it, but I made a decision. And the main thing is to make a decision. When you make a decision, everything else adapts to that decision and leads you. And when I told about it in the 68th series of my novel, on the desktop of my computer there was a screenshot from «Mahabharata», where Krishna pushes the chariot in which Draupadi goes, and I took it as something that Krishna supports this my decision and will help me.

Then, in the 68th series, I tried to somehow shed light on what kind of thing he has and for what, based on a photo of the balcony of a cottage I liked. Once I was walking on the street, reading a mantra and watching what cottages I like. One of them I liked the most, but I really did not like there balcony, I'm with the owner of the house talked, and he said that the balcony was in a model project, he could not cancel it, and he built a house in ancient times, he had to just choose from the options offered to him.

And I then thought that this balcony is a projection of that asuric thing in my Shri Ram, because I really liked the whole house, but the balcony was spoiling the whole view. And then I took a picture of that balcony and in this 68th series I tried to comment more on this photo in the hope that in the words I will say I will find clues hidden in my words about that asuric nasty thing, which I now decided to completely remove from him.

Commenting on this picture, I said that this is a small balcony on the second floor, it is not beautiful, spoils the appearance of the house, it is completely non-functional. It's uncomfortable to sit on this balcony, you can't drink tea there, because there is little space. Sunset on this balcony you will not look, as the sunset on the other side of the house. Also on this balcony you will not see how swallows fly in the evening, because there people walk under the window, swallows do not fly. To dry the laundry on this balcony will not work, there in the wall stick large sharp pieces of iron, life-threatening, you can get hurt about them, and the balcony is quite small, there is no place for drying laundry. The balcony is visible to everyone, on the balcony you will not be able to relax in solitude. The balcony is not glazed, and you can fall down and break, but not to death, because it's not high, and under the balcony is not soft earth, but hard asphalt. Risk to life. And I decided to still do this — to remove from the cottage the balcony, that is to remove out of my Shri Ram that asuric thing.

When I watched the 9th series of «Mahakali», it seemed to me, as if through this series I was told about another asur, and I thought: «Oh my God, this Mahabharata continues». It began with the charges against Borka, against a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, and now it is going on. Yes, I understand that I am a member of some big team, and I now work here, being embodied in the body, living as human, and many my associates of this my team is now there somewhere between lives to insure me and direct, and I work blindly, only on trust, paying attention to the so-called signs of the Universe and understanding that through signs they talk to me. And I have to trust them. They see that those asuras had done and what he deserved, but I can't see it, but I realize that we are one solid team and much depends on my trust. Including my life.

68. Splinter, sensei of asuras

And here I look the 9th series of «Mahakali» and see that through it I am given the next character of our Mahabharata. When it came to me that I was told in this allegorical language, who he is and for what he brought our anger, I began to develop this theme. Asuras Shumbha and Nishumbha in the 9th series of «Mahakali» said that a woman's destination is live as a bedding under the man's feet. To these words Mahakali said: «Those who consider a woman a dust in the feet, to stomp into the dust is my destination».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I thought I was being given one of them who thinks that a woman's destination is to be a lay in a man's feet, and my destination is to trample him into the dust. Mahakali said there that when a woman makes herself into a weapon, then every villain will have to bow down. There was shown the story of a couple of asuras, and the husband was very rude to his wife, said her: «I behaved with you gently, and because have you grown bolder. You're pure while I'm your husband».

And from that I realized that this new asur, who is in line in our Mahabharata, is a married man, he has a wife, and he treats her very badly. And he is sure that I, like punishing asuras, in his direction won't even look, because he has a wife and she is very good woman. But he's next in our Mahabharata. He is some big asur, he has a very good wife, because Daruka-wife is very good, pious, faithful wife, faithful for goddess Parvati, pure soul, she loves her husband, honors him and does everything he says.

And the wife of this new asur is the same, as I was showed it through this story, through this series, which is not just came to me right now. This woman loves him very much, with great respect and reverence for him, but he does not respect her at all, threatens her that while he is with her, she is pure, they say, look, if you will behave badly, I will divorce you and you will be doormat. He blackmails her, saying that if I leave you, you will be defiled, you will be no one and nothing, and you are without me non-person. He drags her along by the hair and screams at her. All this about that new asur was shown to me in the 9th series of «Mahakali».

He says to her: «Your place is at my feet!» Like, you're a dog, my dog, like asuras love to treat their wives as dogs, do not consider them for people because asuras have some mystical abilities and are able to influence others, including his wife. And they think that because she succumbs to his manipulation of mind and do what he wants when he impacts on her by his abilities, then she's nothing, nobody, no different from small insignificant humans. And he kicking her in the face, his wife, who praying to the Lord for his protection.

He thought that he was well protected because his wife was praying for his protection, but Krishna told me that he had behaved badly with his wife, so he should not be pitied. Mahakali in this 9th series revealed that he every moment was killing his wife's self-respect, her marital fidelity. And who breaks a woman's faith has no right to live. Mahakali said so. This Daruka-husband in this series humiliates his wife, and she there for him intercedes. And it added to me feelings and desire to finish with such villain.

Daruka-wife in this series told Mahakali that she fulfilling her duties to her husband, her Dharma and doing her duty and now. Daruka-wife told that she has a duty as a wife to defend her husband, it is her Dharma. Thus Daruka-wife told Mahakali that Mahakali had no right to kill Daruka-husband, since Mahakali herself had given Daruka the blessing to fulfill her wishes whilst she performs her Dharma. But Mahakali said that this Dharma has long been destroyed and the promise associated with it, too. The promise of Mahakali was such that as long as Daruka-wife followed the Dharma of devotion to her husband, Mahakali would obey her words. But when there is no husband, then what might be the Dharma of devotion to her husband?

Daruka-wife said that she thinks only about her husband and she with him, protects him, so, like, you, Mahakali, needs to fulfill my desire and not to kill my husband. And Mahakali explains to her that a husband is one who follows the duty of devotion to his wife, who respects his wife, but who tramples on his wife, what kind of a husband is that? A husband is one who leads his wife on the path of Holiness, but who forces her to go on the wrong path, what kind of a husband? The husband is the one who uses the abilities of his wife for her prosperity, but who uses her power for her oppression, what is this husband? Mahakali said that a husband who feeds on the blood and labor of a woman is not a husband, but pain. And when there is no husband, then what is the duty of devotion to him? Husband and wife together fill the world, both are equal. Husband, which restricts the freedom of his wife, considers her not companion, but a maid, such a man is not a husband. Mahakali said Daruka-wife that she does not deserve to be the wife of such a husband.

And thus I realized that through these words I was explained that the wife of that great asur, who is now on the queue for striking out, deserves another husband, a good one, who will respect her, appreciate, and see what he got a diamond. Mahakali said Daruka-wife, that even knowing that he was going the wrong way, she did not try to stop him, whereas she performed the Dharma to her husband? If the foundation upon which the blessing is given is not fulfilled, how can the gift be fulfilled? And Mahakali said that who humiliates women, he has no right to live, and Mahakali cut off his head. Daruka-wife began to cry that Mahakali took her life, but Mahakali told her that there is no, that for the sake of the way from humiliation to self-respect, to get rid of the shackles, to know own essence, she will have to live. Mahakali told her that she would have to live to show that in any epoch where the dignity of a woman would be broken, Mahakali would come.

Thus I was given a new asur for the striking out and told I had to take care of his wife, as she would have to live to go from humiliation to self-respect. And also I was told through this series that it is necessary to attach this woman well that she needs a new husband, very good with whom she will shine with self-respect. After watching this series, I accidentally touched a toy, rat, sensei Splinter, from Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. And from that, I deduced that he was some big teacher of asuras sending them on assignments.

When I looked the 9th series of «Mahakali» and decided that now in my Mahabharata we have the next asur, I inadvertently caught clothes on my son's toy. It was Sensei Splinter, a great teacher in the movie Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, and I decided to find out more about this next asur using this series of «Mahakali» and pictures from the internet about Splinter, which I found in Yandex. When I realized that I was given the next asur for crossing out, I tuned in to him and saw as I rummage in his head.

When I looked at him standing in front of me on my inner screen, he reminded me very much of their great asur, patriarch, the so-called Bhisma, who in my Mahabharata was the second, after Borka, who was a leader of the Moscow asuric organization. Splinter was just as confident, just as pompous. This sensei Splinter was pretty sure I wouldn't look at him at all because he had a very good wife.

I saw her on my inner screen, she is so unhappy, she has such a miserable look. On the one hand, she asks me to regret him, because she loves him, and on the other hand, he so frazzled out her. He says her «Who you think you are? Who you are? You are no one, you are lower than underground» that she began to feel herself an all-time low, her self-esteem had hit rock bottom, she is even afraid to look up. He does not respect her for being a woman, and for the fact that she is a normal ordinary woman, who has everything in sex turns on normally.

He is a big asur, he is a coach, a mentor of asuras, he knows everything about the female part, clearly knows all about us women, how to suppress a woman and where to click on her women's centers, so that her sexual desire is activated and she wants sex. He can push any woman for sex. And his wife is the same as everyone else, she is a normal ordinary woman, who has everything in sex turns on normally when you press to her women's centers. And sensei Splinter as a big asur presses her women's centers, and at her immediately begins to increase sexual desire and she immediately wants to have sex with him, and he despises her for it that she is the same as all other women, easily influenced by his pressure, by his influence on her women's centers. He pressed her button at the energy plane of existence, and she can not do anything, just what he needs. And he said to her, «How dare you contradict me?» But she can not contradict him in any way. He pressed the button in her women's centers and do not let go, and at her process there is going full.

And his feeling of superiority over her is so has obscured his brains that now he is in my power and I will destroy him completely. But I felt very sorry for his wife. She's so pathetic, so good, and she can't be alone. He didn't just threaten her, that if he left her, she will lead a messy, slutty life. Because she has a well-developed sexuality and she definitely needs a man. He constantly criticized her, that she without sex week will not be able to live, and therefore, they say, without him she will acted like a tramp, like whore woman. But he was insincere. She's not like that.

Women are different. At some women, sexual desire is activated by itself, regardless of whether she has a man or not, and further development towards sexual release goes off by itself, just to relieve sexual tension, so that an orgasm occurs. And at some women, this is activated only on a specific man. And Splinter's wife has just such a case. Activation of her sexual desire is possible only on a specific man, that is, on her husband. And Splinter was such a scoundrel, he inspired her with such thoughts that she will not be able to live without sex and weeks, although her sexual desire does not turn on just from the desire of sex, but from him, because he is her man, her husband and she is destined for him. But he deliberately lowered her self-esteem and suppressed her as a woman completely. And she gives in to his influence and begs God to protect him, to forgive him all his sins, so that she does not go without him, because she allegedly without sex and a week will not last.

He says to her: «Your place is at my feet!» That is, you are no good for anything, except to be a sexual rag, a litter. And he in their married sex, which took place in the physical reality, on the physical level, was connecting to her at the energy plane of existence other men, his disciples, the asuras, whom he were taught of this technique, how to impact on women at the energy plane of existence that they flowed in the right direction and began to do what asuras want.

He was pressing invisibly at the energy plane of existence on some her button that turns on sexual desire, it immediately activated, she immediately went to him with open arms, they fell into bed, and they had an ordinary, seemingly, sex, ordinary body movements. But he was connecting to her at the energy plane of existence his students, many of whom knew her in real life, and they all fucked her through her husband's body, invisibly, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. I found out about it from a screenshots from 9th series of «Mahakali», where Daruka-husband was throwing his Daruka-wife to the floor and was smashing her by his feet in her face. After all, one of the meanings of the Russian word «пол» («the floor») in English is «sex», legs is what carries the body, what serves the body. That is, the fact that Daruka-husband threw Daruka-wife on the floor and kicked her face means that sensei Splinter deliberately was arousing sexual desire of his wife, so that all his students would fuck her through his body. This is clear from the fact that the husband kicked his wife in her face by his feet, that is, sensei Splinter was fucking his wife with his students, those who were in his submission and who served him. What an abomination!

I remembered how Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, pressed my women's energy centers like that. He was plugging unto me and my then husband. He forced us to have sex and fucked me through the body of my husband, but I didn't know about it, because only my husband was with me, there was no one else. But Borka was doing all this at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, we didn't even guess about it. And he was adding several of his asuras immediately at the energy plane of existence at me, and they all was fucking me together and pumped out with great pressure from me my female energy and my piety, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. For this, Boris and sought his wife. He was looking for a not beloved woman whom he would take care of and protect. He was looking for a woman who would think that she is his wife. He was going to use her for his perverted sexual whims, for pumping out of her female energy. And Shri Ram was adding in our sexual energy interaction through distance different other men. And this sensei Splinter was constantly indulging in this debauchery. He was including other men, his students in their ordinary marital sex, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, using his wife as a kind of simulator to teach his students this «art». He was using the love of his wife to himself and was adding his students to their sexual marital interaction. In fact, although she was engaging in sex on a physical level only with her husband, all his students was fucking her when he added them to this sex.

Such a big disrespect for her feminine dignity, such treachery, the destruction of her marital fidelity. She's faithful to him, her sexual desire is activated only on him, but he inserts other men in their sexual interaction, destroying her faithfulness. She is faithful to him in fact and wants to be faithful to him, but he does not appreciate her marital fidelity and uses for such abominations. He uses his wife to teach his pupils impact on women sexually. And so I was given this sensei Splinter.

I decided that because he was such a sensei in this life, a great master in martial arts both in real life and energetically, we would send him to the next lives and make him a great protector of Krishna consciousness, of ISKCON. Maybe he will be a great human rights activist or some protector of the Krishna consciousness movement, of ISKCON, but he will protect ISKCON, the Krishna consciousness movement, the Krishna devotees with all his soul and fervor for many, many lives.

It will certainly be very hard for her when he leaves, but she will have to live, as Mahakali in the 9th series of «Mahakali» so highly praised her feminine virtues and said that she will live to go from humiliation to self-respect.

69. The story of how Splinter flew away into his future lives

I felt sorry for her, I saw that when I cross him off, it will be very hard for her, and I'm in the 69th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» defied to asuras, telling them and looking them in the eyes through my videos that I am waiting for a good man for this woman. That I should be sure of him that he can be trusted with this woman. That only then with peace of mind I will destroy this Sensei Splinter.

I told them that any man of them would be happy to have such a diamond, but she needs one, good man, who will respect her, appreciate, who will be happy that she's fine in the sexual sphere, and who will cherish her, because her sexual desire turns on only for him, and not just like that. I told them that I wanted her to marry a man, who would be happy to have a wife like that, and who would never allow any other men to be involved in their intimate interaction, who would protect her and her marital fidelity to him and who would be faithful to her.

And I told asuras, looking into their eyes from my monitor, that this woman is no longer Splinter's wife, that his life is over, and that she is now completely free, since he had long since sold her. I told them that I am waiting for a man among them to be with her. I told them that Krishna himself will defend him for the fact that this man protects such a woman. I told them that whoever comes out of their ranks to accept that honor of being with such a woman would have to work hard to earn her trust and love, to revive her faith, because her belief is undermined. But effort is justified, be worthwhile.

I told them that she will have a big depression after Splinter will crossed out and I very hope that there will be some man who will protect her during this period and become her faithful and loving husband. All this I told asuras and continued to tell them about this sensei Splinter, already on the basis of humorous pictures from the cartoon about Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, downloaded from Yandex. It turns out sensei Splinter had been skimming off the top for years. He, even as a great mentor-Sensei, teaching them all these techniques, was withholding serious money. He was ratting out his comrades and patrons, so much he loved money. He used in his practice dirty, forbidden, dishonest techniques and methods and he taught his students that even they are ashamed of what he does and what they are taught.

On August 23, 2017, I recorded the 69th series, in which I told so much about Splinter and his wife, and the next day, August 24, I began to strongly torment doubts. I knew that Splinter's life came to an end and cross him off anyway have to, but I was very sorry for his wife, because the screenshots from the 9th series of «Mahakali» showed that she after this event, even will not want to live. And I was very depressed about it. It went on for more than half of August 24, and then suddenly a man appeared on my inner screen. Very good man... He stood before me, kneeling on one knee and reaching out to me with his open hand up, he was all like illuminated by happiness, with quiet hope.

He kind of assured me, I could feel it, that he is such, about which I said in the 69th series, appealing to asuras, that I am waiting for, when one of them will show his initiative and take full responsibility for this woman. And here he stands before me and assures me that my efforts have borne worthy fruit, that she will be fine, that he will take care of her, cherish her, surround her with love, will be happy to be with her. He was in full readiness and reassured me that this issue is resolved and I can safely do my job, knowing that this woman is in safe hands.

I spent half a day scanning him and tested for compliance with the requirements declared by me and the purity of his motives. I thought: why does he need her? Maybe, he need her to she defended him, to he became thus powerful asur, to whom no one can harm simply because, that he has such a woman? I realized that it's important too, but that's not the point. The main thing is that he is happy to be the husband of such a woman. And he somehow convinced me that everything will be good for her, that he will consider it an honor to take care of such a woman, that everything I want for this woman, he will perform. I thought maybe he needed her just to satisfy his sexual needs, dreams and hopes, or to connect at the energy plane of existence other men into their real intimate interaction?

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

But no, everything with his hand was clean, as I felt it. From him went such think that he takes this case under his control, under his full responsibility. I calmed down, looked at that sensei Splinter, and at me was activated the function of destroying the asuras. I poked him somewhere on top, and he began to fall apart in pieces. It was as if the rook's chess piece was standing and fragments, parts began to break away from it. I spent the whole day casting a glance at him on my inner screen and watched as fragments, whole lumps fall off from this large chess piece, from top to bottom and as his fortress slowly splits and turns into ruins.

In the evening I went to wash dishes. I decided that, since a lot of dirty plates have accumulated, there is time to do this Splinter. I've turned on protective mantras. And when Narasimha Maha Mantra sounded «Ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham» I looked at him. By this time, the top of his fortress was completely destroyed, the bottom were ruins. He was so disgusting to me, so I didn't want even to look at him, didn't want to do anything with him. I quickly pulled something out of him, well as I was pulling out of all of them, and then went right inside him and began to sing this Narasimha Maha Mantra inside him.

I was doing the dishes, listening to Narasimha Maha Mantra, sung it, and it impacted on sensei Splinter, and I was feeling it and seeing it on my inner screen. I was singing this mantra and mentally giving the order: «to kill», that he should be destroyed completely, because in the 9th series of «Mahakali», when he was shown to me, it was said that he has no right to live. And I just really felt that something like that happens to him somewhere. As if he's somewhere to is, I'm singing here, my dishes, these mantras, and mantras are impacting on him somewhere, pushing him out of the body. At some point I felt that his body crap one's pants there.

Then I thought we should turn on the Hare Krishna mantra, because I said that he would be the protector of Krishna consciousness, the protector of ISKCON, of the devotees of Krishna, and for that he should be reprogramed. I decided that I don't want to deal with sensei Splinter, I don't want to go inside him, I don't want to look him, I don't want to do anything with him. And because I wanted nothing to do with him, even on the subtle level, because he was repulsive to me, I thought I should entrust this matter to Krishna. I thought that Hare Krishna mantra is the best thing for this, because Krishna and Krishna's name are not different from each other.

I thought it best to turn on kirtan performed by Srila Prabhupada. I did not want Srila Prabhupada to have any contact with this Splinter, even through kirtan, but I thought that Srila Prabhupada is a pure devotee of Krishna and his kirtan has a very great transforming power, and since I don't want to deal with this disgusting Splinter, it would be better to turn on Hare Krishna kirtan and in the performance of Srila Prabhupada.

And I turned on kirtan performed by Srila Prabhupada, and I poured into a sensei Splinter from above white foam, like from a fire extinguisher, and filled him whole with this foam. I remembered the words of Prabhu Sasha, the senior devotee of Krishna from the Soviet times, from Tallinn, that Hare Krishna's mantra could cleanse everything, and I imagined that I am such a transparent environment through which Srila Prabhupada manifests himself inside sensei Splinter. I've washed the utensils and listened to kirtan performed by Srila Prabhupada and imagined I'm standing inside this sensei Splinter and through me Prabhupada himself singing kirtan in him, kirtan sounds inside Splinter and cleanses him whole.

At some point, I suddenly thought it was time for him to leave, and thought about his future lives, about his future, when he comes out of the body. And suddenly I really saw that he wanted to leave the body. He was tearing out of the body, and I said to him: «Listen, well, where are you going, well, wait a little bit. Srila Prabhupada is singing. Srila Prabhupada for you sings, personally, you understand? I ask you to be patient. I want you to get the mercy, the good. The more you listen to Srila Prabhupada, you will be better, the more benefit you will receive», but he somehow mentally answers me: «I do not want to be in this desecrated body for a second or a split second, I do not want to be in this desecrated body anymore».

That is, Hare Krishna mantra so purified him that he really begged: «Please, let me go, I will go to the next body, into my next life. I don't want to be in that desecrated body anymore. Let me go, please, let me go». He himself did all the atrocities and abominations when he lived in this body, but now he begged to release him from this body, so much. He couldn't tolerate those abominations that were associated with this body, but I was not letting him go. I begged him several times: «Well, be patient, well, at least a little bit be patient, well, please. Listen to the Hare Krishna mantra. By listening to the Hare Krishna mantra, you will receive such a blessing that you never even dreamed of. This is the greatest good. Listen a little longer, please. It will help you a lot». But he said, «I can't take it anymore, I can't, please let go».

And I decided that if he very much asks, I will let him go. And I let go him, and he flew somewhere. I looked at his ex-body, it was like an empty shell, and he wasn't there, he was already flown. He felt so strong disgust from what he was doing in his life, living in this body, that instantly flew somewhere up, even with some whistling. I still decided to stand inside his empty shell and continued to listen to kirtan there and I began to pray to Krishna that He would take care of sensei Splinter, to make him His devotee, to make him His pure devotee. I prayed to Krishna that He would give him love for Krishna and let him become the protector of Krishna consciousness, of ISKCON, devotees of Krishna. I prayed to Krishna that He would make him a greatest protector, that all his future lives he had connected with Krishna consciousness and that Krishna made him His pure devotee. I very fervently asked, and Krishna fulfills the desires of His devotees, and even of devotees like me. This is how the asuric part of the existence of that sensei Splinter in the material world ended and the next phase began — the service for Krishna and the return into the spiritual world.

70. Detaching the asuric thingy «what is it?» from Shri Ram

When sensei Splinter with a whistle flew away to his future lives as Krishna's devotee, a great protector of Krishna consciousness, of ISKCON and Krishna's devotees, I'm still washing the dishes and listened to kirtan. And then came my Shri Ram, and seemed to say to me, say, maybe during the washing up and the kirtan of Srila Prabhupada and from him remove the asuric thing? I refused, I have a strong fear was, I all these days was delaying this deal, but he as would wanted to. And then I thought I could try.

I tuned in to him and saw him on my inner screen standing in front of me, and in his forehead, in the area of the third eye was burning a lamp, like a miner's lamp, and from there to me was a stream of light, like a fire. I flow into this glowing stream and let something in him in this glowing stream from me. And I see he's got a big hole there. I went in this hole, looked down, passed a little lower, and came somewhere just below the throat, and there is something like felt, and I thought: here it is, this asuric thing. I thought: what am I going to do with this thing, I don't know. I didn't even look at it.

I was a little scared, but I remembered the screenshot that came out at the moment when I was in the 68th series of my novel told about this terrible asuric thing. On screenshot, Krishna was pushing the chariot in which Draupadi was riding after the wedding. I remembered this screenshot and thought: Krishna will help me. And I surrendered to Krishna during the kirtan of Srila Prabhupada and asked Krishna to help me.

I see: at the energy plane of existence some bulging place is on him and my hands themselves perform some accurate movements as if my hands disconnect something from him. It looked like I was opening some kind of locks on this bulge, unplug this attached piece from him. As if some kind of attached piece is fastened to him, and I undo, untie what is holding this attached piece on him. And it happened besides my awareness, somehow in itself, I detachedly, as if from the side looked at it, and my hands were doing something there. And then I thought it was all done.

I stood and sang a mantra inside him with the idea that the Hare Krishna mantra all in him will ennoble, as if will do tuning. I sung and left. Then I went outside to chant a mantra, was a summer warm evening, the street is quiet and so good. I sat on a swing, I sit, chant mantra. I thought to look there. I looked inside him: some dark thing there is. I thought: did I take that thing off him or not? I did not know what I had done inside him. I had big doubts. And I thought: need to do something else.

And I began to chant the mantra inside him, while swinging on the swing. And then I saw there is such a big powerful stream of water inside him which was washing everything inside. I was chanting the mantra, standing inside him, and the stream of light blue clean clear water flowed for a long time, and then inside him a bright star was lit on navel level and there began to shine. After that, I thought a lot, and whether this thing was removed from him or not?

I was not sure, but I thought that the answer somehow should come to me and if that, I will repeat it. It was August 24, and on September 2 I had a dream in which I was with my Shri Ram and in which he told me that he had lost a lot of weight. When I woke up, I thought that somehow strange he said to me: «lost weight» and that in fact he was talking about the asuric thing, which some personalities showed me in him many, many lives ago, between lives, convincing me that we have no future, as he became asur and he has this thing, and offering me help in breaking our eternal connection.

They offered me another man to choose as my new couple, but I refused. And then, when those personalities showed me between lives what my Ram had become, and when I saw that thing he had, I cried out with disgust and disgust in my voice, «What is it?» And here I am in this life somehow, I don't know how, removed the asuric thing from him, but I had not full confidence: maybe it all just seemed to me, maybe nothing happened, but my Shri Ram in the dream said that he lost weight. And I sit and think that he told me about that thing, because to lose weight — it is to throw off the extra pounds, throw off the excess.

I thought: what, I really removed this thing from him?! Well, in General, it is logical, of course: first to remove all that artel of craftsmen who installed those asuric pieces, and then to remove the asuric thing from him. If I had removed the asuric thing from him before, they could install another thing on him. But I first destroyed the whole artel, removed them all — and after that you can remove that thing: no one will fix anything, a new one will not installed, as there is simply no one to installed, all went to their future lives. So from this point of view, everything is logical: first removed the craftsmen who installed those things, and then the thing was removed, irrevocably and for sure.

But I was still in doubt, and then I got another sign. It was the 13 September. From the day of crossing out Splinter and separating that asuric thing from Shri Ram, 24 Aug, it's been already three weeks, and I went with the kids to karate class. I go, I look: car worth, numbers on the car as on the car of coach karate, but car color is different. All summer his car was black, and here the car numbers are the same, but the car is dark green, more green, with a beautiful greenish tint. I was surprised: how did this happen? He bought a new car? He repainted the old car? The car numbers are the same. I have a good memory for numbers.

I was very intrigued, and I specifically waited until the end of the class to come to him and ask if it's a new car or not. He says it's the same car. Then why is it green? Car was black. No, he says that the car is the same. But I remember that all summer he was driving a black car. I'm not color blind. I can discern color and tone. And from this I concluded that after all, I removed that asuric thing from my Shri Ram, since the car is the same, but the color seems to have changed from black to green, in my vision.

Through many, many lives, I have removed from him the terrible asuric thing that a long time ago between lives someone showed me in him in some completely incomprehensible way that I exclaimed with such immense shudder in my voice: «What is it?». And now I this thing removed from him completely (Who am I anyway?), being in an ordinary female body, without looking and completely not understanding what and how and what I do, and not even being sure that it is done at all. But I decided that I would accept these signs and will think that this terrible thing is no longer in him.

71. Nature abhors a vacuum

In the evening, when it was all over, I remembered about the woman who was the wife of the former Splinter who had gone to his next lives. I thought: he left his body and now how is she? I casted my inner gaze in that direction, I feel: there such a good male energy, so reliable, surrounded her from all sides and helps, somehow holding her. They, the asuras, know how keep us in an acceptable condition. I often feel like my Shri Ram is holding me, my condition, as if does not allow water to spill out of the edges of the vessel. And that's where I felt the same: she is depressed, her husband left his body, but her condition is withheld, and so firmly, softly and firmly.

I thought, how strange is happening in this world. His wife has no idea about anything, but everything has been decided that her husband, the so-called Splinter, had to go out of this life, and a new husband for her has already been found, and he has taken responsibility for her, even when that Splinter was still alive, but all the asuras, including himself Splinter, had already been informed of his imminent end. And Splinter saw I appealed to all the asuras in the 69th of the series, to find her a good, worthy man who would become her husband and take the entire load, which preparing to crash down on her with the death of Splinter. And many out there among the asuras come forward, but the man come out to me. As I felt, he was the ideal option.

Splinter already knew that this man had already taken full responsibility for his wife, that he would be her husband. And that man came to me, telling me that I wouldn't regret that he was the one who came forward. What a strange situation. The husband is still alive, and a new husband has already been found, and both know this and see each other, since asuras have access to such communication and interaction at a distance, to a vision of each other and the situation there. And they already looked into each other's eyes. How felt himself the man who came, looking into Splinter's eyes (of course, there, on that subtle level) and knowing what he was doing with his wife, who is now his wife, although Splinter is still alive and that woman does not even suspect anything?

Well, very strange situation, but Splinter's fate was decided. If not me, so they would have him killed because I am when commenting pictures about teacher-rat from cartoon about the Ninja Turtles in allegorical language many things have opened about Splinter that the asuras considers an unforgivable crime, which is punished by death. And from this point of view sensei Splinter would have been killed anyway.

But for the asuras, there was nothing funny in those pictures, there was such an accusation, at their allegorical language, against Splinter that they, the asuras, had no right to ignore. But I said that I would have done away with him, because the asuras would simply kill him and there would be no use in it, but I would delete him from the list of asuras forever and send him in a new capacity to his future lives as a devotee of the Lord, a devotee of Krishna. And the asuras were all sitting and waiting for me to cross him off.

Everything was already decided, everyone knew everything, except for that woman, and for her his departure from the body was a complete surprise, since nothing outwardly foretold this. And her new husband had already been appointed. And he not just had been appointed. He was already her husband, in the sense that he already considered himself her husband and I agreed with that, I checked him on the purity of motives and intentions and accepted his offer of himself as the husband of that woman. I had done away with sensei Splinter, his wife mourns him, but she already is supported by a man. His asuric energy and all his asuric abilities were activated to keep this woman, already his wife, in a more or less normal, acceptable condition, which possible in this situation.

And I looked at them in the evening, I look: he holds her, he himself personally even came to her, on the physical level, he was their familiar and saw everything with his own eyes, how Splinter treated her. He knew what she was like. I look: he supports her in everything, took on all the trouble, everything has already started to organize, so she did not have to do anything, so that there was no her extra tears and worries. It remained to wait for the main — that she took his help and him. But meanwhile he was just surrounded her with his energy and his care and removed from her the burden of responsibility for all these cases, related to the last farewell to Splinter.

Holy place is never empty. Necessity is the mother of invention. She wasn't alone for a second. Her husband, Splinter, was still alive, and her new husband had already been appointed. And he was already with her, holding her hand invisibly, when Splinter was waiting for me to look at him and he will turn his gaze somewhere far away, in his future lives. How the Universe took care of such a good woman that she was not alone for a moment.

And his life suddenly quite unexpectedly, in an instant changed, as in the song from the film «Ivan Vasilyevich changes profession»:

Happiness suddenly, in the silence knocked on the door.

Did happiness come to me? I believe and do not believe.

So much was there.

Happiness, where were you so many years?

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Suddenly as in a fairy tale the door creaked.
Everything became clear to me now.
So many years I argued with the fate
For this meeting with you!
I was freezing, I was floating across the seas.
I know it wasn't for nothing.
Everything was not in vain,
Not in vain was!

And his life suddenly changed overnight, when I in the 69th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» addressed all asuras, saying that Splinter's fate is already decided, that this woman is no longer his wife and that let them decide who will be her new husband. And I set the conditions for that. This man lived his usual life, he was alone for many years, well, it did not work out somehow. And he had not expected anything from life.

His sexual needs he satisfied with their contactless whores. In fact, these are ordinary, decent women, not whores. In appearance it is quite decent women. Many of these women are even married and succeed in life. But asuras can influence people. And the asuras somehow connect to chosen by them women, include them in their list of these whores and regularly use them for their sexual pleasures through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. And these women do not even realize that they are so brazenly used, because everything happens invisibly and the presence of asuras in her sexual interaction with someone or in her masturbation is not visible, not heard and not felt in any way. But for the asuras, there is no difference how all this happens: with their personal presence or just like that, at a distance. They feel everything as if it really happens, in real life, as if this woman is having sex with them. And for many years he was so satisfy his sexual needs and no longer thought he'll get lucky and he'll meet the woman whose husband he will become.

The rest of his needs and aspirations he buried a long time ago under the ruins of his life in appearance prosperous and adjusted. He for a long time had not even dreamed of warmth, of caring relation, of tenderness in the look, of joy at the sight of you, of the aspiration only to you, of the gentle embrace, aimed only at you, of understanding you, of the warmth and comfort of home — for you... He had not even dreamed about openness to you. Not because you broke into her thoughts and forced her to do it, but because she sees you as your, the one whom she can and wants to trust. He had not even dreamed of sadness in her eyes at parting even for a short while, of the sensation and persistent realization that you have a duty to life and to her, to this woman, and you have to match this and keep yourself within, of the confidence that waiting for you, and waiting only for you.

About the existence of love in this world, he had long forgotten and did not see for himself even a single chance to remember it. And here I in 69th series say them, the asuras, about her, and suddenly he felt hope, maybe he deserves a grain of happiness and love. He looks, «Lord, that's a diamond, not a woman. I agree to be a slave at her feet, not as only a husband. I never dreamed of such happiness». He declared about himself, about his desire to become her husband. He defeated at the asuras and got this right. And he stood before me, bending over, on one knee, with a hand outstretched to me with an open palm up. He was all illuminated with happiness and with a quiet hope... that so many years he argued with fate, for this meeting with her... that all that was not in vain. And I accepted his offer, Splinter gone in his future lives. A woman, who was Splinter's wife, is in mourning for her dead husband. And this man already considers her his wife.

On August 24, before Splinter`s crossed out, a man came to me on my inner screen, who assured me that he was just the man I wanted for the woman who was Splinter's wife. Then I scanned him for his motives and accepted him as the perfect option for her. He immediately joined in ensuring the stability of her condition after the departure of Splinter and took all the trouble associated with the farewell to him. Then he took full responsibility for her, but it was unknown whether she would accept him. The next day, August 25, it happened. I saw them together, on my internal screen. She accepted his care, support and protection and she was standing by him. I was seeing them standing there together, and this picture was warming my soul.

Almost two months later, on October 19, I saw them already as held couple and on the physical level, they have had a sex, in physical reality, about what I right there told in the 100th series. It's only been two months since Splinter left the body, but then I thought that 40 days have passed, and a traditional time for honoring the memory has come to an end, and, in principle, you can already forward, in life to watch. Especially since it happened during a wonderful holiday. It was the auspicious day of Diwali, Lakshmi Puja, the day when women in India ask the goddess Lakshmi blessing to have the same marital fidelity to their husbands as Lakshmi has to Narayana.

And in this blessed day I saw them together for as a real couple. They have had a sex. How lucky they are to have it happen when the goddess Lakshmi gives her blessing for faithfulness. I spent the evening of October 19 was trying to take my eyes off them because they began a new phase in their relationship — intimacy. And I was embarrassed that my gaze is as if present where they lie in bed hugging, that I to invade their intimate space, but I could not do anything about it: I was so pleased to look at them...

No, I didn't see the action, the body movements, if you thought about it, no. But I kind of dived into their relationship with each other and felt the tenderness and love that poured out of them at the same time to each other, and I luxuriated in this flood of sensations. In the 100th series, I spent Lakshmi Puja, calling on them all the blessings of Lakshmi, offering goddess Lakshmi lamp with wicks on melted butter, Superhit Incense Sticks and my prayers. But I early rejoiced...

72. Sweet couple

A week later, on October 26, in the morning he suddenly appeared before my inner gaze, he looked scared and panicked. Something happened there. A week ago, they had their first sex, and everything was going well, and even already talked about the wedding, when he, you can say, came running to me, begging for help. He said something happened to her, something terrible, he afraid of losing her, really need help. I remembered the 9th series of «Mahakali», when I was shown their situation. There Daruka-wife prayed to Mahakali that she would grant her death, as her husband ended his mortal existence, being killed by Mahakali herself, but in response Mahakali told her that no, she would have to live to go from humiliation to self-respect. I thought that if it was said so, then she must live. I also thought that Krishna sealed them a marriage, tied them together and blessed them and Lakshmi herself blessed them, and mean everything would be fine.

Well, I thought, okay, if he asks me, I will help him. I turned on a playlist with protective mantras with repeat in a circle: Mrityunjaya mantra, Narayana Kavacham, Shiva Kavacham, Tulasi Kavacham, Narasimha Kavacham, and I listened and sang these mantras all day. I was actively, involved in listening to mantras and singing along, directing these mantras to them, to her, because I realized that something happened to her. Then I feel: he get back a little calmed down, her condition improved. At first I was afraid that there with her, and then, when the crisis passed, I realized that he had doubts.

He was alone for many years, used to a bachelor's life. I came to destroy sensei Splinter, appealed to the asuras, that need to take care of wife of sensei Splinter, I told in allegorical, clear to the asuras form about her merits. He saw his chance and he is actively for this chance among them, the asuras, struggled and won. I approved his candidacy, she, too, approved him, first soul, and after two months in sex, too, but it all happened so fast. Just two months ago he was alone. He was alone for many years. And suddenly it was time to marry. And he began to creep out doubts, and in General, why he got into it all.

Doubts came to him regardless of his decision, as he made the decision firmly and consciously went towards its implementation. But habits and old stereotypes are not asleep and did its job. He began to weigh the pros and cons. Yeah, they already had sex, and he was very happy about this rapprochement. But life something needs to change dramatically. After that, a natural step was the legalization of these relations and the entry into a new phase — as a unit of society, as husband and wife, legitimate couple. And these fluctuations led him to the rickety, unstable condition, and he longed to relax.

Yes, these two months were very difficult for him. He made so much effort to keep her within the boundaries of more or less normal sense of self. He did everything to make her feel acceptable, in such circumstances, but he was so tired... And inevitability after the beginning of their sexual life to move into a legitimate family life discouraged him a little... that he could not stand it and allowed himself to relax, so, as he used to relax all the previous years, namely with their non-contact whores, that is, at the energy plane of existence he plunged into the whirlwind of pleasure, into contactless sex...

He so wanted to feel again somebody licks his dick, relish, shameless, because it's without physical contact by bodies. He somehow, asuras can, turned on cherished button in women's centers at one of their non-contact whores, and he activated at her contactless blowjob mode. These non-contact whores are ordinary women who live among us. Maybe some of us. These are ordinary women. But the asuras have included them into their list of contactless whores and are activating this mode of contactless sex in these women from a distance. He activated at thus woman this contactless blowjob mode. She was eating ice cream, when she suddenly felt that in this ice cream suddenly there is someone's dick. And she, just eating ice cream (or sweetness, or halva, or something), began to lick it, as if making to this someone blowjob. And she realized that not just eating ice cream, and licks and passionately sucks that thing, someone's dick.

Yeah, he liked that's contactless sex with the non-contact whores before I came and told asuras I was gonna kill Splinter. And all these two months he did not use the services of these non-contact whores and did not indulge in contactless sex. But these days he felt a strong tension that would not let him go for a moment, that life has become not sweet without these pleasures, without contactless sex. And he decided to plunge into the whirlwind of pleasure. He well plunged into the whirlwind of pleasure, into contactless sex with the non-contact whores, many times. They licked him and his dick in every way, for a long time. Of course, without physical presence of the woman. The woman on the other end of this invisible energy interaction might not know and hardly knew who she licks (more specifically, whose dick), because there are always a lot of them there, those wishing to, an endless conveyor.

This bliss suddenly turned on at her, and she began to lick, and then suck this ice cream, or just her fingers, or even any subject. But the asuras are able to somehow quite incomprehensible way to enter the objects and be present there (as a phantom or what???), and he turned on this mode at her, pressed the desired button in her women's centers, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, and this mode began to act... She can not stop, she feels there in her ice cream a really man, his dick, and this kiss is so sweet, like nothing in this world. So sweet, and impossible to stop, so deeply immersed in this bottomless feeling of bliss and unity with who are at the end of the wire, who invisibly joined her and whose dick is present in her ice cream.

And such sweetness flows from there, that you don't care who's there, whose dick you lick in your ice cream, because here you just lick the usual ice cream (Turkish delight, halva, your fingers, souvenir, standing in front of you on the table, anything, no matter; and what the difference when you feel such incredible bliss...). And this lets go only when his ejaculation occurs, when he ejaculates (who is he? where? what the hell is such?). And she is beginning to stick her fingers in her mouth, and smear her drool across her face, like as her drool is that what erupting from him during his orgasm, like as her drool is his cum, somewhere on the other end of the wire, way away from her. She smears her face with her saliva, as if she is putting on her face cream made from his sperm, and she feels herself like as after a chic sex with a super-cool orgasm.

She just ate ice cream, or halva, or even prasad in the temple, or just kept her fingers or pencil in her mouth... But at the same time it feels like you just had the most gorgeous sex of your life with the incredible power of orgasm you've ever had in your life with anyone. And then this button in her women's centers at the energy plane of existence is released, and this sexual pressure on her disappears for a while, and she can continue to live quite usual harmless life, and nobody will guess that she serves asuras, sexually, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, because such after all it is impossible.

It's from the realm of fantasy. But he was loving that fantasy before I came and told that the life of Splinter was over. Petruha turned on the energy buttons in women's centers of those women at the energy plane of existence. Those women fell into state of bliss and feeling real presence of his dick in their hands, in ice cream, food, in items around. These women felt that from their hands, from this very ordinary ice cream, from the objects to which she was suddenly drawn so strongly, from all this, the pleasure of unprecedented intensity flows. And those women felt such sweetness and bliss, such relaxation that they take turns serving him sexually. In doing so, those women got real relaxation, as if she had real sex and as if she had an excellent orgasm although no one was near and no one would have guessed, seeing what she was doing, what's really going on there. It would not have occurred to anyone, looking, as she enthusiastically licked ordinary ice cream, that she right before their eyes does blowjob to some asur who lives somewhere like an ordinary person and who energetically plugged unto this woman, so she cannot break away from this ice cream. She can not tear herself away from ice cream, because in this ice cream presents dick, an invisible, and she is sucking him with great pleasure now. But outwardly, all this looks like an innocent eating ordinary ice cream. Petruha well relaxed when he was licked over the distance, invisibly, and he got some much sex that he could no longer think about it.

But that woman (for whom he stood in front of me on his knee bending over, illumining by happiness, with quiet hope) something sensed. Her husband just passed away two months ago, and she suddenly found herself in the arms of this man who right now so good relaxed, rested. These women are well licked his dick in a contactless blowjob, enjoying somewhere far away eating ordinary ice cream or sherbet, or some favorite food. Maybe someone of those women masturbated, and he entered the dildo of that woman at the energy plane of existence and he was feeling it as real sex. He relaxed so well there, several times well fucked the next bitch, because it's at a distance, those women are nobody to him, he don't care about them, it's just sex through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, no one sees it and no one even realizes it. But she sensed and she became disheartened.

She thought that it was not for nothing that her husband told her that without him she will be promiscuous in sex, would be like a prostitute, become defiled, that she is pure, only while he is with her, and as soon as he left her, she would fall to the bottom of life. And here she, not knowing that the man with whom she's already had sex and which so tenderly treated her, and so guarded her from her depression after leaving her husband of life, indulges in contactless sex with the non-contact whores, but sensing this, fell into such feeling hopeless. She felt herself at the same level as those with whom he indulged in contactless sex. She felt herself at the same level as those who for him was no one and to whom he did not care, who for him was completely indifferent, who didn't need him at all.

And she thought that her husband was completely right and she is now defiled, she's just like everybody else, and if that man would leave her or turn away from her somehow, then there would be the next man, and then the next, and then the next... And she felt so insignificant, lower than the ground that she decided to go into the ground. She took some pills and went to bed. But he saw it, although it was difficult for him to do, because he had to break away from contactless sex with the non-contact whores... And there was so good, nice and familiar, as in all many, many past years... But since he is asur, he saw her thoughts and condition at a distance and was able to break away from the next the non-contact whore, but the pills have already begun to affect her.

He arrived late. The pills have done their job. He could not to influence her at a distance, in order to she vomited, because she was already unconscious and could not react, and he had to run to save her personally, to call doctors, and all such things. And here he in a panic ran up to me on the subtle plane, on my inner screen and begged to help. And I turned on my playlist with protective mantras, and the medics managed to save her. Although it seemed almost impossible, since she had taken a lot of pills and different ones to be sure.

Here's such a embarrassment happened to this sweet couple two months after he came to me on my inner screen and stood bowed, on one knee, with an open hand extended to me. He stood all lit with happiness, with a quiet hope that happiness knocked at the door... And he appreciated what happiness actually went to him and the happiness he almost lost, and all his doubts and hesitations disappeared...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

We never know the value of water till the well is dry. He almost lost her, it was all on the razor's edge, and the doctors did not give any forecasts, as she was one foot already in the grave. But a real miracle happened, she came out of that hopeless state, and he has sworn never to indulge in contactless sex with the non-contact whores. He swore to be faithful to her and took a vow to protect and cherish the happiness that turned out to be so dear to him, more expensive than his enjoyment and his sensations.

In fact, we gave him a test drive, for this Petruha, because he himself volunteered to be the husband of this the woman I called Rose, which was the wife of Splinter. At that time he assured that his intentions are pure that he will make everything that she with him was happy. But the very first ordinary simple test drive when we thrown in him pleasant memories, provocation about their delicious and sweet the non-contact whores, showed how firm and force is his word.

In fact, we gave him a test drive, for this Petruha, because he himself volunteered to be the husband of this the woman I called Rose, which was the wife of Splinter. At that time he assured that his intentions are pure that he will make everything that she with it was happy. But the very first ordinary simple test drive when we thrown in him good memories, good provocation about their delicious and sweet the non-contact whores, showed how firm and force is his word.

He just wanted to be distracted, because all once distracted, it is necessary because once relax, annoying constantly say: «And now let's go to perform austerity called „Life“». It is necessary to be able to relax. And he went to relax, to indulge in contactless sex with the non-contact whores... But Rose took pills and nearly died. But Krishna said, rakhe Krishna mare ke, mare Krishna rakhe ke, “When Krishna protects you no one can kill you but when Krishna wants to kill you no one can protect you.”

Krishna did not sanction her departure from the body now, and Petruha came to me on my inner screen, I began to listen to protective mantras, asking Krishna to save her, and a miracle happened: she was able to get out of there, although doctors already mentally hung on her leg tag, which hang in the morgue on the foot of the dead... Petruha, of course, very scared. The non-contact whores, of course, beckon; sensations during contactless sex are simply divine... There, on the other end of contactless wire, woman that licking and sucking his «ice cream»-dick in her real ice cream, is delighted and buzzing with pleasure, that his «ice cream»-dick so delicious that it is even impossible to break away... and why break away from such high? But he was never happy there.

And here is Rose, woman who is dear to him, which came to him as the mercy of the gods, the woman with whom he allowed himself to believe in love. Petruha looked: Yes, contactless sex with the non-contact whores is delicious, but how many years he was alone, indulged in these contactless sex and contactless blow job, but, in fact, he was deeply wretched. And suddenly he had a woman in real life. A woman who dared to try to start everything from a clean sheet and raise her pure look to him, trusting and innocent. Petruha to the depths of the depths regretted that generally remembered about contactless sex with the non-contact whores, though so delicious, and sweet, and juicy, but so empty, with such a piercing sense of loneliness, and he decided to end this activity. He assured me that this would never happen again, but I decided to take special care of Rose.

Then it was the month of Kartika. “Even if there are no mantras, no pious deeds, and no purity, everything becomes perfect when a person offers a lamp during the month of Kartika” (Skanda Purana). When one offers a lamp during the month of Kartika, his sins of many thousands and millions of births perish in half of an eye blink. A person who offers a ghee lamp during the month of Kartika attains results that cannot be obtained with even a hundred Yajnas or a hundred pilgrimages. I offered a ghee wicks for Krishna-Damodara, and I decided to offer it for this Rose, so that if suddenly that such still happens and she does not want to live, then so that she would not be taken to the hellish worlds, so that she would not become a ghost, without the usual coarse physical body. Because if you yourself go out of life, at will, without a sanction from above, then the result is a direct road to the lower worlds, into existence as a ghost and spirit, and this is a very depressing picture. I clocked on wooden toothpicks a medical cotton wool, was holding it in melted butter, in ghee, which I melted myself, and in 104th series I offered the burning ghee wicks to the Lord Damodara-Krishna in the month of Karttika for the good of Petruha.

I offered wicks also for the good of Petruha, because, realizing that there was, I was very angry at him and just in case decided to hedge. I thought that, having been angry at some point at him, I could stand over him like a huge snake high in space and sink a drop of my scalding snake poison on him, and then his life would end ingloriously, and he will go to his next incarnation. I'm also a woman and I can do it out of solidarity with such a good woman as Rose, who did not deserve such an attitude when she is put on the same level with those the non-contact whores, females, who at a distance, non-contact, sexually serve the asuras, who loving these fun, that do not commit to anything and do not entail any responsibility.

When I was saying all of this in the 104th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» Petruha was clearly told that he was taking a lot of risks, as «No one will give wheel a new chariot». He was told that Rose is his only chance in life. And if he misses this chance, then all his life he will be content only with sex through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence with the invisible presence of his dick in masturbation of a completely alien woman somewhere far away... Without warmth, without a clear open eyes, trustingly looking straight into your soul, no sadness at parting even for a bit, without a warm heartfelt hug when you feel bad, or, conversely, good.

Petruha was clearly told that he was taking a very high risk, that he did not have the right even to think and look towards other women, since he would not live with them. And they will not support him in moments of spiritual adversity and will not say him: «Do not be afraid, I'm with you». But Krishna showed in the 150th series in the screenshots from the «Mahabharata» that all of them will have well, that Petruha will be blessed that he is with such a woman, that he will be very successful, that they will have two very good sons, that Petruha with Rose will always be protected from all sides and they will have a straight road and there and land, and water, and stones, and grass, and air, and Krishna Himself, all there.

On this I closed this topic of that sweet couple, and I continued my Mahabharata, a consistent and methodical elimination the asuras from the list of asuras and sending them to their future lives as devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON with their successful return into the spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga enters its full rights and begins to spin its flywheel.

73. Liberation of Pandavas on the Radhashtami

I told in the 70th series how this Petruha came to me on the inner screen with a hope that I would approve of him as the future husband of Rose, then wife of Splinter, big Sensei, teacher, mentor of the asuras, and how I approved it, and then crossed out Splinter from the list of asuras and sent him to his future lives as devoted of Krishna. In the 71st series I told that the day after that, Rose and Petruha already stood together on my inner screen, and in the 72nd series I commented on the screenshots I had saved from the 11th series of «Mahakali».

Just then came this series, I liked it, and I enjoyed to comment on the story of this series of «Mahakali». There the asuras came to Rati, to the wife of Kamadev, to pick up the ashes of Kamadeva, who was burned by Shiva. Asuras wanted to create from this ashes anti-Kamadev, having created thus a powerful asur. I didn't know that I was going to start a whole chapter of this story in this novel — with a character that I called The Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you).

Commenting this story, voicing aloud everything that came to my mind when I looked at these screenshots, I said that many, many lifetimes ago my Shri Ram was made an asur and he already in this life wanted to turn me into asuri, with their asuric nature, moreover by deception, but Krishna stopped him. And then I assumed that what they had intended for me was given to someone else, some other woman. I assumed that with some other woman they did that asuric «initiation», which Shri Ram offered me, deceiving me, that it will not harm me, that without this «initiation» I will can not stand his asuric energies.

I felt guilty that some woman was very unlucky, because I was lucky. I was really lucky, because I didn't know any of that at the time. Shri Ram told me that I had to accept their initiation, but I did not want to, but he convinced me that it was not dangerous, that it was only for our benefit, that it did not promise me anything bad. And I've already given my consent, believing him, not knowing what was really waiting for me. But at that time at day of the city, I went to the place where students of our coach on karate showed the techniques they had mastered, and I saw there the excess of self-defense. I approached the karate coach and looking into his eyes, said that he had no right to teach children such techniques, which according to the laws of our state are considered to be in excess of self-defense and he can incur punishment, because it's a criminal article.

Actually then I told my Shri Ram through that coach (without even knowing what I was talking about at all) that what he was going to do to me by making me asuri is an criminal article, by laws of Universe and that for that he would be very severely punished. And he cancelled that «initiation» and cancelled turning me into asuri. But what they were preparing for me got to some other woman.

In the next, 73th series of my novel, I was thinking aloud about this situation, commenting on the screenshots from the 217th series of new tv series «Ramayana», in which the asuras wanted to turn Sita into asuri and they gave her to drink magic potions, but there began a hurricane and the potion inadvertently spilled from the cup of Sita to the ground and a crocodile drank it. As a result ordinary crocodile turned into a kind of Godzilla and began to pour fire and to kill all. And then I said that it is necessary to free the woman to whom Shri Ram established asuric nature, because to do it with me it has been impossible, as I said this is criminal article and punishable.

Krishna protected me. I from here, from below saw nothing it, I didn't know that with me want to make. When I told the coach that such techniques are a criminal article, excess of self-defense, that children must not be taught these techniques, I did not know anything about preparing of transformation me to the asuri. But somewhere from above all this situation was visible, and through me to him, Shri Ram, in an allegorical form was told that on higher spheres it is visible that he wants to make with me, and that this to do cannot be, so as for this he will brutally punished. He was forced to cancel that action, but he decided that his initiative and preparation for this initiation should not be lost, and they carried out this procedure with some other casual woman.

I felt so sorry for that woman, and I said that I would free her from asuric «initiation» and asuric nature. I remembered that Sita in the 217th series of «Ramayana» said that it is necessary with the help of pure energy, pure power to release the victim to whom crocodile transformed as a result of drinking the asuric potion, turned into a stupid ruthless monster. Sita freed this monster, this Godzilla from asuric nature by using pure energy, pure intentions, and Godzilla once again became an ordinary crocodile. And I on an example of this history decided to release the woman who suffered instead of me who somewhere as I understood, is.

And when I in 73rd series of my novel, talking about it, said «to liberate», then immediately, directly into this word on my desktop computer appeared a screenshot of the «Mahabharata» with the words «It is necessary to free the Pandavas», and I decided that, Yes, I will do it. And the next move in my Mahabharata was the liberation of the so-called Pandavas, that is, those who, having the divine nature and not wanting to accept asuric nature, became victims, who innocent suffered because of the influence of the asuras and being subjugated by them. Radhashtami was coming. It's the day of Srimati Radharani's appearance, and I thought that this liberation of the Pandavas would be a good gift to Her, and I decided to hold this action on Radhashtami.

In the 73rd series, I commented on the story about the attempt of conversion Sita to asuri, from the 217th series of «Ramayana». This is when the magic potion that was given to Sita to make her asuri, inadvertently spilled from her cup, and the crocodile drank this magic potion. As a result of this crocodile was turned into a completely stupid, insane vile creature that threw lightning and burned all. And in the screenshot with Sita's words, «It means some other living being drank it, and as a result there was such an asur-monster», I said that probably some other woman suffered instead of me, Shri Ram established their asuric nature to some other woman.

He did offer me their initiation, seducing the fact that we will be together, they say, without the initiation, I will can't stand his energy. What a blatant lie! He was not going to be with me, because then he was in full swing a wonderful love story with a wonderful, good, feminine woman, against which I'm just nobody, and he told me by that time through the karate coach that I'm free and I can go away. He didn't have any plans for us to reunite; everything with that woman at him was wonderful. He blatantly lied, saying that this initiation is necessary for me for getting together with him. That's how the asuras lure their victims, they do not disdain deception.

Shri Ram was not allowed to do this with me, and I assumed that some other woman had received it. And in the screenshot of Sita with the words «Someone else ran into this problem designed for me. I have to do something» I realized that my assumption is correct, because at the same time Krishna on my desktop pointed to it. I said that it is necessary to correct it, liberate that woman, and my words coincided with the appearance of the screenshot of the «Mahabharata» with the words «It is necessary to free the Pandavas». And I said we'd do it.

And the next day, August 29, 2017, on Radhashtami, I started the liberation of Pandavas. I thought that there must be many Pandavas who have not been told the whole truth, about the real consequences of this action, who have been lured away by some kind of deception, who were not going to become such, who were really misled and with whom asuras did something terrible, cynically taking advantage of their trust. And I decided to free them all, wholesale. We with children were going to the beach, there was good weather. When we left the house, I started an action to free the Pandavas.

I thought that these Pandavas are many, and imagined them all standing below me. There were so many of them in front of my inner gaze.... Mostly women, but there were men. I thought I'd free everyone. In front of me, were words from the «Mahabharata»: «It is necessary to free the Pandavas», and I kept them in my mind and thought: «It is necessary to free the Pandavas. Pandavas must be freed». First of all, I pulled something from all of them, and then from me in all of them at the same time some kind of red ray went, to everyone into the center of the belly. In women everything was done quickly by the red beam, and at one man I drilled something out from the center of the belly of a huge drill, and it takes too long out layer after the layer of something yellow.

Then I suddenly saw that it started to rain. It seemed interesting to me: with none of the asuras, from crossed out by me, this was not, and this time suddenly the rain drips and drips on top of them all. And I realized that it was the poison dripping from the mouth of snake rising above them somewhere in the space, and this snake is me. I suddenly saw myself as this snake high above them, and from my wide open mouth poison dripped down. It's so vigorous, burns and corrosive everything. It was the scalding, burning and everything corrosive poison, and they were more and more immersed in this poison. And so has accumulated a whole ocean of poison, snake, mine poison.

And when this ocean of poison formed down there, I suddenly found myself in the thick of this poison, right in this ocean. It was clean, clear, a little viscous, and bubbles rising up from below, and all those Pandavas standing in that poison, immersed in it, with a head, and even above them there was still a lot of poison. I was reading my japa in real life, Hare Krishna. And so, standing on my inner screen in the thickness of this poison, I was reading a mantra there too, and the sounds of the mantra were spreading all over this ocean.

I saw how the mantra sounds in the thickness of the poison, and I was thinking that the sounds of the mantra can to purify everything. Mantra can definitely rid them from Asuric, completely remove it. This poison was a good sound conducting medium, the mantra was sounding there in every molecule of the whole space, permeating all of them and cleaning all them. Poison was burning out of those Pandavas all the bad things they had, and healed them. This poison didn't kill them, as they were good Pandavas; they only had to be freed. During sound of mantra in the ocean of poison several times I pulled something from them. I chanted all my japa, mantra was well resonating in the thickness of the poison and was impacting Pandavas.

And then I turned on the kirtan performed by my Gurudev, Indradyumna Swami, in my phone and imagined that I offered all of them to my Gurudev. I imagined a great big tray, the ocean of poison all disappeared somewhere, and all those Pandavas were standing on that tray, and I offered them all on that plate to my Gurudeva as an offering, and said, «Gurudev, please accept them. I am not competent to do anything. You worship Nrisimhadev. You can give them to Srila Prabhupada, you can to pray Nrisimhadev. They're lost souls, trapped in such a trap. Please free them. Please accept them».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Like this I offered them to my Gurudev, and then I saw that they all began to fill with water. In all of them from the bottom up was pouring pure water, and I suddenly saw that this water is me. I listened with my headphones to kirtan, and this water began to sing with me Hare Krishna mantra. And it turned out as if the water is inside all of them, and I am this water, and I sing kirtan along with my Gurudev and here, outwardly, and there like that water inside them all. And I saw how many big mouths appeared in this water, and they all sing Hare Krishna with us. And then I thought that all those Pandavas had been healed somehow. They joined the common kirtan and began to dance and sing together with everyone.

And at some point in this kirtan I imagined the Deities of Radha-Krishna, in Mayapur or Vrindavan, ISKCON, and I offered them, all those Pandavas, to Radharani. At the same time, they all formed a large interesting figure in space, three spheres rotating in different planes, on one axis, sparkling and glowing with beautiful light. And I offered to Radharani all this beautiful sparkling and radiating wonderful light, spinning somewhere in space design, saying: «Radharani, today is Your day, Radhashtami. Please accept my wonderful offering. If someone had freed them, they would be so happy. Radharani, You can do anything. If I can't do something, You can do it. Accept, please accept».

And I saw that Radharani directed a broad golden ray at them all, as a blessing, and accepted them. All this time we were on the beach, and when Radharani accepted them, we went home, and I thought, «Krishna, give me some confirmation». I go home, turn on the computer, and there is a screenshot on my desktop — the untied cord on the open palm and the words: «So, he is clean».

And I have those screenshots then it was more than 2000, saved from the movie «Mahabharata», and I get through these screenshots which every 30 seconds randomly change on the desktop of my computer, the signs of the Universe and the relationship with Krishna. And the first screenshot was said that the Pandavas are clean, i.e. released. I gave Radharani on Radhashtami such a gift — the release of those whose trust was blatantly and cynically used to introduce them asuric nature and to install asuric programs.

In the 74th series in which I talked about the liberation of the Pandavas, I said between the lines that I have a perfect memory. And here I thought that I told this about asuras, who were set the dogs on us after release of Pandavas. This is when we walked from the beach, we met a pack of dogs and they showed strong aggression and it was very scary. And then another dog, with the owner and on a leash, too, was acting strange. Then I immediately thought that such a coincidence for a reason and that someone impacted on the dogs, because was much angry due to the release of those Pandavas. Apparently, I freed a lot of the Pandavas from asuric nature and asuric programs. The asuras have taken a lot of damage, and some of them were very enraged.

I thought that it is impossible to leave it unpunished that about ideal memory I told to them not without reason, and I decided that time I so told, it is necessary to realize it. I plunged somewhere inside, scouring with my inner gaze and looking for those who initiated it and did it. I saw someone's silhouette in some dense haze. And I brutally finished with him. I put in him an iron pin, planted him the whole on it, from the bottom to the top, and then heated this pin and released from it iron red-hot thorns that pierced him.

After that I was tearing him and tossing him, and then I, like Mahakali, holding his severed head in my hand, rose above all of them, with anger looking at them all, and was shouting: «Who else?!» Then I grabbed another one, wrapped him all in barbed wire and stuck this incandescent wire in his whole body. Then I got tired of him, and I left it. I had the thought that he, my Shri Ram, had given me the idea to have done away with those who dared to remove me inciting the dogs and did not spare my children. I became sad. Very. I'm not like that in my life. Well, there is, of course, I have an explosive nature, unbearable, but such cruelty not peculiar to me... I remember about the law of karma and somehow I leave.

And even my motto in life was my Granny's words «Get anything given — run being beaten». When beaten, you have to run, and when they give, you have to take. I always acted on this principle, and here on my inner screen I so cruelly deal with the asuras... and with some asuras with special cynicism and aggravating circumstances. Maybe this is the output of buried in the subconscious patterns? But during this Mahabharata, I discovered in myself such a sophisticated fantasy, the existence of which was not even guessed.

74. The Shepherd, I do not love you

The next character appeared himself... The first mention about him was when I'm in the 72nd series commented screenshots of the 11th series of «Mahakali», about the history of Bhandasura. This is when the asuras came to Rati, to wife of Kamadeva. He was burned with fire from the third eye of Shiva. The asuras came to Rati to take his ashes and make from him an asur, the anti-Kamadeva, Bhandasura, in the presence of which cannot be any creation. There Bhandasura, looking like an ordinary person, at the same time had no physical body, and therefore it was impossible to kill him.

After in the movie «Gravity Falls» I heard about some monster who had no physical body and who commanded the minds of people. I remembered the story of Bhandasura, where he laughed at all the demigods and even over the Mahakali, that no one will be able to kill him because he has no ordinary body, and then Mahakali gave him a body consisting of physical elements, and then killed him.

Then on my table in front of me fell a king figure from a cartoon about Bremen town musicians, and this king seemed to say to me: «I love you, I love you». I remembered Alexander Pushkin's poem «Ruslan and Lyudmila»:

One, the beauty young
On the shore spun a wreath.
I was attracted with mine destiny...
Ah, the hero, there was Naina!
I to her — and the fatal blame
For an impudent look to me was an award,
And I have learnt the love by the soul
With her heaven joy,
With her painful melancholy.
The half of the year has dashed away;
I have tremblingly opened to her,
Has told: «I love you, Naina».
But shy my sorrow
Naina with the proud was listened,
Only the own delights loving,

And indifferently answered:
«The Shepherd, I do not love you!»

And this king, who was lying at my feet on my table, kept saying, «I love you», and I said to him, «The Shepherd, I do not love you». And then I thought that to me were giving a new character — The Shepherd, I do not love you. Why is «Shepherd»? Because he grazes minds of other people, he controls them and directs them where he wants them, he feeds on their emotions, and he feels superior, although he does not have a material body. And why «I do not love you»? Because he is an asur and commands the minds of the people not for good deeds, and to suppress them and committing abominations through them, so «I do not love you». It was strange to me: how is it that the asuras have someone who does not have an ordinary physical body and who commands the minds of those who have a body by conducting the will of the asuras through them? But I thought that here, from below, we see little. And what if there really is something? Such asur, which is not spirit, not ghost, but for some reason has no physical body and sits in the minds of other people and commands them.

I was flooded with thoughts, as they, asuras, cause something like cystitis, thrush, and dysbiosis in a woman. She has everything in order with the female organs, there are no women's diseases, but they want to see her and check her. They force her to go to the gynecologist, in order to through the eyes of the gynecologist to look her in her intimate place, through the hands of the gynecologist to get inside her female organs and listen to the thoughts of the gynecologist about her. Looking at her as at horse in the market. From these thoughts felt so ashamed and disgusting. We can't resist them, although they, asuras, live here among us as ordinary men. But who gave them the right to enter, so to speak, the Holy of holies? Who gave them that right? Nobody. But they are brazenly violating our borders, invading our personal space, looking at us as at horses in the market.

And then I appealed to Krishna to give me this Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) on his punishment. And then I feel better and became calm. And I thought: what if it's true? I tuned in to him and gave him the order to send me all the information about himself. I received a lot of information about him, specifically that no one can kill him but me. And then I again tuned in to him. I remembered a screenshot of the «Mahabharata», where Balarama stands with a mace at the ready and beckons him to himself with hand, they say, go, go, right now I'll have done away with you. And I also beckoned to the Shepherd with my hand: come, come here...

And then I turned into a tremendous Cobra in space and saw this Shepherd as little dot somewhere far below. I looked at this dot from above and drilled him with my gaze, pierced him with such a powerful red beam, and then sucked him all as this dot into myself, and then I turned inside out, turning into a jellyfish. He fell on me as on jellyfish, like some kind of the patch, and began to grow into my scalding jelly body. He more and more drowned in me, in this scalding jelly, plunged completely and spread over it.

And he is not having his body, has long been accustomed to reside in the bodies of others and control them. He dissolved in my body and we became one, fused together. From that time until he was struck out, he was always with me, saw all my thoughts, saw what I saw, felt what I felt, heard what I heard. He could not control my mind, but in the same time he was fully dissolved in me and was having lived with me every moment of my life, with the moment, as I plunged his in myself as in jellyfish.

And when the Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) already was in me, spilled, dissolved in me, in the jelly-like body of a jellyfish, at me suddenly began a period of the active, involved listening to lectures of Srila Prabhupada, my Gurudeva,

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Indradyumna Swami, Bhakti Vikasha Swami. I periodically listened to them before, but when the Shepherd dissolved in me as in the jellyfish, I don't know what happened to me, but I concentrated almost continuously listened to these lectures. And all lectures were about the futility of being in this material world.

I listened to many lectures of Bhakti Vikasha Swami, not so often I listen to him, he has a very uncompromising lectures, but at that time I listened to his lectures continuously... About Western countries I listened to many lectures, about the refined animal existence of people in those supposedly advanced countries. About the end of Kali Yuga, what predictions in this regard. Also, I suddenly, for no reason listened to the entire two stories of the «Shrimad Bhagavatam» — about Sati, as she went to Daksha's Sacrifice and what then was, and about Dhruva Maharaja.

At first, I didn't understand why I was so caught up in listening to these lectures, and then it became clear to me. After all, this Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) sat in me, saw all my thoughts, heard everything I hear, and I listened to these lectures not for myself, but for him. And it is on those topics that were necessary to him. He listened to so many lectures that he made great progress. And he saw my thoughts during the audition of lectures. It's amazing!

At some point I began to remember about my interactions in this life with two large asuras: with Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, and with my Shri Ram. I began to remember how they force women to go to the gynecologist, so that through the eyes of the gynecologist look at her intimate place and through the hands of the gynecologist check her female organs inside. I was remembering the session with pillow in which we with Shri Ram learned, that when I'm between lives was looking for him, but he was not anywhere, some personalities came to me. They showed me what became of him, that he has become an asur, that now he has the nature of an asur. They showed me overlay on his asuric fine-material body, from the sight of which I was just shaking from shudder, rejection and disgust. They told me that I should forget about him forever and offered me another pair to choose from but I refused and went to dance dances of dedication to the Deities on the higher planets, and there I became the wife of the Deity Nrisimhadeva.

I was remembering it, and I was plunged into the feeling of universal sadness that could not put into words... I thought that I am protected by Nrisimhadev Himself, and other women were not so lucky and the asuras do what they want with them. And I thought: since I have come in this life to this my Shri Ram, then it is necessary to make sure that all this is not in vain. I thought I should do more of them, decapitate them, tear down the top of asuras, and in this mood I decided to do him again, Shepherd, I don't love you.

75. The arrangement with The Shepherd

I was washing the dishes and threw my inner gaze on my inner screen in search of this Shepherd, but he was nowhere. He was sitting in me, at the very top of my head. I looked at this jellyfish, which is actually me, and I saw that this Shepherd is well immersed in her (in my) gelatinous body. I have turned on kirtan performed by Bhakti Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham» and I have forced the Shepherd to sing with me. Then I wanted to turn on the kirtan performed by my

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Gurudev, but the kirtan performed by Srila Prabhupada turned on by itself. I thought that Krishna know better what to turn on, I surrendered to Him and began to sing with Srila Prabhupada this kirtan, and then I saw some kind of air substance coming out of this Shepherd and rushing up.

And then I thought, I don't know what to do with this Shepherd, and I surrendered to Krishna. And then I began to remember the dawn of my Krishna consciousness, the temple on metro station Begovaya in Moscow, the Greeting the Deities — «Govinda», govindam adi-purusham tam aham bhajami, the voice of Yamuna Devi Dasi. I began to remember kirtan of Srila Prabhupada. Now I was singing this kirtan, while washing dishes, and in those days this kirtan sounded often during the prasad. I began to feel such nostalgia, such longing for that time, such an aching feeling, such craving to that atmosphere of my Krishna consciousness, that at some point I spontaneously began to turn to this Shepherd, personally to him, with a hot request to help me.

And I mentally all turned right to this Shepherd and turned into this plea to help me, that I want to Krishna and that he helped me in this. Intellectually, I understood that I am begging the wrong person, because he is an asur, but this prayer itself was pouring out of me, I myself was this prayer: «Help, help me, I want to Krishna, but I'm sitting here, I'm stuck here in the material world, I'm sitting with this Shri Ram, with these asuras, I'm fed up with you, you are vile creatures. It is necessary for your Hydra to demolish the head, completely, so that you can't lower nature of good women, crush women. What are you even doing?»

I was understanding that I am addressing the wrong person, but I'm all turned into this prayer. I did not beg him, and I became this plea, as if I was not a woman, not a human, but this plea. And even my Shri Ram, somewhere in the far corner of my mind on my inner screen, came and was asking me puzzled what I was doing, whom I was begging? But I didn't look at him, what he's talking there... I was all pleading, and pleading this Shepherd, «Help me, I want to Krishna». I was all pleading him as if he can help me with this.

And at some point I felt that he was telling me that he would help. But I have to help him for that. And then I remembered just before this dish washing I had a similar conversation with a girl in my work, when I said that I would help her, for free, and she would instead pray to Krishna to help me. She agreed and said that she was going to the festival Sadhu-sanga tomorrow, that she would pray for me to the Deities, so that Krishna would help me. And so this Shepherd, reminding me of this situation with that girl, says me that he will help me to return to Krishna, but I have to help him.

He kind of told me that he doesn't have a material body, but I can do it for him. Like I told that girl... I told her I could do the job for her, because she is not in the subject, she is in this a zero and she needs to delve into all the details of the case in which I am a master. She will deal with this month, and I will do it in a couple of days. She will need more than a month to master this, because she starts from scratch, with minuses, and there are no guarantees, that she all correctly will understand and correctly will make. And I will do everything as it should, because I have been doing this for a long time, I am a pro, and she is nobody in this.

And this Shepherd also tells me that he does not have a material body and he can not do like me, and I can help him. And here I have a thought: now lasts Pitru Paksha (and it was September 7, 2017), days of help to those who have already left the body, who do not have a material body. And I thought, I'm observing a Pitru Paksha for the good of my mother and my ancestors who left the body. I'm chanting one circle of japa for them and reading one verse of Bhagavad Gita.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I decided: I will chant for his good the whole Pitru Paksha (until September 19 inclusive) one circle of Hare Krishna mantra every day, one verse of Bhagavad Gita, so that he became a devotee of Krishna, and I every day will eat a leaf of the sacred plant tulasi, offered to Krishna — for his good. He doesn't have a body, and he can't do it, but I can do it. I'm in. I told him that if harinama will be, then I will definitely go to harinama — for his good, as if he personally takes part in harinama. I told him that I will go to the Sunday program Hare Krishna, will stand before the Deities and asked Krishna for him. I told him, «I will help you, and you help me, ask Krishna to return me to Him». And he said, «Ok, I agree. Just help me».

And when I was washing the dishes and listening the kirtan of Srila Prabhupada, we made a contract with this Shepherd. I will help him to get rid of his disembodied existence when he does not have a material body and when he grazes minds of other people and feeds on their emotions, he feels superior, although he does not have a material body, and he will help me when he is free from such a hopeless position and from an asuric existence and becomes a devotee of Krishna.

And I immediately, on the same day, began to observe this sadhana for his good, sat down and chanted the circle of japa for his good and one verse from the Bhagavad Gita. When I told about all this in the 76th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife», there were a succession of screenshots from «Mahabharata», where it was told about a woman who is waiting for him: that the liana does not run from the tree, that he is the bow of Arjuna, that the bow Gandiva lays in the room of Panchali. Then I did not understand what said in those screenshots, but then through them I was told about his future. Krishna in one of the last screenshots told me to put an end to his suffering and I promised Krishna that I would do it.

I was keeping faith and was fulfilling my part of the agreement with that The Shepherd, I do not love you. Every day I was reading the circle of japa, the Hare Krishna mantra on the japa mala rosary for his good and the verse of Bhagavad Gita. And when I was putting it off for the evening, he stood all day in my mind, as if reminding me not to forget. Those days I constantly saw his eyes in front of me. Such a smart, understanding all look. I actually saw eyes appearing on the flowerpot on my window in front of me. These eyes were very clearly visible, such insightful, they looked at me with such a feeling...

And on the Wallpaper in the place where I sat and chanted japa, through the pattern on the Wallpaper suddenly appeared a man's face. And seemed he to be looking straight into my soul, as they say, although I am this soul. Most interesting that before I have not seen in the patterns on the Wallpaper male faces and then, too, no matter how much I tried nor searched, the man no one time has not stood out, but at that time he somehow manifested himself and seemed to look at me. And I even saw his mood and kind of thoughts. And on the flower pot was the same way. How amazing it is! These eyes appeared in the Wallpaper picture and in the shadow of the relief of the flower pot just when that the Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) was with me.

We became friends. He was shepherding the minds a lot of people, not having his own body. He had successfully put into practice many cunning plans, operations, manipulated people's minds, carried out the will of those for whom he worked. He saw so much dirt that it was impossible to surprise him with anything. He saw everything. And here he is with me. Turns out he at will came to me, he intentionally showed himself to me when he saw a chance to get rid of this joyless existence. And when he like that figure of the king was lying before me on the table and saying, «I love you», it was also true, no matter how strange it sounded. And when I at Pitru Paksha, the days of remembrance of the dead, those who left the body, began to fulfill my part of the agreement and chant Hare Krishna and read a verse from Bhagavad Gita for this Shepherd, I also began to feel love for him.

We became a friendly team. He stood in front of me all days, just to remind me, because he knew I am forgetful. It gave me an understanding that it is very important for him. And that it is generally very important. If it didn't matter, why would he stand in front of me all days with such a considerate, understanding, and loving look? He is fed up to graze the minds of other people. I was wondering what future he might have. I wanted to determine a very good future for him.

I was thinking a lot and was offering him any directions, but he stubbornly showed his will, I felt it. He as if directed me what he wants.

76. The strong desire of Shepherd to engage in sankirtana

At that time I was reading Valmiki Prabhu's book about sankirtana. And I saw clearly the Parallels between this Shepherd and Valmiki Prabhu. And Valmiki Prabhu was once a kind of authority, could turn any business in the right direction for them, and the Shepherd also grazed the minds of other people, including large asuras, to send them in the direction that was necessary for those with whom this Shepherd cooperated.

I have long not been surprised by such non-random coincidences. I have read the book of Valmiki Prabhu three times, and this Shepherd read it with me, and he was very impressed that he expressed his desire to engage in sankirtana. I tried many times to offer him something else, but the Shepherd was adamant: he liked very much the personality of Valmiki Prabhu and what he was doing, that is, sankirtana, the distribution of Srila Prabhupada's books and knowledge of Krishna. He decided be sankirtaner that is a hero who doesn't hesitate making sacrifices in order to others can join the spiritual family of Krishna and return into spiritual world.

And then I decided to say it out loud in the next, 77th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asura's wife» to look at the screenshots that appear on my desktop, changing every 30 seconds in random order, to see what they want from me in this matter and where it is better to define him. And so I began to broadcast that the Shepherd chose for himself in his future sankirtana, like Valmiki Prabhu. And sankirtana not for money, and how Valmiki Prabhu — with full surrender to Krishna, for the donation.

He will not set the price of books on his sankirtan, but the money to him and through him into ISKCON will go a lot, very much, large flows, because he will be very lucky and will not be focused on getting money. This Shepherd saw everything in this world, he sat in so many minds and grazed so many people, that this rat race for money and this charms of materialistic life does not attract him at all, he saw everything and want to spread knowledge how to get out of the material world and return into the spiritual world.

I said that he will always be a very lucky man and a very lucky preacher, luck always will be with him, because I want it. Valmiki Prabhu is a fortunate preacher, but this Shepherd will be an incredibly lucky preacher, much luckier, he will preach where no one can go, where ordinary people are denied access, but before him all the doors will be open. As well as he was penetrating in any mind and commanding there, so will be opened all the doors of this world before him. And he will communicate with people in such a way that even the most hardened skeptics and opponents of Krishna consciousness will agree with him and will accept Krishna consciousness. He'll be such a great preacher.

He will take with him in his future lives his ability to graze the minds of other people, he knows their entire lowdown, all the complexes and human desires, he has seen so many of these minds and grazed so many people that he can handle anyone. And this skill he will take in his future lives on sankirtana. He will preach to the very big and influential personalities of this world, the powerful, the elite, so to speak, the top, those to whom ordinary preachers can not get, but he will be incredibly lucky, and they will bring him closer to themselves to talk with such an unusual person.

And he will convert them all to Krishna consciousness, because this ability to influence the minds and knowledge of human nature will pass with him into his future lives. All he has gained, all he knew and could, when he was without a material body and grazing the minds of other people, when he had asuric nature, he will use in sankirtana, distributing books of Srila Prabhupada and Krishna consciousness. As soon as I dissolved him in myself as in a jellyfish, I've listened to lectures of Srila Prabhupada, Bhakti Vikasha Swami, whole days and even nights without stopping, and he listened to with me, and he accepted it.

He is very smart, he has such a smart, heartfelt look, and he wants to spread this knowledge to other people. And since he is such a great Shepherd, who grazes the minds of other people, I have determined the same future for him — to graze the minds of other people, spreading Krishna consciousness them. He will preach for influential, mighty, great people, big men, with money, for very, very important people and having the resource to do something in this world. Many lives he will preach and sankirtan Krishna consciousness, he will deserve a return into the spiritual world, he will lead many people to Krishna consciousness, into ISKCON, and such people he will lead — intelligent, thinking, having a resource to really influence the fate of the world and endowed with power.

And since he will bring many into Krishna consciousness, many will be grateful to him, and all will bless him. The devotees will blessing him because he will be very large sankirtaner, very successful, fortunate, famous, prominent. Those people whom he will bring to Krishna consciousness will also be very grateful to him and will blessing him. And he will accumulated so many blessings that the Lord will take him into the spiritual world. And since he has promised me and we have a contract with him, he will ask Krishna to take me into His spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga will enter its full rights and begin to untwist its flywheel in full force, because I do not want to be there, in full swing Kali Yuga, when complete debauchery will begins.

And when I said all this, I expressed the wish that in his future lives he would not have any relations with women, thinking that it would hinder his activities, that the family would limit him in his sankirtana, will act as a burden, and I expressed my desire that he in his future was free from this, that he was a pure preacher, a brahmachary, a man who holds celibate and not has close relations and interaction with the opposite sex. But when I said it, popped up a screenshot with the words «I do not accept this condition». I did not pay attention to it, but after a while I was somehow given to know that this is an important condition and it must be taken into account.

When in the 77th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asura's wife» I was telling about the future of this Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you), at some point on my computer appeared a screenshot from «Mahabharata» where Krishna said He would still have to punish the Shepherd. I felt sorry for him, but I thought I could not see anything from here, but Krishna could see everything. And most likely it is the case that this Shepherd has done so many abominations that it is impossible not to punish him. And I thought: who will punish him and how? Krishna will punish him when He leads him to the next life (although his existence cannot be called life, because he does not have a material body), or should I give him some kind of execution? And how?

I didn't even have a hint of how he could be sent to the next lives if he didn't have body. I was very sorry for him, and the further, the sorrier. But then that figure of the king from «Kinder Surprise» fell on my Desk face down on stomach. And I kind of realized that this Shepherd is ready to receive this punishment, in order to free and go to his future, which is revealed to him in this my novel. I'm told that he will be great, very fortunate, successful and famous sankirtaner, that is a hero who doesn't hesitate making sacrifices in order to others can join the spiritual family of Krishna and return into spiritual world.

He will spread the books of Srila Prabhupada to many people, especially to the powerful. Like Valmiki Prabhu, but much bigger, resonantly, more globally, in other areas, on another, high level. This Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) will bring into Krishna consciousness, into ISKCON many intelligent, educated, sane, thinking people, who also have power and resources, who can have a real impact on the fate of the world and people. And through him will go a lot of money into Krishna consciousness, into ISKCON.

There, in the 77th series, I said that I did not want him to get married and had some kind of relationship with the women, but this place came out a screenshot that this condition is not accepted. I thought: Yes, mataji need protection and it is wrong to deprive them of this protection. Also during the recording of this, 77th series, when I wanted to say that he will be to sankirtana in Russia, the record jammed, the program glitched, and these words about Russia flew out of the record. From this I realized that he will actively to sankirtana around the world. That's better. But how to do it? How will I send him to his future lives?

I did not imagine it, and on these my thoughts this king from «Kinder Surprise» fell again, but on his back, on his side, raising his right hand and as if blessing and assuring me that everything will necessarily work. How? I had no idea, especially if I felt so sorry for him. But when I started recording the 78th series of my novel, all the pity for him disappeared, as there were screenshots symbolizing the lowering of female nature, forcing women to sexual interaction with them, asuras, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, but this sex is no different from real sex, because all this is happening.

I began to remember what they, the asuras, did to me, how my Shri Ram was activating the force methods and the estrus mode, as in animals during the mating period, at me, trying to throw me, woman loving Krishna and singing mantras, down, to the animal level. Krishna saved me. But no one saved the other women, and they fell victim to their impact. And from these thoughts I went into such a rage that I wanted to immediately tear apart this Shepherd, but I was restrained by the fact that was the Pitru Paksha period, that is two weeks in September, when the living can help those who have already left the body, somehow give them an impulse to their elevation. And I gave my word to this Shepherd that I would observe vow of Pitru Paksha for the sake of his release.

77. The bright future of The Shepherd

This Shepherd continued to read along with me book of Valmiki Prabhu about sankritana «Sankirtana Yajna, or the Dance of Rasa of Lord Chaitanya in Kali Yuga», and he decided to address the asuras through the words of this book. He knew, that asuras necessarily look these series of my novel “My Roman. I'm asur's wife”, so as await my announcement, whom I'm gonna expunge the next, and also that I'd say of value in stream current in my speech words. And the Shepherd decided to explain to all of them, showing them the story of this book about sankirtana in the cemetery. After all, there in the allegorical form it was said about that Shepherd.

And at his request I inserted in 78th series of my novel a piece from this book, reading it verbatim, as that was his wish:

— Well, I understand everything, but I can't understand two things. We all know you very well and for years. You can beat everyone; there was not a single case that you would fail. You can convince anyone to do what you need, with you is very difficult to argue. You always brought so many arguments and reasons that we always came out victorious. But! Who could have confused YOU?! What sect was able to confuse YOU?! This I can not realize! It's impossible!

And I told him:

— Friend, you know I'm not a fool. Look how much cases we've did together. You saw I'm not a fool?

— Yes, I respect you for that.

— So here is imagine, what people have been able confuse me! Do you have any idea what their level is?! You know that I will not go anywhere haphazardly. And if I got here, you know how serious people are?!

He:

— Well, Yes, I do!

Everyone thought for a moment.

— Friends, while there is time, grab luck, do not be suckers.

I got your backpack with Srila Prabhupada's books, opened:

— Take it, here everything is written.

Through these words the Shepherd personally spoke to the asuras. He said them all know him long time, that he was leading the minds of the people, that no one could resist his influence, that he could to confuse anyone, to do as they need, that all asuras is respected him and even feared him, because he was leading and their minds. He said that all the situations in which he took his invisible part, were successful for those on whose side he was. He said that those with whom he worked, always achieved their goals and no one was able to affect him.

And he told the asuras that look, I went to the Svetlana Vinodavani, who you all know as the very Mata Hari, which is so many lives was killing the strongest asuras. He told asuras that he was always leading the minds of others, but now he was convinced by the philosophy of Krishna consciousness, lectures of Srila Prabhupada, Bhakti Vikasha Swami, «Shrimad Bhagavatam» which he listened to with me, when he was in me as dissolved as in a jellyfish.

And he told asuras that he is not a fool, that he is very clever and they all know it and that he actually took this path seriously and saw quite clearly for himself and for all living beings the way out of the wheel of samsara and return into the spiritual world. The Shepherd said to the asuras through the story I included in the 78th series of my novel at his request that his choice is well thought out and true. And if he came here himself, it's very, very serious. And he told all the asuras that, while there was such an opportunity, they need to follow his example and come to me to striking out them off the list of asuras and to determine their future as Krishna's devotees with their return into the spiritual world.

Shepherd began to fulfill his sankirtana mission, not yet freed from their disembodied existence. But he's already preached. He's already preached for the asuras. Through me. In the 78th series of my novel. It's amazing! I realized that it was he, this Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) want to convey to the awareness of the asuras his implementation and lend a helping hand. Just when coming to me, he had already started what he would do many, many lives, but already having a body, his own, ordinary human body.

He himself came to me and said that he agreed to any execution, just to take the path, which he saw when I was recording my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» and told all this to asuras, both directly, and in an allegorical form, between lines. And he was completely sure in me that I will succeed in it that I will be able to release him from this incorporeal existence and make him a great fortunate and successful sankirtaner, that he in his future lives will lead to Krishna consciousness onto the path of return into the spiritual world many, many people, and a very high level.

And then, in the 78th series, I corrected his future by saying that in the 77th series, through screenshots with Arjuna's bow, which is in Panchali's room, I was told that he, like bow Gandiva, would be in his future lives in some Panchali's room. That there is some woman Panchali who is waiting for him. His significant other. And that they will be husband and wife in those future lives. That they will be faithful to each other, that all their future lives she will be his only woman, because there came out a screenshot with the words «no more, no less». «No less» means that he will not be alone, because a couple is two people, and less than two is one. But and «no more». More than a couple is three, four, and so on. «No more» means that he won't have other women. Only she will be with him.

For me, these revelations were so grandiose... I realized that some Panchali, some woman, is waiting for him and for a long time. That she is waiting for him there, between lives, and she looks at the whole situation and helps me, she is in my team of forces of light that with me, who insure me, protect me and guide me, give me signs. And she told me in the 77th series through the screenshot from «Mahabharata» with the words «We do not accept this condition» that she did not agree that he will be without her in his next lives. She told me that she has done so much to deserve his return to her, and has every right to that.

Realizing this, I with even greater zeal began to chant for him on a circle of the Hare Krishna mantra all Pitru Paksha, to read the verse from Bhagavad Gita and I decided that will do anything, so to release him from this incorporeal existence and return him to his Panchali. In the 12th series of «Mahakali» was the story of Bhandasura, who had no a body, showed me how Mahakali killed Bhandasura. She gave him the five material elements that make up the body, and then when he received the material body in this way, she killed him.

And this story showed me that something like that must be done with the Shepherd. Need to give him an ordinary material body from ordinary material elements, and then, when he has this body, to kill him. Tactics and strategy, how to send the Shepherd in his future lives, began to emerge, and it remained only to observe the vow made by me at the Pitru Paksha.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Then I remembered the book of Snegov «People as gods», in which the brain of the Third planet, which floated in some ball and coordinated space, planets, curved space, was very powerful, but had no body and wanted to gain it, came up with a move, how to realize his dream. He set in motion outer space, could destroy spaceships, entire fleets, annihilate outer space, but he could not go beyond the ball, because he had no body. And he did everything he could to help the humans and save them, and he then asked to put him in the place of the deceased brain in the head of the dragon. The earthlings did this, and brain got himself a body and his dream came true, he became a wise talking flying dragon.

And I assumed that, probably, after Pitru Paksha I will be given some other great asur onto his striking out. I'll knock him out of his asuric body and will send him to his future lives, and then I will put Shepherd inside this empty body and almost immediately throw him out of there, and so he'll be free from that cursed condition and will fly into his future lives, to meet his Panchali.

I thought a lot about this Panchali, which, as it turned out, is waiting for this Shepherd and for a long time. I thought: she has been waiting for him for a long time, she is not looking for others, and she did a lot to deserve his return to herself. How amazing it is! She didn't run to look for someone else. I felt more and more respect for her, and I wanted to help her. I thought: what did she do to deserve that I came to these asuras to pull out this Shepherd and return him to her? I many lives was borning in asuric worlds and was destroying the strongest asuras, I was risking myself, but how she was risking herself and what sacrifices she was making I did not imagine, but my confidence that I would be able to release the Shepherd and send him to his future lives as devotees of Krishna, grew and strengthened.

I saw at the screenshots from the 12th series of «Mahakali» that Mahakali blessed Rati, the wife of Kamadev, to reunification with Kamadev. It means that there is the blessing to reunion Panchali with the Shepherd and will succeed everything. And then quite spontaneously happened session with pillow. It's been so long since I've had sessions with pillow. In January 2017, Shri Ram attached to me four his asuras-wolfhounds at a subtle energy level, so that they would not let me into our deep layers with him, and after that the sessions with pillow stopped. And from January to mid-September there was not a single session with pillow.

But after my reasoning about Panchali in the 79th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» happened session with pillow. It was September 13, until the end of Pitru Paksha there was still a week. Pitru Paksha is a time when the living can help their ancestors and those who have left the body, to rise and be free from sinful reactions. And before going to sleep, when I hugged my favorite pillow, suddenly words of love flowed out of me: «My loved, love, my man, my husband». These words were like words of all the other sessions with pillow, but then flowed out the other words and in that tone that is not peculiar to me. And then I realized that it was session with pillow not me with Shri Ram, but the Shepherd with Panchali and she was talking him these words. These were the words «I want you», and with such a feeling...

I looked at these «I want you» in amazement and clearly realized that now this Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) has the opportunity to touch with his second half.

78. Manipulations of my consciousness in order to I leave Shri Ram

In those days I had a flurry of sad thoughts. I remembered how my Shri Ram wanted to connect me with some gorgeous man when I started recording my video and telling about the asuras.

Then Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, and my Shri Ram decided to stop my broadcast about asuras, connecting me with a gorgeous man. As was then said coach karate on the phone: «We will act according to the same scheme, but from other phone. At least you'll be rich, and I will make everything to make you happy». Shri Ram wanted to trick me connecting me with some good man, which mind he would press to interact with me through the body of that man. I felt so bitter...

I didn't know why he wanted to connect me with some gorgeous man instead of himself in physical reality. About this I learned much later, when recorded 181st series of my novel and has begun transcribing video into text, but discovered obscure places in event presentation, has become repair chronology of the time and me has opened hidden. In that period, I found out why Shri Ram was going to bring up to me his double, about which I would think it was my Shri Ram. But this knowledge came much later, during recording of April 18, 2018, the 214th and 215th series of my novel, and in the fall of 2017, I did not know why Shri Ram wanted to do it.

I felt very sad. I was disgusted when I imagined that I would be stroking someone else's man and would have sex with him, thinking that this is my Shri Ram, and Shri Ram through his body would be with me, but body would not his, but a stranger man. I was so disgusted, I wanted to disappear from here immediately, but stopped by the idea that the children are not to blame, that their mom is such. I must live. For the sake of children. They need me. As all this is bitter! How sad it is. I was so sorry that I came to him...

After that I began to think that if I consider that I was a kind of Mata Hari in their Asuric worlds, it is not known what I was doing there to destroy their strongest asuras. Maybe there I was with many men to carry out my mission. I didn't know how I was destroying them then. I gave Shri Ram access to my files where I was Mata Hari in their asuric worlds, and then he opened the veil over those events, but only slightly. I knew only that I was born there and killed them. But, what I did there, how I lived, Shri Ram had not opened to me. But the realization that I had so many lives just to kill them was enough above the roof for me to fall into the abyss of self-pity.

And then I thought that I was also distinguished in this life: in Moscow, when I was married, I, as it turned out, had an invisible interaction with Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization. And I thought that this attitude towards me Shri Ram, that he was not confused by the fact that I would be with someone else's man, thinking that this is my Shri Ram, quite naturally. And how else should he think about a woman who for the sake of fulfilling her mission to destroy the asuras went to this...

I remembered how Kuru had tried to undress Draupadi in that Royal meeting and how they shouted to her that if she has a few more husbands, no difference. Like, such a woman by default cannot be pure, they say, she's like a prostitute. And to me the same attitude of this Shri Ram. He wanted to act according to the same scheme, but from other phone, to be with me through a different man. But the contact of bodies would be with another man. Such an attitude to me, as to a prostitute. Like, you as Mata Hari in asuric worlds slept with many to destroy those strongest asuras, you were with Moscow Borka, although you were married, and your husband was good. But nothing stopped you, you wanted to destroy Borka, so you neglected everything, and nobody was spared, and you accomplished your mission.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I thought Yes, it's all true. And no wonder even my Shri Ram thinks I'm a fallen woman who doesn't care who she's with. I did a lot of what went on there in Moscow, with the Moscow Borka, to obtain from him the promise to give something important to the one who I go. Something I've done, that Borka gave his word and then executed it. But he didn't want to do it... I forced him to do it in my first video. Really, who cares if there will be any more men with me? I'm used to it... And I thought Prabhu Sasha was totally right when he told me that I had come to this Shri Ram in vain. He does not deserve it.

I thought that these thoughts are mine. In fact, it was not me who thought, but these thoughts were sent to me, it was a manipulation of my consciousness. I said in my video that since my Shri Ram is not with me, then it must be done so that it all was not in vain and send all the asuras to their future lives. And some of them decided to bring these emotions into me and plunge me into the slough of despond, so that I would not want to be with Shri Ram anymore, so that I stop destroying the asuras. I saw clearly that this was a manipulation of my consciousness. But I agreed with it completely. It's true.

And then other thoughts came to me, about Janmashtami in 2016, when Shri Ram was trying to throw me into another man to get rid of me, because he had a very good woman all summer. That's before he had a financial collapse and almost went bankrupt, broke and homeless. Then he manipulated my mind on Janmashtami to press me into there, to that man.

I was thinking that if he was doing this to me, so he doesn't need me. After all, the arrow of my internal compass is always aimed at him, but he tried so many times to redirect it to some other men, and from this it follows that he does not need me. After all, when the compass needle is focuses to another man, and the energy is transferred there. And it was thrown into my mind that since he was trying so hard to redirect the arrows of my compass to another man, then my energy is not really needed him. and this whole situation looked like I clung to him and do not tear myself away, even though he very diligently tries to tear me away from himself.

I thought that these thoughts were mine, but it was actually another manipulation of my consciousness. I thought someone needed to I turned away from Shri Ram and went away from him. But I was in full agreement with those who did these manipulations: why did I come to him? Why am I holding on to him so long? As if I grabbed him and I can do nothing about it, I can't unhook myself. I don't respect myself at all. Alas. But Krishna told me to be with Shri Ram, and I will. I want to Krishna. More and more.

I spent the whole day thinking about how Shri Ram had been bad to me. I was thinking about how Shiva in «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» gave Ravana the sword Chandrahas and said that if Ravana would abuse that sword then it would return to Shiva. But Shri Ram abused me a lot, and I'm still with him. I thought maybe it was for something? But the memories kept coming up and coming up... And I had a big disgust for him, and I wanted to leave him for good, to Krishna removed him from my life files altogether. Fully.

I had a strong desire to avenge him for all he has done to me. I thought I'd take revenge on him by leaving him. 1.5 years I was with him. Once he lived before me, and very fun, he had a stormy life. He had a lot of female individuals, whose nature he broke like a big asur and who became weak-willed rags in his hands, who are ready to do everything that will come to his mind, Yes, without his personal physical presence, somehow in the distance, but the fact is the fact. Fun!

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I wanted to take revenge on him, so he would suffer. He's has fun with women with a broken woman's nature, where he's an overlord, and all ready to please him according to his desire. I thought that leaving him would not be the cruelest revenge, since his merry existence with those women would continue, but his life with me would be a worthy revenge. Here is this on fact revenge!

And so I succumbed to those manipulations with my falling into humiliation and into my reactions to it. At some point, I came to think that it is not necessary to throw this gift of Gurudev and Nrisimhadev. Nrisimhadev somehow showed me that Shri Ram is a gift of Nrisimhadev to me. And Nrisimhadev was offended when I didn't appreciate His gift. And Gurudev in the video with the answers to my letter held out me the ring in palm, as if giving to me Shri Ram. And I have decided that I will not offend Nrisimhadev and my Gurudev and I will not walk away from Shri Ram. Although he is such.

I thought someone was trying so hard to turn me away from Shri Ram, even though Nrisimhadev and my Gurudev told me to be with him, no matter what. And I decided that it is necessary to punish them, the manipulators of consciousness. I see they're big on mind manipulation. Of course, they are absolutely right: Shri Ram behaved very badly with me, but these derogatory thoughts about me and his attitude to me do not add pleasant emotions to me. I told them that I agree with them completely, but Krishna told me to be with Shri Ram and I will be with him.

And I also thought that someone taught my Shri Ram and these mind manipulators all these tricks, all these methods, when «We will act according to the same scheme, but from other phone». I thought they studied somewhere from someone. They have some teacher, and we need have done away with this teacher. I thought that this teacher was probably great, because my Shri Ram is a great asur, that is, he has reached great heights on their asuric hierarchical ladder.

By this time, the Pitru Paksha came to an end. Every day I honestly was chanting the Hare Krishna mantra for the Shepherd and was reading one shloka of the «Bhagavad Gita» for him, and I fasted on Indira Ekadashi on water. And I gave all the benefit of observing this Ekadashi to the Shepherd so that he would be free from his curse of disembodied existence, from his sinful reactions and be able to reunite with his Panchali and go with her to Krishna.

I decided that immediately after the Pitru Paksha I would deal with the teacher of Shri Ram, knock him out of his body, then I put disembodied Shepherd into empty shell of teacher, and then beat him out of there. And also I will have done away with those manipulators of consciousness, which, though right, but gave me a lot of unpleasant moments and for this will be punished. About the teacher of Shri Ram I said that no his qualifications will not help him, that here is another scope that are beyond his reach, and he cannot do anything about it. And I said that in his next lives teacher of Shri Ram will also serve Krishna.

79. Teacher of Shri Ram

When some asuras had done their vile manipulations of my consciousness causing in me derogatory thoughts about myself and about what Shri Ram does not feel the need to be with me, they were raising in my memory many sad memories of this. It was thought about that he tried his best to get rid of me, and therefore did squeezing me out of his space and throwing into another man on Janmashtami, and then integrated into overall structure of our intimate interaction another man at the energy plane of existence, and then he was going to connect me with some gorgeous man instead of himself in physical reality. These asuras were throwing thoughts into my mind that I don't respect myself at all if I'm still with him. That he has no respect for me and thinks that if I many times got birth in asuric worlds to kill the strongest asuras and it is not known what I did for this, obviously not the best, then I don't care who I'm with. That I don't care who I'm with. That for me the main is to perform my task, and what kind of man with me, I don't care that I'm as prostitute. That is unknown, what services I provided for Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, because of which he gave me the floor to give something to my future husband, Shri Ram. These asuras were throwing thoughts into my mind that Shri Ram knows about all this and does not consider me worthy of respect and good attitude to myself as a person and as a woman.

When all these derogatory thoughts were thrown into my mind by some asuras in order to cause rejection from Shri Ram and a strong desire to leave him, I remembered that Krishna and Gurudev gave me signs to be with Shri Ram, whatever happens. And I by a strong-willed effort stopped the flow of self-immolation flowing through my consciousness. I saw very clearly that this was a very successful manipulation of my consciousness, that all this was influence from outside on me, and I decided that they made a mistake deciding to bring me to such a depressing state.

I thought that Shri Ram is also a big fan of manipulation of consciousness and that someone had taught it him. Someone taught him to not only manipulations of consciousness, but also those methods that ruin the female nature, making from normal women against their will weak-willed toys in the hands of the asuras. And I thought that someone is a great teacher of asuras. And I said that now we will have done away with him, because the teacher is responsible for his disciples. If they are wrong, he must correct them, and if he agrees with what they are doing and even teaches them this, and this is fundamentally wrong, then he is doubly responsible.

And then I tuned in to this teacher of Shri Ram. It was when I chanted my daily circles of the Hare Krishna mantra. I sat down to chant japa and during that time I tuned in to the teacher of Shri Ram. I saw on my inner screen a large bright hole, a kind of wide corridor at the level of the heart between me and the teacher. And he looked out of that hole right in my eyes, and I looked him in the eyes. I chanted the mantra, docking with him.

And inside him I saw some libraries, big tall shelves, all filled with books, and suddenly from those shelves of his libraries into me on that wide corridor the piles of books flew. After all those books flew into me, I decided to turn on the Hare Krishna mantra inside him and began to blow the sounds of Hare Krishna mantra into the corridor between us. That hole between us began to expand, became a big golden foramen, and between us with him went a good synchronization, coupling, and I turned on a mantra inside him. After that, I saw myself as a huge Cobra in a combat stance high in space, and out of me went some powerful fire current.

The same day, and it was September 19, 2017, the last day of Pitru Paksha, when I did a lot of to help the Shepherd to get rid of his curse of the incorporeal existence. At the beginning of the Pitru Paksha we signed a contract that I will honor it for his sake, and that's Pitru Paksha came to an end. I was in the 12th series of the series «Mahakali» showed what to do with the Shepherd — it was necessary to give him someone's body, endowing it with the elements of which the body consists, and then, so to speak, kill.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And then I assumed that they would give me some very cool asur, whom I would beat out of his body, and then I would put in his empty shell an incorporeal Shepherd, he would merge with this body, and then I would knock him out of it and send him to his future lives. And I thought: who is this big asur who is suitable for this task? And it turned out that for this role the teacher of Shri Ram came up. The teacher of the asuras. He is a very large magnitude in their asuric world. How great was the Shepherd, that they gave for him such a great teacher of asuras.

80. The secret past of the teacher of Shri Ram

September 19 came, I kept the vow of Pitru Paksha for the Shepherd. I was given a teacher of Shri Ram, I had already synchronized with him, I pumped out of him all his knowledge, all the books of his mental library, and it was time to start the operation to eliminate this teacher, and then the Shepherd. But I was very interested in the personality of this teacher. And I was given a story about it. Day in VKontakte in the group «Mahabharata» posted a post about Karna. I have long noticed that eventualities are not at all random.

And I immediately realized that through this story about Karna I in an allegorical form set out the true story of this teacher, which I voiced in the 83rd series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». In it I said that Karna was a great Archer. And parallel to my words about Karna there was a projection on this great teacher, on the secret of his origin and appearance on the asuric Olympus.

An Archer is someone who shoots. Also an Archer is someone who has look. I pronounced the word «лук» in Russian, it denotes a bow, a weapon for shooting with arrows. But the sound of this word in English means a look. The Russian word «лук» is heard as the English word «look». That is, an Archer is someone who has some powerful bow, a look by which he can shoot. It's when at the energy plane of existence let the beam out of himself to either do something, or kill, or to achieve goals. That is, I was said here that this teacher had a powerful bow, a ray-gaze at the energy plane of existence.

I also said that Karna was the eldest son of Kunti, who was born to her before she got married. And there, in the 83rd series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife», I said that Kunti didn't give birth to Karna. She received him as a result of the blessing. She had a mantra, she chanted it to Sun God, he appeared before her, and she had a child without the usual conception and normal childbirth. Yes, I was saying all this as if about Kunti, about the mother of the five Pandavas, from the Mahabharata, but saying all this, I was simply voicing what I thought was necessary, clearly realizing that in my words there is a mystery of the origin of this teacher of Shri Ram and that I should talk not about Kunti and Karna, but about this teacher of Shri Ram and all those asuras.

The very history of Kunti and Karna I had the right to present not as it was actually. What I voiced in my novel, in my video, was a description in the allegorical form of the history of this teacher of Shri Ram. And in these words about the fact that Kunti chanted the mantra and there appeared before her the Sun God, was hidden the mystery of the origin of this teacher. That there was some girl, an unmarried, a virgin. And before her was some kind of RA. Because RA is the Sun God of the Egyptians. And also the RA is the degree at asuric hierarchy, that is to say, special position, which has the right to occupy the asur, who reached great heights in his asuric existence and who can lead big asuric organization, like a spider, holding in its paws the filaments of his web.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And in my words it was revealed to asuras that this their great teacher was conceived by some RA from some virgin who did not give birth to him. Because I said that Kunti had a baby without a normal conception and a normal birth. From this I realized that some great asur, RA, conceived this teacher from some virgin not in the usual for people way. That is, he spent the fertilization in contactless sex, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, because the usual conception was not.

But the asuras are able to conceive their children in contactless sex, without personal presence, and the woman may not even guess what is happening to her, when she starts having gorgeous orgasms, when she is as if alone, there are no man with her, but at the same time she completely was immersed in the a deep orgasm of incredible power. And this orgasm stretching incredibly long and not letting her out. As if she has a real sex, but with whom, if there is no one?

And some great asur, RA, had done it with a virgin, a girl who didn't know a man yet. And inside her, in her female organs, settled their asuric baby, who could sit in her as much as necessary and wait at her to happen an ordinary sex with an ordinary man and a normal, ordinary conception. Then settled inside her baby conceived by the great asur, RA, without the usual conception, could to find his physical shell and be born as their child, child of that girl and ordinary man.

But I voiced such a version that Karna appeared at Kunti without the usual conception and without the usual birth. That is, this RA conceived the asuric baby who later became a great teacher of the asuras, in contactless sex with the virgin, but she did not give birth to him. That is, he was extracted from her. That was as Shri Ram extracted from me asuric baby who was conceived in me by Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization (without usual conception, I had no sex with him, all this was at the energy plane of existence, I didn't even know him and didn't guess what it was). Also, then Shri Ram extracted from me conceived by us the boy and the girl. And then he was very surprised that thereafter blood did not flow like during menstruation. But my stomach ached mercilessly, as if something was actually cut out of it.

And that RA subjected some kind of virgin to such a torment. He first conceived with her that teacher. He conceived with her without his usual conception, without his presence, without contact of physical bodies, and then he took conceived foetus out, cut him out of her and sewed him into some other woman who gave birth to him, in ordinary childbirth, and who raised him. How much I have discovered about the origin of their great teacher. They didn't even know that their great teacher was like this. But, probably, conceived in this way foetus are not eligible to become teacher. But he became. It turned out to be a big shock for the entire asuric community.

Then I'm in the course of the presentation of the history of Karna said that he was raised in a family of a charioteer and no one really knew about his true origin. That is, the teacher of Shri Ram was cut out of his real mother, who was a virgin, in some kind of subtle, fine-material form, and was sewn into another woman, and it was the charioteer family. What is charioteer? This is the one whose all events in life are a projection and a guide for carrying a large organization like at asuras.

How I am such a charioteer of Shri Ram. He is RA, there is a great asuric organization under him, and everything that happens in my life is signs, tips about what is happening there, in his life and in his organization and projection on it. He is able to decipher information, as if embedded in some encrypted form in the events in my life. He is able to see which of them are a projection of what is happening there.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And the teacher of Shri Ram was sewn into such a family of a charioteer that would give such guidance to some of the asuras to lead their organization. And teacher of Shri Ram grew up in this family. He could not become the teacher of asuras, according to his position. But he became a teacher because I told that Karna had become a great Archer by telling Parashurama that he was a brahman, even though he was not a brahman. And Parashurama was accepting as his disciples only brahmans. And in the same way, teacher of Shri Ram became a teacher and an Archer, that is, the owner of some powerful gaze-bow that could kill anyone.

Parashurama gave Karna all the knowledge, and then it was revealed to him that Karna had deceived him. And Parashurama told Karna that in the moments of mortal danger he would forget all his knowledge he had received in an unjust way, and it would not help him in any way. In these words, there was a continuation of the history of the teacher of Shri Ram. He had no right to become an Archer, with some gaze-weapon, and teacher. But he got it by deception and was cursed because of it. And then I opened the post in VKontakte, which came to me when I was thinking about this teacher, and I continued to tell the asuras about the true state of things about their big (before my arrival to him) teacher.

That day, September 19, 2017, in the group «Mahabharata» in VKontakte was published a post about Karna. I at that time was thinking about teacher of Shri Ram, I was wondering who he was, and I synced with him on some of my internal screen and pumped out all the books out of him, from his internal library. Apparently, in those books were his lifes files and knowledge, and me through the post in VKontakte was many told about him. Of course, in an allegorical form, but I have long been accustomed to extract from ordinary words and phrases hidden messages and this time took that post as a specific answer to me about the teacher of Shri Ram.

In particular, in this post was such:

Throughout his life, Karna were pursued failures and curses, which led him to death. After he has left the ashram of Parashurama he some time aimlessly wandering. One day, a cow was chasing after him, and he killed her with a bow. The brahman, the owner of the cow, cursed Karna, saying that just as Karna killed a helpless animal, he would be killed when he was helpless.

Karna was killed by Arjuna on the 17th day of the battle. Before that, the rivals had been fighting on equal terms for a long time, but at some point, Karna broke down under the weight of curses. When the wheels of his chariot got bogged down in the wet ground and Arjuna aimed his bow at Karna, he realized that he could not remember the mantra that activated his weapons. Thus, the curse of Parashurama was realized. Karna asked Arjuna to wait until he had repaired the chariot, and Arjuna agreed. But Krishna demanded Arjuna immediately killed him. Krishna said that killing someone who has served the forces of evil all his life is not Adharma (sin). He listed to Arjuna all the sinful acts perpetrated by Karna against the Pandavas and Draupadi. He also noted that Arjuna would not be able to defeat Karna if he fully recovered his strength. Thus, Arjuna killed Karna, who was in a difficult situation, by doing the will of Krishna. Karna's funeral rite was performed by Krishna himself. Karna was the only character in the Mahabharata to have been awarded this honor.

That is, teacher of Shri Ram in his entire life had gathered a lot of curses of many, many offended and deceived by him personalities. He had once killed a cow with his bow, and the owner of the cow was a brahmana, and he cursed him that just as he had killed a helpless animal, he would be killed when he was helpless. In these words, it was said, of course, not about just a cow.

It was about a good a woman who acted as a nursing, life-giving. After all, a cow is the one whose milk is fed to both calves and people. She gives her milk, her energy for someone's existence. And she, the cow, had the owner, i.e. the husband. After all, the owner of a woman is her husband. That is, from the story about the cow killed by Karna from the bow, it became clear to me that the teacher of Shri Ram somehow «killed» with his bow, his thought, some cow, a woman, a married one, who was everything to her husband. This woman was giving him life and prayed for his protection. He, her husband, lived thanks to her. And he was some kind of a worthy man, because the owner of the cow was a brahman.

But teacher of Shri Ram took advantage of some helpless condition of that woman, the wife of that brahman, and «killed her with his bow», that is, he used his asuric abilities and killed her love for her husband, that she stopped giving him life, broke all relations with him and left him, her husband. How did he do it? «He shot her with his bow», that is, with his mental message to her suppression, and all, she had to her husband, died, all her feelings for him, the desire to be with him and pray for his protection, it's all gone. For the husband of this woman, this «cow», which was everything for him, which was his life, her departure from his life was much grief. He somehow found out about the reason for this and cursed the one who did it, namely this teacher, that he would be killed when he was helpless.

This man loved his wife so much, his woman, a sacred creature to him, revered by him with all his soul, that after she left him he was so lost in the abyss of hopelessness that he cursed this teacher. And what was with that «cow» after such an impact on her, when all her feelings for her husband were gone, when she broke up with him and left him? What did she become after that? She was a Shrine to her husband, a sacred creature, but her consciousness was depressed, and she went to offer her charms to another. And for this her husband cursed this teacher.

81. The end of the life of the teacher of Shri Ram

Thus, the two different curses which the teacher had received were joined together: from the teacher who had been deceived by him, that in moments of mortal danger he would forget all his knowledge and it would not help him in any way, and from brahman the grief-stricken because of loss of his beloved wife, that he would be killed when he was helpless. And in that post it was said that at some point Karna broke under the weight of curses. And ditto the great teacher of the asuras broke under the weight of curses because he had a lot of curses and all his curses joined together and destroyed him.

And this moment has arrived, when I finished the Pitru Paksha and it's time to eliminate from the list of the asuras the teacher and Shepherd. In this post it was said that Krishna demanded that Arjuna kill Karna immediately. Krishna said that killing someone who has served the forces of evil all his life is not Adharma (sin). He listed to Arjuna all the sinful acts perpetrated by Karna against the Pandavas and Draupadi.

And all this day, on September 19, 2017, in my mind, memories were surfacing that Shri Ram and a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization did to me. These memories were very painful. But the most serious crime of this teacher, from my point of view, was that this teacher was installing in his disciples-asuras attitude to the woman as to a female animal, to the expendable material, soulless and not deserving even a spark of mercy and quarter.

In the pickup is instilled such an attitude to a woman that a woman — a female, female animal, for which the most important is the care of her offspring, the instinct of procreation, that a woman is a female, who looking where her offspring will be better arranged, safer, more comfortable, and this task is best performed under the protection of the alpha male, having a resource to ensure a comfortable, safe and secure existence. And you just have to show the female that you are such an alpha male, and then her instincts will turn on and she will do everything that you, like alpha male, fertilized this female.

Well, in order to hold a demonstration that you're an alpha male, to transmit it to the subconscious of the female, it is necessary to show your strength, one way or another. I mean, acting like you're her master. And then the female will recognize you as the leader and obey with great pleasure, as such is her essence. After all, all females are looking for your benefit... And the main thing — it's not to be reliable man, but to demonstrate that you are her owner, that she is nobody one at your feet.

And I remembered the first time I brought my children to the karate coach, the very first class, when Shri Ram had already plugged unto me through him and had already began his attack. The coach was standing in the doorway; he had a big stick in his hands, which he does not part with during classes. He said something to the children and looked me in the eye. And he with all the strength sharply banged by that stick on door, that I was very scared and with a loud cry sprang for the door.

I remembered that, I thought then Shri Ram was showing me who the main is, when the karate coach, looking me in the eye, said something to the kids and hit the door with a stick. He kind of said, «I'm in charge here, listen to me! And follow all my commands!» And he gave me the order to obey him and do whatever what he will tell me to do.

At the same time, we discussed with the karate coach in e-mail proofreading of texts of his website, and he wrote to me there: «Thank you for your concern, and, perhaps, you are right, mistakes are not desirable. If your professional opinion suggests, then don't think it's a work is to do it». It seems to be a completely innocent letter about the texts of his site, but in these words Shri Ram told me in allegorical language the following — that he thanks me for my concern and that to do it.

That is, he already deliberately prescribed me a concern, that is, already decided to press down all the buttons in my women's centers to cause this concern. He decided to cause sexual longing at me to force me masturbate and they would fuck me the whole crowd at the energy plane of existence, implementing their perverted fantasies, enjoying a sense of superiority that another one female fell under them and does everything they want. And they would pump out my female energy and my piety. All this he told me in innocent words «thank you for your concern».

He thanked me in advance that I would have this anxiety caused and I would submit to it. As they write: «Thank you in advance», when you are sure that everything will be done. And in the words «don't think it's a work is to do it» he gave me a very clear and direct order, which does not allow any objections that it should be done, because it was written specifically: «to do it». Imperative command. Yes, first part of the sentence was «don't think it's a work», but it did not play any role, since the main words were «to do it», that is, «I order: to do it, and you will do it without fail».

All this I had been remembering all that day, it was like how as Krishna was listing to Arjuna all the sinful acts that Karna had perpetrated against the Pandavas and Draupadi, so that Arjuna would have no doubts. I thought about all that and how low it was to put a woman on that level in their attitude towards her when to her was pointed to her miserable position at the feet of her master, the alpha male.

And I thought that teacher has such an attitude towards women, and that he was inculcating such an attitude his disciples, one of whom is my eternal husband, my Shri Ram. And this teacher inculcated in my eternal husband the attitude towards me, his eternal wife, his Shakti, his woman, his second half, as a female animal, looking for a better male, to well arrange her brood, in a warm place. Yes, for this one it should be removed that teacher, I decided, and proceeded with decisive action.

When it was time to wash the dishes in the evening, I thought that in a post at VKontakte Krishna had demanded that Arjuna kill Karna immediately. Krishna said that killing someone who has served the forces of evil all his life is not Adharma (sin). He listed to Arjuna all the sinful acts perpetrated by Karna against the Pandavas and Draupadi. I thought that teacher of Shri Ram had been serving the forces of evil, the asuras, all his life, teaching them to lower women's nature, to tear it down and turn women into their weak-willed toys, and I must in some way to have done away with him.

I looked at the mountain of dirty dishes and thought I was washing those dishes because of that teacher. Yes, I know that we are to blame for the circumstances of our live, this is our karma, the consequences of our actions and we should not blame anyone for this. But I had to start somehow operation on elimination of teacher of Shri Ram, and I thought that it is good for this purpose somehow even to fan my indignation to the limit, to increase my hatred for washing dishes. I thought that to achieve the goal any means are good, and I can to make use of any reason, even of absolutely ridiculous occasion, the main thing that it worked. And I decided to use this mountain of dirty dishes in my kitchen sink in my own interests.

I began to think, intentionally, quite clearly deciding that it is necessary to fan this indignation to the limit and dirty dishes here will be very helpful because I hate washing dishes, but because of teacher of Shri Ram I wash dishes. He instilled my Shri Ram these settings that a woman is not a person, but only a female animal, the expendable material. He instilled my Shri Ram that to make a woman happy in very dubious ways, which really can only plunge her into the abyss of hopelessness, derogatory thoughts about herself, that they dared to think, that it might make her happy. I remembered how Shri Ram activated the force methods at me at the beginning of our invisible interaction with him. I remembered that he, my other half, who has to protect and cherish me, sent his companions from his asuric organization upon me on a subtle energy plane, forcing me to start having sex with them all. And he pressed me by all his asuric abilities and powers to bring me to my knees in front of all of them. He did manipulations with my consciousness, pressed some buttons in my energy structure to activate at me estrus mode, like a female dog during fertilization, causing in my body a high intensity sexual arousal, because of which, as he believed, any woman will necessarily start having sex with any man or at least masturbate. Then Shri Ram integrated into overall structure of our intimate interaction another man at the energy plane of existence, and then he was going to connect me with some gorgeous man instead of himself in physical reality.

I was thinking about that time, and indignation, resentment, shame, sad emotions were rising in me, and I decided route these emotions to have done away with this teacher. I have turned on Narasimha Maha Mantra, «ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham». I thought there need Nrisimhadev, because He is the death of death, He can kill anyone.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I suddenly realized that I'm inside this teacher. I sing this Narasimha Maha Mantra, I standing inside the teacher and suddenly I see what's inside him appeared Nrisimhadev, as a Deity of Nrisimhadev. He was small, Nrisimhadev sat on His throne, and in the form of this Deity sitting on His throne He appeared inside this teacher and began to fly throughout the space inside teacher. Nrisimhadev was small, the teacher was big, and I spread my consciousness to the entire space of the teacher. I kind of was inside him, and at the same time, I was kind of spread all over him. I sing this mantra, wash the dishes and by some inner sight see Nrisimhadev along with this throne whirl, whirling rushes inside teacher, by some chaotic spirals, and I mentally say: «Kill him, kill him».

Then I found myself in front of the Deity of Nrisimhadev, to whom I always came in meditation, when Shri Ram invisibly appeared and plugged unto me at the energy plane of existence. I remembered how I was flying to Deity of Nrisimhadev, was merging with Him, how I was sitting on His lap, pressing myself to His chest, how He was hugging me with His hand, comforting me, how I was complaining to Him, crying to Him like to my husband, and He was calming me. And I suddenly saw myself standing, angry and demanding before this Deity.

I stood in front of Nrisimhadev with my hands folded in Namaste and began to tell Him: «Kill, kill»... and then «I want, want»... Was an interesting situation. I in the mind's eye was standing in front of a large Nrisimhadev Deity and at the same time some I my inner gaze saw that little Nrisimhadev Deity on a throne flies, spinning, inside the teacher with lightning speed like a whirlwind. What was He doing there, I didn't know but I thought that Nrisimhadev will cleanse all at the teacher and will do everything right.

But I personally appealed the Nrisimhadev, paying His attention to the teacher, at the same time and asking, and demanding, and insisting, like a whimsical wife requires her husband to fulfill her wish: «Kill him... kill him... kill him... I want it... I want... I want... I want»... The teacher did a lot of ugly, vile, he taught my Shri Ram to invade the personal space of a woman, against her will, and break her feminine nature, he instilled in him the attitude to woman as to a female (к женщине как к самке, к особи женского пола), as if a woman is not a person, but only a female animal, the expendable material, and Krishna said to kill this teacher.

And from Nrisimhadev suddenly went bright stream of fire that I routed at that teacher. And I suddenly saw this teacher floating inside his body, as in weightlessness, somewhere at the level between the Anahata and Manipura, and I began to try to raise him higher. And then after a short time I saw him standing in front of me on his knees with his hands folded and asking to accept him. I looked at him, and I wanted to turn on another mantra (all this time I was washing dishes in my kitchen and listening to mantras).

I turned on the mantra «Tumi bhaja re mana» performed by Manish Vyas.

tumi bhaja re mana tumi japa re mana om shri ram jaya ram japa re mana.

«Oh, mind, always worship (bhaja) and chant (japa) the name of God! „O Sri Rama! Glory to Sri Rama!“ — my mind sings».

This mantra is so sad, I always want to cry during it. And during this mantra I embraced the teacher kneeling in front of me, and I was immersed in the feeling of longing described in Lord Chaitanya's «Sri Shikshashtakam»: «O my Lord, when will my eyes be decorated with tears of love flowing constantly when I chant Your holy name? When will my voice choke up, and when will the hairs of my body stand on end at the recitation of Your name? O Govinda! Every moment of separation from me for me, for more than twelve years. Tears are pouring from my eyes, currents of rain, and without you the whole world seems empty to me».

I hugged this teacher, and tears actually began rain from my eyes, we were crying together, hugging, and were flying together, as if merged together, as one, immersed in this feeling of piercing universal wistfulness to Krishna. I cried to this teacher, endowing him this feeling, and he felt it all with me. I told him that I love him. I really loved him at that time, standing in my kitchen in front of a mountain of dirty dishes. I loved him unearthly, immense love, and suddenly he stretched out his hands to me, on my internal screen, and began to repeat the same: «I love you, I love you...»

And then from somewhere up above appeared a whirlwind, as some purple-blue-purple infinite vortex, standing over us like a trumpet, borne upwards whirling spiral and dragging you off into the distance. I told that teacher not to be afraid that he would be met there, that I would pray for him. I said to Krishna, «Please, Krishna, accept him, accept him». I didn't do anything with him the whole time. I was just singing Narasimha Maha Mantra, prayed to Nrisimhadev, Nrisimhadev did it for me, I even not touched him, to this teacher.

As in the post in the group «Mahabharata» in VKontakte was written about Karna, that the funeral rite of Karna was made by Krishna and that Karna was the only hero of Mahabharata, awarded this honor. The same thing happened to this teacher. I did not do anything with him myself, everything was done by Nrisimhadev, and this teacher was the only one in my Mahabharata who was so honored. And then I just turned on this mantra:

om shri ram jaya ram japa re mono.*

«Oh, mind, always worship (bhaja) and chant (japa) the name of God! „O Sri Rama! Glory to Sri Rama!“ — my mind sings».

I hugged him, I loved this teacher so much and so immensely, and he loved me, and I coupled this teacher to this love, to a piercing longing for Krishna.

And when I turned to Krishna to receive this teacher, this funnel-shaped vortex itself pulled him into itself, and he flew away there. He was rushing there, holding out his hands to me, crying and kept saying to me: «I love you, I love you»... Then I looked back at the empty body left from him, and I thought that Krishna told me to release the Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) and I immediately took him up.

82. Gulf Stream for The Shepherd

Teacher of Shri Ram flew away into that funnel-shaped vortex, and I turned to what was left of him, and I thought it was now the Shepherd's turn. I first heard about him before the liberation of the so-called Pandavas on Radhashtami, August 29, 2017 when was 11th series of the vedic tv series «Mahakali» about asur Bhandasura. He had no body of physical elements and therefore could not be killed, and on August 30 in the cartoon «Gravity Falls» I heard about some monster who did not have a physical body and who commanded the minds of people.

And then I thought that the next character in my Mahabharata would be this bodiless asur, who commands the minds of other people. Then on my table in front of me fell figure of the king from «Kinder Surprise», «Bremen town musicians», as if saying to me: «I love you»... I looked at him and said: «The Shepherd, I do not love you», remembering «Ruslan and Lyudmila» of Pushkin. On September 3, standing high in space above him, I as a huge cobra sucked him into me. I turned inside out, turned into a jellyfish and plunged him into myself.

He dissolved into me like into jellyfish, and for days we were fused together. He actively listened to lectures of Srila Prabhupada, Bhakti Vikasha Swami, my Gurudeva, Indradyumna Swami, «Srimad-Bhagavatam» and decided to dedicate the spread of this knowledge all his future lives which he could have if someone helped him in this. On September 7, we made a contract with this Shepherd that he would help me to return to Krishna if I would help him. I then remembered that just Pitru Paksha started, two weeks in September, days of remembrance of ancestries, when living people can help those already left the body.

That year, Pitru Paksha went from 5 to 19 September, and I decided that the remaining time of Pitru Paksha I will chant the circle of Hare Krishna mantra, one shloka of «Bhagavad Gita as it is» of Srila Prabhupada, I will observe Ekadashi and give to Shepherd the benefit of its observance and for him I will go to Sunday programs of Hare Krishna and to harinama. And I have done all this. And on harinama I sang for him, and on the program before the Deities stood and asked for him, and observed Ekadashi for him.

It was September 16 2017, Indira Ekadashi that absolves ancestors from sins of past lives and rescues them from the abode of the God of death Yamaraja. About this Ekadashi there is a story that king Indrasena observed this fast to help his father, who was in hell because of his past sinful actions. The benefit gained by this king through the observance of this Ekadashi was received by his father, who left hell and found a completely spiritual body. And on September 16 I fasted on this Ekadashi, and on the morning of 17 September passed all the merits for it to Shepherd.

All these days, from September 3, he was sitting dissolved in me as in a jellyfish, and when I gave him all the merits that I earned by observing this fast on Indira Ekadashi, he seemed to rise high in the sky, on top of him opened a wide orifice, and there was a constant Golden Stream. On September 13, there was session with pillow, in which the Shepherd had the opportunity to touch through me with his second half, Panchali, with whom he will be together during all their future lives that remained at them in the material world before going into the spiritual world. On September 16, just on Indira Ekadashi, some asuras carried out two manipulations of my consciousness that I left Shri Ram and ceased to be engaged in striking out asuras. Then I thought that there was a great teacher who taught them all this and who had to answer for it, and I decided that the next one in my Mahabharata would be this teacher and that I would put the Shepherd in the empty body of the teacher, and then I would knock him out and send him to normal future lives. For more than two weeks, there was a Shepherd in me, dissolved like in a jellyfish.

And here is 19 September, the end of the Pitru Paksha. The teacher flew away into that funnel-shaped vortex above, his body was empty, I looked back at it and thought it was now the Shepherd's turn. It's time for him to reunite with his Panchali and proceeds to fulfill that mission that he chose for himself. He chose to become the great a sankirtaner, that is a hero who doesn't hesitate making sacrifices in order to others can join the spiritual family of Krishna and return into spiritual world. He will spread Krishna consciousness among the powerful around the world. He will be very educated, very intelligent, and very erudite. He will have such charisma, such influence on people, such charm, you can say, magic. But this is not magic really, but his quality from his past disembodied existence, his ability to pasture people's minds, his ability that will pass with him into his future normal existence as a devotee of Krishna.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I looked at the empty shell of the teacher and thought that something else can be pushed into his body. I turned on the Narasimha Maha Mantra again, remembered that I am such a jellyfish and that this Shepherd was dissolved in me, and I, imagining myself as this jellyfish with the Shepherd dissolved in me, got close to the body of this teacher and was there at the very bottom. I thought I'd put a Shepherd in this body.

I looked at this body, and there at the bottom, where is Muladhara chakra, something began tamped down. It was not clear to me what was happening there, but I looked there from top to bottom and saw that there were active changes. And there formed a solid, durable, dense, opaque, brown base that you could stand and lean on. And then I look: the bottom is, and from this bottom from the bottom up began to grow strong, dense opaque walls.

And I suddenly look, as if I'm not in this body anymore, but on the outside, looking at body of that teacher who flew away into that funnel-shaped vortex, and see the Shepherd's eyes inside body, like a Shepherd looking out of that body at me. It's like I came out of there, and he stayed there and looked at me from there. Then I saw his silhouette inside the tube of body of the teacher.

Before that, I saw only his eyes, and then suddenly clearly appeared his silhouette, and this silhouette was all burning, was all of the fire, and after that outside of this burning silhouette formed a silhouette of something like blue water, and then these two in each other silhouette — from the fire and from the water — covered the outside air bubbles. The result was a triple shell of different elements. I remembered the 12th series of «Mahakali», where Mahakali gave Bhandasura a body of five elements, and then burned it to the ground. And the transformation of the Shepherd's silhouette was like giving him these material elements.

After that, I'm out of dirty plates, and I went for my daughter at karate class. I felt sorry for Krishna, because He feels everything, including the suffering of this Shepherd, who was willing to accept any punishment, just to get rid of his incorporeal existence. I wanted to release the Shepherd as soon as possible in order to free Krishna from these sensations, the co-sensations with the Shepherd, because Shepherd had such a miserable existence, without a body, in the minds of other people...

I wanted to help Krishna so that this Shepherd would not feel this hopelessness, such a depressing situation in that he was and that Krishna felt. I also wanted to help Panchali, who is Shepherd's significant other, who is waiting for him somewhere, who, in order to reunite with him, unknown how was deserving it, who has the right to be reunited with him, especially since he will be a great devotee of Krishna.

And it was also necessary to do something with the Shepherd, because the teacher left his body, and then after a while in teacher's body there was a Shepherd. Usually this is called clinical death, when a person seems to have died, but then suddenly came to life. But in this case revived at all not the owner of this body, the teacher, and absolutely other person — the Shepherd. The Shepherd was not even reborn, since this body never belonged to him, he found himself in it for a very short time after the owner of this body, the teacher, left this body. This body for the Shepherd played the role of a kind of hotel, in which he settled for half a day, and then left these apartments to fly to his future life, already into his own body, in his own house, and not in the hotel, that is, in someone else's body. I thought I should quickly to send him; all of a sudden he'll like this body.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

When I came to my daughter's lesson in karate, I, as always, went into the gym and sat down there on horse, on my, so to speak, the throne. This is the vaulting horse, sport equipment. And then the karate coach stopped training for a minute, although usually never paid attention to anyone and parents freely came, sat down and watched as the children are train. I soundlessly entered the gym, quietly sat down; on everything it took about 10 seconds, no one distracted from classes. But he turned to me and said: «Mother Sveta, you killed my 10 minutes».

I immediately understood what it meant: «Mother Sveta». He never did not appeal to me so, and then «mother Sveta». My name is Svetlana. Abbreviated form is Sveta. But he had never before addressed me as to Sveta. And all the more as to mother Sveta. And it was like a signal to me that I immediately noticed. I realized that through him communicating with my Shri Ram and I thought: what is mom? what light is that? Because in Russian «mother Sveta» («мама Света») can be understood as «mother of light». What is that light? This is the forces of light. Mother Sveta = mom of forces of light. And «You killed my 10 minutes». I thought about the teacher of Shri Ram: «Yes, indeed, I killed him just now». What do the words «10 minutes» mean? It's his teacher, because the number 10 in numerology is the number of leadership. 10 — a leader — a teacher.

Turns out he said, «You killed my teacher». That is, «You are so mom of forces of light, managed to do it, how did you do it at all? You killed such a great teacher». I said, «Well», kind of showing him that I realized that he confirmed that it really happened. I did Namaste, I am sorry, and I turned on in the headphones kirtan Hare Krishna performed by Sri Pahlada.

The karate class continued, I was sitting on that horse, listening to the kirtan with my eyes closed, and I saw that at the Shepherd in body of the teacher began some transformations. I tried very hard to knock him out of the body, a lot of things I was doing with him, but nothing helped, and then I began to beg Krishna for help. And then I activated at the bottom of a powerful turbocharging and began to raise the Shepherd up.

At some point I saw how at the very top of his head opened the same 1000-petalled lotus, pale pink, at a full panorama. Lotus was very wide, went beyond the head and stood so, very beautiful. And I even soak up in it for a while.

Then I stood up on top and began to drag the Shepherd from the bottom up, but nothing worked, and then I myself became a solid pipe, which stood in the body of a teacher. And I being a rigid tube entered a kind of tunnel, that suddenly appeared at the top, and as would docked together a body of teachers with a hole of swirl on the top. I spread myself along the teacher's body like a big long tunnel from the bottom of the teacher's body up to the top and began to pull up the Shepherd upward through me as through that pipe.

Sometimes it is necessary to thrust the wire inside the soft textile, but it is impossible the wire even push inside the hole due to the fact that the textile is not rigid. In this case, through the hole in the soft textile, a rigid tube is pushed, and then the wire is passed inside it. And thus it turns out to thread the wire even in a soft cloth. And I was pulling that Shepherd up through me like that. There opened a wide rapid bright blue stream, like a warm Gulf Stream. I was trying to push out the Shepherd into that Gulf Stream. I tried for a long time, and then he went there.

83. Cancellation of the promises of Shri Ram

When these two great characters of asuric world left it, opened one brilliant opportunity for Shri Ram. As I understood, he had once gave many promises some great asuras, when circumstances forced to it, and he was tied up by these promises and was forced to obey the will of others. And when the teacher of Shri Ram and many asuras were destroyed by me and the asuras saw that I am not kidding and can have done away with any of them, that I too keep my word and would definitely fulfill my task, I proceeded to the next point in my plan — to release my Shri Ram from all the promises made by Shri Ram to asuras.

Two months before, on July 13 in the 38th series of my novel “My Roman. I'm asur's wife”, I had already announced my decision that I was canceling all those promises. I said it in the 38th series of my novel when I was commenting on the story from «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» about Usha and Anirudha when Krishna told Anirudha that Anirudha took Usha as his wife and made her a promise and needs to follow that promise. On these words of Krishna, a brilliant idea came to my mind that Shri Ram also married me and, therefore, made me some promise. I remembered that our so-called heavenly wedding with him took place from March 3 to 4, 2016, when we were in some big meeting in my meditation on my inner screen, where we became a married couple and Nrisimhadev Himself connected us with Shri Ram as a married couple.

I did not know that Shri Ram met another woman that summer, who much is better than me, more refined, more delicate, more educated, and just nicer and that he fell in love with her and decided to get rid of me. I did not know then that Nrisimhadev was very angry at such an insult and humiliation against me, His wife, and His anger and desire to savagely tear Shri Ram apart, so that nothing would remain of him, were kept only by my prayers to Him. Here I lived an ordinary life and did not know any of this. I kept thinking that if that heavenly wedding took place and Nrisimhadev connected us with Shri Ram there, then we with Shri Ram are married couple. I didn't know that Shri Ram himself had cancelled that wedding to be with someone who is better than me.

This is not surprising, such is human nature: acorn were good till bread was found. I did not know that Shri Ram at the end of August decided to throw me out of his space completely and actively was squeezing me out, for which he almost became a complete bankrupt and homeless, which is why that woman then delicately, pleasantly, educated, gracefully would get rid of him. I did not know that as a result of this I would have burnt his asuric eye, asuric nature, all his asuric abilities and he would be a nobody. I did not know that as a result of this he would have left his body in a completely miserable condition. I did not know that as a result of this he would have gone to hellish worlds for the fact he had done it with his other half. I didn't know all this back then.

I also did not know that I had saved him from the wrath of Nrisimhadev and from the complete collapse of life, and that my Gurudev offered Shri Ram to take me as his wife, describing my virtues and bringing to his consciousness that in this life he would not be given anything else, that he has no choice. And he had to agree to this proposal of my Gurudev. As they say: you are not my choice, you are my destiny. Yeah, fate can come and in this way that you are forced to do this and you have no choice but to agree. And he agreed. At that time I did not know it, it was revealed to me much later. But I remembered about the heavenly wedding, and in the 38th series of my novel, on July 13, 2017, I said, projecting the words of Krishna to our situation with Shri Ram, that Shri Ram is obliged to fulfill the promise he gave me as his wife.

I remembered how Nrisimhadev stood at that heavenly wedding over us and asked Shri Ram questions if he agreed to marry me, love me, protect, care about me, always be with me, and in joy and in sorrow... and Shri Ram said «yes». And I reminded him in the 38th series of that, saying that he must keep his word, which he gave to me. And when I was voicing these words, I, as always, began to chat about different things and suddenly said, addressing Shri Ram that how many promises can be made to everybody that he is already confused in these promises.

From these words, I realized that he gave a lot of promises to someone, that he completely confused in these promises, and then I said that the most important his promise is the promise he gave me. I said that since I am his wife, then from this moment my Shri Ram is obliged to fulfill only one promise. It's the promise he made to me by taking me as his wife, and all the other promises that he gave to someone, I cancel forever. On those words there was a screenshot from «Mahabharata» «Do not doubt your decision», and then the blessing of Krishna.

I had doubts: how can I cancel the promises made not by me? But when I was writing down the 38th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", I said I will do it, and even though I didn't understand how can it be possible, I was told not to doubt my decision and that Krishna approved of it. And then I said again that all the other promises I had already canceled and they are all invalid. The asuras then laughed amicably at these my words, because they knew that Shri Ram keeps his word and no one will not cancel. But they were wrong, because when I expunged their great teacher, who had gone into his future lives, who will actually be a great TEACHER, I reminded them of my words.

In the 84th series on September 19, more than two months after my first statement, I said that I was canceling all the promises given to anyone by Shri Ram and leaving only the promise that he gave me. What kind of promise, I didn't know. It's Shri Ram gave me the word as a gentleman on February 14, 2017: "I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman. On the contrary, I am so grateful to you for your coming from nowhere to brighten up my loneliness. Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust. We are alone in this gloomy world, so let's stick together."

I didn't know what kind of promise he made to me, but I knew that all other promises had to be cancelled, and in the 84th series, after the teacher and the Shepherd had been sent to their future lives, I reminded asuras of my cancellation of all the promises given to them by Shri Ram. All this time I wondered how I can cancel the promises that I did not give, and how these promises can be canceled? He gave someone promise, and how can I cancel it if even he can't do it? After all, he gave promise and should fulfill it as an honest and decent person. He can't cancel it, how can I?

And I said that now I understood how I can do it. I will simply destroy all those to whom he has given any word, all those to whom he owes anything, and send them all to their future lives as devotees of Krishna, the zealous followers of Srila Prabhupada. The solution is simple: no man, no problem. For some reason, I came to them, and they are all asuras. I have a right have done away with them all, we have dossiers all of them, we pumped from their patriarch Bhishma all the info about them all. We have permission to eliminate all of them, and I can do that. They are all mine. Permission is given to us. The question is whom of them will I expunge at this time?

And I realized: no man, no problem. If he given promise someone and must fulfil promises and fulfillment of these promises creates some obstacles for us with him, undesirable, then I just will remove those to whom he gave the floor. And I gave the asuras an ultimatum. They are obliged to cancel all promises made by Shri Ram for them. Otherwise, I will cancel them and very soon they will complete their present asuric existence and will be sent by me to their happy future lives by the devotees of Krishna and then they will return into the spiritual world.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I told them not to delay their decision, because I will not wait long, and in the next three days a continuous stream of letters of gratitude went to me. From everywhere I began to receive letters in which they wrote to me that they thank me, they say, thank you very much for the wonderful gifts, with the words «I will definitely come back». So I realized that the asuras had understood the seriousness of the situation and no longer mocked my words, that all the promises made by Shri Ram had been cancelled and were no longer valid. Because I was put them before a choice without a choice: either they themselves will cancel those promises, or I will remove them and in any case, there will not be those to whom these promises were made, and, accordingly, it will not be necessary to fulfill those promises.

Such a clever, beautiful move. By any of our moves, with any chess piece, we will set the opponent checkmate. Beautiful combination. Shri Ram was very grateful to me. He was bound by those promises and could not act according to his will, and I released him and gave him freedom. Shri Ram became free and no longer depended on the will of others.

But I told them that the best solution for them would not be to cancel these promises, but to sit still and wait when I will come to them on my inner screen to remove them from the list of asuras and to send them to their future lives as devotees of Krishna, because in this case everything will be fulfilled. Firstly the promises will be cancelled, because there will be no one to whom this promises were given. In the second place they will be better off, because they will serve Krishna, Srila Prabhupada and ISKCON and then return into the spiritual world.

84. The story of how I forgave the first manipulator

And now I had to deal with those two manipulators, which on Ekadashi, September 16, held two manipulations of my mind, causing me a derogatory feelings and an inferiority complex and not adding me pleasant emotions. And since I said I'd make them, it was their turn.

When the Pitru Paksha was coming to an end and the time of the Shepherd's liberation was approaching, I was given a teacher of Shri Ram to use his body for a successful the striking out the Shepherd. And in order to I guessed about existence of this teacher and decided to have done away with him, the situation with manipulation of my consciousness was arranged. This is when on September 16, at Ekadashi during Pitru Paksha, two asuras decided to use their abilities and cause me a strong inferiority complex, derogatory thoughts and a desire to leave Shri Ram. It was two consecutive manipulations of my mind.

In General, into my mind were thrown thoughts that if Shri Ram was squeezing me out of his space and did all sorts of bad things with me, then he doesn't want to be with me, that I stuck to him, I clung to him, as woman to a man, although he does not need it in principle, and even disgusting. And I agreed with these thoughts. I think the same thing. And the first minutes of this manipulation I was sure that these thoughts are mine, but then I realized that it was an influence on me from outside, that someone forced me to think so, that in fact it's just a competent manipulation of consciousness. Thin, elegant manipulation of consciousness, which plunged me in very sad thoughts about myself that I do not respect myself and so on.

But then I remembered that Krishna had given me a lot of signs long before all this, even by text, to be with Shri Ram, no matter what. And I thought that Krishna knew in advance that there would be attempts to drop me away from Shri Ram, but this is not part of my plan, because I need crossed off more asuras, and for that I need to be with Shri Ram. And I was born just to give him a chance. How can I give him a chance if I myself will stop everything ahead of time? No, I have to need to sit still and wait for the result. And if it will be negative, then this is also the result. I'm not this body. I am spiritual soul. I was living many lives here in the material world, I many lives were with my Shri Ram, and then he was made asur and we were scattered in the expanses of the material world.

And then I saw a real chance to return into the spiritual world because of Srila Prabhupada's coming to Earth and I decided before that to appear to my eternal husband, Shri Ram, so that he would know about my existence and make a firm decision for himself where to go. And what does it mean a little life and small torments because of your insignificance compared to the purpose of this birth? You just have to wait for the result. And for this you do not need to make unnecessary movements, you just have to wait.

And I decided that even though I agree with those manipulators, they are completely right, from the usual point of view, I do not respect myself, I am a masochist, I clung to Shri Ram and do not move anywhere, although he also does not move from the place, but they are not right, I said. I'm woman, and they're the men, and they manipulated my mind. They deliberately were spoiling the mood of me, a woman. And this is very risky for them. My mood is the most important thing for me, as it affects my life and the lives of my children, and a lot of things.

And then I decided to deal with those manipulators. But first I sent teacher of Shri Ram somewhere far away, where, as I was then told, he would be a great very good teacher, and then I sent a Shepherd. And then I canceled all the promises that Shri Ram made to someone there. And now I have free time and attention to these manipulators. I had already decided to expunge them, but I suddenly felt such apathy on me, such indifference that I simply did not want to do it.

I did not want to look at my inner screen again, to tune in to them and do something with them. But on my table among a heap of my work tools the glass toy a fox suddenly stood behind the king (from «Kinder Surprise», collection «Bremen town musicians»). I have worked and watched this fox propping up behind king and it occurred to me that my apathy, my reluctance expunge the manipulators are not without reason. I thought it was their influence on me, so I forgot about them, thought that let them live as they want, I do not need them.

But I was in the news feed in VKontakte came out post with the words of Srila Prabhupada, that we will be firm, not like soft-bodied women, and I felt reproach, they say, I'm such a soft-bodied woman, first said that I would deal with them, and then relaxed and did not expunge them. These words of Srila Prabhupada were in my mind, and I said I will have done away with them, those manipulators.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Then I went to my friend, we drank coffee with her, chatted about this and that, and I started talking about my past. I remembered how I naively and trustfully entered into a relationship, without having any guarantees and real protection, as I simply screw up, stupid goose. A friend said that she would not have thought to enter into such a relationship without getting first the full rights and taking matters into her own hands, but I entered and not only entered, but also gave birth to children... From this conversation I have very much spoiled the mood, I thought I don't respect myself at all, I'm a goof.

I began to think about myself that all people as people, know their benefits, do nothing without gain, and if you do, then calculate everything, and I'm a naive fool, a clever fool. Smart, straight-a student, but totally unfit for life. I trust everyone. All my friends of the proofreader take an advance payment before you start doing something with the text, and I'm a fool, am sitting on a postpaid, and even there were such cases that I was sent a payment a year after the implementation of work. It is necessary to have at least some brains, it is necessary to understand that here is the material world, here you cannot blindly trust everyone.

But I trust. I have this style of work — on trust. And even when I many times was born to eliminating asuras or someone else, I do trusted, and only when they abused my trust and hurt me, only then I turned on the function of destroying the Universe level criminals and I grind them into powder, brutally, ruthlessly and irrevocably. This is my style and method of work. And that's the mood I fell into. My friend all repeated that it is necessary to let go and forgive...

Then I went to the pharmacy, where I was given the advertisement medicine Suprastin («супрастин» in Russian). I looked at it and thought: Suprastin = Su + prastin (супрастин = су + прастин = су + прасти). «Су» means in Russian «together», «прости» means in Russian “forgive” (it is written in Russian “прасти”, but the word «прости», “forgive”, sounds in Russian in the same way: “прасти”). And I thought, I urgently need to forgive these manipulators, at this disgusting mood, and preferably soon, and preferably both of them to forgive, because «su» is «together», «both». And I thought: how will I forgive them? And when I was driving home from my friend on the bus, I decided: so, at the moment I will forgive the first manipulator. I stuck, as always, headphones in my ears, turned on the Narasimha Maha Mantra and began to forgive him.

At first, I was burning him well with the Narasimha Maha Mantra, and then turned on the kirtan performed by Sri Prahlada and drove through inside his inner tube to the beat of the kirtan by some stick. I thought I should forgive him, but how can I forgive him? I took a red-hot brand, like for branding of horses, with the fiery letters «HARE KRISHNA» on it, put it onto the heart of this manipulator and burn through it with this brand, sinking it into the heart. Then I have expanded this brand on all his body from within on all length and long so held, and then put this red-hot brand to his forehead and printed at his forehead the word «SLAVE». And when this word was well imprinted on his forehead, I said to him, «You are my slave».

I look: he suddenly turned into a dog, he was sitting at the bottom, wagging his tail ring and whines like a dog. I told him: «Sit». He sat down. I said, «Stop! Don't do that!» I see: he crawled down scared. I told him: «Attack, get 'em! Bite! Tear them up! Tear them!» I thought that he would tear those who are against me, and I gave him the command to tear them, to the last drop of blood and even more. I see: he's running off somewhere. I relaxed, I'm going by bus, listening kirtan. I arrived, went to the store, long ago forgot about this dog, whom I said «Attack, get 'em. Bite!» Suddenly I feel: I forgive him.

I look: this dog jumped up to me (at my inner screen, of course), and I saw that he was there for my sake at them tore all throats, and he's around me running, running, and I have absolutely forgiven him. I'm stroking his canine fur and tell him, «You're so good, you're my protector». I to this manipulator who became my dog began to cry, complain: «I am afraid of all of them. They're all so terrible. I'm afraid them. You are my protector. Please, protect me. Only you can protect me. Just you».

I remembered how Milady in the «Three Musketeers» cried to Fulton, who was put to her to guard her, so she didn't run away. Milady began to complain him, how she was offended, severely humiliated and insulted, and he forgot that she is a criminal, she is in their captivity and should not run away and he went to kill her opponents. I saw parallels between that story and the development of our events, with the first manipulator. I actually had the feeling that he was my dog, loyal. He around me and rubbed, and flaunted, and I stroked his neck and say: «My good, my favorite, my protector, I'm so afraid of them all, I need your help, protect me»... and he rushed away.

After a while, I felt relieved again and a real feeling that I had forgiven him for sure. When I got home, the movie «Spy Kids 4: Armageddon» was on TV. And just as I walked into the house, the little girl in that movie have done away with first villain and her mom said, «Our little girl has done away with her first spy». And the king from «Kinder Surprise» with the Fox from behind him immediately fell backwards on my table. So I realized that, most likely, baby, that is, I have done away with the first manipulator, that he well was protecting me until he was torn by his own comrades-asuras as that mad dog, when he was throwing himself at all of them to protect me, his proprietress, beloved and only.

85. Ho'oponopono for the whole cohort of manipulators of consciousness

I forgave the first manipulator. But forgive second manipulator I did not begin. There were a lot of cases. But Shri Ram somehow brought to my mind that the second manipulator must also be forgiven. He reminded me of the story about Karna, how he killed a cow with his bow and how the owner of this cow cursed him for it. I thought, why am I remembering all this? And Shri Ram put in my mind thoughts that this story about Karna is an allegorical explanation of one episode from the life of his teacher and it's the same thing that these manipulators were going to do to me.

Teacher of Shri Ram did kill not woman (cow) with his bow, look, his mental message, manipulation, he did kill her feelings and good attitude to her husband, to the owner, so to speak. And those manipulators also tried to cause in me a complex inferiority, they say, Shri Ram doesn't need me. They are a lot of things threw into my mind, so I saw myself in the role of clingy, importunate street girl, from whom he want, but can not get rid of. Those manipulators wanted to I came to a complete reluctance to have at least some kind of relationship with Shri Ram and broke up with him, since no self-respecting woman will not tolerate this and will not continue to remain in this format of relations. It's the same as killing that cow.

And Shri Ram put such thoughts in my mind that the owner of that cow, that is, the husband of that woman, was in such grief that she left him, and he grieved so much from thought, how would she be there without him, without his protection and reverent attitude and care for her, that he even cursed the one who did it. And in this example, Shri Ram made it clear to me that these manipulators wanted to do this to me and to him, and that they couldn't get away with it, that he was very unhappy with what they were doing and what they were trying to do, and he wanted the second manipulator to get what he deserved.

I thought: my Shri Ram and I are two halves of one whole, they wanted to destroy our couple, and this is unacceptable. I felt sad, I turned on a very sad «Radha Pranama» and listening to this mantra began to complain to the second manipulator that I am alone, that I am very lonely, that no one helps me. I tried to make him feel pity me and plunge him into the abyss of sorrowful sensations.

I honestly tried to cause a piercing all-consuming melancholy in myself, deeper and more sophisticated, so that he dived there with his head and could not emerge and that from the feeling of this universal hopelessness somewhere there somehow forgave himself, that is, committed suicide, because I did not want to deal with him. I tried very hard to complain to him and pour tears, waiting for my efforts had the desired effect and he will have an overwhelming desire to say goodbye to his life... I really hoped that I would challenge in him the desire to leave this rotten life. But he didn't want to say goodbye.

When I was visiting my friend again, we had coffee with her, and after that we wondered, as usual, on the coffee grounds. It's like Metaphorical associative cards, only in a cup of coffee. And in my cup was obviously sitting brazenly grinning character, slyly looking at me and his whole appearance as if saying, «Ha, your provocation failed. What can you possibly do? You don't have enough strength for us». I looked at this face in my cup and thought that, probably, therein lies something, not without reason he did not succumb to my influence. Probably, in order to see, that the potential there is much more.

I thought that not without reason he is so self-confident that, probably, someone insures him that he is surrounded by some team that blocks and tries to remove my influence from him, therefore, my attempt to reach him failed. I thought, this is very good, this is good for me, because the more of them around him collected, the more I will destroy them all. I thought that in this case it is best to act with the help of Ho'oponopono.

Ho'oponopono is a system that says that all you see, hear, think are programs that you have and that you can remove these programs from your subconscious with four phrases that sound like this in my version: «I'm sorry that I created this situation. Please forgive me. Krishna, I thank you for removing all this from my subconscious. I love You».

I tuned in for this manipulator and started doing ho'oponopono at this manipulator and his programs... I imagined that he has a bunch of installations, programs, developments, tricks, with which he doing such manipulations on different people. I thought he was probably a great expert, sent to break up my couple with Shri Ram, but we are eternal couple. It is unlikely to perform of that such task would be sent an ordinary performer. And if so, it means that he carried out similar manipulations of consciousness to many people. I imagined all of his programs on the whole and began to lift them out of the subconscious, imagining that I have all these programs and began to thank Krishna that He removed all this from my subconscious.

Ho'oponopono says that everything you see, hear, and so on, everything that has at those with whom you in some way come into contact, are programs that sit in your subconscious and wait for a favorable time for them to start evolving in your life. And while they're still there, you can remove them, pull them out of the subconscious. And since I came into contact with the manipulator, then all the programs that he has, I also have, in my subconscious. And if I ask Krishna to remove it from my subconscious, it will completely removed. And since we are all connected in this world as communicating vessels, if in one communicating vessel of liquid became less, then in all other vessels the level of liquid also decreases, as they are all connected.

And if I see the programs in this manipulator and they are removed from me, then automatically removed from the manipulator, and from all the others who have such programs at all. I thought that I'm purging from these programs that this manipulator has, with the help of which the asuras carry out their nefarious manipulations of consciousness, and they, accordingly, disappear at all living beings. Not only at me, not only at this manipulator, but at all these asuras, everyone who has such programs. I was doing ho'oponopono at this manipulator and his programs and saw that he had a whole rank of others behind him who worked with him.

My eyes went through him, and there was a whole crowd of them. They have a whole gang there was, which specialized in the manipulation of consciousness. And I saw that this manipulator is not the most important there, he is small fry, but behind him is very big figure. I imagined that they all have these programs, and was doing ho'oponopono at them all... They have big problems, because Ho'oponopono is correction, complete elimination of the wrong. And because I look at all of them and everything they have there, and I doing ho'oponopono at on all of that, it's getting out of me and all of them. All their programs, skills, all their knowledge of mind manipulation leaves them because it leaves me. And I decided more to doing ho'oponopono with their manipulative artel, so that I could scoop out all from them, dry them dry and completely empty making them their pristine clean. Crystal clear.

After that, I'm five days in a row I was doing hooponopono at manipulators of consciousness, scrubbing from them all their programs, practices and skills.

86. Kirtan therapy for the whole cohort of manipulators of consciousness

But all things end, and now it is 1 October 2017 — Pashankusha Ekadashi. A person who strictly observes this Ekadashi gets rid of the consequences of all his sinful acts and at the end of life returns into the spiritual world. I was fasting on the water that day and decided to use the power of this day to finish this epic of cleaning these Augean stables.

The day before, I went to harinama and talked to my second husband. I remembered how then, in Moscow, Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, conducted his manipulations to dissolve our marriage, and he succeeded. And now the new manipulators have set out to break our with Shri Ram a couple, and we are eternal pair. I thought that my Gurudev calls for the unity of families in Krishna consciousness, and these manipulators are working on consciousness to kill, so to speak, a cow, so that the family would fall apart and the woman would be left alone, as a prostitute, with a prowling look everywhere, seeking shelter and protection.

These manipulators are ruining families, they've already destroyed a lot of families and now they've decided to destroy our family with Shri Ram. They made an irreparable mistake. Now they will all answer for it. They invade the personal space of other people, the family space, do not have the right to do so. I thought my Gurudev called for the unity of families. And punishing such sinners who break up families is the right decision. And I thought that now they will pay for the torment of my husband, he then had a hard time and I feel sorry for him, he had a lot of things to go through because of this, when Borka then wanted to subjugate me under himself and carried out his vile manipulation and influence.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And when the next day after harinama, in Ekadashi in the evening I started to wash dishes, I remembered all this and decided to have done away with the whole cohort of manipulators, so they are afraid climb into other people's families and affect them, making people lonely and unhappy, without protection and fulfillment of their Dharma, their duty. I had a lot of dirty dishes, and this meant a long wash with the possibility of immersion in a good, deep meditation and carrying out a quality striking out the entire cohort of manipulators, which opened when I was doing hooponopono at the second manipulator. At that time through him, my gaze-ray reached some great asur, which stood above all manipulators and whom for the most part I was engaged in those five days before this Ekadashi. But a lot has already been done, I have already cleaned them all well, and Ekadashi was the right day to complete the work with them.

And when I started to wash the dishes, I remembered about my second husband, who suffered a lot because of the manipulation of Borka, and decided: I'll recollect everything, everything I recollect. I turned on my favorite Narasimha Maha Mantra and looked at my inner screen on all of them. They were small, like ants, like you're standing high up in the air, and they're there from below as dots-insects. I was standing huge somewhere high in space and looking at them below me. I aimed my powerful beam at them and at their leader who was like a little speck of dust way down below me, and I by my mighty ray burning through everything, pulling out of them all that they had there.

Then I went into the head of their great leader and there began to rummage, while disconnecting something. It was like how I was unfastening from Shri Ram that terrible thing, and I did the same thing, but in the head of their great leader. Something I disconnected from his head, it disappeared, and then I rose above them high in the space and turned on kirtan of my Gurudeva Indradyumna Swami. I from myself into them was letting the shock wave, which happens in a nuclear explosion. This shock wave came from me like concentric circles, covering all of them. The usual shock wave dissipates in the course of its movement, but my shock wave was not like that.

It did not dissipate, it was static and superimposed one circle on another, covering all of them with increasing power. I was washing the dishes, singing the Hare Krishna mantra and crushing them all with this shock wave. Dirty dishes were a lot of, time to wash it was enough, kirtan was long, and all this time the shock wave was crushing them all with its power, and they were all in this static shock wave and listening to Hare Krishna.

And after a while, I stood over all of them like a Python Kaa, which in the cartoon about Mowgli. This is when the monkeys dragged Mowgli in the lost city, but paid a hard price for it, because friends of Mowgli set Python Kaa on them, and Kaa stood over all of them, swayed, hypnotizing them with his eyes and commanding them «Come closer», and they, fascinated, crawled into his throat. And all those manipulators stood in front of me like those monkeys, completely under the power of my charms.

I imagined that I am this Python Kaa, I look at all of them at the same time in the eyes and mentally say: «All of you are mine». And I gave them the mental order to sing with me and with my Gurudev kirtan Hare Krishna. And we all sang this kirtan together. It was a very powerful kirtan. They tried so hard to sing, with the feeling singing the mantra... I see that the kirtan tugs at the heartstrings them... I see: many of them have tears in their eyes and they sing so heartily. And I began to envy them: I don't feel any of this, and they felt it, what bliss, what luck... How did they do it?

There were many of them, everyone was singing kirtan, and no one could get out of there, they were so immersed in kirtan that they dissolved into his sound. Not literally, but in the bliss that opened up and covered them all up. I looked at their leader, their biggest manipulator, and he's standing there, staring at me and crying. His tears are pouring from his eyes, non-stop and continuously. Just like in «The Shikshashtakam» written by Chaitanya Mahaprabhu says: «O my Lord, when will my eyes be decorated with tears of love flowing constantly when I chant Your holy name? When will my voice choke up, and when will the hairs of my body stand on end at the recitation of Your name? O Govinda! Every moment of separation from me for me, for more than twelve years. Tears are pouring from my eyes, currents of rain, and without you the whole world seems empty to me».

This biggest manipulator who has held a whole cohort of manipulators under him, singing kirtan with me and my Gurudev and crying irrepressibly and can't stop. He was drawn completely into the sounds of Hare Krishna mantra and the tears are walling his eyes like the Niagara Falls pouring out. I look at it and terribly envy: I just sing, but they feel something there, and so powerful...

And then I saw that at this biggest manipulator huge tears flow down his face. I saw that he incessantly, unblinking was staring me in the eyes, his eyes glazed, and his jaw sagged. And he can't move his mouth anymore and can't look. And out him were running some black insects like rats from a ship. I look at it, and he mentally continues to sing the Hare Krishna mantra, sings with me, but can not move. He fell into some kind of trance.

I thought I was reading about it in book of Srila Prabhupada «The Nectar of Devotion». This book describes signs of spiritual ecstasy when a devotee feels bliss in contact with the Holy name of the Lord, with the energies of the Lord. And there is a state when a person becomes numb and can not do anything and from this bliss falls into a stupor and freezes. And that big manipulator froze like that. But I can see that he continues inside singing the mantra and can't stop.

His jaw droops, hangs, such a hole formed instead the jaw, and instead of the eyes completely empty eye sockets. First, there was a glazed look in the eyes, and after that become absolutely empty eye sockets. I look, and his head began to fall apart. As if a tower of bricks falling apart into pieces. He falls apart, but continues to sing Hare Krishna in his mind. And that destruction went from top to bottom.

I washed all the dishes. No dirty dishes left. I looked at those who were under him, and they all sing with me. Someone out there riding on the floor, someone swinging, sitting on heels, someone so entered into an ecstasy that beats himself his head against the wall. I read about it in book of Srila Prabhupada «The Nectar of Devotion», but I've never seen it, and here I look at it with my own eyes. All of them are crying, and I say to them: «Guys, sorry, but dirty dishes I have all over, and today we will finish it all». And they all sing Hare Krishna, they can't stop and crying. How lucky they are, just super.

I say to them: «Guys, we are going to stop this now, because all dishes are clean, I have to go to do my own, I have work, orders came. Sorry, if you want, we can continue next time». And they all chorus: «We can not live without it. We now will die. We can't live without it». And I answer them: «Guys, sorry, but I came to you not to you died, no. I want you to become Hare Krishna. I want you sing as much as possible Hare Krishna in your life and return into the spiritual world. It is not necessary to sit in the material world, this is a wicked place». I said, «You've got to sing more mantra Hare Krishna, more kirtan in this life. You're gonna die now, so what? Well, yes, of course, you felt it all, super, I'm jealous, but I had no such goal to you are now ending your existence».

And they are totally miserable, says «We can't live without it». I said, «Well, I'll sing a little more with you». I found a couple of dirty mugs and spoons, began to wash them, sang with them, and then I think: that's enough, I have a lot to do. They were desperate that I would finish this singing, but I had to. I thought that there was nothing more for me to do, everything has been done, let them continue to sing Hare Krishna.

87. The true story of my births as Mata Hari

On May 22, 2017, I recorded the 6th series of my novel, in which I told how I gave Shri Ram access to my vital files on March 3, 2016, after which he came to me on some invisible level and kept saying «Be my wife, become my wife» and we had some kind of the heavenly wedding. In this 6th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", I said that I gave him access not to all my vital files, that there are a lot more files that are closed from him. And on these words came out the screenshot, where Arjuna stands in front of Draupadi and asks for something.

That same day, Shri Ram got access to those my vital files and immediately got in there and started watching everything. What he saw stunned him, because there were files with the time when I was coming to them in the asuric worlds like Mata Hari many, many lives in a row and was destroying the strongest asuras. Then, in the 7th series, I told him to not abuse his position and never crossed his borders, and that more I shall not warn him. And then I somehow allegorically in a stream of my words and through my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" began to blackmail him so he opened to me that he saw there.

He hesitated for a long time, but I pressed him well, and by June 8, he opened me some of what he saw in those of my life files, what I immediately told the world in the 13th series, namely that I many incarnations was born in the Asuric worlds to kill the strongest Asuras. But how exactly did I do it, he didn't tell me. After that I began my Mahabharata to destroy the asuras. I have removed many of the Asuras and the queue for elimination reached the man-asur, who many lives back got carried away with me and wanted to deprive me of my husband's protection to have sex with me. And for this, he lured my husband, Ram, into asuras.

In the 39th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", I told about him, and then pointed at him to the asuras and gave him to them for punishment. They emptied out all his brains, extracted from him all his vital files, and Shri Ram himself, by his own eyes saw in those vital files how he was recruited to the asuras. Shri Ram saw what tricks they were using for this. He saw how it all happened. On July 16, 2017, in the 41st series of my novel, I told about it. Then I expunged teacher of Shri Ram, cancelled all the promises he had ever made to any of the asuras, and demanded that he reveal to me the secret of how I was killing those asuras and why, when I many lives was born in the asuric worlds.

Shri Ram didn't want to reveal it to me in any way. He remembered that I did when I also put the squeeze on him and he revealed to me, how he was recruited to the asuras and what tricks of the asuras there proved successful. I then cruelly dealt with the woman-asuri, who for successful recruitment was seducing him with her charms, her well-honed technique of luring stupid men and her supposedly feminine, embodying the ideal, what should be a woman in the eyes of men. After that I have done away with the craftsman, who actually conducts the procedure of converting my Ram to the asur, and with him I destroyed the rest craftsmans. And what emotions did I experience then...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Shri Ram remembered everything and didn't want to subject me to a flurry of new similar emotions, as they inevitably would. But I insisted and insisted. For example, in the 87th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", I began to talk about all this. That he and I were a couple during many, many lives in the material world, and then he became asur, and I looked for him between lives, but he was not anywhere. And then some personalities came to me between lives and showed me him, already as asur.

I was told that I will not be able to be with such man and they offered their help to break our connection forever. They gave me a choice of good men as my new couple, because in my original swarup, position in the spiritual world, I am wife, I am in a couple. And I definitely need my couple. But I refused, went dancing the dances of devotion to the deities on the higher planets, I fell in love for the Deity of Nrisimhadev and became His wife. And then Nrisimhadev began to fulfill my desires, one of which was to personally avenge the asuras for the fact that they tore off my eternal husband from me. And I began to come to them in the asuric worlds in the role Mata Hari and destroy the strongest asuras.

All this I told again in the 87th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", and then added that I do not know what was going on there and why and so I have nothing more to tell in this my novel and will have to complete my broadcasting. Shri Ram did not like my statement. I blackmailed him in and other ways. He reluctantly, but told me that there was actually. As always, he somehow little by little was opening my mind, as if putting in it the awareness of those past events. What I found out shocked and stunned me to the depths.

I already knew that I many times was born in asuric worlds and killing there the strongest asuras, but then Shri Ram opened to me such that plunged me into the abyss of sorrowful emotions. I told about all this in the 92nd series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", October 4, 2017. That afternoon, I was greatly regretted that I am completely useless for Krishna consciousness and could not help him in any way. I thought that I could take more asuras with extraordinary abilities and skills, burn out all the asuric nature from them and send them to their future lives to serve Krishna consciousness, the mission of Srila Prabhupada, ISKCON with the help of their extraordinary abilities that they have developed as asuras and that they will carry with them to their future.

I did not know whom I will include in this action, but that evening Shri Ram helped me in this. He revealed to me what happened to me when I was coming to them in the asuric worlds many incarnations as Mata Hari. He revealed to me that in those asuric worlds I every incarnation became the wife of the most powerful and prominent asur, which was not access to anyone. Somehow he was noticing me, he was very attracted to me. I had such a appearance, such a character, such a set of qualities as he liked, and he could not help but fall for me, because everything was thought out to the smallest detail before my birth in that body.

I was such an irresistible dart, whose hit can not be reflected. Such a hundred-percent hitting the target. In me everything was provided for this asur to fall in love with me. He brought me closer to him and fell in love with me. Me too. I loved him really, truly, selflessly, with all my heart. He, too, was in love with me wholeheartedly, because

I am Vinodavani, the personified love for God, and I have a specification to enable and kill the love. And at him, of course, I initiated love, and he could not resist it. He and I were becoming a couple.

We had a great love together, present love. It was fine. But at some stage, situations were created that pushed him to what all asuras love — to sexual orgies. But since I was faithful and chaste in nature and would never agree to that, he did some kind of manipulation with me, so that I did not realize the reality and was as if under the influence of either some spells, or some substances that fog the consciousness, but liberating sexually. And he was giving me to his friends for their sexual pleasures with me in the lead role.

This my husband-asur continued to love me, but even before my appearance in his life, he already loved such orgies and did not consider it something shameful, and the more deliberately the situation was developing in such a way as to warm up in him this desire, in order to he could not resist this longstanding addiction suddenly emerged from nowhere. And he with his cronies together were introducing me to some state that I was not aware of reality and was sexually liberated, and they engaged in sexual orgies with me, when I confident that with me is my beloved husband. And so was many times.

When I was starting to realize reality, he was acting like it was nothing, like it was just the two of us. But from time to time I came across evidence of this, or something was felt in the body, he said that all this seems to me. But I thought I was just imagining it, but in fact I was given signs. And I also had visions of myself in those orgies, as if I was an observer, like it's to me was being shown everything that was going on there. But at some point Krishna was taking off my veil of ignorance. It was always during normal marital sex.

He and I had sex, I was on top, and right during these movements, in front of my inner gaze the pictures of those orgies was beginning to emerge in my consciousness. These pictures were beginning to dock with the evidences, with my guesses, all the pieces of the puzzle from the evidence and visions were formed into a very clear picture, and I was quite clearly aware that my fidelity, my love, my trust, my tenderness were defiled by him. I was realizing that he sold me to his friends and they the entire were crowding humiliated my female dignity, plunging me in a clouded state of consciousness. And then the function of the destruction of asuras was activated in me.

We changed roles in sex. From me at the energy plane of existence bottom was going out a powerful fire beam-phallus and was beginning punch him from the inside to the beat of body movements. My husband-asur became the receiving party, the female side and was falling into bliss such an incredible intensity and depth, felt such a comprehensive love that all fuses of his body broken since the body can not withstand such unimaginable bliss, and he in a frenzied pleasure could no longer withstand being in his body and flew out of it. All asuric nature in him was destroyed completely and irrevocably, his life was over, and the task of my life was completed completely — the next strongest unattainable asur was killed.

I immediately was returning to the outer consciousness, again began to aware of reality and, sitting near the lifeless body of my husband, of dearly and tenderly beloved man. In the full despair I prayed to God to have me punished as I have punished the one who was everything in my life and without whom my life is not sweet and that I was taken from life. I sobbed that I could not live without him, within me was beginning to rage to some heavy fire, and I was leaving the body. When I was leaving my body, I was founding myself into the arms of my team. I was realizing who I really am, and saw that the task is done clean: I timely left that dangerous situation, I avoided naturally followed brutal massacre by asuras after the death of their leader.

And all this I did not come up, I would not have had enough imagination for this, I have no fantasy. I do not know how to invent. My husband Shri Ram opened it to me, and he saw it in my life files, which I gave him access to, and he, as a big asur, RA, is able to read and see such life files. How did he open this for me? Usually, he kind of puts his thoughts into my mind, and I suddenly clearly understand how and what happened there. And when it became known to me now, I decided to have done away with all those who amused with me in those sexual orgies in my past lives long ago when I each incarnation came to kill the next most strongest asur whom otherwise it was impossible to get in any way.

88. The austerity called «The life»

I decided that those asuras who were having fun then, lowering me in their sexual pleasures, will now be very cruelly struck off by me from the list of asuras and many, many lives will be very actively promoting Krishna consciousness, and so actively, how actively they lowered me and laughed at me. I decided that they would be absolutely fearless in their active preaching of Krishna consciousness in their future lives and would go to all places, both dangerous and safe, no matter what, because they would have such a mission.

They will carry out my wish that the Srila Prabhupada's will was fulfilled, that many people would receive the mercy of Krishna consciousness thanks to them. They will do everything so that I am not useless to Krishna consciousness, to Srila Prabhupada, to ISKCON, they will make a great contribution to the expansion, development, strengthening of ISKCON. They will try very hard. With what zeal they tried to humiliate me there, with the same and even greater zeal they will actively try to benefit Krishna consciousness, absolutely fearlessly and ardently.

I was so bitter that it all happened to me, to me personally. Shri Ram just opened it in my consciousness, but I didn't see pictures of those lives. Shri Ram saw it. How did I open him things like that? After all, by giving him access to those my vital files, I let him in almost into my consciousness of those lives. When he entered those life files, he saw everything through my eyes. Not through these eyes, which I have now, and eyes of me in those lives. He thought by my thoughts. He was inside my thoughts. As asuras are able to do it, incomprehensible to the mind, but I haven't asked any questions for a long time: I saw that this is happening, but how it happens? I have unlikely to succeed, and I do not want it. I have enough awareness that once, God knows in what distant lives it was with me. But I thought about what they could do with me in those past lives.

These pictures plunged me into such a terrible state that I again agreed with prabhu Sasha that I had come to Shri Ram in vain. I shouldn't have come to him. He's my husband. He's my real husband, and not such a husband, when someone is with you and you are with him, while there is a pleasure for feelings. He's my real husband. But he became an asur. And many lives he lives as asur. Yes, my Gurudev is right... It's the material world. All sorts of situations happen here. The main thing is that it is the material world. That says it all. We must go from here into the spiritual world.

Right was my team, with which I work on striking out the universal criminals. They were dissuading me from my approach to Shri Ram. They told me he is asur and will choose what he liked best. But I insisted and said that how could I get on the path of returning to the spiritual world, without even saying goodbye to my eternal husband and not telling him that all these lives I was with him and never abandoned him, even being far away from him? Why I came to him, if he long ago became the asur and are unlikely to understand me?

The pictures with orgies with me in the lead role, when my then-new in every incarnation husband-asur sold me, in my mind became more and more sophisticated, and I thought that I only imagine it all, but Shri Ram saw it all in my vital files. He saw what was done with me, what I felt, how I loved that asur, with all my soul, pure and untainted, how cherished this love, because he was my first and only man as I thought.

But in fact there were many of them. And at meetings with me, when they came to us to discuss their Affairs, they expressed to me deep respect as to the wife of their leader, and then, when the time was coming again for those sexual orgies and when I was injected into the state that I did not realize the reality and at me all sexual brakes refused, they came again, but without respect. And at this time they were expressing very different feelings for me.

And my eternal husband Shri Ram saw it all with his own eyes in my life files. And he also saw me kill. As in my mind during marital sex with that husband-asur flashed pictures from visions, as I remembered physical evidences and my unusual feelings in the body, as everything falling into place in the general mosaic and I was realizing that my beloved husband, my only man is not the only one. That he was selling me to his friends and having fun with me naked in the company of his friends in those nasty sexual orgies.

Lord, Shri Ram saw it all! How that bright burning phallus-ray on my inner screen was came out of me and how it went back and forth inside that asur in our usual sex, when the details of the puzzle converged into the only possible mosaic. During that this asur wriggled beneath me, showed absolutely incredible emotions and completely lost control. And when this sword-phallus was reaching the throat chakra and burned everything that he had asuric, he became completely inadequate.

It was evident that he could no longer bear the intensity of the pleasure he felt, was the impression that he was no longer there, that there is only a clot of pleasure, bliss, but not a human being, not a personality, not a living being. Was only the enjoyment of unprecedented power, only the enjoyment, concentrated in one point, and he could not even move a muscle or a single part of the body. He just froze in the pleasure, which further dragging him away into some kind of whirlwind, and begged not to stop.

Yes, he was aware of it, but this pleasure was so powerful and pulling deep into some funnel that he had only one thought: just don't stop, just don't stop. But I did not think to stop, I coolly, as if doing everyday work, punched higher and higher and pushed him out of the top of his head. And Shri Ram saw it with his own eyes when he entered those my vital files.

How did I trust him with this? I do not know. But how did he tell me that? This is really a question of questions. And so my whole novel: I open him some vital files, he was stunned by what he saw and the height of my trust in him, and then I forced him to open to me what he saw there. And here was the most difficult thing for him. It's one thing to see it, and another thing to open it to me. But he did it. Not knowing what my reaction will be, that is, knowing, but not knowing exactly to what edges it will reach. Risking everything and surrendering to the will of God, because I could enter into such a rage that I could easily kill him. Because he left me first. For this reason I became like this. And for this reason that happened to me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He as my husband is responsible for me, even if we are not together. And I would think that he didn't protect me, and I was in this depressing position, and I could have killed him. He took a big risk. He took a big risk that I could get away from him, and that I could go find for shelter in Nrisimhadev and cry Him, pointing to Shri Ram as the one who made me cry so bitterly. I could've killed him myself. But he still revealed it to me. So, in acts of mutual trust, and there was our interaction with him.

I thought I made a mistake coming to Shri Ram. No happiness in life. Even if we will together, happiness is still in fact will not. Can there be happiness if you know about this man, that he deserted you once and you from-for this has become such Mata Hari, and then and inspector of Universe Patrol? And what were you doing there, what the secret operation to destroy the universe of criminals you conducted, what was donated and how themselves are not spared and put yourself in jeopardy for a full... And knowing that he in this life many times has betrayed you, dumped you. What happiness could there be? As Yudhishthira said in the movie «Mahabharata»: «And now we go to do austerity under the name „Life“».

All these thoughts led me to a result: since I have come to this Shri Ram, we must do everything that it is not in vain. We need to destroy more of these asuras and make more of those who serve Srila Prabhupada so that I will no longer be useless to Srila Prabhupada's mission, to ISKCON. And I went to do it. This time with those who amused themselves in sexual orgies in those lives with me, who was a faithful, chaste, sincere soul, believing in the love and protection of her husband, the beloved and the only one for life.

89. Woman's desire is law

The striking out those swells who were having fun with me in their sexual orgies, put into a distorted state of consciousness, when I was not aware of reality and was with sexually the brakes turned off, I started the day after Shri Ram opened it all up to me. It was October 5, 2017, Thursday. There was a lot of work, I sat all day working at my Desk, I worked and listened the playlist with different mantras. On some mantras I had some mood, and I looked at them and dealt with this group of asuras with all wholesale.

I started with Narasimha Maha Mantras «Ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham». When I sang it, I imagined them all, these men who staged sexual orgies with me, introducing me first to an unconscious state, so that I thought that only my husband was with me. I was such a trusting, naive young woman who trusted and thought that he, my husband-asur, loves me, I love him, and I'm protected by 100 %, he loves me, he will kill all to protect me. I didn't even have a shadow of a thought that he was able to even think about it, and not what to do. But he did. He gave me to his friends for fun, in their sexual orgies. And when I listened to the Narasimha Maha Mantra, I thought of them all.

They all appeared in front of me on the inner plane of some sort, I looked at them and thought that need to inflict them severe pain. And since they were having fun with me in sex, then I'm all of them tore off the tip of penis, which they were fucked me, painful, cruel, and from the gaping holes on the tip of their penis stretched thin red threads to me. There were a lot of asuras, I just thought and I see as if I tore off with the meat of the very tip of their penis at all at the same time and went red blood threads to me.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

From time to time, sitting at my Desk, I was doing a break from work and was letting go of my hands in a spontaneous dance to the music. and I noticed that this time I have some strange movements went, I let go of my hands, and they are to the music spontaneously themselves as if moving, draw some gestures, and there they have on my internal screen as on the projection it all happens. And at some stage I stretched my index finger and really felt how I pressed on pain points of asuras. And I began to press and scroll with my finger in their pain points, and I feel that I'm pushing them the pain points and this pain permeates all of their nature. And then they were all strung on some spear.

Ahead was the biggest, the most powerful of them asur, and behind stood other, one after another strung on some rod, like pieces of barbecue on a skewer, and for a long time I let the fire through the asur, who stood in front of the others in that kebab, imagining that this fire burns so painfully that it is simply unbearable to endure it and it is easier for a person to part with life than to endure this pain. But I thought that they do not need to part with life now, because in this case they will still remain in the material world, and this is constant births and deaths, and just leaving the body will not solve anything, it is completely hopeless.

I gave them a little break. I decided that at the moment they have no right to leave the body, because I want me to become useful for ISKCON, for Srila Prabhupada, and for this it is necessary that after receiving the punishment they went to engage in devotional service of Krishna and very actively promoted Krishna consciousness. I want to feel that I do not live in vain, that I am benefiting Krishna consciousness. I thought that when they had fun with me then in those sexual orgies, they tried very hard there.

And I thought, the more pain they will experience now, the more they will then advance Krishna consciousness in their future lives, that Krishna become them and me, because of whom they became such, pleased. I saw very clearly that the more they will were in pain now, the more they would work for Krishna consciousness in future and I very hard tried to miss the fire through them, who were pierced by a rod, during the Narasimha Kavacham.

Then I turned on the mantra «Patrick Bernhardt — Shiva Shakti» and saw that of me suddenly came a claw with sharp-nagged notches on the end. And I missed this claw through the rod, on which they were all strung, and I began to move these rough and prickly thorns in each of them, but I did not allow them to leave the body, as the more they experience pain here, the more actively they will serve Krishna in their future lives. And that's rightly, because they did that not only with me, they have mocked women for so many lives and earned the hellish worlds, but better for them to suffer here and go to serve Krishna and then return into the spiritual world than go to hellish worlds.

I could give them to the yamadutas, but I was very kind to them, they got a great opportunity. If they had not come to me, they would have gone to the hellish worlds for long, after which they would continue to be in the material world, but after this execution they will bring people good and will be able to escape from the material world into the spiritual. So the game is worth the candle, I decided and continued the execution. Especially since they had to endure only a day, and how many lives they brought pain to other living beings, and not count. So they got off very easily, falling into my hands.

And I poking around in them the sharp claw with a lot of notches, and pressed the pain points somewhere in the middle. When they fucked me then, they had a lot of fun, they laughed at me, but today they were not at all laughing, and today I mocked them. And then I from this claw poured into them poison, very painful, corrosive everything. But I should have caused them unbearable pain: the more painful the better, and that poison was particularly painful. And as those asuras-husbands in those lives were leaving the body because it couldn't bear the beyond bliss, so these fellows felt such pain which body cannot bear. But I kept this pain at them on the verge, that is a little more, and fuses of their body could break.

And then I stood over all of them and let a burning ray out of my third eye into the first asur of them, into the biggest one that was strung on that skewer in front of them all, and from him spread over all of them. And then I plunged into each of them a thing with pins, into the poison from my sharp claw, into poison, by which all of them were completely filled, and the pins were plugged into a high-voltage electric current, and they felt so much pain that they could not stand even a moment, they could leave the body at any moment, because the fuses were working on the limit.

But one of them still could not stand and flew out of the body like a white paper crane. I felt sorry for him, because I did not bring him completely, his fuses were weak, but why did he become involved in those sexual orgies in those lives if he had such weak fuses? But I thought that he will benefit anyway, because I have determined the fate of all of them and they can not avoid it, and he will go there, and since he has experienced very strong pain, he will try very hard to satisfy Srila Prabhupada and Krishna. I went about my business, thinking that those electrodes with current, immersed in the poison corroding everything, will do its job.

And in the evening I began to wash dishes. There was a lot of work to do on that day, I was very tired and wanted to postpone continuation of their penalty to the next day, thinking that they should spend more time in this corroding poison with electrodes immersed in it with a high voltage current, and I said to Krishna, «Krishna, I will not deal with them today, forgive me, please». But Krishna said to me, «Well, you try, well, I beg you very much». And I said to Krishna, «But I don't know what to do with them».

And then came the screenshot from «Mahabharata» with the words «Trust me, sakhi», that is, «Trust me, friend». But I said, «Krishna, but I'm very tired, I don't want to now», and there was a screenshot of Krishna pushing the Draupadi's chariot with his shoulder, as if to say, «I'll help you. You just start and I'll help you». And I said, «Yes, Krishna?» He said, «Yes». I said, «Well, if you ask, I do it...»

And I decided to continue. Narasimha Maha Mantra as something not went, I still something turned on: not was felt contact with them, they were somewhere lost. I think: I won't torture them anymore, they've had enough, it is necessary to send them already completely, and the sooner, the better, I do not want to even look at them, I'm sick of them... they sit there already wretched, can no longer tolerate, but it is necessary to tolerate, because I do not let them out.

I began to listen and sing the farewell kirtan Bhakta Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham» and made them sing with me. They stood there not as personalities, they were some amorphous mass. Before that, they stood separately as columns, and here I look at them, and there is an amorphous mass, completely shapeless, moving, it is not clear that, and I gave them all the order to sing with me. And I see: in this amorphous mass it's as if the mouths open and sing along with me.

I felt that somewhere at the subtle, fine-material level Bhakti Tirtha Swami and his team were waiting for me to send them, those former asuras, to them. They all, and Bhakti Tirtha Swami, and all with him, as would talked me: «Trust». And I spread myself over this singing amorphous mass as some kind of substance, spread out on them, crushed them with myself, and I abruptly sucked in something of them. And I decided that the time had come for them to be sent, and I gave them all an order: «Death». What people call as death, it's really just the coming out of this body and moving into the next body, into the next birth. I decided to send them quickly and tuned in to their future to shoot by them into there as I would shoot from a slingshot by stone. I thought that they would be in Krishna consciousness, that they would be very active in promoting Krishna consciousness, ISKCON, Srila Prabhupada's mission, because I want me not to be useless.

And I turned to all of them with a request: «The guys, dear, you tried so hard, so tried to scoff at me, and now, please, I beg you, even more strongly try to release me from this material world, so I went into the spiritual world. Make everything so that my existence is not useless for Srila Prabhupada, for ISKCON. I hope for you very, very much. You've been with me like men, you had sex with me and now you're responsible for me and you have to take care of me. You have been with me in sex and therefore you are now obliged to fulfill my desire, and my desire is that — I want to return in the spiritual world. You have to do everything for this. You have to do everything possible and even impossible, but to fulfill this my desire».

I saw their future and turned to them as men who were with me as with a woman. When I turned to them as men who have had sex with me and therefore now have to fulfill my desire, I thought of Bhakti Tirtha Swami. I thought that Bhakti Tirtha Swami was waiting all this time, he has a team there, and they are waiting for when I send all those to them. I saw a big funnel-shaped vortex above, and there were Bhakti Tirtha Swami with Krishna's devotees, and I sent all those to them, and they were accepting them in that funnel-shaped vortex.

First flew away the largest asur, who stood in front of everyone and through whom I did everything, apparently, he is in those lives, particularly distinguished himself. And when he was flying there, he shouted to me: «We will meet again», and in his voice heard the threat. I was very scared. And then that funnel-shaped vortex turned into a huge vacuum cleaner with a powerful thrust with a huge nozzle, their in one moment there sucked. And I saw Bhakti Tirtha Swami with the devotees who accepted them there. I felt so relaxed, like I was sitting in a temple on a Begovaya at the altar after prasad... and so good... I really felt that they were all there, in the hands of the Bhakti Tirtha Swami's team and I can relax. I did my job.

I destroyed all those asuras who made a toy of me in the distant past, who all fucked me, when I was a faithful, chaste wife of the most powerful, unattainable asur. I safely sent them to the future, where they will serve Krishna. And I did not just clean them all from the asuric nature, I was hurting them deliberately, thinking that the more they will feel pain now, the more active they will serve Krishna and spread Krishna consciousness in their future lives. I had every right to do so, because they were with me with as a woman, because they had sex with me.

Many men do not understand how they risk having sex with different women. They think it's just an episode in life and nothing else, but in fact if he had sex with a woman, then he took responsibility for her and must fulfill her wishes, as a husband is obliged to fulfill the desires and whims of his wife. Is his destiny. But desires can be different.

And those comrades-asuras didn't understand, what entails for them sex with a woman who for them is no one, who is a stranger to them wife, and I was the wife of their leader. But in fact, all women for a man, except his wife, a real wife, and not temporary options with the tag «wife», are other people's wives. And if a man has entered into sexual relations with a woman, he is already obliged to fulfill her desires. And so I wished and expressed to them aloud my desire, which I wanted them to fulfill.

Desires can be different. As they say, be afraid of your desires. But in their case this phrase sounded differently: «Be afraid of desires of the woman with whom you had sex» because time you had sex with her, she has the right to implementation of you her desire. And those asuras got into trouble, because my desire was my return to the spiritual world. I wanted that those asuras put all their future lives to fulfill this my desire. And I hurt them, sending them to their future, so that they there with special zeal tried to fulfill my desire.

90. A series of lives in the war

I was directing all this pain in all of them through the largest of them asur, who stood in front of everyone. He got the most, and the most amazing thing for me was that when he was flying into that funnel-shaped vortex to Bhakti Tirtha Swami and his team up there somewhere, this big asur, who was experiencing the pain of unbearable intensity all day, was able to shout to me that we will meet him again. How could he even say anything? But he did not just say it, but threatening me, they say, I'll get to you and take revenge on you for my suffering.

He was wrong because my suffering was much greater. I was a pure, innocent, sincere girl. But they all were fucking me. Yes, I did not realize the reality, but it does not detract from my torments and the depth of my despair and grief, which covered me, when during marital sex all the pieces of the puzzle converged into a single picture and I realized that I was sold and fucked me although I was a pure soul, loving and sincere. How I felt then, he was unaware, and its he was not interested.

Women for him were just expendable, cannon fodder, which has no right to feelings and desires. Not to mention that she has the right to her own dignity and to its protection. In his understanding of woman was food. Nothing else. In his understanding of woman was food in terms of meeting his needs and desires. And what there could emerge perverted and cruel desires at him? Her job is to satisfy its. And this great asur, having already ceased to be asur, still did not understand any after this day of unbearable pain and wanted to take revenge on me.

And I thought that it is necessary to correct his fate, to give him a special future that he completely changed and stopped looking at women as expendable and stopped thirst for revenge, and to whom? Thirst for revenge to woman. He's male. His Dharma, his duty as men is to protect women. But not to threaten or retaliate. And he didn't understand it. He did not understand now and never understood that he, as a man, is the defender of women. He must put his whole life in the protection of those who are weaker than him, who has the right to this protection.

And I decided that his future would be special. I just pushed him out of his body, and he has not yet received a new body, he has fallen into the hands of a team of devotees of Krishna led by Bhakti Tirthi Swami somewhere there, between lives, and they know their case. I pulled those comrades out of their life, crossed off the list of asuras and determined their future, and then they will be engaged in those who are engaged in the preparation of such here. But while that big former asur has not yet gone to his new body, to his new birth, there is time to correct his future, taking into account those his words, which he managed somehow to shout me flying into the funnel-shaped vortex.

Those words scared me, but Krishna reassured me that He would protect me. But I still considered it my duty to correct the future of that great asur, because he did not understand everything that he had to understand, and it was necessary to give him such a future that he understood it. I have the authority to punish those whom they give me, and if this punishment did not work to the end, then it is necessary to correct it. Shouting out a threat to me, he showed that he did not even understand why he was punished, that he caused such pain to the woman. He didn't care what the other person felt. For him the main thing was that he liked it. He thought he was innocent.

And I decided that I should give him extra punishment onto all his future lives. I decided that since he did not understand why he was punished at all, if he, even after feeling pain such a high degree, did not feel the depth of the pain that he caused to a woman, being a man, then he must be punished. I felt sorry for him for some time, but I had to check the writing of one word at gramota.ru, and they told me he wasn't even worthy of pity.

And I realized that we need to give him a much crueller punishment, in order to he felt it and in order to at our meeting in our future he asked me for forgiveness, sincerely and with all heart, repented of the deed and in order to I forgave him. I thought since he said about the meeting, it would happen, but in a different capacity, in a favorable for all. It will be a meeting not man and woman, and on some business, just as a heart-to-heart conversation. He will pour out his soul to me, telling me about his life, about his ordeals, which I will appoint to him now, and looking for a way out.

When I thought about what to appoint him, I remembered one of my relatives. I remembered my kinswoman's husband, whom I have known since my childhood and to which I treated as to my uncle, although blood kinship was not. When I became an adult, I often went to visit them. One day I had to give money that I took from that kinswoman of mine. I got here on time when she used to come home from work, but she was late that day, and I decided to wait for her. At home was only her husband, whom I considered to be relatives and whom as a man did not perceive. And what a great shock I had when he made an attempt to rape me.

He did not succeed, because I fought with all my strength, shouted very loudly, all the neighbors heard, he could not close my mouth, and I had good physical training, at school I was seriously engaged in gymnastics. He had to throw me out the door. In the morning he came running to me all shaking and begged me not to say anything to his wife. He loved her. I promised him I wouldn't tell her. In the formulation of his request, a mistake crept in. I said nothing to her, but I stopped going to them, although I used to constantly go to visit them.

She was alarmed, she began to ask what the reason was, I was silent, then she started questioning my mom, but she also did not know. No one knew. But my mom was really worried, and she found a way to get the truth out of me. I told her everything. My mother told all the relatives. They have on this ground nearly had a divorce, but somehow he persuaded her to forgive him. But to her, his wife, I said nothing, not half a word.

Some years have passed, I got married, my husband and I went to Moscow, and suddenly my mother calls me and says that that relative was taken into slavery. He was stopped somewhere in Russia on the road, thrown out of the car and taken into slavery, right on the road. He was there for over six months. Everyone was looking for him, but there was no trace. Somehow he managed to call his wife. And the only thing he said is that he asks me for forgiveness and that he asks me to forgive him. And my mother asked me to forgive him because he thought he was very guilty in front of me and he was punished by God for that.

I did not think about him, I have long forgotten about him and even forgave. He be alarmed so hard that morning and begging to forgive him and not to tell his wife. It was obvious that he realized that he made an irreparable mistake, and I forgave him at the same time, but my mother did not forgive him. When I told her all this, she said she wanted him to get what he deserved. And because my mother on the phone asked me very much to forgive him, I tried very hard to forgive him and asked Krishna to release him. After that, he was able to escape from captivity and return home.

And when I thought about what punishment to assign to this asur, who shouted to me that we will meet with him again, I remembered my relative, who was to us as a family friend and so treacherously did. And I saw the Parallels between them. It seems that the big Asur was the same as my relative. I guess he was like a friend of my husband's, a friend of my family, who I treated as my own, but not as a man, and who I trusted. And he had humiliated and lowered me, and now he didn't understand anything, and he dared to threaten me that we would meet him again.

I remembered my mother's words that she wanted him to be severely punished, but children should not suffer, because he had three children. And it happened. The children weren't hurt. He was not with them for about six months, all was looking everywhere for him, and then he returned home, but he was in slavery and suffered very much there. And I decided to give this asur such a punishment, that he would repent as my relative did, and that he would be very respectful of women.

I thought that my mother told me that children should not suffer, and I decided that many, many lives he will be where there are fighting; he will be on the right side, not on the side of terrorists. He will often be captured, he will be brutally executed there, but he will behave steadfastly and not succumb to their threats and demands. How he will get there, in combat zones, where it is very dangerous, no matter, and on conscription, and under the contract, all the same, the main thing that he will be there every life. He will fight. But that, as my mother said, the children should not suffer, he will never have a family.

He can have a family only when he will sincerely apologize to me and when he will be to honor women and value his Dharma of protector. But before that he will not have a family at all and he will be wars to fight for what is right. He will see a lot of pain, a lot of injustice. He's not gonna have sex, because when I was sending them into their future lives, I first of all tore off their male genitals and pulled out all their masculine power, everything that they had there. He won't be a homosexual. He will be a normal man, with a normal sexual orientation, but he will not touch women, he's not gonna have sex, because my mother said that children should not suffer, and it is impossible that he had children, and from any sex can get a child, so he will not have sex at all. He will only war, fight and fight. Not too long each time he will fight, because on war kill.

And after a lot of lives after all his life's vicissitudes of these wars, he will feel something and understand, he will see all the injustice, and we will meet with him somehow. In some peaceful, calm, quiet environment, not in the combat zone, somehow he will suddenly be there. He and I will fall into talk, he will tell me about his understanding of life, that this world is not a place for a gentleman. He really realizes this, but he will not know the way out of this completely hopeless situation, in which he got.

And I will show him the way out — it's Krishna consciousness. I will say to him: «Here is Krishna consciousness, here is Krishna, here is the spiritual world, Hare Krishna mantra, ISKCON of Srila Prabhupada. Go to Krishna. There is nothing good in the material world for which one could remain in it». And he will be very grateful to me that I showed him the way out of the material world, because he will be so tired of these wars, of the dirt that he will see there that he will not want to live. But at the same time a vicious circle because while you are in the material world, you have to be born and live. And if all lives we have to war and see one dirt, senseless cruelty and futility of life, then this is complete hopelessness.

He will ask me for forgiveness for everything, and then his punishment, these wanderings through wars will end, and he will go straight to the devotional service of Krishna and return to the spiritual world. He will pray for me, because he will be very grateful to me, and he will ask Krishna to take me to spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga begins to untwist its flywheel. And Krishna will fulfill his desire, because Krishna loves His devotees and fulfills their wishes.

91. Asur-skeptic outside of his body

After that, there was another small but interesting, from my point of view, case, which I want to briefly mention. This case is extraordinary and echoed with the case of the Shepherd (the Shepherd, I do not love you). Probably The Shepherd's preaching to asuras and his example of voluntary coming to me impressed one great asur, and he thought about the possibility of leaving from the material world given to all of us by Srila Prabhupada, but he had many doubts and objections. And he appeared on my inner screen and stood there for a few days, and I did something with him, and then I drew him into me, and he was in me for three days. This is what makes him interesting.

Prior to that, he was such a character I called The Shepherd, I do not love you. I remember in that episode of my Mahabharata I saw myself as a huge Cobra standing over this Shepherd. I sucked him into myself and then I suddenly turned into a jellyfish and immersed The Shepherd in myself, in my gelatinous body of the jellyfish and dissolved him in it. The Shepherd did not have his own body. He was used to being in other people's bodies. But this new character lived among us as an ordinary-looking man, as do all the other asuras born on Earth. But although he lived here and had his body, I still sucked him into myself. This is why I want to cover this case.

In front of my inner gaze on my inner screen some asur was standing for a few days. I did something with him a few times, and then I drew in him in me, and he's completely dissolved into me, like a Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you). He was in me dissolved three days. He began to love me with all his heart. All those days when we were together, I was intensely listening to Srila Prabhupada's lectures. And I from these lectures understood that this asur dissolved in me was a big skeptic because I began to find those lectures where Srila Prabhupada answered questions of debaters where he was constantly asked any provocative questions and he answered them, defending the position.

I do not like such lectures because I have no problem in agreeing with the philosophy of Krishna consciousness. I like other lectures, such that aimed at my audience, at those who live by Krishna consciousness. But when I pulled this asur into me, suddenly all the lectures I was finding on the Internet by method of random pointing, without looking, were very philosophical. These were lectures in which Srila Prabhupada constantly repulsed the attacks of the debaters, answered not easy, provocative questions, objections, and all the lectures consisted only of questions and answers. At first, I wondered why I was opening such lectures, and I love to use method of random pointing, without looking, but in this case, for some reason, were only such lectures, with disputes, objections, questions and answers.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I thought: what is it? I like the other lectures, but I listen and listen to this debate from lecture to lecture. Well, I guess it's for him, for that asur, who sits dissolved in me. Apparently, he had many questions and objections on Krishna consciousness. The asuras had already listened to a lot and watched my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife», because I destroyed many of them and they couldn't help watching my videos, fearing for their lives. And since I talked a lot about Krishna consciousness, many asuras seriously thought about it.

Most likely this asur, who was dissolved in me in those days, had a lot of questions, and that's why I listened those lectures, where Srila Prabhupada personally answered his questions through lectures. Most likely, the Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) was a great authority for this asur and his voluntary withdrawal from the Asuras into Krishna consciousness greatly impressed him and he was faced with the dilemma: to believe the Shepherd, or his doubts.

After some time I realized that this asur has received answers to all his questions in these lectures, as such lectures ended and kirtans began. We had a good time together. I showed a lot of emotions, he saw all my emotions and loved me with all heart. And then Krishna through screenshot on my desktop told me to free him. I thought: and what to free him? I realized that when I pulled him into me, his shell, his physical body, was left without him, empty, because he was completely drawn into me.

And I thought: his body three days in there somewhere or lying in a coma, or are unconscious, in intensive care is. And if he, as a soul, was pulled out of his body and pulled into me, what happened to his body? If he's not even there. If he, in dissolved form, is in me and undergoes re-education, as if reprogramming, and the body without a soul is just like an empty shell. And I thought, well, he's got a body that's still alive, because he's dissolved in me and he had a body, but since he is still in me and has not departed to his future lives, then his body hasn't died yet. The body is already three days without him there. Many functions of his body, most likely, are already been severely impaired and lost. He cannot be returned to such a body, because the body is already damaged without these functions.

And I thought that since Krishna told me to free him, I had to free him. I put him in his body, and he sat there, and then I let him out into that funnel-shaped vortex on top. When he flew there, of course, during kirtan Hare Krishna, I suddenly made him like a respectful obeisance, as if I expressed my respect to him. I did not make a bow to any of these asuras, and then somehow it happened. Even to the Shepherd, who will preach to the powerful of this world, I did not bow and this was not going to, but suddenly for no reason, when I was washing dishes, my hand accidentally slipped off the plate and joined with the other hand in Namaste.

I noted this and thought: strange, why would I suddenly express my respect to someone of asuras? And I felt that he would be a great devotee of Krishna, a Holy, spiritual master in ISKCON. And when he was flying out there in his future lives, he held his hands in Namaste and looked at me with such reverence and such love... He was fully prepared for his mission.

And it was the result of the exemplum and preaching of the Shepherd for asuras through my series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife". It's the Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you), when he existed in his disembodied form, even then began to fulfill his mission, which he chose himself, and this fellow was its first fruit. And what fruits will the Shepherd have in the future when he actually begins to do what he has chosen? I am very interested in it, but, alas, it will be in the future lives, and where I will be then and in what body, in what life is unknown.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

As they say, the tree does not know the taste of its fruits, but I will not even know that these fruits were grown on my tree, that I tried to make it happen. This idea is a bit upsetting to me because I want to see results of my work, but the fruits will manifest in future lives, and then such a thought will not even occur to me that it was made by me. By my inner look, by my thought. I feel sad.

My Mahabharata continued, Asuras came to more and more excitement as their ranks were left by the veteran, weighty persons, for example an artel of craftsmen who carried out procedure of the transform in asuras, changed the usual, human nature on Asuric. Just by taking them out of life, I have bared such an important flank for the Asuras. But this my Mahabharata was no end in sight because the Asuras made my eternal husband the Asur because of this we were in different worlds, on different sides of the barricade and now Asuras had to pay for it. They had to pay for many, many my lives without my real husband, without my eternal pair. And my revenge was terrible.

In those days in VKontakte I caught the eye of a picture of my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami with the words «Srila Prabhupada's books are alive. It's Deities. Coming to someone in home, they can stand for many years, standing unnoticed on the shelf, but then deploy their lila in this world. The mercy of the Lord and His devotees is unlimited. Sometimes the most demonically minded people become great saints. Every sinner has a future». I thought that applied to me and to my Mahabharata I'm giving the asuras.

And I thought it was right: every sinner has a future. It is necessary for all asuras to determine their future. And then on my desk, the king from «Kinder Surprise» of «Bremen town musicians» tumbled and fell right in front of me. I accidentally brushed him by my clothes and he fell. I looked at this king from «Kinder Surprise» and thought, «Sometimes the most demonically minded people become great saints. Every sinner has a future». I thought, yeah, I was given some very big asur, a king, so to speak, before that, there were no kings, and he's very demonic, he's very big asur, and we have to expunge him out list of asuras and give him a future. What kind?

If he came to me, of course, he has a good future. He will serve Krishna many, many lives, and then return into the spiritual world. Good future. He'll have a much better future than what he was destined as a result all his demonic deeds in his asuric incarnations. I looked at how he fell in front of me on my desk. This king fell lying supine, under his feet was a stone in the form of a heart, and his hand was stretched out in the direction of the star. it's on my desk a bunch of my, so to speak, working tools that can point to something.

I watched as this king pulls his hand to the star, and I thought that this next big king-asur wants to get his way, he needs a guiding star.

Under the feet of the king lay a heart, and I realized from this that he was trampling love by his feet. In the screenshots I was told to destroy him and soon. I was told, «be humane», destroy him soon, don't delay this case. I was told supposedly I mocked the previous asuras very long, but torture for so long this asur is not necessary, him should quickly send in his future lives. I thought that I pulled out the previous asur from his body, and this body was without its owner as much as three days, it somewhere lay insensitive, probably in a coma or in intensive care. And after that I shoved him back into his empty body shell that was without him so long. In sight, something bad happened to this shell. And how did he feel himself being in that body that lost its functions? Hardly pleasant feelings he had.

92. Friend's hand

I was told to be more humane to this asur, not to pull him out of his body, and then not to return him into the already defective body. We must immediately send it directly from his body and into his future lives. And I did it the next time I did the dishes. I did a lot of things with him. First, I let in a powerful fire from below inside of him, during Narasimha Maha Mantra «Ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham», and fire burned everything in him.

And after the fire burned everything, I went down into his karma. His karma looked like a long, big well with solid walls. And there you fly, you fly, there is no end to this well. Before him, I did not enter into karma any of them, and at this time came in. I flew into this well, that was actually all his karma, and started singing there Narasimha Kavacham, in my favorite musical arrangement, in a dynamic style, performed by Bhakti Marga with a guitar, I found it in VKontakte. I sang inside of the well and thought that Narasimha Kavacham will cleanse his karma, will burn out all.

His karma looked like a bottomless well with black-and white outgoing down spirals. I was flying down there and thought, well, when there is something interesting to be? Well, does he have anything interesting or not? No, it was all so black and white. And when I sang the very end of the Narasimha Kavacham and the last chorus of it: iti shri-brahmanda-purane prahladoktam shri-narasimha-kavacam sampurnam, I was imagining that Narasimha Kavacham fills the whole bottomless well and cleans everything out of it, because sampurnam means «entirely, completely».

And during that sampurnam sampurnam I thought that all his karma, sampurnam, entirely burns in the fire Narasimha Kavacham, after which he from scratch going forward, to serve Krishna and go back to the spiritual world. And then I turned on kirtan performed by my Gurudev, I sing and I see that he is melting. His whole body melts and flows like the soft wax of a burning candle. His whole body began to expire with tears. I look at him, and this pipe of his all melts like a snowman during the spring thaw.

His whole body was crying, really cried a lot, and I go with him to cry and began to say to him: «I beg you very, very much. I am a weak woman. I can not do anything. I can't even chant 16 circles of Hare Krishna mantra that I promised to chant to my Gurudev. And those 4 circles that I chanting, I chanting perfectly absentmindedly. I can't focus on the mantra. My mind jumps back and forth. When I chant a mantra, I think about anything but not about the mantra and Krishna. I have no chance to return to Krishna, but I do not want to be here in this material world. I don't wanna be here! I feel bad here. I as a Universe level corrector, as collector collecting debts from criminals of Universal level, as inspector of Universe Patrol, made a lot of important covert operations, putting myself in jeopardy many times over in full, sampurnam, sampurnam. I seen all, I don't want to be here».

I told him: «Please, do everything, I beg you. Do your best to return to Krishna. Please serve Krishna with all the zeal, wholeheartedly so that He could not not take you to his, please, please, please, please, be a friend. Do me a favor, please. So help me to return to Krishna». Well, how can I return to Krishna, if I on duty it is necessary should go to to them, to the asuras and such as they are vile creatures. I have to come to them as Shahrazad, pretending to be their victim and showing that I am the same as everyone, and even much worse, that I am not worthy of respect, pity, mercy, nothing.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And all for them to engage in me, plunged me into the abyss of burning shame and derogatory thoughts about themselves and brought upon yourself my anger so I activate the function of their destruction.

I came to my eternal husband Shri Ram in the role of such a despicable sheep, creating a situation that he looked at me and thought: «She is a cheap, we will break her, she will be our insignificant whore, she will do whatever we want. We will lower her in front of all us on her knees, she is a miserable cheap, we will make of her an obedient slut. A miserable cheap should be an obedient slut». My eternal husband saw me as cheap and considered me cheap, although before that he laid out a lot of some of their asuric money to some guide in dreams to find me in the sleep territory. And he found me there in the sleep territory, but when I came to him, he treated me like a cheapie.

And how can I go back to Krishna if I act in the outside world in the role of cheap? I, without realizing it, come to them in the role of their victim. We start interacting through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. They're starting to push me to make me their unquestioning whore. And I, seeing in my physical body the manifestations of their influence, enter into a strong righteous anger and destroy them all, and ruthlessly, cruelly and very painfully for them. I am in despair and righteous anger rise above all of them in a fighting stance, hissing at them with my snake tongue: «You greetings from the cheap» — and destroy all of them, wholesale, with wide coverage and absolutely ruthlessly. How can I go back to Krishna if I have to unleash my resentment to destroy them, to rise above them and pour out my anger, inflated to the limit?

Lord Chaitanya said in «The Shikshashtakam», Text 3:

trinad api sunichena
taror api sahisnuna amanina manadena
kirtaniyah sada harih.

«One should chant the holy name of the Lord in a humble state of mind, thinking oneself lower than the straw in the street; one should be more tolerant than a tree, devoid of all sense of false prestige and should be ready to offer all respect to others. In such a state of mind one can chant the holy name of the Lord constantly».

My position is quite different. The mercilessness to sin — that is my Dharma. That's what Draupadi said in the movie «Mahabharata». No respect, no below the blade of grass and was not even close. And how is their destruction carried out? After all, I in many cases show cruelty and make them very hurt. And intentionally and unmercifully. Is it possible to return to Krishna in this case? And I prayed to this great king, who was trampling by foot a love and was pulling his hands to the guiding star, that he would help me to return to Krishna, because I do not see any possibility for myself in this.

Then I gave him some impulse, a magic kick, a kind of turbocharging, a vector of movement, a wish him, a blessing to return to Krishna. And I prayed to him, to this great former asur: «I am a woman, a weak woman. You're a man. You were a big, big asur. You can do a lot of, you can do it. Go to Krishna, serve Srila Prabhupada, ISKCON, serve very well, so that Krishna will take you into the spiritual world. Ask Krishna there for me so He will return me there, ask. Please, please, please, friend, help me, help me...»

He and I sang kirtan performed by my Gurudev very well that he started to melt down there, and he said he would help me. How did I find out about it? When I was doing him, I was washing the dishes, and when I got to the point where I asked him for help, I went to the room to get something, and there I saw a plastic long stick with a hand on the end. It's a stick that can scrub, scratch own back. Such stick with the hand we call a friend's hand. I look at friend's hand and I think it is as if he said told me, «Here is my hand, this is your friend's hand. I'll do anything for you, anything for you I will do». I told him, «Friend, I'm counting on you, I hope for you».

Well, after that I quickly sent him, and he was sucked into that whirlwind up there, the funnel-shaped vortex on top shut. When he was flying there, from his body to him up were threads, a lot of some big attachments. I took a great big pair of scissors and cut all these threads-affections off. When all that attachments were cut off from him, I saw that all his abilities flew there with him, not Asuric abilities, but some of his great abilities. I saw that he would use all his abilities in his service to Krishna, to ISKCON, in his future lives. When all this was over, I asked Krishna to confirm that everything was successful and he got where he needed to go.

Dishes are over, I go into the room, the TV is a cartoon, and there show a huge cockroach. I remembered a poem by Korney Chukovsky «Cock-the-Roach»:

Suddenly a wee bird flew
From the woods dark green and blue,
Flitting fast as any arrow,
Such a perky little Sparrow!
«Cheep-peep-peep! A-cheep»-a-peep!
How he nips! Oh, what a cheek!
For the cockroach in his beak
Dies without a single squeak.
His long ginger whiskers are hidden from view
That giant, the tyrant has now got his due!

And I thought, it's a sign. Everything turned out successfully. We have done away with this giant, and he said to me as my friend, «Here's my hand, it's the hand of your friend. I will do everything to help you return into the spiritual world».

93. Free cheese can be only in a mousetrap

Next in line for deletion from the list of asuras was the leader of German asuric organization, together with all who were under him. The first time I mentioned it in my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" July 20, 2017 in the 43rd series. Then my woman friend invited me to pass a free diagnosis in one place. I usually refuse such offers. I am usually annoyed by such calls, these calls are only torn away from cases, and on the other end of the line they are somehow sure that you dream to undergo some kind of free diagnosis, or make a free massage, or get a second youth at a free beautician session. And I always say that I now have no time to talk to them, but my woman friend in a personal conversation with her began to agitate me to go there, like on some computer device something there will check, will give recommendations on how to improve the quality of your life and other and other. At first, I wanted to turn the conversation to another topic, but then I suddenly decided to go there and went.

I was sent to the office, which entered a nice-looking young man, with whom we started a long conversation. Almost immediately I felt something was wrong and told him that I don't want to continue this conversation, that I want him to be replaced by some woman-doctor. I did not like his piercing gaze. But he said that all the women-doctors are busy and that is free only he. I mentioned Krishna, and he led the conversation in a different direction.

I thought I could preach, and began preach in full force, like I used to. At the same time I had to get up and go for my bag, I was lightly dressed, there was heat, and he, although he was a young man, looked at me not as a doctor at the patient, but with a man's interest. The most interesting thing there was that Shri Ram, who is always with me, saw my work in action, as I without realizing it pretended to be a kind of Shahrazad and put myself under their attack.

I did not know and did not realize that I went there to provoke this man and those under whom he was. But I acted so to provoke him, so to look as a tasty sacrifice and fool, so that they fall for this bait and go according to my scenario, which I did not realize. My unconscious behavior led that youngster to what Shri Ram had already seen when I came to him and framed myself for his blow. Then he, too, fell for this hook and went according to our scenario. He began to apply to me the force methods. I saw the signs of the action of these force methods in my physical body. I saw that in my body someone from the outside activated the mode of estrus, as in female dogs during the mating period, and I strongly resented it. When I saw attack at the energy plane of existence on me from the outside, I filed a complaint against them into somewhere the Universe and they had to stop breaking me and my feminine nature.

Shri Ram was with me and saw everything I did there as I got up and walked to my bag for something, unknowingly showing off my figure and my so-called female potency, with a bunch of feminine boon. Shri Ram invisibly was present in that conversation and saw that this doctor is actually a fool because he thinks he's a hunter and I'm a victim, but was actually following our clear pattern. How naive he was. I was the hunter, and this young man and those asuras he was with were my victims. Although whatever such victims of? They arised for it, but let's not get ahead of ourselves...

The conversation gradually moved on to my personality, whether I have a husband, whether I live with him, what we have with him sex life and so on. I began to resent these questions, too shameless and irrelevant. I sharply answered him, that his questions not on trial, that I will to speak only with woman-doctor or leaving, but he was dragging conversation. Yes, on a question, whether I have a husband and whether do we live together, whether if we're fine our sexual life, I answered that the husband I have that we with him everything is in order that we together. I meant, of course, Shri Ram, because even though he did not appear in real life, he became my husband, we are together and we are fine.

And even that young man asked me something about our sex life. I told him it's okay so he'd leave me alone. Too he was intrusive. Afterwards, I told him that I was not going to continue this meaningless conversation, got up, signed at the reception refusal of their services and left. In the evening before sleep, we with Shri Ram have was another act of family welfare which looked like regular Masturbation but really no it's not Masturbation since I've always was with my Shri Ram. How asuras can plug unto you and be with you when you have sex in any form: or with someone in sex, or in Masturbation, I do not know, but they have this ability.

And when this Shri Ram began to interact with me, from that time we had regular acts of family well-being. It's the acts of family well-being because we're husband and wife and because in sex at the orgasm of women out force, energy, Shakti, which is very appreciated asuras. What they need this energy for, I don't know, but I know well that they need female energy that stands out at a female orgasm.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

This is our ordinary men do not realize the value of this phenomenon, and the asuras know and constantly draw this energy from women, connecting to them invisibly, energetically, or in Masturbation of a woman, or when a couple, a man and a woman, have sex and a woman has an orgasm. And this energy is the very benefit that a man receives from a woman when she has an orgasm as a result of sex. Of course, the fact of invisible inclusion in this sexual interaction and such perverse participation of asuras in it are also very spicy.

It is very piquant to connect to woman who engaged in Masturbation and thinks she is alone and there is no one here, that she simply satisfies herself, removes sexual tension, type for health it is useful, as advised by modern doctors. I suspect that the asuras threw this misinformation into the minds of doctors about the need for sex for health. Because the asuras have their own benefit. The woman engaging in Masturbation thinks that she is alone, that no one is with her, but it is only her illusion.

But the fact is that she thinks that she is one, but the asuras know how to plug unto women and even somehow be present in person in the objects, and when she satisfies herself in Masturbation, then together with her there may be someone about whom she does not even know who uses her for sex and for stealing her good, her female energy. But they can press on buttons in women's centres and cause sexual arousal. And in addition they can to throw into the mind all sorts of thoughts and pictures, directing us in the direction they need, so that we are engaged in the getting sexual gratification. This is very bad, especially if there is a whole crowd of asuras there. And you're like a conveyor that everyone in their asuric organization uses.

So, after that conversation with that doctor we with Shri Ram that night have become to commit an act of family prosperity. With these words I mean our sex through the distance. Actually, it's not like sex, on my part, because it's just Masturbation. But in fact this is the real sex. Because for asuras there is no difference, what kind of sex: sex in real life with a personal presence and contact of physical bodies or sex through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. Asuras have the ability to enter into objects and to plug unto people and to be present invisibly energetically, though they live among us as the most ordinary-looking people. So that night we with Shri Ram had sex through a distance, which in my vision it was just Masturbation, but with a very real his presence and the feeling him as a real man. And during this act, I saw at my inner screen how someone is trying to brazenly break into our interaction with Shri Ram, into our family sex. I really saw and felt how someone very trying to break through, wedge to us with Shri Ram. It made me very angry, and I by force of will threw him out and at the same time asked the goddess Lakshmi to protect my blessing to conjugal fidelity to Shri Ram as to my husband, so that no one could break into our with him interaction.

At that morning I remembered that doctor, I remembered his look, his questions about my family life with my husband and I thought, «It was you, you're just like them. You're too brazen! I told you I have a husband, that he and I are fine, but you tried to penetrate to us! I will destroy you!» I looked with my inward glance at my inner screen, put him there, inward and started pumping everything he had out of him. After that I thought that he was a small fry, that he was in some asuric organization. I remembered that he said that he studied in Germany, and thought: «So you dare to do your affairs in a foreign territory, without a license? Here is the territory of my Shri Ram, he is the chief here, go to your Germany and there do your affairs».

I thought that the German asuric organization got caught. First, here not their territory, secondly, I directly told that I have a husband and we with him everything is normal, and it is forbidden to them — to touch the wife, couple. It's violation of the law, so to speak. I thought that the leader of German asuras exceeded his authority and got caught. On my inner screen I immediately went through the doctor and plugged unto those to whose organization he belonged, that is, to the German asuras.

There was a huge asur there. In the center. Like a spider. And I pumped a lot of something out of him, that he is there with all his asuras collected, scooping the good, the energy from people. I remembered how back in Moscow to me and to my then husband connected a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, to whom I gave the name Borka and whom I destroyed in my Mahabharata. He plugged unto married couple. Asuras intermeddle in family sex at the energy plane of existence, unto married couple! It's unthinkable audacity!

Asuras deliberately cause sexual desire to pair lapsed into a sex so the asuras can to plug unto them absolutely invisibly. It's good if you have a flair and somehow begin to guess that something is wrong. And if you do not guess and think that it's just a hormonal surge, hormonal restructuring, whatever... Yeah, it's restructuring, embedding someone from the outside in the structure of your sexual interaction, at the energy plane of existence. Asuras press some buttons in your body and you get some kind sexual rabies. And if you start to guess or feel someone's outsider presence in your family sex, then asuras throw in your mind thoughts, they say, this is trivia, many have lovers, nothing terrible, especially since the lover is not in the real world it does, but right in your family sex, and he is not visible at all.

Husband and not guess, the husband will be only too glad that his wife was so hot in sex and their sex has become so cool. Asuras can put pressure on a woman so that she agrees to such an alien presence in their marital sex, manipulating her consciousness and trying to get her to agree to their full presence there. And after there will be included all their conveyor, many of the asuras, and they will pump out her female energy, chorus or in turn... but externally all this will look like an ordinary family sex, and the husband will be glad that he suddenly has again youthful ardour and dick again of the standing like a stallion. Yes, and wife has hot sexual desire and cool orgasm... Of course, because asuras plugged unto her through her husband in their marital sex, and there are a lot of them there. And they pump out of her female energy under great pressure, and therefore the woman has a very cool orgasm, the energy rushing from her, like oil well, to which several oil-pumping devices are connected at once.

And when I was thinking about this I joined to the main German asur, Herr Fritz, as I called him, and was beginning pumping out of him all that he had pumped out of other people. I pulled a lot of things out of him. After a while I heard threatened voice in my mind, him voice, of the main German asur: «Just wait, I'll get you!» And in the 43rd series, the same day, I told about him and threatened him that I'll get him, because he overstepped his authority because he had no right to plug unto a married couple. After all, that doctor was from asuric organization of Herr Fritz, and Herr Fritz, like that spider saw everything on his neural network, how they can do it. And he had to stop the encroachments on my side, because I am dear, wife, but the attempt of wedging was. I had to throw them out of our interaction with Shri Ram by force, and now they were all mine. That's all.

I all summer and autumn periodically did the swoops on them and pulled from them all that they acquired, when they were plugging unto single women and forcing them to masturbate, with their invisible presence in it, and when they were plugging unto married couples, in their usual family sex. For three months many times I have implemented the surprise attacks on that big German asur and did a lot with him, and here in the 101st series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" on October 22, 2017, I said that very soon I will finally deal with him, because he spoiled me a lot of mood, he invaded where he was not called. Then I told all the asuras to prepare a replacement for him, as there was not long to wait.

That German asur was laughing at my words for a long time, because he had some powerful blessing, in which he took into account many conditions about who could destroy him, and he was sure that it was impossible that all these conditions merged in one person, in a woman, therefore he behaved so defiantly. But he did not know that all the conditions of his blessing were taken into account and implemented by me throughout my life and that in me they all embodied. And all the asuras were convinced in that very, very soon.

When, after three months of periodic attacks on Herr Fritz, as I called him, the most important German asur, I at the end of the 101st series told asuras that very soon I would destroy him, they all laughed at me a lot and for a long time. Herr Fritz laughed the loudest. He was sure that there was no and there could not be such a person who could destroy him, since he had once committed some austerities and gained a lot of blessings that contained opposite conditions to each other, which, he believed, could not all be immediately embodied in one person.

All these three months I periodically attacked on him and on his entire asuric organization and pulled out of them everything they pumped up from everywhere, mostly from women. Herr Fritz is well settled. They plugged unto women during their masturbation and pumped out feminine energy, which was thrown out during orgasm. They also plugged unto couples in their usual sex and were there invisibly through the body of men and also were seizing the feminine energy. Herr Fritz was sure that I could only pump out this energy from them, but that beyond that I could not go and could not do much damage to him, and so he holded on defiantly. All these three months I thought, for what reason did I expunge all the others somehow fast enough, why is Herr Fritz still alive? With a Shepherd I was busy three weeks, and because of Pitru Paksha, in order to free him from the curse, because of which he sat disembodied in other people's minds and grazed them. Why do I not do anything with Herr Fritz for so long, for three whole months?

I was perplexed, but some thoughts about it came to my head. I recalled the story of Hiranyakashipu, as he received the benediction that he cannot be killed neither by day nor by night, neither on earth nor in the sky, nohow. And I thought, most likely, in the case of Herr Fritz something like that. I thought that I told the asuras in 101st series, that I will kill Herr Fritz, and that means it will happen. This means that in me are embodied all contradictory conditions that Herr Fritz has stipulates for his safety.

94. The tricky blessing

I've been thinking a lot about what kind of conditions could be realized in me, and I suggested that I see in myself such contradictions that Herr Fritz could have in mind, laughing at my statement that soon him will not. I thought I had a husband, but I don't have one. I have Shri Ram, he is my husband, but the interaction we have with him at a distance, he is always connected to me, always with me, but at the same time I do not even know him, he lives as a man somewhere near me, but to me does not come for some reason.

I also thought that I have two husbands, Shri Ram and Nrisimhadev himself. And they both are my legal and real husbands. Shri Ram is my eternal couple, my eternal husband, and we are with him and in this life somehow somewhere out there at the subtle, fine-material level got engaged and became husband and wife. And Nrisimhadev is my husband. He is also my real husband. I became His wife when I danced the dances of devotion to the Deities on the higher planets when I gave up the second eternal couple. Shri Ram and Nrisimhadev are my real husbands. I have two real legal husbands at the same time. But at the same time, none of them are with me, I am alone, and continue to be alone.

I thought that Herr Fritz could stipulate such conditions that no man could have killed him, that only a special woman could kill him. Woman who has a husband and he is not present. Woman who has several husbands simultaneously and all they are legal, real, but she's lonely. I also remembered that I have not had a single abortion in this life, which gynecologists are somewhat surprised. I gave birth to three children. But at the same time Shri Ram drew from me three asuric babies who were in me, not yet hatched, some kind of energetic substances. And my stomach very hurt after that, like something was cut out of there, from the physical body.

But it can be regarded as a abortion, however, those babies not dead, they continued to exist, after that Shri Ram put them in other women, and then they got their physical form and are born as normal children, but fact is fact. Shri Ram took three babies out of me, cut them out of my ovaries, when they did not hatch, that is when they have not received even a shell of a zygote. That is, it turns out that in fact I have not had abortions in this life, but at the same time I have. In this form. And the number of children and there and here the same: three. And I thought that such a condition would be stipulated by Herr Fritz very correctly. How can it be that there were no abortions and that they were at one woman at the same time? But in me this condition coincided. I gave birth to three children, I never in this life did not do abortions, and at the same time Shri Ram excised from my ovaries and extracted from me three asuric babies, which were not conceived in the usual way, not in ordinary sex, and in sex through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. And these babies were in me in some unmanifested state. They could sit in me for years, waiting for the usual fertilization, as a result of which they would begin to develop as normal children. But Shri Ram took them out of me and transplanted them into some other women because I said I didn't want to give birth anymore. And basically, it's an extraction from me asuric babies can be described as an abortion, because children were extracted from the body of their mother. However, not of the uterus and of the ovaries. And they did not die as a result of this procedure and even were able to be born normally after that in some other women. But all of this procedure of extraction asuric babies can be classified as abortions. Although abortion was not, because the children did not die and continued to exist.

I also thought that Herr Fritz could stipulate other conflicting conditions, like to that woman in gynecology it was all good and bad at the same time. I always everything in gynecology was good, but just at that time, so coincidentally, I was treated a tooth, and I drank antibiotics, because of what there came out vaginal dysbacteriosis after antibiotics... Very unpleasant feelings, it was necessary to treat, that is all bad, although at the same time all is well. Tests are clean. But literally the condition was met.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I think he could had to stipulate a lot of conditions, for example, both fertility and non-fertility period at woman. And Yes, the age is not small, but fertile, and the age is not fertile for many women. Maybe he could had to stipulate a condition at the same time pure and unclean woman, chaste and absolutely shameless woman. Maybe that I came and I didn't come at the same time. I thought, what else in me is so controversial so at the same time in me such opposite conditions coincided.

I thought about these contradictions and thought that once I told the asuras that I would definitely kill this Herr Fritz, then in me all the conditions stipulated by him are there and everything now has come together in a single point. That means it will work. But I was waiting for some sign to start making it. There was no sign. There was no impulse to do it. Until October 23, 2017 when in the group in VKontakte did come out the 27th series of tv series «Mahakali», in which Mahakali killed Narakasura. Very interesting series was. As soon as it came out with a Russian translation, I began to watch it. And when I looked at it, I saw Herr Fritz and the Parallels between that story and this one, in my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife".

In this 27th series of tv series «Mahakali» was a situation that once upon a time there was asur Narakasura. He begged five powerful blessings from Shiva with such conditions that no one could have killed him. And he was so brazen that he enslaved 16 thousand women, controlled their consciousness completely and even took away from Narayana wife, the goddess Lakshmi, and Narayana could do nothing about it. Narakasura did tantric abominations, oppressing women, that they became as zombies. Parvati came to him in her unique form of Kamakhya, of the personified vagina, to destroy him.

There was such a story that when Sati, the wife of Shiva, burned her body in a mystical fire on the sacrifice of Daksha, Shiva could not part with her body and carried it around the worlds in deep grief. And then Narayana activated his Sudarshana chakra, and Sudarshana chakra cut open Sati's body into small pieces that fell in different places. And in one place fallen clipped by Sudarshana chakra womb of Sati, her sexual organ, the yoni. And to destroy Narakasura, Parvati came to him as the yoni, the female sexual organ of Sati, in personified form. That is, it was the yoni itself, yoni of Sati, but in the form of a woman.

There was a woman standing in front of Narakasura. She was a person, but it was actually yoni of Sati. And her name was Kamakhya. Kamakhya said Narakasura that now his desires will be the cause of his end. His desire was to enslave all those women and enjoy sex with them. Before that, Narakasura conducted his tantric ritual, in which he completely subordinated those 16 thousand women to his power, they became weak-willed and could only lift his orders. And he called on to himself the goddess who can fulfill every his desire. He called on her to himself, saying: «Reveal yourself, goddess, fulfill my desire!» And when he called on her to him, yoni of Sati awoke and appeared before him in the form of a woman, a goddess, Kamakhya.

Narakasura told her that urged her to get children from those 16 thousand women. Although he was a great tantric and had unlimited sexual potency and opportunities, he could not get children any of the 16 thousand wives, because all of them at the same time had monthly periods and never passed, there was a nonfertile period, and the children could not be conceived. So Parvati, being the most feminine nature, the personified yoni, influenced them, because one of the blessings requested by Narakasura from Shiva was that all his children would be invincible and invulnerable and that even Shiva, Brahma, Narayana and Mahakali would not be able to kill them. But it was not said that the children necessarily will.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And in order that Narakasura could not have children, Parvati, being personified yoni and at the same time personality, influenced the female functions of all 16 thousand wives of Narakasura, and they were always infertile, i.e. not able to conceive. For this reason Narakasura began to call on to himself the goddess, who will be able to fulfill his desire have children, and came Kamakhya, the personification of the vagina, the yoni. But when he saw Kamakhya, he changed his mind and decided that now he wants only her. He expressed his desire that he wants her, Kamakhya.

This was his mistake: it was Kamakhya, and also it was Mahakali herself, the death of the Asuras. And expressing aloud his wish that he wants only her, only Kamakhya, he thus invited to himself his death, because she is the death of the asuras. He said he wanted her, who is the death of the Asuras. And one of the blessings he received from Shiva was that until he invited his death, he would not be killed. Therefore, Narakasura was sure that no one could kill him, because he was not a fool and, of course, he will not invite death. But then it so happened that, calling to himself her and coveting her, he invited his death, as she is herself Mahakali, the death of all the Asuras.

And this German Herr Fritz was sure that nobody would kill him. In sight, there was something similar. I came to him myself. I didn't come to Herr Fritz, but to the diagnostic center, where I was given that German doctor, who was in asuric organization of Herr Fritz. And it turns out that I came to him, but refused to deal with him, saying that I want instead of him I was given some woman. And I even wrote a written waiver from their services, thus explicitly expressing his unwillingness to have any interaction with this Herr Fritz, who coordinated all of their German asuric organization, including that of the doctor came from Germany.

And more than that, I said that I have a husband and that we have with him all is well, telling Herr Fritz through the doctor that he has no right to come to me, because I am dear, a married woman. But Herr Fritz ignored my words and the same evening tried to break into our intimate interaction with Shri Ram. Yes, at the energy plane of existence, but the essence does not change: there was an unauthorized invasion, a clear abuse of their powers and borders. That is, I myself came to him, and at the same time I did not come, he came to me, without my consent and permission.

I think there, too, somehow coincided the conditions stipulated by the cunning Herr Fritz, but deceived by me, unconsciously. Kamakhya, having heard those words of Narakasura that he wanted her, thought that she is the end and he wished her and now his end is close, as it was stipulated in that his blessing. Kamakhya told Narakasura that he had insulted women, taken away from Narayana his wife Lakshmi, that he had tried to oppress women, making the power of his gift a curse, that he had made a mistake, considering a woman a thing to use it when he wants, and now he will be destroyed by the woman.

Kamakhya said that even a thousand blessings can not save the one who attacks women. I guess that Herr Fritz was a big tantric and he wanted to take part in breaking my feminine nature when I was put on their asuric totalizer. Most likely, these are not just my assumptions, but facts because he loved to oppress women, to break their nature, to feel his superiority over them, and, most likely, he with his tantric practices and blessings could hardly pass by such interesting and amusing things, like breaking subsequent worthless female and throwing her on her knees in front of all of them. Yes, most likely, it was.

He was one of those who placed bets on a the collapse of my feminine nature in their asuric totalizer, where they pushed and Shri Vishnupad, Hariksha Swami, to the lowest level. They pounced on Shri Vishnupad all crowd and practiced their vile asuric and tantric techniques, pressed to all buttons in his energy and physical body and intensively manipulated his mind to hit more jackpot. Herr Fritz was wrong. He thought that his blessings would ensure that he could easily break down any female, but he did not consider one thing: that asuras are not the main ones, that the main is Krishna. Krishna sees everything and can do anything.

And Krishna did not allow breaking me on that asuric totalizator, but allowed the initiation of this, since I am an inspector of Universe Patrol and came to them with an inspection, a check, so that, having received all the cards in his hands, having received confirmation of their atrocities, to have the full right to punish them all, including Herr Fritz. And when they put me on their asuric totalizator, I was already the wife of Shri Ram, this is when from March 3 to 4, 2016, Nrisimhadev held a heavenly wedding in which Shri Ram and I became husband and wife.

However, in this summer, Shri Ram met a very good woman, on backdrop of which I'm just nobody, and Shri Ram decided that he hurried, taking me as his wife, since that woman suits him much more, that she is the ideal woman, that she is for him, and he decided to cancel his decision to be my husband, saying through coach karate: «You are free, go away». And I then answered him, looking at a familiar woman standing next to me, that we will go together.

It turns out that I said to Shri Ram that I will not leave him, that I agree to be among his non-contact whores, which he fucked turns at the energy plane of existence, although in real life was only with that refined, elegant, highly cultured, a real woman, not like me. And although he was in real life with her, he continued to groping his non-contact whores, and I was among them, because I answered his words to me «You are free, go» that we are with that familiar woman will go together, that is, I will be among his non-contact whores. As all of this regrettably...

But after that, he still wanted to get rid of me and began to push me to leave him. And when I wrote a letter that I delete all the files from my computer and that I want to destroy him and his letter to the nines, at Shri Ram began the collapse of his life. That refined and elegant woman was just a woman, who thought that every woman is born to be happy, and she is worth it, and he saw the hidden meaning of her ordinary words of her true attitude to this situation. She began to broadcast through her speech to Shri Ram that he did not need her as a beggar homeless, a kind of fatal loser, whom he had become at that time and whom he would continue to be until the infamous end of his life, that a beggar can not add to her happiness, which she deserves, and then he left her.

And at that time, I saved him from his life's collapse, and my Gurudev offered Shri Ram to take me as his wife. At the same time, Shri Ram was informed that this is his only opportunity that nothing else will not in this life for him, that he has a choice without a choice. As they say, you are not my choice, you are my destiny. And he obeyed his fate and accepted this offer of my Gurudev. He took responsibility for being my husband.

And when Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, came to Shri Ram and said that I had already been put on their asuric totalizator, Shri Ram told them that I am his wife, but they did not stop and called him to battle, putting against him someone who exactly would have killed him. Then Shri Ram won that battle and remained intact because I was singing the protective mantras, realizing that he will now be killed in some battle somewhere out there, at the energy, fine-material level.

And then this Herr Fritz was among those who rubbed their hands in anticipation that they will break me on that asuric totalizator. He knew that I am the wife of Shri Ram, their colleague, so to speak. But Herr Fritz didn't care that I'm a wife, a married woman, he wanted to use all his tantric techniques on me. He wanted to make me their insignificant limp litter, whore so they fucked me when they wanted and how they wanted. And at the energy plane of existence, and causing me an intolerable sexual desire and having made me even at the physical plane such a whore, who does not care who to be with, if only there was sex.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And they would force me to have sex with all men in a row, not paying attention to what these men are. They'd plug into these men and have sex with me through their bodies. Sex would be with a real man, but asuras at the energy plane of existence fucked me. And they did not spare the children. And how would children live with such a mother? With a broken female nature that has no brakes and satisfies a sudden pop-up from nowhere sexual desire with random men, just to satisfy it. Of course, at first they would start by forcing me to masturbate, of course, with dildo, so that they, being present in this dildo, would feel me more fully.

Then, of course, they would have moved on to making me have sex with all the random men I encountered in my normal life, in real life. Of course, they would not dwell on the fact that I had sex with just one man, because different men have different habits and preferences in sex, and the more men would be, the more and more diverse these asuras would have me in sex through the bodies of those men. Personally, these asuras would not be with me, because for asuras there is no difference how to have sex: with a personal presence or energetically, through the body of some other man. And since they planned to make me such a whore, which fuck all in a row, they wouldn't begin to come to me personally so as not to get dirty about such a dirty trash. And so they would plug into the men in my life, press their mind, and they would fulfill the desires of the asuras and have sex with me. And I could not refuse these men and even I would like this because my female nature would be completely torn down. These were their plans. These asuras were not interested in how my children would live, when a crowd of unclear men would pass through their mother, even coming to their homes to have sex with her. Those asuras didn't care. They had no pity for me or for my children. Herr Fritz wanted to make me such a whore. Alas.

95. Herr Fritz found his yoni

And so I looked this 27th series and went to wash the dishes. When I turned on the Narasimha Kavacham, I saw by my inner gaze on my inner screen Herr Fritz and those who were under him. They all stood under me, and I ascended high above them in the sky in a completely unreal form. I'm even ashamed to write about it, but I said in my novel about it, so I'll write too. I stood above them all like that big yoni, vulva. I was this vulva, excited, bulged out. And I stood over them all like that. I was taken aback when I saw myself in this form, completely shameless.

I was this yoni, completely shameless vulva, in a state of orgasm that did not end. I was a rhythmically pulsating, squishing vagina, sucking everything in myself. And this pulsation and squelch didn't stop; it lasted and lasted and this yoni didn't care, because she couldn't stop; this constant greedy suction did not stop for a moment. Herr Fritz wanted to make me like this when they put me on their asuric totalizer. He wanted me to stop being a person, a woman, a mother, a friend, a soul, he wanted to make me this greedily sucking in itself everything vagina, who doesn't care because this vagina is not able to stop.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

They say, be afraid of your desires, it can be fulfilled. In the case of Herr Fritz this desire was fulfilled, however, not then and not in the form he intended. He thought that in the fall of 2016 I would be broken up on that ill-fated Asuric totalizator, on which they lowered and Shri Vishnupad, and that then I would become a vagina, greedily sucking everything, because I not able to stop. I always was proud that if I have a man, then there is nobody else, that I am faithful woman in nature. But they were going to constantly bring me the new and new men, and they were going to make me so that I could not refuse anyone and would have looked for them. Herr Fritz was going to use all his tantric techniques to make it happen. Since he also planned to have sex with me through the bodies of those lousy men, with whom I would have sex after breaking down my feminine nature on their Asuric totalizator.

Dreams come true. I became such Herr Fritz wanted me to be. I'm absolutely shameless stood right over him and all his asuric organization in the form of a huge fully unfolded, current vulva, yoni, eagerly pulsating and giving to looking at itself everywhere. And this happened also in the fall, but not in 2016, but in 2017. I stood over them and interacted with them, not through the invisible passing of their will and of their impalpable presence through the male bodies of a succession of men from the street in real life, but on my inner screen, at some subtle, fine-material level.

Dreams come true. And standing over all of them as yoni, greedily sucking in itself everything of them, with this not stopping pulsation, I, as a plunger that clears the clogs in the pipes, pulled everything of them and sucked into myself, all their strength, blessings and all that they had. And after that I turned on kirtan Hare Krishna performed by my Gurudeva, and I was very ashamed, because I'm on my internal screen continued to stand in the form of this completely open, almost turned out vagina, in a state of orgasm and at the same time in real life was listening kirtan Hare Krishna performed by my Gurudeva and sang along with him.

I thought, Shri Ram sees it all, he's always with me, and I'm right in front of his eyes standing in such a shameless form over all of them, in the form of yoni who is not able to stop, like a train, rushing without brakes at full speed, in a completely inadequate state. This yoni is in the process of orgasm. This orgasm began, but it can not end. This orgasm lasts and lasts, and this is a completely abnormal situation. This yoni can not stop until the orgasm is over, but orgasm does not end. While the orgasm is not completed, this vagina can not stop. I covered them all with me in the form of this completely open, almost turned out vagina in a state of orgasm, and endlessly was pulsating above them and drawing everything into them.

I was very ashamed that I was standing in such an indecent, depraved form during the kirtan of my Gurudev and that Shri Ram, my husband, seeing all this. But at the same time, I understood that not without reason I was shown such a series from «Mahakali», where Mahakali appeared before Narakasura as personified yoni, and I suddenly appeared as this yoni. Apparently, it is necessary, because for me nothing is shown without reason. If I saw something, it means that it is necessary for something. I can not see from here why it is so necessary, but can see there, above, and I was very clearly aware that if it goes so, automatically, regardless of consciousness, then you just have to give yourself to this process and just continue. I looked shyly and put up with this situation. I look, Shri Ram is calm, everything all right.

I thought that if Krishna said to continue, then we must continue. Although it is quite non-standard and out of the ordinary situation: Gurudev sings Hare Krishna, I sing Hare Krishna, I'm standing in the form of orgasmic shameless yoni and Shri Ram sees all this disgrace. What a paradoxical combination! Perhaps it was another of the blessings of Herr Fritz that he can only be destroyed by both a pure and impure, holy and shameless woman. And it seems that this condition was fulfilled then.

After that I, continuing to be this yoni, turned into a light blue star, which was diffusing around itself the blue prominences that went into them. I was singing with my Gurudeva Hare Krishna and I was shining, and then at some point I saw that this Herr Fritz was separated from his body and hovered at a level between the heart and the solar plexus. I saw from above that funnel-shaped vortex, into where they all fly out, and I went up there.

I look, this Herr Fritz hangs out in the middle of his body and looks wide-open, astonished, spellbound eyes at me, at that fully opened yoni. I think it's time to send him. Enough of him to sit here, he has already come off his body, already hanging in this airstream, it is necessary to kick him there. And I got up in this stream from above, in this whirlwind, continuing to be this orgasmic yoni, and standing in the funnel-shaped vortex, I began to tell them: «Go all to me. Come to me».

I was standing over all of them, as this yoni, eagerly throbbing vulva in a state of orgasm that they were going to turn me into. They wanted me to stop being a person, a woman, a mother. They wanted me to become just become a greedy yoni, constantly hungry for the pulling in, who is not able to stop. Their wish came true. I stood over them just the way they wanted me to become, and I told them from there, out of that whirlwind, «Go all to me». I thought that there in the next life they are already waiting for the yoni, for the female genital organs, into which they will enter together with the spermatozoa to clothe themselves in the body, and from which they will leave after new birth. And when I called them to me, I thought of those yoni out there somewhere waiting to give them a new birth. Because to get this birth, have to go into this yoni.

They so wanted to make me not a personality, but an uncontrollable yoni, and now their desire comes true: they will all fly together to those yoni, from which they will come out in their new births. I stood in the form of yoni and told them «come to me», but I told them to go not here to me, but there to me as to yoni. And they all rushed to me and flew there, into that funnel-shaped vortex. He was a tantric, and they have the veneration of yoni is the great Puja, rite of worship and reverence of the Deity, giving siddhi, mystical forces, which have no equal, as they believe.

And here I came to him, to this German, in the form of orgasmic yoni, in the form of vulva in a state of orgasm, to take him to me like to a yoni, to new yoni, into the new birth. I stayed here, checked: all right, dishes are clean, Herr Fritz is nowhere, and he flew away into his future lives. He broke away from his body shell and went to the call of the yoni in a funnel-shaped vortex. That was his dream, his desire. He wanted to see me in the form of orgasmic yoni, in a state of orgasm, in the form of yoni who is not able to stop, and his dream came true. All his blessings were fulfilled.

He got what he deserved. He did not heed the words of Shri Ram to all the asuras that I am his wife and that he did not give me over to them to their asuric totalizator. Herr Fritz did not care that I was a married woman and that in General a woman. He so wanted to break me, another bitch from a series of bitches, which he broke in large numbers, using his asuric abilities, tantric forces and tricks and his blessings and making them not women, but insatiable yoni, female vaginas, who can't to stop... for which he paid.

I think that if Shri Ram betrayed me to them and they would put me on their asuric totalizator, it would be different. They would have all attacked me together and I certainly would have seen the changes taking place in my body, and would have been very indignant that they do it to me, and I am a devotee of Krishna, I sing bhajans, I am a good person, I try to help everyone. I would definitely activate the function of destroying the asuras, because I am an inspector of the Universe Patrol, and I would kill them all. But Shri Ram stood up for me, he went to a mortal fight with a much superior enemy in power, which was put against him, who did not know the defeats and would kill Shri Ram.

Shri Ram defeated him, and all the asuras were stunned by this, and my Mahabharata followed the scenario that was laid down in the plan drawn up before my birth. Thank you to Shri Ram for coming to my defense. Because they wanted me to become like the way I was then when I was deleting Herr Fritz and those who were with him. I am sure that this story with Herr Fritz and his striking out will be very colorfully presented in a chic blockbuster that Hollywood will definitely shoot on the basis of this my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife". Hallelujah.

96. Big personalities — big projects

After so many successful operations to strike out the asuras from the modern asuric community here on Earth, I thought to myself... Everyone I sent into their future lives as devotees of Krishna with their return into the spiritual world, I asked to put in a word for me to Krishna when they enter in the spiritual world. But what about Shri Ram? Why did I come to him in this life, after millions of lives without him? Why I revealed to him, why I showed how between lives I was offered to give him up, as they gave me another eternal pair, but I refused it? Why did I put myself under his blow coming to him and showing him that he could press me forcing me to obey his associates? Why I destroy now one after another asuras, big and different? Am I really doing this just to appear to him and leave?

I thought it was illogical. It would be more logical to take care also of him, because we are an eternal couple and in the spiritual world should be together, but I ask and ask the asuras sent by me to ask Krishna in the spiritual world for me alone. And I decided to deserve such mercy that Krishna would take both me and Shri Ram, the two of us, together, into the spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga would enter into his full rights and begin to spin his flywheel. I wanted to serve Srila Prabhupada globally, on a large scale, and I thought I would send a large group of Asuras, who are charismatic personalities, to their future lives, so that they would be born many, many lives here on Earth and be great powerful preachers of Krishna consciousness, of the mission of Srila Prabhupada, ISKCON.

Just in those days I read an offering from my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami on Srila Prabhupada Disappearance Day, Oct 23, 2017, in which he says: «Srila Prabhupada, I am in the twilight of my life and thus my desire to rejoin you may come at any time. I am peaceful with this prospect and will leave this world with no regrets. Nevertheless, there remains a concern within my heart, and that is for the welfare of the younger generations of devotees that will be left behind to carry on your mission. I have seen many a sincere soul in the ranks of the men and women who have taken shelter of your lotus feet either by birth or good fortune. Please bless them with your mercy so that they can continue to carry the torch of knowledge that illuminated the path of pure devotional service for my generation».

«Please give them a taste for the chanting of the holy names, the taste that carried many of my godbrothers and godsisters safely over the ocean of material existence to that place from which one never returns. Please grant them a sense of compassion for all the conditioned souls suffering in the ocean of material existence. May you grant them the wisdom to avoid the errors of my generation and the courage to face the fierce opposition that will most certainly come with the advancement of this age of Kali. And please give them the sense of loyalty to your movement which was the hallmark of many of the great souls of my generation, both those who were prominent within the movement and those who quietly dedicated their lives to Krsna consciousness».

After reading this offering of my Gurudev to Srila Prabhupada, I decided to take advantage of my official position and fulfill his desire and his will by striking out a large group of powerful asuras, who can be called charismatic personalities and which will be such as described by my Gurudev in this offering. I decided that since projects exist thanks to the personality, I need to yank from the Asuras large personalities, through which large-scale projects can exist and develop. The case can only move because of the individual.

And I decided to yank from the community of asuras such persons with a capital letter, thanks to which there are great projects, and make them great devotees of Krishna, who will be like my Gurudev. They will carry the torch of Krishna consciousness around the world, organize and carry out large-scale grandiose preaching projects in Krishna consciousness, in ISKCON, as my spiritual master Indradyumna Swami. They will be a real example for everyone. They will do everything that Srila Prabhupada has commanded us and inspire everyone to do so.

I decided that they would all be faithful followers of Srila Prabhupada, and many of them would be great spiritual masters of Krishna consciousness in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada. They as the asuras were great charismatic personalities, and as the devotees of Krishna will be great charismatic personalities. There is personality — and there is deal. There is Srila Prabhupada — and there is ISKCON. There is my Gurudev — and there is a Polish festival Woodstock with Hare Krishna.

All big projects exist only thanks to the personality. These asuras themselves are such great personalities and in their future lives will be such great personalities, but already in Krishna consciousness, and thanks to them in the future will be many large-scale successful projects Hare Krishna. Srila Prabhupada said that all devotees of Krishna must return into the spiritual world before this Kali Yuga can engage the harshly and specifically begin to develop their activities. He gave such a task, such a command. And all they will carry out this order. And since they will carry out this order and will return into the spiritual world timely, they will do what I want — they will ask Radha and Krishna to take us with Shri Ram together into the spiritual world, and they will do so.

And when I so decided, in some point on my table to me fell king from «Kinder Surprise» «tomorrow we rob king». I thought that the time of their sending is approaching, and there will be some very big asur, because the king fell, a big boss. And after a while, my son accidentally touched this king, and he split into a few little pieces, and they fell right under my feet. I, as always, thought it was a sign to me, and I started doing them.

And it all happened like with that king from «Kinder Surprise»: first I killed some big king, a big boss, and then a bunch of small ones under my feet. The first I eliminated some big asur, king, and very quickly, without any thriller special effects. I thought that he would definitely become a great spiritual master, of such a level as my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami, since he is such a big, solid king and individual work was carried out with him. And thereafter I sent a whole big bunch of these small details from the king, also very fast, and they all flew into this powerful funnel-shaped vortex somewhere high above. After that I took a control shot, burning what's left of their body's integument by my flamethrower.

It all happened so fast. I did not sing Hare Krishna, nor did I sing the Narasimha Maha Mantra, nothing. They suddenly stood in front of me, I let into them something, simultaneously in all of them at once, and then they instantly fly away into this funnel-shaped vortex from above, and all this took just about 3 minutes. And because it happened suddenly and with lightning speed, I had doubts as to whether they would be as I had determined, and I asked Krishna about it. And then on my desktop came a screenshot from TV series «Mahabharata» with the words of Krishna: «Everything will happen exactly as you said, Partha».

The great charismatic personalities were yanked out by me from among the asuras and sent by me to their future lives by the devotees of Krishna to become there the foundation, the driving force and the soul of the great successful large-scale Hare Krishna preaching programs. And that is very good. But I thought that I want to earn such mercy that Krishna would bring back me together with my eternal husband, Shri Ram, and he had been and still is asur for so many lives and who has broken so many good women, even in this life.

97. Mystics-asuras for raise the prestige of ISKCON

And I thought that must be sent to serving this great mission, Srila Prabhupada's mission, even more of the Asuras and the more cool and powerful. I wondered what category of Asuras would help me to deserve this special mercy and what kind of them to do. My thoughts were helped by one conversation with one of my friends, with woman who traveled a lot in India, talked there with many Indian sadhus, lived in their Indian ashrams and even was a woman of one of the local gurus.

It has not been news to me for a long time that those supposedly gurus in India are not gurus at all, as they are very far from the standard of purity that Srila Prabhupada gave us. Another friend also was sleeping with one of an Indian guru. And I have a low opinion of gurus in India, of the ashrams and our silly naive girls and boys who are seeking some truths in there outside of ISKCON and beyond what gave us Srila Prabhupada. Especially surprises me that they themselves voluntarily enters into an intimate relationship with those supposedly gurus...

I hate to think that our beautiful fair-skinned educated women on their own suddenly can fall into the bed of Indian supposedly guru, who, even though he washes every day, but causes me only squeamishness. Forgive me, the followers of such supposedly gurus who love to sleep with our women. Perhaps, in the eyes of these women considered to be something prestigious to lie under some hindu...

I'm sorry if I offended someone's sincere feelings.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Srila Prabhupada did not say to sleep with the guru. And for me, such a standard is more attractive and logical if there is a desire to escape from the sweet but poisonous embrace of samsara and go into the spiritual world. In my understanding, to escape from the material world, it is necessary to lead a pure lifestyle (I am not an example, but I can have my own point of view). And in my understanding to jump into beds to other men, even though they say that they are guru and that they are the way to Krishna, it's not even stupid, but just disrespect yourself and misunderstanding, what do you want.

You need to get away from the material world or do you want to play around here in the material world with those supposedly guru, with a kind of wizards who have the right to anything, including having sex with our girls and women, whom they do not respect at all? Oh, my God, this conversation with my friend led me to think, why kind of educated, intelligent, thinking girls and women go to those so-called guru, who do not disdain to sleep with other people's women? What kind of guru is sleeping with someone?

Of course, there is a guru among grihasth, family people, but he has his own wife and other women for him as a mother. Incest doesn't even come to their minds. But this girl lived for many years in India, for a long time lived with some kind of Indian guru as his woman, they had sex. And she claimed that only genuine Indian guru can give us Krishna, and our ISKCON's guru are not of the guru, but just the dancing white elephants, that know only how to sing, dance and eat prasad and nothing else they can not.

But I saw on my inner screen how my Gurudev Indradyumna Swami accepted my husband Shri Ram, who is the asur, as a disciple, at the subtle, fine-material level. Shri Ram is a real asur who lives here among us like all of us, walks, makes money, talks, reads, but who has some special asuric abilities and can to carry out such cases at the energy plane of existence things we can't even think of. It's fantastic. But my Gurudev has accepted that Shri Ram as his disciple, at the energy plane of existence. They've never seen each other in person. The initiation took place at the level of the heart, at the level of relations.

There were many things that I did not say, but my vision and my realizations are that Srila Prabhupada is a true guide to the spiritual world and he brought with him those who are also true guides. And to think that the Indian gurus smoking hashish and having sex with our women are real gurus, and the ISKCON guru is a fake, in my understanding is a fatal mistake that takes a person away from the real path, going on which you can leave the material world and return into the spiritual world.

My friend in our conversation said that she does not believe that there is on the planet Earth of personalities who really clean. ISKCON she does not take into account as she does not consider ISKCON's something serious. She lived in India for many years, saw that there Indian gurus have sex with anyone and she also had sex with there Indian guru. She is completely disappointed in General in the purity of human and does not believe that there is at least somewhere clean, real, unfeigned, because everyone lies. They say one thing and do quite another.

I thought that through a conversation with this friend I was shown what I need to do with the next group of Asuras. I have decided that the next Asuras I send as devotees of Krishna will raise the prestige of ISKCON in their next lives. Because this girl was very dismissive of ISKCON, and many people treat ISKCON this way, they believe that the Hare Krishna lies, that in ISKCON are hypocrites, that in ISKCON are not spiritual masters, and misfits, but I am the inspector of Universe Patrol.

And I came to Shri Ram in this life only because I saw a real way of returning into the spiritual world. Otherwise, I would not come close to Shri Ram even a mile away. Well, figuratively speaking. We with him would have been scattered on different worlds. I didn't have such an opportunity before, because I came to him only in this life. Why? Because I was up there, between lives, and I saw that there is a real opportunity to get out of the material world, and I decided to use it.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

That is why I came to Shri Ram as my eternal couple — to make him aware of it. And who gave us this way? Srila Prabhupada. What did he give us? ISKCON. And I, as a Universe level corrector and inspector of the Universe Patrol, came to ISKCON, the brainchild of Srila Prabhupada. From all this I, living here as an ordinary woman and not seeing from here, from below, the real picture, concluded that Srila Prabhupada gave us the true way and my direct business is in every way to help this way.

And I decided to raise the authority of Srila Prabhupada and his ISKCON. To do this, I decided to yank from the Asuras community not ordinary Asuras, but very unusual — with very unusual large siddhas, mystical abilities. I decided to yank from the Asuras community such mystic yogis, who, having become devotees of Krishna as a result of striking out by me and being sent by me to their future lives, will use these mystical, unusual even for Asuras abilities to fulfill my desire. And my desire is to raise the authority of ISKCON, spiritual masters of ISKCON, devotees of ISKCON in the eyes of the entire world community.

Why is the authority of ISKCON, of Srila Prabhupada? Because this my friend and people like her would never go to India in life and would not approach any local “gurus” if it were not for Srila Prabhupada, who in 70 years went to America and suffered so much hardship, to give us a chance to return to the spiritual world. Thanks to this feat of Srila Prabhupada, I was able to buy his «Bhagavad-Gita As It Is» and learned that I am not a body, but a soul, the eternal beloved of Krishna.

Maybe they would read some esoteric books, but they wouldn't want to hear about rasa-lila, sahajiya stories. They wouldn't spend money on that nonsense. They would go to enjoy their feelings and most likely low-lying ways. They would never have gone to these «gurus», and if they had gone, they would have looked at them as beggars and they wouldn't want to have sex with them. But they go to India and think that they are going on a spiritual path, only because Srila Prabhupada went from warm India to America and lifted up the torch of Krishna consciousness. These «gurus» are just sitting in this warm India and enjoying their feelings, and from the fact that they are sitting there and Krishna is loved with their love, I am neither warm nor cold.

They did nothing to save me. Their ranting about the rasa lila I was not saved. But thanks to the service of Srila Prabhupada, I was able personally to approach my eternal husband, who lives many lives as Asur. This opportunity appeared because Srila Prabhupada opened a window to the spiritual world and there was an opportunity for me to return into the spiritual world and come near to my Shri Ram. And I wanted to do something to thank Srila Prabhupada for this opportunity. There was no such opportunity at all.

After all, once between the lives some personalities have shown me that was with my Ram that he is now the Asur, what he's doing in there and they said we never can be together because I don't agree to go to the Asuras. And I was offered a second eternal couple. This was not possible to approach him, even at a distance. And here such opportunity emerged. And I came to Shri Ram, put myself under his blow, I opened him who he is and who I am and what with us actually happened. And I decided that I needed to thank Srila Prabhupada at least in some way.

And I decided that I would yank from a community of the Asuras such mystic yogis, powerful Asuras, who have very powerful, unusual, specific even for Asuras siddhi, mystical abilities, and make them pure devotees of Krishna. And they will raise the authority of Krishna consciousness and the creation of Srila Prabhupada — ISKCON throughout their next lives, not in words, but in deeds.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

They will raise the authority of the ISKCON not formally; they will simply live so that people will say: «I believe that there are pure people. There are saints. I saw them. It's them. In ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada, his followers are disciples. I saw it with my own eyes. And it's not an optical illusion that I see one thing, and then he does another in his room. No. This is actually a crystal clear person. And he really wants us good. And he really does everything for that, lives according to what Srila Prabhupada said». And that's when I expunged them, quickly and easily. Four circles of Hare Krishna mantra were read, and they flew away to where they all go.

98. Just one blessing — being a trap magnet

They say appetite comes with eating. It's true. After I sent a large group of powerful mystic yogis from the Asuras to their future incarnations as Krishna devotees, who would raise the authority of ISKCON, Krishna consciousness, with their lives, I was eager to send another group of Asuras. And this time I have chosen those Asuras who have some special powerful blessings that they abuse, that they hide behind to do all kinds of abominations.

These Asuras think that because they have such powerful blessings, no one will do anything to them. But they did not envisage that they would be visited by an inspector of the Universe Patrol with an inspection who has the authority to destroy them all if they break the laws of the Universal and cross the boundaries of what is permitted. To me was given them all when we pumped everything out of their patriarch Bhishma. We pumped everything out: all the information about all the Asuras, and we have files on all of them, and it is my responsibility to decide whom one to take and where to send.

And this time I decided to take Asuras with powerful blessings to put an end to their Asuric existence and their Asuric body, which they were so proud of, and to make them great devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON. They many, many lives will lead to ISKCON all sorts of wobbly, doubting, wavering elements, such a rabble who seems like good people, but can not focus on one thing, who roam, do not know where to join, who neither here nor there, who are dissatisfied with everything, everything is scolded, jump like fleas here and there and from one spiritual organization to another, including ISKCON.

I decided that I'll take from these Asuras all their blessings because those blessings would no longer be needed them, and they would have one blessing, which I will give them. They miraculously, absolutely mysteriously will lead into ISKCON all these doubters, wobbly, indecisive, wandering elements as a result those will become devotees of Krishna, once and for all, completely and irrevocably.

They are not letting anyone out of these restless, who does not know what they want, and run hither and thither on all sorts of spiritual movements and organizations. No deer will run away from this lion, which they will become. They'll lead everyone to ISKCON. And not just for one or two hours, but completely and irrevocably, so that they enter ISKCON and never come out again and already go to Krishna into the spiritual world. They will have such power, because they will have such a blessing.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

When I was expunging them, the first thing I did was draw all their blessings out of them. When I sang the Narasimha Maha Mantra, I saw in each of them Nrisimhadeva. Before I saw Nrisimhadev in the teacher of Shri Ram. Nrisimhadev, like a small Deity sitting on His throne, was flying at an incredibly high speed inside that teacher. Now were many Asuras with the powerful blessings, they stood below me, small, and I suddenly saw in each of them a little Nrisimhadev, and He was flying inside them rotating for a very long time. I was surprised! Why all of a sudden in each of them was Nrisimhadev?

And then I saw that they all separated from their bodies and friendly company hang like duckweed on the water, there are a lot of duckweed, on the surface of the water. And these former Asuras came out of their bodies and hung amicably on the water. I turned on the Hare Krishna kirtan, performed by my Gurudeva, and they swam into their next incarnations all together, take turns, neatly, slowly, smoothly, gently. They were not sucked in there as by a powerful vacuum cleaner, and they moved there gently, on their own.

And one of them looked back at me and with such gratitude looked, and from him as if the thought was heard: «I want to meet you then, I want to communicate with you somehow, to see you personally, once in future lives». I looked at him and I think: there is some kind of threat? No, there was some curiosity about who I was, and he wanted to talk to me in person. In this life he did not have this opportunity, and he, when he flew there, as if he said: «I want to talk to you personally. You're so extraordinary. Lucky me. I want to realize this luck — to communicate there with you personally». I tell him, «Well, as you want».

When they all flew away, I thought it is necessary to burn all the remaining bodily shells, and suddenly I saw: among these bodily shells hid one small asur. They were all large, all with some powerful blessings, but this one has wormed his way among them absolutely is not from this category. He jumped out of there, like the hell out of a snuff box, looking at me, and I think: it should not be here, he does not fall under this category, but he was so small, so pretty and as if he wants to say, «I want there, I decided myself, and I came here specially».

I was very surprised: asur voluntarily wanted to go through this execution to get rid of his asuric existence and go into the next lives to serve Krishna and return into the spiritual world. It was the most amazing thing that happened in this deletion. I look at him, and he's so small, so nimble, and at the same time among them he somehow was able to hide. But since he wasn't in that category, he was not affected by these actions, but he jumped out at me and kind of said, «I'm with them too. Please send me, too, to there, with them». I looked at him, think, okay, as you want, and I sent him there.

99. The meeting of the soul mates

As I recorded the next videos, I was posting them on one forum, and someone from users wrote that it is uninteresting to him to look videos, but to learn about what there is a speech, all the same there is a wish, and he asked me to state briefly the storyline of my novel “My Roman. I'm asur's wife”. Then, and it was already the beginning of November 2017, I was recording my novel only as a video, I was not going to transcribe it into the text. But since I was asked to, I decided to grant the request and I began to transcribe the video into text form.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I started from the beginning, as Shri Ram and I were together as a couple very many lives, and then he was recruited by the Asuras, because someone of the Asuras got interested in me and decided to make me his. But Shri Ram stood in his way, and that Asur have done everything to take Shri Ram as such a thorn out of his way. He sent him a good feminine woman, the asury, with an Asuric nature, a specialist in to win husband away from wife, and she well enveloped him with her pleasantness, tenderness, femininity, complaisance and other qualities to which men are so greedy. That Asur was manipulating my mind so that I could broadcast to Shri Ram, that I was interested in other men and that they were much better than him. This was unacceptable to him, and that Asur achieved his goal: Shri Ram could not look at me, because I was broadcasting to him aloud, although I did not think that he was not the best and in General some not so.

Also that woman was praising him and acted on the debugged technology to win husband away from wife, and he turned to her. There remained the case for small things — that he give his consent to the adoption of an asuric nature, so that there is no turning back. And they succeeded. I became alone. That Asur did many bad things to me surrender to him, but someone helped me, and I broke out of that life. Between lives, I looked for him everywhere, but he was nowhere. I was really bad, because we are an eternal couple with him and have always been together, but then even the response from him was not. And there came to me between lives some personalities who showed me what my eternal husband Ram has become. They told me he and I couldn't be together anymore, and they offered me a replacement — another eternal couple of my choice. Our connection with my eternal husband Ram they could stop completely.

But I refused this and went to dance the dances of worship to the Deities at the higher planets. There I loved with all my heart the Deity of Nrisimhadev and became His wife. Nrisimhadev as my husband became to fulfill my desires, and I went to destroy the strongest Asuras, being born to them in their Asuric worlds as Mata Hari, and after, already in this life I came to my eternal husband Shri Ram. And that all I recorded as text on the question of the user on the forum, where I posted videos of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife".

And he wrote back, saying, maybe I am not an asur, but a divine nature, but I was deceived and I became an asur. And he said, «Maybe I have somewhere there is my second half, my eternal couple, my beloved, who is waiting for me». He wrote that and then after a while added: «No, this is complete nonsense. That can't be true. I know who I am, what I am, I know everything about myself, and I live here». These words made me so sad...

And I'm in such thoughts about the eternal halves, working at home at my computer and listening the song of Yaroslav Klimanov «Thank You!» suddenly saw on my inner screen a lot of Asuras beneath me, and out some of them went up some threads, and there is high above them flashed the rays of their second halves. And these rays from space reached out to these threads from the earth and joined, merged together. And before my inner gaze was presented with an amazing picture: many Asuras were connected with their eternal second halves (in fact, there were not so many of them, but among the whole mass of Asuras still enough) by these shining rays.

I was listening to this song by Yaroslav Klimanov «Thank You!» and really saw that I turned on the communication channel with second halves at those Asuras who have these second halves. In fact, not everyone has the second halves, but only those who are in the spiritual world in a pair. But in the spiritual world not everything are in a pair. There are boys cowherd and girl-friends, and blades of grass, and streams, that is, those who initially do not have a pair. But there are also pairs in the spiritual world, and these pairs are eternal. They are also eternal couples in the material world.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Apparently, the words of this song by Yaroslav Klimanov «Thank You!» caused me this mood, and somehow unexpectedly the connection turned on at the eternal pairs of those from the Asuras who have it at all.

At summer and winter, in the cold or in heat,
This world is light or very gloomy,
All my dreams you embody.
I for everything, for everything thank you.
My cordial friend, I waiting when the circle is closed
And in eyes you I again look.
All my dreams you embody.
I for everything, for everything thank you.
As me to live, loving, if there are no you?
I burn in the fire of passion in vain.
All my dreams you embody.
I for everything, for everything thank you.
I am with you every day and hour,
All the contradictions in life I will reconcile.
All my dreams you embody.
I for everything, for everything thank you.

I turned on such communication channel at such eternal couples. And many of the Asuras were received, quite unexpectedly, the feeling and even communicating with their eternal pair, with their eternal real sweetheart, a real woman. For them, it was a big shock. They really felt their own, native and received a response from there that she was waiting for him, that he is very needed, only he needed and no one else, that without him there is bad, and suddenly they, being the Asuras, felt their duty is to protect their woman from everything outside, to surround her themselves, that nothing threatened her, so she was protected, and they felt such an irresistible attraction, since it is an eternal connection.

Even if it was interrupted, but when this connection turns on again, it feels as if we were always together and everything continues. As if there was never such that you did not know each other. Immediately there is a communication at the level, as if you were still together a minute ago and this minute is actually not a minute, but a moment, just you turned away for a second, and then continue the conversation.

And these Asuras get involved in this unity, felt the tenderness coming from there, felt their own, native and themselves for the first time in many, many lives suddenly sighed freely, feeling at home. I listened to the song of Yaroslav Klimanov «Thank You!» and I tried to keep this channel open, so that this open current went between them through the rays from their second halves. A couple of times I could not stand and turned off for a couple of moments this connection, as I had to keep it all at once at the same time. When this song ended, and this session of the invisible meeting of the second halves also ended.

I thought: here they felt this unity, this love and this tenderness, felt this current between them, and learned that they have a second half, their own, primordial, and she is somewhere there, one, own, and at her can also press and just men, and Asuras, forcing her to obey them. And the Asuras know what women do when asuras apply their asuric techniques to them. How does she live when lustful males walk around her, looking at her as a female to satisfy their feelings and the low-lying desires? And here these Asuras in this meeting of the second halves saw: I have an eternal couple. Yes, he is, of course, an asur, but he felt his woman, his, dear, native and knows against what need to protect her.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I looked at the whole thing and thought that perhaps these Asuras think that once an eternal couple, then must fit completely to him, then must fulfill all his desires and be the way he wants her will bring pleasure to his senses. And I thought, what disappointment waiting for them all, as the eternal couple is not a mechanism for receiving of sensual pleasure and satisfaction of desires. Shri Ram loves sophisticated woman, exquisite, pleasant, pleasing all the senses. With elegant speech, beautiful graceful female forms, to all she has was pleasant. I am his eternal couple, but I'm not like the women he likes.

And what a disappointment and a discrepancy with his wishes and expectations he got, knowing and seeing that his pair, and even more than that, the eternal pair, is me. I'm not what he wanted me to be. The woman who was with him in the summer of 2016, more suited him, and he came in contact with her, immediately left me and ran to her, glad he finally got lucky. But time passed and it turned out that no one was waiting for that Arjuna. He himself as Shri Ram was not needed by her. She needed her pleasure and her happiness. And if he would provide her with this happiness, then for her he would be good, but if happiness from him would cease to go to her, then she would cease to wait for him.

But I'm not what he likes and with whom he is pleased, easy and joyful. He likes other women, not like me. And I'm not like them. But I am his second half, eternal wife. I am his Shakti. I did not leave him even when he became Asur and when me offered to leave him and offered another eternal couple. I'm not just his soul mate. There can be many kindred souls. And I'm the only one for him because he and I are an eternal couple. I'm his eternal wife, but I'm not what he wanted, I'm far from his cherishes image of the ideal woman, the woman he desired. And I am the Slayer of the asuras. I thought all this, lamenting that those Asuras, probably, also think that the second half is designed to delight their senses.

100. The big sale

This meeting of asuras with their second halves, who have this second half in General, I arranged for November 8, 2017, after that I held two large actions to strike out the mystic yogis from the Asuras and also those Asuras who had some powerful blessings.

And during the striking out group of asuras with blessings, among them suddenly turned up one asur I was not going to expunge. He asked very much, and I granted his request. And then I thought: what if there are those among the asuras who agree to go through this mad fire and all that execution, to get rid of their Asuric existence and go whom I will appoint them there, to contribute to the development of Krishna consciousness and to find the mercy of Srila Prabhupada to return into the spiritual world? And I announced the action-sale.

It was November 14, a week after that meeting of the second halves. I said that if there is one of the Asuras who wants to go through this execution voluntarily, to end his existence as Asura and go to his future lives as devotee Krishna, to serve Krishna well and then return into the spiritual world by the mercy of Srila Prabhupada, then I will do it. Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) came to me at will. And I thought that if among the Asuras there are those who want it themselves, then it is necessary to give them such an opportunity. Also I said that those who have their second half and who want to reunite with her, I guaranteed it, if they themselves express such a desire. And I said that I was holding a campaign, a great sale, when everyone from the Asuras can get all this at will. I immediately warned them all that it would very hurt, but the result will please them very much.

When I told the Asuras about my action-sale, that those of them who wants to end the Asuric existence forever and return to Krishna into spiritual world through service Krishna in ISKCON, in Srila Prabhupada's mission, on my inner screen very large Asur appeared. He stood in front of me all the time, not going anywhere, so serious. I didn't know what he wanted. He was a very big Asur, and then it dawned on me: he was at that meeting with second halves and firmly decided to endure all the horrors and all the pain of the execution, which I will arrange for them, just to be reunited with his second half. This realization gave me such great respect for him...

I repeated my call several times in different series of my novel giving the Asuras time to think. And this big asur has stood and stood before me all these days. I warned those who would go to reunite with their other half, that they would be together, the couple would, in my decision, serve Krishna and return together to the spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga began to spin its flywheel with full force. I said that just reuniting of couple is not a guarantee that they will always be together, because we with Shri Ram are eternal couple, but the Asuras have torn our couple apart and scattered across different worlds.

And I said that those who have had contact with their second half and have decided to go through this execution and go to their couple, peacefully, amicably and joyfully will become devotees of Krishna and will serve Krishna together and will return together into the spiritual world, because here the material world, all kinds of situations happen here, and to risk, continuing to be here is the greatest folly.

And so I have decided everyone who wants to participate in this action-sale to will return to Krishna into the spiritual world. And Krishna has blessed them, in the screenshot with the words of Krishna «I bless you!». So the Asuras received confirmation that everyone who goes to this action-sale will return to Krishna necessarily. I told asuras to hurry up, because I will not wait too long and this action-sale will be in the singular. I offered to the Deities Radha Krishna wicks on ghee, melted butter, for the success of this enterprise.

At that time, Shri Ram had another woman, and I at one point, when I wanted to be with him, but I could not afford it because of the presence of that woman, went into such a rage and so much angry at him that at this mood very cruelly dealt with them. I was letting all the fire and shock wave through that big asur, who had been waiting for this for many days in order to reunite with his second half. But even though I hurt them very much, everything went very quickly.

101. The second take. Lona

How I found out that Shri Ram had another woman? From my words to my son. It was November 8, 2017. My son was asked to read something, the teacher asked me to check it. She specifically called to tell me that my son in the evening should read aloud. And in the evening I told my son read a book aloud, and he lay down on the sofa with an impudent look and ignored my words. I tried to force him to read, but it was like talking to the wall, and he lay before me with a brazen look. It just pissed me off and I began to shout at him in complete impotence, asking what did I do to him bad that he sit with such brazen muzzle.

Almost immediately I realized that I was the one screaming about my Shri Ram. I thought not just like that I shout at my son with these words. I thought that this Shri Ram could not resist the temptation and became with some brazen muzzle, with some other woman and dived in her. I was so sad... November 9 I, as always, was going to sing protective mantras to protect him, turned on the Narasimha Maha Mantra, but I didn't want to send him protection. But I thought that Krishna told me to be with Shri Ram, no matter what, and I would protect him, even if he went somewhere to some brazen muzzle, another woman. I thought that if Krishna decided to take me away from Shri Ram, He will do everything himself, and not for me to decide.

And I was sending during Narasimha Kavacham my view on Shri Ram. But it went reverse wave, say, you and your protection I don't need, take it back and not have to think more in my direction. And some big transparent pillow was appeared, like an airbag covering him from me. I felt really bad about it. I felt like some an annoying, molesting hag. I stared at that transparent but completely covering pillow and I felt that I was humiliated in front of him. And then I thought, I don't care what he thinks, because for me the main authority is Krishna, and Krishna didn't tell me to leave him. And then I by volitional effort passed through the pillow and sent my ray to Shri Ram.

This situation was very painful for me. It was like I was imposing myself him. I felt like a chick clinging to the man. But to refuse the protecting Shri Ram I could not, as there were no signs for this. I'm used to relying on and trusting the signs of the Universe. Yes, it may be stupidity and complete irrationality, but this is my lifestyle. Called the efficiency of spontaneity. I was in such an uncomfortable, twofold situation for myself that I have to give him my protection, but he does not want to, because he has some kind of brazen muzzle there, that is another woman, because of which he does not even want to accept my protection. I am like Velcro, and he's squeamish moves away from me as from the toad in vile slime...

I felt very bad, and I didn't see any way out of this situation. I began to remember different situations from my life and thought that I didn't want anything like that anymore. In my imagination, I drew that brazen muzzle is beautiful, probably very feminine. Probably she is causing a man's desire to protect her, such a great value, and to shield from everything. Probably she is cultural, attractive... I did not understand how he could exchange me for some brazen face, although he saw in my life files us with him as a couple in our past lives. He saw how him recruited by the Asuras. He knew from session with pillow that I was offered another eternal couple, but I refused and did not leave him, although he became Asur.

And after I saved him from financial ruin, when he was with a beautiful, sophisticated, feminine woman in the summer of 2016, who believed that every woman is born to be happy and she is worth it. That woman didn't save him from collapse. I saved him. And then my Gurudev as my spiritual father offered Shri Ram me as his wife. And he accepted the offer. With all gravity. And after Shri Ram went to a deadly battle, when they put me on their Asuric totalizator. Then he went to certain death, not to give to them me.

How is it that he is after all this so easily and quickly left me because of a brazen muzzle? And his promise to me on February 14, 2017, on Valentine's Day? This is when I read a book by Boris Akunin «The Falcon and the Swallow» and by the words of that book Shri Ram said to me, "I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman. On the contrary, I am so grateful to you for your coming from nowhere to brighten up my loneliness. Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust. We are alone in this gloomy world, so let's stick together."

After that, I wrote to Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, that his life was ending, and then I began to record my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" and I began my Mahabharata. How, after giving me his the word as a gentleman, did he break it? And he gave his consent to my Gurudev by accepting me as his wife. Doesn't that mean anything? But I had to cancel all the promises that he had made to the Asuras, because he was a man of his word and he had to keep his word. Shri Ram was known among the Asuras as a man of the word. And I told asuras that either they would cancel all the promises that Shri Ram had made to them, or I would cancel those asuras to whom he made his promises. No man, no problem. And they had to cancel all the promises that Shri Ram had made to them. And here he gave me his word as a gentleman.

How could he forget that so easily? From-for some brazen muzzle which was not. Which suddenly emerged from nowhere. I was very sad from the realization that he doesn't value me that some brazen muzzles were so good that he immediately left me. And my protection to him is no needed. But what about the fact that when his life was flying into the lurch and he almost became a beggar without a house and money, he was told that I am his only option in this life that other options are not provided for him? Because then Shiva told through the story of Chandradev that the curse because of the affront is not removed, that he should give status of the wife to the woman he took his wife.

It turns out that Shri Ram has forgotten about all this and he agrees to the collapse of his life, only to be with this brazen muzzle? It is clear that hormones hit the brain. And it is clear that you can't make your heart follow orders. But then why get married, if after any brazen muzzle all is forgotten? Alas, these depressing thoughts did not have improved my mood. And I was attacked by persistent depression.

And just at that time I was sending into their future lives different groups of the Asuras: charismatic personalities, then yoga-mystics, then with some special blessings, and then I opened the action-sale for everyone. In all that time I have yanked from asuric community many most powerful of the Asuras. And that, of course, they didn't like it very much. And at that time, Shri Ram had another woman, brazen muzzle. She very spoiled my overall emotional background, but I continued to do my job anyway. And even against that background, I was sending them even harder into that funnel-shaped vortex above. But my dignity as a woman and my feelings were severely infringed. And given the fact that I had no signs that I should get out of this situation, it became even more painful, because I had to be where I was not wanted. I felt like a forced masochist, because I could not be there, but I could not and leave, because I did not have permission for this.

On 8 November, I find out from my own words to my son that Shri Ram had a brazen muzzle, or another woman. November 10 was the next karate class at children. My son had a leg ache, but he still went to class. I also went with him to ask the coach not to load my son. I was waiting to be able to come up and say, but the coach did not stop for a minute, and then I went to him right during the study of technique. In fact, I wanted to get some tips from Shri Ram that I should think about the whole situation. Usually through this coach was always going communication with Shri Ram. I came specifically.

I interrupted his lesson and said that my son's leg hurts and asked coach not to overload my son, and he said that if it hurts, then we must double more work, they say, they have such a principle. If sore leg then work twice more. And I said that we have a different principle and left with nothing. Thinking about his double job, like I'm not the only one there, there are two of us. I began to guess on some oracles, there said to get out of an abusive situation. I went to pick up the kids after class. I look, and the coach put my daughter behind all, she even burst into tears. She always stood in the front row, but he defiantly told her to stand behind everyone.

I saw this as a hint of a clearly abusive situation. I was besieged, pointed to my true place, they say, I thought too much about myself. Like, you are not the only and not even the first. You are standing behind. Like this polygamous family turned out. I thought, but what about everything that happened before? I couldn't believe it, I thought it couldn't be true. I wanted, as always, to bury myself in my favorite pillow and cry into it, feeling him there, but I could not do it. If he has someone there, I thought, then I don't want to be in it. I can't even cry into the pillow. I thought that Shri Ram just putted me in front of the fact that if I'm with him, I have to fulfill his whims, so that he does not hurt there. And you get held hostage by his asuric temperament and wishes. But this does not suit me.

102. From the rightful throne to second string

November 11 in the morning in the news feed in VKontakte I drew attention to the post of one of my friends. There was a red rose and the words «Goodbye and be happy». I remembered different situations from my life and thought that even if we have a long-distance interaction with Shri Ram, without his personal presence in my life, it still hurts. Such an attitude is like to the waste material: «Goodbye and be happy. If you can. I don't care anymore. Handle it yourself. We are now with each other nobody». I thought: thank you, should I be happy? But how? For what, who needs this? It is necessary to get used to the new realities of life. I do not understand how it happened and so suddenly, everything was good... Love, love...

Just before that, he told me a lot of good things, too, through different messages everywhere, and suddenly with him some brazen muzzle, who for him is the most expensive. But one plus in this I still found: it was not necessary to force myself to commit acts of family well-being, which, to be honest, I was pretty tired. I mean sex. You ask, what can be sex with man, which far from you and which you even not know in real life. But for Asuras there is no difference, sex with the contact of bodies, with personal presence or through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. Asuras have the ability somehow to plug unto us and to enter into different objects. And in our case, sex was through my masturbation, in which he, being the Asur, somehow was present, I felt him and he felt me, although I was alone at this time. I haven't wanted to do this long ago. Masturbation is not such an interesting activity. But I was doing it to be with him. But still a very doubtful activity. It seems that there is sex, but it looks like a banal masturbation. Although the feeling of the real presence of a real man is real. But I didn't want to do it. And suddenly me all of this it looked? What if

I made it all up? I haven't wanted to participate in this kind of sex for a long time, but Shri Ram was asking me to do it. And I thought it was good that appeared the brazen muzzle, now there is someone to satisfy his irrepressible sexual appetite. I with great relief put away the cream for acts of family well-being, took off all my rings that symbolize Shri Ram, changed avatars in different places of the Internet, signatures, and did everything to make me less reminders about it. I even stopped taking bath, because I was afraid to touch my body, knowing that he could be in my hands. And I went to sleep without hugging my favorite pillow. I couldn't even cry into my pillow. So sad was...

I thought that it was Shri Ram told me to get off my seat and to bring down on the bench, they say, I'm preventing them from having sex there, to him and that brazen muzzle, I break all the buzz to them. They say that I now became not a wife, but a third wheel, one that is wedged in someone else's relationship. On November 12, I felt female energy next to him. And I saw there that they had a good coupling, everything he needed. Just right. I saw her at the subtle, fine-material level, she was standing next to him, a feminine woman you want to protect and save from everything... Not like me. Finally, he will enjoy a real female, I thought. Not by that what I have. And they stand together, and there's nothing I can do. Just looking at them.

I thought: how should I be now? How do I get out of there? How am I supposed to live? How to live? I remembered those sessions with pillow in which such all-warming love was felt and words about love were poured. And also about how I was offered another man, at my choice, as my eternal couple, and I refused. I thought: I refused then, because I could not imagine someone else in his place, but how he could put in my place another? How dare the karate coach put my daughter behind everyone, thereby passing on to me the words of Shri Ram that I am not the only one and not the first? And then he threw me off my throne-horse, they say, I interfere them enjoy.

All this time I've been living with the feeling that he's my husband, but here he is with another woman. And she's so calm standing next to him. And he is with her. I'm not what he wanted me to be. He's there with her feels like a man. With me he did not feel himself a he-man. I do not suit him. I'm obviously not the woman he dreamed of. Probably, her house is clean and tidy, and she takes care of herself, dresses civilly, I thought. And my house is always dirty. And her speech is elegant and highly cultured, me until her as until Paris. And she is feminine, real woman. I am something between a woman and a man, something of the middle sex. And to be honest, there's more male quality in me than female. Maybe I'm not at all not really a woman, I thought. He is lucky. I should be happy, but I can't.

I thought I should have left him long ago. I didn't leave, thought he is my husband. It doesn't seem to mean anything to him. You see, for him life goes on. Apparently, I am some not so, I am defective second half. All people are normal, standard, and I am defective. Well, what can I do, from these lamentations life will not change, and I threw the call to the Universe, to all my Guardian angels, so they all helped me.

I'm as a wish-granting Genie, familiar with many of the universal Jinn, who all love me there, asked one of my friend the Genie to somehow help me. I also called Vovan, a character in Simoron, so he protected me. I told him that I, as always, will dance for him on the table with a flower in my teeth. And I asked the Universe to give me a very understandable sign, what should I think about all this humiliating and offensive situation, when I was thrown off my throne brazenly, although I always sat there and considered this place as my rightful place, and when I was sent to the bench.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And that same day, the Universe gave me a sign on this situation. In the news feed in VKontakte. The post of Sergey Vladimirovich Serebryakov, in which was written the following: «If you do something good, do not think that it will return to you exactly from that place. It can come from a completely different side. And can come in ten years. Or maybe in the next life. Time in space is different, we live very fast, and our life is very short. Any good deed will still remain with you, it is your wealth. Even if this person didn't appreciate what was done for him, it's not your problem, it's his problem. He's building up a reaction; he's not reacting to anything. You understand? And you earn a good fate. Just a person will come who will appreciate it all, or a situation will be created where it all will return to you. There is no doubt about it, so do not doubt that no one will appreciate the good, it is a mistake».

I took this post as an answer to my question, because I can not get out of this situation, we are an eternal couple, and I came to him in this life to give him a chance. I, how Moon around the Earth, fly, protect him from any attack, just because I approached him and can not break out of his field. I give him preemptive signs, guidance for himself, for his enrichment and for his asuric organization, which he leads, who there to bend, to whom what method to apply. The answer of the Universe was that you don't have to be greedy, that it's enough that I'm doing a good deed to help him. That if he doesn't understand a good attitude, for God's sake, it's his right.

Let him live as he wants. Our duty is to keep doing our duty. I remembered the 420th series from TV series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», where Shiva gave Ravana the sword Chandrahas and said that if Ravana will abuse that sword, it would return to Shiva. I thought that for some reason Krishna does not remove me out of the field of attraction of Shri Ram, means, I am needed for something, and if Shri Ram does not appreciate the good that I do to him, then it is not my problems, but his. I thought that I should destroy as many as possible Asuras, so that it was not in vain.

My inner gaze all the time was aimed somewhere inside, where was my Shri Ram with the brazen muzzle. She stood next to him so calmly, like she was his wife and I am a nobody... This picture was very depressing me, but I could not do anything. I could not get out of this shameful situation and I couldn't look away from there. Depression did not pass. She appeared so suddenly... nothing foretold that Shri Ram might even have someone there, but I am looking there, and there is another woman next to him, and he protects her, harbors, from me. Probably so I wouldn't do anything nasty to her. You see, I like to do nasty things to women like her. And now I'm told I'm the one who's disturbing others. «Get off your vaulting horse; you're preventing the children from studying».

I remembered how the master repaired my washing machine and told me about him that he had experienced three heart operations. It was told to me about Shri Ram. He experienced in this life three «heart surgery», three painful divorces for him. He was worried about the guarantees, they say, what guarantees I can give him that there will not be another «heart surgery», but now because of me. And what did he do? At the very beginning of our interaction with him at a distance he was pressing me, trying to put me under his associates from his asuric organization. He influenced my women's centers activating at my body estrus mode, like at dogs, in order to turn me into a female individual who could not withstand his pressure. Then I told him that I no longer want to be in the material world.

I was so sad at the thought that my man, whom I felt mine, forcibly tried to lay down me under other men, Yes, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence, but the essence of something does not change. And then

I told him he is my Tiramisu, raise me to heaven. That I had no desire to go into the spiritual world, but now this desire is there. And then he wept and asked to show him mercy. He was lying. He all lied. He doesn't care at all. He's just like everybody else. And now he's protecting someone else's woman from me, from his own woman. And he throws me away to other men. That kind of love... But the fact that there is no need to provide him my regular orgasms, pleased. She probably satisfies him as he want. Not like me. That's why he's so anxious to keep her from me.

I remembered that dream in the spring of 2014, when he found me in the sleep territory and gently hugged me and asked questions. And now he embraces her so carefully and gently. I guess that's then he thought I am like her. But it turns out I'm not. I'm not what he expected me to be. And I can be hit like this without mercy? Then why did you come to me in the sleep territory? When I led the children on karate, I opened the door for myself, but I had to let the girl pass ahead. As is symbolic...

After class, the kids told me to go to the store together. I said no, but they said, «We are two, and you are one, so let's go to the store». And the acquaintance standing there confirmed: «Two against one». All this did not give me confidence and did not give me a good mood. Absolutely understandable signs. Shri Ram has another woman. And I'm in such a humiliating position. There's nothing I can do. And I see that he still plugged unto me, that through me is borne the flow of preemptive signs to him, and I'm on the bench. I can't get out of there. Yes, the Universe has given me a sign that I must continue to do my duty. But I couldn't understand who the woman was, how could he have someone? Because I saw so much, had a lot of sessions with pillow with flowing all-encompassing love. And the words «a loved, my loved». But somehow he is not mine anymore.

I thought: is it possible that the man who's mine could have someone else? And that I was on the backside, and she was with him, under his protection. I wanted to look at this situation through the eyes of Metaphorical associative cards, and I pulled a single card to this situation. On the map was drawn a couple in the boat. A man and a woman holding hands and rowing each with their paddle. They are swimming along the river past an empty city with a destroyed bridge over the river above them. And their boat rushes to the waterfall that came into view in my imagination right on the river.

This picture showed me that there is no third. After all, I thought about me and him when I was pulling out a map. And in this picture it was shown that we are a couple. But we are swimming into the whirlpool of the waterfall and there is nothing we can do about it. From this I concluded that the woman is not his, that she herself somehow appeared, but he has nothing to do with her. We're together. We are floating on the river of life, in the material world. And this river is so insidious that it seems that it is calm, but in fact, at any moment you can be in a whirlwind that will carry you far away and can scatter any pair in different directions.

103. New, hot radiators

In those days, my son came from school one day and said that his teacher told him that he will attend either the post-school or karate class. Previously, she did not put such ultimatums, and then suddenly such a choice. And the son said that he did not know what to do, and I told him that I am his mother, that I decide what classes he will attend, because all classes are paid and I pay for everything. I thought it was that woman told Shri Ram that either she or I and apparently he must have made a choice in her favor.

At that time there was one conversation with a neighbor. It was November 14, got cold. She said that to her apartment were coming mechanics of the housing Department. They said her that it is necessary to change the old radiators that do not heat, on new. They said her that for this she will have to pay the entire pension, all the money. She was asking me how to live after that, completely without money? And I told her I was in the same position. I have a father now. And even though he lives far away from me, if necessary, he comes and helps me. But when he is gone, how will I live alone? For all to pay it myself and ask other people to help.

I thought it was about him and me. I'm the old radiator that does not warm him. And he took a new radiator that warms. But he has to pay all the money for her, that is, give me away. And how will he live without me now? And I told him that, they say, at present I have you, you are my man, Yes, you are far away, we are now interacting with you like this, at a distance, but when you will not be with me and I will be alone, then how will I live, alone? That is, he, knowing that I am his woman, refuses me and is with a strange woman to him, and gives me to strangers, strange men.

When he was recruited by the Asuras, he didn't know anything, but now he knows everything. He saw everything in my life files and in the sessions with pillow, he knows that we are a real eternal couple. And now he consciously throws me out on the street, so I went to ask for someone else's men, and he will be with someone else's women. And everything suits him? And he looks at it calmly? He does not care? He does not care that he drives me, his woman, to other men to bow, humiliate, ask, and be superfluous?

I thought Prabhu Sasha, a senior devotee of Krishna from the Soviet times, from Tallinn, was right when he told me that I had come to Shri Ram in vain. But at the same time and for good reason. I told him the truth about us with him and now he needs to make an informed choice. I came to give him a chance. I a lot of lives was at the service in our command of forces of light and was destroying the universal criminals. I have seen many things and I have not wanted to be here in the material world already long time ago, but there was no real opportunity to escape from here, but then Srila Prabhupada came, and I saw from there, from those high spheres a real chance to leave the material world and return to the spiritual world.

But before embarking on this path, before leaving here and leaving my eternal couple without myself, without my presence in the material world, I decided to come to him. I decided to appear to him, to open to him everything about us with him, about me and give him a choice: either he will be with me, and he will cease to be Asur and we will go with him to Krishna and we together will return to the spiritual world, either he will not come to me and he will remain an asur, because the Asuras can do a lot and so he will always remember me, he will know, that he had a real eternal couple, but I will not with him, because Krishna will tear this eternal bond with him and I will forget him completely, as if he never existed. And now he knows all this and let him decide what is more dear to him and what his way is. Now he will choose: I and a return with me to the spiritual world, or the incessant series of women who are not waiting for him and will never wait, because no one is waiting for that Arjuna, because only his eternal couple, that is me, can wait for him.

This situation did not let go, the tension was kept, and I decided to look again at the Metaphorical associative cards. I clicked on one map about this situation. There was a picture on which a woman looks at the big heart from the front above, in which a man and a woman sit hugging, tightly clinging to each other, and the woman clasped the man with her feet, and they look each other in the eye.

I thought: it is me who constantly looks at them on my internal screen, at my Shri Ram with that woman, and he's out there protecting her from me, just trembles over her. And I've had signs come out a few times that he's been asking me not to touch her, so that I don't hurt her and her hot radiators with which he feels so nice and good. I thought, she is a very good woman, if he trembles over her. Probably in sex, too. Trembles. Over her. With me he did not trembled, but with her trembles.

His dreams came true. And he asks me not to touch her or even look at her, so she is dear to him. How did it happen that she appeared so unexpectedly? Again I do not take a bath. I don't remember the last time I bathed. I'm dirty, unwashed. Apparently, until now he was pushing me have a bath, pressing on my consciousness to touch me through my hands, but now he doesn't need it. Probably now he is pressing on her consciousness, pushing her to take a bath to touch her body through her hands. Although, she may be neat, she herself takes a bath with pleasure; it does not need impact from the outside. Yes, I thought, probably, then he left me as a woman when I stopped bathing.... When was that? I can't remember this. Just like a fog.... Well, it is clear that he needs me as a driver, charioteer, giving him preemptive signs. I am useful, in sight. Of course I am useful.

I looked at the screenshots from the TV series «Mahabharata», which I saved specifically for the signs of the Universe, for him including, something about 2,000 pieces which randomly changed each other on my computer desktop, and sat down to remove those signs that can relate to his activities, leaving only my signs. But among my signs were clues for him.... I continued to hear that through me there is a continuous stream of preemptive signs for him. It was depressing. Then Fedka, who is a rag, God's gift, whom Shri Ram once plugged unto me and which was ensuring the stability of our interaction with Shri Ram and thanks to which those sessions with pillow became possible, was manifested on my inner screen. He let me know that he doesn't just work because he has to, but he loves me. But that didn't calm me down....

I kept looking and looking at them there on my inner screen. With her he is a real man, he-man, shivers over her, surrounded her with his wings on all sides. I'm completely different, I'm not like that. I am not a woman. I am a warrior in a skirt. And she is a woman, a real woman. Not like me. She is feminine. She is definitely not a warrior. I decided to finish recording my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" so that nothing else would remind me of him. I decided to remove all the music that I started listening to when he came to me. God, I thought, how am I going to be without my favorite music?

«Enya — Only Time» — and I think of him as he told me that I can tune in to him... «Patrick Bernhardt — Shiva Shakti. Svadhisthana» — and I think of him that we are an eternal couple. He's my Shiva and I'm his Shakti. «Uma Mohan — Mahalakshmi Suktam» — and I think of him, about blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity to him as to my husband. «Khaled — Aisha» — and I think of him as I look through the eyes of Aisha loving her sultan, and think, «I love this man».

«Manish Vyas — Tumi Bhaja Re Mana» — and I think of him as I have long since, without even knowing he exists, cried while listening to this mantra. «Haddaway — I Miss You» — and I think of him, remembering that longing for someone I felt through space somewhere far away many years ago... «Sri Sri Radha-Kripa-Kataksha Stava Raja» performed by Sri Prahlada — and I think of him, as we with him conceived our children who were born to some other people I don't know... And now it all will have to be removed. It's like tearing a heart out of chest.

And my favorite rings... The ring Tiramisu, ring of three stripes, the bottom stripe is Shri Ram, the middle stripe is I, the top stripe, the special, is Krishna. Tiramisu: «tira mi sù» means «pull me up». Take me to heaven. This ring came to me on the anniversary of Shri Ram coming to me. The ring Lakshmi, the heart in the heart, the blessing of Lakshmi, the day after receiving which on Govardhana Puja he had a battle at the subtle level where he was to be killed, but he even won... The ring Shri Ram... The ring on the index finger of my right hand... Rectangular, very elegant and beautiful ring. It is a symbol of the fact that he took initiation at my Gurudeva Indradyumna Swami on the day after the battle, and he received his spiritual name through me — Shri Ram... Pearl ring between ring Lakshmi and ring Tiramisu, on the left hand... when he corrected some of the energy flows at me, a blessing on family well-being...

The ring Maha Shivaratri, on the right little finger, March 8, 2016, on the night of Maha Shivaratri, Shiva himself gave it to me, Shri Ram and I were already tied together by Nrisimhadev at that memorable heavenly wedding from March 3 to March 4, 2016... Shiva's blessing. And the ring Ram, on the right ring finger. Now this finger is not nameless, now it has a name — Ram. It's on Rama Navami... How I felt sorry for the rings... I was not so sorry for the rest, as I was a pity for these rings. My favorite rings... How will I be without my rings? I already feel bad without my rings, I thought. Shri Ram is cruel. He is heartless. He is ruthless. He is a soulless man. Without heart and nerves. With a dick between his legs.

I asked about this situation of the Twins Uralian Oracle, and I got the answer, at the very beginning of divination and black/black. This is extremely rare. «Bad omen! Nothing good will come to you. Ahead at you a confluence of hostile, adverse circumstances, unpleasant emotions. Useless life experience, which is better to avoid. You are mistaken, hoping to win something. No matter what you do, you're unlikely to get a positive result. It is best to abandon the action altogether — after all, it can be just dangerous. Key words: threat, difficult situation, mistakes, losses, there is no way out. And here you are destined: anxiety, anger, regret».

Reading this, I thought: how do I get out of this? I cleaned away everything I could so that nothing reminded me of Shri Ram. The whole day I cleaned the folder with screenshots from tv series «Mahabharata», leaving a minimum screenshots, only for myself. Before going to bed, you could hear the neighbors behind the wall having sex. And even that reminds me of him, I thought. But I can not remove it in any way. The woman groans voluptuously, there, behind the wall, and I think of Shri Ram. Probably, and this woman in a sex is excellent, that it is necessary. I'm celibate now. I'm not going to do this with another man. Now he's not mine, and I can't be with him because he's not mine anymore. Masturbate? What for? I'm still going to think about him, but it's forbidden, because he's not mine anymore. I have no right to think in sex, in masturbation about the man who is not mine. And if I start doing that, I'll automatically think about him. And if he's not there, who's there? Who? Someone else? I don't want other men. Well, at least this woman is doing well. Thank God someone's having a good time, I thought.

Everything that could be removed, that somehow reminded me of Shri Ram, I removed. At some point I called the karate coach and asked his opinion. I did not go into details, I just said that I have a relationship at the subtle, fine-material level and the situation there has worsened. And I said the word clearly characterizing the situation. I said in Russian, «ситуация усугубилась» («the situation has worsened»). The word «усугубилась» («aggravated»). «Усугубилась» = «у-су-губи-лась» = «у-су-губы-лась». In Russian «су» can mean «together», the word «губы» («lips») indicates a woman, as a woman has lips both above and below, labia. That is, with this word, I said Shri Ram through coach that the situation has worsened, he is now together («су») with another, with a woman (with «губы», lips that are below, labia), and asked what he thinks about all this.

I told the coach that I don't want to be in this position and I want to get out of there, but I can't, and I asked for some advice. In fact I wanted to hear what Shri Ram would tell me through this coach. The coach told me that fight fire with fire, that in order not to have a relationship at the subtle, fine-material level, you have to get out of the comfort zone and go to the unknown, to find another man. Like, go join a Dating site or something, for a start, take a walk there, maybe someone will like me. I told him that I didn't want to meet anyone and that I didn't need any such relationship. I told him that I wanted to end the relationship at the subtle, fine-material level and I do not need this crap at all.

104. «I anywhere will not throw you»

I thought that Shri Ram was wrong to tell me all this through the coach, because where should I go, to whom? When I know that there not my, and other men, and my man is Shri Ram. I decided that even if he wants me to leave and be with someone else, I won't do it, that I have only one way: it's to get away from him completely and go to Krishna. I asked Saint Matrona the Wonderworker of Moscow to help me. I also decided to finish recording my novel, my video. I was very sad, and on November 16 before going to bed I wanted to cry to him, in pillow, as I did before, to bury myself in it and pour out all my tears. I could not stand it and did it. I hugged the pillow.

And it suddenly turned on. Sessions with pillow. It's been a long time since he and I had sessions with pillow. After Shri Ram assigned to me four wolfhounds in January 2017 after I freed one of their women from the low-lying nature, because of which she was their non-contact whore at the energy plane of existence, more sessions with pillow we have with Shri Ram was not. True, in September there was one session with pillow, but it was not our session with Shri Ram, but session with pillow of the Shepherd (The Shepherd, I do not love you) with his eternal couple, the so-called Panchali. And suddenly, when I hid away all reminding me about Shri Ram, deciding to completely finish with him, I could not stand it and hugged the pillow-Roma.

And then it began... «Loved, loved, my loved, I love you, you're my love, how much I love you, how I love you»... In the chest was such a clot of love, somewhere deep inside, such a condensed concentrated love... I so wanted to dive there and let it out, but I was afraid that if it opens, I can not stand it and immediately come out of the body. There were words about love, and then suddenly went quite another: «Why are you not with me?» The bloc with these words lasted long, and after there was a pause and other bloc: «I do not believe you. This can't be». When this bloc ended, I thought that I told him «why are you not with me», he answered me something there, but I can not hear it here, but at the same time I answered him by words that I do not believe him, this can not be.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I was so intrigued, I thought: what did he say to me there, to which I replied that I did not believe him, this can not be? I began to pray to Krishna, «Krishna, I so want to know what he said to me there, to which I answered him with these words». I begged Krishna so fervently: «Krishna, please help me. Please help me, please. I so want to know what he told me there». And again from me began poured a stream of words. This time the words were very different. This time Shri Ram was saying through me. The first words were «любима» («loved» — feminine word). Before that came the words «любимый, мой любимый» («loved, my loved» — masculine word), and suddenly «любима» («loved» — feminine word). In Russian this word refers to a woman. By this word called a woman, not a man. When is spoken to a man, in Russian they usually say «любимый», and here was the word «любима». This is a word of female, this word is spoken only to a woman. But I pronounced this «любима», and so I understood that it is Shri Ram telling me. I only pronounce these words. I pronounce what he said somewhere far away at his home.

This in our sessions with pillow never happened. And that I am loved («любима») was repeated and repeated, and after went words, that I am loved. «My loved, you are my loved, you are my loved woman»... I was uttering these words and listen to them like a wonderful song. Then he began to say these words: «I will not throw you. I anywhere will not throw you. I will not let you go anywhere. You're mine. You will be mine» («Я тебя не брошу. Я тебя никуда не брошу. Я тебя никуда не пущу. Ты моя. Ты будешь моя»). These words comforted me, so lulled that I am very well, quietly fell asleep. It was November 16, and about the appearance of the brazen muzzle I learned on 8 November. It's only been eight days, but as if eternity flew by.

The next morning I got up and started to remember those words. I thought it was some weird wording: «I anywhere will not throw you». I would never say that, I would say «I will never leave you» («Я тебя никогда не брошу»), and here «I anywhere will not throw you» («Я тебя никуда не брошу»). In Russian, these two phrases are identical: «Я тебя не брошу» and «Я тебя никуда не брошу», only the word «никуда» (“anywhere”) is added in the second phrase. And because of this one word, such different meanings come out. I thought that I perceived this phrase «I will not throw you» as «I will not let you out of my hands, I will not let you go, I will not open my hands so that you do not fly away». But if there is the word «anywhere», then there is clearly an active, forward movement. «I will never leave you» («Я тебя не брошу») — this is passive: he opened his hands, and it flew away. And «I anywhere will not throw you» («Я тебя никуда не брошу») — it's like you take a stone in your hands, going strong and throw it somewhere, aiming at what target you need to hit.

And I thought that he can me throw around somewhere, in someone, to fit to me a guy, press on consciousness, and I will fly in that guy, as the stone that is thrown with acceleration. Well, well! I didn't know what this could mean, I thought. He anywhere will not throw me. Did he want to? Was he going to do that? Chuck me into someone that I could be with someone? He also said «I will not let you go anywhere». Everywhere he decides whether to kick me out or not.

I mean, I realized that he said to me, «I decided not to push you out. Sit here». Well, thanks, of course I thought. But also there was «Love, I love you so much»... such love there was... «You're my beloved woman». But I'm still here alone. All alone. And I feel so bad... And when I look at him on my inner screen, I see another woman with him. They are together. And I'm on the sidelines. I was thrown off my throne and sent to the bench. The situation where my man is with someone out there, not me, and I'm sitting in the backyard, is very uncomfortable for me. I'm very uncomfortable with this. Or does he think that I don't respect myself so much, that I agree to be in this position, in order only with him? Because everyone else is another's and he's mine? But how did mine become with someone else? How can mine, who tells me «You're mine», be with another woman instead of me? And me? What about my feelings, my self-respect? Or am I nobody?

He anywhere will not throw me. Not «I'll never leave you», and «I anywhere will not throw you». Some kind of throwing in the target. Took me in hand, swung, aimed and chucked. And see if there's a coupling. Yeah, there's a coupling, she's got a guy, thank God. A woman with a cart — the mare is easier. Such sense. And he told me he anywhere will not throw me. He won't shoot me at anyone. That's good. Thank you. But I thought: I am his woman, and he could throw me at someone? He could have given his woman to someone else's man? With the power? How sad that I live in a world where my man can throw me to an alien man....

From these thoughts you want to lie down, sleep and not think about anything. But you have to live, you have to earn money, I thought. My birthday is coming up. Fifty years. Roma made a good gift to me for my 50 years — threw me off a pedestal... And how I can to respect myself if I keep being with him when he's with the other woman? Then other thoughts came to me: first he said «I will not throw you», and then «I anywhere will not throw you». I thought, «I will not throw you» might mean handing you over to some male and being present invisibly.

That is, he will force me to leave to another man. Some man will come to me or somehow will appear in my life, I will be in real life with that man, and Shri Ram will be invisibly present, as if to look after me. Like, although you will be with another man, but I will still be invisibly with you, I will not leave you anyway. That is, the phrase «I will not throw you» could have been understood that I will be with someone, but he will not leave me anyway and will invisibly be with me. And then he said otherwise, with a different formulation, refined, so I did not doubt: «I anywhere will not throw you». That is, he will not throw me to other men, will not force me to be with others, will not press on my consciousness and will not force me to think that it is necessary to find some male individual here, in real life, so at least someone was...

But Shri Ram, in the words «I anywhere will not throw you», specified that he will not force me to be with others. «Nowhere, into nothing, into anyone I will not abandon». He won't give me to anyone. Then «I will not let you go anywhere», that is, «If you want to escape somewhere, then no, no, do not even think». And then he said, «You're mine. You will be mine». When I deciphered these phrases in this way, I was so angry at that Shri Ram, and I thought, «You are manipulator. I don't believe you not a bit».

But, as I love this, I turned to one online Oracle, and I was told there that this person can be trusted, I can rely on him, he cares for me and will act with love. I was told to trust him. Confide in him. I thought, «Krishna, are You asking me to trust him, this Shri Ram?» I said: «Krishna, I am not ready for this, because how can I trust someone who put me in such a humiliating position, who does not like me at all». But Shri Ram manipulated my consciousness and gave me the idea that the style of my work is trust. I work on trust. All customers at my work are on trust.

I understand that I, as an inspector of Universe Patrol, I am guided in my activity by the principle of trust. I come like a little mouse, innocent, trusting, sincere, and I trust people. And in accordance with how people use my trust, such reactions they get. And Shri Ram gave me an idea, they say, «Try, as you always do, trust. And then we will see»... I thought it was a sensible idea. I thought that normal people would say that it was totally irrational, that it was masochism, stupidity, naivety, and Srila Prabhupada said that women are so stupid that they let smart men fool themselves. And I agree with his words.

I thought: I don't want to be a stupid woman who lets a man fool herself. Shri Ram is so smart, so smart to say, «I anywhere will not throw you». And he said to me, «Well, turn on your principle of trust, you always works on trust, please», and I said to him, «Well, Shri Ram, so be it».

105. Booklet about Lona

The evening of 17 November, on Friday, I called the karate trainer about my son. His leg ached even more, and I decided not to send him to class, especially since they have such a principle that if it hurts, the work is twice as much. And the son after the class complained that the coach is very loaded him, and the leg began to hurt even more. I called, said that because of his cruel principle, I will not let my son go. After that I realized what I said to Shri Ram through these words to the coach. I told Shri Ram that it had been so long since he and I had an act of family well-being, and I missed him so much and I want sex with him but because he with another woman, I refuse to do it, even though I want to. I mean, I told him I wouldn't let him have our legal family sex, even if it was like that, at a distance. How amazing it is that people living here like normal people can even have sex with each other from a distance...

It was not enough that I said all this to the coach on the phone, I went to find out personally, eye to eye. Well, I'm such a brawler. I came to him and say, that you can after all, and a gentle mode to include for such cases, and not to miss classes, and not to worsen the situation. Coach there's something mumbled, and then said that on the street in three times more. The coach meant that hard in training, easy in battle, that no one was sparing on the street, the load there is much more. I went home and I think that this Shri Ram should perform his conjugal duties. He obliged. He's my husband. A husband has to take care of his wife, protect her, in sex too. If the wife needs to satisfy sexual desire, the husband has to do it. But since he's with someone else, I can't let him in. Sex will not be.

I told the karate coach I will not let my son go to class. Because the principle is brutal: twice as much work. I said to Shri Ram: «I'm sorry, dear; you have to fulfill your family duties, your marital duty. We have equal rights. But, because you have twice more work, this brazen muzzle is standing there beside you, I can't afford to happen. Sex will not be. There you already have a good brazen muzzle, and you have sex with her, and I won't give you sex». And he told me through the words of the coach said that the street is three times that, they say, she is three times better than me. And I thought, is he a fool, so stupid, telling me that the brazen muzzle is three times better than me, his legitimate wife, eternal couple, or did he say so specifically to make me angry? In order to I wanted to continue to record my video of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife».

And then I thought I wouldn't leave Shri Ram, that I would take advantage of this situation. In our interest. I was told to trust him, I decided to trust him. And I decided: because of the Asuras, I, being his wife, having the right to meet my needs, was deprived of this, because he has another woman, because he does not come to me for some reason because he became Asur. Yeah, let's make lemonade out of lemons. Every time I have to satisfy my needs, and I can't do it, because he has someone, and he has a duty to perform, I will remove the Asuras wholesale, cruel and merciless. Because everything has to be paid for, including this.

And I said to asuras, «Honey asuras, you're in big trouble. Because every time Shri Ram has to fulfill his conjugal duty, you will pay for what he has become Asur and does not perform his duty as it should. I will destroy anyone who I come across». And when I came home, I immediately went to wash dishes and very cruelly destroyed that group of Asuras who volunteered and who came to my action-sale, which I declared to them for two weeks, and I immediately recorded the 116th series. Early you, Asuras, relaxed, I thought. I will destroy you many more because I love you, for breakfast and lunch.

I decided that the next, whom I brutally will expunge, would be those Asuras from the Moscow, whose, when I was still in Moscow, together with Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization, plugged unto me and had me in sex at the energy plane of existence, pumped my feminine energy and my pious merits out of me on a regular basis, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. I remembered that time that with me that Borka made, and decided that all those who though somehow then was involved in that, will be severely punished by me. After some time I, of course, expunged them, quickly and ruthless, at the mood, as always.

On November 17 my son together with his class went on an excursion to the Philharmonic. And coming from there, he brought me a flyer. I have long been accustomed to pay attention to everything that comes to me one way or another, and I thought: and what if some important information is revealed to me through this flyer? There was a picture of a beautiful woman on the flyer, and I thought it was a sign about woman who has been standing next to Shri Ram for ten days on fine-material level on my inner screen. I very carefully studied the flyer, has opened Yandex to read about the meaning of the name of the woman (Ilona) in this flyer, and then in the 116th series I told all I managed to extract of this little leaf. Information for reflections it turned out abound.

Yandex showed that this woman, Ilona, is the winner of the international competitions, plays the organ. I went through all the links with mention about her and found out that she studied abroad from her childhood with the venerable eminent masters of organ playing, that she was the inspirer and organizer of some major projects around the world. In the 116th series, based on this booklet, I began to tell the Asuras in their allegorical language about this brazen muzzle, drawing a parallel between the woman depicted on this piece of paper and the brazen muzzle, who continued to sit with my Shri Ram.

I started with the value of the name Ilona, which opened to me in the very first link in Yandex. I said, first of all, Ilona is Lona, that's a shortened version of that name. In Russian the word «Лона» is heard as «лоно», and the Russian word «лоно» means «vagina». Lona is the female genital organ. That is, this brazen muzzle, that sits with my Shri Ram — is a woman, I said. And she is a woman on those levels, where vagina. She is a laureate of international organ competitions. An organ is a musical instrument. But another meaning of the Russian word «опран» is the organ of the body. And on what the organ of the body can play a woman, vagina? A woman's vagina could play on male genitals, on the penis. She's a Pro on game on male organ, penis, and the pros of international scale.

She studied this art from the very childhood and now she is touring all over the world. She's barnstormer. This woman, with whom my Shri Ram is standing together and whom he protects from me, this Lona, is special on game on male organ, penis, so say, she pros highest qualifications, international level, tours around the world. She is so cool that this Shri Ram is shaking over her and shuts her off from me and begs me not to even look at her so that nothing there is damaged. She has so a high level in playing on the male organ, penis.

She has such a high level that he trembles over her, and he is a great Asur, he has seen many women in his lifetime, but over her he trembles, in sex. Few such women meet, even at asuras, because she is a Pro. She has no status of wife, as she is a Pro of play on the organ, penis. She is high-level professionals, I can't keep up with her, I thought. She is cute, and highly cultured, educated, all configured to the pleasure of the senses, subtle way. Then I began to talk about the meaning of the name of the woman in booklet, in flyer opening through my words the essence of the woman who became with Shri Ram, the essence of this brazen muzzle.

In Yandex in the very first link with the meaning of the name of Ilona was written that Ilona means «torch», that she lights up quickly, burns bright and then quickly goes out, and then lights up only from the next. And when she goes to the next, the next torch lights up, she forgets everything that was before, completely, her memory is erased. Everything that was before the new torch, which was lit on the new client, all erased, completely. It's a professional qualification. I can't keep up with someone so sophisticated. And Shri Ram told me through the words of the karate coach that there is three times more on the street. Not three times, 23 times more than me, a million times more, because she is high quality professional in this activity, she has special expertise, special programs, and all the parameters of her body, all her options and characteristics are tuned to this.

Such a confident, such a well-groomed, refined nature, Shri Ram loves such refined, well-groomed women, I thought. No wonder he shakes at her, she's Lona, master of play on the organ, penis. Anyone out there would tremble, not only Shri Ram. As soon as the torch goes out, and it can't help but go out, because it's a torch, there's a new one right there, next one. The next torch lights up and burns fun and bright, and everything that's been before it is erased, as if nothing was there and won't. And I can't compete with her and don't want to. And to what it is, because she now lit torch, but then the burning will stop and will lit only with the following and about Shri Ram she will forever forgotten as if him never happened, at all, ever, I said to the Asuras in the 116th series.

On November 17, in the 116th series, I commented the booklet that my son brought to me from their school excursion to the Philharmonic. I went to Yandex, trying to find some clues that pointed to the true nature of the woman that Shri Ram had been with for ten days. I told a lot of interesting things about this woman, drawing parallels between booklet and her. Asuras immediately figured out, that to what. It's up to me not at once reached, but they immediately have understood the meaning of the words. They saw the danger to themselves and went to look for confirmation of my words. And of course they found it.

106. Lona was making men an impotents

Lona left many traces of her activities. Shri Ram saw, in whose embrace fell, and was horrified by. And I realized something too, about what I began to tell in the next, 117th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». From the very beginning of 117th series, I directly began to talk about this Lona, as I called her. Lona, a professional on the game on the organ, on the penis. I said that surprises me is that so clever a man as my Shri Ram, caught in her net. But there it was impossible not to succumb to her charm, because everything is adjusted that the man won't be able to overcome the sexual desire and will be with her. 100 % hit.

No one could resist this Lona, therefore she was valuable for those who directed her. And this I with my team of light forces sent Lona to Shri Ram. We were going to eliminate her together with those who coordinated her actions, and for this I took advantage of my eternal husband, Shri Ram. Yes, here I did not know. It was done with higher levels. But this is we and my team has arranged things so that Lona appeared in field of view of my Shri Ram, and he could not abandon her, as she is a specialist of the highest category, and we had a need to remove such a specialist. I had to remove her, because while she was in action, there was also a risk that she would ever come to Shri Ram to neutralize me.

But living here, I did not know anything and really plunged into despondency and grief that there was a woman better than me and Shri Ram immediately ran after her, threw me and told me to go look for other men, they say, I'm the same as everyone, a prostitute, I don't care who to be: with him or with other penis on legs. I realized that there will always be someone better and I can not compete with anyone and I do not want to. But as sad as it was to find out that Shri Ram always had a channel of reception open, he was always in a mode of «maybe there's something better», always looking for where better... and I was so sick of these thoughts and experiences.

But when my son brought that flyer and I gave Asuras a little more information about Lona, I realized that Lona came for a reason. Someone wanted fix the problem in the form of me so that I discontinued the broadcasting of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" and discontinued the striking out the Asuras from the material world by sending them to their future lives as devotees of Krishna and then returning them to the spiritual world. And that's therefore Lona came for. In the 116th series, I told about this Lona, that her torch lights up on a new client, burns bright, and then goes out and lights up only on the new client, and the memory of what was before this new torch, completely erased. I took it from the description of the meaning of the name Ilona, which was brought to me by my son on flyer.

The Asuras immediately realized what it meant, and I told something about it in 117th series. None of the Asuras did not know about Lona, although she caused a lot of damage to their asuric community. She's the head of big secret projects, I said. In fact, she was not a leader, but a performer, and the main performer, since with her help, large Asuras were eliminated. To the Asur, whom someone wanted to eliminate, was sent Lona. She is a master of playing the organ-penis, she has special programs, and she is all focused on the enjoyment of feelings.

No man, the more the Asur, couldn't help but be attracted to her. She all exuded the pleasure of feelings for a man and was the ideal of a woman in their eyes. They thought she was a real woman, not that these wives who are not at all like that... And she especially loved to wedge herself into families, feeling her superiority over these stupid wives. She liked sending these wives away, to free flight. She was connecting to a man, there was a good tight coupling, he could not resist her charm and her programs, and when he was in an area that was impossible to get out of, she somehow was doing so that the man was expelling his wife. He was forgetting everything.

She was good at everything, but especially in sex. The ideal of the vagina. And approaching her next victim, drawing this Asur in the zone of her influence, she was activating his torch, his penis. That is, from below at him was turned on to full, and from above him was immediately turned off. All his brakes, all the reasonableness, caution, rationality, adherence to the vows — everything was immediately forgotten, and this Asur was falling with her into the most gorgeous in his whole existence sex. She was getting pleasure in sex like none of the women. And what he felt at the same time, it is impossible even to imagine. And his penis started to work like never worked with anybody.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He thought he was blessed with such a woman. In fact, he was eliminated coolly. And he was a regular rabbit. But she loved this job. This case was everything to her. She felt really incomparable feelings in sex, and everything worked at the highest level there. This Asur was forgetting about everything, was sending his wife away, to free swimming, because Lona surpassed her in everything, especially in sex. His torch burned so brightly that he was on top of pleasure. The radiators were so hot that everything faded before them. With Shri Ram was the same.

As soon as he got into influence zone of this Lona, he immediately abandoned me, and I was immediately shown a post in VKontakte with the words «goodbye and be happy» of the song of Lev Leshchenko «Goodbye»:

Good-bye! Trains go to distant lands away,
From every station like before.
Good-bye! Under the sky of wintry day
We're breaking up forevermore.
Good-bye! Please tell me nothing but good-bye.
Don't give your promises in vain.
But look up to the empty sky
To understand my hopeless pain.
Didn't you forget the couple of stars
That hovered high in dusk the blue
Where faded both away at once?
I now see they're me and you.
Good-bye! The break of dawn is on its way.
New day is knocking at the door.
Good-bye! Under the sky of wintry day
We're breaking up forevermore.

Through these inscrutable ways the signs of the Universe come to me and our interaction with Shri Ram takes place at a distance. As soon Lona, ideal of the vagina, appeared at him, he immediately told me «goodbye, no one will bring back for us the summer». He had already said goodbye to me completely. He replaced me with that Lona. How quickly at Lona it all works. Special assignment, special training. My eternal husband, my eternal couple, in sound mind and firm memory, forgot about everything and sent me away, and forever. He said goodbye me forever although he saw our with him past lives, how he was made an Asur, how I refused the second eternal couple, the second eternal husband, when I was told that Shri Ram and I could never be together. He said goodbye me forever although he accepted me as his wife first from Nrisimhadev, and then from my Gurudev and gave me a promise, the word as a gentleman on February 14 on Valentine's Day, that I can trust him and that he will not do me harm, that here is his hand. But he forgot about everything and refused me forever.

In Lev Leshchenko's song are such words: «We part forever». Impossible to force a heart to love and it is impossible to make the dick stand when he does not want it. He told me «goodbye and be happy, go to other men, worthless woman». But I came to him; I was born specifically to give him a chance. I've made some kind of elaborate plan to make it work. My whole life is dedicated to giving him a chance. I came specifically to him, and he says me, his eternal couple: «Walk to other men. Be happy with other men». That is, «go away, prostitute, you do not care who to be with. Maybe someone will want to be with you, but I don't believe it, because who are you? Compared to this ideal of the vagina you're nobody».

He told me through a coach in karate: «On the street three times more, 23 times more. You'll never be like this». Just a few days before, he told me he loved me. And suddenly he declares to me: «Go to other men, whore, because Lona is the ideal of the vagina, and you're nobody». And then the karate coach tells me to get off the sports equipment and sit on the bench, and a neighbor comes and cries that the locksmiths of the housing Department said to change the radiators, because the old radiators are cold and it is necessary to put new, hot radiators, and for this it is necessary to give all the pension, and how then live? That is, these new radiators are worth it to give me away completely, neglecting the high promises and given the word.

And Shri Ram thought that somehow he would be able to live without me, because he has a gorgeous specimen like Lona... And he told me to go away. But through me, he then came a warning by Twins Uralian Oracle, that this course of events will bring him failure. What lies ahead is a confluence of hostile, adverse circumstances, unpleasant emotions. Useless life experience, which is better to avoid. That he's wrong to expect to win something. That it is best to refuse to act at all-in the end, it can be just dangerous.

Through this divination, he was told that he was trying in vain to gain something from this Lona, since she is the organizer of some secret projects, which he had not even heard of, and that in the end he will get a very big damage. Since torch at her is lit on a new client, burns bright, and then completely goes out, and that he again caught fire, she has to go to a new client, and the memory of the old client is completely erased. She's doing something to a client, that she's taking everything from this torch, and he doesn't have anything that can burn. Everything's erased. And as the memory of him is completely erased, it means that everyone forgets him, he becomes nobody. His dick is no longer worth it and he cannot have sex.

From all this, I realized that this Lona comes to another client, he has a torch begins to burn incredibly hard, he sends his wife to free swimming, Lona reigns for some time, but her programs work and do their job, sucking out of this client all and making him impotent, and in the sexual sphere, and in general in life. Since the memory about him is erased, no one else sees him anywhere, because he is deleted from everywhere. And this future was waiting for my Shri Ram. But in the 116th series I told about her to the Asuras, they understood what I told them, describing all this, checked information and something about her really learned. It came together.

Indeed, she was coming to some big asuras, and after about them all forgot, because of they became worthless. At Asuras all the parameters of their body, all their life characteristics are set to sex, to pleasure. And they pull female energy and piety from women, connecting to her or when she masturbates, or through her partner in normal sex. But since at the next Lona`s client a torch go out, she had to go to the next client, as she is a professional at the organ game and she tours around the world, it becomes clear that this Asur became impotent and could no longer do this activity including connection to women in sex at the energy plane of existence. And without that, without that energy, without that function and those powers, they became absolutely useless and asuric society forgets about them.

107. Sweet total erasure

The same fate awaited Shri Ram. If he had given up on me, he would have lost my protection, and someone who had a grudge against him would have killed him. And I wouldn't defend him if I knew there was another woman standing there, and he told me «Goodbye forever». I already left him, I removed from my computer desktop all the screenshots from the tv series «Mahabharata», and he was deprived of such a channel of information. He would have lost all his luck and would again become a fatal loser because of this affront, and something fatal with him would definitely happen.

Even if none of the Asuras would not touch him, but his life would removed him, and before that would have thrown to the bottom with all the power. Because Nrisimhadev is my husband and He would not tolerate this. He would have necessarily arranged for some situation that Shri Ram would have suffered a complete collapse, he would have been killed, and very cruelly. Because Shri Ram has given his word and must keep it. But even if this all did not happen, Lona would put out his torch and would go to another client, since he wouldn't have anything that could burn, and he would become impotent, on all levels, and all the memory of him would be completely erased, everyone would have forgotten about him. He was a great Asur, RA, had a great asuric organization under him, many things he could, but after Lona nothing would work at all. The Asuras checked what I said, made sure that everything is true, Shri Ram saw his perspective with this Lona and realized that he would be in big trouble if he stayed with her. And he said to me, «Thanks so much for saving me».

In 119th series I continued to decipher of what I told about Lona on the basis of brought my son flyer. I said that Lona tours around the world, seducing men who are sex addicts and tearing them away from their family. Of course, she worked not only with married men, but with married men she had a special taste; it was so nice to see how the wife becomes a nobody. She takes this new client, creates a strong coupling, as in dogs, when they interlocks at mating and not able to unhook. It happens that these dogs run down the street, and into they throw sticks, but they still can not disengage.

Lona hooks up her clients with herself that he can't do anything with himself and he is like a sliver in a fast river, floating at breakneck speed towards a waterfall. The coupling is powerful as dogs sticking together after mating and can not separate from each other. And this Lona is just such that if you are with her, you yourself can not get out of there. The torch of this client burns well, the gas from his well breaks with incredible force, his dick gets up well, sexual potency is high and in sex he is a hero, but at some moment the gas comes out completely and the well becomes empty, he becomes impotent. And she has to move to a new client, because she has an increased libido, sex for her is a favorite job, without which she can not live.

All settings, options of her body are set to sex, everything is set up for sex, she needs sex, without it, life is not sweet. And she so wants to rather to this work, but this man, she says, became impotent. She makes men impotent. And no woman can inflame him no more; he doesn't react to any woman no more, because he doesn't have anything that can react. Everything that was in the torch sucked out, all gas from there is sucked out completely, and there was nothing left, he no longer has what it takes to react. All his sexual potency ran out of him and his penis does not get up anymore. Everything is completely cleaned, and on all plans, and in the sexual sphere, and in business, and in the luck, in everything.

She moves on to the next one, and there the story repeats itself, with a little variation. But this new client she comes across is not accidental. Someone from Asuras cooperating with her, with this Lona, paying her some asuric money, most likely in the form of seized from other women or men of energy and pious merits, so because of that she could to live happily ever after, so that she was lucky in everything and everything was at the highest level. And she works in such a project, that if someone from asuras need to imperceptibly to remove his adversary, competitor, than to him send this Lona.

She connects with a new client, occurs coupling, he falls into her and can not come off. He throws his wife, if he was married, and he has some time the torch works at full capacity, in sex everything is so cool for him, he does not recognize himself in sex. During this time, everything is pumped out of him, sent who needs it, all the information, some secret files, somehow she knows how to do it all. Espionage at the level of the life files and the neutralizing the enemy. After some time he becomes completely impotent on all channels and chakras, and he is getting erased and useless, and she, lamenting that all men are impotent, passes to another man, to whom then her will send.

She casts away the previous man, so as he not reminded that his torch not working, that his dick does not get up. After her work no spear can not stick in principle, no cock moves, a man can't have sex at all. She transferred all his secret files who needs to, they already know everything about him, and then they replace him with other and completely forget about him. Such total erasure. And she jumps like a flea from customer to customer. And behind all this are the organizers of this project. They sent this Lona to my Shri Ram to remove him, and with him and me, because he kicked me out.

Someone needed to eliminate my Shri Ram. To leave him without my protection. Because if a man has a wife, even if she doesn't know anything about it, he has protection, because normal wife wants to be with husband. But as a result of Lona's work, husband was chasing his wife away and therefore was losing her protection. It was easy to neutralize him to anyone. Then his torch stops working completely, he was losing his sexual potency, his dick ceased to get up and he could no longer have sex. All memory of him is erased as if he never existed. He becomes nothing, a scavenger who is not capable of anything in this life. And his wife sits and thinks: «I am nobody». And someone sent this Lona to Shri Ram to deprive him of me, to deprive him of my protection, to eliminate me in such a way that I thought that I am worthless, and stopped destroy Asuras, because I have depression. When Shri Ram found out about all this, Lona was gone.

I looked at him at my inner screen, and next to him was an empty black spot. It happened on November 20, just before my birthday. Almost three weeks Shri Ram was in full power of Lona, and I was in complete prostration and depression, and on the eve of my birthday Lona was not with him, and during singing Narasimha Maha Mantra I let at empty black place where Lona stood, a powerful fiery stream and burned everything there. And then I took my blowtorch and directed a powerful fire around Shri Ram to burn everything that Lona had time to embed into him. Most likely, I burned Trojan programs she installed into him, which was supposed to extract all the information about him and pump out all his powers and make him impotent to his torch is completely extinguished and he was erased completely.

When I pulled it all out of him, I wrapped him into a golden cocoon and at the sound of the shell in this musical composition I brought down around him a shock wave.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Someone man was standing under him, and I sharply stuck my trident into him and was hammering it into him fiercely, trying to put pain for him. In all probability, it was he sent Lona to my Shri Ram. I felt sorry for Shri Ram. He had such a gorgeous specimen, such a hot Lona, three times better than me, and here I am again with him, I am a kind of usurper, cold radiators that does not fit him on so many criteria, but he has no choice but to be with me. I was really sorry for him.

108. Liquidation of the project with Lona. Do not spit in the well

At that time, showed the 23rd and 24th series of the series «Mahakali», in which there was a story of how Parvati came to the demon Shumbha in the form of Kalaratri, and then summoned all the women he had offended, whose he tried to deprive respect. Kalaratri in herself absorbed these women and destroyed Shumbha. And I, watching these series, thought that this is the right move — with the help of Lona was humiliated so many women, wives, which their husbands sent to free swimming, when Lona fastened with them by coupling. Lona liked that. She liked to see other women humiliated. And for it she was getting some money, sex was her favorite work, in sex she was on top, men were delighted with her in sex, and she was feeling her superiority that wives are nobody in front of her.

She was pleased to see how this husband was banishing his wife and how this wife was becoming an humiliated, alone, considering herself a nonentity, and the husband was comparing his wife with Lona, and the comparison was not in favor of his wife, because Lona is a specialist of the highest standard in sex, a master of the highest qualification, she has a special mission, special training. The wife falls into complete self-humiliation and thinks that she is no one, loses self-esteem and has to seek refuge from other men.

And I thought that Lona offended and humiliated many wives. But someone led her. And I decided to call on all women, wives, offended by Lona and leaders this project, and give these wives their on worry to. Krishna in one screenshot showed me that there were three organizers of this project. And I said that we would expunge them from the material world, will end their lives as asuras and sending them into their future lives as devotees of Krishna. They will chant the Hare Krishna mantra for many, many lives, and they will be so good devotees of Krishna that Krishna will take them all to the spiritual world, and they will ask Krishna for me and Shri Ram to return us to the spiritual world too.

Lona appeared at Shri Ram, because it was our operation to eliminate the organization, which carried out a secret project in which with the help of this Lona completely were destroying objectionable to someone Asuras. Lona had a special specification, she was can grab into her network of any Asur, man who interfered someone. This man, this asur, falling into zone of her influence, couldn't resist her charm and was falling in her tender and passionate embrace. She was the standard of the vagina as well as the eraser. There is a film — «Eraser», in which the main role is played by Arnold Schwarzenegger. But he's there acting as a protector, erasing people's past to protect their future.

The situation with Lona was different: she was also an Eraser, but she was deleting the future. But she was deleting the future of not only the man to whom she was coming but also his family, his wife, and if there were children, and of his children. In order to eliminate this criminal group, I had to sacrifice a lot: I put Shri Ram in harm's way with this Lona. Although he had tasted a lot of unearthly bliss with her and eventually escaped the fate that caught up with all the other customers of Lona. I also sacrificed my good mood and my own self-respect, because Shri Ram, under the impact of Lona, had the audacity to claim that my radiators are cold, that I'm no one in sex, that I'm unattractive and not enough like a woman, that I am preventing him from living and enjoying life, that I am much worse than some other woman.

As a result, I had to experience many sad moments, tears flowed from my eyes, and the whole world seemed empty to me. World didn't seem empty, it was empty, completely empty. I fell into derogatory thoughts about themselves and lost to Shri Ram trust, for the umpteenth time. But this time it was a powerful blow. But the game was worth the candle. We disclosed Lona and those who participated in this project. The Asuras checked the trail left by Lona and made sure that the result of her appearance in the life of the Asuras inevitably was their complete oblivion and throwing off to the very bottom of life, as she pumped out of her victims all that they had, all their files. And she was filling them with their destructive and spyware, such as Trojans on the computer.

She inculcated in them the Trojans and carried out sabotage activities. In parallel, she was forcing her victim, Asur, to leave his wife. He was losing the protection of his wife, and Lona was making him impotent on all levels. Asuras have a lot based on sex, because they get through sex the energy that they need for some of their evil actions. If Asur loses the opportunity to receive this energy from sex, then he as Asuras is a nobody, an empty place, he can't do anything else.

Shri Ram, having learned about it, was able to somehow break out of her tenacious embrace, although it was given to him very difficult, as she managed to implement into him a lot of Trojan programs and special programs that provide a strong coupling with the client, which the client himself is not able to overcome. But Shri Ram somehow broke away from this Lona. Those comrades who sent Lona to Shri Ram, thought the work will done, that they commands the parade, but actually Krishna arranged this situation that they could not resist the temptation to eliminate me and Shri Ram with the help of Lona and to direct Lona to Shri Ram.

When it came time to cross them off, on my table again fell king from «Kinder Surprise» «tomorrow we will rob the king». This time he fell face-down into my bracelet-baubles. Right into the center of the bracelet. To me this picture recalled the proverb «Don't spit in the well — you may need to drink from it» and the verses of Omar Khayyam:

Do no evil — will return like a boomerang,
Do not spit into the well, to drink water,
Do not insult someone who rank below,
And suddenly I have something to ask.
Do not betray friends, they can not replace,
And don't lose your loved ones — will not return,
Do not lie to yourself — with time to test
What this lie yourself you betray....

This bracelet is a well, and this king who dives his face into this well and drinks from there, it's called the law of karma. They attempted this with Lona, in whom was provided everything: and appearance, and manners, and living conditions, and courtesy, and femininity, pleasantness, and sexual characteristics, all in order to eliminate some big Asur, who interfered with someone. As a result of appearing in his life such a wonderful woman like Lona, he was abandoning his wife, beloved woman, and degrading her dignity, depriving her of self-esteem. Lona liked it very much. In the 24th series of the series «Mahakali», which was released just at that time, I was shown how Mahakali killed demon Shumbha, summoning all the women he tried to deprive respect.

And when I started to cross off those three organizers of this project with Lona, I first thoroughly fried them all, trying to make them very hurt, that they are there very well howled, and then called on all those women who they deprived of self-esteem, forcing their husbands to send them to free swimming. When this trio had already reached the condition that they were ready to fly away to their future lives and I could do anything with them, I threw into somewhere in space my invocation to these women. I told them, «Come here. I call you all». And they all came to me (from where, I do not know, but there were many), they by whole crowd poured inside those three and began to fun there.

I told them: «Girls, this is those bastards who set that bitch on your husbands, remember? They're yours! Do what you want with them! Tear them apart! Into small pieces!» That here began!!! Doomsday. You have no idea. Can you imagine? These are women, wives, beloved woman who have experienced the bitterness of such humiliation and such grief, and they are now told that here, the offender before you, he can not do anything now; he lies in front of you on the floor and can not even move. Kick him as much as you want at your pleasure; avenge him for your humiliation and your grief. These women went inside these three Asuras and began to kick and tear them. I did not interfere with them, just looked at them, and because I'm so many burned them with fire, that at any moment they could fly into their future lives. I looked from the side and thought: «I will not even interfere in this. Let them do what they want». In short, these women so cruelly beat those villains that they were ready left the body and to flew away into their future lives. It was just a massacre. It's called «Don't spit in the well — you may need to drink from it».

109. Chamomile instead of the clitoris

I thought: what should I do to Lona? On the one hand, she is a woman, and on the other she's just a sex machine. Need something to do with it because it's her favorite work and she will not stop. We tore her away from Shri Ram, burned everything her in him by a blowtorch so that nothing in him was left of her, but she can go to others men. Just at that time I read a book about women in the revolution. And was an episode about a woman surname Zhuchenko. This Zhuchenko was demonstrating to the Bolsheviks that she is for the revolution, and in fact she was a spy and an agent of the secret police, passed into the hands of the tsarist secret police many of the Bolsheviks, before the October revolution occurred.

When I read about this Zhuchenko, I thought that I just say about this Lona. This Zhuchenko was an embedded agent of the tsarist secret police. She pretended to be among the Bolsheviks, and she passed the secret information of the Bolsheviks to the secret police, and her espionage activities were uncovered. She fled abroad, but even there she was afraid of revenge of the Bolsheviks. More she could not conduct espionage activities, and suffered greatly because of this. The tsarist government paid her a huge pension, for the fact that she reported on many Bolsheviks, was a very valuable employee of the tsarist secret police. And in this book I paid attention to such words: «Zhuchenko meanwhile lives in Berlin exclusively private life, without being engaged in agent activity. In 1910, in September, she wrote to Klimovich: „It's hard, my friend, not to be in favorite business! Without any hope to return to it“».

And I thought that through these words I was told what to do with Lona. I thought I should take away her favorite business, without any hope of getting back to it. This is her favorite activity is to seize men into her field, into her space from which they cannot go, forcing them to give up their wives, chase their wives out, bringing these wives in such a state that they think of themselves that they are no good, that they are cold radiators, no one. And she has sex with those men. Sex is her favorite activity, her favorite work.

This is her favorite activity. She's the ideal of the vagina. In sex she has a special assignment, special training, special chips, and special characteristics. The torch burns well with her. When she takes a new client, the torch works for him to the fullest, as gas from a well. There are gas a flaming torch when the gas whips out, and out of the ground burning raging fire. At night from far away you can see these bright torches. She gets a new client, who needs to be eliminated, and he has a torch burning bright, very well works in sex. With her, his penis is very cool, works like a super-powered rocket and with her he is just a beast in sex. At the beginning with her, he feels at a height in sex and thinks that he was lucky to meet such a woman that she is a real woman. Then it ends completely, she completely drinks all the juice from him, all his sexual power, and he becomes impotent in all areas, on all plans.

And I was told through these words about Zhuchenko it is necessary to do so that Lona lost this job, this beloved business forever, without any hope to return to it. I did not understand what it means: the completely elimination at her libido, some kind of sterilization or the establishment of her aversion to sex, so she didn't want sex, so sex to be distasteful to her, to make her sick at the thought of sex? What?

She left so many women alone, drove them out into the street, in an inconsolable depressing state, I thought. And need to send Lona into spiritual world, otherwise why she to us came? Just be left without your favorite work, without any hope of returning there? This, of course, is good. But one must also go to Krishna. And I decided that she should meet the devotees of Krishna when she will lose her favorite work without any hope of going back there and when she'll be desperate and would say, «This life is empty. My favorite work is not and never will be. Maybe hang yourself?»

But she will be saved by a devotee of Krishna, whom Krishna will send to her with a book about Krishna, with «Bhagavad-Gita As It Is».

It's about us, it's for us.
Bhagavad-Gita,
Book of Lord,
Transcendental world.
It's yours!
Sing this song sing,
Open the door to this world...

Lona will take this book, begin to read it and understand everything: it is useless to hang herself. Because even if you hang yourself, even if you get drunk pills, even if you cut your veins, nothing will help, because the soul is eternal. The soul never dies. The soul can't be cut, killed with pills, nothing. So it's not going to help. And she will decide to go to Krishna. And Krishna will arrange for her to go to Him.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

When I said the 119th series about it, appeared a screenshot from the «Mahabharata» where Krishna made so that the waters of the Yamuna parted and opened wide straight open road. In this way, Krishna has shown that Krishna will remove all obstacles in the way of Lona to Krishna and she will go to him freely. She will take prayer beads and will chant Hare Krishna mantra and return to Krishna into the spiritual world. As the Bible says, «So the last will be first». And even such Lona will return to Krishna, because she came to my Shri Ram, and I will make sure that she will remain without her favorite thing and reach the limit, but Krishna will save her.

I burnt those three organizers of the project who were erasing unnecessary Asuras with the participation of Lona. I gave them to the women they hurt. Those women mocked these three Asuras long and hard. And when these three out from their bodies and flew out to their future lives, I took up Lona. I felt so bad when Lona came to my Shri Ram. She wanted to humiliate me, and to make him a complete impotent on all levels. I was so hurt it was all that I decided to hurt her more. Much, much more painful. I did it three times.

In the first set I fried her from all sides, as usual. At the second time I formatted all her chakras. This is when here listen to music, hands dancing to music in a spontaneous dance and somewhere far away, through space at someone chakras are reformatted, as if here the hands dances, but does something in the chakras of human who is far from you geographically. As if hands nominate something, retract, change, insert something, and include something in the chakras. Such a spontaneous dance, when your hands are moving to the music, but in fact dance move are projected on the chakras somewhere there, on the other end of the wire. I so by my hands formatted Lona's chakras, especially the lower and then went up top and fully opened her Sahasrara chakra.

And at the third time I let into her those women, whose I already was letting into before it into those three Asuras, who were the organizers of that project with Lona. I looked at Lona, at this time I sang Narasimha Maha Mantra, I began to look straight into her eyes and I made an appeal to those women who as a result of favorite work of Lona left alone, humiliated, in the bottomless abyss of grief and despair. And I said mentally to them, «I call you all, women, who she hurt, who she humiliated, whom she striped a husband, a loved one, because of whom you were told you are nobody, worthless, has to leave into loneliness, hopelessness and feeling of the worthlessness — she is here! Come here. Do what you want with her».

I stared into her eyes, and they suddenly appeared from somewhere and all through my eyes, through my beam, entered her eyes and plunged inside her. And I told them, «She's yours. Do what you want with her. Be pleased. She is the one that did that to your husbands and to you». I was lucky that Lona was with Shri Ram for only two weeks, but in their case, it was much longer and more fatal, with the full lowering to the bottom. These women were not lucky, so I told them: «Do with her what you want!» What were they doing in there! I stayed out.

One of them sat and was picking by some stick in eyes of Lona. Droningly so... so completely blankly. Lona has caused what a great pain that this woman's, that she's become like that... She sits and cannot do anything else. She can only by this stick, by this twig in her eyes to pick. Other women somehow more or less actively did something. And this woman was sitting and monotonously and stupidly sway from side to side... Someone was gnawing inside her belly. I didn't stop them from doing it, and then decided to see it through...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I thought: we reformatted all her chakras. From above, too, have made as need to. And in all other centers we did well too. And we burned all her negative by the fire. But we must make sure that she really lost this business, without any hope to return to this work of hers, which for her was a favorite. I thought: what to do with her? I inserted long metal pin into her from below, and then poured it into her vagina a bunch of iron thorns, which rust from any moisture. This iron thorns because of any excitement in her female organs begin to immediately become active and immediately are pricked and it's unbearable. And with there still some poison stands out... and these prickles dig into her vagina, such prickly and constantly rusting... And these prickles will hurt her with every move she makes. And if she will have at least some sexual excitement, she will have to learn to control her feelings, because with such constant wild pain to live impossible.

Then I poured the thorns in her stomach. And then I did the piercings in her nipples by prickly spines, and inside her breasts too, that at the slightest her sexual arousal, these thorns immediately activated and began to prick from the inside these places, which were her erogenous zones. As soon as her breast begins to respond sexual, thorns dug into her nipples and inside her chest, will disclose and will cause her great pain, it will be fun! She was so proud to have such sensitive breasts, it worked so well... and now she will must to learn to control her feelings, sexual excitability and sensitivity. And since this is her favorite work, she will have to learn to control her feelings constantly. I feel sorry for her, but she didn't spare me, I thought. And she also did not regret those women. Don't spit in the well — you may need to drink from it.

And then I proceeded her main organ of the body, her main toy, which she was most proud of. I sat on her clitoris and began to make frictions back and forth on her clitoris, and inside me was a hard, rough sandpaper. And with each my friction on her clitoris from it shavings were peeled off. And then I quickened the movements, and I shredded all her clitoris by my emery in tatters. When I sat on it, I thought: what kind of lesbian tricks? But there was nothing lesbian, there was only work. When I reached the very core of her clitoris, it opened completely, and instead of the clitoris was a shapeless open flower of his rags.

I looked at her former clitoris, and I feel better: all, she no longer has this favorite fun and will never be. And on top of this flower I poured some chemical salt, corroding everything there constantly. Now, with any of her sexual arousal, with any rush of blood into her genitals and thoughts of sexual pleasure, this salt will immediately begin to corrode everything there. And she will restrain her feelings and her sensuality with full dedication. She'll have to do it, or she won't be able to live at all. Because as soon as she will look at some man, she will feel sexual arousal, which she loves, and immediately in her breasts, inside, and in her mammilla the thorns immediately will activate, and in her stomach the thorns will activate, and in her former clitoris, and in her vagina inside, everywhere the thorns will begin to act.

With Lona is over. Her favorite work has come to an end, without any hope of getting back there. And now she was destined only to control her feelings. She never restrained her feelings, but now she will have to learn to control it. She was very proud of her well-developed sensuality. Now she will try to do everything to keep this sensuality in check. It's hard! Very hardly. Especially if to this so much habit. But what to do? That's life. Don't spit in the well — you may need to drink from it. She didn't spare me a bit. Shri Ram and I are an eternal couple. And Lona dare to intervene into the eternal couple, in our relationship with him. She decided to destroy eternal couple.

All, now her only path is to Krishna, because of her unrestrained sensuality, which immediately will activate the action of the prickles poured by me inside her. Now only the Hare Krishna mantra can save her, I thought. I well by the emery whittled her clitoris... Good chamomile turned out... As soon as she will has a sexual desire, excitement, at that very moment, she will begin to feel severe pain, because, due to her sexual arousal, the thorns will act inside her female organs and her clitoris will burn like fire, because it is now like a bare nerve in a tooth, as the live exposed nerve. She lost her favorite job, without any hope of returning there.

She did a lot of nasty things, she would go to hell for it for a lot of time, but she was lucky: she was sent to my Shri Ram, to erase him completely, she had fun with him, said: «Chase her away». And he sent me away, because he couldn't help himself. At Lona everything was configured in order to man could not resist her and her desires, but she didn't know I am an inspector of Universe Patrol. And I'm not just an inspector of Universe Patrol. I'm in Krishna's service. He told me to do it, and I did it.

I put in jeopardy my husband Shri Ram, my eternal couple. And I became the Savior of the Asuras. Each of them could be her prey, her victim. She galloped on them like a flea, she made one man impotent, then another and so endlessly. And how many of them were still to come... But I took down Lona and saved them all. Now they're all my debtors, I thought. But I'm not greedy, let them give me my Shri Ram forever, that will be enough for me, I thought. After that, for a couple of months, I periodically would looking at her and activate thorns in her, and at some point I saw that she could no longer tolerate, that she is ready for anything to end this torture, and then Krishna told me not to touch her anymore, He took her under His protection, and she went on the path of devotional service to Krishna.

110. My star

Shri Ram and I got back together. But I have established a persistent inferiority complex that I am far from his ideal of woman. He must be sorry that I am like that, I thought. Lona's much better than me. I do not want to harass men. And I don't want to become as a rubber doll. I truly felt sorry for him. Such an instance has sailed... She was tidbit, which he immediately swallowed, deciding to leave me. I'm much worse than her. I have cold radiators. I felt so sorry for him... He is forced to be with me, such a duty for him. No escape. I'm such a usurper which does not fit him according to the desired criteria. But the acts of family well-being we have with him safely resumed.

And he started coming to me on sleep territory. In one dream we were getting on the bus, there were a lot of people came, and at the door of the bus was evil conductress. And suddenly we had no tickets. I tell her, they say, how much for a ticket is necessary, and she is so categorical: «All tickets at the box office, go there». I was upset, I turned back, I see, Shri Ram (every time in a different way he was in my dreams) looked this conductress in the eye and gives her money. She took them like a robot, and we got in the bus. I was very surprised how he did it, and then I thought that he is an asura, for him to do the manipulation with her mind is pushover.

My resentment at him did not pass, and I began to think to forgive him. I thought maybe it was his manipulating my mind. But still... the signs of the Universe have Come to improve our acts of family well-being. I strongly hesitated, but then come around, after as me in the oracles said, that do this need to, nourished German, this will improve our lives. Indeed, improved, and even as... So it we went good, stormy, I myself from myself did not expect this... Looking at all this, I thought that, perhaps, my radiators specifically before the arrival of Lona became cold. It was necessary that it with it was. and now I allowed him to press all my buttons, and everything was very good... I immediately notified all the Asuras.

How did I do it? Singing to them in the 121st series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" the song of Yaroslav Klimanov «My star».

Remember every time,
This feeling was somewhere before.
Maybe not here, not now,
But it has captivated us forever.
Two souls in two bodies
Was giving rise to clear sound.
In those words, are tender words of love,
Mystery of encounters, eternal love confession...
And I as before living you,
I live as then, forever.
Your image is mastering over me again.
And I'll follow you like before,
No matter to where, no matter to where.
But I'll hide everything,
Lying to myself all the time,
That you're a vision, you're nothing.
Touch to me at least for a moment.
Let all the people suddenly to look down.
In my memory have re-emerged
The whole of our journey, long or quick.
Before I go,
I will understand the feeling of death in separation.
Everyone who lives in the flesh,
Asks: «Give me a little love!»
I live loving the world again
To expunge you,
To expunge you.
To expunge you....
And I'll follow you like before,
No matter to where, no matter to where.
But I'll hide everything,
Lying to myself all the time,
That you're a vision, you're nothing.
I live loving the world again
To expunge you,
To expunge you.
To expunge you....
But I still live you,
How, then, forever.
But I as before living you,
I live as then, forever.
And until the end of time you are my crazy dream.
And I die in it sometimes...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And until the end of time my mind is captivated by you,
My love, my star,
My star...

I didn't tell Asuras directly, because they are fluent in allegorical speech, extracting the hidden meaning from usual words. I just sang this song, telling them about Shri Ram and me, about our way through lives in this material world full of dangers and traps.

Remember every time,
This feeling was somewhere before.
Maybe not here, not now,
But it has captivated us forever.

And I remembered the feeling that came at me when he was somehow approaching me there, inside, around the heart, and how there was such love that I was scared to even look there, but so wanted to go there and stay there, feeling it completely. But it was impossible to do this, because there was such a strength that I was afraid that from there I would never return, and I live here, raise children. I feel so good there... And this sense of I so felt in those sessions with pillow, when from me themselves poured words about love and I seen golden light and Shri Ram was still with me.

Two souls in two bodies
Was giving rise to clear sound.
In those words, are tender words of love,
Mystery of encounters, eternal love confession...

And then I remembered how in me the life files were raising where he and I were together. When I sang the protective mantras. But I refused to look it, I was scared to watch it, but I knew that we were there together. But he saw it all, and right after that, he came to me and started saying «be my wife, become my wife». How long has it been... how many things happened after that? What happened to that pure sound? What exactly was it covered with? I remembered the words of Prabhu Sasha that I came to him in vain, and thought: who is he to me? For whom did I do what I didn't have to do?

I thought that it's like I remember everyone telling me not to make that decision. I saw everyone standing around me and saying, «Refuse it, refuse it», but I didn't back down on my decision. Why did I do that? Who did I do this for? For who or what? For that clear sound? But is it possible, if so much time has passed, many lives and we are completely different... I'm so sorry, that I came to him. I so want this pure sound, but probably it is a pipe dream, from which me tried to dissuade. Shri Ram is an Asur, he lives many lives as an Asur. And they have a completely distorted view of a woman. I don't want to have anything to do with it. What about that clear sound then???

And I as before living you,
I live as then, forever.
Your image is mastering over me again.
All before him nothing.

In these words, I openly told the Asuras that we with Shri Ram are back together. That his image is standing over me on my inner screen again and I look him in the eyes out of Aisha's eyes and I think, «I love this man». And for this innocent, naive and sincere Aisha, there is no one else. And I like to look at him from her eyes. She is generally far from this world and its concepts, and I do like this fairy tale...

And I'll follow you like before,
No matter to where, no matter to where.
But I'll hide everything,
Lying to myself all the time,

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

That you're a vision, you're nothing.

And I think that in this my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" I'm saying that I made it all up, that I composed it all, and I'm starting to believe it, that Yes, it's all just my fantasies, but after that I again feel him, and I don't need any proof, because he's here, not even at arm's length, he's in my heart, he was never without me, he's always with me. He's so close... but then I think again that no, I just made it up, it can't be because this does not happen.

Touch to me at least for a moment.

Let all the people suddenly to look down.

In my memory have re-emerged

The whole of our journey, long or quick.

And I remember in the sessions with pillow I was looking for him, throwing everywhere my invocation, to all the spaces and said: «Where are you? Why aren't you anywhere?» Who was I looking for there? Is it possible to look for someone whose has never been and whom you do not know? But why does I feel him, as if there was no that emptiness in the space, as if a second, a moment had passed, and as if it really is all is, as if it is all true.

Before I go,

I will understand the feeling of death in separation.

Everyone who lives in the flesh,

Asks: «Give me a little love!»

And I feel that sense of death. All this time. Continuously. And I think: how did I live there, away from him? Who was I? How did I do something there, knowing he was out there? What happened to me? What have I become? I so mercilessly, so brutally, so detached expunge those who get up in front of my inner gaze. What happened to me that I became this? And why those I cross out feel love and I don't feel it? Where does this love come from? They have no more past, they are in the present, they feel this love and pull their hands to me... and they fly there, looking into my eyes and submitting to this feeling...

I live loving the world again

To expunge you,

To expunge you.

To expunge you...

And I see how I shoot by him through the coverings of the material world into outrageous distance, where I can feel Radha and Krishna. I see him flying there, and I think: I came to you to take you out of the material world, because I don't want to be here, and I will going there with you. And I see me shooting by him into a spiritual world and myself flying after him, to where a very different world, where there is no parting and no past. Where only the present. Where he will fly, because I came to him to expunge him from the material world. Forever.

And I have already destroyed so many Asuras and obliged them to ask Krishna and Radha for us with Shri Ram, and they will do everything to make it happen. His striking out from the material world is inevitable. Whatever he thinks and whatever choice he makes. Because the result will still be the same: his striking out from the material world. And I was singing this song and saw that I shoot by him right into the spiritual world and follow him there, forever.

111. St. Petersburg leader of the Asuras and Indrani

Time never stands still, and continuous change is a fact. Life goes on. In 123rd series I made an announcement, whose of the asuras will be crossed out next. I said that we with Shri Ram had this love the other day... but in order to ignite in me a passion for him, Shri Ram dared to put an indecent images into my consciousness. Asuras are able introduce into our consciousness the thoughts necessary to them, both images, and episodes from our past. Shri Ram threw in into my consciousness obscene images, expecting that it initiate at me sexual languor and we will deal with him a sex. I was able to recognize that it is not my thoughts, but his manipulation of my consciousness, and this fact angered me so much... And I remembered how I was coming as Mata Hari to the asuras into their asuric worlds, was becoming there the wife of the strongest asur and what was done with me there, that I then was eliminating this asur, and then was leaving the body.

I thought: why am I treated like a body, an empty shell, not deserving of self-respect? And I thought that if Shri Ram is trying to stimulate me to have sex with him using these lewd images, then he treats me accordingly. And I remembered how at my lady friend in St. Petersburg periodically slipped in her consciousness of such pictures. I know where these images come from and for what, I said. Asuras like to slip women all sorts of obscene pictures, videos, thoughts, and the woman thinks that it is her thoughts and desires. A woman thinks she thinks so herself. «I think that about it think I».

No, it's not you who thinks that, but asuras into your mind introduced these images, these thoughts and desires, from the outside, invisibly, in the distance, and you think it's yours. And when the woman thinks that it is she thinks, that it is her thoughts and desires, asuras use it to their advantage. Some single women satisfy themselves, masturbate, and the Asuras at this time throw into their mind these obscene pictures, videos with these orgies. In fact, all this is happening, but only at the energy plane of existence. Everything that this woman sees in her mind happens to her, but at the energy plane of existence. Everything that she sees when she begins to masturbate, thinking that no one is present, happens to her, but at the energy plane of existence. And when during masturbation she sees in her imagination, on her mental screen, how different men fuck her, and in a way as she does not want, it actually happens to her, but at the energy plane of existence.

Yes, she is there in her apartment alone and no one near there, but vulgar images were thrown in her consciousness from the outside, has caused this sexual desire, forcibly, from outside, she began to masturbated, and then as raced in her mind, orgies... Kaleidoscope with unclear who in some odd poses... And after that she's ashamed to remember it, she's thinking how all these thoughts could come to her mind? But in reality, it is the Asuras that guide her will, her thoughts and desires. Yes, they personally are not present in her apartment, but they are plug unto her energetically and use her as they want, and these orgies that arise in her mind during her Masturbation is a reality, but at the energy plane of existence.

And such thoughts and desires were inserting into consciousness of my lady friend in St. Petersburg... I brutally will tear them, I decided. Shri Ram, palming to me in my consciousness these filthy images, was thinking that this will work, like works at all women. For Asuras it is a standard move. They think that a woman is a shell, body with base motives and desires and if at her to stimulate these base desires, lust, then everything will turn out. It is unfortunate that a woman, a person, is considered to be this insignificant, grasshopper shell, who needs only grasshopper pleasures and nothing else, to whose consciousness can introduced vulgar pictures, and her consciousness will flow down there, and there the process will develop as they need, I thought.

And I remembered how these pictures were having been thrown into consciousness of my lady friend in St. Petersburg, but it is unusual for her. I know for sure, I've known her for many years close enough to say that she is not like that. I remembered how she told me that periodically in her mind there were thoughts and pictures on the topic of sex. She told me that she then did and what orgies she had seen with her participation at the same time at her internal screen. And many women think that these thoughts are her own. But it's not. Those thoughts aren't her own. These thoughts were thrown in her consciousness from the outside. This influence from the outside, invisible and inaudible, but very effective, at the level of mind and feelings. She is invisibly influenced and forced to think that she wants it. And she thinks that she is so, so depraved and so lustful, with perverted imagination.

No, she is not such, it's with her so do, from above imposing their will and pressing the buttons in her women's centers, at the distance. Without anyone's presence in real life, but with a real presence there, with her. And in many cases there with her is not one asur, but a whole crowd. You are sitting alone, no one is there, and this picture has been thrown into your mind. You think it seemed to you. No, it did not seem to you. If it seemed, means that it happens, but it just happens on a subtle, energetic level.

When I said all this in the 123rd series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife", I wanted to comment on some long-ago saved screenshots from the first series of the series «Mahakali». There were no other screenshots, I had absolutely nothing to say, and I had to reveal the topic of those screenshots from «Mahakali». There was a story about Daksha's sacrifice. Like Daksha, hiding behind the protection of Narayana, overstepped his authority and showed disrespect to Sati, his daughter, to Shiva and to all the rest. Then Mahakali appeared and said that because defilement is in the head of Daksha, he must be decapitated, and Shiva chopped his head off from his shoulders.

When I was covering this story, I realized that I was told about this case, about St. Petersburg Asuras. Drawing Parallels between commented by me story from «Mahakali» and my words that right now we will deal with the punishment of St. Petersburg Asuras, who had the audacity to influence my lady friend, I saw that here talking about the most main St. Petersburg Asur. Because in the story from «Mahakali» it was about the defilement in the head of Daksha. The word «head» means the chief, the most main.

And I thought that now on turn is the most important the St. Petersburg asur. He covers by the protection of Narayana, and therefore dares to exceed his authority. He affects women and draws them into their orgies, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. And he at the same time plug unto her the whole his crowd of asuras, use her sexually as they want and at the same time they pump out all her feminine energy. Accordingly, humiliating her, putting her in a completely ugly situation.

After the recording of this 123rd series I had a lot of questions about St. Petersburg the leader of the Asuras. I turned on, as usual by method of random pointing, without looking, one of the 820 series of television series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», and I got a 631st series, with the story of Nahush. From it I understood that the St. Petersburg leader of the Asuras has a wife, and she is a devotee of Shiva. Because in this series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» was the conversation Nahush and his wife, Ashoksundari, she is the daughter of Shiva. There was a story that Nahush, becoming the king of heaven, was going to go to the wife of Indra, Indrani, in her private chambers, so that she sang to him, danced and did everything he will say her. And Ashoksundari resented this decision of her husband, Nahush, and said him to refuse from this idea.

When in the 124th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" I commented this story, I clearly realized that through me there is a projection of the relationship of the St. Petersburg leader of Asuras with his wife, who is devotee of Shiva. And the projection of the relationship is not here, at the physical level, but at the level of, as they say, the highest «I». Because here wife of St. Petersburg asur did not know that her husband is asur. After all, they live among us as ordinary-looking people. And even not many can know that this good, educated, nice, charming, credible and just a nice person has some unusual abilities.

And the wife of this St. Petersburg asur did not know that her husband is Asur and does a lot of bad things, especially with women. Yes, at some energy level, but the essence does not change. It's happening. And because of the Asuras have the ability to enter into any objects and plug unto people, including in their sex, especially in sex, for them it's all as if in real life, though no one will ever guess about it.

And, commenting on the conversation Ashoksundari with her husband Nahush, I saw that this is showing the relationship of the wife of St. Petersburg asur to his asuric activities, in the plane of the higher self, where nothing can be hidden, despite the fact that here you know nothing. From this history it became known that St. Petersburg asur is captured in their nets a kind of Indrani, a sublime woman, a married woman, and the wife of the St. Petersburg asur strongly against it. She is his wife, she knows nothing about what he Asur, and about his Asuric activity, that he breaks women, that they arrange orgies with them through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence and that they pumps women's energy from women on a regular basis. She knows nothing about it but on higher levels, on levels of the higher «I», she does not agree with this his activity and is sharply against.

This story showed me that this St. Petersburg asur suppressed the consciousness of some good sublime married women and makes her their concubine, doing with her perverted sex through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. This woman, Indrani, didn't want it, but he forced her into it, and she didn't can resist it, and was doing everything that St. Petersburg asur wanted. There was said, that this Indrani refused him not wanting to cheat on her husband, even if this is happening and not in physical reality, but on some energy level of. All Asuras in his asuric organization saw Indrani refused him, and he decided to take revenge her and applied to her force methods. Alas.

I personally saw the effect of these force methods when my Shri Ram applied them to me at the very beginning of our interaction at a distance. When he pressed some buttons in my women's centers and I felt how there rises this sexy hot and then he activated on those energy levels to me the mode of apparent estrus, and in my body showed signs that are at females dogs in sexual heat, when the female has an ovulation period and sexual heat forces her to mate with males. Shri Ram was breaking me down, lowering me to lower, animal levels. I didn't even know it was possible with us humans before, but I saw it with my own eyes. Then I realized that this is not some hormonal surge and not some unclear sexual desire. I clearly realized that this is impact from the outside.

I got lucky. I saw this and asked for help, sending somewhere in the vastness of the Universe my requirement protect me and to punish offenders. And I have all these symptoms of the animal estrus disappeared immediately, even half an hour has not passed. Yes, it could be attributed to the rampant flight of my imagination, if it did not happen to my body, on the physical level. And that St. Petersburg asur did the same thing to that Indrani. She is of a sublime nature, with divine nature and she is married. But nothing stopped him; he subjected her applying to her the force methods and broke her will, turning her into, in fact, a puppet in his hands.

And she was all aware of what was happening to her. She could distinguish where her desires and actions are, and where she is forced to do someone else's will. This caused her even more suffering, as she saw that she was forced to have sex with someone who keeps her at the energy plane of existence and does not let go for a second, and that she was cheating on her husband. Yes, infidelity is on the physical level was not, as in physical reality she had no one but her husband, but in fact she cheated on her husband. And even through his body. That is, St. Petersburg asur did not disdain to be present in their marital sex, and Indrani knew about it, but is it possible to tell someone about this? No one will take this seriously and only say that it is either a fantasy of the mind, or a mental disorder and should be treated.

She did not tell anyone about this and endured for many years. She couldn't respect herself and felt guilty about it all the time in front of her husband, even though she couldn't help it. St. Petersburg asur was activating this irresistible sexual desire at her when he desired, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. Any time of day or night. And he was getting particularly keen delight seeing as a woman, a wife, forcing her husband to have sex, realizing that now with her through his body will be another, that she herself involves her husband in this triangle. And but it wasn't a triangle, it was a polygon, because the St. Petersburg asur were plugging unto her his fellows into marital sex of Indrani with her husband.

And she was realizing that, because St. Petersburg asur was especially pleased with her mental anguish. And even they were presented to each other in real life. It is unlikely that St. Petersburg asur would have missed that opportunity to feel his great power and humiliation of Indrani, looking her in the eye and politely conversing with her in real life on spiritual topics, and then together with his boys dirty having her at the energy plane of existence in her marital sex with her husband, spending himself across the body of her husband. Indrani appealed to God for protection, asking to protect her dignity as a woman.

112. For liberation of Indrani

And I decided that I would expunge him soon, the next day, November 30, 2017, in Mokshada Ekadashi. In the story of Ashoksundari and Nahush from «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», the wife of St. Petersburg asur at the level of her higher «I» approved of this my decision, saying that she would have done it if she had not been his wife. And thus St. Petersburg asur, even with such a elevate wife and her powerful protection, immediately lost this protection, as on the higher levels his wife did not support his activity and even cursed him for it.

Also in the series Nahush hurt sage, he fell and hit hard, for which the sage cursed him that he for his insult becomes a snake for many years and will live under the ground. From this I learned that the St. Petersburg leader of the Asuras thrown off from higher levels some sages, the devotees of the Lord, what also he needs to be held accountable. Through screenshots from «Mahabharata» for Petersburg asur was said that he must urgently apologize to Indrani and disconnect himself and all his from her.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I felt sorry for her, because I knew what it was like when the Asuras detach from the woman. A woman begins as if menstruating, and extremely painful that can not be tolerated, not at all, as usual. It's like post-op time. But as if cut without anesthesia and without post-op pain meds. But what to do, Indrani will have to go through this pain to get rid of them and their presence in her life, invisible, but so tangible and conscious, I thought. But then she will breathe freely, seeing that this sudden unbearable sexual desire, clearly from the outside is no longer activated in her, and to be sure that it will no longer be repeated.

Pondering about future for him, I decided that he and his wife in the next lives always will be together because she is very good woman and loves him no matter what, and because of in the story of Nahush and Ashoksundari she not dumped him and she waited for the time when the effect of curses Nahush to be held. And I decided that in their next lives they would both be devotees of Krishna, they would be the married couple. Now she is a devotee of Shiva, but in future lives they will both be devotees of Krishna, grihastha. And he will obey her in everything. In this life he did not listen to her and did not pay attention to the fact that she was broadcasting to him in an allegorical form in the flow of words, although she gave him the right, clear guidelines. She clearly broadcast him that he did not do what he did, but he did not listen her and did not obey.

And I decided that in their next lives, he would listen to her and her broadcast through the usual words. He will be under her heel, faithful to her always and everywhere, and she will lead him on the right path — to Krishna into the spiritual world. She will go to Krishna herself and be his spiritual master. And they will come to Krishna without fail. They will have a good family, they will be faithful to each other, and they will give birth to children, devotees of Krishna, those who want to return to Krishna, who needs to continue their journey back to Krishna. And they will help them to return to Krishna.

Before they return to the spiritual world, they will live together, will have children and return them all to the spiritual world, to Krishna. They will be exemplary grihastha, and then they'll return to the spiritual world. He will be such a faithful husband; will not be looked on other women. He will look just on his wife. And she will always be happy with him and his movement forward to Krishna. And I said that if he did not release that Indrani and she did not forgive him, then all those lives in his future would be very difficult, he would be poor, unlucky, sick, something bad would happen to him all lives, he will have some accidents, fatal bad luck, but it will contribute to his advancement into the spiritual world. But if he releases Indrani, repents, and she forgives him, then they will have normal future lives. And he was given only one day for this, since the next day, November 30, 2017, Mokshada Ekadashi, he was assigned to leave there.

The St. Petersburg leader of asuras was wrong, he infringed on people going on the spiritual way, threw them to the lower levels of consciousness with the help of his asuric abilities, also liked to amuse himself orgies, forcing women, both single and married, to have sex on an energy level with asuras from his asuric organization. But he especially distinguished himself by the fact that he applied force to one Indrani, a married woman, going on the spiritual way. She denied him his claims when he tried to involve her in his sexual orgies on an energy level.

He broke her willpower down and invaded their marital sex, forcing her to grovel in front of her husband and forcing him to have sex with her when this St. Petersburg asur was pressing buttons in her women's centers. He was invisibly present in their sex, manifesting himself through her husband's body at the energy plane of existence. She was aware what was happening, but could not help it, because St. Petersburg asur was a powerful Asur and carried out against her especially massive attacks.

I was given him because Indrani asked the Lord to protect her female dignity. This St. Petersburg asur had a good wife, devotee of Shiva. He counted on her protection and because of he became too insolent. But he underestimated the purity of his wife, because she, not even knowing that her husband was an Asur and was doing such abominations with other women at the energy plane of existence, was strongly opposed to his activities, at the level of the higher self. And when I came to destroy him, through the story of Nahush and Ashoksundari she said me, her husband and all Asuras that if she was not his wife, she would curse him for his misdeeds. And he forfeited her protection.

Through screenshots from the television series «Mahabharata» he was told that he should correct the injustice, it was about Indrani. And I added that if he does not do it, then all the next lives he will be a fatal loser, a beggar, a sick, attracting to himself a solid one misfortunes. And he was given a chance to correct this situation, freeing Indrani from them, Asuras, and from their influence.

113. The liberation of the leader of St. Petersburg asuras

The day of his striking out was determined, it was November 30, 2017, Mokshada Ekadashi, a powerful day, very favorable, giving for the outgoing souls a good impetus. All this day I was given the signs of the Universe with some request. I didn't understand what was asked of me. But when I started expunging St. Petersburg asur, I came to realize what it meant. I was asked not to delay this case too much and not too to torment him to spare feelings of his wife. His wife could not save him from his deletion, but saved him from pain and prolonged execution. He was lucky. His wife turned out to be so exalted and dear to Krishna as a faithful wife that He asked me to quickly and easily send her husband for her sake, so that she would not feel too much suffering, seeing the external manifestations of this event.

I took into account this request of Krishna and fulfilled His desire. I quickly sent St. Petersburg asur, bringing down on him full power, so he immediately flew out of his body. But he still did not immediately fly out, still had to burn from him out asuric nature. And at some point, when he was ready to fly out, when he was already hanging in his body somewhere on the level between Manipura and Anahata, I saw his connection with his wife. It was a powerful thick rope, and around this rope were some other strings, back and forth, a whole bunch. He had a pile of some affections, maybe, the mistresses in real life, or the non-contact whores, without contact of physical bodies, energetically, through distance, or all together. And with my big scissors, I cut off all these attachments, leaving only a powerful rope of his connection with his wife.

I thought that they would have many lives together and he won't have any other women, they would have a faithful couple, a model couple of Lord Krishna's devotees. Because I want them to return to Krishna into the spiritual world, and for this they need to become devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada, so that they serve Krishna as a couple for many lives. They will give birth to children, those who have already been devotees of Krishna in their past lives, who need to be born somewhere at devotees of Krishna to continue their journey and return to Krishna into the spiritual world.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And such devotees, of course, want to be born and grow up in a family of devotees of Krishna. They want to live in such a way that they are not forced to eat meat in their family. They want to live in such a way that in their family they are not inculcated the concept of seeking enjoyment of the material world. They want to live in such a way that in their family they are not stimulated to the race, who is cooler, who is better, who is more successful in the material sense. They want to live in such a way that in their family they are not taught to snatch onto this material world: «We live once, we need to take more, the years go by, and you have to try everything». Such devotees of Krishna want to progress spiritually so that immediately from birth they can advance to Krishna in the spiritual world. And this former St. Petersburg asur with his wife will become such a family in which just such devotees of Krishna will be born. And I strengthened this rope of their bond, made their bond unbreakable, and that no one else was there, and quickly sent him up there.

I could have tortured him, hurt him very long. But I was asked for his wife sake to spare her feelings, and so he was sent there easily and quickly. And when he was flying out there, I felt like he was inviting me over. And I, talking about that in 125th series, said that in some future life I'll be their guest, in their house and they will be to treat me to the tastiest sweets, prasad, they will have a good deity, wonderful kids will run, good kids. And during my broadcast came out a screenshot with the blessing that so be it.

After a while, I realized what I said, because the child is a guest in the family. And so I learned that in some of their next lives I will accept the birth at them, at this former St. Petersburg asur and his wife, who is in this life a devotee of Shiva. And then I said that they will treat me with a gorgeous prasad and the most delicious sweets and there good children will be running around. And I'll run around as their child. And he invited me himself! It happened when he flew out into that whirlwind from above. He flew out 30 November. From my words that they will treat me with a gorgeous prasad and the most delicious sweets and they will have some good cool deities, I realized that he released Indrani, because I warned him to do it, otherwise his future lives will be very difficult.

But since they will give me a great reception and there will be a delicious prasad, sweets, deities, good children, I realized that he released Indrani. And on December 2 I was convinced of it with my own eyes. On that day I was plunged into somewhere, saw something there, moved apart it with my beam, and there opened heart. I didn't know what it was. And even thought, and suddenly it's another Asur, and it should be hit him and painful, but I couldn't hit it. But I managed to gently touch this heart and do something with it somehow, and it swung open, and from there went something beautiful Golden-silver.

After I had the thought that I treated her heart, freed from the influence of the St. Petersburg Asuras and from their invisible but no less real and no less tangible presence in her life. And when I touched her heart, I felt such pain there, such fatigue... But after my touch to her heart it was transformed and lit up with soft light. Indrani is free, I thought. We made it.

St. Petersburg's Asuras were very concerned about the issue that will be with the wife of their former leader, maybe need to take care of her, like Petruha took responsibility for the former wife of Splinter and took her his wife. The Asuras waited for what I'll say about it, knowing that I very respected women like the wife of the St. Petersburg Asur. And they thought what to do with it. But I during commenting the screenshots from the 633rd series of television series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» said that she will be faithful to him and she does not need any other man that she will be the rest of his life to pray for her husband and will wait for them to be reunited in the next life.

All the Asuras were very impressed with this. They're lucky! They had the good fortune to associate with such a woman. Just because she was the wife of their former leader. And he is so lucky that she's his wife! After all, only for her sake I did not torture him and prolong this execution. I've been asked to do this all day. The Asuras did not appreciate women, but in vain... And St. Petersburg Asur did not appreciate his wife and did not listen to her words and to her broadcasting in an allegorical form in a string of ordinary words. But she took care of him so much that the procedure of his strikeouts was significantly reduced and softened. And she will be faithful to him and pray for him, for his good.

Even the Asuras, it happens, lucky with the ladies. Petruha is also very lucky. Shri Ram is lucky or not, I don't know, because even though I am his eternal wife, I have a harmful character. I was told about this in my contact with my team back on February 8, 2016. They spoke through me, taking me out of my peculiar answer to Shri Ram on his inaudible question about true love... They told me: «It was always difficult with you».

And I think: Shri Ram probably imagined his woman to be calm, soft, feminine, with whom it would always be easy and simple... But the reality was so far from expectations. I even feel sorry for Shri Ram. But at the same time, I am his eternal couple, his real woman. How can it be that with your real woman it would be difficult? Maybe it'll be easy, I thought. Probs not. My team knows me already many-many lives and between lives. They studied me thoroughly and probably said it specifically so that Shri Ram would know.

114. The punishing Shani

After fly to the next lives of St. Petersburg Asur, I thought, which of the Asuras is next in line. And then Yandex showed me one plunged me into the abyss of grief little article. In that article, it tells the story of 150 American women athletes who opened up the ugly pages of their sports careers when a sports doctor all the time of their sports activities harassed them sexually, from their 10 years of age and older. That doctor was given life imprisonment. He sexually harassed them when he examined them before classes, competitions. And since they were professional athletes, they had to constantly undergo this procedure and they could not avoid it. And only in adulthood they have gained courage and opened those dark sides of their childhood to the coach punished.

And I thought maybe the following Asuras specialized in perversion with children. Alas, we are in the material world, there are such situations. Especially in Kali Yuga, when most people look at others as material, as objects for squeezing pleasure and do not shun anything. Even some 30 years ago it was much quieter, but now everyone is driving cars, it has become technically very easy to kidnap a person, and even more so a child who is naive and believes everything. Many children get into the orphanage, and how they are treated, no one really knows. One of my friends told me how in the Soviet years under the windows of their house periodically came a car with children from the orphanage, there all night drove other cars, and men chose those children for the night for sexual pleasures, there were and girls and boys, and these children there screamed hysterically, trying to attract attention and escape. And that friend said that those children's cries prevented them from sleeping at night and they wrote complaints to the police to remove these cries out their windows. That is, people did not come to help, did not ask to eradicate this phenomenon and protect children, they asked to ensure their quiet existence. And that car came to their windows long enough until it moved to another location. It is still in Soviet times children in orphanages were selling, and right now what can happen, terribly to think...

And from that story about that doctor-molester and from that story of my friend, I realized that now I was given a difficult task: is to eliminate those Asuras who specialized in children. But I did not want to look in that direction... I did not want neither seen nor heard about it. I tried to get those thoughts out of my mind, but they didn't go away. I decided that if I have to do this, I would. But what to do them? Just burn their Asuric nature, hurt them very much and send them into new incarnations as devotees of Krishna? Not for them. No, they didn't deserve that. It would be a too luxurious gift for them. I'm not going to give any gifts to these kinds of creatures, I thought. I try to impose these thoughts, but I do not agree with them. What to do with those who scoffed at children, who are helpless and who can not protect themselves? Even adult women can not defend themselves from the force methods of Asuras, what we can say about children? It's unforgivable, it is punishable, I thought.

And when these thoughts wandered in my mind, in VKontakte posted another, 142nd series of the series «Shani», which I then watched. I sat down to watch it, hoping to have a good rest and relax, but it was not there: Shani was the karma fruit giver, but in this series he suddenly became a Punisher. And as I watched this series, I realized that these Asuras, who bullied the children, should not be sent to their better lives, so that they could return to Krishna. Gifts in the form of following good incarnations with subsequent return to the spiritual world them do not rely. They will be punished.

But I did not know what kind of punishment, what to do with them and where to send, and on the screenshots from the teleserial «Mahabharata» during my commenting on this story with Shani showed me that this group of Asuras should be sent to the underworld, to the hellish worlds, into the hands of the yamadutas, where they will for a very long time and a lot of torment. And Shani in this story by his punishing gaze began to hurt Devi Sanghya, whose he had to punish. In the form of karma fruit giver Shani gave the living beings many chances to return to the right path, but if someone, despite this, did not choose the right path, then, becoming a Punisher, Shani began to hurt them.

And from all this, I realized what to do with this group of Asuras who bullied children. We have to hurt them so much and do it so long that they cannot tolerate this pain, but so that they cannot leave their body, and then we have to send them to hell, to the yamadutas. There sinners are punished, causing them great pain, but they don't die because they have a special fine-material body that feels pain but can't die. And during the near washing dishes I started punish them.

As that time went on TV 143rd series of teleserial «Shani» in which Sanghya put some kind of powerful protection from Shani. Those Asuras, too, has made some powerful protection, in order to avoid punishment. All your attempts are in vain, I thought, since I am an inspector of Universe Patrol in the performance of myself duties and in this task I acting as a Punisher. Rakhe Krishna mare ke, mare Krishna rakhe ke, "When Krishna protects you no one can kill you but when Krishna wants to kill you no one can protect you", I thought. The Asuras so naive, they set out to avoid the inevitable? None of your protection will not stand against my internal gaze and my thoughts, I thought.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

First I pulled out from them all the blessings they had, for the power received as a blessing can be lost because of the crime. Then on my internal screen I began to burn out them their body organs which they, actually, used in the vile activity. I burned their genitals a lot, tore from the inside and pressed them well on the pain points. In the 143rd series of teleserial «Shani» it was shown that it is necessary to make them as helpless and defenseless as those children who they were bullied.

And I have so long and so hard drilling into their painful points in the area of their genitals that they even could not utter a word because of shock. Some Asuras decided to come to their aid to ease their suffering. They tried to cover them with some impenetrable covering so that I could not reach them, but this shroud could not be an obstacle to my inner gaze, and I during the day did several approaches, each time rending and burning out their different places and drilling different pain points. One thing was constant: even when I left them in order to do my business the pain wouldn't let go them, as my finger was always immersed in their pain points. And no the artificially introduced cover could not stop me. And waves of pain rolled on them continually, like wave after wave in the sea, with increasing the amplitude of the pain.

In the 144th and 145th series of television series «Shani» it was shown that it is necessary to make everyone leave them and to they were completely alone. This group of Asuras still cherished hope, who someone from Asur will think up how to stop me and the rolling on them all increasing intolerable pain, but I was told to make so that they remained one, and I began to carry out it. First of all, I initiated the decomposition of prostate at this group of Asuras into components, and there's nothing left of their prostate. The prostate is a very important organ for all men, and since they did their abominations over children by their male organs, then which part of the body did it, there we will beat, I thought.

I have activated the simultaneous execution of two opposite actions: the decomposition and restore of the prostate tissue. Their prostate was constantly decompose, stinks, and immediately in this place prostate there was beginning regenerate. And I let in there many maggots, which are very fond of this stinking, rotting prostate, likes it. And these maggots were so glad that they got into such prostate that they began to devour it with great pleasure. And when they was seeing that somewhere the restoration of prostate tissue begins, they immediately was beginning to lay eggs there, from which the larvae that adore such places immediately hatched, and these larvae began to gnaw them completely. And I did it to every Asur from this group.

I also let in some very small black biting insects in there. But it wasn't enough. So that other Asuras have no desire to help them, I did one maneuver. All these beetles, worms and larvae suddenly turned out to be very contagious. This infection turned out to be peculiar. It turned out that these beetles, worms and larvae spread this infection to those who wanted to help that group of Asuras, who even somehow tuned in to them.

And I even felt sorry for those Asuras who have already managed to do something in this direction and who have already discovered the first signs of this infection in their prostate, since this infection cannot be cured by anything. Now and about them can be said, that this guy is not bad, just urinates often and sex is no longer for him, been mulling I. Now they will have to drink medications for prostate treatment for the rest of their lives, but nothing will help, because the infection is very insidious and tricky. This is to them for what they wanted to outwit the inspector of Universe Patrol in the performance of their duty.

And I told for Asuras that if any of them will want to protect them, or do something to help them, or just throw his gaze at them, then they will sign their sentence. The thing is, these bugs and worms in the decomposing prostates has a special radar, sensitive to any perturbation in direction the ones I'm torturing now, and these bugs and worms immediately on this beam sends this infection in their prostate. And process goes, and those who wanted to help them acquire immediately disease in their prostate, and it can not be stopped, no by drugs, no by operations, no by passes of hands, no by conspiracies, nothing.

And in case, if women Asury will want to help to these sent to the hellish worlds Asuras, I made another maneuver. I made their urethras radioactive. From their urethra constantly gushing powerful radioactive radiation. If any woman or even a man, no matter, will wants to help them, then immediately be irradiated with this radiation. And they will have all the signs of radiation sickness, when climbs the hair, nails deteriorate and crumble, baldness begins, nausea, vomiting attacks...

And from this group of the Asuras constantly emanates radioactive radiation, a stream of radiation from the urethra. Hair loss is nothing compared to what will happen after that. The Asuras will be afraid to even think about them, I thought, and this whole group, which we are now striking out, will feel their loneliness, insecurity and helplessness, that children felt, over which they were bullying, because everybody will leave them: everyone is afraid for his prostate, prostate for man is very important and necessary, and prostate problems are very painful and unpleasant for a man.

They are not enemies to themselves, I thought, they'll disown that group of crossed out asuras. They will be afraid even think about them because suddenly think now, and will begin problems with prostate. Women asury too, will don't want to help them, because each woman cherishes her own appearance, good health and mood. She'll think, «My hair is dear to me. I'll think about them, to support them, and then this radiation from their foreskin will pour down on me, and that's all. Hair will fall out, the nails will crumble, and diseases will begin». I calmed down. The problem is solved. No one needs them anymore. And they were all alone. One-on-one with me. And I am inspector of the Universe Patrol, punitive Shani. And I will send them all to the hellish worlds, and before that I will very much torment them. That's life. Such is the material world, here happen such situations. We must return to the spiritual world.

When I drove away from that group of Asuras who specialized in children, all their companions and they remained one, one-on-one with me, absolutely helpless and defenseless as they liked to do it with children, I engaged them with all gravity. I was told to beat them on loins that are on that zone where there are male genitals, and around. And I have a few days with full force was hitting at their loins by my great cudgel, with sharp spikes and shards of glass on it, sticking it deeper into their bodies. No one could help them and somehow alleviate their suffering and did not want to, because even afraid to think in their direction.

It turns out that I have a very sophisticated fantasy. And my trick with infectious insects and worms in their prostate and a radiation constantly gushing out of their foreskin was effective. None of the Asuras did not dare to even think about helping them. To each his own shirt closer to the body appeared. And I tortured them in the most incredible ways, as I was told. Their loins long all have been many times broken, but I continued and continued to batter there, stuck in them all sorts of terrible rays and broken glass. Those asuras already couldn't even whisper and waited when it will end. They were ready to go anywhere, even to hell.

I did not give them to pass out for a moment, so that they could feel it all and not fall into shock state in any case. They were conscious every millisecond and felt everything very keenly. I smashed all at them completely. When they could not react any more that it hurts them, I heard a song with the words «not a rash to me salt on a wound, do not sob bitterly, not a rash to me salt on a wound, it still hurts». It is a good decision, I thought, and started to implement this decision. I took a corroding salt coarse grinding and sprinkled by it them, and then I took a Mace and hit it hard on them, right on that salt on them, so that the juice began to come out of them, like from sauerkraut.

115. The tumbling into hell. The meeting with yamadutas

And on December 6, 2017, I began to send them to the final point of their route. I began to deal with them on December 1. All these days, I've been tormented by a terrible remorse who I am to do this... but I was told not to argue, and I did not argue. For five days, they were getting an unbearable sensation... but what was waiting for them in front... it's better not to think about it, because one kind of yamadutas plunges into a stupor and completely paralyzes the will, I thought.

I had the experience of interacting with the yamadutas in my lifetime. This is when my husband krishnait and I lived after the accident at Prabhu Sasha near Mamonovo in his secluded house. He begged us not to do anything foolish there, because he offered this house for Krishna and now it is a temple. But we did not understand the seriousness of his request, and at some point engaged in the very nonsense, we began to have sex there. We lived in this house all alone and thought that no one could see anything. But when we once again engaged sex in complete darkness and silence, at some point the wall of the house suddenly dissolved and instead there was a wall of absolutely unimaginable terrible creatures.

They looked terrifying, they had yellow unblinking eyes, and they stood side by side in front of me. I remember being numb and just looking at them. It was obvious that they were waiting for something, someone's team. I couldn't say anything or even think. I froze. But by some miracle, the words of Hare Krishna's mantra came to my mind. These yamadutas, and this were they, looked at us and slowly dissolved in space, disappeared, and again there was a wall of the house in their place. It was night. How did I see the wall of the house and then them and then the wall again? And how suddenly the wall was gone? And why are they missing? Absolutely stunned, I said to my then husband: «You know what I just saw!» And he said, «You know what I just saw!» And we told each other what we saw at the same time. The description was word for word.

And the yamadutas were now waiting for, and when I send this group of asuras into their hot embraces. And when it came time for them to fly away to that funnel-shaped vortex, I remembered that I was in the screenshots from teleserial «Mahabharata» was told to send them to the lower, hellish worlds and in any case not to argue, they deserved only punishment. If it is necessary, therefore, it is necessary, I thought, and remembered that when souls go to a higher existence, they come out of the body through the upper chakras and when they are so sinful that they should go to only in the lower worlds, then they leave through the lower chakras.

That morning I got an email with some newsletter, in the subject of this mailing was written that today is the day of the big discount («день большой скидки»). «Скидка» («a discount») in Russian from the verb «скидывать» («throw off») and I said that once the discount that will do the discount («скину их ватех» — «I'll throw off all»). We'll throw them off to the max. These days I have been busy with them so much that they very tired me. I so many was torturing them that when they told me to throw off them, I decided to do this quickly, so that more about them not to remember. First, I abruptly yanked out of them with some kind of bung from the bottom, like a plug from the bathroom, and then I imagined a huge funnel-shaped vortex under them, like deep black whirlpool, pulling everything down. Inside it I activated a powerful turbocharged and hit all of them with all my might and they all flew away into black whirlpool at the bottom. It was evident that they were flying there, reaching out their hands, with a chilling expression of horror on their face.

They were all pulled in there, and the funnel-shaped vortex itself suddenly closed. It was so big and the whirlwind circled at breakneck speed, and then completely closed. There were no yamadutas, asuras just flew away into the funnel-shaped vortex. Probably, yamadutas are waiting for them there, at the other end of this whirlwind, I thought. I decided to burn all that was left of them and I put a powerful jet of fire from my flamethrower in there. I look: through the raging fire emerges someone's silhouette. I thought, maybe I missed someone? In this case, it is necessary to send them to the funnel. But the vortex is already closed. It closes when the case is brought to an end, when it has nothing else to eat, when the task is done. And I turned on my scanner and directed it to this silhouette.

I look: such strange colors, not dangerous, neon, pink, and good such, bright. Who it could be, I thought. I look: the silhouette approached, and this is Shri Ram! I fell into his arms and how let's cry... I began to torment the torments of conscience, and I fell into a hysterics, that I, such a good, bright, kind, mother Svetlana, Sveta, mother of light forces [«мама Света» — such said karate coach when I expunged teacher of Shri Ram. It is a game of words. Света (Sveta) it's short for Светлана (Svetlana). «Мама Света» externally means that I am a mother named Sveta. But the word «Света», if it is not the name of the person, can also mean «light», «light forces». And this phrase in his utterance sounds like «mother of light», that is, «mother of light forces»], suddenly turned out to be so cruel, evil, soulless, that sent a whole group of Asuras into the abyss, into the hellish worlds onto eternal torment, although before I was sending everybody into a better existence, in a funnel-shaped vortex from above. But usually yamadutas take sinners in the infernal worlds, so why was it forced to I do? Why did I do all this? And there is the law of karma: what you sow, you reap. I was hysterical, and Shri Ram came to me there to comfort me. We long stood so embracing, I'm good in his arms burst into tears, and then calmed down and went to do my business.

116. Man from past lives

On December 9, 2017, another man came to me on those higher plans, at the energy plane of existence. Shri Ram and I were doing well, even though after Lona I had a strong inferiority complex and I all the time thought that I was far from his ideal and he really wanted and wants this kind of Lona with hot radiators, but he has to be with me, because we somehow turned out to be an eternal couple. Acts of family well-being were brilliant, as I thought. Due to the signs of the Universe we have improved them. On the sleep territory, too, we often met with him.

And suddenly some other man came from somewhere. And I have become their immediately two men — Shri Ram and that man. And both were in my consciousness at the same time. That man ignored the presence of Shri Ram at me and clearly outlined his position. His desire and goal was to become my husband in the physical reality. How it happened that someone else could break into our interaction with Shri Ram, I could not understand. But then I realized it. Before that, Shri Ram has emerged Lona, the ideal of the vagina, with hot radiators, over whom he trembled.

Lona was sent to him to asunder us from him, to after a while to deprive him of all forces and to get me away from the Asuras, so that I sat, shed tears and considered myself a insignificant, because he refused me and that there is much better. And he was so passionate about that Lona that he said to me, «Goodbye and be happy, we're breaking up forever, go find someone, fight fire with fire».

And so he opened the door to other man, and kind of threw the invocation into the world space, saying, «I'm giving this woman to another man. Who needs such a woman, come, she's yours. I don't need her anymore. She's nothing to me anymore. Now she is completely free and ready to accept one of you as her husband. Somebody of you must approach this miserable Svetlana Vinodavani who seems to be my eternal couple, but with whom I don't want to be, because I have such a chic woman, incomparable Lona». That is, Shri Ram by his mental message put me on the transfer, so there someone to take me.

And on December 9, it came out that to me came the man to whom Shri Ram threw me when he was with Lona. That man expressed a desire to take responsibility for me, for my existence, for my happiness, for my well-being and somehow told me that Shri Ram himself refused me and put me on the transfer, that Shri Ram lost all his rights to me and gave them to him. How did I know about that? As always, through the signs of the Universe and communication with my Shri Ram through other people.

My son and I went to the store, and I saw there karate uniforms and belts for them. My children went to karate, and they had white belts. And then I see: the belts hanging very different — white with black stripe, purple, green belt, orange. Lots of different belts. I look at the white belt with a longitudinal black stripe on the entire length of the belt and I think: maybe buy it, especially since it costs quite inexpensive, and then suddenly have to pay more... I take the phone, call the karate coach and say: «Should I buy this belt or not?» I explained what kind of belt. He says, «No, no, this belt is not from our tradition». And I did not buy this belt.

But when we arrived home, I understood that through this belt I was shown that at the highest level to me came a man. Here, in the physical reality, he is not yet, but on the higher planes he has already come and already he already claims his rights. And when I realized that, I immediately felt this man in my space, in my consciousness. I felt both of them in my consciousness, and Shri Ram and this man. And he kind of said me that with him I will have no problems that with him at me everything will be okay, that he is faithful, reliable, and responsible.

Into my mind was pouring thought blocks, they say, you with Shri Ram worry all the time that he, as an Asura, can plug unto you his companions in your intimate interactions, and you will not feel, that you have sex with several Asuras in parallel, through distance, energetically, without contact of physical bodies. He can install to you asuric programs or activate at you not the kind of energy you need. And you worry about it all the time, you don't believe him, because he's already done that. And even he wanted substitute instead himself some gorgeous man, they say, «We will act according to the same scheme, but from other phone. At least you'll be rich, and I will make everything to make you happy».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And this man reminded me of those situations that Shri Ram had cheated me so many times already, that I should not hold on to him and regret it all. He kind of told me that there would be no such problems with him. Like, you'll be my only one and I'll be your only one. Like, I am a faithful man and do not know the Asuric techniques. We'll be a good couple... And with me your mind will always be calm. You're gonna be fine. I take full responsibility for you. He somehow conveyed these thoughts to my mind, and I clearly identified that he is not Shri Ram that he is the man who came to me to take me as his wife.

Also, this man was convincing me that Shri Ram should not be pitied, because he can deceive me at any time and I will shed tears again and consider myself to be nobody and not a woman at all. That I should leave him without any regrets, forget him forever. Like, Shri Ram does not appreciate me, he personally expressed a desire to give away me to another man, and here he came. So serious... He didn't look at Shri Ram at all. Because Shri Ram himself opened the door for him and said, «Come quickly, take her». And now this man has come.

I remembered that Shri Ram had already had a similar situation when he put his first wife on the transfer like that, just thinking that that he won't have children with her, probably she is some kind of defective, and probably with another woman he could have children. And with that thought, he also put her on transfer. There on the higher planes some man got interested in her and took her for himself, then he came to her in the physical reality, and she did not have time to understand how she became his wife. Everything happened as something by itself and very quickly. And now history has repeated itself. Shri Ram again wanted someone better, he was enabled option «and suddenly where is better»... In his field of sight appeared Lona, he switched to her and put me on the transfer.

And like that, I was already taken at those higher planes by another man, and he does not even look on Shri Ram as if Shri Ram does not exist, as if he is an empty place, transparent. I see that he is so confident, he says that will come soon to me in real life, say, wait for me, soon we will together. And he looks at me like his wife, say, all is decided, I'm yours, you're mine, quickly get rid of Shri Ram, and I will come to you in the real world. I look: my consciousness began to flow to him.

I look at them two and say to them: «Guys, you tangled something. You look at me. Why you need me? Go, there's plenty of good, beautiful, young, charming, feminine women. What are you bothering me, what do you want from me?» Then a neighbor comes to me and asks me to help her. I came to her, take a stack of her washed and ironed bed linen and put it in the closet, and there cleanliness is perfect... I look at this purity and tell her: «As you have in the closet clean, cleaned, perfect order», and she answers me: «And I love the order», and I told her: «I also love the order».

I go home and decrypt these words that Shri Ram was alarmed because of this man and told me that he loves me, and I told him that I love him too, but I'm afraid him, because he is Asur, and they have such a distorted attitude towards a woman. Like, I don't know what to expect from you, I don't feel confident with you and not sure about you. But my consciousness began to spill over to that man, and this situation has become tiring me. I didn't want to choose any of them, I didn't even want to think about it, and I remembered how in a recent session with pillow, when Shri Ram still had Lona, he told me: «I will not throw you. I anywhere will not throw you. I will not let you go anywhere. You're mine. You will be mine». I thought, «You told me then that you wouldn't throw me anywhere and you wouldn't let me go anywhere».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I said to Shri Ram, «I will not do anything in this situation. Nothing. You told me you wouldn't let me go anywhere, please, do it. I'll see how you do it». And all day long, Shri Ram tried hard, led my consciousness away from that man, push him out there. I look: this man from my consciousness is gradually moving somewhere, moving away... Then I look: I felt sorry for him, because those desires that he would have fulfilled, if I had stayed with him, will not be fulfilled. I felt so sorry for him....

And I thought, I guess I was helping them all so much. They have some desires that only I can fulfill, because I am a corrector universe scale and a Genie who fulfills desires. And just because I'm with him, he can fulfill his desires that can not be fulfilled without my presence in his life. I felt sorry for this man, and I pitied him for two hours. Then I look: it somehow disappears from my consciousness; my consciousness was calming down, quiet and subsides completely. I look: Shri Ram is back in my consciousness, reigns there.

I think: how Asuras can they do it? How can the Asuras manipulate the consciousness that I didn't do anything, but somehow it worked out the way he wanted? I thought: Asuras can throw his woman somewhere, pressing on her consciousness, so that faithful woman suddenly would go to another man and would become with him, when the Asura need to make it look as if not he kicked her out, and she dumped him. And in the same way may not let go anywhere... because my consciousness had already well spill over to that man by then, but Shri Ram did something there and reigned in my consciousness.

What abilities and capabilities of the Asuras! And the way they look at us... Like at cattle, a herd of cows, obedient to their will. But thanks to these abilities, Shri Ram brilliantly coped with his task, because in my consciousness there was only one he, and about that man I did not even remembering, though from him and breathed such reliability, loyalty and such a good attitude towards me. How easy it is to suppress our will and our consciousness. And we do not even notice it, so smoothly and softly it can be done...

117. Arguments of man from past lives

Two days that man was sitting in my consciousness along with Shri Ram and not left. He very active and resolute was securing his space. He was very confident, knowing that I needed just like him. And he's been telling me all these two days that Shri Ram is unreliable, that I'm not sure about him, and that he can trick me or leave me at any time when he finds someone better. He assured me that he would never leave me, that I would be fine, calmly, confidently, well with him. He said he is a regular, normal man, without these asuric quirks that in sex and in life we will be with him a good couple and it's better for me to forget Shri Ram, as that man soon will come to me in real life.

These two days have been very tiring for me. Shri Ram told me through a neighbor that he loves me, and I told him that I also love him. And I told Shri Ram to do everything himself. And in the second half of the second day, Shri Ram somehow smoothly, imperceptibly, but very effectively pushed that man out of my consciousness. I thought it was over, but on the third day, that man was with me again, was back in my consciousness, parallel to Shri Ram.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

It has come to my attention that all these years no one has approached me close enough, not because I am not interested in anyone and the Universe does not care how I live, but because I myself did not let anyone at those higher, energy levels, keeping the road open for Shri Ram. And when Shri Ram himself sent me to transfer, calling men who want to be with me, he removed, at the highest, energy level, that wall that separated the men who wanted to be with me from me. There were a lot of applicants to be with me and they were all very happy that Shri Ram had abandoned me since all these years I didn't give any of them access to me.

And then were able to declare themselves and try their luck. But he won in this situation and got the opportunity to do it, and because he was so sure that he honestly got this opportunity, achieved his and now it's only for me that I will decide. And this man took advantage of this great opportunity and came to me in my consciousness as a full owner. Yes, he come yet on that level, in consciousness, but marriages are made in heaven. I mean, at that higher, energy level, and then at the physical level. Everything is solved there, but here, in real life, someone can come to you only when everything is already decided there. People don't notice it coming from their awareness, but I'm so lucky that I saw this interaction before it coming to the physical reality.

This man wasn't going to back down so easily. Shri Ram somehow supplanted him of my space, and I thought that is the end of the story, but he still broke through, he came back in my consciousness, and so actively... This time he was convincing me that he knows me for a long time, that we lived been together as a couple for many lives, that we knew each other well from past lives and that it was always good for me with him. He told me that he is very reliable, that he had been with me for many lives and that he was always reliable, faithful to me. He even said that he love me and is happy to be with me again.

It was all so amazing to me! I felt that everything he said is true. I really felt that I know this man well and that I feel calm and confident with him. And he tried so hard to convince me to remove from my vital files Shri Ram and include him. He said that at the two years of our interaction with Shri Ram, he did not came to me and that during this time he had many women.... But he, this man, was waiting for me and he did not need other women. That the Affairs on the side aren't for him, that he isn't such.

His arguments were correct. I was not sure about Shri Ram and I didn't feel confident about him in our future, but I saw and felt that the man who came to me is a faithful family man who looks and will look only at me. But I was very confused by the fact that they both sit in my consciousness and that everyone sees his opponent and his arguments and actions. I was ashamed before Shri Ram that there was someone else in my consciousness with him and that I was listening to his arguments and agreeing with them. But I was not to blame for this; because Shri Ram himself put me on transfer and now reaped the fruits of his decision. Who am I? I am a woman. Really a woman is a baton, Olympic flame which one runner passes to another?

This situation was very uncomfortable for me. I began to have doubts about Shri Ram because even though this Shri Ram is my eternal couple, the arguments of this man were really strong. And I as a woman need protection and confidence in life and in the man who is with me. This man could have given me that. And he also said he loves me for a long time, that all that lives when we were a couple (I didn't know about it), he loved me and protected and that this love and now he has. He said that he had waited so long for this opportunity and now he is not going to miss it.

Shri Ram, he said, didn't wait for me, he was always having sex with other women. And when I came to him, he did not look at me as a woman who could be his woman and whom he was looking for even in sleep territory. Shri Ram looked at me as an object for pumping feminine energy from me on a regular basis and for plugging unto me his companions to have me in sex, at the energy plane of existence. He was going to make me have sex with some man so that he would connect to that sex invisibly and pump my feminine energy out of me and enjoy me sexually, invisibly, imperceptibly and without my permission, to violate my fidelity and even using force methods. Shri Ram didn't wait for me. When I arrived in his zone of influence, he wanted to pump my feminine energy out of me, to make this happen on the regular.

And then, when he found out about us in our past lives and when guide brought him to me in the sleep territory, he still did not give up those sexual pleasures at the energy plane of existence. And when he had a good woman in real life, he immediately told me that I am free, it's over. He was with that woman and loved her, but at the same time he had sex at the energy plane of existence with a whole bunch of women from his Asuric organization, through distance, without contact of physical bodies. In real life he was only with that good woman, but actually he had was heaps of sex with other women. And when his life went downhill and he almost went bankrupt and a homeless beggar, all those women came to me on my internal screen to tell me that he had a lot of them and I'm one of them and must obey the commands of the owner.

And this man told me that Shri Ram is unreliable, that for him the main thing is his pleasure, that the duty with a woman he will not follow, that his words can not be believed, because he knows how to juggle them, that any word he can turn in his favor. And this man said that he didn't run back and forth, that he was waiting patiently for the opportunity to be reunited with me. With me. Just with me. And Shri Ram has already deceived me so many times, and I have suffered so much because of this already in this life. And he has not come to me in real life still, but what will happen if he comes? If he does not appreciate me even so.

I looked at his arguments and thought: he argumentatively says, lays out correctly, logically. And he even said he want to save me. From Shri Ram, from the vicissitudes of this world, from deception, from lies, from using me in the interests opposite to me. I began to doubt very much... Because he rightly says, confidently, with knowledge of the matter. And I mentally say to Shri Ram: «Shri Ram, you are in trouble. You're risking». And Shri Ram is sitting and grinning impudently, they say, not at risk. I told him: «So you have nothing to risk at all? I'm so useless, that you have nothing to risk? But others believe it is not so...»

I look: Shri Ram again activated their asuric techniques and again began to oust that man from my consciousness. I see it's starting to work. I look: this man quietly, quietly so moves away, moves away... and again was gone. I think: till what time it will last? He is a good man, I feel sorry for him. I really feel sorry for him, and I think this is a good opportunity for me, and he is really reliable, and really everything we have with him will be honest, clean, without the presence in our intimate interaction of others, he will love me, everything will be fine. And this Shri Ram is my eternal couple, but he is Asur, and he loves all their Asuric stuffs. He can me so deceive, that I will to think, that all is well, but at the energy plane of existence he will plug unto me in our Shiva-Shakti whole the crowd their companions and they all will be in our with him sex, invisibly, but be and pump my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis. And they will be there, present in our sex... disgusting... this is disgusting...

I had doubts, and as always, I turned for the signs of the Universe. I in I Ching, the Book of Changes, had the 37th hexagram: «It is time to leave great things and put things in order at home. Family problems are to be overcome as soon as possible, until the wind blew the fire of hearth. Protect your property. Keep the traditions of family. It is favorable time for the larger family — marriage, birth of offspring. Your place in the place where your heart pulls you, and welfare awaits you there. Hope will be fulfilled with the help of others. Perhaps you think about yourself that somewhere the grass is greener, but believe me: if you leave your land now, very soon make sure you have made a mistake. Enjoy family life, socializing with friends, and peace in the house».

I thought I should stay at home with Shri Ram, but I'm so afraid of him... I'm Afraid he'll deceive me. So many times he lied to me and even put on the transfer that now came this man and to lawfully claim their rights. Like, Shri Ram himself gave up on you, and why he now resents? This situation was becoming more and more ambiguous. On the one hand, I was pleased that men trying to achieve me and so energetic and active, and on the other hand, what they want from me? This man said he wants to save me, and Shri Ram says he loves me. Some kind of his love is a strange... I did not know what to do.

Shri Ram sent me to the transfer and on some higher spheres there was a tender, where men who wanted to be my husband were fighting for the right to come to me. On this tender the right to become my husband was won by one man who, having come to me in my consciousness, somehow revealed to me that he very hard was trying to gain this right, that he had been waiting for me for many years, that we had many lives together as a couple, that we got used to each other for a long time and he wants to be reunited with me. And he urged me in every way that Shri Ram was not worthy to be with me. He was persuading me to forget Shri Ram forever and find my happiness in a quiet and peaceful harbor with him.

Shri Ram was very upset about it, and he very successfully was forcing out this man out of my consciousness. How he did it, I do not know. But I saw the result of his actions, as that man somehow from my consciousness was removed and for some time disappeared from there. But it was not for long. Shri Ram has twice forced out him out of my consciousness. I for some time calmed down that at me in there is no this fight and sensation at the same time of two men, each of whose wants to remain with me and to that his vis-a-vis left absolutely. But the next morning, I started to feel that man again. He was persistent. He didn't want to leave. He wanted me to make the final decision. Shri Ram was waiting for it too. He told me he love me. I told him I love him.

At the same time my son and I went to the pediatrician in the clinic for a certificate for classes, and the pediatrician asked me if we live there, in our apartment. I replied that Yes, we live where we lived. After this conversation, I realized that Shri Ram was alarmed and asked me through her if I am with him or not. And I said Yes, I am with him and I'm waiting for him. But despite the fact that I said so, I had a lot of doubts.

This man was sitting in my consciousness and was persuading me to be with him. He was telling me about Shri Ram, that he would not make me happy, that I am constantly in anxiety with Shri Ram, he deceived me many times and there is no guarantee that this will not happen again, that during time of our interaction he brought so many negative emotions, that I shed many tears. He said that Shri Ram can juggle with words, he will look in my eyes with a pure innocent look and say something ordinary, but he will imply a completely different meaning and will necessarily pull from me my unconscious consent to what he wants there. And I, not knowing this, myself will allow him have again harem of the non-contact whores at the energy plane of existence and I'll think, that we with him the two of and more no one there. And he will have fun with them, right in front of me, because he is the Asur and they for real sensations do not necessarily have physical contact. It is enough energetical connection, at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies.

And this man said that Shri Ram is used to tricks and will use it to deceive me. And I'll be naive to believe him. And he will put me back on the same level with his non-contact whores that came to me on my internal screen when his business was rapidly rolling to a complete collapse. They after all came to tell me that I one of them and have to carry out commands of the owner. And this man told me that Shri Ram would make me one of the non-contact whores again. But when I will leave the body, one day it would happen, there I would see what he did to me... And what would happen? And that man brought to my consciousness thought that with him, with this man, I'll feel much better, calmer, safer, and more confident.

118. A tough choice

I thought why do I have such a situation: or I have no man or at the same time two men? Both so good. I love Shri Ram, and with that man something so good. He is good to me, and with him there will be money, and love, and he is reliable, faithful. What a dilemma... I didn't know what to do. I didn't want to decide anything. Even I asked Krishna to decide for me. Krishna did not deciding for me. And they, too, sat both, no one was going to leave. Shri Ram was always doing something to keep me from looking at that man on my internal screen. Shri Ram kept squeezing him out of my consciousness. That man didn't was leaving and told me I'd be better off with him.

I was so tired of this situation... And I didn't want to hurt Shri Ram, because he is my lawful half, eternal. And with that man is so familiar feeling like I know him very well and with him everything is securely. I didn't want to hurt him either. After all, he came to me with the best intentions; he wants to take care of me, and not about satisfying his feelings. But I came to Shri Ram to give him a chance. I have to give him a chance, although not in sight, that he wants to take this chance. As I sat alone, so I continue to sit alone.

But this man said that he would come to me for sure, that he always was keeping his word and will keep it. And he brought to my consciousness a thought, they say, it is not known whether Shri Ram will come to me. He seemed to say to me: Shri Ram himself would not come to you personally and you with him would interact from a distance, without personal interaction in physical reality. And then what will happen to you? Well, he will look at you through other people's eyes. But if you will need real help, he even will not come to help. And you will be alone, without help. He seemed to say to me: think carefully, because with him you doom yourself to loneliness and insecurity. Don't rush to give up on me. I'll be of use to you. I love you.

I thought: really, it is masochism to wait for the one who is unlikely to come. After all, we interact with him for almost two years, but he didn't come to me. Looks like Shri Ram is satisfied and he is not going to come to me. And if I give up that man, then I'll be alone, without help. It's completely illogical, irrational and wrong. No woman would agree to this, if somewhere there is a guarantee that there she will be protected and everything will be fine. To stay with Shri Ram at the energy plane of existence, without contact of physical bodies and be in real life alone is a very sad, disappointing prospect. And that man says that he is already going and will soon come to me in real life and everything will be fine with him, just say «Yes».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I didn't know what to do. I was remembering that Krishna said me to give a chance to Shri Ram. I also remembered how Krishna showed me that if Shri Ram and I are not reunited in this life, then Shri Ram will never see me again. Krishna will break our connection with Shri Ram completely, he and I will never approach each other again and we will never come in contact again. Never. I thought: Shri Ram is my eternal husband, and I did not betray him, I didn't give up on him many lives ago, when he was made Asur and when I was offered another eternal couple. I so many lives wanted to be reunited with him and now I have to give him up, so as not to remain in this life alone? In order at the end of one life just not be alone?

And I didn't know what to do. I didn't mean to hurt that man. And I didn't want to be alone either, without help, without support, without protection. And Shri Ram is trying to push this man out of my mental space. I started thinking that I'm a soul. I many lives live in the material world. I have lived many lives with this Shri Ram. Then he became an Asura, and I went to the light forces side. We with him were in different camps many lives were. I became the inspector of Universe Patrol, a corrector of universal scale, a Genie who grants wishes, collector of universal scale, collector who claims debts from criminals of universal scale...

And now I was born to give Shri Ram a chance. Yes, of course, I'm risking a lot, and my team without purpose tried to talk me out of from this step. He may not come to me, and I may be left alone, in such a vulnerable position. But if he doesn't take that chance, I will have a quiet conscience that I did everything that depended on me. In this case, Krishna will terminate our nexus with him forever, and this bond, this rope holding us together, will not exist. Krishna will destroy this relationship for good. And this man, with whom we have had many lives together and who is so kind to me, so caring for me, in the next lives can come to me if Shri Ram does not come me in this life, because then Shri Ram will no longer be in my future lives.

And I decided to give Shri Ram a chance, because it's the one and only chance. I thought, of course, that I was taking a big risk, but if Krishna gave me this life so that I would give Shri Ram a chance, then it is necessary to fulfill it. But I all the same did not want to make a final decision, feeling guilty before Shri Ram, before this man, before Krishna, and before myself. I felt guilty before Shri Ram because he is my eternal couple and if I refuse him, I will betray him.

I felt guilty before that man because he came to me with the best intentions, he really wants to take care of me, but I think that I should give a chance to Shri Ram, who does not seem to need this chance. Why would he tolerate my female tantrums, my pickiness, and my heavy, jealous and possessive nature? He's fine. Everything suits him. We have interaction with him through objects, there is love, sex at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, and everyday life will no break love... Because we have no everyday life. We don't live together. We interact with him from a distance. Long can be together without living together. Why would he complicate his life with my presence in it?

I felt guilty before Krishna that I should give Shri Ram a chance, that I want to live well here, in this body, so that he takes care of me and everything is fine with me. I felt guilty before myself that if I stay with Shri Ram, but he will not come to me, then this is masochism, because in this version I don't think about myself at all. How can you not take care of yourself, so much risk your existence? And I felt guilty everywhere, that I was to blame before everyone.

And then I remembered a story from my life. When I was 24, I met my second husband. Our relationship developed well, when suddenly my classmate came to visit me. I liked him. He was a smart, cute, tall, funny man. When we were in school, on the lessons we always played in the Navy Battle. He usually sat behind me. We easily learned, immediately understood everything, and we were bored in class. And so we played with him on slips of paper in a Navy Battle.

After school, we had been together for a while. At some stage of the relationship drifted apart, stopped seeing each other, though continued to communicate, and then I met my second husband. One day, when we with my future husband were together, my classmate came to visit me and called me to the kitchen for some important conversation. There, he suddenly asked me to marry him. I was discouraged. Long his already not was and suddenly came. But I'm with someone else. My classmate was convincing me that we would have everything. He said that everything would be fine. That he wants to marry me. I look: there is a man sitting in the room who was not my husband then and I didn't know what we with him would have with him. Maybe nothing would have happened. And that man says me: «Everything will be fine, decide, please, I beg you very much».

I look, I have in my head two pictures loom, two roads. And this two roads show me what my life will be like with this man and that man. And I then made a decision on the basis of those images that emerged in my mind. The road of life with my classmate was simple: a quiet family life. Everything there is: car, house, money, pleasures. But everything is so monotonous, so routine, the same, and it was evident that he would be sick of it and I would be very bored. And the road of life with those a man, whom then became my husband, was the other: no apartments, no cars, no cottages, no money was not drawn, but so fascinatingly, so interesting... Something so interesting-interesting...

And I thought: Yes, of course, in the first picture everything is, everything is reliably, everything is good, but so boring, the same, one and the same, and in the second picture it is not clear what will happen, but very interesting, a lot of drive. And I said «no» to my classmate. Just based on these two pictures. And now, when this man is very strongly was persuading me and I felt a sense of guilt and I could not make a choice, was in great confusion and did not know what to do, I remembered the situation, as I then made a choice. Indeed, my life with my second husband was very interesting. We hitchhiked with him traveled all over Poland, half of Russia, from Kaliningrad to Moscow on the hitchhiking, Moscow went a lot of hitchhiking, and we went as stowaways on the subway, on trains from St. Petersburg to Kaliningrad, on the train from Moscow to Divnomorsk and back, free. How we did it was completely incomprehensible. But it was a lot of fun.

There was so much drive. We were on festivals, and each time for free. We always sang with him as a duet «Radha-natha». So it was fun... We sang Hare Krishna, the usual songs, «Time Machine», we were composed and sang the songs ourselves, everywhere, and in the markets, and in the trains, and at the stations, and on the radio, and on television, for Gurudeva. We had a very rich and interesting life. And I do not regret a bit that I then accepted such a choice. And I decided based on those memories of those pictures to choose Shri Ram. I thought it was unknown if he and I would be together and what would happen, but I see it's so interesting there. And with that man everything is good, reliable, but no drive that gives me a sense of life. And I chose Shri Ram.

When I remembered that story with my classmate, I clearly saw that this man and my classmate are very similar. So my classmate is a prototype of that man. And I wanted to know more about him. And I chose to do this the usual way to find information, that is my words. I have long noticed that my words are true. I always tell the truth. And if I said something, even if I somehow mixed up the letters or words or something jumped out of itself, that this is not a mistake, not a reservation, but a direct indication of the facts. In 132nd series I intentionally long and lengthy began to tell about my classmate, knowing that in the words about him will be hidden information about the man with whom I many lives were together and who have come to save me. Including from Shri Ram.

And he so persistently tried to do it, what it inspired in me a limitless sense of respect. He didn't try to suppress me, to cheat, to be cunning, as Shri Ram always did. This man wanted to help me. And this man, after the continuous deception of Shri Ram, was like a breath of pure air, which I myself refused. Because I am not a body, because I am a soul and was born in this body to give Shri Ram a chance. To strike out Shri Ram from the material world into the spiritual world, and if he does not take this chance and will somehow cheat me, then to strike out him from my vital files. Because Shri Ram is my eternal couple, and it keeps me in the material world. And I began to talk about my classmate to thus to know about this man.

119. The undoing the spell

From my story I realized that this man really lived a lot of lives with me, because we with my classmate studied all ten school years together. And sat close to each other. I really liked him, I even loved him. From this I realized that the man I liked as a man, and me with him was well in those past lives. The classmate was very nice, even beautiful, tall, stately, the smartest boy in the class. And his mind was so sexy. Attractive. And we are with him all the lessons played in a Navy Battle, cross-zero. And he often defeated me, using a cunning trick: looking at the reflection in my glasses of a piece of paper with my playing moves.

From this it became clear to me that we were in the same team of light forces and that he, like Shri Ram, understood that everything that happens in my life is a projection on what is happening in the life of one with whom I am. That is, looking at my glasses, in the reflection of my leaf in them, can see the true picture. You can just watching and listening to what is happening in my life, and projecting it to your life, to see the real picture, and from above, from those areas where you can adjust the events, by taking steps to avoid negative clichés or placing on a winning position. Shri Ram knows this and uses it constantly to improve his life and to lead his Asuric organization.

That is, I act as such the charioteer, the one who gives preemptive signs. And that man knew that too, and he could how to use it. He was looking at me and drew parallels inter this stream of preemptive signs and his life and mine life too, our life because we with him were together. How that's interesting! I so much already helped Shri Ram by this leadership and I think: if we had been together, it would have been much easier for me to live because he sees what I broadcast... Thanks to this stream of preemptive signs, he can see what to bet on and what to avoid. With him, I would not have to solve any problems in my life. Such a concurrence my preemptive signs and his ability to read information from them would have taken such a large load off me... and that man is the same.

I guess it was really easy for me to live with him, because he looked at my glasses, at the stream of preemptive signs going through me, saw what to bet on, and always won. And I was winning too because we were together. What talent, what opportunities are wasted, how that could make my life easier... Through me these preemptive signs go, but I do not use them in my life, because it needs someone who can look at my glasses, see my leaf there and put at that will definitely bring victory. Shri Ram now uses these preemptive signs, but my life is not improved. And if he and I were to be together, as a pair, it would help me a lot.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

After school, my classmate he studied in nautical school. He became a navigator, a radio operator, mastered Morse code well, and sails all his life on ships, on the "Krusenstern". From this I learned that this man is a great Navigator, pilot, radio operator, at the energy plane of existence, on some fine-material spheres. And since I am such a weapon that destroys all evil, he was pointing me the goal, he was showing me onto whom I need to letting out my raging, burning fire.

I remembered how I looked at Shri Ram on my inner screen while singing the Narasimha Maha Mantra, how I was becoming a huge cobra, crawled toward him, I was twisting around him, like a liana around a tree, climbed straight on his body spiral up into space. I was peering into the space around him and letting out of my wide-open snake's mouth raging fire, hissing: «He is mine!» We with Shri Ram do that. I like a huge cobra looks from a height at those who surrounded him, and I think: «They surrounded him, I will destroy all them», well, I burns them all.

And that man did something like that. He was pointing me a target I was supposed to destroy. And since my classmate sailed on ships all over the world, I realized that we with that man were such a successful couple as Bonnie and Clyde. We each incarnation was born in different worlds and did our job on cleaning the space where there were. Wow! I was like that and did it! And we lived together and knew what we were doing. We knew why we were together. For what purpose.

One day, my classmate and I went to my familiar, who then interested in esotericism, the passes of hands. And he made this session with the passes of hands, and I decided to participate with all of them. I put a classmate on a chair, stood over him and began to led by hands around him, thinking that if someone has any influence on him, then I take it off him completely. And I added then that if I once influenced him, then I remove it at all.

And then I had a dream. In that dream this my classmate million lifetimes ago I really liked, and I was a powerful witch, was in love with him and imposed on him the spell, to he always loved me and was always drawn to me and to he could not without me to live. And in that dream I was shown that we had a lot of lives together, he couldn't get away from me, because my spell was put on him. And waking up, I realized that all this is true and that I'm in this jesting esoteric session with the passes of my hands actually took off him that my spell that kept him with me many, many lives.

Many lives he was with me. He loved me, because he could not not not love me, because of the spell. And in this life I freed him. It happened in a jesting esoteric session, but it happened really. Some time after this session, he came to me to beg me to marry him, after I had taken off my spell. It was so amazing for me, because I released him, he didn't have to do it, he didn't have this need, duty, but he still came and very much begged in all seriousness.

That's how much I've learned about a person I've never even met in the physical reality in this life, but with whom I've had many lives together. And this principle is working. If you see parallels, analogies with someone in your real life, if he reminds you of someone, then you can, describing him, learn about someone he reminds you: what he is, what is waiting for you with him and whether to be with him at all. And when this classmate came to me to ask me to marry him, I was already removed the spell from him and I had already seen the dream. He came to me with a wedding proposal after I released him from my spell.

And when he made me a wedding proposal, I remembered it all. I remembered that after the session with those passes of my hands we stopped seeing each other, and then I met my second husband, and suddenly came a classmate. And I look at him and think: unknown if I'll be together with that man that now sits in my room, and this man says «marry me», and I saw in my dream, how we are with him a lot of lives were together, as I put a spell on him, and as I removed that spell in this life, and as I was shown our future with him, that we will live very well with him. I thought that we with him in the past many lives were together and good lives, and we need that to stop. Yes, with him I'll be fine, but it's all monotonous and boring... same same... And with that man who sits in my room, will be that or not, is unknown, but with him it's all cool, a super drive.

And I refused him, and after a while I found out that in his life everything began to develop miraculously. He loved some girl who loved another man, and there everything for him was hopeless. But when I freed him from that spell, that man left her, and she suddenly for no reason switched to my classmate, they got married and lived together all life, very well. He never even dreamed about her, because for her he was nothing, but after I removed his spell, his life began to develop in a different cliché that couldn't have happened if I hadn't done it.

From this I realized that I also somehow tied to myself and this man and we had a lot of lives together, as a couple. But now I turned him down because of Shri Ram. And this man, to whom I refused, is waiting for some completely unimaginable prospect for him. He'll meet a woman he couldn't even dream of, and he'll be fine. He'll get a good, substantial compensation for the fact that I turned him down.

What an interesting life... I am a transmitter, through whom constantly flowing a stream of preemptive signs. But for this specification of mine to be useful, need someone who can read these signs and act in accordance with them. If an ordinary person is with me who can not do it and even not aware of the existence of such a phenomenon, then broadcasting information through me will only be annoying him, he may think of me as something not valuable that can be easily replaced by other, more attractive for him, exchanging thus a diamond of pure water on the glass.

It's like to crack nuts by a super powerful microscope with a high-resolution digital camera for high-precision research, video recording and measurement, not knowing about its capabilities and considering it only suitable for crack nuts. But for someone who can read these preemptive signs and apply it in life, I am such a priceless gift, which he could not even dream of, because he is without these preemptive signs he is like a blind among the blind. I'm for him like his eyes, though I do not understand what I say and show him. Without these preemptive signs he is a loser, mediocrity, because all of us in the material world are mistaken, tend to deceive and err. In the conditioned state, our knowledge is subjected to many deficiencies. The difference between a conditioned soul and a liberated soul is that the conditioned soul has four kinds of defects. The first defect is that he must commit mistakes. Another defect: to be illusioned. The third defect is the cheating propensity. Lastly, our senses are imperfect. And if can not see what to do next, it's running blind. What kind of luck could there be? It's like plowing a mined field. Explosion and total collapse is possible at any moment.

How lucky Shri Ram with me! And how sorry I am for the man that I refused, because he knows how valuable I am and that without me he will never reach those heights and fulfill his desires, as with me, when I just live with him and that's enough to make his desires come true, and I also give him so many preemptive signs for him, for our life. And if there is no such consistency, coincidence, then and I, as a transmitter of information, and he, as a receiver, we are an empty space, no one, losers in this life.

As in the song of Igor Nikolaev on poems by Robert Rozhdestvensky «We have coincided with you»:

We have coincided with you have coincided
At the day that will be remembered forever,
How the words match with the lips,
With dry throat water.
We coincided like birds with the sky,
Like the land with the long-awaited snow
Coincides at the beginning of winter,
So with you coincided we.

It's like in the movie about Winnie-the-Pooh: the tail is not good as a rope for a doorbell, but as a tail. Yes, and the balloon should enter your own pot, otherwise it is not a balloon, but some misunderstanding, which is a pity to look at. And such a unique and valuable specialist in reading and application in life preemptive signs to realize his abilities and talents need such a transmitter of signs. And if he was lucky to connect with the transmitter of signs in a twisted pair, both wires in this twisted pair are profitable and need each other and without each other are nothing.

I was thinking about my classmate and I thought that he always sat behind me in the class, which means that the man I turned down because of Shri Ram was a reliable rear for me, covering me from the vicissitudes of this world. And he actually came to save me. He came to save me from an unclaimedness of my endowment of conducting through myself of preemptive signs. He came save me from my unsettled in life, which is the result of the fact that I myself can not good settle in this world without support, as the liana cannot exist without its tree. He came to save me from the fact that with me there is no one for whom I can always rely and who knows how to reading preemptive signs, rushing through me in my life, and who fully relying on them.

My principle of work is trust because my specification provides for full trust on both sides to obtain synergy, the result that is the most favorable, ideal for all. And for good reason I am jealous and demand my man to be just mine. I must be completely sure in it to on my internal screen I could climb high into space, to stand over my man as huge cobra with a burning by anger glance and to bring down on those who surround him my raging fire and poison burning all. In order for me to do that, I have to be completely sure of him, because I'm protecting what's mine.

Yes, Shri Ram is in trouble. He, like the Asuras, used to have fun with sex the non-contact whores, who believe that the owner orders it is necessary to perform, and I need to get my man was, is and will be only my. Then we are with him such an effective working pair: he is target pointer, and I am the destroyer. And I came to Shri Ram, and I'm not his choice, I'm his destiny. He was put in such conditions that he accepted me; he had a choice without a choice. Because I'm his eternal couple.

And now if he will does something wrong, then, because we are souls, after this life I, of course, all see what he did, and our eternal connection will be broken forever and irrevocably. Just because I, as an inspector of Universe Patrol, as the Slayer of the criminals of universal scale, I've seen a lot of bad during these lives that I have only one desire — to leave this place, go out from this cloaca, from the material world. And since Shri Ram is my eternal husband, he holds me here.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I came to him to give him a chance. Either he will go with me on my way and we will return to the spiritual world together, or our connection will be broken forever and we will still return to the spiritual world, but before that we will not be together, never. Why am I sure he return to the spiritual world anyway? Because I provided it to him. I sent so many Asuras into their future lives, where they will do anything to make it happen. Elegant move, win-win strategy. This is called a fork, when at any step on any cell the result is one — a victory.

Also, the fact that we were in the same class with this classmate all ten years, says that this man who came to me to save me from Shri Ram, was in my team, those bright forces. And we implemented some of the operation to destroy the criminals of universal scale. And he was a very valuable, necessary specialist, as I worked with him in a couple many lives. And when I told a story in the 132nd series of my novel “My Roman. I'm asur's wife” that I freed my classmate from anyone's influence, even from mine, completely, in these words, I gave this man, who has been in my team for so long and so we needed, free. I freed him from the obligation to be in the service in our team and to carry out the orders that he received from us.

How much I sacrificed myself to give this Shri Ram a chance, who, though my eternal couple, but Asur, and who has deceived me so much already in this life and has left me so many times. He left me when he became Asur, many incarnations back, and already in this life several times. He left me when he met a good woman in the summer of 2016. Because of that, he defined me into a category of his non-contact whores, that is, women with whom he had sex at the energy plane of existence, which then, when his business quickly began to collapse, came to me and said that I am the same as they are, and must carry out the orders of the host. Like, if host says to wish him luck and to rectify his situation that it did not become homeless and totally bankrupt, it is necessary to do it.

Then he left me when he had Lona, ideal of the vagina, over which he trembled and which would make him a complete impotent in everything and would erase him completely. He totally left me, because otherwise this man could not come and claim claimed his rights to me confidently, ignoring Shri Ram. And for the sake of this Shri Ram I refused such a wonderful person and freed him from service, such a valuable, unique and necessary to our team specialist.

I used my official position for personal gain, depriving my team of his help and his talents to give Shri Ram, my eternal husband, some kind of chance. At the same time, I put myself in a vulnerable position, because I am alone, without help, without support, without hope, and I do not know if he will come to me. But I have to give him a chance. And if he does not use it, then Krishna will break this connection and I will no longer have this rope connecting us to him. In sight, this feeling is very strong. I decided that Yes, I am taking a big risk and who knows what will happen to me, I'm scared, but I am a soul. And if this connection has kept me here in the material world, then we need to clarify and solve this problem definitively. Which I did.

120. Conversation with the main Moscow asur in the electric train

When Shri Ram had Lona, he told me through my neighbor that the housing department mechanics told her to change the old, cold radiators for new, hot. The neighbor complained that it is necessary to give for new radiators all pension, and lamented as she will live without money. This Shri Ram said me through my neighbor, that emerged Lona, hot woman, satisfying his sexual needs on 500 %, and now from me him will have to abandon, so as and I not agree be in such a public, and Lona insists, to more no one not was. At that time I remembered what happened to me in Moscow, when I was still married to my second husband.

At that time at me began an invisible interaction with Borka, who was a leader of the Moscow asuric organization. He first wanted to install to me their asuric program, which makes from normal women the non-contact whores, who are willing to serve Asuras at any moment sexually when they press on their female centers, in the distance, without personal presence, and she nothing can be done about it. This Borka did not succeed with me, he was interested such a steadfast specimen, I was pretty to him, and he included me in his brides casting which he was arranged just at that time. He took a few women like that, faithful and matching his criteria of his wife, with a great store of pious merits, to live well, taking of her pious merits.

Borka strongly tested me for marital fidelity, forcing my husband to behave inappropriately with me and waiting for when I turn away from him. But I did not abandon him and continued to maintain loyalty. It suited Borka very well. The role of his wife could only claim a faithful woman, in order to her female energy is not dissipated onto other men. Then Borka was plugged unto me several of his associates to pump out my feminine energy and my piety. And he saw that my conduction channel is powerful, that I pour out to them high, purity energies and can pass through my channel such energy, which no one else could not pass. He saw that it is possible to plug unto me four recipients at the same time and to pump out energy from me with a very large pressure.

And he thought I am the right woman for role his wife. And more than that... He was loving me. Why do I think so? At that time I suddenly began to constantly strike the door jambs with my elbow, and my husband said that someone loves me. I didn't understand who it can be. Borka told me through my husband that he, Borka, was filled with great love for me and can not longer imagine his existence without me. He wanted me to win in his casting brides. And through other people he was asking if I agreed to become his wife. But I did not give my answer to him through other people, and then he decided to come to me for my answer in person.

He came to me in the train. I was driving in the train, suddenly sat down next to me matchless, beautiful man, enveloping his charm, not to succumb to the charms of which is simply impossible. He inspired boundless confidence. He was simply magnificent, held with great dignity, his beauty was irresistible, in his eyes splashed admiration for you. And the first thing he said to me all of a sudden was, «My car broke down on the road, and so I came here». Then he started asking me different questions, I answered. He asked if it was true that my husband had a disease. This question discouraged me, I thought: how does he know? I see him for the first time, what makes him think my husband has a disease? And indeed, my then husband was visually impaired, he had a keratoconus, but why do such a question from a completely unfamiliar person to me? I said, «Yes».

A peddler passed by us, carrying all small things. I wanted to buy something, stopped him, asked something of his goods, he gave it to me, and I without looking pulled out of my purse big pile of small money, handed him my outstretched palm with this pile of coins and said, let him take what he needs. At the same time, my hand with this pile of coins was right in front of the eyes of this man who sat down to me. That is, the picture was such that I keep a lot of money in front of his eyes and say that he can take as much as he sees fit. And there's a lot more than he needs. That peddler counted the required amount, and I put everything else in my wallet, without looking.

Then he said about his family, that he had a wife, four children, his wife had a very high pressure. Then there was a stop Timiryazevskaya, the penultimate before Savelovskaya, and I went to Savelovskaya, to the station. At Timiryazevskaya always a lot of people came out, there is a subway. When the train drove up to Timiryazevskaya, he got up, was going to go to the exit and said: «Come with me». I looked at him in bewilderment. Just now he was telling about his wife that she has high blood pressure, four children, that he is taking care of her, all right, and all of a sudden, «come with me». I heard in his words a call to go with him as woman with man and said: «No. Take care of your wife». And he, heartfelt and with some sadness looking me in the eyes, said: «Take care of yourself». And went out.

That man was the leader of the Moscow Asuric organization. And he came to me for my final answer, whether I agree to become his wife. Although I was still married then. But nothing confused him. He invaded someone else's family; he used my husband's body to be in our conjugal sex through the body of my husband, at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies. He pressed consciousness of my husband to cause him to such behavior, which was to turn me away from him. He pressed the well-known of asuras the buttons in my women's centers to be present invisibly in our sexual interaction with my husband, while having me in such an unthinkable form for ordinary people, enjoying me, pumping out my female energy and my piety and feeling superior to unsuspecting stupid people.

And then he came to me in the train in real life, himself, not through other people, and personally, to get from me my final consent to become his wife. If I had given him my consent, he would have destroyed my family, erased my memory and then come to me as an ordinary man and we were married and would live together. And in this conversation he sounded in an allegorical form the conditions on which I had to agree to become his wife. He came to make me a wedding proposal. He said that the car on the road broke down and that's why he came here.

What's «car broke down»? He had a wife, but she «broke down», she stopped to fulfill the duties as it is necessary for him, ceased to satisfy his sexual appetites and needs, all her female energy and all piety ended completely. As my neighbor came and said that the old radiators no longer warm, the house is cold. Borka had a similar situation. Wife is car. What does «car» mean? The car is the body. We are soul. I'm a soul, and I'm sitting in my body. But this body is the machine in which I, the soul, ride. And Borka said that his car broke down on the road. He pronounced the word «дорога» («road») in Russian. The word «road» in Russian is written «дорога». «Дорога» — «дорогая»: «road» — «darling». The spelling of these words «дорога», «дорогая» is almost the same. And by the word «дорога» («road») Borka spoke about «дорогая» («darling»), about the wife, because wife is darling. His wife (road, car, body) broke down. That doesn't mean she died or got sick. No. That means she stopped giving him what he needed. And he created a situation, pressed her consciousness to force her to leave him.

Asura can to do it. Shri Ram did this to me so that I myself would leave him. And in the last session with pillow, he said that he would not chuck me anywhere, saying that he would not throw me at anyone. Asuras are able to press the consciousness of other people, as a result people think that they think it themselves, that these thoughts are their own, but in fact they are deftly and skillfully manipulated. Borka manipulated the consciousness of his ex-wife with the aim that she left him. Because she stopped giving him what he needed. She left him because he needed him to stay not to blame, with clean reputation. Borka told that his car on the road broke, that is the wife ceased to warm, radiators unfit, they don't heat any more, and it is necessary to replace them with others. And he said, «So I came here». That is, he kind of told me that he came to me, I deserve him, and I match the role of his wife.

He arranged casting of the brides. I realized this because at that time, there were signs, clues everywhere about a king Peas, who chooses a bride. And apparently, he so went to many women and said that his car on the road broke and therefore he came here. But he loved me and wanted me to win this casting and gave him my consent. Because he asked me if my husband has disease. What is disease? They say that love is a disease. And Borka did ask me about my husband, like, he definitely has a disease? Are you sure your husband is supposed to love you? Are you sure you have this option set by default relative to your husband? And I said «yes». That is, from this follows such a conclusion that who is my husband, he loves me, he has love for me as his wife.

Borka wanted love. Even such a large Asur still wanted love, he wanted to love. He didn't just want to live with the woman he was going to take his wife, he wanted to feel love for her. And he asked about it. But he said his wife has high blood pressure and four children. In these words he talked about what kind of wife he needed and what he was going to do with her at all. That he will plug unto her others men, his fellow Asuras, from his Asuric organization, and they will be present invisibly in their supposedly ordinary sex, but she will not even guess about it, since he will press her consciousness, because his wife has high pressure. And he wanted in their married sex on the side of recipient, that is on the side of husband, was at the same time four the hoses because he said that he has four children. Children are the ones who are fed.

That is, Borka decided that those who will be fed will be four. In real life, they will have ordinary marital sex, she will be faithful to him, will love him and think that he is a good man, how lucky she was with him, but he will plug unto her his companions, there will be four of them at the same time, that is, he was going to plug unto her three other men at a time. She would have thought they have marital sex, that with her is only her husband, but with her was not only would her husband, but three other men, energetically. It would be like an oil well, from which oil is pumped by four oil pumping devices that stand at the well and chorus amicably pump out all the oil from the ground. Borka said his wife had high blood pressure. This means that they will pump out her feminine energy and her piety under very great pressure. They will expand her energetical channel, through which her energy gushes. They are like leeches will stick to her and will suck out her energy. And at the same time the four of them. They'll give there such a high pressure to quickly empty the entire borehole and then move to a new borehole, throwing an empty borehole to another man. When from his former wife will have nothing to pump out, he will press her consciousness, destroying forcibly her natural marital fidelity, so she left him, so she changed him with another man and that everyone again thinks he's pure, innocent. And everyone will think that he was not lucky. Was like a good woman, but in fact turned out to be like everyone else. Everyone will lament how such a good man is unlucky in life, he always marries unfaithful women. And this wife actually was the same tramp who left him for another man. And everyone will feel sorry for him and say that some women now are, all cheat on husband. Why is he so unlucky? Such a good man, but unlucky he is with women, all he comes across some cheaters. There is no justice in life.

121. The wife as an oil well

The Asuras use women as their milk cows, but Borka revealed to me that they treat their wives the same way. He needs a wife not as a wife, but as an oil well, from which it is necessary to quickly under high pressure pump out all her oil, her fuel, her energy, her pious merits, connecting several pumping devices to one her channel. He needs to pump out all her oil, which she has and which would be enough for a very, very much, if he did not enable high pressure in her channel and would not plug unto her his companions, simultaneously several. That's what he needs a wife for. He needs a wife to quickly empty her and then go to another women, saying that he had a car on the road broke down and now he chose her for the role of a new machine, which is destined to the same fate, already her fate.

Like, agree, with me you will live for some time very well, I will be faithful to you, at the physical level. That I will have a lot of pleasures in sex with the non-contact whores at the energy plane of existence, you will not know. We're gonna press your consciousness. You'll think that I love you, all our friends will be touched by looking at our friendly loving family, and how many you will have the most gorgeous orgasms with me in our marital sex, you can not even imagine!!! Because I have to quickly pump out of you as from that oil rig all that you have accumulated there, and I will try to satisfy you, so that you will always be happy and satisfied with me, so that you feel confident with me and open your arms to me. And I will press your women's centers more often, so that you want me more often sexually and open your doors to me more often. I need you to have often better powerful orgasms with me. Because I will connect to your energy channel of my buddies that we all could more of your feminine energy out you to pump.

And this new applicant for the role of wife is already sitting and draws in her imagination pictures of how she will live in his chic house, as she will not have to make money, because he has this issue resolved. She draws in her imagination pictures of how she will not have to stand in the kitchen by the stove and cook every day and clean up the house, because it all decided long ago. She draws in her imagination pictures of how they will rest in Hawaii and other luxury resorts, how she will enjoying her luck and pity the unfortunate natives. As he will be on his hands to wear her and to love. Of course he's will do all that, because he needs you to believe him. He needs you to open your doors for him. Because in this case it comes out of you so pure and powerful energy, and a lot of, that for this it is worth the effort to create a stupid idiot the illusion of love and genuine caring for her. In this situation, the energy is quite different, not like from those women, on whom the Asuras installed the Asuric programs that made these women as female animal. Their energy is different.

And when a woman is pious, chaste, faithful wife in nature, living in a legal marriage with a faithful and loving her husband, the energy is quite different. In this case, the woman is the lawful wife. They're having marital sex. Mutual love, eyes to eyes... such trust and such emotions... For the sake of such energy it is possible and to suffer some years while from her is that to pump out, creating a kind of such approximate family man. As in the song of musical group «Jolly fellows»:

Don't worry, aunt, uncle at work,
Not with someone in the movies.
Don't cry, aunt,

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Your husband is a rare family man.
So don't be sad and forgive him
For your birthday.

After all, you can create such a family happiness for a fool women, so that she would not think that a husband could be there with someone. No, he's a rare family man. True. For what? He needs her trust that she fully trusted him and opened wide for him the door of her soul and her female nature. Because in this case from her poured out to him very pure and powerful energy. And the Asuras accumulate female energy. They know the value of female energy. They need it for something. It is our ordinary men do not appreciate women and do not know that the woman is Shakti, strength, power. But for Asuras it is well known.

And this Asur takes such a good, chaste by nature, faithful woman and marry her, but turns her into a kind of oil well. He needs that she has a lot of pious merits. After all, I held my hand open with a bunch of money in front of Borka's eyes and said (to the peddler, but in fact to Borka) that you can take as much as you need. And then when peddler took money, I put the money in my purse. That is, I showed Borka that I have these pious merits a lot of, that he can draw from me as much as he needs, and very freely live on this my piety and still I will have much, much more than he can take at all. And women think that she is a nobody, a dependent. This is not true.

A man feeds on her energy, which flows to him, simply because she trusted him and became with him. And he's living off her. Opportunities flow to him, doors open, he is invited somewhere, something is provided, and he thinks he is so cool. But in fact, all this was possible because you are standing next to a woman who trusts you and who wants to build your happiness with you, so from her to you flow blessings, which you do not see as flowing, but which comes to you in the form of opportunities in your business. And all this I remembered when my Shri Ram was with Lona. And I said that the next in line to strikeouts are such oil tycoons here, who have attached themselves to an oil well, which looks like his wife, but in fact just an oil well.

And this asur takes a wife, a good, pious, faithful woman, and for some years lives with her happily, pumping out of her into several channels-recipients all that she has. She doesn't know he's asur, she thinks he's a good man, nice, caring... Of course, caring. It is necessary to take care of the hen that lays golden eggs. In order for that hen lays these golden eggs, it is necessary that this hen was in good condition and good mood. It is necessary to take care of her. He, even after marrying her, does not treat her as his wife, dear, beloved, for whom he took full responsibility and goes along with her through life, no. He treats her like a donor, from whom he's pumping the fuel out of. Outwardly, he cares about her, outwardly faithful husband, the perfect man, loving, caring husband, but he's actually at the energy plane of existence somehow energetically plug unto her his associates of the same.

She thinks he's the only one, like the direct blood transfusion: one donor and one recipient. But he in the recipient's channel includes many of the recipients, and in their marital sex, they're all present and pump out of her during her orgasm all her feminine energy. It is as if there is a direct blood transfusion, but blood from the donor is transfused simultaneously for several recipients, and under pressure, to more come out. She thinks he's the only one, but together with her husband in their sex in parallel and others men are present with her. It's happening invisible and insensitive for her, because it's happening at the energy plane of existence, without contact of physical bodies, through distance. If she knew about this, she'd couldn't live, because such asuras marry faithful women, in order for her to be focused only on him, so that all her energy goes only to him, but here is the deceit, the vile violation of her fidelity. And as ashamed....

And here through several years of a happy family life they pumped from her all her feminine energy and her pious merits. This made her husband with many of his companions, who pumped out from her energy, fuel. They were like oil pumping devices, which devastated her, by expanding the capacity of her pipe. She was left with nothing and now he needs to get rid of her quickly to quickly get a new oil rig, new donor, new wife. He crushed her consciousness and threw her at someone, that is, made she want another man and made she went to another man. He forced her to be unfaithful to one's husband that is him. The whole world thinks he's the victim, but really the victim is she, because she's faithful, and all her faithfulness's been trampled. He broke her marital fidelity in the beginning, when he made her a wedding proposal. He decided in advance. She for him was always been just a donor of energy and piety. It was immediately decided that she was such a donor with a variety of recipients on the other end of the wire and that she would be left with nothing, all alone. And without a penny of money, without pious merits, without energy, without help and without protection.

And she looks at herself and thinks what happened to her, that she suddenly cheated on husband, such a good man, who for many years so loved her and who is now suffers, so humiliated and offended. But he already busily arranges casting for the selection of new donors for the role of his wife. Insensibly to all, because he's asur and may act through other people, looking through their eyes and talking through them in an allegorical language.... And she thinks: «I thought I am good, but it turns out I'm just like everyone else. I'm no different from them». Although by nature she is not like this, she is by nature very sublime, true, because he needs a wife only such that her energy is not scattered to the side. But now she fell from her pedestal, considers herself unworthy of respect and thinks: «What happened to me? How did I come to this?» How? You were forced to do it; your consciousness was crushed along with your marital fidelity. And this did to you your beloved husband. The man you love.

For years of your marital fidelity and trust, what reward did he gave you? Yes, he gave you the flowers, he told you he loved you, and the wedding was beautiful, lush and everything was so great... You were with him for years, you were his wife, and he was your husband, and he was the only one, though from the beginning he plugged unto you his companions, at once demolish your faithfulness. But you didn't know about it, and you were true to him. And you trusted him: «Take me, I'm yours», because in order for the higher energy to flow from you into him, he needs your trust and openness to him. Only then can he get your pure energy, higher energy, more valuable, tasty, which not only from the lower chakras, but also from the higher chakras. And after you were devastated, your mind was crushed, and you went against your will to another man. His consciousness was suppressed too, because your husband needed him to look like a victim, not you, so that everyone would think that you cheated on him, that he is a good, loyal, reliable man. And then, when it was over, your husband let go mind of another man, and he threw you, wondering what it was, and you are left alone...

That's the reward he gave you for years of your marital fidelity and trust. And then you sit there and you think it's right that you're alone because you hurt such a good man, humiliated him that he had to go looking for another woman. You think you're not worthy of respect because you're so unfaithful, a traitor. You've always respected your quality of marital fidelity, and then it turned out that to respect you not for that. And you think you've committed such a great sin that because of your fleeting weakness a good, godly, worthy man had to marry another woman. And you think that maybe you've been too hysterical and demanding to him and therefore you've been punished for it... And you think that if you were good woman, that would never happen to you. But if it happened, you're not good at all.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Yes, you made a mistake thinking that here in this material world, it is possible to you can arrange your life well. You saw such a nice decent man, wealthy, reliable, caring, and thought that with him you in the material world will be calm, quiet, warm and comfortable. You were going to sit here in the material world forever. You thought you were protecting your husband from the vicissitudes of this world by performing your conjugal duty so that he would have no dissatisfaction, so he doesn't stare at other women and not bring upon himself sinful reactions, so he doesn't get other women's karma and energy, so that purity was. But your purity was destroyed by him, because even though you had with him married sex and he was the only one for you, but it is not known who was having fun with you, and you do not even know about it.

Because the Asuras are can to plug unto you so imperceptibly that the first time you might think that something in your mind slipped, that felt someone else's energy, that you saw by your inner gaze someone else's silhouette when you and your husband had sex. But in the second, third and subsequent times you will not see anything, you won't feel anyone else, but someone else's invisible presence will already be in your marital sex. And it is not succubus, nor evil spirit, nor ghosts, but the same people as we, living here and walking among us, but having a different, Asuric nature and some extraordinary abilities. And you thought he was such a good man, and everyone thought he was. This man gave you flowers, expensive gifts, his love. Of course, because he needs your trust to him. Only when the woman trusts the man and considers this man her own, she reveals to him her upper chakras. And then into man from woman pours out the highest energy, which without her trust in him, he can not get. That's why this man did everything to make you think that he is yours and that you could reveal yourself to him. And he, being an Asur, saw all your thoughts and your desires and he behaved himself in the way you wanted him to meet your expectations.

You thought you were lucky, but you got trapped. And all because you are in the material world and you are thinking of getting better life here. You do not think that the material world is not the place for a gentleman. Especially for ladies. Srila Prabhupada correctly said that women are so stupid that they allow smart men to deceive themselves. And this smart man took advantage of his resource, your feminine nature and your desire for happiness and deceived you, but you still think that somewhere there is happiness, here, in this life...

122. The gluttonous langoliers

I did not immediately expunged these Asuras, but gave them time to do more good deeds, for at least some improvement of their karma, their fate, to somehow facilitate their existence. I gave them postponement of sentence on December 8, 2017, and on December 9, the man who wanted to save me from Shri Ram came to me on those higher plans, on the mental sphere. And when he came, I was not up to these Asuras, oil magnates. I was completely unbalanced for several days, feeling guilty before everyone that I can not make a choice and make a final decision. And at this time I'm in my series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» reported these my torments and commented the history from the television series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» about Vrinda and Jalandhar. And I told asuras that these oil tycoons would fly out of their current bodies after I finished commenting this story.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I didn't know where to send them, because I didn't think they deserved a better existence. Postponement of sentence I gave them December 8, 2017, and December 13 to me began to appear signs where they should be sent. More than a week was given to them for the intensive commission of good deeds to facilitate their further fate. They had a chance to mitigate their punishment at least to some extent. On 13 December, I thought that sending them to better existences as Krishna devotees, to serve in ISKCON, in Srila Prabhupada's mission many lives and to deserve a return to the spiritual world is an unheard of luxury for them. We will send them to the hellish worlds, where yamadutas will tear them on apart many, many times, everything will heal on them, and they will be immediately torn again. And through the screenshots from the «Mahabharata» I was told that we should give them even more. And I thought: what to give them more than the hellish worlds? Isn't that enough? But they said to give them more.

And on December 14 all day as hint to me appeared from everywhere the word «tongue». And in VKontakte, and the children talked about the tongue, and in cartoons, in Yandex, in all appearing links in Internet all day I saw the word «tongue». «Pluck their sinful tongue». And I thought, what is this tongue? The Asuras has a tongue, and I have to tear out their sinful tongue from all of them. In the 136th series, when I talked about it, there was a screenshot from the television series «Mahabharata», where Krishna as it showed, they say, do not drive horses, do not rush, and I said that it is necessary to tear out their tongue and keep them for a while in such a position that they tasted the indescribable sensations without this tongue...

I remembered that when my Shri Ram tied Fedka to me, the gift of God, thanks to which our with Shri Ram contacts stabilized and the sessions with pillow became possible, at the very beginning, as this Fedka appeared, I somehow mentally expressed to Shri Ram my doubts about this Fedka. I said, he is always present here with us, and everything hears, and suddenly he will talk to someone about us, and Shri Ram said briefly: «Then I will tear his tongue out». Something likes that. I remember, I liked his answer, I felt confident and courage. And here I am again I hear about some tongue. I realized that this tongue is very important for Asuras and that it is not just a tongue in the mouth of the physical body. And I thought that was the tongue they use to eat energy food. How do they eat energy food? Mainly through sex or through Masturbation, that is when there is female orgasm.

But on 15 December in the morning I remembered about them and decided that I need to pull out their sinful tongue. Immediately they all stood under me, there were many of them; I went into each of them at the top of pipe at the same time. In my hand appeared the immersion blender with the chopper attachment, this is when many different curves knives at high speed rotate simultaneously in different directions, turning everything into a small crumb. These shredding all the knives began to rotate at breakneck speed inside the pipe of this group of Asuras, oil magnates. Knives grinded everything to a state of suspension, the liquid, and I, standing over of them, quickly pulled this liquefied substance from them into me. And then I thought about the tongue, I saw my hand inside their pipe at the level of their sexual organ (and at the same time each), imagined that there's a tongue in there, yanked the tongue from the inside into the pipe and ripped it out completely with the meat.

And then I saw that each of them had a clean hollow through pipe inside, open from above and from below. And I ran langoliers in there, horrible pharynxes, completely stupid, but terribly voracious gulps, devouring the outer space and the past. And they are there inside of the pipe of those Asuras began to gnaw, to tear meat, scraping the inside wall of the hollow pipe, expanding the pipe. I told them not to gnaw everything there, since it will be necessary to send them to the infernal worlds. Several Asuras did not stand this execution, flew out of the bodies and began to hang out in the air. It made me so angry....

I thought, «You're not going anywhere». I activated under them a black vortex, and those who could not stand and flew ahead of time from the body, were sucked into a vortex by some vacuum cleaner. I thought, «OK, you could not stand it and flew off earlier, but I will still send you where you are appointed». And the rest sat with langoliers inside them, and langoliers had eaten and cleaned off all the inside them, methodically moving closer and closer to the outside of their skin, and even gnawed on their heads and everything are chewed there.

On December 17 I sent them to their destination. I gave them delay of sentence 8 December, and 15 December I ripped out sinful their tongue and let a lot of langoliers in them. Total on doing good deeds and mitigating their fate they were allocated as much as a whole week. On December 15, the tongue of all of them was torn out, the langoliers sat in all of them and systematically gnawed everything, I was told not to hurry too much with their sending, so that they felt a lot of sensations... and all of December 16, I provided them with them, with the help of langoliers, giving them there scope for their actions. 17 Dec I began to deal with them thorough.

I remembered Sergei Snegov's book «People as gods». There, the Destroyers used such tactics to capture the planets. They flew up to the planet on their starship and made a flight around it, while activating gravitational weapons and causing a gravitational blow on its surface, and everything that was alive there, was flattened and died, because it was impossible to hide from this powerful gravity. Where they were caught up by this gravitational blow, there they remained flattened. And so I stood up over all those Asuras who langoliers already well gnawed at, and, like that spaceship, I activated gravitational weapons and turned on such a powerful gravity strike.

The whole day they were under the gravitational hit, and I periodically their stronger squashed that they did not seem enough. During this time, some of them could not stand and flew out of their bodies, and then and then I drew them in with some kind of powerful vacuum cleaner in that black hole-funnel that was constantly rotated under them. On the evening of 17 December I for a long time tormented those that remained in their bodies, and also sent down there. They all came out of their bodies and dangled as one big piece, like a frog's caviar in a duckweed. I sent them all down into that funnel-shaped vortex, and it closed. Then I turned on my flamethrower, so that all that was left of them burned completely.

And there my Shri Ram appeared again. I fell into his arms and cried, and then I was so angry that I, so good, because of them, because of these nasty Asuras, forced to send someone to the hellish worlds, though I am a conductor accompanying in the best of worlds, in the best incarnations. Many living beings whom I have helped to rise to their best existence, are very grateful me. And I took stowaways, those who had no pious merits at all and no opportunities rise into the best existence, but I helped them.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And here I send someone down to the hellish worlds. How many abominations they have done, that there is no alternative to it for them!

And even before that Radharani fell from her throne (these are my stones-deities, Radha and Krishna, who gave me Sanatana Rupa Prabhu back in Sukharevo in the early 2000^s), saying: «Punish them very severely». So much they insulted the female nature. Radharani is Krishna's lover, She is the highest female nature, and She fell from her throne. For what? To tell me that they have insulted women's nature and deserve the most cruel punishment. Well, I gave them this cruel punishment to the full. The gravity blow was such that they couldn't even give a squeak. They couldn't even breathe and think. Such power there was gravity... Wow.

The same day, still when they were sitting with the langoliers, I, too, in the same rage dealt with several Asuras. With one very, very large. He towered over me like a big mountain, I got into his head with my hands, and something have done and revealed his top chakra. His Sahasrara chakra was iron, with sharp metal blades sticking up. I placed a huge magnet above high above his head, and all his metal knives from his upper chakra flew to that magnet. I was so angry at all of them that I untwisted him like a whirligig and threw him into the funnel-shaped vortex on top for good. That was before this group was finally sent to the funnel at the bottom.

And then, when they flew to the hellish worlds, I went into this boundless rage that even Shri Ram could not calm me down. I looked down there, where have they gone, and thought: and suddenly there is someone stayed, didn't fly away? Shri Ram told me not to look there, but to no avail. My rage was boundless; I began to feel a strong feeling of nervous apprehension and discomfort. I wrapped myself around Shri Ram like a big cobra and started impetuously kissing him... but I couldn't stop anyway. Then I looked back at the community of Asuras, yanked out someone big and quickly thrown into the funnel-shaped vortex from above, and I beat everyone who was there, and only then I felt a little better. I went to the store, bought some sweets and sat down to watch my favorite movies. Life is good.

123. The contract through a portal from another dimension to capture Lady Trix

December 20, 2017 in VKontakte in the news flashed the Sia's song «Never Give Up». I really liked this song and I put it on auto-repeat and listened and listened to it. Especially liked the translation of this song:

I've battled demons that won't let me sleep.
Called to the sea but she abandoned me.
But I won't never give up, no, never give up, no, no.
No, I won't never give up, no, never give up, no, no.
No, no, I'll never give up, no.
And I won't let you get me down.
I'll keep gettin' up when I hit the ground.
I'll find my way, find my way home.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I thought that this song is about me. I'll find my way home. Also I imagined myself the Slayer of some kind of demons in some other, distant worlds. A few days before I went to visit a friend of mine, and in conversation with her I said that I had not opened everything. Something like that. After that I thought that I through her told Shri Ram that he does not know everything about me, even now, seeing so much... And everywhere began to appear different signs, pictures, on which a man and a woman look into each other's eyes and at the same time cover their faces with masks. And I thought that, most likely, it again we agree to open to each other something that is hidden.

On December 22, after my continuous hearing of this song, I had a strange dream. It was as if it was not a dream at all, but a real conversation with someone there, in a dream. In that dream, I was talking to someone from a very different world, through a portal. I had a feeling that I was familiar with this personality, but I did not see him, because he was behind the portal. And he told me that somewhere in other dimensions some lady Trix (as in the cartoon «Winx Club») made a lot of the abominations and now came here to our dimension to do filthy evil on Earth. And my interlocutor (I can not regard him as a human being) asked me to make something with this lady Trix that more she anywhere didn't do the abominations. There, at the end of that portal, he was kind of waiting for my answer, and I said that I am sleeping now, that I hadn't slept all night, this night was very hot. And, in fact, I did not give him an answer, will I undertake this task.

After that I remembered these words of mine and thought that I actually told. I understand that I lodged him a claim that I now as if I sleep here on Earth, are in some kind of dormant, live here like a normal person, just stay in your well-deserved vacation at the resort and have right to a vacation from some hot Affairs when I eliminated many demons. And I realized that somewhere in other worlds I'm some cool specialist, fighting with some demons (the song was just about it) and there I know everything. But here, in this incarnation I rest from all this, came to this incarnation as to a resort from the heat of some big battle in some other worlds. But he looked at me from that portal with some expectation that I would understand the seriousness of the situation and his request.

I woke up in complete bewilderment. What was that? Delirium or indeed contact with someone from other worlds? I said to Shri Ram, «I don't know what it was, maybe you'll find out?» He answered me that he would understand, and went into my dream. Somehow he knows how to enter into my dreams and see everything that was there, although dream immediately disappears somewhere as soon as I wake up. But Shri Ram on some ray enters inside my dream and sees everything there. I already forgot, and he saw everything and found out about it. And he boldly went there to learn the details and establish contacts.

At the same time in 143rd series of my novel “My Roman. I'm asur's wife” I commented screenshots from the 188–189th series of the series «Shani», when little Hanuman was endowed eight mystic perfections, Ashta siddhi. There Shani acted as a guarantor of Hanuman and asked the Sun God to give these siddhis to Hanuman. That same evening, when I reviewed this 143rd series, I realized that through my commenting on those screenshots, I had vouched for Shri Ram to someone from above to give him some special abilities.

December 23 in the cartoon «The Lion King» was an episode when Rafiki, a great teacher, a wise monkey, accepted the little monkey as his disciple. And at that moment

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Rafiki told her: «I accepted you as my disciple, in the morning your studies will begin». So I found out that my request for the some special abilities for Shri Ram was granted.

Then I began to wonder who is this lady Trix, and I decided to get information about her and I wanted to know should even do this task. I pulled out one Metaphorical associative card on the Internet. Only one card. It was a picture, which was painted a tree with a hollow at the bottom of the tree trunk. The hollow looked like a big black hole. And in this hollow, in the black darkness glowed two shone points-eyes of some disgusting malicious beast. These eyes inspired some chilling horror and plunged into a stupor. And the roots of the tree were scattered in different directions, like the legs of the shameless naked woman. I thought that lady Trix is some shameless woman with something evil inside.

In the evening I remembered that picture with that black hole between the spread out legs-roots, and I mentally imagined this tree with this hole and entered there. I imagined that it is some lady Trix and she's got something inside, and I walked right into her, walked there, looked all over her pipe, went up to the top, into vertex of her head and untwisted it with all my might. Vertex of her head began to float in the air over her head and began to spin there like a helicopter. I looked at this picture and decided: «We take her».

Immediately I found myself mentally before the portal from which I was told about lady Trix, and from there rushed torrent of something, information, as I then thought. But then I decided that it was still a fee for the implementation of this case. I, like a hired exterminator of evil spirits, received an order, looked at the client, gave my consent. I was immediately paid the entire amount of money for the order. 100 % of prepayment, in advance. Just what currency? What kind of money can use in such inter-dimensional mutual settlements? After all, in different worlds are different bodies. Being born in another world, the soul is clothed in another body, which can exist in those conditions, in that atmosphere. But what exactly, what kind of wealth, what currency can be paid in the performance of some Affairs at that level, between different dimensions and different worlds? I didn't know, but I got paid in advance, and then I realized after a while. How did I get 100 % advance payment? And such big torrent went from there...

That is, they were completely sure in me that once I took up the case, it is sure, guaranteed to be implemented? How is that? Where such trust and such confidence? And who am I that I was suggested that such an order, patiently waiting for my consent and immediately pay the entire honorarium when I just will agree? I had no answers to these questions. These answers were not open to me who was born in this life and whose is now called Svetlana Vinodavani. These answers were not open to me who came to this incarnation to have a rest from some hot night, where I mercilessly battled demons who do not allow me to sleep, when I said constantly that I will not give up, will not never give up, that I will not allow myself to break, and if I fall, then I will rise immediately from my knees and I will find my way home. I will escape from the material world and return to my real home, the spiritual world.

Yes, I'm some kind of unique specialist on the destruction of demons, and because of this I can not sleep, I'm constantly on my post fighting, I beat in different worlds all evil, from life to life. and I don't even have the ability to just live like everyone else, even one life, because I'm always needed, and so I'm always, from life to life born where there's such an abomination to kill it. And I keep saying that I will not give up, that they will not be able to break my will and throw me on knees. And I have seen so many of them in my past lives that I have only one desire — to leave this world, where this evil is not translated, where I, as such a specialist in them, there is not a second of the short respice. Even now, when I came in this incarnation to have a break from the bloody battle, to me someone from there still comes for help and waits patiently, when will I again kill them. This life for me is like a short vacation from my main job, that is, from the destruction of evil. But even here, in this life, in this incarnation I still continue to carry out a cleaning of the asuric community in my Mahabharata. I'm always on my battle station.

There are so many... There is no end to this. But I will find, I will find my way home, to the spiritual world. I will leave this world where you live and think you can get comfortable here, but you don't really see the real picture of how everything is in reality. You can not notice that for a long time already kneeling and doing someone else's will. But no, I will not give up, never give up. And even if I fall, I'll get up and I'll find my way home. I will return to the spiritual world.

I was thinking about this contact with someone from other worlds, other dimensions, and I came to think about another meaning of my spiritual name Vinodavani dasi. When my Gurudev gave me this name, in St. Petersburg on May 2, 1996, at Sri Narasimha Jayanthi, the day of the appearance of Lord Nrisimhadev, he said that Vinodavani means the personified love for God. Then, after I in my Mahabharata crossed out many Asuras from the material world and sent them to the spiritual world, through their devotional service to Krishna in their future lives, I could see that I'm actually some kind of powerful weapon, destructive those who are criminals under the laws of the Universe. And this lady Trix. And this picture with burning eyes of some vile disgusting creature in a hollow of the human body showed me that I was not limited to Asuras. To catch this lady Trix, someone came to me from some portal, and patiently waited for my consent, and immediately paid the fee. That means that I'm a great specialist and on such malicious creatures as this lady Trix.

And I thought that in the word «personified» («лицетворенная») hidden several words: «face — for the creature — give — I» («а-лице-тваре-на-я»). I read it backwards, and I got this meaning of the word: «I — give — for the creatures — face» («я на твари лицо»), that is, I give (on — it's when you give) some creatures a face [«я даю („на“ — это ведь когда дают) твари лицо»]. How can you give some creature that doesn't have a face a normal face? Well, only through the death of this creature and its next birth, but have as a normal living being, with his own face. And this birth must be very good because the face is only in people, not animals, not fish, not birds, not the worms... Animals don't have face, they have muzzle. So have in Russian. In Russian «лицо» is “a face”, and «морда» is “a muzzle”. In the Russian language when you say the word «лицо» mean only the people, because when talking about all the others, use the word «морда». But in my name Vinodavani hidden word «face» («лицо» — «лицетворенная» — «а-лице-тваре-на-я»). This indicates that I am giving those creatures a very high birth. After the existence as terrible evil creatures without a face they are born as normal people. This is a very rapid progress. Like a high-speed Elevator from the lowest floor to the highest. I mean, by killing some creatures, I'm helping them find a normal, human birth.

And I saw in this my spiritual name Vinodavani such a meaning that I am the one who gives some creatures a normal existence, killing these creatures, because a creature without a face can get a face only after receiving a new birth, already as a normal living being with a face. A new birth can be obtained only after death. When the body will die, the soul will reincarnates, and living being will live in a new body. That is, I help some beings to get their own face, killing them so that they can be born after death in a normal existence and live like all of us. But now that the creature has no face, what kind of creature was I thinking? I remembered Sia's song «Never Give Up».

I've battled demons that won't let me sleep,
Called to the sea but she abandoned me.
But I won't never give up, no, never give up, no, no.
And I won't let you get me down.
I'll keep gettin' up when I hit the ground.
I'll find my way, find my way home.
Never give up, never give up.

I thought that this song is about the fact that I will not surrender, will not let anyone put me on my knees, I fought with demons that won't let me sleep. I sang and sang this song. I thought this song would give me an answer.

But I did not see the answer, and this picture with the glowing eyes in black hollow at the bottom of the tree with shamelessly sprawled roots-feet very much bothered me. On 24 December, before going to bed, after the act of family well-being, I was so sorry that I was sitting here in the material world, where at any moment you can find yourself in any, the most undesirable situation, and I began to beg Krishna to take me from the material world to the spiritual world.

And then I remembered lady Trix, within which was sitting between her legs in a black hole a terrible evil little beast with white dots-eyes. I imagined this picture of a tree with a hollow at the bottom, mentally went into this hole and began there to slowly chant the Hare Krishna mantra, remembering how Prabhu Sasha in Banava, near Mamonovo, told me about the power of the Hare Krishna mantra that Hare Krishna mantra can clean everything, even the boards infected with radiation. I felt sorry for this lady Trix, because she has to be in this material world, and I wanted to help her return to the spiritual world. And with such thoughts I chanted inside lady Trix mantra Hare Krishna.

Then I saw inside her some kind of nasty black disgusting larva that opens a toothy maw. And I went right into her open mouth. That is, it so happened that I walked through the hole from the bottom inside a woman, inside a woman there was some kind of black vile larva with open mouth, I came to inside the larva, and chanted inside her a mantra. I chanted, I chanted, then began from her to pull in like by a magnet some knives into inside me. I pulled them up for a while, chanting a mantra inside her, felt relieved and fell asleep.

124. The sending Lady Trix through a portal to another dimension

In the morning I got up, and before my inner sight there was a picture with a beautiful-beautiful coffin, and in my mind the thought sounded: «I'll kill you». It made me angry, I thought, «Lady Trix, you're wrong. You make me very, very angry. Oh, are you threatening me? Do you have any sense at all? I chanted the Hare Krishna mantra. For your sake. It is for you so you can come back the spiritual world, to Krishna. That you, lady Trix, may stop making your abominations and go from the material world to the spiritual». I told her, «Lady Trix, you signed your own sentence. And I'll take care of you today. I'm not waiting for anything. I will delete you right today».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I got very angry, I took the beads and I started chanting the Hare Krishna mantra. I thought, lady Trix threatening me, she threatens me with death.... I'm only chanted mantra for her, in order to she got the benefit, was freed from this vile creature from this larva that is inside her, but she threatened me, I thought. I wished her the good. To free her from the vile creature inside her. And I again went into that hole, began to chant the mantra Hare Krishna, and then I again went inside ghoulish, disgusting larva and inside her chanted mantra. Then I look: it's all covered in hoarfrost, as if with snow, everything was white, but I continued to chant and I chanted inside those larva four circles of the mantra Hare Krishna.

Then I went to do my business, and then I went to wash the dishes and thought that now I will deal with lady Trix thoroughly. I started singing Narasimha Maha Mantra, «ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham» and I began to do everything as usual with her. Somehow quickly she flew into funnel-shaped vortex on top. I looked at what was left of her, I look: and this vile creature sits and does not go anywhere.

Then I went to do my business, and then I went to wash the dishes and thought that now I will deal with lady Trix thoroughly. I started singing Narasimha Maha Mantra, «ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham» and I began to do everything as usual with her. Somehow quickly she flew into funnel-shaped vortex on top. I looked at what was left of her, I look: and this vile creature sits and does not go anywhere.

I sang the Narasimha Maha Mantra and for this creature. I look: she went higher and stood in front of me at the level of my eyes. We look into each other's eyes, and I can see that appeared some bridge between us from there into my eyes, and from there something powerful flown into my eyes, some white-gray-blue glow. Then I thought that was enough for today. I sat down and began to think. What was flying into my eyes? And who was that lady Trix? The woman, inside of whom something was sitting, or the energetical malicious larva, which sat inside the women? Whom I sent up into funnel-shaped vortex? Did the lady Trix fly inside me? She sits in me now?

I thought that at me everything should be provided for the neutralization and destruction of any vile creatures. I thought that Sia's song «Never Give Up» is about that. I've battled demons that won't let me sleep, Called to the sea but she abandoned me. But I won't never give up, no, never give up, no, no. And I won't let you get me down. I'll keep gettin' up when I hit the ground. I'll find my way, find my way home. Never give up, never give up. That's what I was doing. And that's what I promised to open for Shri Ram, when he wanted to know what secret I hadn't told him yet. I thought that since I had fought a lot with demons who could break the will and bring me to my knees, but from portal someone asked me for help and waited for my consent, then I can do it. I've done this many times in my past lives, and I have everything to do this. I won't give any deer a chance to survive.

But what was there flown into my eyes? I'm so tired of all this, I thought. I am not a hero. But I have to play this role, this kind of Slayer of some terrible creatures, because I am Vinodavani, the personified love of God, I am the one who gives the terrible creatures a face, a new life, that is, I am their death. And since I am the death of the terrible creatures, an awareness will come to me about what needs to be done. Just at that time I read one of the books about Artemis Fowl «The Lost Colony» by Colfer Eoin, and there was a gangster was given such a characteristic: «Kong was infamous in underworld circles. The man had no morals, and would happily perform any task, however distasteful, for the right price. Kong only had one rule: never quit until the job is done».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I thought that was a description of me. I'm well known in some circles, in some worlds, where I beat such malicious terrible creatures, because I am Vinodavani. My name is Vinodavani, personified love for God — in Russian «олицетворенная любовь к Богу». The word «олицетворенная» can be decomposed into parts as follows: «о-лице-твари-на-я», which means: «face — for terrible creature — give — I». I'm the one who gives a face for different terrible creatures. Some creatures do not have your face, normal existence, and I give them face, that is normal life. But I give them this through their death, because terrible creatures can become normal beings only by being born as normal living beings. And I killed those terrible creatures. I am the death of terrible creatures. I am the Slayer of the terrible creatures. And since I took this order, I will bring it to the bitter end, because I have only one rule — not to retreat until the work is done. I realized that woman who flew away into funnel-shaped vortex, it was not lady Trix. Lady Trix is the one who sat in her. Lady Trix is a vile larva, a nasty energetical slug. Those evil eyes in that black hollow in the bottom of the tree are lady Trix.

Lady Trix is not human. It is some colonist, energetical malicious parasite, which is completely subjugates the will of the person in whom he sits, suppresses and drinking juices everywhere. And from the person in whom he sits, and from those with whom this person contacts. And I thought I'd sing for lady Trix Hare Krishna mantra. Mantra Hare Krishna cleans everything, she will clean up and this lady Trix, who flew into me. I thought that lady Trix was like a worm that was parasitic in the human body, and to kill her, you need the most powerful pill. And the most powerful pill is the Hare Krishna mantra. Because it is Krishna Himself, God Himself, and God can do anything.

I didn't know lady Trix is an energy parasite sitting in some woman, and I took this order. I pulled her inside of me through my eyes. I was very frightened... Now this thing is inside me? And I say to Shri Ram: «I am so afraid», and he says: «Don't be afraid, I am with you». And I say: «And I'm still afraid», and Krishna says: «Don't be afraid, trust him. All will be well». It was evening, the kids were in karate class, and I went to take them home.

I go to the gate of the school, there is familiar woman, whose son also goes to karate, says to me: «Let them out». She meant that the children have already been released from class and they are already going home, but she said: «Let them out» («выпустили их» in Russian). I look at this phrase, spread it out into its component parts and see: «You let them in» («выпустили их» → «вы пустили их»). I let her inside me. It confirmed my hunch that I let that lady Trix inside me. And I remembered how let a Shepherd inside me, which is The Shepherd, I do not love you, and how he'd been in me for more than two weeks, and I, along with him inside, I entered the empty shell of the teacher of Shri Ram, and I strengthened his presence there, and then threw him out into funnel-shaped vorte in top.

And I think: the Shepherd was some normal, and here in General it is unclear that, some energy parasite. And Shri Ram told me through this woman that I had let them in. Who did I let into myself? Some lady Trix. Trix is three. Maybe there's not one, but three? Maybe they were there a few? And I think: I'm such a goof! I'm not cool. I'm inspector of Universe Patrol? This is ridiculous! And now I don't know what to do with it. And this energetical malicious creature had the audacity to give me the order «kneel down». This is when I came home; the first screenshot on my desktop was with the words «kneel down».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

This energetical malicious creature behaved so disgusting! I let her inside me favourably, I did not kill her, I let her listen to the mantra Hare Krishna so she could free herself from her vile existence and go to the spiritual world, to Krishna, but she tells me in an impudent tone «kneel down»! What audacity! I said to her, «You are threatening me? You're saying me „kneel down“? Who are you to act like this?» And I, very frightened, decided to do the dishes. Because when I let her in, before I went to get the kids for karate, I was washing dishes and there were still a lot of dishes left.

I decided to wash all dishes and at the same time try to somehow to protect myself. I decided to sing Narasimha Maha Mantra, because it protects from everything. I started washing the dishes, turned on the Narasimha Maha Mantra and started singing it, begging Krishna and Nrisimhadev to protect me. Shri Ram confirmed to me that I let her into me: «you let them in» («вы пустили их»). I'm washing dishes, singing «ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham», and suddenly inside me a fire caught fire. During the destruction of the Asuras, fire came out of me and he burned them all. This fire was so strong and powerful, it raged inside them and out.

And suddenly such fire began to rage inside me. And it's shines furiously inside of me with terrible force... Burning all the impure. And I think, and to me this is worse, it will not? I think: no, it will not, I have everything to be provided. This fire burns the Asuras, and now it burns this energetical malicious creature. And I think: Shri Ram and Fedka bodyguard are connected to me. Is that fire can to hurt them? But I remembered that I vouched for Shri Ram when I commented on the screenshots with the story of how Hanuman was given Ashta-siddhi. And then I had signs that my request was granted. I think probably Shri Ram got immunity from such energetical malicious creatures and their energies, and maybe from my fire. It's no wonder I made this request when I was given this lady Trix. I must have taken care of Shri Ram's safety before I did all this. And now nothing will hurt him. Not my fire or those creatures.

That fire was burning so hard inside and around me, too, and I remembered when I was 24 years old, I flying to a star. One of my friends who were interested esoterics, then, arranged me a session of relaxation in which I rose into the space above the Earth and I flied with Earth in dancing embracing each other. We danced with Earth high in space. And I felt such love from her, she was alive. And we loved each other. And then, when we spun around hugging with the Earth, I remembered about some star, which in the sky I really liked. And then I thought I wanted to go to that star, and suddenly I was right in front of that star.

It was not an incandescent orb, emitting a heat, but an orb floating in space and shimmering soft light-green-golden light. Not hot at all. I flew up to this orb and began to fly around him, expressing his love for him. I flew for a long time, and then suddenly I somehow froze, I look: this orb began to make circles around me; he began to fly around me, from the bottom up in a spiral. I look: I'm standing all transparent in space, and this orb flies around me and spins a dense, opaque white cocoon around me. He's got me wrapped up in this cocoon. This star for me was not an object, but a personality, and male.

I'm standing in this cocoon, not moving and see before me only this white substance, in which I was completely twisted. Although before that I had some kind of circular, panoramic vision that I saw the space around me in all directions, 360 degrees of view. And suddenly the cocoon broke out like a bright flash. I look and I see a dazzling light coming from me in all directions. Far, far into space. Bright, white and gold. He permeated everything around him. And I stood there, shining and thought I was a star now. And I thought: «This is how supernovas are born». And then I thought: «Now it's time to go home», and again found myself on a chair in my physical body. I sit and think: somewhere in space shines a star, which has just been born! And that star is me.

And now I'm doing the dishes at home, I sing Narasimha Maha Mantra, inside of me rages a furious fire, I remembered that star that I am, and suddenly that star that shines somewhere in the sky, found itself inside of me, and from it in all directions is a blinding light and everything unclean kills. And then I thought it was time to kick me out these energetical creatures, I let into myself, which «вы пустили их». That woman said about the children, «They were released» («выпустили их»), and I spread out this phrase into its component parts «you let them in» («выпустили их» → «вы пустили их»). But then I began to follow the instructions contained in this phrase, namely: and now we will release them. In Russian, this phrase can be understood in different ways, and in this case, I applied this meaning of the phrase in Russian.

I thought, I let these creatures into myself, and now I will release them. And as soon as I thought about it, appeared a huge, powerful vortex inside of me in the place where the star was shining, and spinning at breakneck speed. And I see that creatures I let into myself before, are drawn into this funnel-shaped vortex and rotate inside it. And I think: where to send them? Usually I sent them in the funnel-shaped vortex up, a few parties I sent to the infernal worlds. But I wasn't told to send her there. I think: it is necessary to send up, into the best incarnations, it is necessary to include the funnel-shaped vortex at the top. I turned on the funnel-shaped vortex. I look: the funnel-shaped vortex from above turns, but they do not fly there. They go round and round in the vortex that is within me, but into the upper vortex they do not fly away.

I think: what's the matter? Where should I send them? I don't know what to do with them. You can not send them down. They're not human beings. They're energetical slugs, maggots. Up they do not fly, although there is a funnel-shaped vortex spinning at the top: fly, please, no, up not fly. I think: that with them to do? And all of a sudden opened the portal from which someone told me about lady Trix. And so I've got a funnel-shaped vortex spinning at breakneck speed around inside, and nothing can break out of there, and that portal opened, so wide. And I thought: now I know what to do with them. Ordering about her I received of this portal! They need her. There she was already sentenced and waiting for her to get to her to punish her. That's where she will go.

I think: what a great idea, as it had not occurred to me before? And I take this that's funnel-shaped vortex inside of me, turn it to that portal and connect it with it, and they all flew there to this portal, to another dimension, to other worlds, not on Earth. I saw them fly over there. I see the portal closed. I think: so, everything is normal, the work is done completely. I thought maybe there's someone else lingered?

I untwisted funnel-shaped vortex, but the portal was closed and disappeared altogether, and the funnel-shaped vortex also disappeared somewhere, dishes was washed. I think: the task was done successfully. Lady Trix was sent there, there in the portal are satisfied with the work done. I turned on the Oracle of Archangel Michael, and it tells me: «Sleep well, your home is protected. Don't worry, you are completely safe». I opened for Shri Ram what was hidden from him before. I told him a secret who I was there in some other worlds and what I was doing there, and now I expected a return move: that he would reveal to me what was hidden from me before.

125. Dating sites as a gold mine for asuras

I have opened this page of my existence in material world to Shri Ram, that I am destroying some terrible creatures in some worlds. Now it was his turn to reveal to me the hidden pages of our interaction, and he opened something to me. However, not all. There were still many discoveries ahead. But it stunned me. He told me that he and I had an interaction on a Dating site before I went to a karate coach about classes for kids. But let's start from the beginning. When I was in Moscow, when we lived with children in a rented apartment and I thought to settle in the Moscow region, I had a very good communication with a psychologist.

It was a very good woman who was able to mildly and unobtrusively turn me from the rejection of the male to the discovery of my future. She found words for me to accept the idea that being alone is not the best thing for me and that there is someone waiting for me. Then I felt in the space of his image and decided to actively act to attract him into my real life. And I began to do it in an irrational way, namely, from time to time intentionally causing the release of my female energy and her strong-willed direction towards his image, with giving her a strong pull, like a magnet, and with my words for him to come to me. To do this, I engaged in masturbation, in order to during orgasm throw my magnetized my call energy to him.

Shri Ram certainly felt these bursts of my energy in him, for he is my eternal husband and I have directed my energy to him. Well, also because he's Asur, he couldn't help but feel it. And to resist it he could not, because our connection with him outside this world. And that's how I periodically for a while did it, summoning him and attracting him to himself through space. And then, when we moved from Moscow, I was not up to it, and I'm stopped doing that. Shri Ram was waiting and waiting for when this energy again comes flooding back on him, but this did not happen, and then he decided to find me in the sleep territory.

He found among the Asuras some craftsman who knows how to find people in their image, the feeling of them. Shri Ram gave him a lot of them asuric currency, a downloaded female energy, piety, and that craftsman began to look for me by imprint my energy I sent Shri Ram. And he found me on sleep territory. It was March 1, 2014. We were talking to each other there, and he made sure that I exist, and I saw that he is and he is looking for me. And then I decided to give him a chance so he could find me. I thought that somewhere he is, that is, somewhere he should be. If I moved here, then he must be here. I could not move to another place, because nature so arranged.

And I thought it is necessary to give him a chance so that I, like an ovum, could stand where I'm easiest to find, and he will swim to me like a spermatozoon. After all, I sent him my energy, actively, with such good the magnetized content of «come to me, come to me», with such a powerful impulse, and he found me in the sleep territory, and he must look for me, I thought. And the easiest way to search in our time is a Dating sites. I thought that a reasonable man who feels and knows that somewhere there is his pair, his woman who calls him, that there is an energy unity with her, constant energy couplings, will use such way of searching, as a Dating site. And I registered on there and set there waiting like an ovum, thinking he will swim to me now like a spermatozoon.

I was sure that he must come, he can't not come to me, because if destined to come, will come. Just sit there like an ovum, and he'll swim up to me like a spermatozoon. But there swam up a bunch of other spermatozoon's, who is not mine and which is not looking for a woman for whom they will take responsibility. There swam up a bunch of spermatozoon's who did not want to take responsibility for anyone. They just wanted sex without commitment. Some men tried to covertly lead to this, others made hints, and there were those who openly talked about it.

I once sat there, sat and thought that I was tired of these rotten spermatozoon's that swim there in search of gratis pleasures, don't want to be responsible for anything, who think that they fine fellows and that every woman dreams of giving him sex. Maybe someone wants, but I'm so sick of these encroachments on the bodily theme that I decided to leave. But we with Shri Ram had a meeting during my time on the dating site and not just once. Through those men who sit there.

Dating sites is a gold mine for the Asuras. Shri Ram is an Asur. And he is the chief among local Asuras. He is RA, that is in charge of the local asuric organization. In his hands, if you can say so, all the local Asuras. And everywhere are or his associates, or those through whom he see the people passing by and think whom to subjugate under themselves. And on a Dating site it's it is very easy to do that, because on a Dating site are single women who are looking for a man.

Why would a woman go to that Dating site to shame herself, sit there like an ovum? And some of the ovum's are actively write to men, put the huskies, comments photos, and draw attention to themselves. An ovum that sits and acts as a spermatozoon. And there are a lot of them because they're single. Such a vast field of activity for the Asuras... Shri Ram is the local leader of the Asuras. Underneath him is a bunch of Asuras. They sit on Dating sites, on this gold vein, a field of miracles, and look out for those women who can come up to them for regular milking of their female energy, and with it, and pleasure, as the energy comes out with a female orgasm, which occurs as a result of either sex or Masturbation.

And the Asuras can somehow connect to you even at a distance, just through communication. Asuras can press your women's centers to generate a surge of that energy during your sex with some man or during your Masturbation. And when you have an orgasm, your female energy comes out of you, and the Asuras take it from you. You sit on this Dating site, and they are able to connect through likes, through communication, through conversations by phone, through meetings in cafe or on a bench in the Park. Somehow Asuras are able to connect to you energetically and bring you to the point where you have an orgasm. They do not need anything from you anymore, well, coupled with the pleasure by your body, at a distance.

But even this pleasure is not the main. The main thing for Asuras is your oil, your fuel, your energy. The main thing is that you had an orgasm that you threw out your energy. They somehow know how to take this energy from you. Even they can take your energy from you and not only with your orgasm. Enough and just your the rise of your emotions and a surge of jubilation. Some nice, cultural man invited you on a just mind-blowing roof raiser, you rejoiced at the emotions that flooded you, cheered from the surging emotions, and the asuras withdrawn your energy during this rejoicing, and you didn't notice it.

And not necessarily that it did who arranged you this just mind-blowing roof raiser. Because Asuras know how to connect to you. The main thing is not to hold your hand personally, and connect to you energetically, and all. Just mind-blowing roof raiser for you arranged through another man fool, with your energy spilled out when you was admiring the sunset in the company of a nice man, but Asuras connected to you completely invisibly, at a distance and your energy was taken away. A piece of your priceless pie was taken.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Yes, of course, you got a lot of pleasant emotions, just mind-blowing roof raiser gave you a lot of impressions, but nothing more. More than anything you have not received and will not receive. Because no one was going to take any responsibility for you. They just were going to summon you a surge of rejoicing in you, a surge of that energy. The jubilation has come out of you. They took this energy from you and went to another woman to take her energy. They don't need you for a while. Dating site for this just Klondike. And the Asuras are well aware of this and sit there. And in every big city has its own Asuric organization, which has its own main Asur, RA. He holds all his Asuras in his hands, like a spider feeling every thread in his web.

And Dating sites for asuras are a very large field of activity, generous to catch. These Ra sit each in their big city, each RA holds a neural network of subordinates, and many of his subordinates are on a Dating sites watching for women, who sit there as ovum, waiting for her spermatozoon. But most of the ovum's there run around catching spermatozoon. And the spermatozoon is sitting there like ovum. And the Asuras use it. And Shri Ram and I had a lot of interaction on the Dating site, because he's in charge of the local Asuric organization. And since I was communicating with the alleged contenders for my hand and heart, although they did not even have such plans, and Shri Ram through them showed his influence invisibly, then I interacted with him. They arranged me just mind-blowing roof raisers. And there were bursts of joy.

And Shri Ram was able to take some of my energy from me when I was there admiring the pleasant views in the company of a nice man, ready to warn any of your desire, if only you had this surge of your exultation, admiration for something, some pleasant emotions that are so rush out, so that they immediately took it all. Woman sitting all days at work, and then the man from the site invited somewhere to a pleasant just mind-blowing roof raiser. And one of this contrast is enough to the background of this cool just mind-blowing roof raiser you had a rise of energy, even without sex and sexual harassment, and even without your Masturbation. Simply raising your energy and spilling it out is enough. And they will pump your feminine energy out of you and went to another transfer. And so in a circle. And you're such a good donor.

They can call you once a week to arrange for you the next just mind-blowing roof raiser, so that again you throw out this energy and they will use it. But no one is going to take responsibility for you at all, since there are many donors, all need to process. And Shri Ram used me thus on that Dating site. I was a good object for him: no illicit sex, no intoxication, no meat-eating, no gambling, energy is quite clean. The purer the energy, the more valued, the more expensive the currency.

For Shri Ram my energy was very fit, he could buy a lot of things with this energy as a currency at Asuras, but I off the hook every time. One man invited me to just mind-blowing roof raiser, but I'm off the hook, chastised him this format of relationship. I told him that I do not like when they call 1–2 times a week to appoint another just mind-blowing roof raiser. I also said another man, «Sorry, I'm not satisfied with this», the third drove up, and I chased him away. Shri Ram sent me different men and looked, what I like, choosing from the male half of the site of those who more or less fits my criteria to put pressure on their minds and send to meet me.

He sees: the energy of this chick is good, but the chick is too obstinate. The eggs of this chick seem good, from her goes good energy, but she flies off the hook every time. We gave her a good hook; she's the first time it swallowed. The first dose of poison from this snake is already taken, the poison is good, you can use it, and she is the second dose of poison does not, and still kicking... She's too obstinate a chick. She even reprimands those who sit on the site, through whom Shri Ram throws his network on women. Shri Ram very much didn't like my behavior. He actively wanted me under someone from inhabitants of the website to shove that through a body of this lucky already in full power invisibly to exploit me and to have me in sex, at the energy plane of existence, through distance.

126. Choice for asuras from dating sites

Shri Ram was going to involve me in sex with some man from the site to invisibly be present in sex, where he would not be personally. Asuras can do it. Shri Ram wanted to get inside me to enjoy me, my body, and to pump my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis. And I wouldn't know that there would have been someone else in that sex, completely invisible. How disgusting! But the Asuras not only know how to do it, they do it. And they have a profit from those men who walk with many women, arranging them just mind-blowing roof raisers and laying them in bed, in sex, as the more donors, the more energy withdrawn from them. Shri Ram arranged for me a lot of just mind-blowing roof raisers on that Dating site. But I always managed to get out of there.

For Madame arranged just mind-blowing roof raiser, Madame is happy. Just mind-blowing roof raiser was good, high quality. The energy of admiration, jubilation came out. She exclaimed: «Class! I love it!» They think: «Now we will arrange her one more just mind-blowing roof raiser, and in accordance with the pickup the third just mind-blowing roof raiser is already sex. We will milk her to the fullest. This woman we will milk on Fridays, and that on Fridays, and the next we will milk on Tuesdays». On the Dating sites there are many such Asuras who milk cows, that is, women. But every time I did not go to the second transfer of energy. Each time I refused, and harshly, strongly and very unpleasant for the Asuras. And Shri Ram couldn't catch me. And then I completely left the Dating site.

And when Shri Ram revealed this to me, I decided to announce a campaign for those Asuras who scour on Dating sites, but are not going to take responsibility for any woman, because they need to milk many women donors. They are not even going to walk with only one woman, as they need many women to pump energy from more donors. And I told asuras that I wanted to eliminate all such Asuras, and around the globe. They give false hope women who come to these Dating sites not to have fun their time. They give false hope women who come to these Dating sites not to become donors of female energy for Asuras, but in order to find their own man, the only one with whom she will always be. There are such women.

But for asuras it is more profitable download feminine energy from many women, so they scour on Dating sites and go on a schedule in a circle, arranging for many women just mind-blowing roof raiser. They pressing on women's energy centers in women, so that women are masturbate in satisfying themselves in the silence of their home alone or in sex with man from that site, in order to pump her energy from her. I came to this Dating site, thinking: «Now my Shri Ram will find me, I sent him my feminine energy, saying, „come, come to me“, and even he came to me in a sleep territory, he knows that I live somewhere here, not far away. He should be looking for me. Because he's mine».

And there are women who come to Dating sites not to have flirt, to run from one man to another, to become dairy cows for asuras with pumping women's energy from women on a regular basis. Woman on Dating site is not in order to pay on a price list that for a smile of the man she has to agreed to a kiss, for a Cup of coffee she has to let herself be hugged, and for three meetings in a cafe she has to have sex with him. Woman on Dating sites gives her man a chance to find her. And she has every right to do so, because a woman must be protected by her man. And I told the Asuras that all those of them who insidiously exploits these women, who not going to take responsibility for any of them, I will send them to their next lives.

I even determined their future. such a lot around the globe, because in every big city there is a large Asuric organization and Dating sites. And I decided to give them a choice: which one of them will settle down and take responsibility for some one woman from those whom they are there on Dating sites work up, with whom he is happy to live the rest of his life, those will live, and the rest will go to their next lives to serve Krishna. Yes, I have such a resource and I use it at my discretion. Because I have the right.

And I gave them a deadline: until January 14, those Asuras who scour on Dating sites for pumping women's energy from women on a regular basis, must decide: either they will stop completely this activity and take full responsibility for some one woman, so to speak, will lead their site to the standard form, or they will go to their next lives to serve Krishna. Since it was December 26, I gave them a lot of time to think — more than two weeks. Very generous gesture.

But I made a reservation: they should not just take responsibility for one woman, only to hide behind her, in order to I did not kill him. They have to really live with this woman and really be responsible for her, so that she become happy. Each of them must protect his woman, and not to pump her feminine energy out of her on a regular basis. Everything has to be fair. They should treat their woman as their treasure, not as a cash cow or a hen laying Golden eggs. Since they scoured on Dating sites and they have their sympathies there, then they should decide whom of those women they will take as their woman. Women are waiting for their only man, and I want to make them such a gift, I decided.

And for those who will decide that this is not for them, I have determined the future as Krishna's devotees in the ISKCON program «Hare Krishna Food for Life», in extreme conditions: wars, hot spots, tsunamis, earthquakes, where it is very, very necessary, and where it is dangerous. And they will be all their future lives only in such places, I decided. They'll always have food, I decided. And it will be Prasad that is very tasty vegetarian food offered to Krishna. They will always be fed. I have already taken care of this, I told asuras in the 147th series.

And they will go to Krishna and realize into practice that if you think for a second about material enjoyment, you are just a fool. They will not have the illusion that here it is necessary to enjoy. They will fully realize that it is simply a folly to enjoy in this material world. And they will all return to Krishna, because after this it is impossible not to return to Krishna. Shri Ram did not regret me on this Dating site. He wanted to pump my feminine energy out of me on a regular basis. But who's gonna take care of me and to take responsibility for me? I came to him because he's my husband.

He didn't say she is mine, my lovely, the only one I was looking for. No, he said, «We're going to put her on the stream now, for pumping energy from her on a regular basis. We'll milk the energy from her like a snake poison in the serpentarium». My dreams were shattered. Someone has to pay for this, I decided. And the Asuras will pay. They made my eternal husband Asur, dividing the eternal couple, and now they will be responsible for it, I thought. So I was not going to regret them for a second.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Those who do not want to bring their site to the standard form, will go to «Hare Krishna Food for Life», will many lives in extreme conditions feed the needy by Prasad, food offered to Krishna to see all the futility of being in the material world so they prayed to Krishna and so zealously served Krishna to return into spiritual world. And there, in the spiritual world, they will thank me from the bottom of my heart that I saved them from the poison of materialistic life, that I sent them to such places where they felt everything on their skin and escaped from the material world to the spiritual world.

And that they were grateful to Shri Ram, because if Shri Ram was not, then I would not be so angry. But because Shri Ram, my eternal husband, did this to me, wanted to put me on eternal pumping energy out of me and that no one took responsibility for me, I was so angry and sent them all there, in such extreme places to feed all there prasad. And they will beg Radha and Krishna to take us with Shri Ram to spiritual world. That was my decision after Shri Ram and I had opened to each other the hidden pages of our existence.

127. Broken dreams

And though Shri Ram found me on a Dating site, he did not deign to come to me personally, because he is the main in the local Asuric organization, under him sit his subordinates Asuras, and he has such a Department of treatment of females on Dating sites. Because the Dating sites is for them, for the Asuras as the bonanza. There's women are there looking for a man, and they're lonely. And for Asuras this feeder.

And Shri Ram, like other big Asuras that are in all the big cities, has subordinates, men who start relationships with women on Dating sites, pretending to be looking for a woman for a serious relationship. Actually no serious relationship they do not need, because they are in the asuric Department of the pumping energy and the involvement of women on a permanent regular pumping energy. These men on Dating sites start relationships with different women. He engage with the female to contact, and find her weak point, psychological complex, an undercurrent of desire, by acting on which it is possible to constantly take with her feminine energy like from of the snake regularly take snake poison in serpentarium.

For something, asuras needs this female energy, as it is an important part of their activities. They are able to influence women's energy centers even without contact of bodies. To take away from the woman her energy, do not necessarily for them force her to have sex with someone or to masturbate. But in sex there is a pleasant feeling, and energy spectrum of the bigger, better, and a feeling of superiority that this stupid woman doesn't even realize what was happening to her. And on a Dating site Shri Ram sent to me different men to find someone to put me in bed with so that, by joining the supposed regular sex, he could take away my energy. But every time I did not give in. And through all of them Shri Ram communicated with me, allegorically.

One point was interesting. At the very beginning, one of those men invited me to one just mind-blowing roof raiser, as a result of which I was very much inspired and showed my delight, there was a surge of emotions. Just emotions, but this just mind-blowing roof raiser liked so much and matched my wishes that I expressed my glee. When we said goodbye, he asked me am I satisfied. I said «yes». Actually Shri Ram through that man was asking me if the exchange was equivalent. What kind of exchange? The exchange my priceless feminine energy, which I've been saving up for a long time, for this insignificant and transient adventure that was soon forgotten. He as would asked: «Do you have no complaints against us? We took a piece of your feminine energy, not so many, after all this was not sex, but we will force you to have sex and then we will drain you of your feminine energy. But now that we've taken droplet of your feminine energy, you admit that we didn't deceive you? It is equivalent to the emotions you've been felt?» I said «yes».

All, the transfer took place, the donor signed the act of acceptance, more claims for this transfer the donor fall anywhere is not entitled, as he personally agreed with the fact that the exchange was adequate. But I didn't go to the second transfer of energy. And Shri Ram had to constantly adjust which men fit my criteria and send me new and new men as Kamsa sent to Krishna in Vrindavan different demons. It got to the point that he found for me a very good man, with serious intentions, staid, determined to marry and live a quiet measured family life.

And Shri Ram somehow pressed on that man that he would actively take care of me, although I did not give preference to him. It was very ashamed to refuse that man. I was so rankled by torments of conscience, and lady friends said that it is necessary to take such man, that such rarely occur. He was suave, cultured, delicate, old-fashioned, wishing to marry and live in lawful marriage. We met a lot, he told me that a few years ago his wife died and he now thinks a lot about her. Shri Ram so needed me with my clean and high energy that even found such a man for me.

Of course, his plans not were to take care of me as a woman. He wanted to give me the kind of man with whom I'd been together, to whom I'd trust and have sex with him. Shri Ram wanted to deflate from me my female energy when I would have sex with that man. Shri Ram has already determined everything. He decided that I would marry for that man. He wanted to be linked up to me through that man's body in our with that man conjugal sex. Asuras do not hesitate to be in sex even in another's families, in couples, in legitimate intimacy. They do it at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies. I refused this man, though I was very embarrassed to do it, because it was impossible to find fault with him, everything was taken into account, and I left the Dating site.

And even Shri Ram, through this man, asked about me. After all, I sent him my energy from Moscow, and then we had a meeting with him in the sleep territory, and he knew that I am somewhere, but he could not even imagine that this woman, whom he so hard is trying to involve into a constant regular pumping out from her feminine energy, there's that woman of his. And he tried to bow down me for other men. But Shri Ram saw that signs were coming through me and that there was a hidden meaning in my words that is always true. And he asked me about me through that man.

I was sitting in the cafe with that man, he was sitting across from me and he started talking about his wife, that she had died some time ago, and that he was thinking about all this now. It was through these words of that man my Shri Ram asked me about me. He kind of said me, «I see that through you signs broadcast. Tell me what to think. I lost touch with the woman I even found in the sleep territory. I don't hear her call signs. She is gone somewhere». And I, looking in Shri Ram's eyes through the eyes of that man, replied: «Continue to write her letters, good wishes, so that she became better there, she is there, she exists somewhere. You're her husband. You have to take care of her».

I told that man that his wife is not a body, and the soul and soul does not die, that she exists somewhere. But in these words I answered Shri Ram to his question about me. I told Shri Ram that I am somewhere so he would still think of me and send me good wishes. He asked me about me, and I answered him about myself, through that man.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He looked for me and asked me about me through that man, while actively trying to put me under others men.

To such an extent I did not correspond to his ideas about his woman that he did not have even a shadow of the thought that before him sits the woman he is looking for, that this woman is she. Probably he thought that his woman would not be on a Dating site. Probably, he believed that on a Dating site are only women of easy virtue, not respecting themselves and whom not to bend which would be an unforgivable oversight. If Shri Ram did not recognize me, the woman he was looking for and who was his, then his expectations did not coincide with reality.

He must have thought his woman is different, not like me. He probably thought that when he will meet me, he would feel it, he would recognize me. He must have been very disappointed to find out that his woman, who he felt there and who he was looking for and even found in the sleep territory, is me, I thought. And what a disappointment I got! I thought that my man will love me, protect, take care of me, will treat me as the greatest treasure of the world, because I am his woman, but he actively thrusting down me underneath other men, in all sorts of ways, and on the Dating site including, and with the force methods, after a year and a half after the site.

I thought: here are my broken dreams. Now I will break the dreams of the Asuras. All my wishes, all my daydreaming, all shattered, and I said the Asuras would pay for everything. I thought I was a genie who performs desires and a corrector of universal scale. I can make dreams come true and I can break them. And then I stood above all the Asuras like a huge snake, looked at all of them from above and said, «I will destroy all your dreams. Every single one». I stood over them like a huge cobra and saw that they had a lot of desires.

I looked there and saw that all their desires are covered with cracks, and then everything there collapses and turns into a shallow rubbish, and nothing is left of their desires, zero. The world is cruel. And all the situations here are just to surrender to Krishna even more. This world is created for the perfect purpose — to completely disappoint the living being, to show that we cannot be God. We are not controlling, not managing and not enjoying.

128. Woman from dating site

On that Dating site, I had a communion not only with the male part of the site, but also with the female. And Shri Ram made several attempts to influence me and my behavior and through women. I there met with one inhabitant of the Dating site, with Olya. We communicated with her quite well and even met several times. And in personal meetings, she told me the following: «You're waiting for a Prince on a white horse». Although I did not expect a Prince on a white horse, I gave Shri Ram the opportunity to find me.

And she said, «Well, you're looking for some Prince on a white horse, but you look at yourself, soberly estimate their data, objectively. You are not 20 or even 30 years old. Not even 40. You're not beautiful. You have two small children. You live in a rented apartment. What are you pick and choose on a Dating site? You should be happy if anyone looks at you. You should be jumping for joy if someone is interested in you.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Surrender at once. Snatch something for yourself. The time something goes. You're not getting younger».

This woman told me this. I understand that she has such a way of thinking, and many people think so. One of my familiar woman in her 30 years complained to me that she was an old woman. At the age of 30! I feel myself in my 50 years of age excellently. But this Olya, with her mindset, positions herself useless, substandard goods, as second hand. Like what do you think you are? Like, fall into the arms of any man who looks at you at least somehow.

I told her that I'm not a dollar to like everyone, that I didn't have to be liked by everyone. I didn't fall for her persuasion. Yes, of course, she expressed her point of view, but through her Shri Ram actively tried to bend me, already with the help of a woman, as if on friendly female gatherings. And it was he who sent me this Olya, with her worldview so that I succumbed to his tricks and so he can include me in his program of pumping female energy from women and enjoying them in sex, at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies. He tried to influence me with the help of men and women from the Dating site. But through women it is much more effective to influence because the woman understands the woman. She must understand.

And Shri Ram thought that I would listen to the words of this Olya, and he would slip someone to me, and I would fall in his arms, so happy. As in the pickup is accepted, they say, some male will looks on the female, and she immediately raises her tail and will happily wag them, waiting for him to make her happy with his grace, and with all her strength to keep the tail, so it inadvertently fell. And this work with me through that Olya was carried out by my Shri Ram. He is the leader of the local Asuric organization, he is as a spider, under whom is the neural network of his subordinates. And he can to manipulate and influence people. And in the case with me he had a special fervor, courage because I didn't succumb to his tricks, and it only served to excite the interest and aroused desire press on me.

And he through Olya tried to instill in my mind such an installation: «You're female, female animal. Look at you; you're just like everyone else. You think of yourself as some kind of spiritual soul, that you're a woman that has a high value, just because you're a woman, because somewhere you have someone, and he's looking for you, and that's why you're precious to him and have a great value. Because for him, you are the dearest». And this Shri Ram, for whom I am the dearest, through this Olya told me: «You're cheap. You are second-rate goods. You are substandard. You are worthless. You are almost 50 years old. You do not have your own home. You live in a rented apartment. You have two small children. Fall into the arms of any man if anyone looks at you. But this is unlikely to happen. Who cares about you anyway? Nobody, because look at yourself, at your ghastly face».

All this for me was told my Shri Ram, my husband, my eternal couple, for whom I am the dearest, for whom I am his only love, because we are eternal couple and because he can't love anyone else. And he, for whom I am the only love and therefore I am his highest value that he must protect, he compelled me through this woman that I am a worthless person who can count on nothing. The same Shri Ram who was looking for me and who paid a lot of Asuric currency to some handyman to find me in the territory of sleep. Then he didn't spare any money and Asuric currency to find me there and make sure that I really am somewhere, and then he sent me this Olya and said through her that for me no one will give even the smallest coin, that I'm a shabby scary with repulsive appearance old woman and that I must to fall into the arms of any man.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Her words summoned in me sad thoughts, and I to calm down at random opened the Shrimad Bhagavatam, and asked Krishna what he would tell me about all this, and poked a finger without looking in the text. My finger pointed to the following words: «Besides, within all the fourteen worlds and even above these worlds — in Vaikunthaloka, beyond this universe — You never reject any beautiful woman, no matter who she is or whom she belongs to. We know this quite well» (10.29.39). Krishna said to me through these words that I am always beautiful woman for Him, no matter what Shri Ram or anyone says about me. But for Krishna I am beautiful, I always have been beautiful and always will be beautiful. He will never reject me. Krishna said to me through these words: «You are always Mine. I always love you».

Yes, of course, those words of Olya were the manipulation of Shri Ram to cause in me the inferiority complex and to lower my feminine nature, to pull off me to the lower plans, to the animal level, when you perceive yourself not as a value, as a person, but as a physical shell, which is not in the best conditions of life. When I realized that through Olya Shri Ram was trying to affect to me, I was angry at him and decided this feeling of my worthlessness and wretchedness to direct to some great Asur.

It was New Year's eve, 2018. I imagined a tremendous Asur, which stood high-high above me. And I was standing below of such a tiny... I jerked corks out of all his chakras, and he blew away and became small. I went inside his pipe and turned into a bright shining star. I was singing inside him Narasimha Maha Mantra, and gave him orders to go to his next lives. And during this inside him spun the little Nrisimhadev at breakneck speed. And then I went up, turned on the funnel-shaped vortex and shot him by my beam. He broke away from his body and hung somewhere in the center, and I cut off beams of his threads-bonds, which stretched to him from everywhere. And then he flew away into that funnel.

I have such rage was to Shri Ram that I am very quickly dealt with the big Asur. Then Shri Ram came. I said him go away. It's my Shri Ram spoke to me through that Olya that I'm not as good as I think that I need to rush into the arms of anyone man who suddenly going to regret this shabby woman.

129. Unholy trinity

After that I sat down to sum up the results of the suitable by the end of 2017, I began to revise quickly the series of my novel, in which I killed the Asuras, and save screenshots from them, so that in the 150th series I could briefly tell which of the Asuras I destroyed in 2017.

After this came the New Year. January 2018 began. I gathered screenshots from TV series «Mahabharata», signed them and began to tell what I had done good for Shri Ram for almost two years of the time of our interaction. I started commenting on these screenshots in 151st series. And in 153rd series I reached the story about how I summoned Borka, the former leader of the Moscow Asuric organization, and how he told me «Who do you think you are?» In 153rd series I said the following: «How him was lucky that he told me: „Who do you think you are?“ And I began imagining about myself a lot. Think before you say „Who do you think you are?“, because they can imagine themselves as anyone. Here's a little mouse setting, someone told her, „Who do you think you are?“ She thinks, „Lord, who am I supposed to be? I will imagine myself an inspector of the Universe Patrol and will make my Mahabharata. And I'll kill Bishma, and Drona, and Karna, and all the Asuras. I will bring back all Asuras to Krishna, to the spiritual world“».

This I said in the 153rd series, but when I watched this series, I drew attention to these words and in 156th series I told what I saw in them. And I saw the following. I did say that in this novel I implement my Mahabharata, in which I killed Bhishma, Drona, Karna and all the others. I remembered that in the real «Mahabharata» after Bhishma, Drona and Karna were killed Duhshasana, Shakuni and Duryodhana. And I thought that I didn't mention names these three Asuras, that is, it turns out that the most main Asuras, who should be removed, I haven't done yet.

And then I decided that in this way I was told that there are some three main key figures Asuras has, just as in «Mahabharata» Duhshasana, Shakuni and Duryodhana, and now I have to eliminate them. By analogy with the real «Mahabharata» I defined them by the same names and said that Duryodhana is a most main Asur, the king of kings of Asuras. Shakuni is the second of this Trinity, a strategist, an instigator and a brilliant mind, the brain of Duryodhana. Duhshasana is the third of this Trinity of the most main Asuras, a henchman who always buttress to the most main, Duryodhana, and does what is necessary.

And I said I'd take turns killing all three of them. In real «Mahabharata» Bhima killed them by turns, and I too will expunge them in turn. First of all, of course, I will expunge the henchman Duhshasana, then the strategist Shakuni, and finally the most main Asura, Duryodhana. I gathered about each of them screenshots from the tele serial «Mahabharata» and was going to tell about this three, to determine their future and send them there. As always, information, who they are, and ideas what to do with them, I took from screenshots of the TV series «Mahabharata», which by that time I have accumulated almost 3000 and are randomly replaced each other on the desktop of my computer every 30 seconds. A very informative way to get valuable information.

130. Duhshasana from the troika of the main asuras

And when I at the end of the 156th series began to talk about Duhshasana, there was a screenshot, which were the words of Krishna: «I can take your life right now. But I want to give you a chance to make at least one right decision». And right after that there was a screenshot with a powerful column of fire into the sky, from the episode of Drupada's sacrifice, when the sky gave Drupada a daughter, Draupadi, and then in the film the sacrificial fire kindled and reached the heavens, and then Draupadi came out of it. And I, looking at this screenshot, said that due to the fact that when I said about this Duhshasana, there was a screenshot with the fire up, then he will go up, towards improvement, that is, in a good incarnations, he will be a devotee of Krishna. Because just like that on my desktop screenshots do not appear. They always hit it. And once I talked about Duhshasana, came out such screenshots, it is a clear intimation about him.

From this I concluded that Duhshasana would be very lucky, he would be a devotee of Krishna, and he would be in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada, because in the screenshot I was told that he would go up. He will live here on Earth for many, many lives. After that the screenshot came out with the words «Neither by deception, nor by force» and therefore I said that he would be a very honest man, extremely honest, truthful, he would not be able to say a single incorrect word, he would speak the pure truth. In the 157th series, I began to comment on the collected screenshots from the «Mahabharata» about Duhshasana, which I took from the total mass of screenshots from there on a inspiration, knowing that once I wanted to take them, then there must be something interesting and informative.

These screenshots told me that Duhshasana women for people did not consider. He considered them even not female. For him, women were like gears, which are not sorry to break and spoil them all that they have. There was a screenshot from series «Mahabharata» as Duhshasana burst into Draupadi's chambers when she had her period. He grabbed her by the hair, wanted to rip her clothes off, despite the fact that she was a woman, that she was a wife, a married woman, and despite the fact that she had her period. That was his attitude towards women. Like as to animals.

By words spoken by me I described Duhshasana from three the main of the Asuras here, whose queue for strikeouts by that time has come. On one of the saved screenshots about Duhshasana were the words that the one, who oppresses women, deserves severe punishment. From these words I concluded that since he deserves the harshest punishment, he will be an austere ascetic, he will never have close contact with women at all, in any life, until he returns to the spiritual world. There, in the spiritual world, if he has an eternal couple, then he will have this happiness, and if he does not has an eternal couple, then he will never have sex again, at all. And he will never again look at women as objects and victims and will not treat them such.

I remembered Bhakti Vikasha Swami. He is a very austere ascetic, a devotee of Krishna, a great spiritual master ISKCON. He eats very little, one or two times a day for a little, sleeps very little, gets up every day before dark, before sunrise, does not miss any Mangala arati. Mangala arati is at 4:30 am rise and 5 a.m. are Greeting of the Deities and sing «samsara-davanala-lidha-loka-tranaya karunya-ghanaghanatvam praptasya kalyana-gunarnavasya vande guroh sri-caranaravindam». «The spiritual master is receiving benediction from the ocean of mercy. Just as a cloud pours water on a forest fire to extinguish it, so the spiritual master delivers the materially afflicted world by extinguishing the blazing fire of material existence. I offer my respectful obeisances unto the lotus feet of such a spiritual master, who is an ocean of auspicious qualities».

Bhakti Vikasha Swami is very strict, and this Duhshasana of the three of the most main Asuras will be the same. And this is a great gift of the gods to him. He was a great Asur, and he will be a great devotee of Krishna. But he was big with a minus sign, and now he will be big with a plus sign. He will have a normal, traditional, correct sexual orientation, but he will never look with lust at women. If he looks at a woman with lust at least once, he will immediately be overtaken by a sharp severe reaction for it that he will immediately think: «Oh no, no, it's not for me». If a shadow of desire will slip, he will to impose penance, tapasya to himself and will eat only plant food, raw. This was told to me in the screenshot with the words «I'm afraid that if he does not get these laddus, he will start to eat grass».

And from this I realized that if he will has a little lust (laddu is a sweet), he will eat «grass», that is he will to impose penance to himself in the form of raw food, that is, in the form of taking prasad, vegetable food, offered for Krishna, but not subjected to heat treatment, like carrots and cabbage. Even dairy products have him not will in this time, only raw vegetables and fruits, the most ordinary. Just because of flashed his thoughts with a shadow of lust. In short, he will always be a raw eater to clean up faster.

This Duhshasana will be like the Bhakti Vikasha Swami, he will be a devotee of Krishna, a great ascetic, a great spiritual master in ISKCON, and many, many lives in a row. And he will be as implacable as Bhakti Vikasha Swami. He always will call a spade a spade, and will speak everything from the position of Krishna consciousness, as it is. That's what I said in 156th series. From this I realized that he would have many disciples, because I said phrase «he always will call a spade a spade» in Russian as «он будет давать им имена, их имена», that is «he would give them names, their names». And names are given during initiation. Yes, he will be a spiritual master.

But it also means that if where is an abomination, veiled something decent in appearance, he will quite directly and harshly expose it and say the very essence: «This is only lust, the enemy of the human genus. Go to Krishna, stop wasting your precious time». He will be very ascetic and very faithful to Srila Prabhupada, the mission of Srila Prabhupada, and he will have a lot of disciples. He will speak very wisely, word for word, as Srila Prabhupada said. Step to the right, step to the left is the shooting down at the same place, at the same moment. This will not happen because he will always speak exactly — as Srila Prabhupada said. He will very strictly and jealously preserve the mission of Srila Prabhupada, as Bhakti Vikasha Swami.

I said that of all those the Asuras whom I'm striking out of this material world during my Mahabharata, who will return into the spiritual world long before entry current Kali Yuga into his full rights, he will return to the spirit world last of all, because was a screenshot with the words «Last of all». That is, he will return to the spirit world last of this Group, but he would have time to return to Krishna before current Kali Yuga will start all crush. It so firm, determined will carry the flag of Srila Prabhupada that he will be very necessary in ISKCON, and it will be necessary that he carried this flag of Srila Prabhupada; therefore he will return into the spiritual world the last of those in my Mahabharata.

If any money will come through him, he will not appropriate for himself a cent, a penny, nothing, because money, wealth, material pleasures, satisfaction of the feelings to him will be uninteresting. He will direct all the money coming to him to the mission of Srila Prabhupada, to the big preaching programs in ISKCON. He will want to go to Krishna and bring everyone into the spiritual world.

When I commented the screenshot with the words «Your magic is powerless in front of me», I said that this Duhshasana will be invulnerable, he will be so powerful spiritual master ISKCON that Asuras and other malevolent will not be able to influence him. He will always be born in good families, because there was a screenshot with the words of Krishna «I am very grateful to you for your hospitality». He will always be born in families who will somehow come into contact or be in Krishna consciousness. After all, children are guests in the home. And since the screenshot says that he will be very grateful for the hospitality, it means that he will be very grateful for his childhood. He will always have good parents to whom he will be very grateful. So he will have something to thank for.

When appeared a screenshot with the words «I forgive you», with Draupadi, after the royal assembly at which Duhshasana were trying to undress her, I said, that the Lord will forgive him for mistreating women when he was Asur. He women did not consider the people and treated them worse than animals, and in fact, he is not forgiven. But because of the many his lives of the austere ascetic, spiritual master ISKCON, when he will carry the flag of Krishna consciousness, Krishna will forgive him and take him to the spiritual world.

When I commented the screenshot with the words «Even someone who was born with extraordinary abilities can lose them if he does evil», I said that he has some extraordinary abilities, but he will lose all them, because in his future lives, when he will be a devotee of Krishna, he will be a great ascetic, and all these abilities will not be useful for him, therefore, we will free him from these abilities. We successfully will help him in this, I said.

In the screenshot with the words «Jump, jump, monkey» I said that he, being Asur, loved sex, but treated the woman as «jump, jump, monkey». No respect to a woman, nor to a sex, nor to anyone. Ended his «jump, jump, monkey» forever, I said. He will never have more of this. In the screenshot with the words «He looks like a little gray mouse in front of the mighty elephants» I said that in appearance he will be the most ordinary, such... unremarkable, unprepossessing, even a shabby type. He will have an ordinary, nondescript, dim, inexpressive, discreet appearance. Nothing attractive in his appearance in his future lives will not. He'll be just like everyone else. But he'll be a spiritual master. He will be very strictly adhered to all regulative principles given by Srila Prabhupada: no illicit sex, no intoxication, no meat-eating, no gambling.

When I called for the blessing of Krishna on this so far Duhshasana, I took my Deities, Radha and Krishna in the form of stones that were given to me in the 2000s by the painter, Sanatana Rupa prabhu, we lived with him once on Sukharevo on one floor. And from their throne fell stone Radharani. And then I said that this Duhshasana would be a great devotee of Srimati Radharani. After all, Radharani not will fall from his throne just like that. But if she fell, something she wants to say, how to express herself.

Also, when I was recording this 157th series of my novel “My Roman. I'm asur's wife”, in which I determined the future of Duhshasana, I put on a pendant with the engraved Lotus feet of Radha and Krishna. I have a suspension — Lotus feet. On the one side are Krishna's Lotus feet are engraved, and on the other side are Radha's Lotus feet. I put this pendant on without looking in order to view whose Lotus feet this day will look at me. On this day, the Lotus feet of Radharani looked at me, and from this and from the fact that Radha fell from her throne when I determined his future, I concluded that this Duhshasana would have some special, unusual feelings for Srimati Radharani.

He will spend a lot of time in Vrindavan, he will love to sing «Jaya Radha», of course, he will sing Hare Krishna, but Jaya Radha he will always sing, always, and he will be a great devotee of Radharani. And when I talked about it, appeared a screenshot with the words «My Mace will never obey others». Therefore, he will never approach women again, because for him the only woman is Srimati Radharani. She is a goddess. And he will beg personally Radharani to return me and Shri Ram to the spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga turns on its flywheel concretely. But we with Shri Ram have the right to return to the spiritual world before, at any time, but I did insurance just in case.

Insurance is the right decision. But I and Shri Ram, we are independent of whether all our crossed out comrades have returned to Krishna. We do not have to sit in the material world and wait for all of them to return to the spiritual world and ask Krishna for us there. We are free from the obligation to wait for all of them to do so. Krishna can take to the spiritual world us with Shri Ram at any time. But insurance is a smart move. And this Duhshasana is a good insurance, because he will be a devotee of Radharani.

In the screenshot with the words Shakuni «When you turn off your brains, my boy, then let your tongue will rest» I said that this Duhshasana didn't give his tongue a rest at all. The tongue of the Asuras is that have men from below, where the genitals are. When he was an Asura that his tongue, which is at the bottom, that is, male genitalia, never rested. This his tongue constantly worked. His tongue was very talkative. But now we're giving indefinite leave for his tongue. Now his tongue will be silent forever, he'll never have that tongue again. In his next lives it is not useful to him, absolutely, because he will be a very austere ascetic. He will a Naishtika Brahmachari, that is, one who leads a life of strict abstinence, who all his life keeps the vow of celibacy.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

In the screenshot of Krishna in chains, I said that this Duhshasana liked to suppress the Lord's devotees, to do not good with them, and because of this he will be an austere ascetic. If he had been good with the devotees of the Lord, he could get some alleviation. But he will not get any alleviation, because he did not respect the devotees of the Lord and dared to hold out his dirty hands to them. How amazing, I thought. As the Bible says, «So the last will be first». And now I watch how with my help, through me as through a transparent environment, the last is done first. I watch how the great Asura is made a great devotee of Krishna, through screenshots from the TV series «Mahabharata». Great and marvellous are thy works, o Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the ages.

131. Former Duhshasana became devotee of Radharani

I already told what Duhshasana will be in his future incarnations, and now I had to do it. Several times periodically I appeared on my inner screen, where this Duhshasana stood, and I him burned a lot, it remains only to finish. It was January 9, 2017, the dishes I had all been washed, and I did think that in the near future I will have not time to strikeouts Duhshasana, but then I wanted to fry potato fritters. A simple dish is to rub the potatoes on a small grater, add salt and fry in vegetable oil. Elementarily. There were a lot of potatoes, I wanted to make more potato fritters, and when I began to peel the potatoes, I turned on my playlist with protective mantras.

And when I sang the Mrityunjaya mantra, I had an idea in my mind from Shri Ram: «What are you procrastinate of strikeouts this Duhshasana? Kill him now. The sooner you expunge him, the sooner you forget him». I thought I might expunge him tomorrow or the day after. But after that, I had another thought: «The faster you expunge Duhshasana, the faster you'll take the next one, Shakuni. It will be so interesting to know what Shakuni is, and even more interesting will be to compose, what are you going to do with him and where he'll going. So let's right now expunge Duhshasana». This thought worked capitally. One hundred percent hit.

And I said, «Shri Ram, your offer is brilliant. How did you come up with that?» I wanted to do this Shakuni as soon as possible, because this Duhshasana was already done in my mind, and remained to do it technically. But In my thoughts I already sent him there, everything, he no longer existed for me. I so wanted to do soon Shakuni, I felt that it would be interesting, and I said: «Well, the dishes do not need to be washed, but a lot of potatoes, and it is a long time to peel, and then rub it for a long time on a small grater and fry potato fritters». And I said to Shri Ram, «Well, now the Narasimha Maha Mantra will turn on, and I will take this Duhshasana and expunge him». And I did.

I peel the potatoes, it greatly distracted my attention from him, and I stopped peeling potatoes and decided to dig with my hands in the energy body of Duhshasana. And when turned on Narasimha Maha Mantra, my hands began to perform their spontaneous dance in his chakras. For a long time I reformatted his chakras, especially the lower chakra, where is his lower tongue was. After that I very well opened his upper chakra, and engaged with his heart chakra. When sounded Narasimha Maha Mantra, I reformatted all of his chakras as it should have, and then I thought he is a great devotee of Radharani, although he about it did not know and many lives have been an Asur, in the top three most main of the Asuras. He did not know that he is a devotee of Radharani, but She showed this when She fell from the throne, when I determined his future, and the suspension on my chest looked that side where the feet of Radharani. Radharani thus said: «He is mine, he is mine. I missed him».

And I decided to turned on the Radharani mantra. Before that, I had already made several approaches to this Duhshasana, I had already burned everything at him, reformatted his chakras as it should, he had no Asuric abilities left, and there was nothing more to do at him, it was only left to send him to Radharani. I thought Radharani was asking me to get him back to her. I thought that he would be much in Vrindavana in his next lives, would be a great spiritual master and he was a devotee of Radharani. It's not that he becomes a devotee of Radharani, he is a devotee of Radharani.

And I thought that we should send him to his future lives, so that he would become what he really is. And I turned on farewell kirtan of Bhakti Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham». And I made Duhshasana sing this kirtan with me and Bhakti Tirtha Swami, and I became a transparent medium between them. This Duhshasana received a direct connection with Bhakti Tirtha Swami through me. I was kind of standing between them and connected them, and they were singing this kirtan together in unison. Duhshasana was singing, singing this mantra, and then at some point I see: he with Bhakti Tirtha Swami is very well connected, and Duhshasana became melt from the love to Radharani.

He didn't just sing the words to this mantra. These words are Krishna himself, Radharani herself. And he was singing this kirtan, and it was seen that he was melt in the sounds of the kirtan and in this nectar. I envied him. He was crying, crying, he was all flowing, he was inside names, in the names of Krishna and Radha and just spread in their space. And then he fell to the floor and cried. He lay and sobbed. And I sang this kirtan for a long time, and Bhakti Tirtha Swami sang with him. Bhakti Tirtha Swami personally was connected with that former Duhshasana, and there everything went directly, without intermediaries. I said to Bhakti Tirtha Swami that I am giving this Duhshasana under their care, saying, do with him what you want. And he did it all with him. And I just stood there as a transparent, connecting medium and watched what happened to him.

Then I think: well, it's time to send him. I feel desire of former Duhshasana faster to go forward to Radharani. I told him, «No, you'll listen more kirtan. You'll singing with Bhakti Tirtha Swami longer now, I want so much». And I held him so much until he fly away there himself. And he did not fly there as a ball, separated from the body, but he rushed like a large pillar of flame, there, up. There's usually a funnel-shaped vortex appears, and they somehow separate from their body and hang out somewhere in the center of it like a ball, but this time it was different. This time a huge column of gold rushed up there.

And when there all gone, my Shri Ram appeared and began to reassure me. I began to feel a very strong regret that I did not feel it. When Duhshasana was singing with Bhakti Tirtha Swami, I saw how he felt these names of Krishna and Radha, how he was connected with Krishna, how he was connected to Bhakti Tirtha Swami, and I just stood between them and just look at it like I'm just a spectator, and I didn't feel any of it. I just sang, mechanically, on a normal household level, like a mechanical doll. But Duhshasana swam in that nectar.

He had such a powerful feeling, and he rushed up there, and such a regret came to me that somehow I sent them there, but I myself am sitting here, and they go to serve Krishna and receive such the unearthly gift, and I just stand as a mediator who does not even come into contact with the gift that passes through me. I felt such regret! That they get it, and I don't even touch it. This former Duhshasana is completely soaked with love, absorbed this love and soaked it that it was dripping from him. But I didn't feel it, I just looked at it.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I see those I'm sending out feel it all, and I'm envied them but I can't do anything about it, because I'm just doing it. But they feel it. I felt so sad and hurt that someone was so lucky to have such deep contact with Krishna and Duhshasana had such deep contact with Radharani. I said to Radharani, «Radharani, accept him, he is Your devotee, he is coming to You», and She accepted him. I started crying, and my Shri Ram came, hugged me, I cried in his arms. I looked around to see how that Duhshasana who was so vile was melted, from love... It's a miracle! My novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" is full of such miracles.

132. Shakuni, the brain of asuras

After Duhshasana was the queue for deletion Shakuni, the second of the three main Asuras on Earth. By analogy with the real «Mahabharata» I called the three main Asuras are Duhshasana, Shakuni and Duryodhana. And speaking of Shakuni, I said that he is the brain, the strategist of Duryodhana, of the most main Asur. Shakuni is very clever brain, brilliant mind, with some unusual abilities. To tell everything about him, I collected a bunch of screenshots from TV series «Mahabharata» about Shakuni in one folder on my computer. In the 160th series, I opened all these screenshots and began to comment on them, how I love it, looking for in the stream of my words embedded in them the hidden meaning.

I myself was interested to know what this Shakuni is, because I did not know him at all, I just realized that there is such an Asur in the Troika of the most important Asuras, and that this Troika should be removed, necessarily, because my Mahabharata is identical to the real «Mahabharata», and there that three were killed. I was also wondering what of my words about this Shakuni learn Asuras, listening to my story. And I tried to collect more screenshots from the «Mahabharata» about Shakuni, to tell about him as fully as possible, that is, about Shakuni, who is in my Mahabharata, which is one of the three largest, most important Asuras.

Before that, I was so eager to get at least some information about him that I as usual opened the metaphorical associative cards and asked them to tell about him with one card. There was a card with a male portrait and with the words «Soft stones». It was a drawing of an inconspicuous intelligent man with glasses and a tie. I was surprised that he had glasses, because usually the Asuras in terms of physical health all is well. These glasses are very embarrassing. I thought that maybe the real character, Asura of the three most important Asuras, have glasses in life?

But I still decided that here the glasses just indicate that he is a very insightful person, sees everything, and the fact that the glasses are large, says that he comprehends everything with his glance, his attention, that he sees a person and immediately comprehend everything that is connected with this person. He sees the essence of everything and can subdue himself, his influence. Sees the essence. Therefore he is brain.

But the brain needs information. And these glasses on the face of this person say that Shakuni has everything with the reception of information is very well established. Because in order for the brain to work well, you have to notice all the subtle details, you have to have a wide overview and at the same time all the small details has to appear in relief. He's exactly like that. He will look at the person and at once all his weaknesses, all his complexes, defects, preferences, all at once sees. And he has some ability to analyze it all, to immediately see how can influence this man. And he can influence.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

In the picture a man of very intelligent kind. I said that's probably true. Shakuni, who is of the three main Asuras, has an intelligent, cultural appearance, because Asuras have an attractive appearance when they are here on Earth. They inspire unlimited trust with their appearance. They are very educated, as if broadcasting from above, authoritative. Want listen to such a man, such an interesting, and people usually easily are amenable to their charms. You look at him and you think, «What a pleasant man. He is so smart, so nice to talk to him». You feel like a fool if you don't listen to this man. And when you start to listen, there immediately begins the influence. The influence starts long before that, right away.

In the picture, the man's mouth is open and he says something. And Shakuni always says something, because when he speaks, he broadcasts. His words have some power. Well, just like at me, I thought. My words have power, too. Why? Because I always tell the truth. And if a person tells the truth, all his words come true. But Shakuni isn't telling the truth. He just knows how to somehow influence people in his own words.

The man in the picture has a clean, starched shirt, which I concluded is that Shakuni has some servants who work for him. Like spies. And also this man in the picture has a tie. And the tie is a well-known phallic symbol. What is associated a tie? With the tongue the men have below. And from that, I concluded that Shakuni had a big, long tongue. I mean the penis. He liked this tongue to work. Though not. He didn't like to work at all. He loves to derive pleasure using this tongue. Because if it wasn't, there wouldn't be a tie in the picture. And once in the picture there is a tie, then it is an important part of his life.

He himself looks ordinary. The Asuras are looks as ordinary people. You will never guess that this is not just an ordinary person, but Asur, who here just lives as a person. And this Shakuni is inconspicuous. On the man's shirt on the map could be seen the curve fold at the tie, from this I concluded that this Shakuni all knows how to pervert. The folds on the shirt should not be, there should be all smooth, but it is there and the curve. And Shakuni is able to pervert everything, to make a curved space in the brains of people and their perception of the world.

Then I opened the folder with the saved screenshots and in the 160th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" began to comment on them. In the screenshot with the words that the rat can't hide from us even in the Gandhar Palace, I said that this Shakuni has animal, low-lying inclinations, although he looks like a very decent person. Looks can be deceiving. Especially in the case of Asuras, because Asuras look very decent people. When you look them in the eye, feel some greatness, admiration and strength, because they have some specific abilities and they can very well influence through the eyes.

In the screenshots I was told that he oppressed women and deserves the harshest punishment. In the screenshot with the words «You will be punished for all your machinations» I was told that this Shakuni is constantly building all sorts of machinations. In the screenshot with the words «Long tongue is a godsend for spies» I said that Shakuni has an extensive network of informants and he knows everything about everyone, knows how to blackmail, forcing someone to do what he says. In the screenshot with the words «And his place is among the mountains of Gandhara. He is a scavenger» I was told that Shakuni is dealing with drugs because the Gandhara mountains are Afghanistan and Afghanistan is known as the world drug supplier. And this also shows that Shakuni knows how to direct such an enchantment, similar to the action of drug. That is, a person does not realize what he is doing, he is in a kind of drug intoxication.

When on my desktop during my story about Shakuni there was a screenshot with the words «He laughed and covered his face with his hand», I said that the face is the first person is Duryodhana. And Shakuni always worked for Duryodhana. Shakuni with Duryodhana had any relationship, such as kinship, since Shakuni was the uncle of mother maternal of Duryodhana. There was also a screenshot of dressed in women's clothing Arjuna that is, a man in women's clothing.

Then I did not understand why there was such a screenshot and what he was talking about, but after I realized that Shakuni, though he was a man in a male body, but in sex he also acted in a female role as a woman. And in this role he was with the chief Asura, Duryodhana. Then I did not understand that this was revealed to me. Then I thought that Shakuni and Duryodhana had some kind of close relationship that he was always covering for Duryodhana. Shakuni had some blessing from Shiva because Arjuna, dressed in women's clothes, was standing in a pose of Shiva with his hand raised up in a blessing gesture. And I said that because of this blessing of Shiva Shakuni was always sure that no one would reach him and no one would do anything to him.

In the screenshot with the words «Shakuni means Falcon. But he's just a scavenger» I said that a scavenger is the one who collects what has fallen, but for it to fall, we have to make it fall. And I said that this Shakuni is a master at making everyone fall to the bottom. He is able to somehow cast a spell, to influence them, that they fall from their exalted position, from their stable position, from their, as it seemed, reliable position. Shakuni's a scavenger. He is able to do so that everything on whom he throws the influence, fall from the good position.

In the screenshot with the words «My bones always fulfill my desires» I said that those to whom he affects, can not fail to fulfill his desires, he has some special blessing on it, the ability and mind that it is impossible not to go on the path assigned to them. In the screenshot with the words «My figure has reached the last cell» I said that Shakuni likes to bring people down to the very bottom, so that they reach the last cell, that there is simply nowhere further. When a person reaches the bottom, it is very easy to manipulate. Shakuni's a master at it. He's strategic.

In the screenshot with the words «When you hit on the head of a nail, with its sharp end it goes to the ground» I said that the nail head is the head, it's the brains, it's the perception of the person. Shakuni is very courteous, when interacting with him, you immediately get into his field like into a sticky web. He knows how to thank those who did something for him. In the screenshot with the words «Try by something to hook him» I said he likes to hook something. This is his favorite activity. I actually said it in Russian «Постарайся чем-нибудь задеть его». What is «задеть его»? «Задеть» = «за-деть» = «за» + «деть». Word «за» means «behind», «деть» means «the child». «Задеть» means «behind the child». Then I did not understand what was all about, but it then came to me that this Shakuni was a pedophile, because «задеть» means «behind the child». And it looks like Shakuni loved not just little children, but boys, because behind the child, behind the back. It is clear what we are talking about. That is Shakuni who was the main brain of the Asuras, their great strategist was a pedophile and a homosexual, who liked sex with little boys. What an abomination!

When I began to comment on the screenshot with the words «Those who are proud of their beauty, afraid of their reflection, so as not to see their shortcomings in it», I said that Shakuni is able to suppress people using their complexes. In the screenshot with the words «The strategy that they apply to you, you now have to apply to them» I said that Shakuni is a strategist, he does not fight, he moves his brains and knows how to choose such strategies and tactics that nothing to do not need to, because everything happens by itself. And his way of making money is very tricky, because person with such a smart brains to work will never.

Why would he work if he had such a chic the mind? The money comes to him in some kind of tricky way. To achieve victory, he does not shun any means, he uses any deception and any lie. He never believed anyone. In the screenshot with the words «I will reach my goal. Bhagavan Shiva himself blessed me» I said that this Shakuni was sure that no one would kill him because he had some special blessing.

But I said that I also have some special blessing of Shiva, thanks to which I can kill this Shakuni. Because I did a lot of preparatory work before being embodied in this my body. I have received many necessary blessings and abilities to be reunited with my eternal husband, Shri Ram. And there's also a special blessing that I can kill this Shakuni. He humiliated women of the sublime, divine nature, so no blessing will help him.

When the screenshot came out with the words «Although you are in the male body, but fighting as a woman», I did not understand what it means, but after a while to me came the realization that he was a homosexual in a passive, female role. In the screenshot with the words «Let's forget about him» I said that he those he needs to remove, completely forgets, that is, completely crosses off, throws off the arena completely. In the screenshot with the words «You have the wrong information. This is mental fabrications» I said that he likes to throw misinformation to the enemy to mislead him.

As we with him are similar, I thought. I forget everyone too. The person I came to erase becomes forgotten by all. And I also like to mislead those to whom I came with the task. I come to them as Scheherazade. They think I'm a tidbit, throw themselves at that morsel, and they start to gnaw on it, and I, seeing that with me so badly treated, although I the good woman, and I go into a rage. I have a righteous anger boiling up, and I completely destroy them, erase them, and expunge them. As we with Shakuni similar, I thought. He also creates visibility, pretends to be so good: «we are at the same level with you», «I'm not above you», «you have to be friends with your bones», he is so friendly, so courteous, and he tries to do everything to make them fall to the bottom, so then to forget them... But I create an appearance to ultimately do good, and he creates the appearance to make some kind of abomination.

When I commented on the screenshot with the words «How they are not ashamed?», on my desktop appeared a screenshot with the words «I have a premonition by the ass». In Russian, it's the words «Чую попой». We say this when there is an intuitive premonition of something. But then I saw this phrase is not figurative, but literal, because in this sentence has the words «ass» and «feel». I combined these two screenshots, and I finally realized that this Shakuni is a gay man, homosexual: «ass» and «feel». And then appeared the screenshot, on which Shakuni said to Duryodhana: «Give me pleasure», and then it dawned on me, what kind of relationship did Shakuni and Duryodhana had. Shakuni was a homosexual and he had sex in a passive, feminine role with Duryodhana, the king of kings of the Asuras. It came together. And «I have a premonition by the ass», and «You fight like a woman, though you're in a man's body», and «How they are not ashamed?», and «Give me pleasure», and Arjuna in women's clothes.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I was very shocked, and I said that we will fix it. I realized what I was hinted by these screenshots and what to work with. Shakuni will never be like this again, in any form, I decided. He needs to return to a normal sexual orientation, so he did not say to the man «give me pleasure». After all, according to the laws of the Universe, this is wrong. Sex is necessary for conception of children. Children are born when a man and a woman are joined. And for this they have different types of genitals. And the anus is needed in order to poop, but not for the conception of children. And Shakuni is wrong: a man should be with a woman, not with a man, it must be corrected, I decided.

Then I watched the 50th series of the series «Mahakali», in which I saw that Shakuni told me that, standing in his way, I made the biggest mistake in life. But I told Shakuni that his elimination was sanctioned by Shiva himself, because Shiva said that if a devotee forces God to give him a gift because of his devotion, but himself abuses this gift, this power, then for the sake of protecting the universe the duty of God becomes to stop such a devotee. And I told Shakuni that his threats were worthless, even if he is aghori.

133. Future of Shakuni. Soft stones

About what future to determine for Shakuni, I hinted that card with a male portrait and words «soft stones». Of course, the first thing I decided that we would fix his sexual orientation. He will be with normal, correct, traditional sexual orientation. He will not have any deviations in sexual orientation. And in that direction he will not even look. There will be no deviations at all. Everything will be normal and traditional.

The words «soft stones» led me to think that that this Shakuni in his future will make any hard stones soft. Since he had some unusual abilities and he mortified all, so to speak, was a scavenger, then in his next lives he will revive all. He will be in Krishna consciousness in the next lives, and then he will return to Krishna into the spiritual world. We will expunge him from the material world and he will go to the spiritual world. And in his next lives he will be in Krishna consciousness, in ISKCON very actively participate in rehabilitation programs. He will make everyone with addictions and addictions normal people. He will help drug addicts, alcoholics, smokers, gamers, gambling addicts, Internet dependent and other addicts, homosexuals, perverts of various kinds, including sexual.

And since he himself was a homosexual, he, himself already having a normal sexual orientation, at the same time will be very well understand the psychology of homosexuals and will be able to have such an impact on them that they will become normal men normal orientation. To him will come those who will think that he was born with such a sexual orientation, that's pulling him not to the opposite sex, but to his, they say, he's had it since birth. They will think and say that it is impossible to correct, because it is so laid before his birth, they say, this is his nature. But if you were born with a man's penis, you have to be a man, a real man, because a woman needs a man. If you were born a man, with a man's penis, you have to take responsibility for a woman, you have to protect her, take care of her. And if you somehow became a homosexual, then who will take care of her, that woman you were born for, the one you have to protect?

And this Shakuni will have a beneficial effect on all men who are born with a penis, but who decided that he has a different sexual identity, different sexual orientation in life. This Shakuni will to make all them the normal men, with a normal male craving for a woman. And they can all take responsibility for a woman and carry her all his life. A woman needs the protection of a man, and for this a man must be a man. A present man. And all the hard stones that no one could do anything about, under the influence of this Shakuni will become soft. He'll make all homosexual, bisexual and transsexual the normal men heterosexuals.

Smokers who say that they smoke and can not quit and no coding does not help them, under his influence will be released completely from this dependence. Alcoholics, drug addicts, homosexuals, etc. This Shakuni all of this will be to remove from them. Like magic. And he will not do it himself as a psychotherapist or a narcologist, or a «man of God», but he will do it in ISKCON, so that he will bring everyone to ISKCON, to Krishna, to the spiritual world.

He will have a lot of skeptics come to him, who will say, «He's not strong enough to influence me, to make me normal», but they will not know that he has been an Asur for many, many lives. And not just an Asur, but the great Asur. So powerful that he could influence all. He could influence not only on people but also on Asuras, and on very powerful Asuras. He has the ability and the opportunity, and he'll take it in their future lives. And these skeptics will come to him to expose him, to open all eyes that he is not so cool, to break his reputation, and they will all be amazed that just from communicating with him their whole life has completely changed, transformed and they have become normal people.

All the hard stones, on which no one could influence, he will make soft. All homosexuals as a result of his influence on them will become normal, good men, with normal, traditional sexual orientation, so as woman need a protection man and a man should fulfill his purpose. And this Shakuni will magically make all the homosexuals who will come to him to become healed, to make normal men who will fulfill their male mission — to protect women.

They'll come to him just to show everyone that he doesn't have the strength to help them, but they'll become normal, good people; he'll actually revitalize them. And he will do all this within ISKCON's programs for the rehabilitation of addicted. And it will raise the authority of ISKCON very much. He will love Srila Prabhupada's books very much, he will know the philosophy of Krishna consciousness very well, Srila Prabhupada's book will be with him always. He will always study the books of Srila Prabhupada, and he will bite into the granite of bhakti-yoga science.

In his Asuric existence Shakuni had some special abilities, could cast spells on people, was able to influence them, and these abilities to influence people will go with him in his next lives, and this is his influence on people will be quite irresistible. And these skills and practices will to work to the hard stones, to make soft. Those whom no one else could in any way affect, he will be using his abilities to change their to the better, to completely transform.

He somehow quite elementary will free them all from all their bad pernicious addictions, habits and dependencies, about which they thought that no one can help them, but he will. He will always find loopholes and approaches to them. And since he will do this in the mission of Krishna consciousness, in ISKCON, he many will lead to Krishna. He will always operate with the words of Bhagavad Gita, the statements of Srila Prabhupada. He won't say anything from himself. The benefits will be very much. He will help so many people...

All will be well with him. Nothing will affect him. He will have a normal sexual orientation; he will be a good honest family man. He will have one single wife in every life; he will not have any more women anywhere, and fortiori men. There will be no men at all. He very strictly will follow the four regulative principles given by Srila Prabhupada: no illicit sex, no intoxication, no meat-eating, no gambling. That is, sex is only in a lawful marriage, for the conception of children who are Krishna conscious.

He many-many lives will make from rabble scrawl normal people and will be very famous, because about him will spread a rumor that he even the most incorrigible heals, brings to normal life. And he will use this to bring everyone to Krishna consciousness, to ISKCON. He will be very modest, will not assign the results of this magical transformation of people to himself, he will not credit it to his account. He won't do it for the purpose of making money on it. This will be his service to Krishna and Shiva. After all, Shiva is the healer. And thus he will serve Shiva, healing the most non-healing. And for Krishna, of course, too.

The money will go to him, and a lot. He will constantly be offered large amounts of money, the so-called money rain will constantly go in his life, because when people coming to him, will become normal, good people and will be reborn to life, they will be very grateful to him and constantly will carry to him money and all sorts of material benefits. He'll take everything. He will have a normal family, and money is needed in life. But he will not spend this money on his pleasure, on the pleasure of his family. He will use this money for the benefit of the people and for the service of Krishna.

And then he will return to the spiritual world, and he will return to the spiritual world before this Kali Yuga will enter into its full rights and will bend everyone. And in the spiritual world he will beg Krishna for me and for my Shri Ram. Even if we with Shri Ram by then and are return to Krishna. The fact that I oblige all those who are crossed out to beg Krishna for me and for Shri Ram does not oblige us to sit in this material world and wait for them to go there and ask. When Krishna decides to take us with Shri Ram to Him, then He will. But I still make insurance. Because it's reasonable. All this I wrote and told in the 160th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife".

12 January 2017 was Ekadashi. At that time I told asuras what Shakuni really was, the main brain, the second person among the three most important Asuras, and even I determined his future — he will be a devotee of Krishna, a great healer, who in the programs of ISKCON for the rehabilitation of all dependent will completely heal them. By screenshots of the «Mahabharata», I was told Shakuni must be sent to his future lives at this day before sunset.

I a very long time expunged him, at several approaches. I burned him with fire, reformatted his chakras, for a long time fiddling with the bottom chakra, but reformatted. Then I turned on Narasimha Maha Mantra, and we with Shakuni sang it. Then I turned on Hare Krishna kirtan performed by Sri Prahlada, and we together with Sri Prahlad and Shakuni sang it very well, every cell of his body sang Hare Krishna. Then I turned on a farewell kirtan of Bhakti Trihi Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham», and we with Bhakti Tirtha Swami sang all together.

After that I shone like a star inside Shakuni, and then I even turned into a black hole inside him. There are black holes in space. It's a place of ultra-high density where everything is attracted, flies inside the black hole and there everything disappears. And here I became such black hole, but inside Shakuni. I do not know what it was that got into me, but there was such a powerful pull, everything was humming... Then I turned on Hare Krishna kirtan Sri Prahlada again.

I look: nothing acts on this Shakuni. And his whole body sang a mantra hare Krishna, and I fired a fire through his body, and turned on Narasimha Maha Mantra, and I shone in his body a bright dazzling star, and reformatted all his chakras, and I became inside him as black hole with ultrahigh density of matter. I pulled all from Shakuni into myself, like a powerful vacuum cleaner, as black holes in space suck in itself outer space. Nothing acts on this Shakuni. Then I think: 'I'll turn on the Narasimha Maha Mantra again». And when I turn on «Ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrismham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham» up at the top immediately formed a funnel-shaped vortex. It joined with Shakuni, forming a strong hitch, and pulled him up spiral up at one point. This vortex so quickly grabbed Shakuni and dragged and dragged up into itself, I don't even have time to figure out how it happened. And funnel immediately slammed shut. Usually they fly there for some time, and it is clearly visible, but this time the funnel dragged Shakuni in an instant, like a tornado, and everything was instantly closed.

I immediately felt better, I thought: «Enough! He so tired me I want to forget about him faster». But doubts whether we expunged this Shakuni or not, still were. I looked up where the funnel-shaped vortex was. It was gone. And I thought that if there is no funnel-shaped vortex, and the funnel-shaped vortex was waiting for him for a while, then the mission is done: we expunged Shakuni. But even so, I still had my doubts. There was Ekadashi, I fasted on the same water all day, the evening I cooked potato fritters, was cleaning potatoes, rubbed potatoes on grater, fried, and all this time, I've been expunging out Shakuni. And when Shakuni flew into that funnel-shaped vortex, I was so hungry that I offered Krishna potato fritters, sat down, arranged a feast, and then went to bed.

The next day I got up late, it was Saturday, day off, gone to the sofa, where my daughter slept, and started folding the blanket. Suddenly I feel something on my finger. I pull my hands out of the folds of the blanket and see that the index finger of the left hand is wearing some kind of decoration, like a ring. I think: where did we get such a beautiful ring? I don't have a ring like that. I looked: and this crown from deity Gopal. I have a crown on my finger from deity Gopal! Gopal is Krishna. Over the sofa on the shelf we have a Deity Gopal, with a crown on His head, and this crown flew off the head Gopal and buried in the folds of the blanket, and when I was folding the blanket, this crown itself is put on my finger.

Before that, the crown did not fly down on the sofa, and then it suddenly fell down into the folds of the blanket and even suddenly found itself on my finger. And I thought it was a sign that Krishna himself told me that He wanted me to start crossing out Duryodhana. Why him? Because the crown, and Duryodhana is the most important of the Asuras, king of kings. And Krishna said that He wanted me to expunge this Duryodhana completely and put instead him another crown, another Asura on his place. And therefore this crown from the deity Gopal fell down and put on my finger like a ring.

And I realized that the next in our Mahabharata will be the crown, we will deal with Duryodhana, who is the king of the kings of the Asuras, and we will crown the new Emperor, because so wanted Krishna himself. It's His wish. And that's the way He showed that desire. Even so Krishna can show his desires. From the fact that the crown fell off the deity, burrowed into the blanket, the crown fell off the deity, burrowed into the blanket, and after itself was on my finger, I also realized that Shakuni did leave in their future lives, because now we will expunge Duryodhana, main of the Asuras, and this wants himself Krishna.

134. Duryodhana, king of kings of asuras

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

From that time on, I began visiting Duryodhana on my internal screen and also began to read a book taken by me in the library «The Storm Lord» by Tanith Lee. I took it from the shelf of the library without looking, at random, and I wanted to start reading it immediately after Shakuni flew into the funnel-shaped vortex. And I told asuras that I would tell them about Duryodhana after I had finished reading this book.

When the crown of the deity Gopal itself was placed on my finger and I realized that it was now turn to strike out Duryodhana, king of the kings of the Asuras, I began to read a book «The Storm Lord» by Tanith Lee, hoping to obtain from it some information about this Duryodhana. I did not touch Duryodhana, only approached him on my internal screen and looked into his eyes, as if saying that I see him and he will not go anywhere from me. At some point I suddenly stood before him on my inner screen in the form of a big vagina, in a state of sexual arousal, greedy, Invitational, and Duryodhana all came into me, entirely. I was lying like a big hollow tube, a vast cave, and this Duryodhana is completely laid down there in that cave and thought he would enjoy, but I by my juice dissolved him, like a spider dissolves the insides of his victim, and Duryodhana completely sucked into the walls of that cave.

In fact, it was I who took revenge on Shri Ram. What exactly did I get back at him for? I found out about it by revising the 161st series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife". When I was talking that the crown itself was put directly on my finger, I said that that day I slept long, up to 12 o'clock and my children on that morning woke up early, at 8 am, although it was Saturday, the day off, and they galloped all morning while I slept. Hearing these words, that the children galloped while I was sleeping, I realized that, saying these words, I, without knowing it, opened to myself about another affair Shri Ram. After all, in this allegorical language, different words can indicate different personalities and phenomena. In this case, I realized that the word «children» indicates Shri Ram and that my words, that children all morning galloped while I was sleeping, mean that while I am did my business, trusting this Shri Ram, who is my husband, though he is an Asur, he at this time galloped with someone very well all morning.

What do mean he galloped? He had sex with some other woman. The usual sex, what happens to all people, sex on the physical plane, or sex at the energy plane of existence, without the physical presence and contact, does not matter, because either way it is obvious the desire to enjoy somewhere on the side. I was very frustrated by this fact, and I thought that I do not need this, that I do not want to be with someone who needs to have sex with other women and enjoy on the side.

Of course, I thought that as Krishna will say, it will be, but this material world has long frazzled out me, and I do not want to be here, and these Shri Ram's zigzags of luck only strengthen me in my desire to leave the material world and return to the spiritual world. Asur can to say you about love, and at the same time, looking you in the eyes with an honest look, he will to gallop at the energy plane of existence with another woman, that is a sex at a distance, and you will not even know about it, but for the Asuras it is not difficult to sit with you, holding your hand, and at the same time somehow on some inner plan to has sex with someone.

Of course, I thought that as Krishna will say, it will be, but this material world has long frazzled out me, and I do not want to be here, and these Shri Ram's zigzags of luck only strengthen me in my desire to leave the material world and return to the spiritual world. Asur can to say you about love, and at the same time, looking you in the eyes with an honest look, he will to gallop at the energy plane of existence with another woman, that is a sex at a distance, and you will not even know about it, but for the Asuras it is not difficult to sit with you, holding your hand, and at the same time somehow on some inner plan to has sex with someone.

After all, when Shri Ram was all summer with that good woman. He loved that woman because of this woman he told me «you are free, go away» and sent me to his cohort of the non-contact whores, women they enjoy sex, with in the distance, without contact of physical bodies, at the energy plane of existence. He was with that good woman in real life. He demonstrated her that he is totally free and that he had no one anywhere. He looked into her eyes lovingly, he holded her hand, said nice words, and had sex with her in real life, he thought to marry her, but at the same time he at the energy plane of existence had sex with another of the many women, without contact of physical bodies. And these women were many. But he didn't think it was shameful, because he didn't think they were women. To him, they were just the non-contact whores. And this ambiguous situation did not bother him. And here was the same thing.

He demonstrated to me that he with me, but right there while I «slept», that is was engaged in the Affairs and didn't look there at it, he «galloped all morning», had with another woman sexual interaction. How many times he had me cheated! And it is again... And this book «The Storm Lord» by Tanith Lee shows the nature of the Asuras. Asuras can't live without sex, they can't resist sexual desire. When their sexual desire turns on, they have to satisfy it. And they don't think a bit, how his second half feels and what the consequences will be. How can this combined: such extraordinary abilities, sharp mind and such an animal level?

I thought: why did Krishna send me to this Shri Ram? I thought that Krishna could himself destroy Shri Ram, free him from the Asuric nature, and then connect us with him. Why did Krishna send me to Shri Ram when Shri Ram is Asur? Did Krishna do this so that I watch Shri Ram can't resist his animal nature and gallop there with another woman while I sleep peacefully? Maybe Krishna wanted me to kill all the Asuras, so He sent me to Shri Ram when he is Asur? That's good, but I'm a living person with my feelings. And my appearance before that Duryodhana in the form of a big vagina and his dissolution in myself was such a revenge on Shri Ram for his galloping with another woman.

In vain I did not agree to a second eternal couple, second eternal husband who I was offered a long time ago between lives, I thought. Maybe there would have provided some option that my second eternal husband did not leave me... But it is unlikely that there would be such a guarantee, I thought. This is the material world. There is no and can not be any guarantee in the material world. And you just have to get out of here in the spiritual world, not paying attention, that there is your soul mate somewhere, your eternal couple.

The material world is a dangerous place, a place with a single guarantee — that you have no guarantees, I thought. So I did the right thing by not agreeing to another eternal couple. Do not be in an illusion. We should take advantage of the moment that Srila Prabhupada gave us and without looking back go into the spiritual world. That would be the smartest thing to do. That's what I thought, feeling the pain of knowing that Shri Ram there galloping with some woman while I quietly sleeping. But Krishna asked me to forgive Shri Ram, and I did.

When I became with him again, I so acutely felt the smell of the woman with whom he galloped that I became very angry, appeared in front of Duryodhana, did something with him and hissed, looking into his eyes: «I am the Storm Lord! I am!» I as great serpent stood above them all, and looking them all in the eyes at the same time, rumbled that I am the Storm Lord. So much the smell of that woman enraged me. And then I so powerful Duryodhana hit Napalm that he was ready to leave his body and fly away to his future lives, but since I didn't read the whole book and not told anything about him, I somehow managed to restrain myself.

I was so angry at Shri Ram because of the smell of that woman that I wanted to incinerate them all. I told him to let him decide: either he really protects me, so that there were no other women's smells and other women, or goes there, since he wants it so much. I told him if I was not the woman he was looking for, then he would go looking further, but that he would not sit on two chairs at the same time, because I was not satisfied with this situation. I told him that my inner compass is always pointed at him and do not move anywhere that I feel him all the time and I can not help it.

Shri Ram told me not to break up with him, that he really needed me. He said that he realized his mistake and that there was no one else with him anywhere. This calmed me down somehow, but that situation was very helpful in striking out Duryodhana, because I had been so angry with Shri Ram's behaviour all this time that I had poured all my rage on Duryodhana and fried him so well that he was ready to fly away to his future lives. As well and timely Shri Ram there galloped with another woman... This was for our benefit only. It remained only to tell about Duryodhana and to send him to his future lives.

135. From dating sites straight to Hare Krishna Food for Life

I sent Shakuni before January 14, 2018, and before that time I gave odds to those who scoured on Dating sites, not going to take responsibility not for any woman, and now it's time to go in accordance with their chosen course. They had more than two weeks to determine where they would go: either they will choose one of the women from Dating sites, will take full responsibility for her, will marry her and will stop going to websites to siphon off from women feminine energy, or they would go to their future lives as Krishna devotees, in ISKCON's programs «Hare Krishna Food for Life», at the extreme places, hotbeds of tension on our planet.

On January 17, 2018, I sent them there. They used women who were looking on Dating sites of his only beloved man to siphon off their feminine energy and to have fun with them. Asuras are able to connect to people energetically. And they can force women (and men, too, by the way) to satisfy themselves sexually through Masturbation or to or having sex with some man. At that time the Asuras connected to them invisibly, through distance, and if in real life some woman is put into bed, then on the physical plan. First, there is sexual interaction, either in person or through another man, with whom they forced this woman to lie down, or in her Masturbation, somehow connecting to her, if she did not succumb to the men unto whom the asuras pushed her. Second, the asuras withdraws from a woman her female energy, Ojas, her piety that she accumulated over a long period of time. How they are able to do it is unknown.

Our ordinary men do not even suspect that from a woman during her orgasm or during her rejoicing from some amazing or rejoicing her phenomena or events comes some very valuable energy on which they, men, go as the car rides on gasoline or some other fuel. Our men don't know that. But the Asuras understand the value of this energy well and chase after it. And even in their asuric environment this female energy is some kind of change coin, their asuric the currency for which they buy and sell what they need, some preferences, opportunities and abilities.

This energy is a butter, oil, fuel, thanks to which at all possible at least some movement and development. And Asuras do their best to in order to pump out female energy from women. And Dating sites for this give a large field of activity. Asuras can bring together ordinary men with ordinary women, pressing on their consciousness, so that they start having sex, and they connect to them during sex and pump out the energy escaping from a woman during her orgasm.

And of course, asuras is pleased with the feeling of superiority over these ignorant little people, through the bodies of which they spend themselves, enjoying this woman sexually and using for this a fool man, who thinks that he is with this woman, but who is there through him, through his body is actually with her, he does not even know about it, because for him it is from the field of fantasy. He doesn't even feel that way. And she too. Or when a woman Masturbates and the Asuras somehow connect to her and pumped out of her feminine energy.

And so on December 26, 2017, before the New Year, I told all of these, who scoured on Dating sites, so they decide which way they will choose. I gave them two options. The first option is to completely stop to prowl on Dating sites and stop to deceive women looking for themselves only one man there. I told each of them to choose there a good woman, for which he will take full responsibility, marry her and live a normal family life, so to speak, will lead his site to a standard form. I promised all of them who would agree to this option that I would not touch them and that they would live and prosper in peace, but on condition of honest fulfillment of the terms of the contract. Only if they really settle down and will no longer go to different women to pump from them feminine energy.

And to those who decide that they do not want to bind themselves to family life with one woman, I said that they will go to their next lives as devotees of Krishna, in the ISKCON program «Hare Krishna Food for Life», in extreme areas, in hot spots of our planet — where there are wars, armed conflicts, catastrophes, floods, earthquakes, tsunamis and so on. I told them that they would spread many, many lives a prasada, that is vegetarian food offered to Krishna, in such areas, to those who were left without anything. And they will so much imbue with what they saw that they will cast a shadow of the desire to enjoy in this material world and will return to Krishna in the spiritual world.

I told the Asuras, 26 Dec. I gave them time to think until January 14, 2018. I gave them More than two weeks, it's a very generous gesture. After the New Year, I reminded them several times of the approaching crucial day of striking out those who decided not to bring their site to the standard form. And now was sent Duhshasana, Shakuni, and January 17, I sent and the Asuras from Dating sites in their future incarnations. Just then, Shri Ram galloped with some woman while I was «sleeping», that is he had sex with some other woman, at the energy plane of existence, without contact of physical bodies, through distance. This realization brought me so strong rage that I tortured Duryodhana very much, the king of kings of the Asuras, and was also sent this group of Asuras from Dating sites into their future incarnations.

Well Shri Ram helped me by galloping with some other woman. Krishna begged me very much to forgive Shri Ram and to be with him again, which I did, even though it was difficult for me. But when I became with him, the smell of that other woman was constantly standing in my nostrils, so nasty, that I'm pissed, and then fell into such despondency and depression, that I killed a lot of Asuras. Duryodhana was in trouble.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I mocked him a lot, preparing him for shipment to his future lives. And even then I could kill him, I was so furious, but I was stopped by the fact that I had not told anything about him yet, so I somehow restrained myself not to kill Duryodhana, but this group of Asuras from Dating sites I did.

They were all waiting for me long ago, and they all stood in front of me on my inner screen with their hands folded in Namaste. Until that time, I didn't see that Asuras was standing with folded hands in Namaste. They all wanted to go there, to serve to Krishna in «Hare Krishna Food for Life» in extreme zones. Those asuras who wanted to stay here, chose the woman from the Dating sites, where they were doing their vile business, and this stopped. And those who decided that it's hopeless, that it doesn't make any sense, because first the love, then all bored, want some diversity, something that used to like you, is already causing irritation, then dislike, then rejection, then want or run away somewhere, or get rid of it but have nowhere to escape to, because here they are, the bond of conjugal.

Well, they thought that they did not want to go back to that, and decided that it was better to return to Krishna, to the spiritual world. And so they all stood before me with their hands folded in Namaste and waited, thinking: «Thank you, Svetlana Vinodavani, that you came to us at all, to our swamp, shook it, as an inspector of Universe Patrol, and now we can return to Krishna, through service to Him». I sent them there easily and quickly, they were all ready, and the smell of that other woman from Shri Ram helped me very much.

136. Parents of Duryodhana, king of kings of asuras

By that time I had already finished reading the book «The Storm Lord» by Tanith Lee and could already tell the Asuras about their paramount, the king of the kings of the Asuras, the so-called Duryodhana. To do this, I reviewed history about the birth of Duryodhana in the series «Mahabharata» and saved many screenshots from there. All Asuras waited what interesting I will tell about their most important. I was also interested to know, because I understand that Asuras in the usual words see a completely different meaning. And I myself was wondering what in my words I will tell about this Duryodhana.

Finally, I'm ripe to tell the Asuras about their leader, the king of kings of asuras, whom I called Duryodhana, by analogy with the characters in the real «Mahabharata». I collected a lot of screenshots about Duryodhana to tell about him. But Shri Ram put into my mind the idea of first telling about the secret of the birth of Duryodhana. He remembered how I, without knowing it, told asuras about their big teacher, about the secret of his birth. Even he himself, that teacher of Shri Ram, did not know what I had told them. And now Shri Ram was wondering what interesting I will tell about Duryodhana.

At first, I thought the idea came to me by itself. I mean, it was my idea. But then I realized that I was just thinking that I was thinking, but really Shri Ram put this thought in my mind. I liked this idea; I sat on my couch, turned on the series «Mahabharata» about the birth of the historical Duryodhana and began to revise them. I saved a lot of screenshots from there about the whole story and decided that in the next, 167th series of my novel "My Roman. I'm asur's wife" I will comment this screenshots. I decided that when commenting on these screenshots I will say everything that comes to my mind, even if it will be beyond fantasy and logic, and will generally look like nonsense. I knew that everything I said there would be an encrypted information about the secret of the birth of the most important of the Asuras, whom I called Duryodhana.

And it's time to record the 167th series of my novel and comment on these screenshots. I was very interested in what would become known about the secret of the birth of Duryodhana. Not the one who lived 5000 years ago, when Krishna lived on the Earth, but the present one, who is Asura, the genuine Asura, with the real Asuric nature, who in the composition of the Asuras' landing came to the Earth in our time. The story that I voiced, commenting on those screenshots, was oddball. But let's not get ahead of ourselves.

This chief of Asuras, the so-called Duryodhana, had a very pious mother. She had some special asuric super vision, and it always was included. It's not that vision that we have, the people, when we look at the world with the ordinary eyes that's on our face. The mother of Duryodhana had another vision, some inner vision. This special vision gave her some peace of mind in life, that something could be foreseen, something could be avoided. She could see everything like an x-ray. Sometimes an Eclipse would cover her mind and that special vision would sort of go off for a while, and that would cause her to have panic attacks. She was so afraid of these panic attacks that behaved at this time very inadequately.

But one day her future husband, whose analogue in the real «Mahabharata» is Dhritarashtra, made her a wedding proposal. And he was blind from birth. What does it really mean? The Asuras have a special vision, a super vision. They see everything with this super vision. The mother of this Duryodhana had this super vision, but his father did not have such vision. He had ordinary vision. His eyes on his face normally seen, but he didn't have special asuric internal vision, through which the Asuras see energies and some fine-material layers of space. He couldn't see the fine-material energy layers. And when the information came to the future mother of Duryodhana that this so-called Dhritarashtra asked her to marry him, she accepted it as her destiny. She knew he couldn't see what she saw. She was very afraid of panic attacks and her inadequate behavior during the eclipses of this vision when she stopped seeing these energies and some fine-material layers of space, but she accepted it as her destiny.

When she found out her future husband didn't have that super vision, she somehow from her special vision refused and had become like he is. She still had the ability to see, but somehow she made it so it wasn't activated. She did it so she wouldn't be any better than her husband, so he did not have complexes about the fact that his wife is in some way superior to him. So that he would not have extra reasons to feel inferior. But for him it was a complete surprise, because when he was going to marry her, he knew that she had this special vision is, and he wanted to use it to the fullest. He thought she would be his confidant, that she would warn him about everything.

But she decided to adhere to her code of honor, that the wife could not surpass her husband in some way, and turned off her ability, although its super vision continued to remain in some kind of sleep mode. When he found out about it, he decided, that such a wife he not wants. He said: «I don't need a wife like that, who doesn't respect me, who doesn't want to serve me the way I want to». He didn't accept her. But he was forced to accept her, because an agreement had already been concluded and there were big bets on this marital Union. There were certain forces behind each side, and each of those forces was going to benefit from this Union. And so the father of Duryodhana was forced to marry her though she from her super vision refused.

Their family life the first time was very unhappy. The father of Duryodhana took his anger out on his wife. He had a lot of anger. He beat her, shook her with all his might, absolutely merciless. He even brought his fist to her nose, they say, listen to me, and listen to my command. (Here I see that he hooked up to her his fellows. «Listen to my command» — what could this mean? I said in Russian «слушай меня, мою команду». The Russian word «команда» has different meanings. One of them is a command, an instruction, a directive, and the other meaning is a team, a brigade, an organization. I thought: what exactly do these words say? I thought this was about his organization. He told her to listen to his entire asuric organization, that is, to be with everyone from his asuric organization in sex at a distance, at the energy plane of existence, without contact of physical bodies.)

He brought his fist to her nose. (What does it mean? Fist — which may mean in relation to the Asuras? The fist is part of the hand. Who? Who did he bring to her nose? Maybe The fist is the strike forces of his asuric team?) He brought his fist to her and told her: «Sniff my fist, what it smells». (Well, precisely, he forced her to be at the energy plane of existence with someone of his henchmen, with his strike force whose he had hooked up to her.)

It was absolutely unbearable for her, because she was born in a very noble family, she had very high standards of self-esteem as of a woman, sense of dignity, and for her such treatment with her was completely unacceptable. But she married him, she made that decision, the decision was immutable, it could not be returned. And she had to endure it all, such a very bad treatment with her. (Yes, these words I see quite clearly that her husband connected to her his thugs asuras, who enjoyed sex with her, at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies. She felt it, but nothing to do with it could not.)

He even threw her on the floor and kicked her. He treated her very cruelly. (From these words I see that he connected to her not only his confidants who have high positions and rank, but also the lower plebeians from the Asuras, since the floor is the bottom. That is, he made her just a litter, a non-contact whore, at the energy plane of existence. In physical reality, externally she was only with him, but at the energy plane of existence he involved to her in sex a lot of other men. The fact that he beat her with his feet, suggests that he involved to her even the lower servants of the Asuras that is at the energy plane of existence have her fucked by all, what a horror... The fact that he threw her on the floor, I think, means that he began to sell her to everyone. He at the energy plane of existence involved to her in sex a lot of other men who got on the energy plan and took money for it. After all, in Russian I said «он ее даже кидал на пол», and Russian word «пол» when translated into English also has the meaning of sex. Russian word «пол» is «sex» in English, that is, he made her a non-contact whore, a corrupt, that is, he sold sexual pleasures with her at the energy plane of existence for money.)

She tolerated it because there was no one to complain. She was married off, she was told: «He's your husband, we gave you away, don't come back to us». Everyone had the gain of the fact that she got married. She was told to endure. She was very depressed. (She was raised to become a wife, and then it turned out that her husband began to connect to her all in a row in their sex, as they, Asuras, know how. She felt it, but she could not do anything or oppose him, and she could not and had no right to refuse to perform the conjugal duty. And he, using the fact that she is forced to perform this conjugal duty, connected to her in their sex all in a row, at the energy plane of existence, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, enjoying the fact that her fuck everyone, even the lowest of the servants and even just scoundrels. He sold her to everyone. He put her up for auction and he gave his wife to everyone.)

He was always going somewhere, leaving her alone. She sat there alone and saw nothing. She had panic attacks, and her inadequate behavior was a constant, continuous background, and she was so used to it that she stopped paying attention to it. (I'm thinking about what kind of panic attacks were discussed here. Attack is onslaught, active, movement. Maybe she was attacking someone at the energy plane of existence? And in panic, without looking.)

Her panic attacks and inadequate behavior somehow merged. He always dumped her and left, walking somewhere, did not regret her one bit. (I am again thinking that means that he did not regret her one bit. I said it in Russian «не жалел ее ни капельки», and it can be deciphered that he did not spare a single her drop. A woman has energy, droplets. And he did not spare this energy, not a bit. What does that even mean? He pulling all her feminine energy out of her when they were having sex? He drank all her energy clean? What could that mean? I think he sold it to other men, not regretting that they pumped her all her feminine energy from her, leaving her no energy.)

He treated her very badly. And she was crying all the time. The tears in her eyes, the bandage on her eyes was always wet because of tears. (I'm sure it means something, too. The bandage was wet all the time, she crying constantly. I think he kept holding the button in her women's centers pressed all the time so that she always had there, from below, in her female organs crying. Asuras can press women's buttons in women centers, causing in women sexual vexation and inflame sexual desire. Apparently, her husband did not give her a break a respite, pause from sexual excitation, constantly kept her women's centers included to pump out a lot more out of it as much energy and more to humiliate her, connecting to her all in a row sexually. To make money on this. A blindfold. On those eyes, which are from below. What kind of a blindfold does it say and what are these eyes? I think it's underwear, the panties that are the bandage for the woman's lower eyes. Times panties all the time were wet with tears, so he kept her sexual excitation included, and she's always from her intimate place flowed tears.)

She was in tears all the time, crying constantly, crying soundly. You could say she became an alcoholic. But no, not to the end. She did not become an alcoholic, because she was raised within the framework of chaste. (From this I see that her husband kept her women's centers on all the time, he never turned off her sexual desire, her female organs were activated at all times, because she was crying soundly. And «not to the end» says that she even masturbated to relieve this sexual tension, which he was not released at the same time connected her sexual to many men. But she could somehow hold on, so as not to become the non-contact whore, while being of his wife in physical reality and a non-contact whore at the energy plane of existence).

(Apparently, he wouldn't let go of her women's centers, always kept her women's centers in constant readiness and sexual desire so she would satisfy those men whom he included to her female energy channel. He was not even involved in this, pushing harder on her women's centers, but not entering into sex with her. It was necessary for him that she not having the resource to withstand such pressure on her women's centers and not being able to relieve this pressure in their marital sex, engaged in Masturbation, to at least a little bit of this sexual desire subside. Why did I think he forced her to masturbate? Because I said in the description of those events «Можно было бы сказать, что она стала алкоголичкой. Но нет, не до конца» — «You could say she became an alcoholic. But no, not to the end». But the word «конец» («end») has several meanings in Russian, one of which is «a penis». That is, in these words was hidden a very different meaning: «it is not until the end» that is without the presence of his «end», without his penis. And since she was a faithful wife, then we are talking about his penis. That is here allegorically it was said that he forced her to do it without sex with him. How could she do that without having sex with him? Only Masturbation. If not until «the end», without his penis she did it, that is Masturbation, and he did not spare her a bit. This means that he did not spare a single drop of her feminine energy. He sold her to other men to drink all her feminine energy, to not a single drop of this feminine energy she had left. He did not spare her feminine energy, not a bit of this energy are not spared and sold her everyone, forcing her to satisfy herself sexually. And those men had sex with her, being far away from her geographically, through distance, at the energy plane of existence, without her consent and without her desire and even without her knowing it. They paid him money for this sex with his wife and for using her feminine energy. But she did not become an alcoholic, that is, he could not turn her into a female, whose estrus does not pass, as in their those women to whom asuras put the asuric program, that they are always as if in a state of estrus and always ready to fulfill any desire of the owner.)

It's the material world, happen such situations. (When a husband sells his wife for the sexual pleasures to everybody. And the Asuras know how to do it at the energy plane of existence. And he, knowing where to press in her women's centres, can force it to this, and she can not do anything about it. She can't control it and she can't turn off this unbearable sexual burning. She can not affect in any way who was sexually hooked up to her at the energy plane of existence. She can't stop constant flow of tears of her female organs herself.)

137. Retaliation to father of Duryodhana, king of kings of asuras

And once this father of Duryodhana had some strong crisis in his life. Some kind of fire. (It was reaction for humiliation of his wife by him. Because in the «Manu-Samhita» declares:

3.55. A father, brother, husband or brother-in-law should keep their daughter, sister, wife or sister-in-law happy and pleased through gentle words, respectful behavior, gifts etc. Those who desire prosperity should ensure that women in their family are always happy and do not face miseries.

3.57. A family where women remain unhappy due to misdeeds of their men is bound to be destroyed. And a family where women are always happy is bound to prosper forever.

3.58. A family — where women feel insulted or discriminated against and curse their menfolk — is destroyed in same manner as poison kills all those who eat it.

3.59. One desiring glory should ensure that he keeps women in the family by giving them respect and pleasing them with good ornaments, dresses, food. Women should always be revered under all circumstances.

3.62. A person who does not keep her wife happy causes misery for entire family. And if wife is happy, entire family appears as happiness incarnate.

9.26. Women give birth to next generation. They enlighten the home. They bring fortune and bliss. Hence women are synonymous to Prosperity.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

9.28. Woman is the source of all kinds of happiness in all generations — be it from children, or from noble benevolent deeds or through conjugal bliss or through service of elders.

In other words, woman is the primary source of bliss in many forms — sometimes as mother, sometimes as daughter, sometimes as wife and sometimes as a partner in spiritual deeds.

It also means that participation of women is necessary for conduct of any religious or spiritual activity.

9.96. Man and Woman are incomplete without each other. Hence the most ordinary religious duty would demand participation of both.

It was for the father of Duryodhana punishment for such behavior with his wife, and it was still a small punishment for him. Because he would have been punished in hell for that.)

At the father of Duryodhana burned rears, which he strongly hoped. Everything burned down, and there was nothing left. There is no stone left on the stone. Some friends he had left, they somehow supported him, so that he somehow kept afloat. But he was so untrained and unprepared for this turn of events that it was a great shock for him.

I continued to broadcast about the secret of the birth of Duryodhana, the most importantly of the current Asuras here, in the composition of their landing on Earth. Once father Duryodhana had a big crisis in his life. (He was punished for the fact that he sold his wife to everyone. he gave her to all those wishing to have sex with someone else's wife, at the energy plane of existence. He did not regret one bit of her energy and did not allow her women's centers for a respite.)

Some kind of fire. Something had burned, completely burned the rears, which were vital to him, on which he depended, which he very much hoped. Everything burned down, and there was nothing left. There is no stone left on the stone. (This is how Krishna punishes those who humiliate women, and the father of Duryodhana humiliated the woman he took as his wife, whom He promised to protect. And she married him for protection. But he first added to their marital sex of his henchmen, then their entire team, the Asuras, and then he began to sell sex with her with all consecutive, in the distance, like the Asuras can do this.)

(And then he stopped even taking part in that, just not turning off button in her women's centers, that her bandage, below, where is the female «eye», was all the time wet and not dry out. And he forced her to masturbate, pressing those buttons, that she tried to calm constant flow of tears of her female organs herself, without him, and he sold the connection to her while her masturbating to everyone, although she was born in a noble family and she had a very high standards of self-respect as a woman. She could not do anything about it, as the Asuras are able to press on women's centers and connect to woman any man and even several men at the same time in her sexual action, energetically, through distance, without contact of physical bodies. And a woman will not feel and will not know that she have sex with strange men. Because it happens energetically, but for the Asuras there is no difference, they can feel everything at a distance, as if everything is really happening.)

(For this he was punished, apparently, in his Affairs. Some rear of him burned and there is no stone left on the stone. What which means «there is no stone left on the stone»? What does it mean in fact? Of course, it is enough to know that he received a reaction for his perfidy and humiliation of a woman, he was supposed to protect. He was obliged to protect her in accordance with her status, the status of his wife.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Apparently, he was taken away his asuric organization, which was under him. It was a raider attack on his organization. Raider capture, only not of the company, and the Asuric organization because there is no stone left on the stone, that is all who was under it, someone stole.)

He has very few friends left. They supported him so that he somehow kept afloat. But he wasn't accustomed to that to and was not ready for such a turn of events that it was a strong shock for him. (No one explained to him about the law of karma, although the asuras should know that they for their misdeeds will have a reaction, adequate caused by them sufferings. And since he so humiliated his wife, who was brought up in high standards of self-respect as a woman, then he brought on a very serious reaction, fatal. He could hardly bear such a depressing situation; he did not have an influx of energy from the outside).

He held under him a large asuric organization, they had a lot non-contact whores, always ready to satisfy any their whims and give feminine energy. And his organization, of course, siphoned off women who lived in their territory, their female energy. He always had plenty of this oil, the fuel that is so necessary asuras. And then his organization was taken away from him. And all the female energy from the women who lived in the territory under his control, all their female energy began to flow to another Asura who took his organization from him. The father of Duryodhana was not accustomed to do without this energy, without this oil. He completely exhausted and became de-energized without the influx of this energy.)

And only his wife could calm him down. Every day she's deeper and deeper has become enter in his life. (She did not abandon him when he was overtaken by the reaction because of her humiliation, and she began to help him, support him, fulfilling her duty as a wife. He was left without the feminine energy, expense of which he with chic existed, but then his organization swam away into the hands of another great Asura. All the women with his organization also moved on to that great Asura, and with them the oil, the fuel, their feminine energy began to go to that Asura, and the father of Duryodhana was left with nothing. He became empty, useless, capable of nothing and good-for-nothing. And his wife replaced all those women from whom he took that feminine energy. She began to give him her energy. Before that he sold her energy to others, did not spare a drop of her energy, but then, when he became empty, dried up, without any opportunity to take it from somewhere, he had to turn for this energy to his wife. And this energy went to him.)

He sobbed, and she calmed him. Something very bad happened in his life, everything was burned there. Everything at him was burned. (Yes, his organization was taken away by another Asur, he was left without an inflow of energy from outside, and only his wife could help him in this, which she did.) Some friends he had left, but not so much, and she was the only one who helped him to be afloat. (There was a screenshot «And his place is among the mountains of Gandhara. He's a scavenger, who picks up carrion». It seems that he became some kind of scavenger, which it may mean applied to Asuras, I do not know, but this is very low status, below nowhere.)

He weeps, sobs, grieves there, and she comforts him. And then he accepted her as his wife. (Before that, he did not treat her as his wife, although externally, apparently she was his wife, but he made her a non-contact whore, energetically.) He grabbed her ass, hands. He had never accepted her before. Prior to that, she was only nominally his wife; he treated her as a stranger because him forced to marry her. But then he put his arms around her, grabbed her, «Mine, all mine». (Well, then he ceased to sell it to others, because he said that «Mine, all mine». He really needed her energy and he share with others stopped, because more he was nothing to hope for.)

When this happened and he had a couple of friends left, only she could bring him some relief in life. And he accepted her as his wife. Gradually it became him closer and closer, and they started more or less a normal family existence. (He stopped selling her and connecting others to her, began to be with her in sex.)

She was preparing for him posh feasts. Lots of different dishes. (That is, they had normal sex, marital, without the presence of anyone through distance, energetically. she gave him a lot of pleasure during sex and fully appeased him, generously shared with him her feminine energy that she had an inexhaustible. When he sold sexual pleasures with her along with her feminine energy to all men in a row, connecting them to her at a distance, energetically, they drank a lot of her feminine energy from her, drinking with her all her energy, not sparing one bit of this energy. But after that, she cooked him posh feasts. Apparently, she was a very godly woman, with a very large pious merits that even after such a devastation, after depredation of her feminine energy she can cooking him a huge feasts, with lots of different delicious dishes. How lucky he was to have such a pious woman as his wife, with high standards and a great store of piety!)

They began a normal family life, family well-being began (normal sex acts of family well-being, when both sex began to receive energy from each other, and not with a unilateral withdrawal of her energy. They began to have a normal family life, unity of Siva-Shakti, that is, in the sex she gave him her feminine energy, and he told her his masculine energy. And they had good unity). He left a dissolute life and began to appreciate his wife. (He began to think of her as his own, dear.)

He became with her as something be. She tried very hard, cooked for him and did everything for him, so that only he was happy. (Apparently, she began to give him such high energies at such a high level of openness and trust. When he sold her to everyone, only ordinary energies came out of her. But now she has become to lend him such energy, any those buyers never saw. She began to give him a very high energy, from her vaults piety. She did not spare herself and gave him those energies, a strategic reserve, very valuable gold bars, her pious merits.)

And he accepted it; he accepted her wealth, her pious merits, and her feminine energy. But, anyway, he was kicking because she was the same as he, without special asuric view, although he planned to use her abilities, so to speak, services. And maybe if she had that super vision, then this disaster would not have happened. (Then he would not rent her out to everyone in sex through distance, energetically, without physical contact, and would not have incur reactions, left with nothing, without an Asuric organization.)

Because he hadn't noticed how this disaster snuck up. If she had a super vision, and if he would have used it, he would have noticed the danger. But as she did not use this super vision, turned it off, he did not notice the danger, and so there he all burned. (Maybe it also means that she did not give him preemptive signs, as through the flow of words and events in wife`s life the husband can see instructions on his activities. It may be. The Asuras can see the signs coming through of people. And through wife going signs for her husband. The Asuras can immediately decipher these signs. Who forewarned is forearmed and protected. Apparently, she didn't give him any preemptive signs since disabled this feature along with some super vision he didn't have. And she did not warn him of the impending danger. Therefore, he periodically kicked her, though already accepted her as his wife. He was very angry with her, that he could not be protected by her, with those preemptive signs going through the woman.)

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He had the tooth to her and occasionally he shown this tooth to her. (What was that tooth of his? What was he showing her? I don't know.)

138. Conceiving of Duryodhana, king of the kings of asuras

But somehow it happened, after all these events, after all she was his wife, he suddenly wanted her to have a child, their common child. He said he wanted a child like himself, but with super vision. (That is, he wanted them to have a child who would be a great powerful Asur, who can do everything that he could do as an Asur, that is, connect energetically anyone in sex, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, press on vital energy centers of people and other. Apparently, he was a big Asur, if he had a big team under him. Apparently, he was a big RA. This is such a rank at the Asuras, the great Asura having an extraordinary abilities and a large network under him. If he first let forced her to sniff his fist, saying that she has to execute his commands, means he had the command under him. But just like that, without having any abilities and achievements, no Asur can get a team. So he was RA, a very large Asur. And he wanted to have a baby just like he himself. He wanted to have a baby who in his previous incarnations was a great Asur, RA, had a lot of opportunities and abilities and could lead the team, keep a neural network of other Asuras, command them and coordinate them. But the main thing that he wanted was that this child had a special super vision, some vision on the inner planes.)

So that this child could see everything, so that he did not get into a situation in which he got. Because he did not recognize the danger. If he had that super vision, he would have recognized the danger and somehow could do something there to avoid getting into such a big abyss. (Surprisingly, how he became a great RA with team under him, although he did not have such internal super vision?)

But because he didn't have that super vision and his wife turned that super vision off so he wouldn't feel inferior, he couldn't recognize the danger in time. (Its can be understand. If he was constantly using her super vision, she would be leading his organization, not him. But not every Asur is ready to recognize the supremacy of women, especially in the conduct of his organization. That is, nominally he would be RA, but RA's functions would be performed by her if he used her super vision. After a time, he would not stand this humiliation of his dignity. He would not stand the fact that everyone sees that they are not driving him, husband, and she, his wife, woman. It would hurt his ego a lot. So she did the right thing. He had no right to be RA. He had no right to lead the organization, to keep under himself a neural network of his subordinates Asuras. As it is possible to lead and coordinate others blindly? But he somehow became RA. He was fundamentally wrong. He shouldn't have become RA. And if he used the resource of his wife, then RA would not be he, and his wife. None of the Asuras would tolerate this. He would have been laughed at. And he took revenge on her for it, making her a non-contact whore on the energy plan and without removing pressure from her women's centers, forcing her to even masturbate, so that she without the presence his would please everyone to whom he sold it, energetically, through distance, without contact of physical bodies.)

And he, the father of this Duryodhana, of king of the kings of the Asuras, coupled with his wife in order to conceive a baby. (Probably, many will say that he had sex many times with her, and even he added other men to her into their marital sex, energetically, through distance, and after that he began a normal family life with her, when they had this unity Shiva-Shakti, with the mutual exchange of energies. But here we are talking about the conception of an Asuric baby, and not about fertilization of the egg by a spermatozoon. The Asuras conceive children not like the way people do. The Asuras conceive children somehow energetically. And when normal fertilization occurs, that conceived baby who was at the woman in the ovaries receive a normal physical shell a zygote, be implanted into the uterine mucosa and begin to develop as a normal fetus.)

The linking was good, the grip was great. Everything was as it should be. (Somehow he conceived with her their common asuric baby, but how exactly, I don't know. As far as I know, asuras conceive children non-contact, energetically, in some completely unreal female orgasms, when there is no ordinary sex, but the feeling is so realistic and so deep as you flew into space.)

But the pregnancy of Duryodhana's mother was very difficult. She felt very bad the whole pregnancy and needed care certain and gentle mode. (Apparently, at her from any of her movements and stress was a breakdown in pregnancy. They had sex when she was ovulating so that this conceived child could get a normal physical shell, but almost immediately there was a failure of pregnancy from any of her movements. At the gynecologist it's called recurrent miscarriage, habitual abortion, or recurrent pregnancy loss. Although it is unlikely. At her disruption of pregnancy occurred at super early stages, before the onset of menstruation, when only the analysis of the hormone HCG can be seen that the conceiving was, but everything fell apart and so went the next menstruation, which in fact is not menstruation, but such a spontaneous miscarriage at super early stages. She probably did, since she wasn't mobile.)

She couldn't have the baby in time. (Most likely, here we are talking not about childbirth, as she constantly had breakdowns on super early terms, when after the usual fertilization of the blastocyst could not even become a fruit egg and go to attach to the uterine cavity. At her never even got to that point. Pregnancy at her was broken long before the baby sitting in her could receive a normal physical shell and be implanted into the uterine mucous membrane. That's just my guess. I think my assumptions are correct.)

Nine months later after the conception each woman a child is born. But at her conception was long ago, and the child has not born. And she didn't know what to do. (This is like when the IVF Protocol, in vitro fertilization, does not work: the embedded embryos not implanted. But if an IVF attempt fails, embryo dies, the woman remains not pregnant. But at asuric conceiving, the embryo can be inside a woman for a very long time. The mother Duryodhana embryo continued to be inside her, despite the fact that the Protocol of receive him a normal physical shell and be implanted into the uterine mucous membrane constantly did not work. He still continued to be in her, in his real mother, but he had all the time in the undeveloped, some rudimentary energetical form in her ovaries. Really from the realm of fantasy.)

Baby is not born, but must be born. (That is, a long time ago he was conceived and sat in her for several years, without successful fertilization.) She walks, walks, kind of pregnant, but the baby is not born. Like belly already big, belly, so to speak, climbs on the eye, has long begun mirror disease (what it might mean in relation to the Asuras, I don't know) when a woman stands and because of the big belly does not see the tips of her sandals, of her feet. Because the belly is so big that only the stomach is visible, nothing else is visible. It's called mirror disease. (I don't know what I said about Asuras.)

Due to the fact that she was pregnant, but before the birth did not reach, she was a constant mirror disease, which brought her to the very strong depression. (Maybe he, her husband, got a mistress? What is mirror disease? It's when you see your reflection in the mirror. And the reflection of the husband of his wife can be in the form of a mistress. That is, he got himself some kind of mistress, with whom he found solace, his wife knew about it, but could not do anything. And because of that, she was very depressed. So, probably, it means.)

Her maidservants always took good care of her, but over time her husband is tired of waiting for the baby to hatch. The child was conceived in an Asuric way and already long time was inside his mother, but he was not clothed in ordinary flesh, he did not become an ordinary embryo. And the father said to the baby: «When you will hatch?» (This is not an allegory. This is a real algorithm of birth asuric baby. Primarily this Asuric baby is conceived in some totally unreal way. This asuric conceiving is not like ours. We conceive and fertilize at the same time. In humans conception and fertilization are the same thing. In humans, the spermatozoon penetrates into the egg, there is their fusion, formed a zygote, that is, fertilized egg, single-cell stage of development of the embryo. The zygote moves into the uterine cavity. In the uterus, the embryo is attached to the mucosa, implantation occurs, and the little man begins to grow in the uterus. In humans, conception is considered to be the starting point in calculating the development period of the embryo. The term of development of the embryo is always counted from the day of fertilization. The Asuras have a preliminary stage, even before fertilization, before the connection of the egg with the spermatozoon. Baby who was conceived by Asura can be in woman many years before conventional fertilization. He sits in a woman, can sit for years, waiting for a successful conventional fertilization. Then this conceived baby should hatch in order to receive a normal physical shell and be implanted into the uterine mucous membrane and become a grow as an ordinary child. But Duryodhana did not hatch, he did not to be clothed with a zygote and did not start to grow in the uterine cavity. He didn't come out of his mother's ovaries and become a zygote, and then a fetal egg, to get into the uterine cavity and begin the normal development, as ordinary children develop in the womb. Duryodhana did not hatch, and continued to sit in the undeveloped form in ovaries of your mother.)

Father of Duryodhana came in strong disbelief: the baby needs to hatch, because the conception had passed normal, but he did not hatch. Everything was right. All babies who were conceived in this way have already been born (Asuric conception, after which this conceived baby should hatch in order to receive a normal physical shell and be implanted into the uterine mucous membrane), but their conceived baby did not even hatched. Sitting and not hatching. (Sits, of course, in some unmanifested form in the ovaries of the mother, waiting for the successful normal fertilization of the egg by spermatozoon in order to move into the manifested form, that is to be clothed with a zygote and start to grow in the uterine cavity.)

Father after some time he came too much to the frenzy and began to present her claim. He began to tell her that babies who were conceived in this special asuric way, at other women at this time long ago hatched, but her child has not yet hatched. He blamed it all on her. What does she have to do with it? She's just a woman, like everyone. The woman has no control over the development of the pregnancy and especially when the child is conceived by Asura and this child have to hatch until the time when normal fertilization and normal pregnancy can occur. It happens by itself in some way. But he accused her that her baby doesn't hatch. He told her: «You turned off your super vision, because of that, I was trapped, and the child, though we conceived normally, as expected, does not hatch!» He pressed hard on her stomach. (Apparently, he's by some his asuric forces tried to press on the baby they conceived, hope squeezing him from the ovaries of the mother that he hatched and was implanted.)

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He held his hand to her stomach and pressed it. He said: «You must hatch, because I have long drawn you in my imagination», and the child, Duryodhana, was sitting inside her and said: «I will not hatch». This Duryodhana, king of the kings of the Asuras, did not want to hatch only because he pitied his mother. He knew that if he hatches, she can't stand it, she's going to have a hard time that's why he didn't want to hatch. But his father pressed her stomach hard to make her hatch. But Duryodhana was cunning, not going to hatch. His mother all the time this pregnancy (this was even before the onset of normal pregnancy, since she did not have it, but before, when even a normal pregnancy and not started) crying, crying, she was so bad.

She reached such a condition that she could not be normal in the world, she stopped communicating with people, she became like a recluse, she sat down in front of Shiva lingam and let's pray: «Shiva, what is it? All babies hatch, but my baby does not hatch. What is it? Help, Shiva, help». Much she prayed to Shiva and many yagyas (rituals for worship of Shiva) did, tried to propitiate Shiva to finally get this baby once hatched. But nothing worked.

In the end she was exhausted, fell to the floor and began to sleep. (What does this mean, I do not know. Did she could to fall below nowhere and to start having sex with just anyone? I don't believe that. But who knows, maybe she thought the more of her men, the greater will be the chances for normal fertilization? I don't know what that means. This is just my mental speculation. But I think that she might have thought that her husband had something wrong with the male part. She could think that he can make asuric conception. But at this conception asuric fetus is not yet clothed in the shell of the zygote. This conceived asuric baby can be in this form and condition in a woman for a very long time. He's waiting for normal fertilization to happen. He needs to have the usual fusion of ovule and spermatozoon. And then he can go in there and begin to develop like a normal intrauterine fetus. And the mother of Duryodhana might have thought that her husband, as a great Asur, could do asuric conceiving, but could not do the usual fertilization. I think she had every reason to think so, and so she could start having sex with just anyone, hoping that even though these strangers to her men were not Asuras, they could have fertilized her in the usual way, so that their conceived Asuric baby could get a physical shell. It turns out, yes, she did the walk of shame. Maybe father and mother of Duryodhana had a rhesus conflict, or something else that did not work out the usual fertilization and she started having sex with other men to have normal fertilization?)

She fell into a very deep sleep. (Here I also do not know what kind of dream is said. Hardly about simple dream. But about what, I don't know.) She fell to the floor while pregnant, but the baby yet not hatched, and she fell asleep in a deep sleep. (Still, the idea that she could to fall below nowhere, does not go away, this could well be. But how could this happen to such a pious woman, raised to high standards of self-esteem as a woman? How could a woman like that, raised with respect for her feminine nature, fall so low just to start having sex with just anyone? Somehow she does not fit with that image, but other thoughts about these words do not come.)

Then her husband began to wench. He took her favorite lady friend to hurt her. He and with other women engaged debauchery, but to make his wife even more painful, he forced her beloved lady friend to have with him sex. All other her lady friends could no longer bear her depression, they could no longer put up with her constantly bad mood and gone somewhere. She only has one lady friend left. And Duryodhana's father forced her to have sex with him. (In principle, clear as. He pressed her consciousness by his Asuric forces and broke her will, she could not oppose him and she allegedly herself lay down under him.)

The girlfriend was very fond of Duryodhana's mother, and for her to be with her friend's husband was something out of the ordinary, she did not want to do it, but he, having some resource, made her do it, and she had to be with him. He pressured to consciousness of wife's girlfriend to feel his superiority and to make more painful to his wife. And when the mother of Duryodhana, of the great Asura, I learned about this, she began cursing her unborn son, who still did not hatch by the time. She was punching herself in the stomach, sobbed at the Shivalingam and has thrown to Duryodhana a lot of some of the curses due to the fact that he did not hatch.

139. Duryodhana, king of the kings of asuras, had hatched and then born

But then all same he hatched. When the time came for the Duryodhana to hatch, there were very bad signs everywhere. The signs were very sinister. And everybody came in great confusion. They said that perhaps Duryodhana and didn't want to hatch, because very ominous signs went. And apparently, in order to those terrible signs did not affect his mother, he did not want to hatch and sat inside her for so long. He felt sorry for his mother. But he couldn't completely avoid it and still hatched, and then from everywhere on all went those horrible signs, by wave. Lightings flashed in the sky, jackals howled. Blood rains fell from the sky, and everything was defiled by all kinds of evil spirits. (I do not know what signs discuss here at all. Without comments.)

In this weather Duryodhana hatched. And all around began to tell mother of Duryodhana that in her womb hatched monster. Her mother-in-law began to harass her in every possible way, saying that her son was good, that it's her fault that in her womb hatched a monster. But what is her fault? She's female. Whom they conceived, he hatched. This woman should not be blamed, she must be pity. And here she comes to this cradle and wants to touch: who's hatched there? And when she touched what was hatched there, she fell unconscious, because even though she didn't see what it was, because her vision was off, but she could feel there that there was something not like that. (How is it she could feel a hatched embryo inside her, which has not yet got out of it during normal delivery, and only then is implanted as an embryo. Or as at Asuras is going on? Well, obviously not as at we, at the people.)

What was hatched was placed in another vessel. That the child could be born finally, he had to grow in some vessel, because what was hatched, his real mother could not wear in herself. What was hatched was so large that it would have completely severed his real mother's uterus if it had continued to be in her, and so Duryodhana was placed in some other vessel. (Here I more or less understand what is being discussed. The conception took place in real parents, but real mother would have had a noncarrying of pregnancy, he would have torn her uterus, and he was extracted from her and sewed into some other woman, into another vessel that could carry him in itself and could give birth. He was taken from the womb of his real mother and placed in the womb of another woman. That is, the asuras palmed off hatched embryo to another family, as the Asuras often do, and embryo grew up in another woman's womb.)

Duryodhana was placed in a small vessel, and this one in a huge vessel. It was filled with ash or sand, leaves, sprigs of plants and some liquid was poured. The pot was sealed, and knowledgeable priest whispered over the pot secret mantras so that

Duryodhana quietly lived period from hatching to a normal birth. In fact, as the large pot asuras used the womb of some woman who was not even aware that in her uterus settled another's embryo, that wasn't her biological child. This asuric embryo grew in her uterus. But he was not her child, but the child of a great Asura, RA, and his wife, in whose womb he could not grow, because her womb could not stand it. In fact, the Asuras used an ordinary woman as a surrogate for their embryo. But this surrogate mother didn't know that the child that was growing inside her wasn't really her child, that she was just a potty for his growth. And so he grew inside this pot and grew to his birth. And when it came time for him to be born, again went very ominous signs. The earth shuddered, and the sky shuddered, too. Everything shuddered.

But his mother (the real mother, who conceived him, not the one he was sewn into after he hatched) was so glad that finally time from his conception to his normal birth was coming to an end. She was excited. But the elders saw that he hatched and went very terrible signs, the sky all lit up with some terrible glow, the fire in the sacrificial bonfires began to go out itself. All gathered at the big convocation. They analyzed those sinister signs and said that Duryodhana must be killed, that if he will live, he will bring too much evil. And they told his father to kill him.

And here is began his the birth of. Some man carried the child to his father. His mother turned away from his father, crying, worried that he was now to kill the child. And newly born Duryodhana was handed over to his father from hand to hand. And when the father of Duryodhana took Him in his hands and carried him to kill, he decided to check whether the child had the same Asuric vision. And it turned out that this child has vision. And the father of Duryodhana remembered that he wanted a child that would have this super vision, so that he could not get into such a dangerous situation that his father had got into because he didn't have that super vision. And the father of Duryodhana was unable to kill him, although everyone said that it is necessary to kill. And he decided that the child will live.

140. Favorite tricks of Duryodhana, king of kings of asuras

In the 168th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife» I with the use of screenshots from the TV series «Mahabharata» began to tell what was in life that of Duryodhana, the king of kings of Asuras. First of all, I said that no one could limit Duryodhana, because he had such resources, such abilities and such power that he could limit anyone. And he thought that if no one could limit him, he could do anything. And he did a lot of nasty things. His favorite technique was a punching, foot-sweeps. He liked to cut the ligaments and tendons under the knee, legs, so that people could not even pull them. He had some poisons that he could poison anyone with. And many he was poisoned by these poisons.

Of course, he was a great manipulator, which is not surprising, since many Asuras are good manipulators. This is manipulation of consciousness, when you suddenly have a strong desire or some thought and you think that this desire and this idea is yours. You suddenly want something and go do it. You don't even know that this desire someone from the outside threw in your consciousness. Duryodhana was a powerful manipulator of consciousness. He wasn't ashamed of anything, he was bisexual that is, in sex was with individuals both male and female, and even with underage, with anyone could be. Absolutely did not shun anything.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He didn't trust anyone. Because he himself was very cunning, false and quirky, as in 221st Shakespeare's sonnet: «Tis Better To Be Vile Than Vile Esteemed»:

'Tis better to be vile than vile esteemed,
When not to be receives reproach of being,
And the just pleasure lost, which is so deemed
Not by our feeling but by others' seeing.
For why should others' false adulterate eyes
Give salutation to my sportive blood?
Or on my frailties why are frailer spies,
Which in their wills count bad what I think good?
No, I am that I am, and they that level
At my abuses reckon up their own;
I may be straight though they themselves be bevel;
By their rank thoughts my deeds must not be shown,
Unless this general evil they maintain:
All men are bad and in their badness reign.

And since this Duryodhana himself lied to everyone, he did not believe anyone for a second.

And he loved before he devoured his victim, to bring forth crocodile tears. Like Russian tsar Ivan the Terrible. He decided, what the nobleman put on a stake. And this nobleman was called to a Royal feast. Like, Tsar Ivan the Terrible gives you a fur coat from his shoulder, and threw for him a sable coat. This boyar was given a glass of wine, they say, be proud, it's a great honor. «Tsar Ivan the Terrible himself presents you with a glass of wine». The boyar drinks the wine and falls dead. It was Duryodhana's favorite technique.

He liked to bestow fur coat from his king's shoulder for the next victim. He threw a fur coat on his victim and watch as she gasps there and slowly dies. Duryodhana liked it when the victim did not die immediately, but suffered longer. And the crocodile tears that to make it easier to swallow. And he was not ashamed of anything, and even his own, those with whom he had sex he also cleaned. At first he has with them sex, and at this time he already begins to pour crocodile tears. He expire these tears, there he flows so much saliva that it is impossible to endure, and he thinks: «Well, when will it be ready?» And then at one point he's undercut for him. He cuts his tendons under the knee or the lower leg hamstring clipped. He for this purpose has a special sharp blade, which, if necessary, protrudes from the nail. And when the victim is ready, this sharp blade pops out of his nail and stabs the victim.

This Duryodhana humiliated all, and bold warriors, and timid, and not warriors at all, because he liked all humiliate. His favorite pastime was someone to humiliate. And before that, crocodile tears, of course, to water, to make it easier to slip into the throat. He had some kind of connection with some creatures, like snakes, very evil. And this Duryodhana was friends with some snake. That is, not with Asuras and not with the human form of life, with some other kind of evil creatures. He had some special channels of mutually beneficial cooperation with them. And he did not disdain. He used the services, the poison, and the magic of that evil serpent.

And he often used the services of some terrible creatures, it is not clear what forms of existence. I destroyed all sorts of creatures. My name is Vinodavani, personified love for God — in Russian «лицетворенная любовь к Богу». The word «лицетворенная» can be decomposed into parts as follows: «о-лицо-твари-на-я», which means: «face — for terrible creature — give — I». I'm the one who gives a face for different terrible creatures. Some creatures do not have your face, normal existence, and I give them face, that is normal life. But I give them this through their death, because terrible creatures can become normal beings only by being born as normal living beings. And I killed those terrible creatures. But Duryodhana was friends with these terrible creatures. Also Duryodhana liked to humiliate those who stood high in the hierarchy. He liked to throw down them, so much so their eyes climbed out on the forehead. Like, well, that you are the king, the commander, the General of the army, and now go clean the horse's manure.

He also liked to enforce all who were subordinate to him to keep my mouth shut. It's not that they must be silent, no. Here mean a completely different language. The Asuras have a tongue where are their male organs. Tongue kept behind the teeth, and the teeth — it's something sharp. And if the tongue will come out, teeth immediately bite the tongue. And can even bite off quite. And Duryodhana specially held in fear the tongues of all who were subordinate to him, behind these teeth. If this tongue would make not so, teeth then will bite it. Like, there was nothing to move the language when it is not necessary.

Duryodhana did not listen to anyone, even to his outstanding brain, strategist Shakuni. He said there were no rules for him. He intermeddle in families, invisibly, his asuric forces had flexed consciousness of husband that he left his wife and left her vulnerable to the encroachments Duryodhana, and Duryodhana dominated her mind and exploited her sexually. Asuras is able to do it. And he loved it very much. And his favorite phrase was «Close your mouth». What is mouth? The mouth happens not only from above, on a face, but also from below, at the woman, vagina. Asuras call by the word «mouth» vagina. And this Duryodhana said who needs shut a «mouth».

No one ever loved him, he was always all alone. And he didn't love anyone either. He revered only his mother. His favorite concept was «For nothing and the pimple does not appears». He very loved the money. He loved Bribes and the bigger the better. Small bribes were not even considered. But he took all the bribes and believed that he owed nothing to anyone. He thought he was the measure of justice. If someone was not to blame, but he said that this man is to blame, then everyone accepted it. He positioned women as objects in order to humiliate them and to feel his superiority over them.

In actual «Mahabharata» real Duryodhana arranged undressing Draupadi in front of everyone at the Royal meeting, and our Duryodhana, the current king of the kings of the Asuras, arranged it all the time. It's not necessarily that in the physical reality in front of everyone they stripped the woman, although it could also be, but mostly asuras do it through distance, energetically. Some woman to humiliate and to put her defenseless in front of all them for them is a sweet deal. They all love it.

He also treated the devotees of the Lord badly. But now he will be a devotee of the Lord, Krishna. When I commented on all the collected about Duryodhana screenshots, I personally and on behalf of all women and the whole female nature made a claim to Duryodhana, because Asuras made me a lot a bad, and Duryodhana as their ruler, responsible for all it and should be punished. He who is above is responsible for those who are under his command.

I said that for all that asuras did to me responsible the largest of them, and this is Duryodhana. Duryodhana is responsible for the fact that did to me Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization. Duryodhana is responsible for the fact that did to me Shri Ram, local leader of the Asuras, and Bhishma, their patriarch, elder. Duryodhana is responsible for those asuras who put me on their asuric totalizer, who did there rates on breaking me like a woman. Duryodhana is responsible for those asuras who were going to break my feminine nature, who organized it all and were somehow involved there. And I demanded that he be punished with the utmost severity so that this punishment would be carried out very soon and in full. I demanded that all the curses placed on him be annulled and that he become a devotee of Krishna, a great inspirer. I demanded that he gained a great faith in the power and power of the Holy name of Krishna, had faith in that the Holy name of Krishna is Krishna himself.

141. Sacred Calash on top of the temple

At the end of the 167th series was told what to do to him, in the screenshot from «Mahabharata». Then I thought where we will send him, and appeared a screenshot with the words «Sacred Calash should be put on top of the temple». And from these words I developed the idea that Duryodhana, who was the king of the kings of the Asuras, in his next lives will be a great spiritual master in Krishna consciousness, in ISKCON, a great mastermind. He will be a spiritual master at the very top of the temple; he will even lead ISKCON in a sense. He will be very much committed to what Srila Prabhupada gave, he will live it, he will be so inspired by what Srila Prabhupada gave us, that he will inspire everyone to become devotees of Krishna by his example and his attitude, by all his life. He will follow what Srila Prabhupada gave us. He will do all of this. He will always carry in his heart the words of Srila Prabhupada: «This transcendental vibration by chanting of Hare Krishna, Hare Krishna, Krishna Krishna, Hare Hare / Hare Rama, Hare Rama, Rama Rama, Hare Hare, is the sublime method for reviving our Krishna consciousness. As living spiritual soul, we are all originally Krishna conscious entities, but due to our association with matter from time immemorial, our consciousness is now polluted by material atmosphere. In this polluted concept of life we are all trying to exploit the resources of material nature, but actually we are becoming more and more entangled in our complexities. This illusion is called maya, or hard struggle for existence, for winning over the stringent laws of material nature. This illusory struggle against material nature can at once be stopped by revival of our Krishna consciousness.

Krishna consciousness is not an artificial imposition on the mind. This consciousness is the original energy of the living entity. When we hear the transcendental vibration, this consciousness is revived, and the process is recommended by authorities for this age. By practical experience also, we can perceive that by chanting this Maha-mantra, or the Great Chanting for Deliverance, one can at once feel transcendental ecstasy from the spiritual stratum. When one is factually on the plane of spiritual understanding, surpassing the stages of sense, mind and intelligence, one is situated on the transcendental plane. This chanting of Hare Krishna, Hare Krishna, Krishna Krishna, Hare Hare/ Hare Rama, Hare Rama, Rama Rama, Hare Hare is directly enacted from the spiritual platform, surpassing all lower stratus of consciousness — namely sensual, mental and intellectual. There is no need of understanding the language of the mantra, nor there is any need for mental speculation nor any intellectual adjustment for chanting this Maha-mantra. It springs automatically from the spiritual platform, and as such, anyone can take part in this transcendental sound vibration without any previous qualification and dance in ecstasy».

And anyone who will comes into contact with this former Duryodhana in any way, either personally or through his lectures, or on the Internet, or something else, will immediately be inspired to become devotees of Krishna and go into the spiritual world, because there is nothing to catch here in the material world. And he will have such power, such a blessing, that anyone who even just hears about him will be inspired to become a devotee of Krishna and go into the spiritual world. He will have firm faith in the Holy name of Krishna, and Krishna will always protect him because he will lead everyone to Krishna.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He will lead many to Krishna into the spiritual world. And when he returns to the spiritual world, long before the time when the present Kali Yuga will start to untwist a flywheel, he will beg Krishna and Radha for me and for Shri Ram to return us to the spiritual world, and Krishna will certainly fulfill his request, because he will return many people to Krishna and Krishna will be very grateful to him and will love him, because in the spiritual world everyone loves each other pure love.

On January 9, 2018, we sent to his future incarnations Duhshasana, the henchman of Duryodhana, king of the kings of the Asuras. On January 13 we sent Shakuni, a brain and a strategist of the Asuras, and on January 23 I expunged Duryodhana from the list of Asuras and from the material world. On January 14, in the 161st series of my novel, I said that while I was sleeping, my children all morning jumping, from which I realized that Shri Ram had sex with some woman. I was very upset and I didn't want to be with him anymore, but Krishna asked me through the screenshots from Mahabharata to forgive Shri Ram and to become with him again. It was very difficult for me, but I overcame myself. And when I became with him again, I could continuously smell that other woman in my nostrils. I was so enraged because of this smell that I got to a good condition, when I could not contain my rage and began to pour it on Duryodhana.

Just then on my finger wore the crown of the deity Krishna — Gopal, and so I realized that now I have to do Duryodhana, as he is the most important of the Asuras. Apparently Shri Ram contacted with that woman not by chance, because her smell was so repulsive for me that I vented my rage on Duryodhana. Well, first of all, I've pulled him entirely into me twice, and I at this time I saw myself in the form of a vagina, a big lying pipe, in a state of intense passion, lust. And I absorbed Duryodhana and dissolved him in my own juices. He melted in me like a mountain of sugar and soaked completely into my walls.

In some of the days I, again furious at the feeling of this terrible smell from a strange woman, stood over him like a huge snake and started spewing a bright terrible flame at him. And periodically for almost ten days, from 14 to 23 January, I made raids on him to burn him with this flame, to hit him and very much, to reformat his chakras, every day several times. I reformatted all his vital files, vital data sets. I even got into his karma. It was such a deep well, I went down into it and cleaned his karma.

After I told about Duryodhana in the 168th series, I thoroughly began to deal with his expunging and all day on January 22 I made raids to him during the sound of different mantras, which I listened when I worked. I did a lot of things to him. I reformatted all his Chakras. I've done a lot of work in his men's Department where is the male organ. I did something very serious with his male organ, on all sides. I thought that he had done many abominations in this life, and I told him that he would not do it anymore. I told him that I would destroy at him even desire to enjoy the material world. I began to press it on his pain points.

In his head at the top of the head I felt some strong pain point, where the two hemispheres are contacted, and this pain point is so painful that it is impossible to tolerate. I plunged my index finger into this pain point and started press it, with such a message to him that «here's to you for all that you did. And now feel how to enjoy in this material world, so that you never even thought that in this material world you can enjoy». And then I found different pain points in his body, a lot of. And I started pushing on them at the same time all at once and alternately. I did this so that he would feel pain beyond what was possible and that he would not even think of trying to enjoy in this material world. I pressed his pain points and one by one, and together, with different intensity. I drilled his pain points and drilled into them.

In short, I gave him a gorgeous session, put the vaccination against the desire to enjoy the material world, because he felt so much intolerable pain that he will have no such a desire at all, even a shadow of such a desire will not. After a session of his treatment with pain I gave him one more session arranged, very serious. I remembered that he liked to throw a fur coat on the victim and to press down the victim under a fur coat, looking as the victim feels there under a fur coat — breathes or already choked, and I included such «fur coat» to him.

I saw myself as such a star that was standing around him and shining into him, from all sides at the same time, and that light was squeezing him. And the more I shone into him from different sides, the more the density of this radiance pressed on him. Out of me like Out of the star straight into him raced at high speed a strong flow of blinding Golden-white light. This light went into him from everywhere from different sides at the same time and light rushed into him. I kept pumping that light more and more from everywhere into inside of him, to one point in the center of him, and that light like that fur coat squeezed him, increasing and increasing the overload. Duryodhana could not escape from this light, because light crushed him from the outside into inside of him, and there was such a density, such a pressure that Duryodhana turned into a tiny dot.

And at some point I saw that he could not stand the pressure of light, became a ball, separated from his body and was ready to fly out of the body at all. But I immediately stopped that pressure increase of light outside into inside him, I included Mrityunjaya mantra and ran it inside him to he doesn't leave his body prematurely. The glow was, but it just stopped pushing him. I sung Mrityunjaya mantra, looked at him: he's in his body, hasn't left it. After a while I gave him a short rest, because he could already finish his existence in his body, there was such a strong pressure there by the light of this star.

And when he's a little back to life, I stood over him a huge Cobra, opened his mouth and swallowed him entirely in myself. I could see him inside my as in Cobra, and then when he sat inside me for a while, I belched him. First Golden a ball covered in spikes came out of me, covered in spikes, and then he. I as the cobra wrapped my body rings around him. He was compressed by my snake body and was hanging out in the rings of my snake body like a completely limp rag.

And then I went to a group in VKontakte, to see a special arati, the service of the deity of Prahlada-Nrisimha in the temple in Germany Nava Jiyada Nrisimha-kshetra. I wanted to watch this video; I watched it and sang with everyone. I wanted to imagine that I am there. I somehow mentally found myself there, in this temple, during this service. There all the devotees sang mantras Nrisimhadev, and I mentally stood up among them and began to sing mantras Nrisimhadev with the others, as if I'm there in person.

At some point, I, mentally standing there, mentally rushed to the deity with the words from the song «Radha-natha», which we sang with my husband-Krishnas:

You're all for me —
Father, mother and son,
And my beloved, my husband,
I'm with You not alone.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I clung to Him, to deity Nrisimhadev, and then I again stood among them. At some point I thought: I will offer that Duryodhana to Nrisimhadev.

When Nrisimhadev in the video was showed close-ups, I imagined that I offer Duryodhana on my open palm. I silently with his hands folded as a tray, and imagined that Duryodhana is on this tray and I offer him to Nrisimhadev. I said: «Nrisimhadev, take him. I'm offering him to you, please take him, he's Yours». And I see that Duryodhana became such a lanky, thin man, with his hands folded in Namaste, first bowed to Nrisimhadev, with such awe, and then fell before him as stick in dandavat. And while I sang along with all the devotees, he lay prostrate before the deity Nrisimhadev.

142. The blessing of whole parampara

Then, before going to sleep, I sat down to chant the Hare Krishna mantra. When I chant japa, I thought it would be good to offer Duryodhana to my Gurudeva, Indradyumna Swami. I thought it was a good thing and I wanted to do it, but why would my Gurudev need this Duryodhana? Why should I load my Gurudeva this Duryodhana? This is my business, and I have to do it and not throw off my responsibility to anyone. But then I thought that Duryodhana would be a great devotee of Krishna, a great spiritual master, he would lead ISKCON for many, many lives and he would burn by Srila Prabhupada's mission, do everything to make Srila Prabhupada happy, that Srila Prabhupada's efforts would really bear fruit, which Srila Prabhupada wanted.

And I thought that this Duryodhana will inspire everyone to serve Krishna, and mission of my Gurudev was to connect us with Srila Prabhupada. And I thought it was the right decision to offer Duryodhana to my Gurudeva. I imagined my Gurudeva, mentally. I remember how my Shri Ram on my inside screen got initiation from my Gurudeva. I saw by my inner gaze how this initiation occurred on a fine-material level. I remembered how Shri Ram was standing to my right, and my Gurudev was standing in front of us, and how some invisible and inaudible dialogue was going on between me and Gurudev, and then between Gurudev and Shri Ram was a flow of energy, and there was such a powerful vim that even was sparks, and after that Shri Ram began to grow and rose above the sky.

I imagined Duryodhana in front of my Gurudeva and began to offer his Gurudeva. He was already quite different, he transformed, reborn. It was not already Duryodhana. To call him by that name already uncomfortable, because he was now not so. He stood in front of my Gurudeva with his hands folded in Namaste, with such gratitude.

And suddenly I saw something amazing behind my Gurudev. There has become opened the door. I stand, Duryodhana is standing in front of me, ahead stands Gurudev, and suddenly behind my Gurudev a door opened right inside him, very big tunnel, a long, far, and there are many, many spiritual masters, guru-parampara — a chain of student succession, the chain of spiritual masters. And from there out from all of them right through my Gurudev a Golden light flooded, and everything went to this Duryodhana and flooded him wholly. He stood there drenched in gold. I saw it with my own eyes.

After that I finished chant my japa and went to bed. It was January 22, 2018. I was so impressed that my Gurudev stood and from him opened a portal, so wide, so long and so deep and there was no end or edge of this portal. And from there gold flowed to Duryodhana. The blessing of the entire parampara went on him. I thought: God, I saw it by my own eyes! Yes, I saw it on my internal screen, but I saw it by some my own eyes. Not by these physical, bodily eyes, but by some internal ones. And there were so many spiritual masters, a great chain, and you can't see the end of the chain. And all this blessing from them went to Duryodhana, who was the leader of all Asuras, the king of the kings of Asuras. And suddenly all parampara blessed him!

I thought, first of all, who am I to see all this? Secondly, my Gurudev opened the parampara and I saw it! My Gurudev connected Duryodhana to the parampara. My Gurudev is in the chain of spiritual masters. I saw that. And they blessed the most fallen. That Duryodhana was such a big scoundrel, I told about him in the 167th and 168th series. Yes, I told everything allegorically, but how much abomination he actually did everything. And all this parampara accepted him and blessed him so that he may bring Krishna consciousness to all in his future lives. It's so amazing!

I thought that this Shri Ram is so lucky that I came to him. He was so lucky, but he continues to lecher with Sluts. I thought that I have hope. Maybe Krishna will save me somehow. I brought Duryodhana to the chain of spiritual masters of Sri Krishna. I thought, fuck that Shri Ram. If he does not appreciate his luck and does not understand what incredible luck has fallen on his head, if he continues somewhere with someone to lecher, then Krishna sees everything and Krishna will protect me. He'll do anything, Krishna will save me. Because I saw this parampara. Maybe Krishna will save me only for what I brought this Duryodhana to my parampara of Krishna, to this parampara, who blessed even such Duryodhana, who was the king of the kings of the Asuras. Maybe only for this Krishna will somehow save me from the material world and return me to the spiritual world.

I thought, yes, I'm a nobody, a little mouse. Who am I? I merely brought the top of the Asuras to the entire disciples' succession and he received the blessing of the entire chain of spiritual masters, of the parampara, and I looked at it. And I thought: what a mercy! Now lasts for a special time, special Kali Yuga, when Lord Chaitanya and Nityananda came and save the most fallen. They blessed even Duryodhana, the whole parampara blessed him! And he will be a great spiritual master. He will lead ISKCON. He will inspire everyone, will have such power... He was with a minus sign, the king of kings of asuras and did nasty things, and in his future lives he will be at the top, but with a plus sign. I look at it and think: if this Shri Ram such a stupid and he need this so-called skin disease, when the bodies rub against each other and the more you rub, the more it and want more, if he needs it, I don't care. Somehow Krishna will get me out.

I slept well that night. And in the morning to me in VKontakte some idiot began to write obscene sentences. I was very angry and thought: well, now I'll send Duryodhana. I thought: he was the leader of the Asuras and they did this, well, now he will answer me. And I turned back to Duryodhana. It was January 23, 2018. I turned on the my Gurudeva kirtan and submitted that Duryodhana is standing in front of me on my inner screen, that I entered it and that my Gurudeva inside this Duryodhana sing and Duryodhana along with us singing. And for a long time we together sang kirtan.

At some point, I stood in front of Duryodhana, stretched my hands palms as tray right in front of his heart chakra, and from my palms in his heart to the sounds of kirtan poured white flowers. There were so many flowers in his heart... and I filled his heart with these flowers from this kirtan completely. Then I saw that his inner tube from the top opens wide to a fully open trumpet and is directed straight upwards. And Duryodhana were singing the Hare Krishna mantra along with my Gurudeva and cried.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Nobody loved him in his life. He didn't know what love was. He treated all of them as objects for benefit. And then suddenly he felt this love. He cried....

Then I remembered how I had experience with the Holy names of Krishna as with personality in one of the sessions with pillow, which I told in the 14th and 161st series of my novel. I remembered that I had this experience. I remembered how I communicated with the names of Krishna directly as with Krishna himself. I immersed in these memories, I in thoughts went back into that experience and decided to connect Duryodhana with my experience of my interaction with the Holy names of Krishna. And I saw how this Duryodhana stands in the same way with open handbreadths and looks at them with inexpressible amazement.

When in that experience I communicated with the names of Krishna, I had my relationship with Krishna, but on Duryodhana's face was written amazement. I could see him looking into his open hands, like there were the Holy names of the Lord standing right in front of him in his palms. He looked at the Holy names of the Lord in his hands, and indeed somehow communicated with them with incredible amazement on his face. Several times he looked at me imploringly, as if trying to convey to me that it was time to send him, because I intensively engaged in him two days. He like told me he was very tired, but I not let him go, thinking that he should listen more to this kirtan. He will be a great spiritual master in ISKCON, to serve Srila Prabhupada, he will live it.

And then I remembered those who will meet him there. I thought someone's waiting for him. Bhakti Tirtha Swami and other devotees of the Lord waiting for him. I thought about them and then I suddenly felt that they are ready, they are waiting for him. I somehow mentally connected them with Duryodhana, and between them opened some wide bright path as if from the star dust, and he slowly and smoothly swam skyward in this shining column of light when the kirtan, the Holy names of the Lord sounded. He was going up in that shining pillar higher and higher, and then I untwisted this pillar of light, it swirl with great speed, and Duryodhana fly away into funnel-shaped vortex. I saw him fly there with his hands folded, looking at me, blessing and thanking me. He went there so well...

I see, there at the top all closed and even somehow got involved like a vacuum sucked everything in. then I burned by Napalm all that is left of him, listened to the kirtan until the end and then recorded it all in the 169th series of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». I was most impressed by parampara. I didn't want to burden my Gurudev with anything, much less with such a scoundrel like Duryodhana, but I had thoughts that Gurudev could connect him with Srila Prabhupada. And I offered him Duryodhana, and in my Gurudeva, right in him opened the door to parampara and from there poured the light — and on whom? On the king of the kings of the Asuras, who did so many abominations. And his blessed the entire parampara!

How merciful Krishna is! And I thought: maybe I have a chance to go back to Krishna? If Krishna has blessed such a scoundrel like Duryodhana by the whole chain of teachers, by entire parampara, then maybe he will help me. I have hope. Because I saw it, with my own eyes. Even if it was on my inner screen, even if it's all coined. But I saw it. Because I composed it. When you compose, you see all this on some internal screen. On this my internal screen, I saw it all with my own eyes.

143. Adding into friends in social networks

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

We expunged the Duryodhana on January 23, 2018, and on January 25 it was two years since the conversation with coach karate, where I told Shri Ram through coach that I came to him because we were together a long time ago. Then he connected to me personally, though he could appoint someone from his organization to carry out this case, because under him was a large organization of Asuras and there were craftsmen for breaking the female nature. But he decided to do it himself, personally, because I have already managed to distinguish themselves, not succumbing to their encroachments in my direction and so much intrigued Shri Ram, that he decided personally to press me and connected to me. Shri Ram decided personally to do such an interesting instance.

And it's been two years since we got together, though at a distance. And here I killed many of Asuras, even destroyed their entire top, the three most important Asuras, kings of kings here on Earth. For such a round date, Shri Ram asked me to comment on the screenshots from the movie «50 First Dates», which I did in the 171st and 172nd series of my novel. This commenting brought me a sad mood, I thought that the Asuras had no right to break up the eternal couple, and we with Shri Ram are such an eternal couple, who lived as a couple in the spiritual world, before we fell into the material world. The Asuras has no right to invade into pairs, but they did. And here couple even eternal. And so they broke the universal law.

And I decided that someone from Asuras should be punished for it. Because Shri Ram and I were separated from each other for many, many lives, even I became an inspector of Universe Patrol and the exterminator of some terrible creatures. And in the 172nd series, I identified the category of Asuras who would pay me for it. And Krishna gave me a sign. When I sat down to work, a cockroach ran on my Desk. I'm fighting them, but to no avail. And when I thought which Asuras to punish, on my table at this time ran a cockroach. I wanted to kill him right there, but he ran to the Murti of Srila Prabhupada, who was standing in front of me on my Desk, and decided to hide in the folds of Srila Prabhupada's clothes. I said: «Oh, you are a sly one, you want to hide at Srila Prabhupada's Lotus feet?! I'll overtake you anyway!» And I thought it was a good idea — I will write a series in which I will send a special group of Asuras to their future lives. It will be those Asuras, who decided to hide in the canopy of Srila Prabhupada's Lotus feet.

And I wrote a story that there are Asuras that specialize in social networks. They actively write in different social networks, popular in the countries where they live geographically. And they pretend to be spiritual, copy from the pages of different spiritual communities of the corresponding kind of pictures, copy to their pages all sorts of spiritual quotes, so that, going to this page, you could think that its owner is an adept of this spiritual tradition. Of course, they are not any adepts of any spiritual traditions, since they are Asuras living among us as ordinary people. They simply chose this field of activity to find and include women in their regular donors. They pretend to be some kind of devotee of the Lord and send requests to add to friends on social networks. They have this style of work.

There are many different social networks around the world on the Internet. VKontakte, Odnoklassniki, Facebook and so on. And there are those Asuras that specialize in adding to friends in these social networks. They pretend to be hiding in the canopy of Srila Prabhupada's Lotus feet and many other spiritual movements. Since Srila Prabhupada is closer to me, I will describe it in this example, although such Asuras do not limit themselves only to this spiritual society.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Some a kind, good looking asur opens another account in next social network and uploads on this page the content of the corresponding spiritual currents, with which he is going to work. He publishes, for example, there are pictures of Lotus, deities, temples, pilgrimage places, kirtans and so on. On the Internet such pictures a lot of; to find it and fill in on page is not difficult. Then he enters to some spiritual groups in the social network and reposts from there content to your page, creating the appearance that he found shelter at Lotus feet and the impression that he is sublime and spiritual.

In fact, it's just a camouflage and he needs to penetrate to you unnoticed, that is only to pretend to be his. And then he begins to be added to friends to those who live in those spiritual communities, where he repost everything, where he pretending to be the same and puts «like». He specifically is sitting there — to send requests to add friends to those who are there occasionally or often. He makes a request: «Add me to your friends». People go to his page, they think: «We don't know him, but we wonder who he is».

Comes this user (usually Asuras looking for women to enjoy sex with them without physical contact, at a distance, as they are able to connect, and for pumping out feminine energy, the power, oil, fuel, which for Asuras vital) on his page, and there it pictures of lotuses, of Deities, Harinams, reposts with lectures. Repost does not obligate to anything. If you repost news from some Vaishnava group, it does not mean that you are a devotee of Krishna and that you commit to be or to become one, because of these repost you are not obliged to follow and be like this. No, it's just a repost, to anything no one is binding and nothing really does not speak, but very effectively misleading others and allowing the owner of this page to get into one's confidence.

He send friend requests to those who actually wants to be under the Lotus feet because he puts their «like» in those Vaishnava (and others like them religious) groups. He pretended to be so good, kind, so bhakta, posted on his page spiritual messages and pictures to look good. Requests about adding into friends usually make to girls, to women. And externally it's all culturally, decently, no vulgar hints and encroachment on your honor and your personal space. Just a friend request. Girl looks: some are a good wants to become friend. Comes to his page, to his profile: indeed, the seeker of truth. And presses: «Yes, add to friends». And after that he begins to descend her from heaven to earth. Because what essentially does mean this «Yes»?

There this kind man sits, and when it is added to friends, it to this request for addition in friends adds the mental message, a question: «You will do everything that we will want? Say „Yes“, quickly, chick. We're gonna press you. Will you do whatever we want? Yes? We will want to cause in you low sexual desires that you began to satisfy them. When you will start to satisfy yourself sexually, we will all together or in turn appear in your mind, in your imagination supposedly, on your mental inner screen, in front of your mental gaze. And we will gonna make you have sex with some man in real or masturbate, and we will all gonna be there. And you will satisfy us all sexually, as we will want. We will be far away from you, you won't even know us, but we will force you to do in your real life what we need. We'll drain you of all your feminine energy, your Ojas, your piety, godliness. And in addition, you will satisfy us all sexually. And you'll never guess. Little fool».

«We, Asuras, know how to do it at a distance, without personal acquaintance and presence. Your consent to our thought is enough for us. Hit quickly to button „Yes“. And because you walk the spiritual path, your energy is much cleaner than those who eat meat, smoke, drink, swear, and enter into sexual relations without taking responsibility. Your energy is cleaner, higher, better. Your energy is more valuable, much more expensive. The female energy for us, for the Asuras, is the currency; it is the money that we pay in our Asuric Affairs. And the cleaner and higher feminine energy is, the more it weighs in our Asuric market, the more expensive it is, the more it costs. We can do a lot of and can buy a lot with your feminine energy. You don't know what a valuable substance you have, your feminine energy. Your men are fools, don't appreciate you, women. But we, Asuras, know the value of your feminine energy. It is a currency of currencies».

«Add me to your friends, quickly say your „Yes“, and we'll start pressing you. Quickly follow our command; we need your feminine energy. When you agree to add us as your friend, you will give us your consent to suppress you and force you to have sex with us, through distance, without contact of physical bodies, energetically. And sooner or later we will break you. You will want to begin to satisfy yourselves sexually, with some ordinary man in your real life or in Masturbation, does not matter, because we are able to connect and when you're with someone, through that man, and when you're sitting alone and don't know what we can enter in your sexual activities, and for us to be there completely real and tangible. We will appear in front of you on your inner screen, and you will do whatever we will want and how we will want. And you have already given us your „Yes“, and we will make you do what we need. We'll get everything we need out of you».

They just get «Yes» when you answer «Yes» to their request in social networks, because when they give that request for you to add them as your friend, they want to obtain from you your consent. But what exactly do you give your consent to, you do not know, because the real question was not voiced and demonstrated, it was sent to you mentally. And after that, they somehow at a distance, completely not knowing you and even living in unclear place, will press on your women's centers and raise your sexual desire, sexual yearning. And then they will force you to take care of yourself, to relieve this sexual tension in some way, for example, with the help of your Masturbation. And there they will all come to you, and you will think that it's just your imagination, because nothing in the real world there. It's just your fantasies.

Yes, this fantasies are some unusual to you and very rude, vulgar and impudent. But fantasies. Nothing this in the real life there. It's only in your imagination. Alas, alas, but asuras does not have to be with you physically, it is enough to get your consent to their appearance in your space, and all — you are under their influence. You already give them pleasure, and sexy, and you do not even know them. But they really enter into this action and all feel as if in fact. For them it is in fact, though they live among us as ordinary-looking people. And these men will be much on your internal screen, when you suddenly for no reason will want sex and sexual languor will become unbearable and you will begin to satisfy yourself sexually.

There will be a series of them. And all are arrogant, impudent, shameless and self-confident, with an impudent demand to satisfy them as they want. And they get sexual pleasure and sense of superiority that they from heaven to earth dropped such spirit person and so cynically and perversely have it. And I said that I was going to kill that very category of Asuras who pretended to be hiding at the Lotus feet. We need to stop them all, all their vile activities with requests about adding into friends in social networks, followed by subordination who seeks the true.

144. A salutary adding to friends

I decided that I would send this group who were engaged in adding to friends to their next incarnations, and they would be there devotees of Krishna. They pretended to be spiritual. They imagined themselves walking the spiritual path. Now they will really be like this. Because what are you pretending to be, and then you become like this. They have pretended to be devotees of the Lord, and they will become devotees of the Lord. And because I like Krishna, they will all be devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON. Ha! Many, many lives they will be devotees of Krishna. They will no longer be Asuras, but they will continue their activities in their next lives. They will be engaged in sending requests about adding into friends in social networks. They will have the talent to gather around a large number of useful connections, the right contacts and have the ability to be added to all friends.

They will similarly hang out social networks, how hang out in this life, when they were Asuras, and will send requests about adding into friends. But in this case everyone who will agrees to add them as friends will becomes Krishna's devotees, to ISKCON and all will return to the spiritual world. They will all say: «We don't want to be in the material world anymore. Everything was disgusting here. We want to return to the spiritual world». And it will all happen by itself, with the blessing, because in this life they became friends in social networks, to pull down to the lower levels of development the girls and women going on the spiritual path and get pleasure and sexual energy from them, to arrange orgies on a subtle plan, supposedly in the imagination, forcing to sex without physical contact, through distance, with their energetically connection.

Yes, they appeared in the minds of those girls and women, but if they appeared in the mind, then they actually appeared, because the Asuras if there are in the mind, then they actually appear, because they can interact with us from a distance, as if appearing in our mind, in our imagination and in our sensations, without contact of physical bodies. It seems that it is just invented in the mind and you look a movie. Nothing like that. All this is happening in reality. Just energetically, without contact of physical bodies, through distance. And they will engage in adding to friends, but in good quality. They will be very active, so to speak, residents of social networks. They will be everywhere, in all social networks. Everyone who will to put approval, likes on their pages will become devotees of Krishna. Just one like on his page. Because it is such a blessing.

They will send requests to add to friends in all social networks, messengers, etc. Who will be added to them as friends, will no longer want to be in the material world and will go to the spiritual world. And they will send requests to add to friends during many lives, and then they will return to the spiritual world, long before this Kali Yuga will enter its full rights and begin to fully untwist its flywheel, because thanks to such a friendly their location to all they will help to return to the spiritual world many a man. It will happen miraculously. With the blessing.

I was greatly angered by such shameless behavior of these Asuras, who pretended to be so good, kind, spiritual and sent requests to add their to friends for girls and women who somehow showed interest in the spiritual path. After all, this request was actually just a sign, but the filling of this request was not advertised. And they did not hesitate to add as friends for very young girls and to married. And this girl or woman such a seditious thought could not come to mind that this is not just request about adding into friends, but a brazen and cunning obtaining her consent. And if she knew what the request was for, she would have sent it to spam right away. But the true purpose of this request was unknown to her.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And she didn't remember about that request about adding into friends when she got suddenly started growing sexual languor and in my mind began to flash indecent, vulgar pictures. She couldn't connect the two events: it is the sexual desire and request about adding into friends. Such cunning. That angered me the most. And they are not shy to make such requests for a married who couple. What is that? After obtaining consent to their subsequent actions, the Asuras will cause the couple to have an increased sexual desire. The couple will have marital sex, and Asuras, all their big crowd will stand in front of wife on her inner screen, supposedly in her imagination, with an arrogant unceremonious demand to satisfy all of them in this sex. And how to drive them out of there, from thoughts? When sex is already underway, and how to tell her husband that in your sex there are outsiders men who are here, in real life, no. And it's only in the imagination.

It's the Asuras joined your pair and has sex with your wife through your body, and you won't even think about it. And you will never guess that these two events: sexual orgies ostensibly in your imagination and the addition in social networks as friends of a good, decent young man — have a direct connection. Of course, the Asuras can receive our «Yes» and not only in social networks through the addition to friends. Loopholes for pulling our «Yes» a lot. And for what exactly you need your «Yes», you do not know, because the attached request is not voiced, but only implied.

They can also get your «Yes» giving you a business card. Business cards are a very good tool for getting your «Yes», because, just picking it up, you have already given your consent. And when you are given a business card, you are uncomfortable to refuse and not take it. And our grasping reflex works well since infancy. When we are given, we take it. When we are given a business card, a leaflet, an advertisement, a booklet, anything — the first reaction is just to pick up this piece of paper or plastic. And when you take that, you kind of say: «Well, I take this, I agree». But what exactly do you agree to, you may not know, because the request may be hidden, conceived.

But for them in social networks to get your «Yes» is simple. Requests can be sprinkle in droves, wholesale. And see who bites on a good wrapper in the form of a decent page and cultural treatment. Even the «like» can be written as your «Yes»: «Yes, I like it». This is a good method, because along with the external query implies a hidden filling, a hidden question. And they, pulling your agreement on hidden question in the depths of the message, overthrow you from the heights into the sinful earth, making you the same as everyone else. And even worse. After all, there they make you participate in orgies, through distance, energetically. And you're sublime, striving to be cleansed and to rise above this dirt which is everywhere around.

But you did not give them conscious «Yes» to this, so you have every right to oust them from your consciousness and to demand their punishment for violating your personal borders. I thought that I, as an inspector of Universe Patrol, would punish them all. And they will do the same in their future lives, but with a different filling — they will thus bring everyone into Krishna consciousness and return to the spiritual world.

145. Cockroach which took shelter under the lotus feet of Srila Prabhupada

When I was going to expunge them all, I remembered a screenshot from Mahabharata in the 172nd series, where Arjuna apologizes to Draupadi. I thought: for what is Shri Ram asking for my forgiveness? For what could he ask me for forgiveness for? And then I thought, that when I was talking about this this group who were engaged in adding to friends in social nets, I had a cockroach ran on my Desk and hid from my anger in the folds of Srila Prabhupada's clothes. And then I said to him: «Oh, you decided to hide under the shade of Srila Prabhupada's Lotus feet? I'll overtake you anyway!»

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I thought this Shri Ram asks for forgiveness (because there was a screenshot that Arjuna asked for forgiveness from Draupadi), because he decided to stand up for some Asura, who was in this group who were engaged in adding to friends in social networks, and now needs to be sent along with all the group who added to friends in social networks and then arranged an Orgy through distance, without contact of physical bodies energetically, with the pumping energy and with the overthrow of the with the highest, spiritual plans on lower animal levels.

I thought a cockroach sheltered into Srila Prabhupada's clothes, and Shri Ram decided to stand up for one of his own so I wouldn't kill him. That is, it turns out that he would hide under the shadow of Srila Prabhupada's Lotus feet, that is, he would hide from this punishment at me, because I expunge them. When it came to me that this Shri Ram had the audacity to stand up for someone of those who did such abominations and who really need to be punished, and even in what way, taking advantage of my protection, I have emerged a strong anger... I was so mad, I have everything so bubbled up that I immediately saw on my inner screen this entire big group and in them chucked something with all the power.

I was very angry because I don't want to just punish them. I want them to serve Srila Prabhupada, ISKCON, and make many devotees of Krishna, so that they all return to the spiritual world. I do not need to kill them, I need them to serve Krishna and be useful to Srila Prabhupada. I have such anger arose... I stood over them all like a giant snake and I unleashed all my anger on them, all my power that they are immediately separated from their bodies and began to hang. Well, I think, they'll be out of their bodies early. They'll just come out of their bodies, that's all. But I need to work with them thoroughly, so that they really become what I need.

And I left them alone, thought they might go back into their bodies and stay there for a while. But my anger has not passed and it went to Shri Ram. I thought: «If you ever slip up again, If you look at some woman, I will take vengeance on you, I'll pour on you all my anger, I won't regret you».

And I directed all my rage at Shri Ram. Because I had a strong desire that more of them would go to serve for Krishna, for Srila Prabhupada, and he decided to leave someone here. And I was really angry at him. But Krishna gave me a song in «VKontakte». Somewhere in the news feed I came across quite by accident, as I always do, on a brand new song. There are often different songs, but I do not always listen to them, and at this time something so wanted to listen, and I turned it on.

It was the song of Yaroslav Klimanov «Fall into his arms».

He is worthy of admiration,
Emotions have no limits.
How much he waits for communication with you,
To soul from happiness sang...
Inspiring,
Like the music of the Universe,
He's burning up from anticipation
Of marvelous meeting with you.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I will be sincere with you
And maximally candid.
You live by his love
Inviolable, always.
And I'll tell you:
He was always the best friend.
Your happiness is only together.
Accept him as your spouse.
Fall into his arms,
Like into a serenity.
All that will be ahead,
It's only love and tenderness.
The past will leave in this moment.
Nobody knows,
Into what beautiful new world
He invites you.
You burned with fire
From differences your natures
And in separation you're lost,
You to left, he to right.
But love cannot be destroyed,
Belief in happiness is ever-burning,
Forever together your souls,
And fate is inseparable.
Fall into his arms,
Like into a serenity.
All that will be ahead,
It's only love and tenderness.
The past will leave in this moment.
Nobody knows,
Into what beautiful new world
He invites you.
All desires & dreams...
Life will fulfill all dreams as it should.
World of love and beauty,
In him your hope and your consolation.

And this song reassured me. Such good words. He is waiting for a marvelous meeting, will be sincere and Frank. Love, consolation... I felt so good... And then I pulled the picture from associative-metaphorical cards, where Shri Ram as if covers someone who stands behind him. I want to take the man behind him by the hand and throw him together with the whole group into their future lives, but Shri Ram has shield him with himself and begs me spare him. And on the picture were the words «solitude salvation», that is, it is necessary to save only one man. I thought that there in the group a lot of them. Well, if he's requests spare only one man, I'll take that into account. But what salvation is to remain an Asura? It would be better for him to go into his future lives. I would make him a devotee of Krishna. He in his future lives, too, would to add to friends, but he would already make all Krishna devotees and help them return to the spiritual world. After all, it is much better than to continue to be an Asur.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

But I think, okay, if Krishna showed me this song Yaroslav Klimanov «Fall into his arms», which so good comforted me, that is good. I'm sentimental. Many women are sentimental. So am I. Put me this song, I'll listen to it, look at the picture with the words «salvation loneliness» — to save someone one — and calm down. I think: well, Shri Ram, if you beg me, so we will not touch him. And I started expunge them. I turned on Mrityunjaya mantra, imagined that I extend influence of Mrityunjaya mantra for me, for Shri Ram and the one man whom he had asked to spare.

And then of course, I have included Narasimha Maha Mantra, and began to burn them. After that I included kirtan and made this entire group who were engaged in adding to friends sing along with me, my Gurudeva Indradyumna Swami and devotees of Krishna. Then I made them jump during kirtan. They very small jumped during kirtan. And then they all started to glow. From them went some light, and they turned into some kind of continuous moving amorphous mass, singing Hare Krishna. I took a big a piece of iron used to brand horses. This is a piece of iron, which is placed in the fire and then on the croup of the horse pattern is printed, engraved on this piece of iron.

And I took a big piece of iron, wrote on it big letters HARE KRISHNA, put it on all that amorphous mass, and this thing cauterized them all, so this heat and these letters went deep into them. And they all began to emit a dazzling white, phosphorescent light, shining with the words «Hare Krishna» imprinted on them. And then they all went there. After that I saw Shri Ram, I remembered again this song by Yaroslav Klimanov «Fall into his arms», fell into his arms and cried there. He hugged me so well...

Then Krishna showed me that he was very angry, that Shri Ram's friend escaped punishment. Krishna showed that that friend also must be sent with everyone. I asked Krishna to forgive us, and he told me that okay, now I have fulfilled the request of Shri Ram, but we will come up with something to someday expunge and that friend. Krishna said: «Let there be peace».

146. Relief from stress is not our goal

The next party I decided to send those Asuras who worked as so-called doctors, psychiatrists, who used their Asuric abilities to suppress people trying to rise above the harsh reality and go some spiritual way. I remembered that back in school, the Soviet years I was listening to the BBC Radio, there were often broadcast about the Soviet Krishnas. I then did not know who they were, but I felt sorry for them that they were put in mental hospitals and subjected to that monstrous supposedly treatment to cure their desire to escape from the material world to the spiritual. And I thought, most likely, the Asuras could be there. After all, this is also a good field for them, and there the victims are completely in their power, including physically.

And I decided that those Asuras who were such so-called doctors, who used their Asuric abilities to suppress good people and throw off them to the lower platform of consciousness, would be sent by me to their future lives not by the Asuras, but by the devotees of Krishna. I have decided that they all their future lives will be served for Srila Prabhupada, and because they have humiliated and abused many of the Lord's devotees, they will continue their so-called psychosocial service. In past lives they were psychiatrists, but in the next lives they will not be psychiatrists, but psychotherapists, psychologists and everything connected with it, that is, healers of people as souls.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

They were as Asuras in all these psychiatric Affairs, and in the next life they will continue this psychological activity, because, being Asuras, to be there and do their dirty work, they received appropriate education, medical psychiatric qualification and all know it. And in addition, they have their own asuric developments, which they used in their professional activities. Therefore, into next incarnations they will take with them their abilities, skills, understanding, and knowledge. All their Asuric nature, of course, will be burned down. And they will all be devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada, and will do everything to make Srila Prabhupada is pleased with them.

They will be great psychologists, psychotherapists, healers from God and will help people cope with stress and their mental and emotional problems, neuroses, hysteria, panic attacks and all that. But not in the psychiatric field, but in the psychotherapeutic, let them now help those people who can really be helped. They will be very popular, because now the Kali Yuga, the people are becoming more vulnerable.

People are instilled with such an understanding that it is necessary to squeeze as much pleasure from this world as possible, and since people are part of this world, then from these people also need to squeeze out more pleasure, more use them, since we live only once and need to make sure that it is not painfully painful for the years lived aimlessly. And people will use each other more and more, and so they will have more and more psychological problems. That is why psychotherapists and psychologists will be in great demand. Very many people will need help, because many people will be abandoned, exploited, humiliated, hurt.

Women are the most vulnerable part of society, and they must be protected, but if they are not protected, but are tried to exploit to get more pleasure out of this material world, then, accordingly, many women will be in a constant state of stress. Therefore, this psychotherapeutic specialty and everything related to it will be very popular, and it is necessary that such a popular layer of society worked for Srila Prabhupada and very, very successfully.

And this entire group on deletion, which were Asuras and psychiatrists at the same time, all of them will take all their psychiatric skills to their next lives and will help people there. But they will help people not as accepted in the Kali Yuga. Their motto will be: «relief from stress — it is not our goal. Our goal is to give pleasure to Krishna». This is Bhakti Vikasha Swami said, and his words will be their motto for all their remaining lives in the material world until they return to the spiritual world.

I decided that in their next lives, they will all be certified specialists, in order to no one said that they are charlatans, scammers. So that they really had weight and could safely do their job, it is necessary that they had a brilliant academic education. All of them will be very erudite, intelligent, will be able to find an approach to anyone, and will receive a very high, authoritative education in the psychological and psychotherapeutic sphere. No one will tell them that you are no one, ordinary Hare Krishna. They will have a strong basis, and no one even the words do not make a sound against them, they will win any opponent, because they of these their lives will bring all their psychiatric achievements, knowledge of souls and techniques and will also have a very significant psychological education. At the same time, they will all be devotees of Krishna.

Which usually now psychologists, psychotherapists tune people? They say that this period of life it is necessary as-that to endure. They dig in the childhood, in these complexes, and someone and in the past lives, find the reasons to remove from themselves responsibility, to consider that I owe nothing to anybody; I can do everything that I want. Such a crude materialistic platform, orienting people to receive pleasure from the world, to greedily grab this pleasure and not to consider yourself responsible for anything and that you are guilty. For example, a woman took someone else's husband from his family, made his wife and his children unhappy. Psychologists say that it's okay, wife is to blame, and she should have been good. Psychologists and psychotherapists in Kali Yuga are perfectly calm and able to remove any blame to consider that they are right, that they are all good.

But these Asuras, so-called doctors, will not focus people on shifting from themselves the blame and adaptation to the current moment. They will not focus their customers to benefit from a losing situation. Although they will learned in such a tradition to take off responsibility, dig in childhood, blame the parents or the environment, way of birth. Anything can be found to absolve yourself of responsibility and say you're good. But if you are in the material world, that you're no good. If you were good, you would not live in the material world, you would live in the spiritual world. But want to justify itself, I want to look good and think to myself that you are good.

And these chosen, whom I have decided to expunge from the list of Asuras and from the material world, will reoriented, reformatted all their clients into Krishna's service, to become Krishna's devotee and return to the spiritual world. Their credo will be that freeing ourselves from stress is not our goal. Our goal is to satisfy Krishna and return to the spiritual world. And they will carry out such work with their clients. Because now the Kali Yuga. The so-called service to humanity is like cleaning a jacket. What will these people achieve by washing their jackets and shirts?

What can be achieved, if we say that someone left you, you remained one, utterly inconsolable, but we found a reason for this failure in your childhood, you must go on, continue to squeeze out of this life drops of pleasure and preferably more, so do not shun anything and if something turns up, then squeeze out of it more. But our crossed out comrades will be not such. Many women will come to them, as they will be offended, humiliated, exploited and they will need psychotherapeutic help. And since our crossed out comrades will be very popular, successful, even well-known experts in their field, will have a lot of weight, everyone will listen to them, then there will be a turn to them for two or three years ahead. But they will try to work well and very hard to help everyone more. Because the more they will help everyone, the more people will return to Krishna.

They will all be in ISKCON, devotees of Krishna, will try to satisfy Srila Prabhupada. They will say: «You want to get a better place in the material world, but this is absolutely useless, because everything is temporary in the material world. Today you are on a horse, tomorrow a horse on you, and a pig on a horse, and a sheep on a pig and so on. And everyone exploit each other, and you think you're on a horse. It is necessary to escape from this material world and return in the spiritual world. And for that, welcome — Srila Prabhupada came and gave us the opportunity to return to the spiritual world and completely solve all the problems that we have».

Not so that someone threw and this therapist wipes his tears to the client for a while made an optimistic appearance and rushed to catch a new one. Well, you'll catch a new one, but nothing fundamentally will not solve it. Yes, you can go through a bunch of seminars and learn how to make sure that he to fall in love with you irrevocably and not look at other women. How to do so, how to do such... but our crossed out comrades will not be such. They will say: «Do you really think that this will help you? But this is the material world. Yes, and Kali Yuga. In Kali Yuga There is not that you can settle down here and live as if in the spiritual world. You guys got something wrong. You've mixed up the place, first, second, time. Even in this place you mixed up the time. And this is the wrong place — the material world. In this place there is no such as in the spiritual world. And you want to settle here, make Paradise in hell, so to speak. Nobody will give you that».

This is how they will tell their clients who will think what to do if they meet someone who can not be loved, but so hard want to be with him. And these our cross out comrades will say: «Well, that's just lust. Open the Bhagavad-Gita (they will have Bhagavad-Gita on the table, they will use Bhagavad-Gita in their work), read the books of Srila Prabhupada. They say the right thing. You don't need all these coaches that don't to remove an abscess, but just stick a Band-Aid at it so that it can't be seen, but it's still rotting there, and then everything will go inside, there will be sepsis and death».

And they will tell their clients: «You're in the wrong place. You need to go somewhere else. You want that nobody deceived you, that to love was eternal and mutual, so that you do not ruin anything under the influence of emotions. You want to avoid difficult situations, to not have to think, how to quickly orientate them. You want to be not drawn somewhere, where you don't need. You don't want to be left with nothing».

They will say: «I have simple and logical answers to all your difficult questions. Bhagavad-Gita is the Lord's book, the transcendental world, it is yours. Sing this song, sing, open the door to this world». And they will preach Krishna consciousness in their psychotherapeutic activities. With all the diplomas, certificates, academic degrees, authoritative and weighty. And all who come to them will be converted into Krishna consciousness. Everyone will come to ISKCON, Srila Prabhupada's mission, and then return to the spiritual world. Because all their clients will read the books of Srila Prabhupada, to solve their problems in a cardinal way. Once and for all.

These so-called doctors, but in fact Asuras, who mocked civilians, who, falling into their hands, became completely defenseless, I expunged for two days. I tormented them with extreme cruelty, which did not even tell in my videos. I tortured them so much. I have several friends who were in those places and who told me what they were doing. And I these two days connected the sufferings transferred by them in those places with these so-called doctors-Asuras, representing that at these «doctors» everything burns. And I gave them the command of what procedure they would experience.

They had to take turns to experience all those procedures that they appointed where they worked. At the same time they were completely defenseless, as well as their patients there, as when they get into my field, they become just as motionless rabbits. And they experienced all the pain and defenselessness that they had appointed to others. I also performed various painful manipulations on their dental nerves, then gave them a strangulation session, like an asthmatic attack, while simultaneously squeezing their throat and their testicles, so that they could not breathe.

Then I began to shed on them my red, combustible tears at them, rising above them like a huge snake. And these are my blood red tears filled them completely and were eating away at them, inside and out, giving rise to the appearance on their entire body inside and out ulcers, through which I passed an electric current. God, what I did to them... they experienced a lot of feelings. When I got tired of it, I under Narasimha Maha Mantra, turned the funnel-shaped vortex over them, and sent them all there.

147. «I won't forget you»

I was sure that my Mahabharata in Asuric modern community here on Earth had come to an end. Alas, I was wrong, because there was a continuation. But at that time

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I was sure it was over. I commented in my videos a hundred saved screenshots about what good I brought to my Shri Ram during our interaction with him, and decided to finish recording the video of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». I thought that the story developed quite slender, though when I started to record my videos, there was no plot at all. But as the recording came to me all the new and new ideas, and so I came to a point that told everything. I thought that Hollywood can make on the basis of this my novel a chic blockbuster, just not enough of the final episode, namely our meeting with Shri Ram in real life. But since this meeting was not yet, I had to invent it.

I had one idea about this meeting, but absolutely ridiculous. And when I was at my lady friend's house, I asked her to help me. I told her my version of the meeting, she rejected my version of and gave her option of the meeting. I have taken note of her comments, suggestions and based on that I have written a very different version. I picked the day for record the series about our meeting. It was February 14, 2018, Valentine's Day and at the same time Mahashivaratri. I liked that two these holidays joined together in one day, and I scheduled a recording for the night of Mahashivaratri, after midnight on February 14.

Before that, a neighbor came to me, she had a zipper in her Shoe once again jammed, and I helped her. When she left, she stood up and looked me in the eyes, said: «I will not forget you». When she left, I remembered the session with pillow that Shri Ram and I had when he had Lona, the ideal of the vagina. Then Krishna arranged session with pillow with him, in which Shri Ram, somewhere in his house told me the words I voiced my own mouth at home. He told me that I am beloved, and there were still such words: «I will not throw you. I anywhere will not throw you. I will not let you go anywhere. You're mine. You will be mine». I thought it was Shri Ram through this neighbor who told me he would not forget me. I thought he wanted me to say that in my last, 181st series of my novel.

And I decided to consider from all sides of this topic, that he not forgets me. That is, he has no choice. If he does not come to me in real life, then Krishna will break our connection with Shri Ram, even though we are an eternal couple. It was showed for Shri Ram in one of the sessions with pillow, when I had contact with the Holy names of Krishna as a person. During that session Krishna completely removed this connection with Shri Ram and Shri Ram was gone, it's like he never existed. He's not missing. He never existed. And Shri Ram saw what would happen if he didn't come to me, if he didn't take that chance, which I was born for in this life.

He was also shown that all his many lives when he was an Asur I somehow was connected with him, invisible and imperceptible to him, I supported him and helped him in his development. But when our connection with him will be interrupted completely, infusion of energy and a support for him will end. And he will have dark times, because he will remain in the material world, without his eternal couple. And it's fraught with him. He understands that. And he has no choice as such. Therefore, he by these words of a neighbor «will not forget you» he said there would be no breaking our eternal bond, that he will not allow it and will definitely come to me. Himself personally.

From this I developed line that he won't let another man come near me, because he is an Asura. He easily can manipulate the consciousness of people. And if other man comes to me, Shri Ram will cause at him desire to move away somewhere. And these words of a neighbor «I will not forget you» say that Shri Ram himself personally will come to me. That no one else can come to me, because he will not let anyone near me, because he must come to me himself, so as not to forget me, that is, so that Krishna will not break our connection with Shri Ram.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Option with other man through whom Shri Ram could be with me not personally, and through a body of that man, for Shri Ram too is unacceptable. I cannot recognize who is with me, Shri Ram or another man, but Krishna is God, he knows everything. And although I can't see anything here, Krishna can see everything. And after this life I will see the true picture. I see, with whom I was, thinking that this man is my Shri Ram. And then the result will be the same. But he said through my neighbor he wouldn't forget me. That is, that such an option, with another man, will not.

By these simple words of the neighbor «I will not forget you» Shri Ram told me so much... and I decided to tell all this in the last, as I thought, series of my novel. I talked about this almost the entire 181st series. I came up a banal scenario, like I went to harinama to sing Hare Krishna, there was a conversation with some man, he showed interest in what we do, I gave him my visit card, we met, I told him about Hare Krishna, then allegedly it rained, no one had an umbrella. We hid from the rain in a cafe. Ate there ice cream. Then he asked me what else I wanted, and I looked at my rings and said that I wanted a ring. Then allegedly the rain stopped, it was Sunday, I was going to the Sunday Hare Krishna program. And we went. he offered me to go to the jewelry store. I agreed. And like he bought me a ring, like I said at the cafe.

In short, I made up a completely ridiculous story, completely unrealistic. But I thought that it was a good option, because the first thing you think that it's all fantasy and nothing more, and means, everything else is also fiction. And I voiced this version in my 181st series of my novel. Further along the story I went to Hare Krishna program, he expressed his desire to go there with me. We stood there before the Deities, and I thought that this man standing next to me is my Shri Ram, to whom I had come in this life, because he is my eternal husband, though he had become Asur long ago. And we all those millions of lives had been separated and could not come close to each other that even some sublime persons between lives offered me to break this connection, and given a different eternal couple, from which I turned down.

And I went to the higher planets to dance the dances of devotion to the Deities, I fell in love with the Deity of Nrisimhadev and somehow became his wife. And after Nrisimhadev began to fulfill my desires. And I began to be born in the Asuric worlds and destroy the strongest Asuras, which no one could remove. After that I went to destroy all sorts of different terrible creatures in different worlds, he became an inspector of Universe Patrol. And so it would go on forever, I could not get close to Shri Ram. He was an Asur, I didn't agree to become the same. Our reunion was impossible.

But then Srila Prabhupada came to Earth and gave everyone the opportunity to return to the spiritual world. As an inspector of the Universe Patrol, I saw this and decided to go into the spiritual world. But before that, I decided to give my eternal husband a chance to reunite with me and go with me to the spiritual world. And here I was born specifically for this purpose, I put myself in crosshairs of asuras, caused their fire on myself, and then destroyed them all, cleared the way for Shri Ram that he was able to reunite with me, if he wants it.

And here I stand before the Deities and think that this man who stands by me is my eternal husband, with whom I was separated for many, many lives and with whom I could not become together. And here he is standing next to me. And it could only be him. Because he told me he wouldn't forget me. That our connection with him will not be broken. And that's only possible if he comes to me personally. And if this man is standing next to me, it's Shri Ram. Himself personally. And all this thanks to Srila Prabhupada. And I stand and pray to the Deities that Krishna will bless us with this Shri Ram and take us to his spiritual world, together and forever.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

In the course of this series, I said that we started Dating, then we got married, we moved to his house, we lived together for a long time and happily, and even went to India to worship Srila Prabhupada in his Samadhi, because he made the impossible possible. After all me not simply so offered there between lives another eternal couple of. Those exalted personalities told me that Shri Ram and I could never be together again. But here we with him not simply met in the real life, but and reunited, in the real life, have become husband and wife, on fact. And then we returned to Krishna in the spiritual world. Here is a series I came up and recorded on February 14, 2018, on Valentine's Day and the night of Mahashivaratri.

Season 3. The vow of Shri Ram

148. Recovery of chronology

On the night of 13–14 February 2018, I recorded the 181st series of my novel, which I called «My Roman. I'm asur's wife», in which I told the fictional story of our meeting and reunion. And on February 15 I already started writing down all the resulting in text form. I began to describe how we were together as an eternal couple, many, many millions of lives ago in this material world. Then I came to the description how he was made Asur, and I was left alone, in solitude, without him.

I described how some exalted personalities came to me between my lives, showed what happened to him, offered to break our eternal connection with him, because I was very bad without him, and gave the choice as another eternal couple, but I refused and went to dance dances of devotion to the Deities on highest heavenly planets. There I somehow became the wife of the deity of Nrisimhadev, then I went to destroy the Asuras in their Asuric worlds and all sorts of different evil in other worlds, became an inspector of the Universe Patrol and conducted with my faithful team different successful operations to eliminate all sorts of universal criminals.

I did not approach Shri Ram, although our connection with him has always been, but invisible and imperceptible. And I even helped him in his development, being far away from him. And so would have continued, no opportunities for rapprochement was not, as he is an Asura, and I am the Slayer of the asuras. But then Srila Prabhupada came, and I saw a real chance to return to the spiritual world. The material world has long been became disgusted me. Since I was left without my date and I saw what he was doing there, I did not spare myself on my path and I went to the most difficult, dangerous and unacceptable tasks. Because of this, I developed a a persistent aversion to the material world and a strong desire to leave it.

And when Srila Prabhupada made that possible, I decided to do it. But to leave my eternal couple without my help alone in the material world I did not consider ethical and right, and I made a plan somewhere between my lives to get closer to him and give him a chance for our reunification and return to the spiritual world. And so I reached in the narration in the text form of our history to the moment when I came to him under the guise of victim. I put myself under his attack, then I not destroyed him, although I could. I stood out from a series of women who constantly went through him. And then a situation created where he wanted to get to see those my life files and layers that were closed to him, and I gave him access.

There he saw some of our past lives with him, when we were together, as couple, and then he came to me with a proposal, without physical body contact, because he personally to me not yet come, all our interaction went on at a distance, because he as

Asur is able to connect to people without his personal presence. And he then offered me to be his wife, Nrisimhadev us married, and after Shri Ram saw that I have a specialization to lead such large organizations, what was his, and offered me to lead her. I said I didn't sign up for this, but I will help him as his wife.

And so I came to the description in the form of a text to this point of our interaction with Shri Ram. What exactly happened next, I didn't know, as all of our interaction with him was without personal contact between bodies, as something in the distance, and I didn't have the whole picture of events. In fact, all the main events of the summer of 2016 were closed to my understanding. And I was thinking, how am I going to record all these events in the text, if such a large piece is unknown to me. And then I decided to suspend the presentation of my novel in the text and try to recover the chronology.

In the two years of this non-contact interactions I have accumulated six large notebooks in which I described events that took place in my life. When Shri Ram first came to me, I had signs everywhere that I needed to write all this down, and I started to write a diary. So I sat down on my couch, opened those six notebooks, an e-mail correspondence, record of phone conversations, took a lot of sheets of paper and began to write down on each of them some one small event that was somehow recorded in my diaries or in emails, or somewhere else, with the date.

I also reviewed the specified in my diaries at that time of the series with my favorite Vedic films, located all on specific dates and sat down to solve this puzzle. At school, I used to like to solve these puzzles. And then I began to do the same. Like the rectification in astrology, when by events in life determine the time of birth. I just put the pieces of the puzzle that I had fixed on the sheets of paper and placed them on the chronological feed so that I could understand what was really there and what was hidden from me. Of course, I taken into account and all that came to light thanks to recording my videos.

Open poured from the cornucopia. I discovered layers that I never knew existed. These revelations did not come at once, but gradually, one after another. Apparently, so I could contain the emotions caused by these implementations. I had three main questions. The first question — why was the heavenly wedding, which was at us with Shri Ram from 3 to 4 March 2016. The second question is why I needed that woman with whom Shri Ram was in the summer of 2016. The third question — why did need a blessing of Lakshmi allegiance to Shri Ram as my husband. And gradually I began to get answers to my questions. Yes, they did not open immediately, but I decided that you can not miss this and not to tell it anywhere. And I sat down to record the next series of my novel.

This happened a month after recording the last, as I thought, 181st series, namely March 13, 2018. In it, I told what was revealed to me at that time when recreating the chronology of those events. Then I discovered that I needed the woman so that Shri Ram she refused me and cancelled our sky wedding. For what? It was necessary to me in order that Borka could put me on their asuric totalizator. To Borka confident he could do it knowing that I'm a nobody, that I have no protection.

That summer, Shri Ram was with some very good woman, she surpassed me in everything. And she appeared in his eyes the ideal of a woman. The comparison was not in my favor, and he without hesitation refused me and completely switched to her. Then he told me to go look for another man, he said I was a free woman now. But I stayed with him anyway. And then I summoned Borka, a former leader of the Moscow asuric organization. About ten years before that, when I was in Moscow, Borka and I had an invisible interaction. He wanted to subdue me and turn me into a limp litter, weak-willed whore for his entire asuric organization. He wanted to install on me their Asuric programs to make me a female, like an animal of the female sex, what they do women, so that they did not have their will and fulfill all the whims of their master, energetically. But I then didn't begin to load their programs, and after Borka saw in me the good candidate for a role of his wife.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Just then his former wife was devastated by him with his companions completely and he threw her somewhere in someone, pressing her consciousness. Outwardly, it looked as if she had betrayed him. It's like she cheated on him, left him, and went to another man. An empty, dried-up woman, without energy and piety was not necessary to him, and he needed the next victim, who outwardly would be his wife, but in fact such an oil rig, a borehole, to which he would connect his companions Asuras and with which they would swing in a chorus during their marital sex all that she had. And Borka saw that I am suitable for this role. He had already connected his fellow Asuras to me, and they saw that the throughput of my pipe is high and that the energies that come out of me are clean and high level.

I was a tasty morsel for him, and he even came to me personally one day and, like them, the Asuras, are able how to do it, he made me wedding offer in their allegorical language. But I refused. I fell off their hook, and even he promised me something (although here, at the usual household level, I did not even know about it). And here I left Moscow and suddenly summoned Borka to myself here. Yes, I did, mentally, and somehow he came to Shri Ram.

I was a tasty morsel for him, and he even came to me personally one day and, like them, the Asuras, they are able how to do it, he made me wedding offer in their allegorical language. But I refused. I fell off their hook, and even he promised me something (although here, at the usual household level, I did not even know about it). And here I left Moscow and suddenly called Borka to myself here. Yes, I did, mentally, and somehow he came to Shri Ram.

Borka saw a good opportunity for himself to take revenge and bend me under him. Especially since Shri Ram was with that woman and he didn't really need me. Yes, I continued to lead his organization as charioteer, but he was sure that without my leadership, he will successfully cope with everything. In fact, Shri Ram gave me to Borka. But I again did not succumb to Borka's efforts to subdue me. This angered him even more, and he decided to break such an obstinate, as he thought, bitch, putting me on their Asuric totalizator.

I needed that woman so Borka could do it. I needed that woman so Shri Ram wouldn't care about me and gave to Borka me. To Borka quietly put me on their asuric totalizator and began gathering the venerable destroyers of feminine nature. Then a large crowd of Asuras ran to their asuric totalizator. Borka well described them my obstinacy, especially as there was to describe. And a lot of Asuras gathered. And those who were going to break me, and those who wanted to get rich by placing bets, and just spectators who wanted to get pleasure from the fact that one more human female is made by a female.

I needed it to carry out my Mahabharata, that is, the cleansing of the modern Asuric community. My task was to pull together more of the most capable Asuras, specializing in the breaking of women and a women's nature. After they all came to break me, I destroyed them all. And it happened. Borka put me on their Asuric totalizator. All the coolest Asuras, able to break women and a women's nature, came to the call of Borka to enjoy breaking me. All they were waiting for them to break me and on this totalizator get a lot of money for my misfortune. But my plan was to make a very different move.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

The situation was created in which Shri Ram had abandoned that woman and stood to my defense. So he could protect me, I needed that heavenly wedding in March 2016. So that he could legally declare that they have no right to put me on their Asuric totalizer and that he won't give me to them. He told them it, based on the fact that this wedding took place and I was actually his wife.

But piece with the heavenly wedding in this puzzle is in this place. After all, this wedding happened because it was necessary. I think it's just so I can see it. It was necessary for me to see the Parallels between what I had with Shri Ram and what happened in Moscow with Borka, the leader of the Moscow Asuras. I got answers to two questions out of three. The wedding was necessary in order that Shri Ram could fight back thanks to fact of wedding, when Borka put me on their Asuric totalizer and when Asuras were going to break my feminine nature and make me a weak-willed litter.

The presence of that woman was needed me to Shri Ram abandoned me and gave me to Borka. Borka put me on their Asuric totalizer. But what about the blessing of Lakshmi, which Shri Ram so persistently asked me before the battle in November 2016, when he would be killed, and then they would start to break me? For the sake of blessings of Lakshmi, he, being an Asura, had agreed to take initiation from my Gurudeva, Indradyumna Swami.

In restoring the chronology, I came to the conclusion that the blessing of Lakshmi was necessary for me to see everything even more clearly and to start my Mahabharata for cleaning the Asuric earthly community. In November 2016, Shri Ram went to battle with some of the Asuras, on a subtle plane, the astral sphere, but his physical body would have died after his defeat in that astral battle. He went to fight that battle to protect me from them. Before that, he asked me for Lakshmi's blessing to faithful to him as my husband. He thought that maybe this blessing would protect me, somehow contain those Asuras who would kill him. He had no illusions about the outcome of that battle. He was sure he'd be killed there. Such against him have exposed forces. And that though as-that to protect me after that, he needed the blessing of Lakshmi.

But I needed it for something else. After all, six months after this event, when Shri Ram remained to live, there was some situation that he in our intimate interaction through distance began to connect to me someone from his Asuric organization. But he couldn't do it while I had Lakshmi's blessing. The conclusion is that the fourth regulative principles Srila Prabhupada has given because we need it, it is vital, for our own protection, and faithfulness in the pair is very necessary, it protects us, and the blessing of Lakshmi to allegiance to her husband is also very, very necessary, as it can protect the women he encroachments of the Asuras.

And in order to connect to me another man, through distance, he needed me to give up this blessing. To do this, he carried out a serious manipulation of my consciousness, I refused this blessing, he connected to me another man, and I noticed it all and refused this intimate interaction at all. And a month later, Shri Ram had to remove from me another man. I saw all this, that is, felt and I had clear signs that there is happening. And then I analyzed all this and remembered what was with me in Moscow, I saw the full identity of the events and feelings.

And realized that actually happened with me in Moscow. And realized that Borka, a former Moscow the leader of the Asuras, was doing with me. I realized that Borka connected to me several Asuras, men, strangers to me men. Borka deliberately caused the desire and destroyed my loyalty to my husband, being present invisibly, energetically, through distance, in our with my husband sex, though I did not even know about it, I could not even come to mind, such a seditious thought. This is simply unthinkable, to in marital sex could invisibly, invisibly wedged some other man, who lives, like all of us, but we do not even know in real life. But Borka added himself in our sex and was there. My husband and I did not feel him or know of his presence, but he was there. And he along with himself added to our sex his fellow Asuras.

Realization of it so strongly revolted me that I then in the next series of my novel indicted Borka, and after Borka was given to me. He stood in front of my inner eye, and there I destroyed it, everything happened by itself, as if I was always doing it, as if it is for me a common phenomenon. For me it was a great shock that I was capable of such a thing. But that was the beginning of my Mahabharata in the modern Asuric community. I deleted their Asuric totalizer and removed everyone who was somehow involved in it, also removed everyone who was somehow involved in the fact that my eternal husband was made Asur and separated our eternal couple.

And also smashed their top, guide, their most important, who was responsible for all this. And to make my Mahabharata possible, that blessing of Lakshmi was needed. So that I could see what Shri Ram did to me, and, drawing Parallels with the Moscow events, I realized what Borka did to me. I couldn't help but illuminate it in my novel. And of course, I began to tell all this since the 182nd series, explaining events of that summer of 2016.

149. Mission is to help women-vaishnavy

When I reviewed the 182nd series, I noticed my words that the lips are two. This is when I told that the Asuras can without physical contact, at a distance, without personal presence to enter into objects and through them and even through your body to touch you. And even kiss, because lips something two. When I watched this series, I saw this moment and understood what I said there. Two lips, two women. The woman has lips both above and below. And by the word «lips» can be defined and a woman in an allegorical language. And when I said that there were two lips, I discovered that Shri Ram, along with me, had another lip, that is, another woman. I was very upset about that.

All this time, I thought we were husband and wife, because there was that heavenly wedding, but here, restoring the chronology of the events of that time, I realized that Shri Ram annulled it when he had that good woman, but I didn't know it. And if he at the same time was with someone from his non-contact whores, he automatically setted me on the same level with them. I felt bitter at the thought and wanted to get away from him. Then there was one interesting event. I was shown a book that I have already checked before in the PDF. I saw that the layout designer has not made the majority of edits, that is just ignored my comments. And I wrote about this to the customer and said that this layout designer already done such and that there is no guarantee that this will not happen again. I told her, maybe she would give this book to another layout designer, whom I have long been well known and in which I am sure? Like, I want everything to be beautiful and right now this is such a shame.

After reading my words to her, I saw in these words that I is not sure of Shri Ram, that he had said many times I'm the only woman he has, but then he again had other lips, that there is no guarantee that this will not happen again. And that somewhere on some plans there is some man in whom I am completely sure and who is always ready to be with me. And the name of the one in whom I am completely sure, said that he is a monogamous, faithful. I was surprised. How? Is there somewhere some man who's waiting for me, and loyal to me, and will be happy to be with me? How interesting!

I thought that Shri Ram himself had cancelled our heavenly wedding and now he's nobody to me. What kind of husband is he to me if he annulled everything? And so, I can be given another man, someone I know well, who is faithful, who will always be with me and will protect me. And who I know very well. This discovery has calmed me very much. Shri Ram me does not value, since he has two lips at the same time, I mean myself and another woman. When I thought about it, I went into the kitchen, and there I saw a pack of garbage bags, extra strong, with handles, called «Ромашка» in Russian («Chamomile»). I immediately remembered Shri Ram, because his name is Ram, Roma. «Ромашка» and Roma. The similar sound.

I thought that Shri Ram assures me that he is extra strong, that he will not fall into the arms of other women, that he has the brakes, because the sound of the words «руки» in Russian («hands», «handles») in Sanskrit is «stop, stand». Shri Ram, seeing that I learned from my words to the customer about some good man, whom I know well from my past lives, who is happy to be with me and will be faithful to me always, began to assure me that he can be trusted that he has the brakes, that he is extra strong, more fall to the other lips will not. But it sounded somehow unconvincing.

I thought Shri Ram was taking a big risk. Somewhere there is some good man to whom can give me, and Shri Ram will remain without me. Just then I told in the new series about the fact that when he had that summer 2016 year was another woman in the real, at the same time he had he had a lot of sexual encounters with women without physical body contact, energetically, through distance. He loved that woman, but that didn't stop him from to have sex with many non-contact whores, including me. I thought that option is not for me. I don't want to be in that cloaca. And since he annulled our heavenly wedding, I don't owe him anything. I don't have to grant his wishes.

Then we went to our pediatrician for help, and I drew attention to her rings. She had all her fingers humiliated by big gold rings. And even she had a few rings on one finger. I didn't pay attention to it before, and now it just caught my eye. I went to her and said: «How we are similar! You love so many rings. Look, I like a lot of rings too!» After, already at home I remembered my words I thought that it I was me through these words for the pediatrician told Shri Ram that he likes have a lot of women, and I love a lot of Asuras to beat.

And that same day, the king from «Kinder Surprise» fell on my table. He didn't fall for a long time and suddenly fell. Right between the two Holy water bubbles from the Ganges, next to the aroma lamp and the icon of Matrona of Moscow. I looked at him and I thought he was well-placed, all wrapped up in circular protection and thoughts no one was gonna kill him. But Shri Ram loves a lot of rings, and so do I, and that means that king will soon be expunged.

Shri Ram saw this case and began to ask me for forgiveness, through the song of Yaroslav Klimanov «Do not hold resentment at me»:

Do not hold resentment at me.
Do not let me go forever.
I'm just a man who has seen everything,
Who was tattered by time.
I'm just one of many,
Who lost in the dark.
I about mercy and about God
Heard a lot, but in a fuss.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

We may not meet tomorrow.
Tomorrow, maybe it's time.
I can't believe it,
That life is just a game.
We're in it fighting each other,
Not knowing how to find kinship,
We can't get out of the circle
And to be saved and to save others.
Sense of grievance not allow to loving each other.
As you look from the side —
Mercy here is not.
Here is a real nightmare of war.
Here and reason long forgotten,
Why the massacre started,
And you were killed many times
And me.
We all seem to know for sure,
That it is time to stop the game,
But we still continue
That which disgusts us all.
Maybe we want revenge?
Maybe we just don't know, how
Among the battle to ask for forgiveness
And to forgive in the middle of attacks.
We were difficult with each other,
But you I am asking again:
Please, if you can, forgive me,
Who not trained to forgive.
Do not hold resentment at me.
Do not let me go forever.
I'm just a man who has seen everything,
Who was tattered by time.

But I thought: you were asking me for forgiveness? Hm... do you like rings? I like rings too and this king fell for a reason. We have not been at you? Then we're coming to you! It's called «The loser wins». I didn't know he was canceled that wedding. He didn't give up the other women, therefore he put me on their level, put me in their category, and they were all his non-contact whores. That's very unfortunate. I lost. All of Asura laughing at me and my hopeless stupidity and naivety. They're all laughing their Asses off, I'm such a fool. No, I said, we'll start the Mahabharata again. And I looked this great king, who is protected and sure that he is safe.

When I restored the chronology of the events of the summer of 2016 and learned that, it turns out, then Shri Ram cancelled our heavenly wedding with him and sent me to free swimming, but then again somehow we became together, but he did not refuse sex with other women without physical body contact, through distance, I became very uncomfortable, and I wanted to completely leave him.

Through my words to one of my customers I was told that fate can give me a man who lives somewhere here and whom I know well from my past lives, who will be happy to be with me again and who will be always and always faithful in everything to me. Shri Ram saw this and began to ask for my forgiveness, saying that we are with him an eternal couple, so that I would show mercy and not send him away forever. He assured me that he has the brakes and he is extra strong. Although the facts said otherwise. And I told him then that since he loves so many «rings»-women, then I also love a lot of rings and I will take compensation.

Then on my Desk fell king from «Kinder Surprise», protected from all sides, I saw it and decided that we would take it. I wanted to determine a good future for him so that it wouldn't be all for nothing. And I decided that we would send that king, who is a great Asura of significance to all of them, to his future lives already as devotee of Krishna. He many, many lives will be in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada as great, respected devotee of Krishna. He will love Srila Prabhupada's books very much, he will explore them all, he will bow to the wisdom contained in Srila Prabhupada's books, and he will be very good to the matajas, the women-vaishnavi.

He will say: «Vaishnavi, how can I help you? I will do my best to make your life much easier, so that you can go to Krishna, thanks him, because Krishna has come into your life and you have come into the life of Krishna's devotees, because you have come to us. I'll do anything just to help you somehow. Even if you fell once, even if you just came, even if you were in Krishna consciousness and suddenly something happened to you and you moved away, you are still for me vaishnavi. How can I help you?»

He was many, many lives will be a big man in ISKCON, the big organizer of the programs of support, protection and assistance for women-vaishnavi, who goes spiritual way, a devotee of Krishna. He will have great connections with everyone who can help women. And with lawyers, and with different charitable funds, programs, with psychologists, with those who are on duty to protect other people, just with different good people. He will be very sociable, very influential and respected by all, and he will use all his connections to help women-vaishnavi, not for money or any privileges for him, benefit, but at the behest of the soul.

Everyone will be happy to help him in this. He will say: «This vaishnavi needs help like this, please, I beg you, help her». And everyone will say: «Anything for you». And they will help these vaishnavi not for money, but to please such a good, unselfish person, which will be this so far great Asur, the king. He, of course, will be a family man, very faithful. And he will not have any relations with anyone on the side, no lust on the side, no illicit sex.

It will be his mission to help women-vaishnavi. He will simply always want to help these women, ease their existence, and clear their way to Krishna, so that they can go to Krishna with gratitude. He many, many lives will help vaishnavi, Krishna and Srila Prabhupada and will satisfy them and will return to the spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga will enter into his full rights and will start putting pressure on everyone.

And I started expunge from list of Asuras this king, who will help the women-vaishnavi. At first I took from him all his protection. Figure of the king from «Kinder Surprise» fell between two bubbles of Holy water from the Ganges, next to the icon of Matrona and stone aroma lamp with a bunch of money in it. That is, he was protected from all sides. And so I turned on the Narasimha Maha Mantra, began to sing it and saw myself standing over this king a huge snake, somewhere on my inner screen. He stood beneath me, covered in something gold. I licked all him by my long snake tongue, licking off all his gold, and then climbed into it inside, curled up there and sat down there. He completely all his protection lost, just when I licked him with my snake tongue.

For some time, I am as snake sitting inside him, and then again began to chant the Narasimha Maha Mantra. At this time I began to shine a bright white light inside him, and then somehow opened his heart chakra. There opened a beautiful large light pink

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Lotus. I stood inside the Lotus and then began to sing Narasimha Maha Mantra, spreading out from his heart on his body this bright light and the words of the mantra. Then I jerked from his bottom of some kind of stopper and opened his lower chakra. There was a big, big Lotus. And from below I let Narasimha Maha Mantra through his whole body and released it from his Sahasrara-chakra, it is also opened and shone at the top, and I stood there, sang and danced, right in his Sahasrara-chakra. And I pumped into it a lot of knowledge, Srila Prabhupada's books.

And then I separated him from his body, and he was hanging out in the middle of his body. I entered into him and began to shine from within, illuminating his whole body and piercing my bright lights and sounds of the mantras in all directions all of his nature, all his. And then I stood at the bottom, on his lower Lotus and as if let under great pressure from the bottom up a jet of hot steam, and he, like this hanging somewhere in the center of his pipe ball flew up. I fully opened at him three chakras: at the very bottom Muladhara-chakra, the heart chakra Anahata and upper, Sahasrara. After that I gave him a break, and then I made him sing with me and Bhakti Tirtha Swami his farewell kirtan. This is a ready to fly away comrade began to shed tears and to appeal to Krishna. And then on the Narasimha Kavacham I connected him to a vortex, that waited him at the top, and it grabbed him and drew in. He went in his future lives to serve women, vaishnavi. It is good that there will be such a person in ISKCON, such a bhakta.

150. Liberation of Pandavas on Rama Navami

King, who went into his future lives to help vaishnavi, was struck out on 18 March 2018. On the same day I had a seemingly completely banal, but in fact very informative case. I ate buckwheat porridge. Before that, I washed the dishes and took all the rings off my hands. And when I washed the dishes and sat down to eat buckwheat, put on the ring and accidentally dropped one of the rings — which I have called Shri Ram, because I bought it when Shri Ram got the initiation from my Gurudeva, Indradyumna Swami on my inner screen and when I knew that his spiritual name Shri Ram.

And here I sit eating buckwheat, put on the ring, and this ring, which I call Shri Ram, accidentally falls from my hands and falls right into the buckwheat. And I thought, this Shri Ram is having some hot woman in there, because the word «гречка» in Russian sounds like «греть» — «to heat», «горячий» — «hot», from which I made the Association between buckwheat and hot woman. But recently he told me that he's extra strong, he's has brakes, so I forgave him and not let go forever. And suddenly again he there somewhere with someone, on this time with some buckwheat, hot woman. Probably, this buckwheat has good hot radiators, much better, than at me. Probably, buckwheat, hot woman, satisfies it much better and more interesting. I thought, well, if he has some buckwheat, he's good with this buckwheat tumbles, then I should expunge another king, because I said to the pediatrician: «We are so similar. You love a lot of rings, and I love a lot of rings too».

And if Shri Ram fell into a hot woman, then we will take the next satisfaction. Loser wins. Good principle. It suits us. I told about it in the 187th series of my novel, and in the next, 188th series I, continuing to restore the chronology of events of summer of 2016 when Shri Ram was with a good woman, reached the description of the time when Shri

Ram tried to deceive me and install on me their Asuric programs. Then he told me that time came to us to become together, but I won't stand his energy and therefore supposedly I have to pass their initiation.

In fact, to be with me in real life, he did not intend to. She was a very good woman. And he sent me into free-swimming and use me as their non-contact whores, I mean women with whom Asuras have sex across the distance. This is when they, the Asuras, somehow connect to a woman and are present in her hands and in objects, forcing her to satisfy them sexually in this way, without their personal presence. And why Shri Ram suddenly came up the idea to be in the real world with some of his non-contact whores when he's in the real world was with a good woman to whose he demonstrated that he is one, that he had nobody else present.

But me he then deceived, I him believed, foolish, naive girl. But Krishna saved me by telling Shri Ram that this should not be done, that it is punishable. When I told the karate coach that you cannot teach students such techniques that this offence. Then Shri Ram cancelled that alleged initiation with me. Talking about this, I remembered how I freed Pandavas in the previous Radhashtami, that is, those people of the divine nature that was deceived the Asuras was caught in their net, or after this asuric initiation, or installed on Pandavas asuric programs.

It occurred to me that I should free the Pandavas again. It's been a long time since I freed the Pandavas, probably, the Asuras lured new women deceived and have installed asuric programs. Then I, restoring the chronology of that time, told about the fact that Shri Ram began fatal bad luck, after he began to carry out active manipulations to squeeze me out of his space. Then all his assets began to quickly float away from his hands, nothing helped, and for two weeks, from August 19 to September 3, he lost almost everything, and to the last, the control shot was very little, when he decided to carry out manipulation, hoping I will help him. But for some reason I did not succumb to his manipulation, although before that I always yielded.

And he decided then to send me those women with whom he has sex through distance at the energy plane of existence. He thought that I would listen to their words and help him. But my reaction was not what he expected. I told him and all of them, that I don't respect them at all, that he is my or nobody's. Then he decided to make me a concession and made a big discount, then I helped him and he's out of the nosedive and his business began to improve. And that's when I about it told, my attention was stuck on my words that he's either my or nobody's.

And I thought those words had common sense. He's mine or nobody's. Before that, how many times he was mine and someone else's. Just recently, he had two lips, two women, and then he asked me to forgive him and assured that he is super-tough, with good brakes, but fell again in some hot woman. I thought that those women could not refuse him, because he is a great RA, Asur, under which there is a great Asuric organization. And they have women, with whom they amuse themselves having sex through a distance. And those women can't do anything against his impact on them. And I thought that I should bring these words of mine, that he or my, or nobody's, in execution. It is necessary to release the Pandavas, that is, all those women who are under their authority and are always ready to fulfill any of their whims, because they can't resist them because as a result of the asuric programs implemented in them.

I liked this idea; I thought I would do it. I kept waiting for some of their king to be given to me, but there were no signs about it, but thoughts came about the liberation of the Pandavas and about these women. And I decided that if I was not given the king as satisfaction for the fact that Shri Ram fell into another hot woman, then I will free all those women, which he and his Asuras uses. And then he will be mine or nobody's. That is, he will not have more such women, on whom he will throw his Asuric inner look, and she cannot do anything with herself and she'll do whatever Shri Ram wants and she cannot stop. If I will free them all, they will not obey him.

And then I thought that it is necessary that all the Asuras were angry at Shri Ram and that not I, but all of them told him that so he wouldn't fall into any other woman. I'm such a naive fool, I believe Shri Ram, but he's fooling me, and then the Asuras laugh at me. But to laugh is the one who laughs the last. And I decided to asuras to delegate the tracking of Shri Ram's twitching to the side. That not I watched him and they all laughed at me what I am a fool and as me don't respect, don't appreciate and deceive. That they watched Shri Ram that to them from his adventures was not to laughter because in that case I will free all such women from them at all, wholesale.

I decided that such a move would be correct, and decided to release all such women from all the Asuras on earth in the near future favorable for such an extensive action time. And that was Rama Navami, March 25, 2018. On that day I went to the Hare Krishna Sunday program and during the whole program during kirtan I released all such women who were in the subordination of the Asuras throughout the earth. Of course, to send them to their future lives was not the task. The task was to free the Pandavas, that is to free them from asuric influence. And I'm all kirtan tried to release them, in the end of program I freed their and offered all them on my hands to the deity of Ramacandra, which stood on the altar.

The Asuras were shocked. After all, all such women have gone from under their influence forever and now they had to subdue others. But there is no guarantee that I will not repeat such actions. There are no guarantees, especially because I brought to their consciousness that Shri Ram is my or nobody's. And if he will be with any other woman, I will remove the low-lying nature from this woman and from all women who are in submission at Asuras. I will free all such women, that not me, but Asuras watching Shri Ram and demanding from Shri Ram respect me and my wishes. Good move. Loser wins. He asked me not to let him go forever. I will never let go.

I benefit from being with him, because of his tricks I can destroy their kings and free women from their influence. And Krishna, if need be again whom to free or destroy, will tell me that Shri Ram makes. He's either mine or nobody's. After all, my novel is called: «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». I am a bird Talker. I'm telling only the truth. And since I speak only the truth, all my words come true and become true. And now the Asuras depends on my mood and Shri Ram's actions and will closely monitor Shri Ram, as their welfare depends on it. What can they be well-being if they do not have women from whom they can take this well-being? Therefore Shri Ram is mine. And it is beneficial to the Asuras and is vital for all of them.

151. Astonishing discoveries

The restoration of the chronology of events of summer 2016 gave me a lot of discoveries. And it was hard for me. Well, first of all, the big shock to me was that, turns out, when Shri Ram had a woman in real life that summer, he cancelled that our heavenly wedding and sent me on a free voyage. I didn't know that, though. I recorded

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

181th series of my novel and did not know that Shri Ram had abandoned me that summer, although he had come and insisted telling me «be my wife, became my wife». And even Nrisimhadev was in that illusion and united us with Shri Ram conjugal ties.

And all this time, I thought it was real, that everything is indestructible. But it turned out that Shri Ram so easily left me, seeing someone better. I was so ashamed... and in front of myself, and in front of the Asuras, who after all watched me, my novel, in my videos. They all saw that Shri Ram refused me, and I just did not know and ranted from the position that we are with him husband and wife. How did happen to Shri Ram be alive after such an insult to Nrisimhadev? How did I even know about all this?

I opened my diaries, e-mail correspondence, my accounts in social networks, began to revise everything from the perspective that everything I wrote there, not knowing anything about the true state of Affairs, was their reflection. For example, when he only connected to me and turned on his force methods, and I thought that my man came to me, who was looking for me and waiting for me and who is glad that he finally found me, and I thought that this is a karate coach, as all the interaction at first went through it. How wrong I was. Like a fool!

But on my wall in the social network at the time, just when those force methods are actively trying to bend me and put in front of all of them on his knees, I found a picture with the words «Sometimes to implement someone's fate of the Universe needed your mistakes». These words gave me at least some peace, and then I could not forgive myself that I was so wrong in the man and went to meet him, although he had very different intentions. These words kind of told me that my mistake was necessary so that he, Shri Ram, could realize his destiny. I went to him and exposed myself to his attack, he unleashed force methods on me to break me, and I, stupid, naive girl, thought he was glad that he found me.

At the same time there was a picture with the words «— You are a carrion. And you would get up». It's about me. They wanted to make me their common litter, their common slut. But just on the day I posted these pictures, I realized that I was being attack, and sent my angry message somewhere in the universe, demanding to protect me and punish the guilty. I got up, although they wanted to make me a carrion. And then a new record: «The man you love in me, of course, better than me: I'm not like that. But you love, and I will try to be better than myself». Shri Ram was not what he was once when we were a couple together. Now he is an Asura. And he was breaking me, trying to put me under his companions to make fun on next female. And I didn't love him, I loved who he was once. But how is it possible that someone you once loved and with whom you were once together, a happy couple, suddenly becomes one who mercilessly bends you under others?

And just before he began to squeeze me out of his space in August 2016, when I attracted the attention of Borka, the former leader of the Moscow Asuras, and their patriarch Bhishma, I posted another record.

God says: «Whoever you love more than Me, I will take from you».

And still: «Don't say: I will not live without it». — I'll make you live.

The time of year will change, the branches of the trees that once gave shade will dry up, patience will run out, the love that you thought was sincere will leave you, you will be confused.

Your friend will turn into an enemy, and the enemy will suddenly become a friend. — That is this strange world.

Everything you thought was impossible will come true.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

«I won't fall» — you say and fall. «Not wrong» — and wrong.
And the weirdest thing in the world is, «It's over» — you say, and you'll still live...

It was August 17, and August 19, he conducted the first manipulation of squeezing me out of his space, and I collapsed shelves in the closet, and his whole life began to crumble. He was completely confident. He said «I don't make a mistake», but he made a mistake every step of the way. And it was fatal bad luck. He said «I will not fall», but began to fall. And he was already waiting for bankruptcy, poverty and lack of housing.

Everything he thought was impossible began to happen in his life. I stopped succumb to his manipulations of my consciousness. He was confident in his skill of manipulating consciousness by a thousand percent, and everyone always succumbed to his manipulations, and I including, but suddenly his manipulation of my mind did not pass. And him seemed that he was beating into an empty wall and there is nothing there. And then I even burned inner eye of one of his subordinates. It didn't fit within what he knew. But it did.

And the most interesting thing is that when until the last, control shot, when he would have everything taken away, there was only half an hour, suddenly I succumbed to his manipulation and he came out of the nosedive and his Affairs began to improve. He thought it was the end, but you say — and you will still live... Everything happened as was written in one of my entries before that series of events. How did I even know about all this if I didn't see any of this? Comparing the events described in my diaries, in my social networks, in email correspondence, remembering sessions with pillow that became clear to me.

For example, session with pillow, in which I told him that he had other woman, and then said that he did not love me anymore, that I did not love him and never loved. And it was said by me in a commanding tone. Like I was giving him an order. How as if I was injecting him. From the memory of that session with pillow, I realized that he had a woman that summer and I turned his love for me off. And then there was another session, when I demanded from Krishna in a tough, categorical tone that Krishna protect him, Shri Ram. From this I understood why Shri Ram remained alive. Because I demanded it from Krishna. I was so ashamed when I said this to Krishna. As if I was ordering him. But it just so happens that it worked. Shri Ram is still alive.

And when Shri Ram was thinking about accepting my Gurudev's offer or not, I reposted a funny picture with the words «The most aggressive sign of the zodiac is Scorpio. You dare to hurt the Scorpion? You're finished. And if Cancer works out ways of beating in the mind, then Scorpio does everything in reality. Tough, vicious and fast. And you can believe he'll never regret what he did». Shri Ram hesitated... Hm... Then I spared him. I was wrong. But we needed the Mahabharata, and I spared Shri Ram. How many discoveries came when I put the puzzle pieces together!

But the most stunning discovery was waiting for me ahead. This is about Gurudev's lecture, where he held out on his palm a ring. Renders, through that lecture my Gurudev offered to Shri Ram me as wife. It was a discovery from discoveries. When I first found this lecture on the Internet I then saw in the lectures the answers to my questions that I wrote Gurudeva just before the succession of events. And it turned out that Gurudev offered Shri Ram me. And Shri Ram had to accept this offer, because after this letter, I watched a series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» in which Shiva told Chandra that his curse had not been lifted, that he had committed an unforgivable crime and that he should be punished. And that he should give Revati the status of his wife because he married her of his own free will. Such discovery...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

When I realized all this, I began to take an entirely different attitude to this. My Gurudev did this! And it can be said, even Gurudev's order. I always found it strange when my spiritual brothers and sisters found couples with the help of Gurudev, this sometimes happened, rarely, but it happened. And I couldn't even think that I would be in this situation myself. And so I think, how Shri Ram already after this, next summer, before my Mahabharata started, instead of himself was going slip me another man in real life, a good man. And Shri Ram said then: «At least you'll be rich, and I'll do anything to make you happy». How did he even do that after he accepted my Gurudev's offer? After all, he found a man clone and already wanted to do it. What is it?! What a disrespect Shri Ram showed to the will of my Gurudeva!

152. Payback for Shri Vishnupad. «Are you a ksatriya or a eunuch?»

My Gurudev showed him great honor, great trust, great respect for Shri Ram, and this Shri Ram threw that respect in my Gurudev's face, deciding instead to slip me another man, even if very good. But my Gurudev offered me not to another man, but to Shri Ram. The conclusion is that Shri Ram has inflicted a very serious insult, and someone has to answer for it. And I decided that I would send some big Asura or a big group of Asuras into their future lives to serve Krishna and Srila Prabhupada.

And Krishna immediately showed me in the screenshot from Mahabharata, that it is necessary to kill the three great Asuras. I also remembered that the Asuras put me on their Asuric totalizator and I eliminated many who wanted to earn and amuse one's ego on my breaking there, but those who on that Asuric totalizator crushed Shri Vishnupad, remained unaffected and flourished. And I said I'll cross them off too. Because those who spit at the sky only dirty their own face. The sky not as forgives, and punishes such.

I wanted so much to send them all to the hellish worlds, but I thought that it would be too easy and unproductive for them and they have to work hard for Srila Prabhupada. And I decided that I would strike out all those Asuras who either personally participated in the suppression of Shri Vishnupad, or put bets on him on their Asuric totalizator, or at least somehow were involved in that, but after I got ideas what to do with them all.

When I realized that my Gurudev, so it turns out, handed me to Shri Ram, then I looked very differently at the fact that Shri Ram is my husband. And this is exactly not a choice, but a fate. This is something over-worldly, above these, ordinary terrestrial categories. I felt sorry for Shri Ram. He wanted a completely different woman. The woman with whom he was in the summer of 2016, he was more suitable. And I'm lazy, I do not want to cook food, in sex also not super, and not really I want it. House cleaning is not for me. Washing dishes depresses me. Wear beautiful clothes, make an attractive appearance is just uninteresting, boring. And for what all this is necessary? I do not need makeup. For a skin of the face for a long time I do not look after. Manicure I do not, in my understanding manicure is insignificance. I do not paint hair, I am satisfied with my natural hair color, even if the gray hair becomes more and more. And why poison your body, your scalp with chemicals, poison? Ecology around and so bad. Why even more poison your body with hair dyes? I find that unwise.

Shri Ram's in trouble. I was not what he wanted. But Gurudev said he was offering me for him, and this is the will of my Gurudev. Is it? Well, it looks like it. Due to these circumstances, that my Gurudev made such a wedding proposal to Shri Ram and he accepted it, this case goes into another category and another, so to speak, jurisdiction, I decided. Now it's a matter of honor and my personal vendetta.

And I decided that I put all asuras a deadline — July 18, 2018. If by this date will not be given the respect of the goodwill of my Gurudeva, then I will destroy them all. As the inspector of Universe Patrol in this my novel. Shri Ram must do what he must do, and if he does not do it, all the Asuras will be responsible for it. They can run fast, but they can't hide. These are the discoveries and decisions that came to me as a result of my restoring the chronology of those events.

When the Asuras put Shri Vishnupad on their asuric totalizator, of course, they hardly suspected that Svetlana Vinodavani will come with the inspection from Universe Patrol, expose herself under them, and then destroy them all. They were stupid. That's strange, like Asuras are very clever, but somehow forgotten about the law of karma. Really did they not know that once the time comes to answer for their actions? Probably, they thought that it would be not very soon, not now. But so was their fate, that with the inspection from Universe Patrol came I and at this time. And I respect Shri Vishnupad very much. And I told those Asuras who were involved in the collapse of Shri Vishnupad, the pulling off him into the lower planes of consciousness, that now it was time to pay the bills.

When I was thinking what to do with them, on my Desk king from «Kinder Surprise» fell right next to the Murti of Srila Prabhupada, and it so happened, as if the king supports his right hand the right hand of Srila Prabhupada, and I said that these Asuras, who putted Harikesa Swami on their asuric totalizator, burned all of his centers, conducted a manipulation of his consciousness and broke him, in their future lives will be the right hand of Srila Prabhupada, they will be there to do everything to the mission of Srila Prabhupada to develop the way wanted Srila Prabhupada.

I decided that they would all be devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON, because they dared to throw their nets on Shri Vishnupad, they were very wrong. In the head of this king from «Kinder Surprise» lied a stone a cornelian. Since carnelian is a stone of happiness, I said that they would do everything to make the devotees of Krishna in ISKCON would be happy and happily would go to Krishna in the spiritual world.

And since there was a choice: you are a Kshatriya or a eunuch, it means that they will be Kshatriyas. The Kshatriyas are the leading role, they are managers, they are those who are at the helm, who are top managers and at the same time defenders. And from here I realized that some of them will be defenders, maybe military or those who know how to protect, and someone will be organizers, with organizational skills, in the leadership layers. Well, since they were so cunning that they were able to suppress Shri Vishnupad, then, of course, they have such abilities, and I decided that all their useful, good abilities they will take with them in their future lives, to help ISKCON.

I said that they would be monogamous and in every life they would have only one wife, they would be faithful to their wife and be an example to all. Of course, it is better to be a faithful husband than a eunuch. They will take care of all Krishna devotees, create an atmosphere of good attitude towards Krishna devotees in ISKCON and help them to be happy, both men and women. And after many lives in Krishna consciousness, they will go into the spiritual world forever. And there they will ask Krishna for us with Shri Ram, because they escaped hell and even returned to the spiritual world.

I wanted to torment them longer, to press their pain points, to drill in their head, I wanted to do a lot with them, but Shri Ram asked me to spare them and not to torment them, so I sent them very quickly, just at one day. I filled them with my vigorous snake venom, which burns all the Asuric, forced to sing kirtan, and then they flew away.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

153. Three genies, fulfilling spiritual desires. Payback for «from another phone»

After that, I decided to deal of those three big Asuras that were assigned to be responsible for Shri Ram, who wanted to slip me another man instead of himself, as he said then: «We will act the same pattern but from a different phone. At least you'll be rich, and I'll do anything to make you happy». And he was going to do it after my Gurudev offered me to him and he accepted me as his wife. I decided that such a disrespect of good will of my Gurudeva Asuras will pay.

And when I thought, whom they will in their future lives, the same king from «Kinder Surprise» on my Desk as something of itself stood right in front of the Genie with the lamp of Aladdin, and the Genie stood on the dais. I thought that this Genie is me. I am now the executor of the wishes of the people. At everyone who comes into contact with me in one way or another, some of their desires are fulfilled. And I do not even know what exactly these desires are and how they are fulfilled. But desires can be absolutely different. And not only those that are manifested in the consciousness, but also those are in the subconscious. And I am such a Genie who fulfills different desires, not only good and pleasant for those who want them.

I looked this king standing in front of the Genie, who is on the height, and I thought that I was shown that these three great Asuras, who are now in line for deletion, will be such Jinn, fulfilling desires, but they will not fulfill all desires. I am a generalist. I fulfill different desires, which are not always related to the spiritual sphere. For the most part material desires of people are fulfilled. But these three big Asuras will be highly specialized Jinnah — on the return of people to the spiritual world.

I said that they would be devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada, because I came to Shri Ram only because Srila Prabhupada came to the Earth, opened a window to the spiritual world and only therefore I was able to approach this Shri Ram, who is my eternal husband, but with whom we many, many lives were divided and did not approach each other, because it was forbidden. I am the Slayer of the asuras, he is Asur. It's fraught. And just because Srila Prabhupada came, I was able to approach him, because I decided to return to the spiritual world, and before that give my eternal husband a chance. Therefore I want to serve Srila Prabhupada somehow, and therefore these three great Asuras will be great devotees of Krishna and will fulfill the desires of both devotees of Krishna and ordinary people.

How will they fulfill desires? This is happening automatically, on the and there is this specification the Genie. And at the same time for the fulfillment of desires do not need to do anything. And do not even need to know what sort of desires. And the Jinn do not even always know that they fulfill desires. It just happens. Just because you've touched them somehow, your wishes come true. These three Asuras, of course, will see that those people with whom they come in contact, something in life happens that their desires come true. They will understand that they are the genies, fulfilling desires. But it happens by itself. And if the Genie wish something to someone, it will definitely come true. And they will fulfill those desires that will lead people to ISKCON, to the feet of Srila Prabhupada and return them to the spiritual world.

Those devotees of Lord Krishna, with which they will touch, will gain good luck, everything in their life will be good to go, very well be folded, and all this will guide them in the direction of returning to the spiritual world. And when these three while the Asuras will be in contact with ordinary people, who are far away from that spiritual, then will come true those their desires which will lead them to the fact that those people will become on the spiritual path will become devotees of Krishna in ISKCON and will return everything in the spiritual world. It's a very good specialization.

They'll be married, each one with their own wife. I conclude from that because that king from «Kinder Surprise» stood in the ladies bracelet, and in a single instance. And the bracelet is a woman, a wife. And since the king is inside the bracelet, then he is married. And he will not even look anywhere on the sides, because he is completely inside the bracelet, securely surrounded. Therefore, all future lives they will be well married. One wife for life, permanent, and no extramarital Affairs. And sex only in law marriage.

Then during the day, my headphones fell on this king from Kinder Surprise. From this I realized that they will have a lot of useful communication, because headphones are wires, communication, and they will be very popular in their field, with many people will maintain good relations, and will be respected. And since they are genies, fulfilling desires, then all these connections will also work for the return of people to the spiritual world. And since the headphones also are a music, they will be very musical, maybe they will somehow broadcast from the rostrum in some way, will be somehow connected with the music.

They'll have an unusual ability listening. They will hear in the usual speech embedded in her hidden meaning. They will understand this allegorical speech, which Asuras hear so well. People do not hear what they say, what is the meaning of their words. And these three Asuras will take with them into their future lives is the art of allegorical communication. And all this will work to turn people to the feet of Srila Prabhupada and bring them back to the spiritual world. Well, and I did.

154. Those who became cool sponsors because of non-Volts

After that, I began to restore the chronology of a succession of substitution on no-Volts for me by Shri Ram, that is, of other men, about which I would have thought that this is Shri Ram. I told how Shri Ram pressed my consciousness on Janmashtami to throw me into a no-Volt, that is, into an outsider for me man. The term «non-Volt» I took from the movie about the dog Volt, on which I was revealed to those events. There the girl penny lost her dog, Volt, and the writers of the film wanted instead of her beloved puppy Volt to slip the girl another dog, just looks similar to her Volt. She was able to recognize the deception, but she had to continue to star in the film with this no-Volt, pretending it was Volt. But she always waited for his Volt.

After I told how Shri Ram sent to me instead of himself one of his companions, it was in January 2017, when I with the help of Ho'oponopono cleaned that friend from all their vile Asuric programs and from the attitude to the woman as a female animal. Then I told how Shri Ram added in our sexual interaction through distance another man from his Asuric organization, in our intimate interaction. Then I told how Shri Ram found in real life well, a very good man, as if a clone of Shri Ram, to put it under me, pressing our consciousness. I clearly restored the chain of events of that time, and I felt so bitter at the realization that Shri Ram didn't respect me at all and considered such a fool, such a sucker, who does not deserve any respect for itself, which still does not matter with man to be, if only someone was.

I thought as my Gurudev did a great honor for Shri Ram offering for him me as wife, then I will not destroy Shri Ram, but some of the Asuras will pay for this audacity that he, my Volt, my dog, dared me instead of himself slip one no-Volts. I chose two categories of Asuras, who will answer for no-Volts. The first such category I identified those individuals who like to act on this scheme, which Shri Ram used with me when he slipped me no-Volts. As he said, when he found me some good man: «We will act the same pattern but from a different phone. At least you'll be rich, and I'll do anything to make you happy».

Asuras are masters to say: «Trust, trust, it's a Volt, there are no others», but in fact they substitute for themselves no-Volts. They like to carry out their manipulations, their influence through someone, treacherously deceiving the trust of their loved ones and those who are cordially connected with their. I decided that for the fact that Shri Ram had so many times upset me so much about these no-Volts, those Asuras will paid who «acted the same pattern but from a different phone». Shri Ram would have given me some excellent man instead of himself, who is just a little dog for him, for Shri Ram.

He was going to press that man's consciousness and mine, too, and connect us. And I would think that this is my Shri Ram, my Volt, and there would be «a little dog», another man, a man whose will Shri Ram crushed and who would think that he loves me. And through his male body, through his male parts, Shri Ram would have sex with me as a man with a woman, and would speak to me directly in the words of that man, and not in disguise, through all strangers, neighbors, passers-by, shop assistants, and so forth. Shri Ram would look at me through the eyes of that man, would hug me with his hands, but he wouldn't be there himself, though he'd be there, but the body would be of another man, some «little dog».

And I said that those Asuras who have used similar schemes in their practice will enter this category to be sent to their future lives. Who they will be, I was shown in the screenshot from «Mahabharata», which was depicted a large tray of jewelry. Seeing these riches, I immediately wrote the future for this category of Asuras. I said that they would be rich many, many lives and would be big, generous sponsors of ISKCON. I said that we will make them devotees of Krishna and they will be very successful in material terms and will consider it their duty, purpose of life and their mission to support ISKCON with money and all kinds of material goods and resources, all that is need in the material world.

They will be so influential, the rich personality, as Ford and his ilk, the big shots, chapters in our society that no one to influence them will not. But they will be devotees of Krishna, sincere, to the depth of the depths, and will perform this mission with great awe. They will all have some very successful eco-business, with godly nature, that is, in compliance with all four regulative principles given to us by Srila Prabhupada: no illicit sex, no intoxication, no meat-eating, no gambling.

Since they are men and will be rich, with business, they will all be married. No extramarital relationships and relationships they will not have, at all. They all will have in their own incarnation one wife — the only, beloved. She will be a devotee of Lord Krishna, in ISKCON. They will have a friendly, good, close-knit family, with a very warm, sincere relationship. They will set the example of the grihastha, the family in Krishna consciousness. Why would they all be married? Because a man who is single, but not a monk, who is not a completely renounced personality, is not a real man, is a man who violates his Dharma, his duty.

A man must be either a devotee of the Lord, brahmacarya or a sannyasi, or he must take responsibility for a woman, because women must be protected. And since they will be spinning in money circles, then, accordingly, they will not be a renounced personalities. And since they are men, they must be married to fulfill their Dharma. Because the Dharma of a man is to protect a woman. Therefore, they will all be very successfully married and many, many lives will be very rich. Of course, they will take good care of their family and will provide for all, they will have a good family, but everything that can, they will donate to ISKCON, to the mission of Srila Prabhupada, to the spiritual teachers of ISKCON, to «Hare Krishna Food for Life», to the temples of Krishna consciousness, to good preaching programs, to protect and successfully develop Krishna consciousness, ISKCON.

They will not spare any money to fulfill their purpose-to provide the material component of ISKCON. They will be on their shoulders to bear ISKCON financially. And I sent them to their future. In principle, I did all the same. I burned everything in them with fire, frozen them with cold, also watered them with liquid from my body, a kind of caustic substance, which they were filled with and which ate everything in them. I was standing over them and out of me, from the very intimate place in them erupted streams of my caustic hot internal juices burning jet. They immersed in it with their head, swallowed and choked with this, and I told them gloatingly: «You dreamed about it? Get it!» After I lit a fire in them and crossed them off the list of Asuras.

155. Those who went into the end of Kali-yuga because of the time bombs

After I defined the second category of Asuras, who will pay for what my Volt, my Shri Ram, is himself slipped to me no-Volts, other men. It occurred to me that some Asuras could embed programs into Shri Ram, imperceptibly for him and for everyone, so that then, after some time, in this life or in future lives, this programs worked and forced him to do something to eliminate me or us with Shri Ram.

I remembered one book that I read in my school years, which described how the KGB was cleaning up unwanted people. Allegedly they had such secret Department in which such psychics, hypnotists and other around-esoteric adjusted citizens worked. And if someone had to be eliminated, and then first studied his daily route, and then someone from that Department came to the completely extraneous person, looked him in the eye and gave him thought order that he did what they needed. For example, the, whom they wanted to remove, drives on his route on a street, and at the time this hypnotized man suddenly, quite unexpectedly, goes to the oncoming lane and crashed into a car head-on. The object is destroyed, the operation was clean, no one even thought about KGB, because it looked like an accident, and the one who went to the oncoming traffic, is just a stranger.

I thought the Asuras could do something like that. To embed in Shri Ram some clever programs that would sit quietly in him. Shri Ram would not even feel them. And those programs would have worked in the future, when we were together, so that Shri Ram would neglect his position as my husband, my protector, abused his powers and crossed his borders, which would lead to fatal consequences, to the destruction of me or us with him. And I thought that the Asuras had definitely put something like this on Shri Ram, or on someone in our environment, or on someone who could do it, and it might even work not in this life of ours, but sometime in future lives, when it would all be long behind.

And I said now we will focus on this category of Asuras, who was so predictable and calculable, that did absolutely natural and logical step. They put the program on a thin body, she's sitting there and sleeping, and when necessary, she woke up and gives a mental order: «and now on the oncoming, collision, in a straight line, at full speed». And all, head-on collision, no one is to blame. It happened in future lives, when those who put this programs, was not there, they had already gone to other worlds, and they are supposedly very innocent. And I said that in the second category that I'm sending now, there will be those Asuras that are using their powers in order to my Shri Ram (or someone) has, at some point, acted not as my protector and my husband, but as puppet and did me harm.

And I said that the consequences for these sly Asuras would be disastrous. These Asuras thought that no one could see or know what they had done or intended to do, but Krishna is God, He is in His aspect of Paramatma, the Supersoul, is in everyone's heart and knows everything about everyone. They thought that the programs was implemented completely unnoticed and would work in the far future, when they run away somewhere in other worlds, but I told them: «You can run, but you can not hide».

I told them it would be my personal vendetta and I would catch them all, wherever they hid, on which worlds. Because I was in different worlds. I am such a cool weapon, sword Chandrahas, which no one can withstand. And the task for which this weapon is used is undoubtedly always fully fulfilled. Wherever they hide, the task of this weapon will be fulfilled. I told them that I would sing Narasimha Kavacham and ask Nrisimhadeva to protect me, Shri Ram and my environment, and Nrisimhadev would tear everyone who tried to do this to us into small pieces. The future for their I have defined a very difficult and dangerous. For their great cunning.

I remembered that Srila Prabhupada said that the devotees of Krishna have to leave this material world and return to the spiritual world to the time when the Kali Yuga will come into its full rights and begin your flywheel to spin at full strength. But Srila Prabhupada also said that some devotees would stay and live in those dark times when the Kali Yuga would subdue everyone and when there would be nothing favorable at all. And I decided that if there were any devotees of the Lord at the end of Kali Yuga, then this category of Asuras, who dared to invent and put or scheme such a time bomb, which would work after and cause any harm to us with Shri Ram, would be suitable for this.

They will be devotees of Krishna for many, many lives, but they will not go into the spiritual world with the bulk of Krishna's devotees. They will live at the end of Kali Yuga. When all will eat each other, when will cannibalism when no plants, no fruits, no cereals will not. When the earth will reject humanity, sending him different catastrophes and cataclysms. When the land will lose its fertility and neither flowers nor fruits grow on it. When food becomes so few, that people will become like vultures maiming each other for a piece of rotten meat. When cows will low growth and will give little milk, and that milk which they will give would be of low quality as their will begin they will feed not grass, but fecal matter.

Then Asuras and others like them will control even the minds of all people living there, and if anyone will have a sublime thought, all these thoughts Asuras and others like them mercilessly will to ripping out of people`s minds, and in their place will introduce low-lying installation. Then the body will be considered the true I, the satisfaction of the passions of the body will be the goal of life. Then people will stop caring about someone other than their body and their needs. Then they will do not stop before the murder of the ascetics and the righteous. Then people will live little and will have many diseases. As the Golden Age within of Kali Yuga comes to a close, the lower modes of material nature will become so strong that people will lose interest in spiritual topics. It is said that everyone will become godless. The devotees, bhaktas, and sages that are left on the planet by this time will be so unique in character, and peculiar compared with the rest of society, that they will be ridiculed and hunted down in the cities for sport like animals. Thus, they will flee the cities to live underground in caves or high up in the mountains, or simply disengage from the earthly plane of existence. In this way, they will disappear from the face of the earth. That is the time when the dark influence of the age of Kali Yuga will become so dominant that its full influence will manifest without hindrance.

And these Asuras, who dared to put or planned to put such programs, bombs of slow action, will live there and will be there devotees of Krishna when all normal bhaktas already return to the spiritual world. I thought that most likely at the end of Kali Yuga as devotees of Krishna would be those who deserved it. And I decided that these Asuras definitely deserved it. For their machinations, for their programs that they intended for us with Shri Ram, so that when we are together with him, instead of protecting me, he will serve as an instrument of their will.

I have decided that they will be devotees of Krishna for many, many lives, but they will be as small invisible screws, uneducated, with low intelligence, will wash dishes, floors, to clean vegetables, boilers, will perform the dirtiest work, unskilled labor, and when all the devotees will leave here, they will remain, live at the end of Kali Yuga. In the most terrible times. What they will eat there, it is not clear, as at that time the environment will not be at all, the earth will not give birth to anything. Of course, it is a pity for them that they will live there and be devotees of Krishna, but they were warned that the consequences would be disastrous, but they did not understand.

When I was telling this, there was a screenshot where Arjuna asks for something Draupadi, and I said that it is Shri Ram asking for some kind of a favor for them. But I told him that they did not spare him, put or planned to put some programs who were supposed to separate our pair and destroy us. Looking at that screenshot, I thought that Shri Ram was asking me to include in this category those who could put these programs, but not living here on earth right now. After all, this could be done by someone from other worlds, who is not embodied here and who, being somewhere in other worlds, sent such a program to Shri Ram or someone from our environment. And then came the screenshot with the words «And even in the Palace of Gandhar rat will not hide from us».

From this I realized that I'm right. Someone from the Gandhara Palace, that is, from some other worlds, could do it, to introduce such programs, time bombs. And I decided that I include in this category all those who somehow was or will be involved in this, even if they live in other worlds apart, and for me after showed that I'll reach them to all, even being here on our earth. And since Shri Ram asked for some kind of indulgence for this category, I decided to do it.

I said that that they should remove these programs as soon as possible. They have introduced the time bombs that to harm us with Shri Ram, and we will still punish them, but if they remove those bombs themselves, then at the end of Kali Yuga they will be incredibly lucky. And they will not hounded by animals in the market places. Somehow they will be lucky. Those degenerates who will live at that time and catch the devotees of the Lord, will not notice their. They will somehow evade them and will live in peace. They will still be loyal to the Lord until the end of this Kali Yuga, but they will be very lucky. They will not fall into the hands of degenerates, nobody will kill there, and they will have something to eat, that devotees are offering for Krishna.

It was brought to my mind that there is someone who is from the Asuric worlds, from where the Asuras came to our land, intending to subjugate people and enjoy their power. And that someone Asuras wanted to implement their programs in us with Shri Ram. These filthy programs are as time bomb, so to speak, with clockwork, defined for some future. And in this our life with him, or in our future lives, when we will be together, these programs will turn on and destroy us with Shri Ram.

156. «Srila Prabhupada, you need these powers more»

And on April 11, 2018, on Wednesday, I started them expunge from the list of Asuras. It was Ekadashi. I was washing dishes and I remembered them. About those who, sitting in some other worlds, did this to us with Shri Ram. I by my inner gaze passed the channel that goes to the world where they live. And it was an Asuric world where only Asuras live. It's not like we're here, the insignificant people who want to enjoy watching TV and saying: «Every woman is born to be happy, and I am Worth It». And so women here are not focused on their man, the main thing for them is their happiness, because they worthy it. The men here are the same. They don't say, «I'm a defender, I have to have my woman, and she's somewhere, and I have to protect her, I have to. It's my responsibility». They say: «These hens are stupid, I will trample them all, because I am Worth It too. They are deserve, and I why not?» And each other with dignity trample.

But I went to cross out the Asuras in those far Asuric worlds, not here. I thought that there is somewhere far away, in other worlds, not on Earth those who are you trying such a abomination us with Shri Ram do, put bomb slow action. I imagined that my inner gaze passes through some space and gets into the world where the Asuras live. I groped there with my radar those who are there, sitting in those Asuric worlds, on us with Shri Ram set out to put this bomb of slow action, which in the future had to do dirty work and kill us, but that they remain unnoticed. I tuned on my mind to them, saw them and began to burn them.

First I burned them by Nrisimha mantra «ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham», then by Narasimha Kavacham and I good burned them all. And in the last verse of the Narasimha Kavacham «iti shri-brahmanda-purane prahladoktam shri-narasimha-kavacam sampurnam» I quickly ripped them from their bodies and sent into the funnel at the top. Of course, all the Asuric we burned at them completely. I was in great anger and showed my humility to the fullest, raising my anger to the maximum and bringing it down on all of them. And I showed so much of my humility and I thrown on them all my indignation with such with all my power, and they were all crushed into a disk and everything that they had there, instantly burned, and I expunged them.

After that, I thought I said I'd scoop them all up with a big scoop. I thought that there in this world is full of Asuras and they actually suffer because they think that it is necessary to squeeze out of this material world more pleasures, more living beings to bend, use, but it after all does not bring them happiness, because for this they will receive karmic reactions, then through some time to hell will get, will suffer there much. But why, if you can take advantage of the grace that Srila Prabhupada has brought us. And I included there a farewell kirtan Bhakti Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham» and I I started singing it there, in that asuric world.

I have included this kirtan and imagined that all the devotees of Krishna together with Bhakti Tirtha Swami, who left his body long ago and there, in those spheres coordinates a lot, sing this kirtan for all those Asuras who sit in those Asuric worlds. We were singing our kirtan harder and harder, and the Asuras couldn't get away from it, because this kirtan was rattling in their mind, in their heart, in their body, in every molecule. I did so that these words of mantra Hare Krishna resonated directly with every cell of them, in every consciousness, in everyone. I saw that there many Asuras began to cry, to purify, because Hare Krishna is the name of God. Everything Asuric in them has been reprogrammed, and now they will go to the service of Krishna. And then I thought they had some big shots.

I tuned myself to the big shot, head they had there, in that Asuric world, to the biggest Asura, who are the most important in those Asuric worlds, and included kirtan performed by Shri Prahlada. And we with devotees sang this kirtan inside the most important biggest Asura in the asuric world. We reprogrammed him somehow, too. Then I tuned in to their leadership, which is there guided them, and I thought that they do not need their strength. I thought that those who need strength are Srila Prabhupada and Srila Prabhupada personally asks me to help him. He says: «Please help me, this is my request». If Srila Prabhupada asks, it must be done. Srila Prabhupada said that he would go to the hellish worlds to preach Krishna consciousness there. And he's asking for help.

I thought that these Asuras in these Asuric worlds do not need their forces. Why it them need? To do the abominations? But Srila Prabhupada is very much in need of strength to preach Krishna consciousness in the hellish worlds. And I pulled all that they had out of those Asuras with all my strength and sent it to Srila Prabhupada. And I saw how all the forces of those big, very big and small Asuras come out and go to Srila Prabhupada in a powerful stream. I said: «Srila Prabhupada, you need these powers more. Take, let them help you where you are now, to preach Krishna consciousness». I pulled a lot out of them.

And then I thought that there they have some great teacher of their, who all taught them to do these abominations and advised a time bomb on us with Shri Ram to put. And I thought: «Now we'll take you». I tuned in for their big asuric teacher and saw it on my screen and started to sing inside him the mantra Hare Krishna. I've illuminated all his chakras. I stood up in his heart's chakra, and there began to sing, and after I rekindle all of his chakras and the top. And he sang with me. In the end he even started crying. He cried....

Their great teacher in that asuric world cried. He was crying tears of happiness when he came into contact with the Holy name of Krishna, because I made him sing mantra Hare Krishna, made his whole body resonate with this singing, with this Holy name of Krishna. And the Holy name of Krishna can purify everything, even such a great guru of Asuras. We have done the guru fully. There at that guru of Asuras we had a stream of tears. And universal flood is nothing in comparison with his tears of love. And all his body I lit, and it shone from the inside. And then I went about my business and I thought that if anyone else would do something like that time bomb or something that could do any harm to me and my Shri Ram, I would take everything they had out of them and send it to Srila Prabhupada, and I would say: «Srila Prabhupada, it's more important to You, all these forces that they have. They do not need them, because they do very bad things due to these forces, but this force will be useful to you». And whatever they have there, I will redirect for Srila Prabhupada so that Srila Prabhupada can serve Krishna in full.

I made a lot of noise in some far-away Asuric world, but Krishna showed me that there were still three Asuras left, who threw programs, time mines, on us with Shri Ram, and who live here on Earth. And when I have gathered a big mountain of dirty dishes and I was very angry because of this, I turned on the Nrisimha mantra «ugram viram maha-vishnum jvalantam sarvato mukham nrisimham bhishanam bhadram mrityur mrityum namamy aham» and saw those three asuras on my inner screen. I went inside them during the mantra and somehow I suddenly became a big ant with hungry huge jaws. I got into their heads, at the same time in each of them and how let's eat... I had such an appetite that I was there in their head ate, ate, ate and ate everything there, did not leave anything. Inside remained only an empty black space and a skull outside. I looked at this situation, I look: cleanliness, order...

I went down, and when I, as a huge hungry ant, crawled down there, then their jaws there all on the road ate... I was a huge voracious ant, and when I gnawed at them all inside and above, and below, I suddenly found myself in their male organ, right inside it, and there, too, began to gnaw out like a big, big ant with huge jaws, hungry, hungry, and there was so delicious... and I gnawed everything inside, and in penis, and in the testicles. It was clean and sterile everywhere, and all this empty space became like a big hollow cave, on the wall that was engraved a huge Nrisimhadev, and I sang this Nrisimha mantra to that Nrisimhadev that was inside of them.

After that I turned on kirtan Hare Krishna in the performance of Sri Prahlada. There were not many dirty dishes left, and I decided that I had to quickly program them to become devotees of Krishna, because I said that they would be devotees of Krishna in ISKCON for many, many lives and remain on the Earth until the end of this Kali Yuga, in the most terrible times. I decided to load them with kirtan, turned on kirtan and made them sing with me. At first they just sang, and then they started crying and melting.

On top of their empty husks began to melt like honey honeycombs, which when heated begin to drain down. And so these three fellows begin to drain like this, and suddenly one of them could not stand the acuity of bliss, fell to the ground and began to convulse. I was scared, I thought that have him now all there breaks down, and then I thought, if this is a subtle, astral body, then nothing will happen to them, and if it is a physical body, it is no longer useful for them, because they are already going to the next life. I calmed down on this thought, I look, he is beating there, beating, I think: nonsense, the main thing-that they absorbed in themselves sounds mantra Hare Krishna.

When I sang like this, a verse from Shri Chaitanya Mahaprabhu «Shikshashtaka» sounded on top of kirtan: «O my Lord, Your holy name alone is able to give a blessing to all living beings, and thus You have hundreds and millions of names like Krishna and Govinda. In these transcendental names You have invested all Your transcendental energies, and there is no strict rules repetition of these names».

I thought this poem came to them for a reason. After all, they will live at the end of Kali Yuga, when is not up to some of the rules? Maybe they'll eat meat there just to survive, maybe they'll be caught and they'll have to conspire. In those days, everyone will be degenerates and there will be total control. Even the minds of everyone will be controlled, and if have someone will emerge a spark of the divine in his mind, they will shake out the minds, but they will somehow exist there, and as devotees of Krishna. And so there are no rules, because their only protector and Savior will be the Holy name.

Then I turned on the Narasimha Kavacham, they separated from their bodies and hung in the middle of the body, waiting to fly into the funnel, which was already at the top. But I said: «No, you will endure, I want to this Narasimha Kavacham well at you burned, to burned out all fully». And when already this Kavacha came to an end, I felt very sorry for them because they were going to go, they separated from their bodies long ago. And I thought, that I don't care if they took or not programs off from us, because we'll get rid of them anyway, but I'm so sorry for these fellows, because they'll live at the end of Kali Yuga, they will be caught there, mock them in the squares, they'll hide there, and they'll be loyal to the Lord. I felt sorry for them.

I went up somewhere, stood up above them as a goddess of prosperity, raised my hand over them in a blessing gesture, and said to them: «I wish you good luck. Let you there bad luck, let you there no one do anything. I don't care what you did there, but I'm sorry for you. Let you there will be incredibly lucky». And when I heard the last verse of Narasimha Kavacham «sampoornam sampoornam», a whirlwind started, and they flew away. Then I turned on the napalm to burn what was left of them, I see: from this napalm someone goes big figure. I thought: «Did someone remained here?» I think: no, they are in this form hung before shipping, as the glow balls.

No, I think it's my Shri Ram. He came to me to calm me down, because they will be at the end of Kali Yuga and I feel sorry for them. But what to do, such is their fate, you had to think about what you could do and what you couldn't do. Have made that cannot be — get what you deserve. Shri Ram came out of this Napalm and came to me, but I distant from him. I think: «I am not up to you, Shri Ram. Something I'm so sad»... And then I thought, I'll cry on his chest. I pictured him there, approached him and clung to his chest and began to weep. I cried, why I'm like this, that I have to abomination clean up, and even in such worlds to send them. Someone I'm sending in spiritual the world through Krishna's service here, someone in hellish worlds, and someone in the end of Kali Yuga. I feel so sorry for them...

I cried on his chest, and then I caught myself thinking that Narasimha Kavacham continues to sound. Usually right after «sampoornam sampoornam» when they all fly away, I immediately turn off Narasimha Kavacham and I listen to some other music. Usually include, «If it were not for you», a pleasant song, and then something else. It's so comforting. But this time I'm crying on of Shri Ram`s chest and thinking: something I did not turn off the Narasimha Kavacham, she plays and plays on auto-repeat, and I cry on his chest not under the that song, as usual, and under the Narasimha Kavacham.

I have my mind began to calculate this situation. I think: why didn't I turn it off, although it's over and you can relax? I thought that there was something else — you need to remove those programs — bombs. And then I sent Narasimha Kavacham on Shri Ram and these programs as by magnet became to sucked out of him and I drew them into me. A lot of things flew out of him and flew into me. And then I remembered Nrisimhadev. I introduced the Deity of Nrisimhadev, and I stood in front of him with Shri Ram, and I asked Nrisimhadev to take it all in. He raised his left hand and drew everything from me into his raised palm. And that was the end of it.

157. Scanner who blesses the Universe

When I was engaged in the elimination of those who passed on the case with mines of slow action, on my table again fell king from Kinder Surprise, and I realized that now we have big Asur. I was wondering who is he and what future I will determine for him. I looked at this king lying on my table and realized that he came to me and asked for his release from his Asuric existence and return to the spiritual world. Why? He fell nose right into the bottle of Arabic perfume «Sandalwood». First, perfume Arab, «а-раб-аткие» in Russian, that is anti-Slave in English, as a means contrasting opposite. The opposite of what? Of Slave. That is, he asked for liberation from the bondage of material life, including the bondage of the Asuric nature.

Why he came on their own initiative? Because perfume were called «АТандал» in Russian («Sandalwood»). «АТан-дал» — «атам-дал». «АТан» in Russian is a sun in English. The God of Sun in Egypt was RA. At Asuras RA is a great Asura who has great skills and abilities and able to control the whole organization of the Asuras. And «атам-дал» = «атам-дал» — «gave on their own initiative» in English, that is come on their own initiative. And he fell face-first into a woman's bracelet, as if to ask a mercy, a grace. That is he did not just come, but with a request to me, because I am a woman. Looking for one bottle of perfume, I learned so much about this Asura. Someone from Asuras came to me again!

The Shepherd, I do not love you, I remember, also himself came, and I often remember him when material desires begin to overcome me. At that time I helped him, and now he's helping me. If any material desire or regret starting to depress me, I remember him that he saw a lot of things on his, so to speak, century, when he did not have his body and he shepherd the minds of other people. He shepherd the minds of many people, have seen all, and he came to me and requested release. And he chose to serve Krishna. I think of the Shepherd, and I think that if he, who has seen all, boldly went to that deletion and consciously decided to serve Srila Prabhupada for many lives, then there is nothing here in the material world worth holding on to, and there is actually salvation for us in Srila Prabhupada's gift. And it's sobering me.

That Shepherd support me. I'm not as smart as him. And not so determined. I am a little mouse who continues to want happiness and love in this world and waiting for some Shri Ram, and the Shepherd was very, very smart, but he firmly, irrevocably, manly chose for himself the path of service to Krishna, the execution of the order of Srila Prabhupada, and he inspires me to continue. How amazing it is! I feel his help, understanding, empathy and participation. And now a new great Asura, who had come himself and humbly asks a mercy. I don't I consider this my merit, because I just put them on those rails, but the themselves rails are given not by me, I'm just a switchman turning the rail switches, that's all. A small screw in a large infrastructure, which is obliged to do its job.

And here I am, looking for some clues, looked more closely at this toy king, lying face directly on the bracelet in front of the perfume with sandalwood, and saw that next to him is a spoon-scooper with dollars. And from this I decided that he would have a lot of money and he would direct it in his next lives to serve Krishna. I thought that it was good that he would sponsor Krishna consciousness, but something else needs to be thought up to serve Krishna so that he really would return to the spiritual world long before this Kali Yuga begins to run at full speed.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And when I wrote down the 210th series and remembered this king, I first said that I have no thoughts about him, and then I looked at how he fell, and saw what with him lying next to a figurine of a cat, symbolizing a boy, a son, whom we conceived with Shri Ram and who was born at some other parents who think that this is their son. Yes, of course, as the physical shell he is their son, but in fact he is our son with Shri Ram, as this child was conceived by me and Shri Ram energetically and his real parents this is Shri Ram and I, that is Asur and the Slayer of the asuras. About this boy I have already told that he is a great manipulator of consciousness, though most recently born.

And, looking at this toy king, I said that the cat lies next to this king is not just so. Apparently, this great Asur, who waiting for what future I will determine to him, is a great master of manipulation of consciousness and it is necessary that he has moved his ability to influence other people into their future lives, so that all who with him somehow come into contact, did what he wants. I decided that that he would be a great devotee of Krishna, and this is the main. I decided that he will be very rich and will interact a lot with rich people around the world, and as a result of communication with him they will donate large amounts of money and help in every way ISKCON and for devotees of Krishna.

And I saw this picture: this king travels around the world, in the money business, where the big money is spinning, and there he constantly held important meetings with different important persons with money, with resource personalities. They talk about their money business, and this king of ours looked at his interlocutor, scanned him somehow and thought, «He can donate some amount of money to this kind of Krishna consciousness program». He just thought about it, and his vis-a-vis had a desire to do it. He thinks these thoughts are his. In fact, this is what our king thinks, whom I will soon send into his future lives. Because this king was the great Asura. Because he was a great manipulator of consciousness, when he was an Asur, and he will also be influential after that, when he goes into his future lives as a devotee of Krishna. He will influence everyone in such a way that everyone will help ISKCON, Krishna consciousness.

He just thought: «500 thousand dollars this man can easily transfer on the «Hare Krishna Food for Life», on such and such a spiritual master, for such a temple, on a certain program on a certain festival, can transfer, will not become poorer. Well, if he makes a donation». And that fellow is already setting and already thinking: «I think that think I». And in his head already swarming such thoughts about our king: «Something so good man... I want to help them. Something suddenly wanted to help them. 500 thousand dollars I had lying there. Of course, I thought to direct them on sensual pleasures, but I here talked to this respected man, something I looked at these 500 thousand dollars, I think: Yes why they to me on this sensual satisfaction? Let them serve Krishna's devotees like him». Our king, of course, in the conversation will insert the phrase where to transfer money.

It will be around the world to travel, to interact and have a good relationship with people all over the world. He will constantly be in those business circles where there is a lot of money, and he will be there with them on an equal footing, to have good business there. He will be a very big, respected person, he will have many connections around the world, he will be very active, he will have a lot of money, and he will sponsor Krishna consciousness. But the most important thing is that he will influence others to they become such sponsors and help in all for ISKCON, Srila Prabhupada's mission. He will be very influential, will influence everyone and will influence in this way. Like the manipulation of consciousness, but it is not a manipulation of consciousness, because it will be a little different.

He'll just look: «Aha, this fellow can be easily withdraw from his sensual pleasures a big a good amount and send it for ISKCON, Srila Prabhupada's preaching mission or something to help them». Help may not necessarily be money, it is material resources, it is in real categories, sometimes help connections, protection, and help is different. And On another occasion he will look at next interlocutor with whom he has a conversation on his money Affairs, and immediately scan him, not with Asuric abilities, he will not have them, but he will have the ability. He will look at the next interlocutor, with whom he will discuss money matters, as he trying to trick him, pretends that he is a beggar, or he has something wrong, or something else. And our king immediately scan him and in conversation casually mention or «Hare Krishna Food for Life», or some other program of Krishna consciousness.

He will have such an art of interaction, so as do not make a negative impression, do not hurt your interlocutor, not to hurt of his feelings, not to cause him the desire to object, to say something against, so that there is no reason for the dispute and at the same time to cause him sympathy and affection. Our king will think: «It would be good for this fellow to help ISKCON's program like this. Instead of these sensual pleasures, let him spend this million dollars on the development of Krishna consciousness», and say something about it in a word. Interlocutor trying to trick our king, takes advantage of him, and our king is smart and will not succumb to any external influence, any gimmicks and tricks. And here the conversation ended, and this Interlocutor thinking: «What an honorable man, as I was with him it was nice to talk to. I after conversation with him to live wanted! I'm really perked. And I want to help people like him. What was he saying? In „Hare Krishna Food for Life“ need to transfer million bucks? Yes right now will make!» Said and done — and a million dollar he transferred.

Then our king went with another some important person to communicate on business relations, on monetary Affairs, talks to him. Such a good conversation, constructive, no sharp corners, no clues to the dispute, somehow so he quickly scanned and saw: «Yeah, this one wants now so much money or such resources to use for sensual pleasures of sinful, which then he will be dragged to hell and he will remain in this Kali Yuga until its very end, will be a degenerate. No, no, no, it's better that he properly used the money and material resources... to what?.. In this festival the Hare Krishna, ISKCON program, to maintain guru». And he looks at him, scanned where he could direct, and during conversation in passing said it and thought: «What are you doing here in the material world? You better do the good thing. You're spiritual soul. Save yourself». And it's done.

And so it will be with everyone, all over the world, because there was a screenshot, in which Krishna said: «I bless all creation». That is, he will be so throughout our Land. Of course, he will be married, as he will be at the money and it is necessary that he performed his Dharma. He will have a good family, and it will protect him from the vicissitudes of this world. He will have a family of devotees of Krishna so that he can homes be himself, breathe freely and fill yourself goodness. His wife will be very good, will protect him from the influence of the material world, from those who will try to deceive him, mislead him and use him for their own selfish interests, who will think that right now it will work. No, his opponents will not succeed.

This one trying to cheat him, lies, trying to use him, and he looks at it and just thinks in his mind: «Well, what are you doing with your life? You are now in a sauna will go with bitches, and then you will end up in hellish worlds after some time. You know what?

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

How much wealth do you have?» He immediately scanned it and sees that he can help there by plane, and millions there, and these connections there. And thinks: «Help for Krishna consciousness, help. You have a lot of money, you spend it on saunas, not at all that it is necessary. How much you sin, fool. Better go to Krishna into the spiritual world. Soon Kali Yuga will enter her full rights. Go quickly free yourself from all your sinful reactions. You better use all your wealth and resources to help Hare Krishna, for ISKCON, Srila Prabhupada's preaching mission. Such guru should be helped. Such Krishna's devotees should be helped. They live in their run-down town, in some village, they do not have money to do a lot of good prasada, to invite spiritual teachers, to implement Hare Krishna's programs. Well, they do not have money there, they are all some poor there. Give them a million dollars, do a good deed. There's 500 thousand, there's 700 thousand. Let everyone be happy. And you can free yourself. This will help you a lot. Agyata-sukriti, unknowingly devotional service, holiness. This piety will help you so much in your next life you will be able to accept this Krishna consciousness and return to the spiritual world. Rather than remain in this Kali Yuga, go into the spiritual world».

He'll be such an interesting man for many lives. Krishna will look at him, say: «What an interesting one. Very, very interesting fellow. Well, that's My Svetlana Vinodavani did so. She is a master. Okay, well, I'll take him. But it's a pity... Such a good friend is a pity to take away from the material world, he is very much valuable there. But now everything is over, Kali Yuga will soon begin to will begin to press all in full force, and it is necessary to take him. I feel sorry for him. He's very helpful in the material world for Hare Krishna, but now all the devotees depart from the Ground and walks to Me to spiritual world, and he too will go». And somehow by chance all will coincide.

Whether great kirtan will be or the great Vaishnava festival in Vrindavana, or in Mayapur, or somewhere else in a spiritual place, and he will be there, and there will be many, many devotees of Krishna. There will be a deafening kirtan. Everyone will chant the Hare Krishna. And he will have a heart attack, and at that moment he will leave the body, thinking about Krishna and looking at the deities, and all the devotees will pray for him. And he will return to Krishna, and his dream will come true. Stop sitting on the lap of the witch Maya in this material world. It's time to go into the spiritual world. And Krishna will arrange for him to go into the spiritual world.

But before that, he's many, many lives will be very interesting, influential on other people. He'll be in those circles where there's a lot of money, and he'll be there on an equal footing. He'll just think and they'll do it. They will say: «I never believed these Hare Krishna. And now I don't believe them. But I believe this man. Oddly enough, he, too, like there's something about them says and they said in passing about program „ Hare Krishna Food for Life“. He was talking about some Krishna devotees in some run-down distant town, they need help, and they are good... Such a good man... I do not believe Hare Krishna. But this man is very good and just sunk into the soul. So I will help them all». And will help. And not once, but many, many times. And I did it, that king.

158. Action with lucky asuras on Akshaya Tritiya

I continued to restore the chronology of the events of our interaction with Shri Ram and reached the time when I began to record my novel “My Roman. I'm asur's wife”. Then I was invited to take part in a webinar on women's self-development as a presenter, and I recorded three videos for him. I had no time to learn the programs that are usually used in webinars, and I decided to just record my masterpiece performances. Then to after three video stake out the number of 4, I decided burn fourth video purely for themselves, about my fourth husband, which in the real life still not was, but with whom interaction what something already time come me, in the form of this video. I said a lot of things. And then I continued to develop this storyline, and the result is a great novel, with a coherent logical legend, which I now set out in the text.

That fourth video was recorded by me on Akshaya Tritiya in 2017, and here is my entire novel recorded and approached a new Akshaya Tritiya, April 18, 2018. And I decided to reveal how I came to record my novel and how I began my Mahabharata on cleaning the modern Asuric terrestrial community. Since Akshaya Tritiya is a big holiday, according to the Eastern tradition, and it considered to bring good luck, I decided to hold an action. I decided to take the luckiest, the luckiest, the most fortunate of the Asuras and to send them all on this most fortunate day of the year in the most successful way to their most successful lives by the fortunate devotees of Krishna with their successful return to the spiritual world through the successful veneration of the most delicious prasad. Prasad is a vegetarian food offered to Krishna.

I have decided that they will be many, many lives good devotees of Krishna, will serve Krishna in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada, will help many people to return to Krishna in the spiritual world, and then they will return to the spiritual world timely, together with the bulk of Krishna's devotees. I decided to give them special specializations. First, they will be incredibly lucky, they will always be lucky, phenomenally lucky. Secondly, they will have the ability to penetrate everywhere, even in places where no one can get. For example, to any Ministers, to big important people, oligarchs, in closed to all places where no one has access, to some individuals, who maintain their incognito and the integrity of their living space.

Third, they will be able to give impetus to the protracted cases. For example, the house of the devotees must be sold, but no one buys, or the Charter must to registering, and government officials are find excuses, create continuous impediments. Or such situations when ask that one piece of paper to bring, then another, and the end of that is not visible. And throw a pity, and nothing is done. And wherever these lucky ones, whom we will send to Akshaya Tritiya, will somehow appear, personally, by e-mail, by phone, mentally or somehow, these protracted cases will move miraculously and be carried out very successfully, quickly, for the benefit of Krishna's devotees.

Fourthly, they will receive all the necessary permits. For example, you need a permit to hold a harinama. Others such a paper is not given, but gives to our lucky ones. Or any big festival of Vaishnavas. In offices officials sit, don't start up, and before these lucky all roads will be open and all will speak: «Well, well, well, well. Where do I sign? Here? As you say. Who to call? Will be done». And all these cases will be provided with a green light.

Fifthly, they will have the specific ability to drave off from devotees of Krishna and from ISKCON people who are really just parasites, who are not devotees of Krishna and do not have such intentions to become devotees of Krishna, who only pretend that they are good, their own, although they are not interested in all this and in fact drinking blood from ISKCON, from the mission of Srila Prabhupada. And the appearance of these lucky ones will lead to the fact that such ballast will go away, which only sucks out the energy, distracting the devotees from the normal devotional service. And this ballast will already go to others to cling, away from Krishna's devotees. Sixthly, they will bring good luck to the devotees of Krishna. Wherever they appear, everything will be done in the most successful way with a vector for the return of all those involved into the spiritual world. I designated such group of Asuras, and after I sent them to this future.

159. Consider sewage backing up in our house and in the community of asuras on Akshaya Tritiya

On this Akshaya Tritiya I restored the chronology of events start recording my novel and my Mahabharata in modern asuric community. I showed for asuras, how it began — with a letter from Borka, the former leader of the Moscow Asuric organization, to me, which I received on July 16, 2014. There Borka wrote me the following: «It was a Funny time, and we were funny, sometimes you want to turn back, but probably because we remember only the best». The Asuras, seeing this Borka`s letter for me, immediately saw the true Borka`s message for me. Borka brazenly told me in this letter that he remembers only the best, that with him only the best. And if I'm not with him, so it turns out that Borka wanted to show me in my pathetic place. I mean, that I'm nothing. It was enough that he compared me to someone, because the word «best» means that there is someone who is better, and there is someone who is not so good, and there are those who is nothing.

Borka made a fatal mistake, starting to compare women. Women don't like that. And they can begin to take revenge. Cruel and merciless revenge. Borka was wrong that he tried to hurt me with the words of this letter. But it doesn't work on me. First, because I don't understand their allegorical language and I didn't understand the true meaning of his message. And secondly, we work on the principle of «loser wins». And I just had to wait for the right moment to answer his words, which I did in my reply letter to him from February 16, 2016, in which I wrote the following, in Russian: «Добрый день! Как твоя жизнь? складывается... Надеюсь, у тебя есть улучшение», which in English means: «Good Day! How's life? складывается... I hope you have an improvement». In in these words I told Borka that he was wrong to try to humiliate a woman, who I would not tolerate this and that now the time of his life has come to an end. Here such effect as game of words. The word «складывается» has several meanings. One of them is to «develop». It means «How's your life? You've been well?» The other meaning of word «складывается» is «collapsing». It collapsed like a house of cards. And in common speech uses the value of «develop»: «How's your life? Developing well?» But for Borka was intended another meaning of the word «складывается». And I actually told him that his life was completely falling apart. «Как твоя жизнь? складывается» — «твоя жизнь складывается» — «тебе конец».

And of course, I told him why his life ends, putting a mention of the best: «I hope you have an improvement». With this word «improvement» I reminded him that he allowed himself to compare women when he wrote to me that «We remember only the best». That was a good reason to start a vendetta. Everything else was just steps to implement this vendetta. And I showed in the 214th and 215th series for asuras what those steps were. I gave Borka many opportunities to correct the situation, ask me for forgiveness. I would forgive him, but apparently, I knew in advance where I was going, to whom I was going.

Apparently, I studied this Borka even before my birth and was sure that he wouldn't stoop to beg forgiveness from some woman, especially from woman who rejected him once when he gave her a great honor to become his wife, as an oil rig, from which he, along with his companions, would pump all her energy, her piety, her Ojas. And he still remembered his humiliation when he put me on their Asuric totalizer and collected the most venerable destroyers female nature, but they had to leave with nothing, because on defending of my honor stood up Shri Ram, this small RA. Shri Ram, absolutely nothing is not representing RA from a distant remote place, from the point of view of Borka, who was Moscow's great Asura, suddenly not gave me to them, although before that clearly made it clear that I was no one.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Borka then suffered a big fiasco, the destroyers of female nature had to withdraw with nothing, those who made bets on ruining my feminine nature, were very disappointed and offended by Borka, that he brought some wrong client, untested and they were left without the pleasure of the savory spectacle of lowering another female, and from the profits. Borka was discredited. Not the first time. And then, when I forced him to fulfill a promise he made to me in Moscow and give Shri Ram something very important that he was not going to do, in any form, Borka was completely beside himself with anger. And considering how I did it, he was pissed off.

I threatened him that no amount of luck will not help him, and Borka began to lose all his assets and all that he had acquired, began to depart into the strange hand, and he almost went bankrupt and loss all... He to the limit was enraged by this from this humiliation of his dignity, yes from whom? From some small fry, nobody. To Borka Yes asked me for forgiveness? This he was even in a nightmare could not have dreamed. And it so happened that even though I gave him many times a chance to fix it, he not once took it. And then, when I got to the point that I saw the Parallels between the fact that Shri Ram added in our sexual interaction through distance another man, and those signs that were manifested in me in Moscow, I realized that Borka with me did.

I saw that my family then was destroyed by Borka. And it was done by manipulating my consciousness and the consciousness of my then husband and other tricks from the Arsenal of the Asuras. This caused me a fair indignation, and I demanded that the higher forces of punishment Borka, and I suddenly gave him. And somehow it happened that I struck him from the list of Asuras and of his life. And all this I opened for Asuras on Akshaya Tritiya. The Asuras understood everything much better than I did. Who am I? Nobody. I don't know how to read between the lines, like the Asuras do. I only know how to solve crosswords, puzzles and all sorts of charades. And all this is just my guesstimates. After all, here, in life, it is nothing. That's just my guesstimates. And this whole novel is just my guesstimates.

Asuras was struck by a brilliant operation, which was carried out by me (well, by me — this too loudly, as I play blind, but who is leading me, covering, insures, supports and helps, them I'm here and don't know). They started such a commotion there, which was not for a million years. Well, I'm certainly exaggerating, but who knows... at least I had a very hot day. In the evening we had a blockage in the apartment sewer. Someone upstairs threw wet wipes in the toilet. And we have shit from the toilet and from the bath began to flow on the floor.

There was a painting! The toilet flowed... And this shit filled the toilet and began to pour on the floor of the bathroom. The stench was, the horror... I ran around the house, asked for help. There was nothing anyone could do. The neighbors gave me the phone number of emergency crew. I waited for an hour when they come to us. At the same time shit was pouring on the floor and pouring. I spent the whole evening collecting it all off the floor and off the toilet into a bucket and carrying it outside. I'm so sick of wearing shit into the street in a bucket...

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Then came the emergency crew. They went all day on calls, and here already evening, they were tired. And I'm with a bucket with floating in it shit. They didn't want to do anything, but Shri Ram pressed their consciousness well, and they cleared the drain. Stunk a week for sure. I've never had that before. Shit floated on the floor and in the tub. I took the shit outside in a bucket. What a humiliation and a feeling of complete powerlessness...

But then I thought that this is what is happening now at Asuras, when they saw what actually preceded my Mahabharata. This thought that now at them somewhere there, in their mental chat such shit flows from everywhere and they don't know what to do with it, strongly calmed me, and I thought that nonsense that I resembled two hours with a bucket to the street in full hopelessness, but the same happens now at Asuras. It brought me the most positive emotions. Even though the apartment had a strong stench. Akshaya Tritiya was a success. And even this clog of Sewerage system brought me the best impressions and memories. Because it was a projection of what the Asuras had. But they had it on a global scale. I would never have thought that the memories of a sad walk with a bucket to the street and scooping what uncontrollably flowed from the toilet and bathroom to the floor, so can warm the soul.

160. Onto the harinama because of the gentleman's word

The restoration of the chronology of events of that time led me to stunning discoveries. And they fell and poured in a continuous stream. When I was restoring what was connected with the beginning of the recording of my novel and the beginning of my Mahabharata, I suddenly saw that it all started with a letter from Borka to me. I also saw the true meaning of Gurudev's lecture, which I found on the Internet in January 2017. And I saw the true meaning of the words that are so sunk into my soul, from the book of Boris Akunin «Falcon and Swallow», which I read it just on February 14, 2017, on Valentine's Day. All this was hidden from me, and then, on Akshaya Tritiya, 2018, when I've already written my entire novel, I learned that there was actually.

That it all started with Borka's letter to me in the summer of 2014, to which I sent him a reply after receiving my Gurudev's blessing that I can start my Mahabharata at Asuras and after receiving the word as a gentleman of Shri Ram that he would not abuse my trust and would not do me anything wrong. Like the previous time, in the summer of 2016, when I wrote a letter to my Gurudev and sent it by email, and the answer was received in a randomly opened lecture on the Internet, and this time Gurudev's answer came in the lecture, but immediately as I sent the letter. In that lecture there were words that I took as the answer of my Gurudev: «Sri Prabhupada, I am happy serving you. I have no shadow of doubt, fear or illusion about my position as your servant. I'd do anything for you. If you had ordered me to go to hell to preach, I would have jumped on the first train rushing to hell, and on the way I would have happily sung the Holy names».

It was January 18, 2017. And on February 14, Valentine's Day, Shri Ram gave me his word as a gentleman, about what I learned from the book «Falcon and Swallow» Boris Akunin, which I at that time read. Then Shri Ram, sitting somewhere in his home, far away from me, said in the words of this book: «I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman. On the contrary, I am so grateful to you for your coming from nowhere to brighten up my loneliness. Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust. We are alone in this gloomy world, so let's stick together.” A day after that, I sent a reply letter to Borka, telling Him that he made an unforgivable mistake, comparing me with another woman and saying that I is nothing, in his words «We remember only the best».

After all, since I was not with him, it turns out that the best — it's not me, according to him. But we're all unique personalities, every particular flower, each diamond with its sparkling facets and to compare two different women — all the same what to say to a fish that a fish is useless, because is not able to fly. But the fish is good at swimming, does not sink in the water and can there breathe. But the fish was told that the bird is better and what the fish do? That's how Borka made a fatal mistake, which I did not put up with and in response to which she began to make her moves. I gave him a lot of chances to fix the situation, but he never asked me for forgiveness. For that and he paid the price. On June 12, I expunged him from the list of Asuras and sent him to the spiritual world through the birth in Vrindavan as Shrimati Radharani`s devotee.

How he was lucky! He was the luckiest. And all because when we interacted with him, I took my nickname Radhika and Borka many meditated on this one. And since the Holy name is no different from the personality who bearing this name, Borka was actively meditated on the Very Shrimad Maharani and got this result. Lucky Borka. After the Borka, I struck out their Bhishma, the patriarch who had in his hands all the Asuras. He did wrong to me in the summer of 2016, when I came to him as the petitioner he was supposed to help, but he made me an indecent proposal, about which I reminded him June 14, 2017.

Bhishma has forgotten that power gives not only rights but also duties, and if a person who is endowed with power is approached by a supplicant and humbly asks for help, then the ruler must do something, decide that everyone should be satisfied. But Bhishma thought that because he was in charge, he was allowed to do everything, and thus he made a mistake. But I'm a proofreader on a universal, cosmic scale. My job is to correct mistakes. And I corrected that mistake that was made by Bhishma. And when I was restoring the chronology of these events to Akshaya Tritiya in 2018, I saw that it turns out that I started Mahabharata at the Asuras, when I received the blessing of my Gurudev and Shri Ram`s word as a gentleman, that he would not abuse my trust and would not do me a bad thing.

Shri Ram, it turns out, gave me such a word! I didn't know about that. But in the restoration of chronology it became clear to me. I looked at the case from a new angle and saw that Shri Ram violated the word as a gentleman many times after he had given me the word. He gave me the word on February 14, and on March 4 he sent me another man from his asuric organization. on April 28 he added in our sexual energy interaction through distance another men, and by may 20 he was gonna give me to another man in real life, as he then told, «We act according to the same scheme, but from other phone, at least you will be rich, and I will make everything that you were happy».

I saw such a serious violation of his word after he gave it to me, and I was very outraged. I remembered that I threatened those Asuras, to whom Shri Ram had made some promises, that they would cancel those promises themselves or I would cancel all of them, that is to say, I would destroy those Asuras to whom he had given some word. Then they understood the seriousness of the situation and cancelled all the promises to them of Shri Ram. That is, he kept his promises to Asuras that I had to resort to force methods so that he would cease to be bound by it. Means that the word he gave me is worthless and he can to forget about that he gave this word at all, and do anything? So, he must fulfill promises to Asuras, and promises to me he should not fulfill?? That the word as a gentleman is an empty phrase?

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I was so shocked by this discovery that I decided that someone would answer for the fact that Shri Ram, giving me his word, violated it. It would be enough and one violation to be indignant, but he has broken his word as a gentleman so many times and very seriously. He said he wouldn't do me any harm. And this is called «I will not do you any harm» — to add in our with him sexual interaction through distance another man? And then he was gonna give me to someone else's man in real life, so I had contact with the body of another man? It's called «I will not do you any harm»? Maybe he thinks that it's not included in the category «I will not do you any harm». And why was he was gonna give me to someone else's man in real life? It was also a discovery for me.

When I covered this episode in the 214th series, I expressed the version that Shri Ram could do it so that I would switch to this man and stop broadcasting about the Asuras and recording my video. And at this point there was a screenshot of «Mahabharata» with the words «of course, of course». I realized that absolutely involuntarily I blurted out real reason of why Shri Ram was going to do that. For me, it was a revelation, because this version was born spontaneously, at the very moment when I voiced it. Before that, such a thought did not come to my head, and then suddenly it is unclear where it came from. This reason and the fact that Shri Ram was going to give me to another man, very outraged me.

I imagined that Shri Ram would press my consciousness and that man's consciousness so that we would get closer and become together. I've already seen him and me kissing, hugging, then in bed doing what. I shuddered from that thought, what I would do with someone else's man, even if he is the most gorgeous. And Shri Ram was going to do that to me, his eternal wife. He had given me his word as a gentleman, “I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman. On the contrary, I am so grateful to you for your coming from nowhere to brighten up my loneliness. Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust. We are alone in this gloomy world, so let's stick together.”

These revelations have hit hard on my sense of self. I saw myself like this, that I could be treated like this, that I didn't care what kind of man I'm with, that for me the main thing that I had some man... And they see me like this. And they treat me like this. Apparently, that's what I am. And then, in order for Shri Ram to stop breaking his word, I had to show him my life files, where I was in such a role Mata Hari in the Asuric worlds, the destroyer of their strongest Asuras, to which no one had access. In the 7th episode of my novel, I had to turn on the heavy artillery and threaten Shri Ram that if he neglected his position or used his forces in pursuit of his personal interests, the consequences would be disastrous.

Then through the screenshots from the 776th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» I told him that his abilities and skills do not play a big role, that none of us did not interfere with him just because it wanted Narayana. That Narayana himself wanted this to happen — to make the curse come true. And Shri Ram was only a performer. Then I told him that I could destroy him at any time, and I warned him that if he ever crossed his boundaries again, I would not warn him again. It was only after that Shri Ram removed from our sexual interaction through distance another man and canceled that operation to connect me with some gorgeous man in real life. How painful for me these revelations were...

Because of the perfidy of Shri Ram, who broke his word so many times, I decided to appoint a large group of Asuras as responsible. I decided that these would be the

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Asuras who cherish the desire that Shri Ram would again break his word to me and continue to break it. I thought that there are Asuras who believe that women are just females and the word should be kept only in front of the Asuras, but not in front of the females, which passes through them a lot. I thought that there are those among the Asuras who think that the word as a gentleman given to a woman is not the word as a gentleman at all, and that Shri Ram should not keep the word given to me by him.

And I decided that now all those who think so, who are against Shri Ram keeping the word as a gentleman given to me, who wants him to break that word, who believes that Shri Ram has the right to do something bad to me and abuse my trust, will be taken off the list of Asuras. I thought they will be many lives serve Krishna, they will be great good devotees of Krishna, sincerely, enthusiastically will be engaged harinamas. They will sing the Holy names of Krishna in the streets. Will constantly go on harinamas, to the Ratha Yatras. They will only be born to sing mantra Hare Krishna on the harinamas and Ratha Yatras.

They will love harinama with all their heart. They will all be very musical, everyone will have a good musical education, excellent ear for music, beautiful voice, good musical memory, sense of rhythm, of melody, of beat, and they will be able to well play karatalas, mridangas and other useful for the Harinama musical instruments. Each of them will have some musical education, so they can sing beautifully to the harinamas was with beautiful, melodic music, with beautiful melodies as at Sri Prahlada and my Gurudeva, Indradyumna Swami. Their kirtanas will be dynamic, pleasing to the ear, easy singing, with beautiful sounding.

I decided that all of them will have a good appearance, they will all look very good, be feeling the music and move beautifully under it, so that people would be pleased to look at them and at these harinamas. They will all be highly cultured, educated people, tactful, delicate, and cute. And I expunged this whole group of Asuras, and they went to their future that I had defined for them.

I also remembered about deadline for all the Asuras. I told them that if Shri Ram didn't show respect to the proposal of my Gurudeva and will ignores his position, does not realize what he was obliged to realize when he accepted this proposal, and will not implement as it should, I will begin from July 19, 2018 methodically all the Asuras to cross out and perform a total sweep of the entire modern asuric community. I decided that, of course, all of them, along with their asuric babies, whom asuras have conceived with our earth women, will be devotees of Krishna, in ISKCON, on the planet Earth and they will be engaged in harinama and sankirtana. They will all sing in the streets mantra Hare Krishna, offer Srila Prabhupada's books to everyone, and preach Krishna consciousness to save the conditioned souls from material existence.

I have decided that all the Asuras whom I will expunge after the deadline, will have in their future lives their high intellectual level, their education, their attractiveness, all they will Krishna's devotees. This will be a new wave in Krishna consciousness. After all, the Asuras are all very highly educated, outwardly very attractive, intelligent, very likeable people, in appearance very noble, reliable, aristocratically, with some greatness, charming. All Asuras are very pleasant people in communication and interaction. Outwardly, they live among us as ordinary people, though they have an Asuric nature. And I decided that all these qualities all these Asuras will transfer to their future lives. And in ISKCON will come such a very high level of Krishna devotees, who were once Asuras and whom I have crossed out of the Asuras after the deadline.

As the Bible says, "So the last will be first." And the Asuras will become true devotees of Krishna. And all those devotees of Krishna will be pleasant people who to which you feel confidence and who has a charm, the Asuras are such. People will think about them: «What nice people, and with them well». Because the Asuras are very attractive, pleasant, charming people, they create around them an aura of such trust, nobility, gentlemanly, aristocracy, and I decided that all this they will take with them in their future lives. So that people can have a pleasant and interesting relationship with such educated, intelligent, cultural, pleasant people, devotees of Krishna, who are so charming, intelligent, erudite, of a high level of development. Because the Asuras are of a high level of development.

I decided that all of them would have a correct, normal traditional sexual orientation and all of them would be either exemplary, faithful family men (which is more preferable, since women need protection), or strict brahmacharyas holding celibacy. And they will all read 16 circles of the Hare Krishna mantra each day and will follow all four regulative principles given to us by Srila Prabhupada. The preaching of Krishna consciousness will be their essence. And they will take with them in their future lives their useful good abilities. An understanding of human nature, some good ability that can be useful to them in their lives as devotees of Krishna, if any of them can somehow establish good contact with people, so they took the books of Srila Prabhupada, become devotees of Krishna and return to the spiritual world.

Both the chanting of Hare Krishna on the harinamas in the streets and the distribution of Srila Prabhupada's books will be the meaning of their lives. All their future lives. And without this sense, they will be not interested, not fresh and not empty. And only harinamas, a singing of mantra Hare Krishna on the streets and an offering for people everywhere of Srila Prabhupada's books will give them a taste of life and will be the essence of their life. At any time of the year, in any weather, always. And they many, many lives will do harinama and sankirtana, and Krishna will take them into the spiritual world.

161. Cactus with fake flowers

I recorded the 217th series on April 28, 2018, exactly one year after recording the first episode of my novel «My Roman. I'm asur's wife». I restored the whole chronology, all the events were described, and I was sure that record of my novel came to an end, but I was wrong: on June 13, I recorded the next, 218th series. Which is amazing. It was like this. I transcribed the novel I recorded in the video format into text, the chronology was already restored, and remained the easy — just to revise the series in turn and write in the text what was told there. But suddenly my laptop was constantly issuing the same error. I asked to help my cousin, who often helped me here with the laptop. Usually he remotely helped, but at that time he's got some problems were, and he had to come to my house. And here it comes, includes a laptop, and there everything works as it is necessary, there is no error. Every day for three weeks laptop was constantly issued the same error, but when he came to me, everything became works, as it worked before. In the settings, too, everything was fine. It looked like I cheated him. And I apologized to him for lying to him.

I was very uncomfortable that he lost a lot of time, the whole evening wasted. I stood and justified, not understanding how it happened. And when he left, I have become to think: I had deceived him. I thought: what does it mean? I cheated someone, but whom?

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Since I have been interacting with Shri Ram for a long time, I thought that I was talking about him. I thought that Shri Ram is very unhappy that I lied to him. I thought: what exactly did I lie to him about? And I remembered.

When I wrote down the 181st series of my novel, I was enraged that Shri Ram not with me, and I was very angry at asuras. And I began to destroy them. I beat them mercilessly. I climbed high above them, and from me, as from a huge snake towering high in space, they all dripped combustible blood tears, because of what the Asuras immediately flew out of their bodies and flew in their next life. I destroyed them many times, even once came to me from a friend of Shri Ram and asked me to spare their lives, but I ignored it and continued.

And then Shri Ram decided to somehow correct this situation, somehow to calm me. He did it very cleverly. There he asked me to give him the answer when we should become together because he needed some sign from me. And then I danced him a dance of Aisha, in which Aisha said that she embroiders bear with a Bush of wild strawberry in his paws. So I realized that I told him when we with him let us together — when the wild strawberries are ripe. It calmed me well, and I stopped destroy them. But the season of strawberries has already gone, but Shri Ram all there, I did not give him a sign.

And in addition, the football world Cup began, and I told him a year ago, in the spring of 2017, that we will do everything before the world Cup. We had this conversation through one driver when I was driving home from the chipboard shop for paintings with Krishna. Then we had a conversation with that driver, whether the authorities will manage to prepare the city for the world Cup. The driver was totally skeptical, but I assured him they'll make it in time. I assured Shri Ram that we will have time to do everything before the championship. But the championship has already begun, strawberries are ripe, but I did not give him a sign. And it turns out that he told me through words of my cousin: «You deceived me. You said that before the championship and strawberries we'll be together, but it is not».

And then I thought there was something to it. There is some secret that he did not reveal to me, and without revealing this secret I will not give him this sign, because I am writing this novel now in a text, and it remains quite a bit to write, and it is necessary that everything be recorded. Just then I reached in the recording of the novel in the text to the episode with our interaction with Shri Ram on a Dating site. At first I thought that we began to interact with him, when I had a conversation with the karate coach and when he turned on the force methods to break me. Later he revealed to me that he was trying to press me before that — when I was on a Dating site. But it turns out, there was another point, before the conversation with the coach and before the Dating site. And this moment was not disclosed and was completely unknown to me. And that's why I tricked him, as it seems. But I didn't deceive him, I waited for him to open it all up to me, but he sat there and didn't tell me anything.

Everywhere I went signs that he something not told me, something is hidden. I understood it and began to demand from him that he told me all this. He decided open for me a little piece. He thought I was easy to cheat. Actually, it's very easy to cheat me. Just then I went to a large chain store of building materials, my son asked me to buy him beautiful indoor flower. I took pictures of all the beautiful flowers in the store and sent the pictures for the children. And son chose a beautiful cactus with a cap of beautiful blue flowers. I bought this cactus, brought home. The son said that the flowers of the cactus artificial, but I did not believe him, because the store is very much solid, large and I could not believe that in such a respectable store sell fresh flowers with fake flowers. But a few days later I was convinced that the flowers are actually artificial. Moreover, the flowers were glued to the cactus with hot melt glue. I tore off these flowers and glue is still on the cactus. I was so dumbfounded, how could I be so deceived... How could I buy a cactus with flowers glued on it?

And Shri Ram tricked me the same way they tricked me in this store. I kept telling him: «Open the secret», and he revealed the secret about the time when he almost had a life collapse at the end of August 2016 and when the women from his organization came to me. They were standing in front of me on my inner screen for two days, on September 2 and 3, and on September 3 he was waiting for a final blow when he should have been left with nothing. And those women then stood before my inner sight, and from them went: «You're the same as we are. And we are many». I got very angry with them and told them that Shri Ram or mine, or nobody's. He then tried to manipulate my consciousness, so I corrected his situation, as to him was shown through me a series of «Ramayana» that he could be saved by a woman.

And now, when I demanded from him that he reveal to me a secret, because of which my novel in the text was not full, he revealed to me that those women who stood then in front of my inner gaze, came just to ask me for it. Like, they needed him so much. Such a brazen misinformation he threw into my mind. I believed it. Trustingly. But then I look: signs continue to go supposedly something he does not tell. And I said to him again, «You didn't tell me something. You lied to me». I pushed him hard and demanded that he revealed the secret, and he brought to my realization, that those women came not to ask, but to demand. They said: «You're just like us. You're his non-contact-bitch. He is our master, and you must obey his commands. Do it! You're just like us». I thought: yes, it's more like the truth.

But it wasn't really all he must to tell me, and my rage didn't not go. She grew up, grew up and grew to the point that I became very angry, I stood in front of him like a huge Cobra, stuck my long snake tongue in his eyes and has become there digging around. I pierced his eyes with my snake tongue for a long time and hissed to him: «Open, you must open to me, tell me everything». And then I stood right under it and pulled a big pin into it from below, and when from it that rod went all the way into it, I let out a lot of very thin, extremely prickly needles, and they pierced it from the inside. And then I stood again in front of his eyes like a snake, burned him with my snake venom and said: «Open, you must open for me». But he revealed anything to me.

But something I realized myself, from my own words to my cousin. When I apologized to him, my daughter noticed that our Pussycat was calmly reacting to him. The cat reacts in a peculiar way to different guest. Accepts only our. On other people's growls, hisses, tearing their pantyhose, pants, jump. In short, protects territory. And here she sits and quietly looks at him. And my daughter asks, they say, why our Pussycat does not rush at him. I answer, they say, she remembers him, because a lot of times come to us and before, when she a little kitten was. And then I added: «And he to us and before walking, when it's still and not was, when we lived on the most the first apartment here».

My brother left and I think: «Oh, what I said»... I was talking about Shri Ram. I said that Shri Ram knew me when we lived in the previous apartment. I thought: yes, that's when I registered for a Dating site, and then he sent to me different men on the site, and even one of the women there was making friends with me, and she even came to our house. But I also said about my brother, that he came to us before that. I thought: surely Shri Ram has already interacted with me when we lived in the first apartment, even before we had our pussy, when we had only just move here, when we the rented first apartment?

And I began to remember, when he could see me there. I there any Dating sites did not go, I stayed home and worked from morning to evening. We only lived in that apartment for six months, and then we moved out. And just at that time my mother left her body. Then I practically didn't go anywhere and didn't communicate with anybody. I thought: where then Shri Ram could see me if we already had contact with him in that apartment? And then I remembered. There was a story.

162. Sign of the Universe: Flood from the ceiling

I began to think: when did Shri Ram already know me at our first apartment here? I reviewed my notes of that time. Then I kept a diary of gratitude, recorded events for which I could thank the Universe. I also raised e-mail correspondence of the time. After that I wrote down the events described there on a pieces of paper, arranged them in chronological order, linked everything with the possible invisible appearance of Shri Ram here through someone, and before me there was an interesting picture, which began with Moscow. There, after the divorce with my ex-husband, I thought about how to live, and decided to buy an apartment in the suburbs. I to get by bus to see the apartments, many revised, something I liked, with the sellers of apartments have already agreed on everything, and I took the bus home.

On the way, the whole track stood in a long traffic jam, time was running out, I thought that I would not have time to pick up the children from the kindergarten, began to call the teachers, but their phones were not answered. I called my sister, who also lived there, but her phone was silent. The bus stood in a long traffic jam and almost did not move. I panicked, thinking the day care was about to close, and I'm sitting on this bus, which is neither here nor there, and I can't reach anyone. I felt such immense despair that I started crying there. And through my sobs into my mind suddenly broke into the song that played at the bus driver. Before that, I had not even heard that there was playing, because I was absorbed in my thoughts and fears. And here I sit crying, and suddenly these words:

I know you're far away,
Between us cities, cities,
I with you forever, forever,
You're my only love.

These words were like a revelation from above. I thought, that not by chance none of the phone does not respond and the bus standing in a traffic jam: that's for me to hear those words. And I have come to think: far, far away, between us cities. I decided that I was told that I had chosen the wrong direction, I don't have to move in the suburbs, and even not in Moscow. I need to go far, far away, so to be between these cities many cities. I thought, well, what is this place? And I came to the only option — Kaliningrad. It is far, far away, and there are many cities between Moscow and Kaliningrad, cities and towns. And my parents are there, and the city of my youth, and the good city, it is better than the suburbs. The sea is close, though cool, but in the summer you can swim and sunbathe. Many advantages. But most of all I was convinced by these words «far, far away, between us cities». And I just because of these words sharply, in a moment changed his mind and chose a destination is not Moscow and Kaliningrad. It happens too.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I didn't hear any more music on the bus, I only heard this refrain, and it was enough that refrain for me to change the direction of movement and to immerse myself in thinking about the steps for the execution of my decision. Immediately my sister's phone answered, she went to pick up the children from kindergarten, I calmed down. For me, in all opened the green light. All things began to resolve themselves, everywhere all helped me just miraculously, as if indeed the universe has given me this path and cleared it for me. And on July 18, 2013, we flew here. So the universe led me to my Shri Ram, to the purpose of this birth of mine. This is where I rented our first apartment. There was a lot of trouble on arrangement, children had to be issued in kindergarten, and then my mother left her body. I sat all days in the apartment and worked on the computer.

Once, it was November 1, 2013, I received an email with an e-book about the signs of the Universe. I began to read book, it was small. Finished reading to one task. The task was written follows: «Now stand up right now, ask your question to the universe out loud, and ask her to give you an answer within the next 30 minutes». I immediately stood up and aloud asked the Universe to answer me, whether I will have in the near future my man, and immediately I directed my thoughts to the image of my man, who appeared in Moscow. I asked the Universe to give me an answer within the next 15 minutes. Even not 30 minutes, just 15. And continued reading this book. I sit I read and hear in the hallway making noise. I went to check, and we were flooded with water from the neighbors above, the water flows from the ceiling and even from the outlets.

I'm all in a panic, ran for help to the neighbors, they called the plumbers, they blocked the water on all floors in our house entrance, because the neighbors above were not at home and their door was closed. The water stopped pouring from the ceiling, but poured a lot of it, all the walls were wet, I cut the power to prevent a short circuit, as the water flowed from the outlets. I went to the downstairs neighbors to let them know it wasn't my fault that it was the upstairs. A pleasant man opened the door, came to my apartment, and began to help me. And it so happened that he stood three times in front of me on his knees. When checking the faucets on the pipes. First in the kitchen, then in the bathroom, and then in the toilet. And every time he'd get down on his knee, I'd stand next to him while he was there checking. Then he the power came back on, checked to be safe, took my phone number just in case and went to his home. In the evening he came, brought a piece of paper with phone number of neighbors from above, he told me to call him when I needed to. This help was very useful to me. The next day I went for my mother's funeral and I told him call me, if we'll be flooded from above.

This page was closed. But the universe gave me an answer. Immediately. In 5 minutes. In my house came a man, helped me in every way and three times rose before me on knees. I thanked the Universe for the answer. But I didn't know that my man had come to me then, just 5 minutes later, as I asked about him, because through the eyes of that man at me was looking Shri Ram. He's in charge in local asuric organization. RA. And he can look through other people. All of RA, Asuras of such level, are able to do it. And already then Shri Ram saw me and interacted with me. It was November 1, 2013. So I found out the exact date of our first meeting with him.

After this sign went a series of other signs, which I did not ask. My Desk clock started falling on my Desk. I'll accidentally touch them, the kids unintentionally drop them on the table. Before the clock normally stood on the table, and then began to fall steadily. And on November 8 I wrote to the author of that book about the signs of the Universe, they say, and what are your thoughts on this matter. In her response letter were these words: «Apparently, the time is over. I guess what I'm doing at this table is not worth my effort.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I'm capable of more and I can do something more important. It's time to get up from the table». I thought it made sense. The clock is falling — it's time. They're standing on my Desk, I'm sitting here at the Desk working, and I'm kind of told through these hours that it's time to stop sitting at the table, it's time to go out to people. I understood this sign that I need to go to fitness. Even on arrival here I was recommended a good fitness club, and in Moscow I went to a fitness club, there was a good section of Taekwondo, I went there only because of Taekwondo, and then wanted to continue it. And even in the summer I bought an annual membership to a fitness club, but not one time there has not yet went not up to it. And here is November, the clock is falling, they say it's time to get up from the table and go somewhere, I am capable of more and can do something more important. And I went to this fitness.

Oddly enough, the clock immediately ceased to fall, they became as glued to the table. From this I realized that the sign of the Universe with the falling clock was deciphered by us correctly. I started going to the gym. Then was my next birthday, November 21. That day I got another sign of the Universe — on the chair was found a bunch of three keys — two identical, the third unusual. It was definitely not our keys. And before that I made General cleaning of the apartment, there was nothing on the chair at all, and then a whole three keys, and it is not clear from where. I asked the kids, where did they get them, but they said, it was the first time they see them. I was perplexed: in my house on a chair from somewhere materialized keys. I immediately wrote to the lady friend with the book about the signs of the Universe, she replied: «Three keys — three opportunities that you will soon be provided. So you don't miss them. Or as such a kind of gift. There will be three great features. This Association, because the keys open some door. Something was closed, but now it's opening. It can also be as a gift from someone, symbolic. A good sign from a loved one, who could not come to you differently, and wanted to be present».

I couldn't decipher the meaning of that sign then, but now that I've recorded this novel of mine, I've seen what that sign meant. First, those three keys meant the three apartments on which we lived and on which Shri Ram made three active attempts to press me, put on stream, so I was their milk cow. He wanted to force me to masturbate or have sex with some man in real life, so that he and everyone from his organization would be present while enjoying the feeling of superiority and me, in that sex. They were going to regularly withdraw my feminine energy from me. Three keys to three flats or three attempts by Shri Ram to press me. And secondly, it meant a gift to me from a loved one who could not come to me in another way, and wanted to attend. That is, Shri Ram was already thinking about me, because in Moscow I was sending him my vibes, specifically caused a surge, the output of this energy and deliberately, by the effort of will at this moment this energy was directed to the image that stood in my mind. And Shri Ram received these vibes, because he is Asur, he feels it all well and knows, and I sent to him, and including there a powerful craving, and he was already thinking about me.

He didn't know when my birthday was, but apparently he thought, she had a birthday once, somewhere she is there... so he congratulated me that way on my birthday. Although three weeks before, on November 1, he had already seen me, but did not know that it was me. He saw me through the eyes of the man who had kneeled before me three times. Shri Ram had to stand three times before me on his knees through the eyes of that man.

163. The first key is a pickup artist

I continued to go to fitness, but I did not like it, because there were only simulators, and in Moscow I worked on simulators only before Taekwondo classes, I was bored with stupid pumping on simulators. Just like mice in holes, all swung in these machines. I'm sociable personality, I don't like it when all sit in their burrows, I appeal to the people, all to no avail, no one responded, and all were busy with the equipment. And 27 November I there strongly has excelled. That morning I was in the email-newsletter there was a positive attitude for the day, advice to do something bright, extraordinary, neglect the generally accepted principles, do something that will shock everyone. On this day I had a planned trip to fitness. And when I got there, I remembered that advice and decided to do something bright and unusual.

November 1 was a sign of the Universe — the flood from the ceiling, and in my house came a man who stood three times at my feet. In the evening he brought me a piece of paper with the phone number of the neighbors above. In fact, he could send me this number in a text message, because still in the afternoon I gave him my phone number and he called me all day, found out how I had. But for some reason he came personally with this piece of paper. In fact, it was Shri Ram who made this downstairs neighbor do it all. The neighbor did not want to help me on the day of the flood, nor after, but Shri Ram pressed his consciousness, and he had to do it. And here the evening of 1 November, he brought me a piece of paper with a phone number so I told my «Yes» on Shri Ram's desire suppress me. I took that piece of paper. Good tactics, choice without choice: it is impossible to refuse. They just give you a piece of paper that you might need, and you take it, but, taking this piece of paper, you kind of say: «Yes, do it. Well, I agree». After all, the first reaction takes place automatically — a grasping reflex is triggered: you are given something and you take it. But Shri Ram is, of course, to the slip of paper added his own question: «You're giving your consent?»

This neighbor did not need to personally bring this paper, he could send this number by SMS, and I gave him my number. But Shri Ram had to get me to agree on what the Asuras usually do to women — he was going to manipulate my consciousness and press to my women's centers to force me to give in to his favorite tricks. Of course I took this piece of paper. Shri Ram got my consent, but he did not carry out his manipulation, because in the morning I came to this neighbor and said that I was going to my mother's funeral, and complained that I was very hard right now. I was afraid that again we will flood, but we would not be at home, and I asked the neighbor in that case to call me. Shri Ram looked through the eyes of that neighbor at me, understood, that I have sorrow, and decided to postpone their maneuvers. But I immediately clock began to fall on my table, and I was told that I was capable of more and can do something more important. This meant the following: «Well, now you must begin your mission of the inspector of the Universe Patrol and the mission of your life». And then I went to the gym. I had this Shri Ram to provoke, that he still began his forward movement.

I'm gone to the gym only two weeks, although I bought an annual subscription. Before that, I was not up to fitness, I decided to go there when I took a piece of paper from a neighbor and thus gave the nod to the encroachments of Shri Ram. I was unbearably bored on this fitness, and on November 27 in the morning I received an email-newsletter with the advice to do something extraordinary, to shake the world with my courage. On that day I had planned a trip to fitness. Two weeks of stomping on the simulators so tired me that I decided to really do something extraordinary. And I went there to molest all the men. But not for what you might think, no. I remembered how

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I went to the club «Bulat» of Alexei Mamatov in Moscow. I really liked it there. In the morning I went to Taekwondo fitness club, and in the evening on self-defense to club «Bulat» two or three times a week. In «Bulat» basically one men, work out receptions of street fight. And I had right to choose to approach any of them and to work out with him the next fighting reception. And I for occupation fulfilled receptions with 10–15 different men.

And then came in the morning this newsletter: «Do something extraordinary». I looked at those uninteresting men trampling in the gym, and I thought: «Let's shake this Olympus of them». And I began to go to all and say: «I'm so bored here, I want to remember one fighting techniques, be my partner». All the guys from me in panic recoiled, they were so terrified. I was actually provoking Shri Ram, because the Asuras in all such places necessarily graze the people, through someone there act. Because fitness club is a good place for asuras, however, as well as hairdressers, beauty salons, all kinds of hammams, consulting, diagnostic and cosmetic centers. All these are very attractive and profitable places for Asuras, where they can look out of the eyes of visitors to those places to choose new victims. Fitness club is very convenient for asuras, because there is a changing room and a shower.

Shower is a gorgeous place for asuras, all naked woman well can be seen, the goods face and booty. And asuras can choose what women suitable to the role of the next victim. And I started to approach all the men to draw the attention of Shri Ram, who was not there personally, physically, but who was looking through the eyes of someone out there. Shri Ram after all, RA, Asur, who can lead a large Asuric organization, and he can simultaneously conduct multi-channel surveillance through different people for different objects and act in many directions at once. All the men in this fitness from me in fright wave away, but one comrade volunteered. It was probably Shri Ram who was interested to see what I wanted to do there, and he pushed mind of that comrade to make him more pliable.

Anyway, one young man agreed to be my training simulator. I did not try on him the whole technique, but only a part of it, in a truncated form. The young man was with some combat training, stood in the rack correctly and went to me as it should, but he did not expect from me what I can tumble down to the floor him, because I am a woman below his growth and I don't look like as an athlete. He was stunned, and I attracted the attention of Shri Ram. And after he's through the eyes of one woman decided to examine me better in the shower. Fitness is very advantageous place for Asuras who like to look through other people's eyes, including through women's eyes in the shower, where women wash after exercise.

And so after I drew the attention of Shri Ram, he looked at me in the shower, when I was naked and showering, through the eyes of a woman who was washing opposite me and who brazenly stared at me, I even thought, not if she was a lesbian. After she blatantly examined me already dressed, when I came out of the gym, in stylish clothes. More I at the gym did not go. The annual subscription fulfilled its purpose.

Shri Ram thought that he can force me to have sex with that neighbor, especially since he had received my consent long ago when I took that piece of paper with the phone number, but I jumped off the hook — I no longer went to fitness, it was quite boring. And on the night of January 1, New Year's Eve, Shri Ram pressed on the consciousness of that neighbor from below, and he, though he did not want to approach me, began to call me and write. The sound on my phone was off, but I saw a lot of missed calls and texts. I open them and read: «You are such a wonderful woman. I've been thinking about you. Happy New Year! Come visit». And I answer him that, they say, I can not go anywhere.

And he came to me, sat in the kitchen. I gave him some candy, some baby champagne. And he started courting me. But I was alarmed by something, he pulled his hands to my hair, I felt something like an invasion of my personal space and I escorted him out. It was Shri Ram who tried to suppress my will through him, but I stopped it. All January 1, he called me, wrote a text, begged him to forgive, said he wanted to make amends, offered any restaurant, cafe, they say, he will be flawless, but I was adamant. For a few days I thought of that situation, I analyzed why I was alarmed, what scared me in the behavior of this man, and Krishna sent me on the Internet something about the pickup. I began to read about the pickup and saw that the man used the techniques of the pickup. Before that, I did not know that there is such a phenomenon as a pickup, and then I saw it personally.

I saw that he as if by accident very quietly said the word «bitch». There's a technique in pickup — to give for woman hidden command that he is the chief and she is a bitch and oblige to obey him. According to the calculated algorithm, I had to obey the command given to me categorically. But I disobeyed and I sent him away. Shri Ram told this pickuper to take revenge, he tried very hard, all January he wrote to me, but I fell off the hook. Then I watched the movie «The Lake House», and at the moment when Kate was driving in the car and prayed for Alex to stay alive, that he could come to her alive, I thought that the universe gave me a sign that my man lives somewhere, and on New year's day to my house by itself came a man, too, a good sign-the universe confirmed, that he will come to me. And I thought that somewhere after all, he is and we must pray that he remained alive and was able to come to me.

And then I came Mrityunjaya mantra, and I from that time constantly began to listen to her. I guess if I didn't pray for him, I don't know what would have happened to him, what kind of reaction would have come to him for what he was going include me in their Asuric milking, because I am his eternal wife, which he is obliged to protect, because that is his Dharma as my eternal husband. After we all moved out of the apartment and moved to the next. So was implemented the first key with the keychain on my birthday. The first apartment, the first key, and the first attempt by Shri Ram to press me under men of his asuric organization. He knelt before me. He had a fiasco. He was forced to admit defeat.

The downstairs neighbor, who happened to be a pickuper, couldn't get me to have sex with him, and we moved out of that apartment. So the first of the three keys on the bunch, which miraculously materialized on my chair for my birthday, was implemented. As that girl, the author of the book about signs of the Universe, wrote at that time, «three keys are three possibilities that you will soon have. So you don't miss them. Or as such a kind of gift. There will be three great features. That Association, because the keys open some door. It was closed, now it will open». That was the first time Shri Ram knelt before me, like the first of three adoration of the neighbor from below after the flood from above. It was the first apartment here, the first attempt by Shri Ram to press me and his first defeat.

164. The second key is a dating site

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

When we began to live in the second apartment, one of my lady friends convinced me to register on a Dating site. I decided that it was a good idea. The universe already gave me signs that a man who is mine, somewhere there, and even gave confirmation of this, when on the new Year to my house by himself came a man. These are clear signs that my man is somewhere. And I thought a Dating site was a good way for him to look for me. And before that, on March 1, we had a meeting in the territory of a dream, and this fact said that he's looking for me, because he was looking for me in the territory of a dream. Because there were two men in that dream, and one man led him there to me, found me by my imprint in his mind. And since he brought him and stood on the sidelines, then my man looking for me. I thought that if he was looking for me, the smart man in our time will resort a Dating site.

And I went there for my man to find me. And here Shri Ram is the chief among the Asuras, he commands them all. And asuras have those everywhere through whom they look and choose their victims, whom they will subjugate. And on Dating sites are also, of course, there is. Because there come single women, and many come purely for entertainment, which are not entailing any responsibility. Of course, there are women who are looking for a couple, but while she is looking for, her can be pushed for anything, like, we should try him, and suddenly he the that need to. And Shri Ram, through the people he has on Dating site, saw me. Looks: the one that escaped from the pickuper, and here she came. And Shri Ram thought that with the pickuper to take revenge did not work and now he will send me different men, and I'm someone of them will decide to have sex.

And the first he sent a good lawyer, genteel, intelligent to the bone and fully confident, well-trained, experienced, refined. In a cafe he first pulled out from his purse a large bill and embarrassed paid for the order, as if he has no small money, as if all his the money are large. I immediately noted this method. NLP is good thing. We had a just mind-blowing roof raiser, pleasant trip to impress me, such a cultural, in my spirit, no shadow of vulgarity or pomposity. All the bounds of decency and at the same time very deliberately. For this target audience. Then they began to treat me according on a pickup technique «far — near», this like food is stewed in the oven. That is, you cast a fishing rod for lady, and you need to get away from her, because when you move away from her, she starts to think a lot about you, in my head thoughts spinning, and when you next time you appear, she softened and easier to fall into your arms. You make the first approach «far — near», get closer, and then move away for a while, then again come closer, move away, in the third approach sex is provided.

And they began to use this pickups technique. He calls, says, three days later again, he says, and I'm like tied to a phone, sit and await the telephone call. I looked at his behavior: he had there is a car broke down, then something else, the case is complex, then there is no time, then the car let his down... I looked at these pickups technique «far — near», and then one my lady friend gave me to read the book of Greg Behrendt and Liz Tuccillo «He's Just Not That Into You: The No-Excuses Truth to Understanding Guys».

And then I read:

He doesn't like you that much if he doesn't call you. Men know how to use the phone. Of course, they claim to be very busy. They had such a crazy day at work that there was not a single free minute when they could pick up the phone and call you. That was such a crazy day. Complete nonsense! In the era of cell phones, when there is such a wonderful invention as speed dial, it is simply impossible not to call you. Sometimes when my cell phone is in my pants pocket, he starts dialing people's numbers that I wasn't even going to call. Although we sometimes try to convince you otherwise, we men are very similar to you. We are pleased to escape from the routine of the working day and talk with a nice person. That makes us happy. And the desire to be happy is not alien to us. Just like you. If I really liked you, talking would color my terribly busy day with all the colors of the rainbow. And despite the many cases, I would have taken the time to call you and hear your voice.

The word «busy» is complete nonsense, it is usually used by donkeys. The word «busy» is like a weapon of mass destruction that can destroy any relationship in one gulp. Excessive «employment» may seem like a convincing excuse, but in fact behind this concept is always hidden a man who was not interested in calling you. Remember: men always have time to achieve what they want.

And then this jurist calls and says, they say, the car was repaired, ready to go to the next luxury trip. I was angry. I made a lot of claims to him, that I was not interested in this tactic «far — near», and even I had the audacity to ask him in the forehead, whether he likes me at all or not. Like, if you like me, then you must meet my expectations. I told him that I love when my man take care of me, are constantly interested in how I live and feel. I told him to call me several times a day, so I was calm, and if he doesn't like something, no one's keeping him here. Shri Ram was fully confident in the lawyer that he will put me on my knees, and suddenly I did off their hook and said for lawyer that phone he has and to call a minute is easy, but if according to plan he's got large list of women, which need to process, I don't want to be on that list.

Shri Ram got angry. He said: «This chicken wants to run away again, even though she went to a Dating site. What kind of man to send her, who she'd have sex with». And he began to me to send them in turn. They all began to write to me, to call every day continuously. I told the jurist that I'm not interested in men who aren't interested in me and who don't find time to just call me so that I am calm and that my expectations are justified. And Shri Ram took this into account and began to pressed on consciousness of those men so that they constantly call me, write to me. And Shri Ram sent me one good man, an painter, but I to Shri Ram and through this painter said a lot of quips. Shri Ram held manipulation with my consciousness, that I agreed to accept this painter as a guest at my house. He was so culturally, so nice, he dis not want to go to cafe and I agreed that he come to us as a guest.

Children then two weeks were at home, sick in turn, the house was a terrible mess, not to pass. And I said to this painter: «I'm going to give you a culture shock, because I'm not interested in you at all. You're not a my hero». In fact, Shri Ram wanted to see where and how we live now. He did the manipulation of my consciousness and I succumbed. I immediately told the artist that I was not afraid of him, that I see what he is, and that I'll neutralize him in one moment and nothing will remain of him. Already sitting in our kitchen, he wanted to show his paintings, we opened his website, and I began to comment on his paintings. It Shri Ram, sitting somewhere at home, mentally gave me the order to tell him about myself. I looked at all pictures of this painter, and I poked one of them and I said: «This picture grants wishes. Other paintings do not fulfill, and this one is the only one, and it fulfills the desires».

I told Shri Ram that I am his luck, I fulfill his wishes. First of all, I am a Genie who fulfills desires, such a cosmic specification is. And second, I am his luck. I told him through this painter in plain text, but he did not understand. He seems so smart, but he didn't understand. I told him: «All other women do not fulfill your desires, because a woman fulfills the desires of her man. I'm your luck, your wife. Wife is a luck. Wife brings luck to the house. Everyone else is nobody to you. I'm your real wife». That's what I said to Shri Ram, but he did not understand and continued to sending me more and more other men to force me to have sex with them or one of them, each time looking at my reaction. They all wanted sex from me, but I didn't go for it.

And Shri Ram decided to put pressure on me. He sent me a man, very respectable, interesting and very smart, by the way. He gave me the idea that it would be good for me to open my website, for my business. I didn't accept the idea at first, but after a while I appreciated its pros and got down to the real steps for its implementation. And this man began to demand from me remuneration, and in the form of sexual appointments. He began to browbeat me, that if I did not pay him, in the form of sexual encounters, then my business, for which I made this site, after some time, would burn, such blackmail, at such a low level. In this way, Shri Ram wanted so I can start having sex with this man for fear of his threats, that everything will collapse, if I don't agree to his harassment.

This man wanted thanks from me, hoping that me to reward him, and in a certain form, as sexual appointments. I told him that he was a man and should take some woman and be responsible for her, and not sit loner and not run for other people's women, induce them on sexual encounters, calling on his head sinful karmas reactions. He does not fulfill his male Dharma and should be glad that I, woman, used his idea, because owing to it he will have some benefit that he helped a woman. And I left him.

And then Shri Ram decided to use a woman to make me more compliant. He sent to me one of the inhabitants of the site, a good woman. We first communicated on the website and then in person in real life, friendly. And this Shri Ram through that woman said for me the following: «look at you, you're a plucked chicken. How old are you? You'll be 50 years old soon. You have two little kids who don't go to school yet. You're renting housing. You don't have your own place. You're nobody. You should be happy if some man just looks at you. You should throw yourself into his arms and not look, what he. For female health a regular sex life is necessary». And that to me my spoke my eternal husband, my Shri Ram through that woman, telling me that I'm substandard, defective goods. So what? But I'm your woman. Were you looking for me. And to find this defective goods, you paid a lot of asuric currency, gave it to seeker that knows how to find people on the trail of their energy on the territory of sleep. You paid him a lot of money to find this defective goods on the territory of sleep. And you came near me several times on the territory of sleep, and I saw you two there, but did not admit to myself, only on March 1 I let you get close to me.

And Shri Ram, who laid out this pile of Asuric money to find me in the territory of sleep, told me through this woman the following: «Rejoice, if at least someone will look at you, and immediately give yourself to him». But I didn't give in to that persuasion. I said to that woman: «I'm sorry, Madam, but I don't agree with you, because a woman should respect and appreciate herself. Even if I'm for a long time already not beautiful and not attractive, not super, so what? I didn't come here to seduce men with my charms and good qualities. I came here to give my man a chance. He needs it, he looking for me, because I saw him in my dream. I'm giving him a chance to find me. And the Universe itself gave me a sign that he is, that he will come to me. And if my man is, lives, I have to give him a chance. Why on earth should I be with other men out there, for health and to pleasure?» It was I who spoke so to Shri Ram through that woman, but he turned out to be a completely stupid, hopeless, impassable dullard.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He did not understand my direct explanations to him. But he still found me a good man. He considered all my wishes and found for me on this site a very good man. I was very uncomfortable to refuse him because he was actually very good and had serious intentions. Shri Ram was counting on it, that I would be embarrassed to offend such a good man. What good tricks he used, what reliable leads, what knowledge of female psychology, and all in order stow a woman under some man and then to them in their ordinary sex, by physical bodies, to connect to them invisibly, at distance and to pump out from the woman at her orgasm her female energy and piety. That good man wouldn't know anything about it. And I do too. But Shri Ram specifically did it to put me on stream.

But I did not succumb to his tricks and left off this site, thinking that all there are want only sex. Of course, someone might think I'm the same if I was on this site, but it is normal for a woman to be under the protection of her man, and I performed my Dharma, giving him a chance to find me and fulfill his Dharma — to protect me. But it's time to finish the second key and move on to the third, special. Leaving the Dating site, I said that I surrender to the will of the Lord. If it is written that it will be, then it will be, and if it is not written, then what is there to sit out? I left there. Shri Ram was perplexed: he tried so hard, but nothing happened. And it was two identical keys on a set of keys for my birthday — I lived in rented apartments, and Shri Ram sent to me different men, the pickuper, then all in a row on this site. The third key was special — and the apartment had its own, and Shri Ram turned on the heavy artillery — he personally joined me and turned on his force methods to really put me on my knees in front of all of them.

165. The third key is the force methods of the asuras

The second key was implemented, Shri Ram was left with nothing for the second time, when I brushed off all the people which he sent to me on a Dating site, and completely left out. And then I bought an apartment in a different place, the children went to school, I was very busy, and then on January 25, 2016 I went to find out about karate classes for children. And Shri Ram through that coach saw me from his eyes and was puzzled. And he tells me through the karate coach, in their allegorical language, woven in a string of ordinary words, that they say, you came to me for what purpose. And I answer to the trainer: «I came to arrange children. They stay at home all evening, I have to work, I want them to be somewhere arranging in a good useful place».

Shri Ram immediately thought: «Yeah, to attach... She wants to join my comrades with my asuric organization. I twice tried to attach her to our brethren, she twice refused, and then disappeared out of sight. She says: "I want to join you"». And Shri Ram thinks: «I'll give her a chance. But this time I not to lose her. This time I won't trust her to anyone, I'll do it personally, I will break her by using my asuric forces. She is very obstinate, for many years alone, no one is given, and she has accumulated a lot of female energy... Her safe is closed, but I will select key, I'm a great craftsman in this. I've broken many women and I'll break her. She feels in those who dealt with her that is not the level, and she wants a real man. She'll get it». And he's says for Asuras on their thought chat: «Guys, get ready, now I'll break her. I will take the first, and you stand ready, after she'll give me, we'll all fuck her together. We'll fuck her all the time with all our team, always».

Such he told them about me, about his eternal wife. Although I told him several times why I came to him. I told him that I was his luck, grant his wishes. I told him that I came to this site to give a chance to my man, and we already had some interaction there, and he has to find me. And then I came and told the coach that I came to arrange the children. But not to his brethren, and to him. But he told his fellow asuras about me that he will force me have sex with all of them, if necessary will apply the most powerful technologies, will break me. Like, she has not been with anyone for a long time, does not drink, does not smoke, energy should be much and top-quality. And he joined me personally and began to deal with me himself, personally. He also decided to connect to my kids to watch me through them and to have the information, what methods to use and to pull through my children from me my agreement on what he wants.

When I came home after talking to my coach, I started to notice that I was acting like someone was looking at me, and as if it was a man and I want to like him. I began to look at myself in the mirror and catch myself thinking that I specifically look in the mirror to look at myself. I began to wear different clothes, cuter, was somehow different look to their rings. I didn't feel anything. Just began to track a sharp change in my behavior. My behavior suddenly changed, as if someone was looking at me from my eyes, and as if it's a man, and as if and I wanted him to like me as a woman. I've never had that before.

I turned on my analytical mind and irrational thinking, I thought that it was the result of a conversation with this coach, and I came to the only option — that he joined me. And I even thought I was the one who came to him? In fact, it was Shri Ram who joined me through the coach. After a while I realized it and I got confirmation on that. Having joined, Shri Ram studied my habits, through my children looked at me, looking for my weaknesses. He's determined that soon he'll push me to sex. He mentally asked me, will I have sex and will I have an orgasm and what I have preferences in sex. And though I did not hear his question and did not know about it, but I'm in one of the letters my business customers gave him the answer.

In fact, I wrote the most common words about the work, but when I read this letter, I saw that I was in these simple words through them all allegorically told him about myself in sex. I was so ashamed... So ashamed. Because I realized that these words have a completely different meaning, invisible in the usual reading. And there in those words it was written, allegorically, that the other day his dream will come true, I will have an orgasm. When he decided this event was going to happen soon, he started press my women's centers in the body. I see that I act as if with me is a man, as if I want him to like me, and I see from this burning sexual desire inside me that this man wants sex with me. I thought about the coach. I thought: a nice man and he want me? And I thought: well.

And once I decided to answer him with consent and engaged in Masturbation.... Doing this, doing, nothing turns on, have not engaged in Masturbation, and when had sex, and don't remember. I even mentally exclaimed that I became frigid. But I felt his encouragement, reassurance that things will work out they say, keep it up. You know why? Because in that letter, when he asked me once mentally, I said in an allegorical form that everything would happen. And he kind of says, they say, you said yourself that everything will be, then must continue. But sexual sensation nohow did not turn. And he into my consciousness threw in pictures, mental images of men, with whom I once was. Then he sees that I don't want to think about my past men, and thrown into my mind pornography. But I kind of tell him: «I don't want to look there. I would have set my mind to you, I can see you want me. Why on earth should I think about others if you want me? But I don't know, maybe I have no right to tune in to you. What if you have someone there, and I have no right to tune in to someone who has someone. And anyway, I have the right to you to tune in?»

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And I hear in my mind the answer: «You can tune in to me». And it was a real voice, as if he told me himself, out loud, not mentally, but with a voice. And I clearly identified that voice as the voice of someone who was with me and who caused me this longing and desire, which I agreed to not because I wanted to, burned, but because I saw what it wanted he. At the very end of the conversation with the karate coach I told him: «Yes, it was long ago, but it was». I was talking to the karate coach about sports saying that I was at school was engaged in sports gymnastics, it was long ago, but it was, and I all remember. But through these simple words to the coach, I told Shri Ram, who looked at me through the coach's eyes, that you and I were together once, many, many lives ago, it was a long time ago, but it was, you and I were together, that's why I came to you. But Shri Ram thought: what difference does it make who I was once with, it was a long time ago.

But when he told me that I could tune in to him, I somehow sat my mind on him that appeared sensations and I got a sexual release. And Shri Ram was able to get from me a drop of my feminine energy. But since I was focused on him and mentally and energetically was with him and only him, the energy went only to him, but it wasn't enough for them. And Shri Ram decided that now it's time to force me to have sex with all his other associates. And I saw on my inner screen by my inner gaze a bunch of members of his Asuric organization, who crowded together in front of my face with their sticking dicks. They was like they were telling me: «Come on, nipple, go, do your job». I saw in front of me someone's dick that was sticking out, pushing me and hurrying me to that very job. I'm very strongly o furious and somehow the power of thought cast aside that dick and he flew somewhere far away. All dicks disappeared, and I fell asleep.

The next day he again tried to get me to spin on the continuation of that, but I refused. I told him: «Enough, I'm not interested. I saw: there were many other men»... They blatantly pushed at me, saying, go, work, do for all us pleasant, slut. When I did not agree to the continuation of that, Shri Ram started to press to my women's centers in order to the emergence of I have an irresistible lust and an unbearable desire to relieve sexual tension. But I resisted. I said I don't want to be with other men. But Shri Ram did not give up, and the next time I came for children to karate training, a coach in karate started a conversation with me about my son. He said: «Your son is difficult». I said: «I know». He said: «How do you deal with him?» I looked down at the floor and said: «By force methods», I mean, that I'm disciplining him. And the coach said: «Maybe there are other options?» I was silent.

It's actually Shri Ram through this coach told me: «We did not succeed with a pickuper. You got out of there, even though he's such a cool pickuper. You threw away the lawyer, although he likes everyone. And all of my manipulations and tricks fail. Even the man you didn't mean to offend, you still hurt him. And now you're tuned in on me, you have everything works fine, and I want you to participate in sex, without physical contact, through distance with all my employees of my asuric organization. We are all waiting, when we will begin to deflate from you all your feminine energy and all your piety. Not just me, we all want to fuck you. We want to fuck you, all our crowd. We all want to fuck you. How to make it happen?» And I through coach karate replied for Shri Ram: «By force methods». And he says: «Maybe there are other options?» And I'm like: «No, only force methods. More on me nothing will work». And he had to turn on these force methods.

It turns out that in our body there are some buttons, modes that cause the state, like animals. And he caused in me such a regime, what happens in animals during oestrus.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I've seen a dog's oestrus. And I look at myself as if from the side: I have such strange symptoms, like during dog's oestrus, I have never had such. All of this with all the incredible scents and strange liquids, flowing out of it and alien to our human body, with all the strange, signs not peculiar to the human body. And it's definitely not some kind of venereal disease, not thrush. That this is generally possible in the human body, I did not even guess. And it's increased, increased, as if me force to kneel down and begin to serve them all, because the sooner it's over, the better, if only it a little passed.

I saw that it was an outside influence. I turned to my lady friends, one of them said to complain to the overlords of Moriya. I thought that somewhere in the Universe, there are some persons who are keeping order and have the resources, authority, power to help me. I somehow tuned in to them and mentally sent them my request. I told them: «I'm a woman. I have the right to protection, to security». I told them it was an attack on me, that it was not mine, and I demanded that my attackers be punished, because I completely disagree with it. I didn't give my consent. I did not give them conscious consent. If I told him about my son, about the power methods, it does not mean that I consciously allowed him to do all this with me. No. If I for the very first time responded to his call to connect with him in a fit of passion, it's only because I saw what a man wants be with me and because I feel connected to him, as it was a long time ago, but it was. I feel that. And I appealed to the overlords of Moriya, demanded to punish my attackers and to protect me, to be free from this pressure. After 15 minutes, the symptoms that were in the body were gone.

I thought, I could invent it all, but I'm sorry: here are the panties, with all the ensuing, as well as the flavors of inhuman origin, but after 20 minutes there is nothing, as if nothing had happened. Like my netbook. Three weeks every day when you turn on the program on my netbook wrote that need help, and when I came my cousin, everything worked as it should, as if nothing happened at all, and I apologized to him that he came for nothing and the whole evening flew away for nothing. Same here: was, were, been, and then sharply, as if nothing had happened at all. And I realized that it was really someone who connected to me and he really wanted to put me on my knees in front of them all. Who am I? I am woman. I am good woman. What do you allow yourself?

Then another lady friend told me to read for who did it the Hare Krishna mantra and sing the protective mantras. I turned on the Mrityunjaya mantra, began to sing for his protection. Those of his companions were not against Mrityunjaya-mantra. But when I took out my rosary and sat down to read the Hare Krishna mantra for him, I felt that there were many of them and they all gathered at some mental meeting and discuss all this. And I hear in my mind someone's male voice, «Don't you dare do that. I kill you». And I immediately answer him: «I will beg Krishna right now, He will not leave a wet spot from you». I have read the one circle of Hare Krishna mantra for Shri Ram. I do not know what happened to the man who threatened me, but when I woke up in the morning, they all appeared on my inner screen, quietest, all stood in front of me and apologized.

166. The clue in the movie «Dirty Rotten Scoundrels»

Before writing this 222nd series began pouring some strange signs. I didn't know what they meant. On my desktop often began to pop up a screenshot of «Mahabharata» with the words «do not be so naive». I thought: what is it through these screenshots say for Shri Ram? And there was another little episode. It was hot outside, and I would water the flowers under the window every day. I bought a watering can and watered the flowers from it. One day I'm watering the flowers, some strange woman walks by, wrapped in warm clothes in the heat, with a wool scarf wrapped around her neck. Goes and something mumbling, and looking at me. I thought, maybe, she wants to tell me what, and addressed to her, and she as let's water me dirty swearing words supposedly go home and do not disgrace your... me these words so stunned... I do not know this woman, do not do anything bad, just watering flowers. I looked around myself from all sides: my clothes are OK, everything is in place, and everything is decent. But suddenly «go home and don't disgrace your...».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And here comes a passer-by man, I go to him: «Do you know that woman? She just said such dirty words to me, isn't she crazy? Maybe you know her?» He looked on her, she went into one of the neighboring the entrance of the house. I was scared: well, exactly crazy and lives nearby, and I'm here watering flowers every day in the front garden. And he answered, saying, not know her, from the back is not visible, you never know now roams the crazy, go, says, you home. And I answer him, they say, I wanted to water the flowers, a little bit left. And indeed, it was already watered three-quarters of the front garden, there was a very small piece. I was watering the flowers and went home.

Sit and mull over this picture. And I think: somebody from the Asuras affected on madwoman to bring me out of myself, they say: «Do not disgrace yourself with your nonsense, as the Asuras humiliated and used you, you're talking about yourself, not conceal anything, do not disgrace yourself, go to your Shri Ram, live with him like as ordinary home pussy, like you women, love that»... I immediately turned to my Shri Ram for protection, he looked at me through the eyes of passer-by man, and we talked with him in allegorical language. And I told him, they say, me, your wife, one of asuras insulted, punish the offender, he through madwoman dared to tell me that I'm like this and such. And Shri Ram said for me through that passer-by man: «Well, I don't know who worked on the madwoman, I can't see him, let's really finish a transcription of videos, let we become together, live the family life, I in the real world will come to you and we will forget the whole thing as a nightmare». And I answered him: «What are you, Shri Ram, I have to transcribe all a story in the text and show everyone, and just a little bit left, almost all of the text translated».

I understood what really happened, I thought: Shri Ram is not visible on those layers, he doesn't know who carried out the manipulation of the consciousness of the madwoman, but I can see. I mentally tuned in to one who told me dirty words through aunt's madwoman, and saw him by my inner gaze on my inner screen. I've dealt with him thoroughly, I think: well, now he's nobody, I did everything there main. And Shri Ram now will definitely see him there. And if he sees fit, he will continue punishment, avenge his wife, I mean me. Just then I was going to write down the 222nd series, about third key, the third attempt of Shri Ram to put me under his companions.

In the 222nd series, I described how Shri Ram used force methods to break me down and bring me to my knees. And now force methods was disabled, I began to chant the protective mantras in his defense on the recommendation of my lady friend. I sang them for a month. A month later, everywhere I went the signs, tips to start keeping a diary and record all the events in my life. I started to keep a diary and how to write down those meditations that I had when I sang these protective mantras. Shri Ram was amazed. He thought he was sitting in my thoughts. It turned out, not in all thoughts. He was very intrigued by this, and he decided with cunning to get access to where he did not have access, and with cunning he got this access. It was actually that was my plan with

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I made before I was born in this life, because there I showed him my life files where we with him were together as a couple. And he saw something there, that he came to me right there that day and kept saying «be my wife, become my wife».

I refused for a long time, and then I said: «OK, come with me in my meditation», turned on the Nrisimha mantra, went into my meditation, and he was there with me. And there, Nrisimhadev tied us to him by the marriage bond and said: «Well, now they are husband and wife». Krishna said there: «Let's live together». After that, after a while, somewhere in June, we give him a good, wonderful woman in real life, and he dived into this woman entirely. He saw that she was so refined, so feminine. I compared with it simply no one, and she is so sublime, lady, a real woman, perfect. Such a woman wants to protect, cherish. And to protect me and to cherish do not want to. And to protect her and cherish want.

And Shri Ram switched to her and dived into her, but to me he said: «You're free, go free swimming». But I said I don't agree, I'm not going anywhere, I'd be with him. And he decided that I would serve him energetically, like a bunch of non-contact whores, with whom he had sexual energy interaction through distance. To this woman with whom he was in real life, he showed that he is very serious that he is very reliable that he is provided, respectable that he is one, the free man. As if what he was offering me «be my wife, become my wife» and we were married, not at all. Like nothing ever happened.

He showed her that he was a free man. He represented himself very solidly, well. He took her to restaurants, he arranged for her just mind-blowing, gorgeous unexpected adventures but he treated me like a whore and made me his non-contact-bitch and periodically had with me sexual energy interaction through distance, without physical body contact. I did not know that when the karate coach told me that I was free and to go home, that it was Shri Ram who told me to go to free swimming through those words of the coach, that he already had a good woman and he felt with her as a real man, and with me a real man he did not feel. All this I told in the 222nd series of my novel, using screenshots from the movie «Dirty Rotten Scoundrels».

And when I got to commenting on this situation, and I discovered why I was actually disgracing my... that's when I got to commenting on the situation where Shri Ram was with that woman that summer and made me his non-contact-bitch and periodically had with me sexual energy interaction through distance, without physical body contact. And there was a screenshot with Janet sitting in front of the Professor, and he hid from her behind a newspaper. And I based on this screenshot described the situation when I did not know that I was from the category of his wife moved to the category of his non-contact whores, but I continued to refer to him as a husband and behave accordingly. And here I sit, comment on this screenshot and I say that I then addressed to him: «Husband, husband», and he hid behind the newspaper and thinks: «Get off me. Go on, to rub my Shoe or something. Calm your nerves».

When I said that phrase that I wasn't going to say, I stopped. I realized that Shri Ram put me on the stream, that they have achieved, since I said in Russian «иди ботинок потри» — «go to rub my Shoe». Legs are what serve the body, that is, subordinates, lower in hierarchy. A Shoe is what's on your feet, even not the legs. And «to rub it». Three men for me one? And with me immediately was three? I said in Russian «иди ботинок потри» — «go to rub your Shoe». «Потри» sounds like «по три» — «three at once»: Shri Ram suited me triplet? This when with one woman are several men on the energy plan in sexual energy interaction through distance, pumped out from her one channel simultaneously, by wide fan, as in this case the three of us. Sad story... he put me on the stream, and I thought that with me my husband, but he said: «What a husband? What do you mean? For you only shoes and the not fully, and so, there the tip any on boot print». From my words quite clearly seen that there they were several men at once, as shoes and not completely, i.e. not one at a time, it was still a place for other, the dicks of his asuric organization. And so all that summer was. I said: «Husband, husband», and he said: «Go to rub my Shoe».

So I disgraced before the whole asuric community, saying out loud that my Shri Ram, my eternal husband, made me his non-contact-bitch, gave me to his friends for fun and connected another men in our sexual energy interaction through distance, several men with me one and pumped me out my feminine energy and my piety mercilessly. Shame a lot. I wanted him to tell me the truth about it, when I bought that cactus with false flowers and when I told him: «Open it, open it, you owe me to open it». I wanted him to tell me that truth, and that's why I tortured him, drilled his eyes by my long snake tongue, and after I from bottom pulled into him the rod with hot thorns, who dug into it and burned painfully. That's what those screenshots said, don't be so naive.

167. Rub the shoe

Shri Ram thought that if it is on the energy plane and I don't feel or know that, then I'll never know. But now the time has come, he was told: «Don't be so naive, Krishna is in everyone's heart, and in yours, Shri Ram, too. And Krishna sees everything. Asuras, don't you know that? Like you're so smart, but such basic truths are not known». Krishna has revealed it to me now. And at the end of that summer, I made an cool maneuver. I summoned Borka, the former leader of the Moscow Asuric organization, attracted his attention, and angered him that I did not succumb to his next encroachments in my direction. And after that I went to their patriarch Bhishma, who had all the information, all the files about all the Asuras. I went to Bhishma to cry about Shri Ram and ask for help. Shri Ram thought that he doesn't need unwanted attention, especially those who are much more and who can him instantly destroy, and Shri Ram decided to get rid of me.

He started doing manipulations of my consciousness to get me to leave him. And when he such first manipulation carried out in this direction, I wrote to the acquaintance the letter that I delete all folders with all his texts from the computer, and in that letter were the words «I want to smash you and your letter to smithereens». And immediately began the collapse of Shri Ram`s life. From August 19 to September 3, all of his assets began to go into the wrong hands, and September 3rd would be the final blow, when he was supposed to become a nobody. He was told to ask for my forgiveness — so I would protect him. He did all sorts of manipulations of my consciousness to force me to give him protection, but nothing worked on me. He even these women non-contact whores sent to me. But I didn't give in to anything, and I was even more enraged, that these non-contact whores before my inner gaze are, I spoil my nerves and say: «You're just like us, and we are many». And I told him and all of them that he's mine or nobody's. He decided that it is better mine, than nobody's, and then I gave in to his manipulation, I called the trainer, the trainer began to cry that something so strongly piled, such that it is direct horror, here now everything will collapse.

And I was perplexed: how can it be? After all, the coach's life is adjusted, everything is good, but I regretted him and wished good luck. And right from that moment on, within half an hour, Shri Ram's Affairs went on own manner. The last blow was not followed, and even, on the contrary, he began to return his assets. On September 3, it happened when I protected him, saved him, and on September 4, I burned the inner eye of one of his valuable companions, and after my Gurudev made for Shri Ram an offer through a lecture. My Gurudev for Shri Ram offered me as his wife. Shri Ram was told that he has only one option in life that nothing more to him in this life, only I. Like, if he does not accept me, he will become a nobody. He was forced to agree. He was told that the fact that he almost became bankrupt, a poor homeless man, has not gone anywhere, it's not canceled and can return at any time, that he must give me the rights and status to which I have every right and that he should do it.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

He was forced to accept this choice without a choice, say «you're not my choice, you're my destiny». And he stood with me again. He left that woman. After some time I started this Mahabharata, I began to cross out all these Asuras from the material world to the spiritual world through their service to Krishna in their future lives in ISKCON, in the mission of Srila Prabhupada. And even after this he again turned me away when Lona, the ideal of the vagina, he was hooked. He told me again «go, you're free». And because of that, some man came to me, with whom we have been together for many past lives.

Shri Ram thought that with Lona he will be all on top. He thought Lona was a jewel, and I'm nothing, cheap. Lona was well, very good. I'm bad and I keep being bad. He cherished that Lona as the most valuable thing in the world and protected her from me, so reverently treated her. And he refused me. But we opened Lona's Scam. He saw that it was a trap to make him impotent, and in sex, and in life, on all life's plans, to cross him off, to erase him from life at all. Somehow he was able to break away from her, came to me again. If he had stayed with Lona, then after a while Lona she would have left, because when his dick would have stopped standing and working, she would have said: «something men went weak, quickly go out». Shri Ram would have shed tears then, but it would have been too late, there would have been nothing to return.

I think it would be the best revenge for him. I'm sorry I saved him. I'm sorry that I saved him from the collapse of life, it would be good if he got it, and I'm sorry that I saved him with this Lona. He did not spare me. Why should I feel sorry for him? Why did I spare him? And it was the third key, special, of those three keys on a bunch of keys that somehow ended up on my chair on my birthday, because Shri Ram himself hooked up with me, implementing force methods. He thought everyone was stupid, and he's the smartest, can deceive all. The third key was also implemented.

In total, all three keys were implemented, what I found in an unknown way at us on the first apartment on my birthday. On the chair I found a bunch, which was two of the same key, and the third some special. It was November 21, 2016. And on November 1, three weeks before, was a sign of the Universe, when the water poured from the ceiling and a man came to my house and three times knelt in front of me, checking the valves in the pipes. And all of these keys are implemented. The first was in the first apartment when Shri Ram tried to run me through a pickuper. The second was in the second apartment when he tried to the subjugation me using men from a Dating site. The third key is special — in our apartment, when Shri Ram himself personally connected to me and included power methods. And the fact that the pickuper at that flood three times knelt in front of me, I regarded as the fact that all three times in an attempt to subjugate me Shri Ram failed.

But when I recorded the 222nd series and accidentally said about the Shoe, commenting on the picture from the film «Dirty Rotten Scoundrels», when Janet appealed to the Professor, but he hid from her behind a newspaper, in those words

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I saw that in the summer of 2016, when Shri Ram became with that good wonderful woman, when he switched to her and said for me that I free and to leave him, but I said that I not going anywhere, he decided to leave me as his non-contact-bitch, through distance, without physical body contact. And to me energetically was connected several Asuras and they are on one of my channel at the same time pumped out my female energy, like from an oil rig.

I thought it was my Shri Ram, I told him: «My husband, I like you so much, I need you so much», and he was sitting there with this woman who was in his real life, and he lied to her, too, that he had no one else. Although he was always with someone at the energy plan, someone was pleasuring him. For Asuras that in the real life, that having connected energetically, there is no difference. Feels the same. They know how to do, as if in physical contact. Three times Shri Ram failed to crush me when he was doing it actively when he was struggling, tried very hard, applied all their asuric strength, skill, used all his tricks, the knowledge of female psychology, NLP, pickup, on after this all summer I was their non-contact-bitch and he added in our sexual energy interaction through distance many different another men from his asuric organization.

How come he gave me to them for fun? How did this even happen? And not once, but the whole summer. And he looked at it quite calmly and he asked me to do it, like he faithful to me, miss to me, that he has no one else, that he needs it, he's a man. At the very beginning I told him through the words of one letter that I am his luck, that is, his wife, as the wife brings good luck. And after that, I showed him my life files, which we were together in some old past lives. As after all this he quietly watched that I was with other men?

When I many lives were born in Asuric worlds, it was the same. I was married there every time. And that husband himself gave me to his friends for fun, and I thought that with me he and said: «My husband, my husband». And they said: «What I you husband?» And this time the same thing happened, only with Shri Ram. This realization shocked me to the depth of the depths that it happened to me again, though through distance, without physical body contact. How the material world is a terrible place. And I thought that it was not in vain that his life began to crumble at the end of August 2016. In Manu-Samhita (3.55–3.56) declares: «Women must be honored and adorned by their fathers, brothers, husbands, and brothers-in-law, who desire their own welfare. Where women are honored, there the gods are pleased. Where they are not honored, no sacred rite yields rewards. Where the female relations live in grief, the family soon wholly perishes; but that family where they are not unhappy ever prospers. Female relatives pronounce a curse on houses where women are not honored; these houses perish completely, as if destroyed by magic. Men who seek their own welfare should always honor women».

That is, he his wife, who he sought whose hands he himself asked and who was handed to him by Nrisimhadev, gave to his friends for fun, saying to them: «She thinks that with her I, and you, while she thinks so, enjoy. With other bitches, of course, more interesting, but the piquancy of the situation still gives the sharpness of impressions and feelings. Look it up yourself: am I your leader. And she was once my wife, and before that she not to succumbed me three times. And right now you all will use her, and she will do it herself, on her own, because she thinks that with her is her husband. You guys think seriously. It's such a cool, spicy situation. You will get a lot of satisfaction just from the realization that she, whose which is not affected force methods, now does it voluntarily. And this chatter "Husband, husband", as even interesting, well, more interesting, more fun. Go all in chorus, get high».

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

That's what Shri Ram did to me then. And no wonder he had a meltdown after that. He did not understand how it happened that all his assets suddenly fly to the heart. He was always good, in business, in everything. Everything was always fine. He considered himself a clever person and to some extent even cunning, quirky, cunning. He did not understand how it happened that everything collapses, as if by the will of rock. Yes, indeed by the will of doom, because when the unholy women curse, everything becomes destroyed as a magical force. In the Manu-Samhita (3.55–3.56) declares: «Women must be honored and adorned by their fathers, brothers, husbands, and brothers-in-law, who desire their own welfare. Where women are honored, there the gods are pleased. Where they are not honored, no sacred rite yields rewards. Where the female relations live in grief, the family soon wholly perishes; but that family where they are not unhappy ever prospers. Female relatives pronounce a curse on houses where women are not honored; these houses perish completely, as if destroyed by magic. Men who seek their own welfare should always honor women». So then to Shri Ram came the fatal failure.

And he had the audacity after all of that to come to me, to manipulate my consciousness, to make me, who he had so cunningly omitted, to wish him good luck, that his financial Affairs would go well, that he would not fail. He hoped it would work. But I didn't succumb for his manipulation, and he sent those women to me. He probably thought that if women beg, I would fulfill their request. He made me the same as they did, even though I three times did not succumb to his encroachment. I then wanted to destroy it as wrote about it in one letter that I want to smash you and your letter to smithereens.

It is a pity that I spared him. But I then showed 649–650th series «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», there Banasura he strangled his wife Vani but Shiva came and saved her. And then Shiva said to her: «Stay close to Banasur, Vani. Never leave him alone. Continue to inspire him to achieve goals for what he received this thousand hands». This I was told through the words of Shiva. And it was said to me after he gave me to his companions, so they took revenge on me for all those times when I did not succumb to his maneuvers, not yielding to his tricks and not showing him any respect. Shiva told me not to leave him alone and stay with him after that. Why? And how can you stay with someone who acts like that? Who does not know how to keep his word and does not consider it necessary. How can you be with someone who can not be responsible for their words? Who said the word today, and cancelled tomorrow.

168. If you can't stand the heat get out of the kitchen. Those who became deaf and dumb

And after that my Gurudev for Shri Ram offered me as his wife, and he described my virtues in this way... The description of these virtues still impresses me. I think: am I such that I have never used the wrong words, other men, I use the right words at the right time? I've never used the wrong words, I mean other men, and I'm always focused on my man. How did I find myself in this situation? And how did he propose to Shri Ram after all this? Why were there other men with me when I said «husband»?

How is it that when I said «my, my», I was with a bunch not my men? How did those another's get in? For what reason many another's suddenly was with me? And why, after that my Gurudev told Shri Ram that I never used the wrong words, that I've never had another men? And I decided that they all their future lives will be deaf-mutes. Everything comes at a price. Well, if all these men were not mine, let them become deaf-mutes. Because then I said «my, my», they said: «Why am I yours? I'm another's, stranger. I'm not your, I'm not mine», that in Russian is «не-мой». Well, if you're another's, «не-мой» (in Russian), then to become really «немой» (in Russian) — deaf-mutes (in English).

I thought, how did Shri Ram, after a string of those not my men and who will deaf-mutes, accept my Gurudev's offer? After all, everyone in his organization knew what role I had there was that summer. And the attitude towards me, most likely, was appropriate. No wonder coach karate in a situation where Shri Ram had Lona, so disdainfully threw me off my pedestal. He must have been happy to put the cocky bitch in her proper place. And Shri Ram did not scruple to take his wife one of his non-contact whores, which many of his asuric organizations tried.

How did he look into the eyes of his companions? Because they knew that about me. Most likely, he was so terrible situation that he didn't care, what to take, even the woman who had a lot of other men. Because I'm not his choice, I'm his destiny. He told me that he would always protect me, and then called those others, and he asked me to be with him to fulfill my conjugal duty, those who were with me then signed their own sentence. I felt very sorry for them because how could they return to Krishna into the spiritual world if all their future lives they will deaf-mutes and could not hear the mantra or pronounce it. But what to do, for everything you have to pay.

Shri Ram was so fell when in the summer of 2016 he started using me as non-contact-bitch who serving on the energy plan needs for the companions from his Asuric organization. Because it brought a lot of upheaval in this organization. And in his life in particular. After all, because of this, he almost became a bankrupt, a beggar homeless person on September 3, 2016. And then I would destroy in Shri Ram all his Asuric abilities, and he would become nothing at all, and then, not accustomed to such hopeless helplessness and fatal bad luck, he would end ignominiously ended his life. I would have destroyed him, because I would have understood what he did to me. A comparison of how powerful he was and how he has become insignificant would burn him harder stronger than the napalm which I would have burned him.

And now it's time for him to say goodbye to those guys, future deaf-mutes, who all summer 2016 added in our with Shri Ram sexual interaction through distance, when he told me he is the only one with me, that he is faithful to me, that him this need to, and he included them in our sex, non-contact. Leave them alive was impossible. Everyone in his organization knew what he did to me. And they had no respect for me. Even the karate coach did not miss the opportunity to satisfy his desire to see me in the appropriate place for me — at the bottom, on the bench waiting for his turn. Like, where climbed, you have no one and have no right to raise your head, sit there and know your place. Even if he and they is not such a big specialist, dared me to behave, what to speak of others, especially those who personally, had the good fortune to be with me, even in energy terms, but for the Asuras there is no difference, with the contact of the bodies or at a distance happens, for the Asuras all the same.

And leave those who were with me, then they then invoked or talked about how, that this was, was impossible to allow. Not to mention that they were so insidious to mislead me, because I thought that with me my Shri Ram. In my Mahabharata I in the winter removed Moscow and St. Petersburg Asuras, who participated in such schemes, and it would be wrong to leave these alive. Shri Ram was very sorry to lose such specialists. They there have him did something right for him. And they were even somehow dear to him. But why should he care more about them than about me? Who are they? Now they are with him, and tomorrow they are not. And I am his eternal wife, even if I did not have many lives with him. But through distance, invisibly I kept in touch with him and even contributed for his development.

Shri Ram was very sorry to part with those deaf-mutes, but what to do. When I said «mine, mine», it wasn't mine. When I expunged them, I felt very sorry for them, because how will they return to Krishna? After all, everyone whom I expunged, I made Krishna devotees. All of them many next lives will be born as the devotees of Krishna and will serve Srila Prabhupada many lives in ISKCON and will return the lost souls to the spiritual world, thus earning their return there. And how will they return to Krishna if they do not hear anything? After all, this is one channel that I completely burned, and when I burned this channel with fire, it became completely empty and sterile. And no hearing AIDS, new methods of hearing restoration and implant implantation will not help them, since he was born this way and it is incorrigible.

They will never hear music, speech, birds singing, the sound of rain, the splash of waves on the shore, they will never hear «I love you». How can they return to Krishna into the spiritual world if they can only read about Krishna consciousness, but they cannot chant the mantra, sing in the kirtans, on the harinams? Just making them deaf-mutes is not our goal. Our goal is to bring them back to the spiritual world and that they helped many. And when I expunged them, I turned on the farewell kirtan Bhakti Tirtha Swami «jai jai radhe jai jai shyam jai jai jai vrindavan-dham» and made them sing it. I thought, this is the last thing they hear, and the last thing they say. The last thing they say is Hare Krishna.

I thought that someone had to spread Krishna consciousness among the deaf-mutes, and it would be them, those who, when I said «my», came up to me and were with me, although they knew that they were not mine and that I only wanted mine. I made them all listen and sing this kirtan with Bhakti Tirtha Swami, I imprinted every word of this kirtan into their essence, and these sounds merged with them. I thought that they could earn their return home, back to Godhead, back to the spiritual world, preaching Krishna consciousness among the deaf-mutes. But that was not all than the asuric organization of Shri Ram paid for my humiliation.

169. I'll overtake you anyway!

On September 4, 2016, the day after I saved Shri Ram from the collapse of life, through me he was shown that for insulting me I will not kill him, because he is my eternal husband, but to deprive him of all his Asuric forces and abilities and make him forever an ordinary insignificant human being I can. Then he thought that I just intimidate him, and I on September 4 burned at one of his subordinates out internal eye. I remembered how my second husband and I went to one place for document and there I felt someone else's penetration into me, as if some tentacles with eyes at the end climbed into me and look out there. Then I stopped that penetration, telling that person that he has no right to do it and that stopped. Immediately those tentacles were gone.

And here on the evening of 4 September, I remembered that, I realized that he's one of them that he is in asuric organization of Shri Ram. And I immersed myself in the memories of that meeting. I closed my eyes and mentally sat in the same place opposite that man with those invisible, but so nasty, disgusting tentacles, and I mentally looked into his eyes. And then I released from my eyes pillar of fire into his eyes, and it went right into his eyes. And I was just mentally watching this powerful stream of fire from my eyes burned through the eyes opposite, and there was all completely burned, there was an empty and completely black channel. Then I breathed a sigh of relief, saying that he had no right to do that.

Then Shri Ram alarmed: how did it happen that such a large eye suddenly became waste and a nobody, common man. So Shri Ram was shown what was waiting for him. And when I told about the third key in the 222nd series, as a result of which I learned that Shri Ram all summer 2016 added in our sexual energy interaction through distance many different another men, I began to consider the picture from the film «Dirty Rotten Scoundrels», which depicted Rupert with a black bandage on his eye and with a fork in his hand, and on the fork was a cork to don't poke eye. I just pumped up a bunch of pictures from the Internet from this movie, intending to use them to comment that situation, and did not understand what this picture with Rupert and a fork in his hand could tell. When I was looking at this picture, I said that one eye has no (after all, Rupert was without one eye) that will remove the plug from the plug and to cleave the second eye.

When this series was already recorded, I remembered my words and thought that for a reason I said that one eyes already there is no. I remembered September 4 and how I burned out that inner eye of that fellow with the ugly tentacles that could get inside people and see everything they needed, and I thought it was the first eye, and now will the second. I thought that Shri Ram has another such specialist with such an eye, able to intrude in people and look out there what he needs, and I tuned to him and repeated the same procedure: also released from my eyes into his eyes pillar of fire and made it all empty and black, completely lifeless.

But that wasn't all. 222th series of, in which I considered picture with Rupert with a fork in drawn, I recorded 14 June. Right there I burned the second eye in asuric organization of Shri Ram. And after I recorded the 225th series in which I pondered history with the adding in our with Shri Ram sexual energy interaction through distance lots of dumb, that is not mine men. And then I chose one of the associative metaphorical maps to describe this process, as those dumb connected to me. This is where a woman holds out her hand to a man who stands in front of her, he also holds out her hand, and behind him is hand of another man, who as if reaching out to her through the man standing in front of her.

That is, a woman pulls her hand to the man who she sees in front of him and who shows for her that he is reaching for her, but in fact behind him is another and also pulls to her hand. And it turns out that she does not see the other and does not even suspect of his existence, but the hand of the other, as it were, through the hand of the man standing before her, finds the invisible connection with her. The man that stands in front of a woman and whom she sees his eyes, is a connecting medium between her and the man she never sees, but who is be there and who is not shy to use her trust to someone who she sees in front of him. And in the 225th series I tried to describe the process of connecting the silent in the example of this picture.

It was June 18, 2018. And on June 29, just 11 days after the burning of the second eye in the asuric organization of Shri Ram, I transcribed the text of the 172nd series, which spoke about sending those of the Asuras who hunted in social networks, adding to friends. And in the 172nd episode, I saw the same picture. These two situations somehow superimposed on each other, and I became more closely and more closely to watch that 172nd series. Screenshots with her and my words were there for me a complete revelation. I saw that in the 172nd series, which I recorded at the end of January, I told about the Asura, who was left uncovered when sending a bunch of dumb at the end of June.

I saw that in the 172nd series, the friend that Shri Ram asked me to spare and let him live, that he was among those who in the summer of 2016 had the flippancy to connect to me in our with Shri Ram sex, looking at me as their bitch and treating me the same. As it so happened that after I had already sent all the dumb to their future lives, suddenly it emerged that one of them was safe and sound to this day, because I spared him at the end of January at the request of Shri Ram and he was under my protection and when I expunged those dumb. In transcribing the 172nd series into text and reviewing it from this perspective I saw that there I said to a cockroach, crawling into Srila Prabhupada's clothes: «Oh, you want to hide at the Lotus feet's of Srila Prabhupada? I'll overtake with you anyway!»

I realized that someone from the organization of Shri Ram hid from the retribution although who was with me among those who not my men, because I protected him at the request of Shri Ram, when sending those who added to friends in social networks. I thought that Shri Ram knew that his friend was with me in sex without physical contact, energetically, felt me, but he didn't punish him and even begged to spare him then. I felt so offended! For Shri Ram his friend was more expensive than I! And he asked me not to kill the one who was with me in that intima on the energy plan! He did not care about my feelings, his friend was more expensive for him than my feelings and my self-esteem and self-respect. But in 172th series I said to the cockroach, I'll still catch it. And I thought, Shri Ram, I'm sorry, but you have to say goodbye to this fellow.

Shri Ram mourned that I got to this man. How did I know about that? That day my son lost his toy. And he all that day lamented that toy was gone. And I told him not to cry, that I'll buy him another toy. So I know that Shri Ram was very sad that he will remain without a comrade from his asuric organization. But I through the words for my son said to Shri Ram do not cry, that I'll find somewhere in the vastness of the areas specialist and he will not be hurt.

I did a lot of things with him that day, and reformatted his chakras and burned through and filled of the mantras. At one point, I stood in front of him as huge snake with a wide-open mouth right in front of his eyes and turned on a powerful pull from him, knowing Shri Ram looking into my mouth from that man's eyes. I mentally told him: «Look at me, here is she I, you look on me through eyes his friend, whom I very soon'll remove quite. Look at me! Remember this for the rest of your life!» I thought that Shri Ram looks him from my eyes and me from his eyes at the same time. And I hiss at him, at Shri Ram, but without killing the one from whose eyes he looked at me like as angry snake, and deliberately for a long time so standing in front of his eyes, that this image of me with a forked snake tongue in indescribable rage forever imprinted in his memory.

When I started strike out him in the evening, I was washing the dishes and turned on the Mrityunjaya mantra as usual. I remembered when I stroked out those who were added to friends in social networks, I turned on Mrityunjaya mantra and spread it to myself, to Shri Ram, and to the man he asked for. And this time, when I started strike out him, I started singing the Mrityunjaya mantra again, but this time I kind of ordered that I take off the effect of this mantra from him and remove that protection. And after I washed dishes and sang Nrisimha-mantra and Hare Krishna kirtan and I sent him into the funnel from above. I thought maybe I could specify him some special future, but

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I decided that he would just sing on the streets of Hare Krishna on the harinams and distribute Srila Prabhupada's books, as I had defined for all the Asuras on the deadline.

When he flew into that funnel from above, I turned on some light music to relax, on random playback of songs in my list. And the first one that sounded was Boris Grebenshchikov's song «I can't take my eyes off you». There were such words:

I was born this morning
Before the first light of dawn.
Silence on outside,
The silence is inside me.
I bow to the stars,
I bow to the light of the moon,
But inside I have no one inaudible sound,
Which rises from the depths.
I was born in the North
To stay safe longer.
I have no friends,
So that no one can shoot down the sight.
The sea parted in front of me,
Unable to withstand the heat of fire,
And all the arrows inside went off scale
At the first glimpses of the day.
I can't take my eyes off you.

I thought it was about Shri Ram, he's in silence now, because I crossed off his friend, and now he doesn't have that friend.

170. «Why are you hesitating, Partha? Shoot him!»

But that wasn't all. After that, I transcribed the 222nd series into text, in which I told how Shri Ram conducted power methods. There I noticed two characters — the one who stood first after Shri Ram made the opening of our sexual energy interaction through distance and then put in front of me his companions to I began to please them all sexually without physical contact, through distance. The second was the one who dared to threaten me when I started to Hare Krishna mantra for Shri Ram. I thought: are these comrades alive? Really they are still alive and thriving, although at that time dared to come to me in such a role and even threaten me? I thought it didn't a case. The first, who had the audacity to stand in front of me and demand to serve him sexually, should be punished.

It is wrong that they treat women like rubbish. We have the right to respect. And even on worship. Why would asuras chase women and their feminine energy like that? They need it. They can't do their business without her. They're weakening without it. When the father of Duryodhana, the former king of the Asuras` kings, was left without his organization and without a crowd of non-contact whores from whom he had that energy, oil, fuel, on which they, Asuras, go, he cried very much and did not know how to live at all. And he was saved by his wife, which he himself sold on the energetically to all comers. He was saved by a woman. So why such disrespect to those, from whom they vitally depend? And the second, also big, dared to threaten me, even death. He didn't think about my children. How would my children live without me, without their mother? Who is he to threaten me?

And when I described the situation in my file with the text of my novel, I wrote the following words:

But when I got a rosary and sat down to read for him Hare Krishna mantra, I felt that there are many of them and they all gathered at some mental meeting and discuss it all. And I hear in my mind someone's male voice: «Don't you dare do that. I kill you». And I immediately answer him: «I beg Krishna right now, He will not leave a wet spot from you».

And after the word «kill», when I wanted to put a quote, my hand accidentally touched the neighboring button on the keyboard and jumped exclamation point. Get: kill! And I, of course, immediately noted it.

I thought it was the right decision. It was said that they should be killed. This was indicated by an exclamation mark. It follows that they are still alive. And then because of a typo, the word «two» was written. I looked at that: I was told that they were alive, that the two of them, that they are very large in the organization of Shri Ram, since it is unlikely that the first who after Shri Ram is small fry. And only the biggest after Shri Rama could threaten me. And I started strike out them. I turned on the song Enya «Only time» and took the first man of them. I let go of my hands in a spontaneous dance, reformatting his chakras. And after my left hand rose with the index finger raised directly under him, at its very bottom, and the right hand stopped in a blessing gesture, like the goddess Lakshmi.

I looked at myself: what I stopped, and even in this at such a dance position of hands? And then I realized: my hands stopped moving and formatting his chakras, because now will be the next step. And then I saw from my raised index finger of the left hand escaped some powerful fire and began to burn everything inside him. And I burned everything inside of him with that finger to the music, raising my finger higher and higher until there was nothing left of him, just a big black empty pipe. When I went through so all through it from bottom to top, on my table fell toy Hippo, who raising his hat. I looked at him. He fell right at the feet of toy hedgehog and lied in front of him, as if begging for mercy.

I thought: «Shri Ram, what do you want? I'll strike out him anyway. He had no right to treat me like that». But Shri Ram brought to my consciousness a request for mercy, that he has children. I remembered I felt sorry for the other man whom Shri Ram added in our sexual energy interaction through distance at the very beginning of my novel before I started my Mahabharata. On that occasion I also wanted to remove him, but he begged me for mercy, saying that the little child will remain without a father. And again the same: again want to soften me because of someone's children there. But they didn't spare my children. When he told me he was going to kill me, he didn't think about my children, how would they be without me? And when Shri Ram used force methods for me, no one thought about my children: how will my children live with me, with such a broken female nature? And when asuras put me on their Asuric totalizator, no one thought about my children, what will happen to them. Then why should I think about their children? Why would me?

But Shri Ram asked me very much to spare him and not to strike him out completely. And then I decided to look at my desktop, which randomly every 30 seconds replace each other more than 3000 screenshots from the television series «Mahabharata». When I opened the desktop, there was a series of pictures with Dhrishtadyumna, a warrior with a sword standing in the fire, then with Krishna who holded out his right hand with his outstretched index finger, then with the demon Mayasura who begged to spare him during the forest fire, this is when Krishna forgave him in exchange for service. I realized from this series of screenshots that we forgive one of them, we will not send at all, but I will do the second anyway. But I was waiting for something. And then I opened my desktop again. There was a screenshots with Krishna saying to Arjuna: «The Sun is already setting. You swore an oath to be merciless and destroy the enemies of Dharma. Why do you hesitate, Partha? Shoot him!»

And then I removed my internal sight from the man at whom I've already burned everything, and I stood up like a snake before the second. I did a lot of things with him, and then I stood over him and dripped drops of my burning snake venom on him, why he immediately came out of his body and flew away into the suddenly formed funnel from above. Here is that I made in asuric organization of Shri Ram. Such global consequences come to them due to just one non-contact-bitch, who he didn't think was human person, woman, and mother. And who turned out to be his eternal wife. Very much Shri Ram paid for the fact that some of his non-contact whores he gave to his friends from his asuric organization. But in fact it is not at all inexpensive, since this bitch was his eternal wife, whom he is obliged to protect. What a paradox! And how cruel this world is.

The commenting of the screenshot from the Comedy «Dirty Rotten Scoundrels» when Janet turned to the Professor, and he fenced from her by a newspaper, shocked me to the depths. After all, the words I said then that to go clean your shoes, meant that Shri Ram added in our sexual energy interaction through distance many different another men from his Asuric organization. Pronounced me words devastated me completely. And I thought then that he was with me, that he was happy that he met me, even if we have not yet joined in real life, but he has already seen me, that here I am, live, feel, I'm with him, so incredibly close. I thought he saw us with him in my life files and cherishes those visions in his mind. I thought that he treats me like a jewel, because I'm his eternal mate, I am his Shakti and he miraculously this Shakti found.

But the truth was bitter and cruel: he ran for the first skirt, which we led for him. And he immediately refused me, although he had been looking for me everywhere and even paid a lot of Asuric currency to Asuric sleuth to find me on the trail of my energy, of my image. I thought that our meeting on the territory of the dream to him made a strong impression as to me. But when the first woman he got, who was part of his image of the ideal woman, approached him, he immediately refused me. He gave me to his friends for fun. Yes, this was not in physical reality, and energetically, through distance, but he kept me in the dark. Shri Ram many times asked me to do this to help him. And I agreed to do my conjugal duty to protect him. And he in this time was with the other, in the real life. And he didn't care how I live, what I feel and what happens to me.

171. Because of one curse, half a thousand asuras will go on sankirtana

Realizing this, I saw clear Parallels with my births in the Asuric worlds. Then I was born many times there to kill some biggest, strongest and unattainable Asura, which no one could kill and to which no one could even approach. And I was born there, attracted his attention to me, he made fall for me, loved me, made me his wife. I truly loved him. When I lived, I didn't play any roles, I was myself and loved this strongest Asura. He was everything to me. But he was at some point in our family life, incited by his friends, doing with me the same thing as Shri Ram here, but there everything was in the physical reality.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

They brought me into some state of consciousness when I did not realize the reality and thought that with me my husband was, the most powerful Asur, for the destruction of which I was born there. And my husband with his friends indulged unacceptable to me sex, in which I was in the lead role, in the center of everything, as their toy. I thought that was him. I said: «My, my, husband, husband», and there was a whole crowd who were strangers to me, who did not hesitate to lower me. In between these orgies, when I was myself again, I had visions that showed me what was happened to me. But I chased them away like a nightmare. And I've come acrossed some material evidence, evidence, indicating that those visions are not visions at all. And after those orgies I felt unusual unpleasant feelings in the body, indicating that there was something with me that I would never have allowed myself. But my husband answered my veiled questions firmly, cheerfully, confidently, that it seemed to me, that everything is good.

They brought me into some state of consciousness when I did not realize the reality and thought that with me my husband was, the most powerful Asur, for the destruction of which I was born there. And my husband with his friends indulged unacceptable to me sex, in which I was in the lead role, in the center of everything, as their toy. I thought that was him. I said: «My, my, husband, husband», and there was a whole crowd who were strangers to me, who did not hesitate to lower me. In between these orgies, when I was myself again, I had visions that showed me what was happened to me. But I chased them away like a nightmare. And I've come acrossed some material evidence, evidence, indicating that those visions are not visions at all. And after those orgies I felt unusual unpleasant feelings in the body, indicating that there was something with me that I would never have allowed myself. But my husband answered my veiled questions firmly, cheerfully, confidently, that it seemed to me, that everything is good.

But one day, when it came time to fulfill the mission of my life, of my birth, I killed him. This happened during our married ordinary sex with him. When I pleased him, sitting on him, those visions and those evidences started to rise in my mind, and they docked with each other, and this puzzle found a very clear solution. The only possible and stunning. I realized that those pictures of those visions were actually happening to me and it did my beloved husband, to whom I was selflessly faithful, trusted and loved. And at this time energetically activated function destruction in my energy body and from me on some internal level into my husband's body from below entered the energy fiery sword-phallus, which in sync with movements of my physical body burned all the chakras that man.

This sword was moving higher and higher in the hollow tube of that husband laying under me, and when he punched it through and out of its top up, he was dying. And I knew that I had just killed my beloved husband. I immediately became unbearable in this physical body, because the body was desecrated, I was even disgusted to look at my body, not what to be in it, and I did not think of life without my husband. And I implored for to some higher power to show compassion for this unfortunate woman who killed her beloved husband, and take me out of this nightmare, and then in my body from below some powerful fire broke out, inner, it rose higher and higher, furiously whistling inside me, and I left my body.

Coming out from the body, I got into the arms of my team, which invisibly has always been with me, and stated the fact that the task is done purely: I behaved flawlessly, honestly performed their duties as a wife, a woman, to me no claims on the universal cosmic laws should not have arisen, the most powerful, strongest Asur was struck out from the Asuras and went to re-education in the best incarnations, the operation was clean-I promptly, without delay left my physical shell and not subjected to retribution from the Asuras. And there were a lot of incarnations. I saw very clear Parallels between those mine incarnations and the situation here with Shri Ram. Here interaction took place without physical contact, at a distance, without touching the bodies, but it was all, even if not in physical reality, but it was, and feeling cheated, trust broken, desecrated love was the most that neither is real. And there, and here I was married and my husband was the most main. And I believed him implicitly, and he took advantage of this and gave me to his friends for fun.

And I thought that the situation with Shri Ram is identical to the one I had in those births of mine in the Asuric worlds, because someone cursed me there. Someone out there among the Asuras then cursed me for what I killed my husband. Maybe his mother or someone else. She didn't know what he did to me. She thought he was nice, not guilty of anything, good. And even if she knew what he did, she would say: «You're fine. You live in the Palace, you are mistress, not servant, you do not have to work, fulfill the whims of everyone, well, my husband had such a desire, be glad that you performed his will, you're a woman, should be happy to fulfill the will of a man, well, could have put up with it for his pleasure». And someone of them cursed me to repeat that story. And it happened again. With Shri Ram, because he is my real husband. Those men were men at one birth, in one incarnation, and Shri Ram is my real husband.

And it all happened again identical to those situations. Because at that time someone cursed me. From here I made many conclusions. First, who it did it was very wrong. Because I was the victim. Yes, of course, I many times was born in the Asuric worlds and became the wife of the most powerful Asur, the situations provoked him, but I something has behaved is impeccable. I was faithful, chaste, devoted to him and loved him selflessly. I was totally innocent, I was a victim. And the fact that he fell for those provocative situations was his personal choice and decision. And his responsibility. But someone out there decided to accuse me, to shift the blame from the sick head to a healthy one. So I decided that it was wrong, that the imposition of this curse was unfair and that the Asuras should pay for what I suffered because of that curse. Secondly, thank you Krishna that in the situation with Shri Ram all this happened through distance, energetically, without physical contact.

This is how Krishna's protection works. That is, the curse was realized, but not in physical reality, not physical bodies, and otherwise: through distance, energetically, without personal presence, although for the Asuras there is no difference. Therefore, for Shri Ram and his companions everything was as if in reality. For me too, though I do not understand how it all happens and do not feel it, but the phenomenon was, and in any case, the emotion is no less that I even took off all my jewelry and no longer put them on once. All the same, identical, only through distance, energetically, without personal presence. This is how Krishna's protection works. As they say, one strike kills seven. And in this case kills immediately all.

And I decided that we would make a big batch of Asuras, remove them from the Asuras and send them to the spiritual world through the service of Krishna, Srila Prabhupada, on our planet Earth in ISKCON for many during their future lives. I decided that they will all do sankirtan, book distribution of Srila Prabhupada and harinamas, singing Hare Krishna on the streets. I decided that if they have some good abilities, not asuric, and some good achievements, they will take them with them in those future lives. And when they return to the spiritual world, they will ask Krishna and Radha for me and for Shri Ram, because I have come to take away Shri Ram from the material world to the spiritual world and I do everything for this. And I did it, the whole batch of Asuras sent to their future lives. There were a lot of them, in my opinion, something about half a thousand. Although according to earthly notions not so much. But for the Asuric community a great loss.

172. Forty-first

When I saw that in this life I repeated the history of my births in the Asuric world when I was born many times to destroy the strongest Asuras, I remembered one of my favorite books, which I read in my school years — «Forty-first» by Boris Lavrenev. I read it so many times, I loved it so much. And now, after learning about my past lives and received the same with Shri Ram, though non-contact, through distance, energetically, I realized that the book I loved not just. It was a book about me. In this book the girl-sniper Maryutka never missed and from a rifle to the target planted with a remarkable accuracy.

Commissioner Evsyukov showed her the finger:

— Maryutka! Look! Officer!

Maryutka squinted, licked her lips and slowly led the barrel. She shot without a miss. She'd drop her rifle and talk every time:

— Thirty-nine, fish cholera. Fortieth, fish cholera.

On her account there were forty killed red guards. But when she shot at the 41st, whether from the cold or from the excitement she missed, the first time. For her, it was a great grief, because she never missed. The red guards took him prisoner, because he had some important information that he did not open, and he had to be sent to the General staff to there from him shook out everything that he knew. They led him through the desert, and then they went out to the Aral sea, swam through it, but the boat crashed, and Maryutka with this Lieutenant turned out on a deserted island. They found there a fishing hut with salted fish and waited for salvation. She nursed him, because he got cold when he drank cold water. After some time he very much loved her, even he wanted to take it with him her to his estate, to marry and to teach reading and writing, manners.

But at some point there was a boat on the horizon. They sat on this island like Robinson Crusoe with his Friday, all alone, and swam up a boat with people. She thought they are our people, but they were enemies. And when he saw their he ran to them, she looked that in a boat floating enemies, and she was told don't let him go, if anything, shoot, she took out her rifle and shot him, killed her beloved. And she looked, as on the surface of the water his embossed eye floats and does not sink and said: «Dear, dear... Love you, love, love... How did it happen?»

I read that about myself. When I many times was born to the Asuric worlds, I every time became the wife of the most powerful Asur, and in fact he was my enemy, because I came to kill him, but I loved him heartily. And when I understood what he did to me, I coolly him destroyed. It turns out that I was reading about myself. Then I killed all those some the strongest Asuras, because I'm sword Chandrahas that always fulfills its mission, but this time, when I learned that Shri Ram with me did the same thing, though non-contact, without physical contact, energetically, I did not kill him, he's still alive.

And I remember that Maryutka. She's forty of them killed, but 41st, when she was supposed to shoot, remained alive. And Shri Ram also stayed alive, even though I learned that he did to me essentially the same thing that those Asuras did in those past lives. And I thought, perhaps, in those my past lives they were 40 and Shri Ram is 41st. Probably, I was born 40 times to become the wife of the most important Asur and then to kill him. And in forty lives that abomination was done to me. Probably, there were 40 Asuras, and I killed them all, and 41st — that which has remained alive. And Shri Ram was still alive, although I really wanted to kill him.

I tried very hard to restrain myself. I restrained herself only to respect good will of my Gurudev because my Gurudev offered for Shri Ram me. Had it not been for this gesture of my Gurudev, Shri Ram would not have been long ago. But I looked at this gesture of my Gurudev and thought: who am I to get over this? I remembered how before the battle of Shri Ram and some powerful Asura, when they made put me on their Asuric totalizer, in the 420th series of «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev» Shiva bestowed the sword Chandrahas for Ravana and said: «I give you this weapon, the sword of Chandrahas. Remember: never abuse it. If you will mistreat him, he'll come back to me».

I thought that if Krishna wanted to something, he would do something, but so far nothing indicates this and I have no right to neglect the will of my Gurudev. I decided that since Gurudev offered for Shri Ram me and he accepted the offer, he is obliged to realize it, and I have no right to destroy him and leave him. Shri Ram must fulfill his word. And I also thought that because Shri Ram was the 41st and in past lives was 40 the main asuras with me, it is necessary to summarize, and it must be great Asuras, the Asur`s kings. Of course, it seems that 41 Asuras is a lot, but in fact, in every major city there is an Asuric organization, which is headed by some great Asur, RA. And what is 41 asuras for the whole Earth? It's a miser, a drop in the sea. I decided that they would distribute Srila Prabhupada's books in the streets and sing on the harinams in the streets. And I sent them there to serve Krishna and Srila Prabhupada. Spreading Srila Prabhupada's books and singing Hare Krishna on the streets is much better than being a big, big Asura, so they were lucky.

173. «We are from different worlds and can never trust each other completely»

When I found out that all summer 2016 Shri Ram added in our sexual energy interaction through distance many different another men, I was in such a depressed state, I had such disappointment, such resentment that I didn't want anything to do with him, and I very much restrained myself from not slay him because Krishna didn't give such a command. I wanted to kill him so much because he has no right to live. I did not say it. These are the laws of material nature.

I took it from a lecture by Sergei Vladimirovich Serebryakov, where he said the following: «Dharma men what is? In the protection of women. Father's Dharma what is it? To protect his children. How should he protect his daughter? To help her choose her husband and create her personal life. What's the point of a kettle if it doesn't boil? He's useless. What's the point of a man who doesn't protect? He's useless. As candy — beautiful in appearance, but unfold, and there is no candy, and a fake. Dharma means functionality, fullness. Sugar should be sweet». He says that the Dharma of a man is to protect a woman.

But Shri Ram, who, as a man, is to protect a woman, brazenly, treacherously lowered me and made it the whole summer. And I had a strong desire to remove him from life completely, because he is useless: why should he live if he does not fulfill his Dharma?

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I wanted to kill him so much... But I was very patient because there were no signs that it could be done. I had to put up with it, and it made me furious. But I was even more oppressed resentment that I can not do it. I in my past lives could immediately destroy other the forty of the asuras, for what me so unjustly and so treacherously treated, but here, knowing all this, I can't do anything. And that made me feel worse.

And when I was in that condition, my son came up to me. He did something, and he comes up to me and he says: «Mom, I'm sorry, please». I said: «For that forgive? He says: «For everything». I understood: this Shri Ram, tricky bug, wants me to forgiven him for all. I'm his son said nothing, thinking that Shri Ram as just won't get away with it. Then I was reading another book from the library, this time «The Paradox of time» by John Colfer, I like to read before going to bed. Just when Shri Ram through my son asked me for forgiveness for everything, and I in this book stopped at the words of Alfie, the representative of the magical people, from the police of the Lower levels, which supports the order in the magical people, Artemis Fowl, one of people: «Maybe you made the wrong decision. Maybe I too could have taken the wrong decision. We are from different worlds and can never trust each other completely. Let's live on, leave the past behind where it belongs». «He nodded. He didn't have to count on the best, he got more than he deserved».

On these words I a little bit slowed down, sat, read them and reflected over them. And I thought, this Shri Ram had made the wrong decision. He decided that a man should enjoy women, not protect, and so instead of protecting a woman, he decided to use a woman, me in particular. And I kind of told him that I would have made the same decision. I could have destroyed it. He then began the collapse of life, and only half an hour remained until its complete destruction, when he almost became a beggar, homeless, and then very soon his life would come to an end. And then I could let the whole thing take its course. I might not wish him good luck, I could have made him get his punishment, but I felt sorry for him. Yes, he made the wrong decision. But I too could have made the wrong decision, and he would not have been alive. I could have made such a wrong decision many times.

And Alfie said there: «We're from different worlds, and we can never trust each other completely». I thought: how did it turn out that this eternal couple became divided and even from different worlds? He's among the Asuras, and I'm in the magic cosmic police, which supports law and order. How come we're on different sides? And we can never trust each other completely. How I can trust him if he's lied to me so many times and hurt me? He gave his word and then broke it. How can he trust me if I can do a lot of things? I can force them to attack me, then they are all justifiably be eliminated. I can send to him very good woman, so good that he won't be able to resist and will run for it.

I'm a Genie who makes wishes come true. And desires can be different. Maybe he has some desire, and I'm a Genie who performs wishes, and I his wish show him. And he can't help but fall for that desire, because it's his desire. And I so can do. What for? To get rid of him. Because I was born to give Shri Ram a chance. If he doesn't take that chance in this life, our with Shri Ram eternal bond will completely broken, it will no more, nothing else in this material world will delay me. This rope that connects us to him, will not. And I can do anything for that. And he can not trust me completely, because I can specifically create such situations, then completely on full grounds, with a calm, clear conscience to do what I once intended, even before this life in this my body.

I remembered as at the very beginning, after that heavenly wedding, Shri Ram asked me to connect him with Prabhu Sasha, and I made him a bridge, a mental ray, on which

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Shri Ram went. And I heard their conversation. There Shri Ram asked Prabhu Sasha why I told him everything. And Prabhu Sasha, with some sadness in his voice told him that this was my plan. Shri Ram then does not understand, but Prabhu Sasha already was a pity for Shri Ram. Because he clearly went according to my plan, even though he thought he was in charge.

Shri Ram to his question about true love. Then they so profoundly sad said, that with me always was it is difficult. They felt sorry for Shri Ram. Because he had to go through all the stages of the plan. And they knew that Shri Ram would be very hardly. After all, I am a weapon that always performs its task. And I don't stop at anything. I remembered sending lady Trix to some other worlds when I found out I was the death of some terrible creatures. Then I read one of the books about Artemis Fowl «The Lost world» and learned about myself this characteristic on the example of one of the characters of that book: «Kong was well known in that world. He did not recognize any moral standards and was happy to take on any work, no matter how dirty it may be, only to get paid well. Kong only followed one rule-not to retreat until the work is done».

It was a description of me. I'm well known in some circles, in some distant worlds, where I beat such creatures, because I am a death of terrible creatures. And if I took some order, I will bring it to the victorious end, because I have only one rule-not to retreat until the work is done. And I do not shun any methods for its implementation. I also remembered other episodes from my life that are not within the scope of this novel. There I had a lot of things that points to this my activity in some there worlds. And even now, with Shri Ram, I was doing something. For example lady Trix, who is the parasite sitting in the body of a normal person and steering them.

I remembered a grandma at the store. She likes to stand at the cash register, where people shift products. And she can stand there for hours. And asks everybody if they have time. She asked me that too. She comes up, looks in with some expectation in eyes and says: «Do you have time?» People respond: «Yes». — «How much?» — «So much». She's mumbling, like, that she needs some time to go home. How many times I noticed her in this case, until I realized that she was just stealing people's time of their lives. And people don't know about it. Who's she sending this time to?

Once I got into that world via a feed from the grandma and drew out all stolen by them. She doesn't approach to me anymore. But to other people continues to approached only. Time it, see whether, need to. It is necessary to her or to some other creatures in some other worlds? And when I sent lady Trix to other worlds where she was to be punished, I killed the woman lady Trix was sitting in. How many living things have I not regret on other worlds when I killed there horrible creatures? How many then for these karmic reactions? And I have a lot of experience getting rid of these reactions. Shri Ram knows this very well. He could even see in my lifetime that I can find the fool who is in thirst to get what he want who will fall for my provocations.

I can provoke this fool many times that he will not stand and make a mistake, he will run after his ghostly desire, offending me, although I am on the external level behaving correctly, fulfilling my Dharma, my duty. And I can throw on this fool all my accumulated in those operations to eliminate the reaction terrible creatures, so that he, a fool, took them, because I created some situations that he can no longer withstand their tension and before him hangs a delicious carrot, at the sight of which he expires with saliva. All, the fool is a fool. He was succumbed, and because he offended me, to him have gone all my karmic reaction from those alien distant worlds. What reactions he taken, is unknown. But since I did not regret anyone to the task was always done, I could clean up many there in the course of business.

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

And Shri Ram has seen and knows all this. And I even once told him through one of my acquaintances that I once upon a time decided to get rid of him and necessarily find for what find fault. He thought he could handle it. But a screenshot of the Mahabharata said that he was not the first who thought so, but could not. And then after this screenshot, I burned the second eye in his asuric organization and deleted those two men that offended me at the very beginning of our interaction with Shri Ram. I decided to go into the spiritual world, but Shri Ram is my eternal couple and he's an Asura. And this connection keeps me in the material world. And to get rid of that connection, I can do anything.

And then, sometime in the next life, I will shake off these karmic reactions, worked out in the interaction with Shri Ram, to some fool, who will not stand my provocations and vitally offend me, that I will tell him: «You take very heavy karma, you're not gonna like it. You're gonna do it anyway?» And he will say «Yes. I'll do anything just so you gone completely and so I get what I want». And I will throw to him all bad karmic reactions which were obtained by me in interacting with Shri Ram, and also in those worlds where I destroyed some sort of appalling creatures. And it was a hot night, as I said, when I got that order on lady Trix. at that time I was in a dream as from some portal someone said me about the lady Trix, they say, need help in catching her, and I said why did they come to me now, because I am had a hot night and now I sleep.

It's because I then said that I was in very recent lives in other worlds fought with some creatures, was a hot battles, and I could not sleep, take a break from it, because it is very needed my abilities and skills, my help, and now I sleep in this life. I'm resting from the hot battle, as in the song SIA «Never give up»:

I've fought demons that keep me awake.
I asked the sea to give me strength,
But it left my request with no response.
But I won't give up.,
No, no, I'll never give up, no.
I won't let you break me.,
And if I fall, I'll get up from my knees.
I'll find a way, I'll find my way home.

What karmic reactions I got in the hot nights? Whichever. And all this should be thrown off on fool who in the pursuit of sensual pleasure is ready to offend the woman who honestly performs his Dharma in front of him. I have a lot of experience in that. I am big specialist. And I can provoke Shri Ram, can put in front of him longed carrots he never would have received. Oh, I feel very sorry for Shri Ram. How can he trust me if I am and he knows it?

But Shri Ram told me that nothing can stop him now, that nothing can stop the waterfall. Well, Yes. Nothing can stop the waterfall. And you're such a waterfall? I thought that couldn't trust each other. We are from different worlds, although we are with him eternal couple. But Alfie then said to Artemis Fowl the following: «Let's just continue to live, leave the past in the past where it should be». I didn't want to leave it, and my son came up and asked me for forgiveness for everything. I looked at him and thought, «Shri Ram, you're not going to get off that easy». I decided at first to remember all the bad, for which he should be forgiven.

174. «Forgive me for everything» — 1

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

I sat down and began remember all this, selecting the appropriate screenshots from Mahabharata.

- The first thing that Shri Ram has done me bad during our relationship with him is the violation of my personal space. This is when November 1, 2013 I asked for a sign of the Universe, and we were flooded with neighbors from above and came the downstairs neighbor, who was a pickuper. Then I went to fitness, and there Shri Ram through those who were there, saw me. And there I caught his attention with fighting techniques which I mastered at the club Bulat. And he had the audacity to disturb my personal space, as asuras through the eyes of women in the shower look at us like on horses in the market. After, when he had already connected to me, from January 25, 2016, after talking to the karate coach, when Shri Ram began to include power methods, then he fully connected to me. How can you join energetically to a woman when you're a man? And how to go to the toilet, write, poop, and how to wash, how to do everything else? And how to go to a gynecologist, when you know that out of the eyes of this gynecologist there can look asur who's you wouldn't allow it. But they don't care. That's the first bad he did to me. You can not violate personal space, especially women. Who are you? Why are you invade? The Asuras enter the woman's private space, and she does not know that she is already being treated like a horse.

- After that, on New Year's Eve, Shri Ram sent me a pickuper and wanted to put me in bed with him. He looked at me in the shower in fitness, said, well, good horse, interesting person, we must try. Found someone to send. Would send someone nice, decent. No, he sent me a pickuper, and with such low pickup tricks. But I know all about the pickup. Before that, I did not know that there is such a phenomenon, but now I have read so many books about their tricks... and I have studied their philosophy as well. The philosophy is reasonable. It says that the animal component in us is very strong. The instinct of self-preservation, continuation and protection of the kind is really very strong. And that's why a man has to protect a woman. It is his Dharma. But pickupers do the opposite. They use feminine instinct continuation of kind of in their low-lying purposes. They have no right to live. I did not say it. This was said by Sergey Serebryakov, and I fully agree with him. The Dharma of a man is to protect a woman. What's the point of a kettle if it doesn't boil? He's useless. What's the point of a man who doesn't protect a woman? He's useless. As candy — beautiful in appearance, but unfold, and there is no candy, and a fake.

- Then, when I came to the Dating site, the first he sent to me a jurist-NLP-man. NLP-man was good. I see these NLP tricks from afar, because I read so many books about NLP, more than about the pickup truck. With NLP, they wanted to put me in bed to put me on eternal energetically milking.

- The next item that Shri Ram made bad to me — about a crowd of men on a Dating site who just want sex, without any responsibility. And Shri Ram tried to put me under them, like rent out a body. One, second, third, fifth, tenth... But none of them was going to take responsibility for any woman. No, Shri Ram is wrong because the Dharma of a man is to protect a woman, not to use her.

- Then Shri Ram sent me a pleasant woman from a Dating site, with whom I thought to make friends. I was looking for friends here, and he sent me a good woman. Shri Ram through this woman tried to instill in me an inferiority complex that I am a unusable item, untenable as a woman, therefore I should be glad to anyone man, even if he wants to be with me for just half an hour. Like, you and half an hour much. Shri Ram had no right to do this, because a man must protect a woman, increase her self-esteem, so she was always happy, joyful, cheerful, and not to sit and think that she was an old woman with a broken trough, no one needs and if someone comes for half an hour that should be happy about that.

- The next — blackmail with a site. This is when Shri Ram on a Dating site sent to me a man who was trying to get sexual trysts as a thank you for giving me the idea of creating a site for my activities. I didn't take the idea right away, but then I liked it, and I started making my own website and made it. But when that man saw that I grabbed this idea, he began to blackmail me, to pour curses that supposedly if you don't thank for this idea, then at you everything will collapse there. It's a good maneuver, a ploy to force. Some are really afraid of curse, and maybe someone would go to thank as he want. But I decided that he is wrong because he is a man and he must to fulfill his Dharma — to protect a woman. If he does not protect any woman, but simply goes looking for these sexual trysts, then he does not fulfill his Dharma and is completely useless. He has nothing to live for. He should be happy, that I have given him the opportunity to serve a woman in some way, to fulfill your mission, your Dharma. Your Dharma is to protect a woman because you are a man. This trick Shri Ram did not pass.

- Next he slipped me a very good man, trying to impose on me a complex of rescuer. Indeed, it was inconvenient to refuse that man. And it is a good trick when a woman acts as a psychotherapeutic pillow for a man. I acted as such as a lifeguard, although in General it was not necessary to save him, but I was very uncomfortable and felt that to push away such a good man is wrong to do. But I don't have to save everyone good men, even if I'm a lifeguard.

- Next are force methods. This is when Shri Ram himself joined me energetically and tried to bend me under his companions asuras, using force cruel methods, Lowering to the animal level, to the lower layers of existence, so that the body is uncontrolled, when they energetically press the buttons in this body and the person becomes subordinate to another's will, when a woman becomes as a limp rag. He press energetically on her female centers in her body, and she can not resist it and ready to do anything, to make it stop as soon as possible. And Shri Ram wanted to do it with me. Although my Gurudev then told him that I never used the wrong words, that is, I didn't have any other men, and I always remained much focused, that is, I always have one man and I'm always focused on him. And when we started sexually interacting with Shri Ram, through distance, without physical contact, I asked him if can I tune into it, and he said, «Yes, tune in». I immediately tuned in to him, I focused on him, but he wanted to give me away to other men. He's very wrong. Because he's a man, he has to protect a woman. If he does not protect woman, he does not fulfill his purpose and live him for anything it is not necessary, absolutely. Why he lives?

- Next, he wanted guarantees, and then, when we with him as have become together, he required from me guarantees. I said to him, what are the guarantees? There are no guarantees. But he really wanted to them, although he constantly broke his word.

- When we already had a heavenly wedding with him, at which Nrisimhadev himself us with Shri Ram got married, Shri Ram, despite the fact that it happened. And Nrisimhadev himself said: «Congratulations to them, now they are husband and wife», showcased everyone that he is unmarried. And when that good woman appeared in the summer of 2016, he did not show that he has a wife, that she should not communicate with him like this, but he himself communicated with her so. He liked her. A lot of women are good, much better than me. And he showed that he was completely free, even though he told me «be my wife, become my wife». Nrisimhadev it personally inquired. Yes, I understand that this is an illusion, but Krishna God, He can manifest himself through anything, even through asuric stupid illusion. Krishna manifests itself on my desktop of my computer, through screenshots. Him using some kind of illusion to manifest himself easily.

- Next was a meeting in sleep territory and for that opportunity he paid a lot of asuric money, that is piety, merits, energy that they take from women. The Asuras have such currency. And he paid a lot of that currency to find me on sleep territory. But as soon as this good woman appeared in real life, he immediately forgot everything, as if nothing had happened.

- The next thing was that Shri Ram had insulted Nrisimhadev. At that wedding Shri Ram came himself, expressed his desire himself. He said to me «be my wife, become my wife», but I refused. I did not understand why it is necessary, if I already perceive and feel his as my husband, why these formalities? But he needed these formalities. Nrisimhadev gave him the formalities. Then, when this woman came into his life and he showed her that he was completely free, he told me: «And now you are free, go to free swimming». Thus, he very much offended Nrisimhadev. Surprisingly, Nrisimhadev still not ripped.

- Then Shri Ram all summer he added in our sexual energy interaction through distance many different other men. It was when that woman appeared and he told me through the karate trainer to go to free swimming, and I told standing near to me a familiar woman that we will go together with her. In these words I told Shri Ram that I stay with him, even as those who are his non-contact whores. And he all summer added in our sexual energy interaction through distance many different other men. Said: «I am yours, I am yours, I miss you, come, come, love, love»..., and at that time energetically through me passed different other men. What an insult he caused... by the way, I sent a lot of Asuras to the hellish worlds because of this, and this time I wanted to do something like this with Shri Ram, because he has no right to live. But I couldn't do it. I was really, really sorry that I couldn't do it, even though he had no right to live.

175. «Forgive me for everything» — 2

- The next was the so-called initiation. When that woman was with him, Shri Ram wanted to put their Asuric programs on me, offered some kind of initiation. And he deceived me, that he was ready to reunite with me in real life, but it is necessary to pass some of their initiation, otherwise, they say, I can not stand his energy. Krishna saved me then. But Shri Ram wanted to do that, and that he was told that it was an article, that is, some universal cosmic article that he would definitely go to hell. But he wanted to do it taking advantage of my trust. «Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust». Like, all is okay, but why, when I went to the karate trainer why then I went to the karate coach at the demonstration shows of his section and said that this can not be done, they say, what he teaches students, it's an article, excessive of self-defense? I was said for Shri Ram that this article for universal space code and for him it was hellish planets is shown. He then canceled that initiation. But he wanted to do it.

- At the same time he gave me to Borka, a former leader of the Moscow Asuric organization. When I caused Borka, Shri Ram immediately gave me to him. And a whole line of some men was put on my inner screen, and Shri Ram said to Borka: «Go check her out, have fun with her. She'll never guess it's not me, it's you». And he gave me to Borka, although before that he said that he always will protect me. And Nrisimhadev asked him if he was sure, and Shri Ram said, «Yes, Yes, I am absolutely sure». But gave away.

- The next abomination that Shri Ram did to me during our relationship was his decision to take advantage of the blessed practice of 16 Shiva's Mondays for his own vile interests. 16 Monday for Shiva is a very good practice, which improves karma. I periodically adhered 16 Monday for Shiva. That August of 2016, I decided to start holding this post again, and Shri Ram decided to use Shiva's 16 Mondays to I leave him. At that time he was with the good woman, which is much better me, and I all sat and ruining his mood by my «husband, husband», and he added in our sexual energy interaction through distance many different another men. After I summoned Borka and then went to asuric patriarch Bhishma, which caused great dissatisfaction with Shri Ram, and he decided to get rid of me. And the first thing he did was taken advantage of my 16 Shiva Mondays. I then wished that if all is true, then let it come true, and if it is not true or if it is true, but he has some woman, then let it stop completely. And this last condition was added by me as a result of the manipulation of my consciousness, which was done by Shri Ram, because the woman he had there and he hoped that this condition will work on the fact that I will disappear from his field of view and he will remain with her.

He wanted to use this blessed practice just to get rid of me, because I prevented him from enjoying quietly and peacefully. He's had enough non-contact whores as it is. One more, one less, does not play a big role. And I drew to him the attention of Borka Moskovsky, Bhishma, and Shri Ram did not like it very much. They could have destroy it down if they wanted. Who is he? A small RA in a small regional town. Of course, the RA is a great Asur, with great ability and is a leader of organization of the Asuras, but in the global scale he was insignificant from RA. He wanted me to fast 16 Mondays so I could get out of his way. And when I first Monday fast, everywhere I been the signs that Shiva does not agree to support it, that he refuses to do so, does not want to participate. I had no idea what Shiva didn't want to do.

But the same week I became very hypochondriac, I ran to do ultrasound examination, the doctor found stones in the gallbladder and said that I'm not allowed to fast. And since I started to adhere these 16 Mondays on one water, I had to stop everything, and the second Monday I discontinued it. Shiva said that he did not want to participate in this, because Shri Ram had specially manipulated my consciousness so that I to intention for these 16 Mondays added in order to our interaction with Shri Ram completely stopped if he has someone. Shiva said he was refusing to participate, and created a situation where I couldn't adhere all 16 Mondays. Fasting was only the first time that Shri Ram had manipulated my mind. Shiva said it was an unforgivable crime to use a blessed practice for such low goals.

- The following was darshan of the Deities. When Shri Ram's manipulation of my 16 Mondays didn't get, he decided to do more strongly manipulation to miscarry me out of his space, to for me to leave him. He is included very powerful manipulation, I succumbed to it, but to me immediately went signs that I can't leave his. And then he decided to take advantage of my devotion to the Lord, so he could do it. I went to the Hare Krishna Sunday program, and when darshan of the Deities was there, Shri Ram pushed my consciousness so that I would ask Krishna to free me from Shri Ram. And it happened right there, the same moment I asked it. This feeling of our connection with him passed, and such freedom was, such lightness, and I was ashamed that I had some interaction with a completely foreign man for me. He was nothing to me, he didn't exist. It is true: Krishna did what I asked for, but it was a manipulation of Shri Ram, and that's meanly — he took advantage of my devotion to Krishna to get what he needed.

- The next was Janmashtami. Then, when nothing worked, Shri Ram decided to throw me to another man. On Janmashtami he was pushing my consciousness to another man. And that man's consciousness was also pushing. This man still goes to Hare Krishna's programs and stares at me all the time. I'm using it to our advantage. As soon as I see it there, I during the kirtan starts pounding in my karatalas and the say mentally for Asuras: «Now, all your tricks will do us good», and start them all there to smash. I imagine that all Asuras is standing far below me, and I burn them with my raging fire, forced to sing along with all in the kirtan, and then send all of them in their future lives. At the same time I periodically look at this man, and he occasionally viewing at me. As soon as I glared, I even stronger emitting the fire and burn all Asuras. And I think: maybe this man in my team and came to me specifically to support me in this difficult hour for me and help me to do what I was going to do?

And Shri Ram on the Janmashtami wanted to throw me to another man, although before that, in the spring, asked me «be my wife, become my wife», he answer Nrisimhadev «Yes, Yes, Yes, Yes, everything is there, everything will be, I will protect her». At that time I was shown a series in «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», when Banasura strangled his wife Vani. Shiva came and saved Vani and said Banasura that he should apologize to her, and Vani he said not to leave Banasura one, to be always with him. And I took that as a word to me.

- When Shri Ram implement first manipulation of my consciousness to remove me out of his space, in my closet shelves fell off, everything fell out of there, and I was afraid to closer to the closet because the door could fall out of it and kill. And so it lasted three weeks. Shri Ram undertaken nothing, although he could have pressed on the anyone`s consciousness and force to help. He could have push down my dad's consciousness. I called many times my dad at the time, but he had a lot of things. As soon as Shri Ram accepted Gurudev's offer, because he had no other way, he immediately pressed my daddy's consciousness, and he came to help me. But all these three weeks, when Shri Ram didn't care who I was and how I lived, shelves were dropped out of the cabinet, and I was afraid to go near the closet. Shri Ram was wrong because he is a man, he has to protect a woman. To press on the mind of anyone and coerce to help is not difficult for Shri Ram. Shri Ram pushed someone into consciousness, and that man came and did it right. But Shri Ram didn't care at all.

- Next was his manipulation of my consciousness before the September 3. When my closet shelves collapsed and his business started to crumble. I don't know what kind of business Shri Ram has, that he in two weeks out of a very successful, fully satisfied man with his life almost became a poor bum, beggar. I assume that something like a trader, investing in the stock exchange, can, bitcoins, or something. But then all his assets were disappeared away from him, on all his good someone already put his hand, and a little bit more, and he would become nothing. And then he tried manipulating with my consciousness, so I wished him luck, straightened his situation, even though it was caused by his actions — that he insulted Shiva, wanted to use my 16 Mondays for Shiva not for good purposes, but to get rid of me. This collapse came to him as a reaction, but he wanted to use me to safely get out of this abyss and continue to enjoy life. And each time better. You can search for the best forever, endlessly.

- Then he sent to me many their women. On September 3 he was to become a bankrupt and a homeless beggar, and on September 2 and 3 he sent to me his non-contact whores, thinking that I would regret women, would listen to their words. I guess when for his asuric organization through me went signs, tips, he saw that I cared about women, protected them, and he decided to take advantage of to I corrected his financial situation. But he was not going to change anything radically. It would have gone on like this — and a lot non-contact whores and that woman in real life, from me he would have gotten rid or would continue connected another men in our sexual energy interaction through distance. He was not going to change anything in his life. He just wanted to enjoy, although he had a reaction for his wrong actions. Because he did not fulfill his Dharma. His Dharma is to protect his woman. That's me. But he compared me to other. He compared me to that woman, said that woman was better. He thought that there was some misunderstanding that he came to me with this ridiculous «be my wife, become my wife», but this woman is better.

- My Gurudev for Shri Ram offered me as his wife and Shri Ram accepted it. He was told that he will not have anything else, that if he does not accept me, then it is waiting for a complete collapse, as that reaction was not removed from him and could at any time again cover it. But when to him came Lona, ideal of the vagina, he immediately forgot about everything and told me to leave completely.

- After he accepted the offer of my Gurudeva and seriously considered it, because it really almost became homeless, and saw that indeed all would be lost completely, I opened your pictures from the folder called «Romka Petruce». I began to tell on those photos that I had, and it appeared that I tell on these photos everything about his life and about him. For him it was very surprising, because these pictures were taken a long time ago, 10–15 years ago and even earlier, but in these pictures I told all about him, and such that he did not know. About his wives — as there was actually, and not as he externally saw. For him it was just a revelation, but, despite this, after some time, when there was Lona, he happily forgot about it, as if nothing had happened.

176. «Forgive me for everything» — 3

- Constantly he energetically had a lot of connections with different non-contact-bitch, that is, with women from his asuric organization with whom he had sexual interaction at a distance. He constantly tried to give yourself pleasure with all sorts of different ways. The fact that he took Gurudev's offer very seriously did not stop him. And even he put me energetically four of some of their wolfhounds, so I did not look at those women with my inner gaze, because one of them I freed from that the low-lying nature, which forcing her to be with them and fulfill all their whims, on the other I put some tricky programming that they did not like much, and they had to abandon her. He realized that I could destroy a lot of in there and he connected to me four of his wolfhounds, whose become to block my will and holding me back.

But his adventures made me very nervous, and in the spring of 2018, after another woman, I remembered how I told them that he or my, or nobody's and decided that I would do so, that he would not be with anyone there to do it. I decided to release all these women all over the world, which are subordinate to all the Asuras, to remove from all these women all asuric programs and to remove from them the low-lying nature. And I did it on Rama-Navami, during the festive kirtan, and then offered them all to the deity of Ramachandra. Of course, the Asuras after the new women subdued, but it is also can be corrected.

- The next thing to forgive Shri Ram was when he told me through my son, «I'm Sorry for everything», he was breaking his word as a gentleman. This is when he February

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

14, 2016 on Valentine's Day told me something I learned from reading a book by Boris Akunin «Falcon and Swallow». Then he said to me: "I will not do you any harm. You have my word as a gentleman. On the contrary, I am so grateful to you for your coming from nowhere to brighten up my loneliness. Trust me! Here is my hand. I will not abuse your trust. We are alone in this gloomy world, so let's stick together." The day after that, I sent Borka, a former leader of the Moscow Asuric organization, a notice that his life is finishes, and four months later I started my Mahabharata with the Asuras. How many times has he broken his word and betrayed my trust, not to count. And that cactus with thermal glue on it with artificial flowers is proof of that.

- Already after he gave me the word as a gentleman, just two weeks after that he sent to me one of his companions, a good specialist in women, who was 100 % sure that I can't resist his charms as soon as I get into the zone of his admiring look. This is when I went to print artwork pictures on the boards. How is to understand: first gave my word, and then sent to me another man?

- After that, Shri Ram manipulated my consciousness to I refuse the blessing of Lakshmi, which he himself asked me to get, but to inserted in our sexual energy interaction through distance another man, he needed me to give up this blessing of Lakshmi's to conjugal fidelity to him as my husband. Before that, he asked for some guarantees and so asked for this blessing, and then he manipulated my consciousness so that I would refuse this blessing. This is illogical, but I constantly forget that he is Asur and we are with him from different worlds. But it becomes clear from here that this blessing of Lakshmi to conjugal fidelity can actually protect a woman from outside encroachments. After all, if it were not so, then why would Shri Ram be manipulated my consciousness so that I would give up this blessing? It turns out that it is very, very important for our own protection.

- After this blessing was cancelled after his manipulation, Shri Ram in our sexual energy interaction through distance inserted another man. The first time I noticed him. The second time already not had observed. And then I refused from this interaction at all. Shri Ram didn't like it very much, he thought he what will be good fun. Another man then begged him not to kill, because he had a wife or a small child. Although, he had a wife and a child, he had sex on the energy plane with other women, while loving and caring for his wife. Some strange love he has. I think if his wife found out what he really was and what he was doing, she would have left him immediately. Too bad she doesn't know and thinks he's a good husband. To kill such a man is not a sin. Although the child will be then without a father, which is not good. But why doesn't he think about his child when he does it on the energy plane with other women? Then he does not remember about the child, because everything is so sweet and smooth...

- Then, Shri Ram wanted to wanted to give me to another man. He found a good man, a rich man, and he said to me, "We follow the same pattern, but from a different phone. At least you'll be rich, and I'll do anything to make you happy". He promised me then. He told me that I would at least be rich and that he would do everything to make me be, is and will happy. The word is given, and he must do everything to make it come true in life. He must, he gave me such a word, then he was think to fulfill that word the arms of another man and for his account, but it makes no difference, as the word was given by Shri Ram and he is obliged to fulfill the promise himself, personally. Shri Ram Now must! Laugh, I'll be very rich soon. I wonder how it will be, but Shri Ram was give a word and is required to perform.

I'm so interested... I will have a lot of expensive jewelry, diamonds, Shri Ram and I are together going to ride around the luxury resorts, restoring nerve cells after the writing of this novel. We will go with him to India to worship Samadhi of Srila Prabhupada, we will go to Woodstock, to Ratha-Yatra with my Gurudeva to pull the chariot rope to be necessarily to return to the spirit world. Voila! Shri Ram's must. He thought that other man would do it, but he would have to do it himself, personally, because that's the only way I want. Shri Ram then wanted to give me to another man, was going to subdue his consciousness so that he wanted to be with me and make me rich and happy, and to Shri Ram would interact with me as a man with a woman through him, through his body. But we have cancelled all those schemes and have obliged Shri Ram to fulfill his word personally. Fulfill the promised.

- After some time, there was Lona, the ideal of the vagina. As soon as she appeared, he forgot that my Gurudev had offered me for him and that he had given me the word as a gentleman, that he had said that I would at least be rich. Why then I live in a small apartment? Why then I have to work? Why then I do my dishes and have to restore order in the apartment? Why then I have no normal jewellery? He said that I would at least be rich and he would do everything to make me happy. Must perform. When he had Lona, he told me that I was not his choice, but his fate and if he had a choice, he would choose Lona, because her radiators are hot.

- Then he told me that on the street is three times better. He thought Lona was a real woman, it wants to protect, and to defend me does not want to. It turns out that he compared me to some other woman who would make him impotent both sexually and in life, and then erase him because she was an Eraser. She would have eliminated him completely. But Shri Ram said that she is better three times.

- I had to cancel the promises he made to many of the Asuras. He be bound by those vows; he couldn't break them. And I told the Asuras that if they do not cancel the promises of Shri Ram, I will cancel them all. They understood the seriousness of the situation and quickly canceled all his promises, after which Shri Ram told me through the words in one letter to my customers said: «Thank you for the wonderful gifts, I will definitely come back». He told me he would come back to me. But as soon as Lona appeared, he told me: «Sorry, but you are not my choice, you are my destiny. But my choice is she». And he forgot what he told me before, like it never happened.

- Then he told me to go look for another man, and he himself emerged, some man from my past lives with whom we had many lives together and who is good, who loved me and loves me so far, although I freed him from my influence and even from the service in our command of forces of light. And I'm I turned down a man that doesn't throw promises that word holds, I turned him down for Shri Ram, whom did me a lot of bad. This is completely wrong. It's masochism. In short, Shri Ram said that I would at least be rich and he would do everything that I was, is and will be happy, and must perform, necessarily.

- The next is a bitten piece of butter. This is when my cousin came to me to fix the computer and I was going to thank him with money, but he said that it is better to give products. And the first thing he asked for was butter oil. I took out a pack of butter from the fridge and gave it to him. But a pack of butter was without a small piece, which I before that cut off. It's the Asuras from my priceless pie, my energy, my Bank of godliness, some piece already snatched up when Shri Ram in that summer in our sexual interaction through distance toward me connected lot of not my men. It's wrong. And who will reimburse me? It is clear who — Shri Ram, he is obliged to do it.

I looked at the list of that bad that Shri Ram did to me during our interaction with him, and I thought: we are from different worlds. I wanted to smear it so badly that there was nothing left of it. But he asked me for forgiveness for everything. I thought for what fault should be forgiven him, and it all brought me to an even more depressing state. I didn't want to be with him for a second. Moreover, I with full force held myself as not to unleash on him their anger in the form of frenzied fire, or snake venom, or gravitational strike... And the fact that I could not do because there was no approval, led me into a state of universal sorrow.

177. She came all in smoke, in fire, in blood, like rain and snow, like hurricane wind

I listened to Yaroslav Klimanov's song «Your love» and thought that it was about me. I am the love that came to Shri Ram in the smoke, in the fire, in the blood that he did not recognize. It's a pity he didn't recognize me. But good that he didn't recognize me. Now he knows himself, what he is.

Love was so close to me,
That I could feel the breath.
But I could not understand her game,
I thought it was the blow of wind.
When she lulled me,
I thought were whispering grass.
That when I was hurt, I didn't know,
Only love heals my wounds.
Krishna, Your love
She protected and taught me.
Krishna, Your love
I was cured of lies and pride.
But I didn't know Your love,
When, changed the appearance,
She came into my life differently.
And about love with me started talking.
And to teach me love,
And to I became wise, and pure, and bright,
She came all in smoke, in fire, in blood,
Like rain and snow, like hurricane wind.
Krishna, Your love
Gave me and memory, and oblivion.
Krishna, Your love —
My hope and my salvation.
But I was deaf to love and lustful,
I only took what was pleasant to me.
Then love again changed the face,
To explain to me all that is unclear.
She knocked on the door like a war,
Taught to believe increasingly stronger,
To endure, to serve, to pay for everything in full,
And there was no peace with her.
Krishna, Your love —
A cure for illusion and vice.
Krishna, Your love —

My Roman. I'm asur's wife

Treasure of the blessed and prophets.
Love is always so close to me.
Not bound by the local joy and pain,
You give me Your love to understand,
To I liked You Your love.
You give me Your love to understand,
So I love others with Your love.
You give me Your love to understand,
To I liked the whole world Your love...

I thought: that was my plan? Come to him in smoke, in fire, in blood, like rain and snow, like hurricane wind? What would he do to me that much? In such a short time and so many bad things? And to whom? who's his soul mate, his real couple, his Shakti? Did he do this to his Shakti? And it was made by him because that was my plan? Why was my plan like this? Why did I come to him like this and not as a beautiful woman with whom he would feel like a man and that he would want to protect from everything and everyone? Why did I have to show him what he really was? For what? Really to get away from him at all? Come and just say that I'm leaving because I'm tired of being here in the material world, because even my real man can do this to me? My Tiramisu, lift me to heaven. And what can anyone do with me who is nobody to me?

Maybe I came to him that's the way to show him why I don't want to be in the material world and why I want to go into the spiritual world? That I many lives without him destroyed vile creatures, including like him, and I don't want because of them to tear my heart anymore? My Gurudev's right. In the material world happen such situations. This is no place for a gentleman. No gentleman here can always keep his word as a gentleman. At any moment something can happen that he will forget about this word and will run for the coveted ghostly carrot, hanging in front of his nose and beckoning him to the mirages. Prabhu Sasha was right: I shouldn't have done this. No need to look back like Orpheus on Eurydice, we must go forward.

I've battled demons that won't let me sleep.
Called to the sea but she abandoned me.
But I won't never give up, no, never give up, no, no.
No, I won't never give up, no, never give up, no, no.
No, no, I'll never give up, no.
And I won't let you get me down.
I'll keep gettin' up when I hit the ground.
I'll find my way, find my way home.

So many times during our interaction with Shri Ram, I had an irresistible desire to break up with him completely, to forget him as a terrible dream, to erase him at all, so that he would not exist, and every time I had signs to be with him. I thought I was a masochist. This is wrong. Nobody does that. The most important question of a woman, whether she needs this man, is "what do you have from him?". I — nothing, besides humiliation, insults, resentment, feeling below the straw lying on the street. And I have to keep being with him, no matter what?! How many times are reminded me about it that I have to be with this Shri Ram no matter what.

And for this, even a flower blossomed on a newly planted stick under my window, when the snow was already lying and the flowers did not bloom. Then I had signs everywhere to be with him. I rejected them away because I didn't want to be with him at all, so much pain I was getting from him. And then I told Krishna that I did not believe him and did not want to be with Shri Ram. And the flower bloomed in the snow right after I told Krishna that I would only believe the super cool sign. And how can I be now, after I found out that Shri Ram done this to me?

I looked at this list of bad that Shri Ram did to me in a very short time, and I thought that no self-respecting person would be left where he would be made even part of this list. I guess I don't respect myself. Probably I'm not worthy of respect. I just think I'm good, but in fact, it's just the opposite. After I found out that Shri Ram in that ill-fated summer in our sexual interaction through distance connected lot of not my men, I went into a deep depression.

I remembered that gesture of my Gurudev in that lecture when he offered me for Shri Ram, and I thought that I could not just throw it, I have no such right. That realization made me feel worse. Because being with someone like that is completely stupid. I thought: it's good that all this time our interaction was not bodies, but at a distance. He had the opportunity not be shy and behave as wanted, without pretending to be decent before standing in front of him woman, that he's such a good one. Here, when interacting at a distance, he was sure that no one sees what he was doing, that I'm a stupid, trusting fool and I can easily be fooled, and I do not notice anything. And so it is.

But Krishna revealed to me what was hidden from my eyes. And there's so much unsightly... If we met as ordinary people, I would not know what he is and what he does with people. And here I was substitute oneself, showed him that I do not see those layers of interaction, and his hands were untied, he not hesitated and do what he wanted. How many bad things he did at that time! How can believe such a person? And if he allows this when interacting with a woman, even if at a distance, on the energy areas, how can it change? Nature can't be fooled. If want it this, will it pass by itself? Well, of course, when he is reformatted, then it's possible. But not on the procedure, but on pure strength of will, decision, and determination is possible? But I had so many signs to continue to be with him.

When I told in the 223rd episode of my novel about my suffering and my unwillingness to be with him, I opened the screenshots from «Devon Ke Dev Mahadev», where Shiva told Chandradev, and through this and Shri Ram himself, that his crime is unforgivable. Shiva himself said that what Shri Ram did was a crime. And it's unforgivable. Shiva said that Shri Ram married me himself, of his own free will, no one forced him to tell me «be my wife, become my wife». Shiva said that Shri Ram should give me the status of his wife. Shiva told him that he had failed in his duty and that it was a crime and that he should be punished for it. And when I commented on the screenshots from this story, it came to me that the fact that Shri Ram accepted my Gurudev's offer is a punishment for him.

I thought that if it is a punishment for him, it is good, I will try to provide him with full punishment and I have no right to refuse it as punishment to him is already written out and it I. And now I must continue to be with him to that he received his punishment. my mood has improved significantly. I thought I could give him that punishment. I don't want to be with him, but being with him as punishment for him is a good idea. Shri Ram saw my gloating and wanted to do correct it. That's why he came to ask me for forgiveness through the words of my son. I then did not answer him and began to remember all the bad things that he did to me during this time and for which he wants to get forgiveness. Bad it turned out very many.

178. «Let's live on, leave the past behind where it belongs»

At this time came the words from the book about Artemis Fowl, I thought about them and considered this situation from their position. «Maybe you made the wrong decision. Maybe I too could have taken the wrong decision. We are from different worlds and can never trust each other completely. Let's live on, leave the past behind where it belongs». «He nodded. He didn't have to count on the best, he got more than he deserved».
